
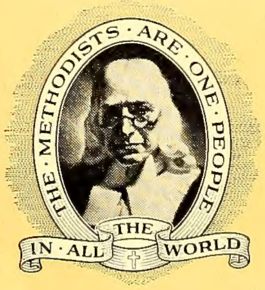
This is the Last Volume of the Methodist Protestant Herald

Presented to the World Methodist Library Building, Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, in memory of the Reverend H. L. Isley who passed away March 27, 1960, after serving as a pastor in the Methodist Church for thirty-two years, the earlier part being in the former Methodist Protestant Church.

These volumes of the Methodist Protestant "Herald" were bound and preserved by him and are given by his widow, Mrs. H. L. Isley, in April, 1964.

7386

EX LIBRIS



THE · METHODISTS · ARE · ONE · PEOPLE
IN · ALL
THE WORLD

WORLD
METHODIST BUILDING
LAKE JUNALUSKA,
NORTH CAROLINA, U.S.A.

287.05

General Commission on Archives and History • The United Methodist Church •

Presented by

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 5, 1939 NUMBER 3

Rev HL Isley 2feb9 R1

7386

The Measure of a Man

Wallace Dunbar Vincent in the Christian Index asks a series of questions which should if pondered result in a worthwhile examination of one's self. It is with the hope that our readers may seek to find a satisfactory answer to these questions in their own hearts that we give them a place in this column.

How high are you? Where is your thinking done—
Close to the earth, or upward near the sun?
Do pretty things absorb your ev'ry thought—
The game, the latest crime, what's sold and bought?
Do noble deeds and lives inspire your zeal,
Or are you more concerned about a meal?
How high, or low, is your most cherished plan?
The answer marks your stature as a man.

How broad are you? Where does your good-will end—
Does race or creed determine who's your friend?
To your snap-judgments do you cling with pride,
Or do you listen to the other side?
Quick to condemn are you—prompt with the rod,
Or do you leave the chastening to God?
How loyal is your heart to all mankind?
The answer marks the broadness of your mind.

How deep are you? Where does your honor start?
Is it embedded in your inmost heart?
Do you count virtue a convenient thing
To practice, or, sore tired, aside to fling?
Have you the courage by your code to bide,
And fight for right, though on the losing side?
'Tis thus God reckons, through life's little span,
The veritable measure of a man!

7386

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

New Year's Greetings

As we stand at the beginning of a new year I take this opportunity to wish all of our people a prosperous and happy new year. While these words are easily said yet we are always deeply conscious of the fact that it is hardly to be expected that all of our people shall be able to go through the year without some sickness and sadness. To some sorrow and bereavement will come and in some other cases death itself will come. But I trust all of us may be prepared for whatever comes and that we all may realize the presence of our Heavenly Father with us in every day of the year.

Appointments Cancelled

On account of the death of my step-mother, Mrs. Susie C. Amick Pritchard which occurred on Friday evening of last week at the home of her nephew, Mr. R. C. Causey in the southeastern portion of Guilford County, it was necessary for me to cancel my appointment at Mebane last Sunday morning and to be absent from the Glen Raven quarterly conference on Sunday afternoon. Tragic as death seems to be yet there are some lessons we can learn from it. One of these is that we seldom ever realize just how much our friends and relatives are worth to us until they are taken away. For thirty-seven years I had known that I had a good step-mother but not until she began to slip away from us did I realize to the fullest extent just how much she had been worth. Another thing which I had failed to comprehend was the meaning of a telephone call, a note of sympathy or some flowers or even the presence at the funeral. For years I had been trying to comfort people in distress and had written some notes and sent a few flowers and have attended hundreds of funerals but I never knew what it meant. Now I know. And as I continue to do these things in the future which seem to be such little things I shall do them with a greater appreciation of their value. And I might say this to all our ministers, you do not always realize how much your words in the funeral service mean. Many of them will continue to live in the memory of those for whom they were spoken. The tribute of Rev. J. W. Braxton in the funeral service at the home last Sunday afternoon and that of Rev. Joel B. Trogdon in the service at Giles Chapel are indelibly fixed in my mind. If people could always realize how much their work means to others life would be quite different. To have been linked with the Amick and Causey families for all of these years has added a great deal to the enrichment of my own life.

The Conference Program

While I have no churches to write about this week let me say a few words about what we are expected to do. First, there is the regular schedule of the Annual Conference. We have been running on this schedule for several years and it has not been repealed. Certain months are set aside when certain things are to be done and certain payments are to be made. This schedule is still in force and I will call attention to it from time to time. There is the Young People's Day program which always falls on the last Sunday in January. Please observe the day and get just as large an offering as possible for it counts on the World Service apportionment. And then there is the expenses of the delegates to the Uniting conference. We are asked to send this to the Conference treasurer not later than April 15th. Then, those who are working to get on the Appreciation Year Honor Roll have until April 30th to finish that work. One thing of especial concern to us just now is the financing of the Herald. We just cannot do our work as we ought to do it without the Herald. Nothing that we are asked to do is of more importance to our work right now than getting subscriptions for the Herald.

Annual Conference Expenses Called For

For a number of years the months of January and February have been set aside as the time to raise Annual Conference expenses. I am now calling for this assessment during these two months. Churches which have run on this schedule have found it easier to finish at the end of the year.

Appointments

Sunday, January 8th, 11 a. m. Liberty; 2:30 p. m. in District Rally at Welch Memorial, High Point.

Sunday, January 15th—Pending.

Sunday, January 22nd, 11 a. m. Asheboro.

Sunday, February 5th, West Forsyth charge, 9:45 a. m. Stoney Knoll, 11:15 a. m. Baltimore.

J. E. Pritchard.

THE CONFERENCE JOURNAL

I received my suppy of the 1938 Conference Journals Saturday, as I suppose the rest of the brethren did. But I hope you didn't do with them what I did—left them at home Sunday.

The preachers may be disappointed—or relieved—not to see their life histories in the Journal. Some thirty failed to send in their histories; I didn't want to publish part of them; so I left them all out. But I have them in a file, which any one who is entitled to the information may see. I would like to complete the file. So I am asking those who did not get the information blank in at or after Conference to send it in now. If you do not have a blank, write me and I'll send you one. But let's make it a hundred per cent complete.

Now, back to the Journal. It is, I think, about the best we have issued. The pictures in it make it of historic value, as well as the fact that it may be our last Conference Journal.

Please dispose of your allotment as quickly as possible. And as soon as you have the money in hand, send it in. I am very anxious to get this bill paid at the earliest possible moment. But, of course, I can't pay Brother Reiner until you send the money to me.

With every good wish for the best possible New Year in Kingdom service.

C. W. Bates, Secretary.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church
Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 5, 1939 NUMBER 8

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU

New mercies, new blessings, new light on thy way,
New courage, new hope, and new strength for each day;
New notes of thanksgiving, new chords of delight;
New praise in the morning, new songs in the night;
New wine in thy chalice, new altars to raise;
New fruits for thy Master, new garments of praise;
New gifts from his treasures, new smiles from his face;
New streams from the fountain of infinite grace;
New stars for thy crown, and new tokens of love;
New gleams of the glory that awaits thee above;
New light of his countenance, full and unpriced—
All these be the joy of thy new life in Christ.
—Frances Ridley Havergal.

◆

When a good cause is defeated, the only question its advocates need ask, is when do we fight again?—Chas. W. Eliot.

On the simple grave stone of D. L. Moody are these words, He that doeth the will of God abideth forever.

Of all pulpits from which the human voice is sent forth there is none from which it reaches so far as from the grave.—John Ruskin.

"I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."—Stephen Grellett.

"There's the man who thinks he thinks,
And the one who thinks he knows;
But bring me the man who knows he thinks,
And I'll show you one who knows."—Selected.

The curtain of Yesterday drop down, the curtains of Tomorrow roll up; but Yesterday and Tommorrow both are.—Carlyle.

I have seen Jesus my Lord lose many a battle; but I have seen enough of His triumph to make me forever believe in His divine sovereignty and follow Him forever and forever. Amen.—Dr. J. M. Rowland.

Personal Mention

Brother and Sister W. V. Routh of West End Church are spending several weeks at Fort Pierce, Fla.

B. X. Routh, Jr. left this week for State College where he will remain for the remainder of the year.

Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, Mrs. Carroll and Miss Dodsen toured Florida during the Christmas holidays.

S. H. Stapleton motored to Pasadena, California, to see the Duke and the Trojan teams play in the Rose Bowl.

Dr. J. D. Williams has moved his family from Stokesdale to 408 Elam Avenue, Greensboro. He continues his practice at Stokesdale at the present, dividing between that community and Greensboro.

Please, Please

We are running in the "Red" this week; we greatly need those subscriptions you are going to send in. We hope to mail out lists of expirations right away, but do not wait for the list; if you know of subscriptions expiring, Herald Agents and Pastors please solicit renewals at once.

Making A New Start

After Christmas every church has really to make a new start on its regular program. With many of our pastors and local organizations, but little had been accomplished by Christmas any way. And then comes the usual Christmas rush and confusion, the visiting of and absence of the members who are usually faithful in their attendance at the church, the family reunions, the Christmas entertainments, etc., all of which tend to slow down the regular activities of the church; so we are forced to start over again much after the same manner we began at the adjournment of the annual conference. It is now January, and two months of the conference year have passed. And to add to this state of unreadiness, there is the Uniting Conference and the merging of our denominational and local church activities just ahead. He would indeed be a queer pastor and church official were he not much concerned over the difficult tasks before him. We surely need to be much in prayer these days.

Subscribe For The Herald

In view of the fact that the Uniting Conference will meet the last of next April and there will be very many other matters in which every member of our church will naturally be interested, who not subscribe now for the Herald? This may be the last year the Herald will be issued, but whether that be so or not, it will furnish you the facts about Methodist Union which no other church paper can give you. All that is of importance which relates to our denomination will get into the Herald, if we can get it. So subscribe now. But here are your local interests, all of them are to be taken care of as of last year; you may find the Herald quite helpful as your assistant—take the Herald. And for old times sake, because of what the Herald has done for the churches in the North Carolina Conference, you ought to keep it coming to your home each week. Yes, there are many reasons why you ought to have the Herald every week; just admit one of them and send us your two dollars for the entire year. Box 2017, Greensboro, is the new address. We shall be glad to mail to every pastor or Herald Agent the names of the subscribers whose subscriptions are expiring now or within the next few weeks. Drop us a card if you want them sent now.

NOTICE

To the president of N. C. Branch, Mrs. R. M. Andrews, all officers and members of the auxiliary, State Street Church, Lexington, N. C., extends a cordial invitation to the quarterly meeting to be held with us on January 12, 1939.

We are expecting you to come so don't disappoint us.

Mrs. Fred Cox, Sec. & Treas.
State Street Auxiliary.

Lexington, N. C.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The New Year

There is nothing strange about a new year and its accustomed suggestiveness. There come new years however when we know new experiences of far reaching consequences are certain and which set apart these years as epochal, such years as never to be forgotten.

We have a way of speaking of Methodist Union as a thing rather apart from any determinate influence upon ourselves, that with a few slight changes things will go on much as before. To some extent that is true. The layman will feel it much less than the minister. The layman will continue to worship in his own church; the pulpit will be supplied by the same type of men; the message and the activities to which he has been accustomed will remain. Most laymen will never know the difference, save that he will be brought into new associations, enlarged conceptions of Christianity, wider opportunities of service.

The ministry however will realize that a new days has come. Since it lies primarily with the minister as the acknowledged leader, both in temporal economy and spiritual direction of the church, he is the man who must face up to the new order. It will, or should, do much to all his thinking for he must know his task and discover all the implications of the union. Our Methodist Protestant men in particular will definitely be affected, but to some extent so also will the clergy of the other two churches be made to see a difference. Not one of the three churches can ever go on as they have been—all must make definite readjustments. But this preacher man, his entire life is involved. His message will be the same, he will declare the same gospel, he will preach the same redemption and the same Lord of all. But his life will be trust out into new fellowships and in many instances he will be compelled to break the associations of a life time. This should not bother him, for this wider utility will but increase his privileges as a minister, and anyhow he is supposed to be accustomed to change. This was with him when he started out. He knew then and was reconciled to it that for him and his family there would be no permanent abiding place and a thousand times has he sung—I'll go where you want me to go''— and that means Methodist Union, as well as North or South, as well as Home or the Far Seas. But he will have the priceless assurance that he is still on the way and the Gracious Lord is still his Master and his Guide. Whatever of physical or material adjustments may be necessary he will find a larger brotherhood than he has ever known, where loss on one side will be gain on the other. His own confidence in God's loving care will only strengthen the power of his ministry among others who need kindly shepherding. For believe it or not there is more material protection and security surrounding the ministry than in any other walk of life.

Well then, beloved, layman or minister, here is the Great Year. To our last day we will remember it. The date in Methodist history will be as fixed as in 1784 and 1828 and 1844. Now, three dates converge in one and probably twenty-five million American people will have a revised calendar.

May God in His tender mercies direct the paths of us all and may we in renewed devotion walk in those Paths, unto Eternal Life.

JAMES H. STRAUGHN.

ANOTHER HEARTY THANK YOU

This has been the most bountiful Christmas the Children's Home has ever known. A few friends came in at 6:30 Christmas eve to see the Christmas tree and to share with us in the joy of the occasion, as the presents were given out by Santa Claus and a few of the older boys and girls. It was truly a happy hour. We wish all of you could have witnessed it. Some wonderful things happened this year to add to the joy of the occasion.

The Rotary Club of High Point followed its custom of giving a present to every child, and their committee was present throughout the hour. Each child also received a present from three other sources, making four presents for each child.

Just before Christmas two business men of High Point called, with a good large package of brand new one dollar bills, and after a brief conversation, they gave us $1.00 each for every child in the Home. This to be given to the children that they might spend it for themselves for Christmas. Then the Home, out of designated Christmas funds, gave each child the usual amount for Christmas spending money. Among other things they bought with their money, the children bought presents for each other and for the workers. We have never had a happier lot of children at Christmas. They say Thank You, and so do we to everyone who helped to make it such a happy occasion. We are well started into the New Year with our children all back in school today, and still the happiness lingers. God bless every one of you and make this the happiest year of your lives.

Coupons

Mrs. Dixon asks me to say,—Hurry your coupons of any and every description along. The company has given her ten days extra to get them packed and shipped, so if you get them here on or before the 10th of January she can ship them and still get the benefit of any bonuses. Thank you.

In His service,
A. G. DIXON.

RALLY OF THE NINTH DISTRICT

Beginning at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, January 8, a District Meeting of the Ninth Conference District will be held at the Welch Memorial M. P. Church in High Point.

The Conference Appreciation Year plans will be the theme for discussion at this meeting. The program will consist of three fifteen or twenty minute addresses on the following subjects: 1. Gratitude for Our Church's Past; 2. Gratitude for Our Church's Contribution to the New Methodism; 3. How the Local Church Can Best Express This Gratitude. The second and last of these topics will be discussed by Dr. P. E. Lindley and Dr. J. E. Pritchard respectively. Dr. S. W. Taylor has been invited to discuss the first but as yet we do not have his reply. Rev. Edward Suits will conduct devotions.

Prior to this meeting every pastor in the Ninth District is requested to appoint an Appreciation Year Committee for his church or charge and be sure to have this committee present if possible. We sincerely hope that a large attendance from all the churches in High Point and on Guilford Charge will be present.

J. C. MADISON, District Chairman.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

RING OUT, WILD BELLS

By Alfred Tennyson

"Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light:
The year is dying in the night,
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die."

On the last night of the old year cries of "Happy New Year," and the gay, glad chime of bells came over the radio, hour by hour, as somewhere around the world the New Year came in. Whatever the dying year may have brought to a nation or individual of sorrow or joy, of sadness or gladness, of poverty or prosperity, the birth of the New Year brings with it the happiness of renewed hope — the "hope that springs eternal in the human breast" that a newer, brighter day of greater things may be dawning. So it is rarely with regret that we say farewell to the old year; the bells that ring out the old and ring in the new always ring with a glad, a happy note.

This New Year song, section CVI of In Memoriam, is one of the best known portions of Tennyson's long elegy written to the memory of his friend, Arthur Henry Hallam. The story of their close, devoted friendship begun in 1828 at Cambridge, deepening as the years went by, and accentuated by Hallam's engagement to be married to Tennyson's sister Emily, is well known. His untimely death in Vienna in September, 1833, produced such deep grief in the heart of Tennyson that he was long in recovering the buoyancy of his spirits, and in reaching the triumphant faith that could cause him seventeen years later, as he came to finish his long poem, to cry as he does in the lines which he used as a prologue to the elegy:

"Strong Son of God! immortal Love,
Whom we, that have not seen thy face,
By faith, and faith alone, embrace,
Believing where we cannot prove;"

It was in 1838 on the occasion of the fifth New Year after Hallam's death that Tennyson wrote this section. By this time the personal has passed from the poem and we find Tennyson's heart full of the needs of mankind. As he bids the bells ring out all evil and ring in all good, he celebrates at the same time his own victory over the sorrow that had sapped his mind, producing mournful rhymes; now he becomes the fuller minstrel singing of the better world, of a Christ that is to be—a time, as he himself says, "when Christianity without bigotry will triumph, when the controversies of creeds shall have vanished. Many occurrences in the churches of late, including the plans for unification in our own Methodist churches, have proved Tennyson to be here, as in many other forward-looking ideas, to a certain extent at least, prophetic. His own victory over sorrow has taught him the victory over the sorrows that await the race. In detail he views the errors of the past—personal, national, and universal,—not with a pessimistic note of unavailing futility of sentimental regret, but with the substitution of good for every evil, and the hope that these very errors may be used as "stepping stones of our dead selves to higher things."

In those things for which the Victorian Age stood, great change and stirring intellect, of reform laws, wider colonization, and of greater interest in social and economic affairs, Tennyson was vitally interested. Again and again in his poems he expresses this interest. His desire for peaceful reform, as expressed elsewhere,

"Where Freedom slowly broadens down
From precedent to precedent," is even more specifically stated in this stanza:

"Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws."

Throughout this section is the same note of hope for the future as in Locksley Hall which he wrote in 1842. His hope for world peace, when the common sense of most shall lead to a universal law which shall hold a fretful realm in awe and lap a kindly earth in slumber is more melodiously and figuratively expressed here:

"Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace."

The tone of the whole poem is happy. One of the great charms of Tennyson's poetry is his mastery of melody, and here is a striking illustration of this power. His choice of vowel sounds is particularly happy; the recurrence of the word "Ring" gives a cheerful note to the whole. The setting of the poem—the appearance of nature itself in the first and second stanzas—the flying cloud, the frosty light, the snow—all create a joyousness of atmosphere that is followed throughout as he bids all the evils of the past to die; all the good of the present and future to live; as the bells ring out to a climax of the best that is to be:

"Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be."

Over and over God paints the skies,
Over and over He makes the sun rise;
Over and over He tints the flowers,
Over and over He sends the showers,
Over and over He guides the stars,
Over and over the dawn unbars.

If over and over God deigns to work,
Why should we faint—our duty shirk?

—The Girl's World.

CLASSROOM ECHOES

By P. E. Lindley

WHAT IS OPPORTUNITY?

One day a student came by the desk after class and asked if I thought there was any hope for a boy who came from a poor, uncultured, primitive, mountain family—a home that offered none of the things we ordinarily call elements of opportunity. Well, I, having no idea whose home he was talking about, told him that the chances were against such a person, that one coming out of such terrible conditions would not likely get far. Then the boy said he was describing his own home! I was, of course, on the spot and had some time trying to smooth out my first answer. The boy was one of my best students; he graduated with a good record for scholarship and character, and is now teaching in a good school system, instructing other boys and girls in the high and noble lessons of life.

I was sorry for my blundering way of answering the young man's question, apology was in order, for I admired the boy very much. Yet I have often thought that it was, after all, a fortunate conversation since it proved that oportunity is not what we usually think it is. That boy represents hundreds of others who make good when all conditions around them seem negative and uninspiring.

Often I ask, What is opportunity? So many boys and girls who have the best chances do little with them while others with half the outlook come through with flying colors. Just what makes the difference? Is it opportunity? Maybe it is something else we fail to see, something that ought to be called opportunity but something that actually is marked down as misfortune.

Well my definition of opportunity is this: That condition that tends to bring out the best in a person. It may be money, poverty, hardship or culture. Whatever it is it must be some situation that causes the individual to strengthen the best elements of his being. Since what one most often needs is good habits of work, determination, grit, and character, the seemingly poor circumstances often prove best. If a home fails to develop these qualities it, after all, offers little opportunity, while on the other hand, the home that does make the use and growth of these traits normal and natural—that home is succeeding whether you call it opportunity or not. Frequently the very things we consider opportunity turn out to be the opposite. The deer in the story, you know, boasted about his horns and felt ashamed of his muddy feet, yet when the hunters came his fine horns caught him in the bushes while his feet would have saved him.

Environment is a good thing, but inner power is better. Outward conditions are important, but they can never take the place of ambition, and in most cases, I think, this ambition has a better chance in homes or ordinary means. He who has the hunger for knowledge can find it, but he who has no appetite for fine things will never take them regardless of how much you pile them around him. Better have the thirst for learning with no books in sight than live in a library with no taste for books.

So opportunity is not what we usually think it is. In fact what many call opportunity is their very undoing. To illustrate: The mouse likes cheese, but if you take a twenty-pound cheese and throw it on the mouse you kill him. In this case the mouse would be killed by opportunity.

No, let no one think he has no opportunity. Everybody has opportunity, and perhaps what you consider your handicap is after all just the thing you need, for as I said above, opportunity is any situation that tends to bring out the best there is in a person. Face the new year with this attitude and you can succeed. Opportunity is more abundant than is the willingness to see it. And no person need pity himself because he had neither riches nor fame to start with. If he had a situation that made him honest, thrifty, ambitious, then he had real opportunity, call it what you please.

◆

FREE YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY MATERIALS FOR EVERYONE

FOR PASTORS: You will want to use one or more of the three sermon outlines written by Rev. Howard C. Emrick of Pittsburgh, Rev. J. Elwood Carroll of North Carolina, and Rev. J. N. Link of Maryland, Also, the morning worship service entited, "Gratitude for Our Church and Religious Heritage." Found in the worship leaflet and preparation bulletin.

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS: You will need the Church School worship service entitled "Gratitude for Our Sunday School Workers." Found in the worship leaflet.

FOR CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS: The Christian Endeavor Page in the Methodist Protestant Recorder and the METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD for Sunday, January 29. Also, articles written by Methodist Protestant delegates to the Christian Youth Council of North America, entitled "Why I Am Grateful for the Methodist Protestant Church." Found in the preparation bulletin.

FOR THE EVENING SERVICE: "Shrines—Our Religious Heritage in Chancel Drama." Suitable for a small, average, or large church. No memorizing required. This worship service thrills one as Our Heritage is portrayed. It is timely because it brings us to see the birth of a "New Methodist Church." This is printed in an attractive booklet form which is free.

FOR EVERY MEMBER: An attractive Young People's Day offering envelope to be used to receive a large Young People's Day offering for World Service. This offering received on this day may be applied toward your "Appreciation Year" goal.

If you have not already placed your order for Young People's Day materials, please do so at once. Order from F. L. Gibbs, Board of Christian Education, 3269 W. Liberty Ave., Pittsburgh, 16, Pa.

PETER COMMENDED AND REBUKED

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, January 8, 1939

By O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text—Matthew 16:13-25.

Golden Text—Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God.—Matthew 15:16.

We are now entering upon a series of studies in the life of Simon Peter, an apostle of Christ. Through this study we shall come to see a picture of the whole drama of the Kingdom of God that is at work in the world today. For as Christ deals with the individual life, so he would deal with society as a whole. If you would like to see what a Christian world would be like, then you may be observing the life of a truly Christian individual. This is as yet the only way to see the Kingdom of God, for if we look at the world as a whole or even at nations as such we shall not get a completed view. After two thousand years of Christian preaching we see much of sin and darkness among nations. In spite of the angelic herald of the Prince of Peace there is so little of peace between nations today. Those today who have not felt the power of Christ in their own hearts and who have looked for it to come suddenly to the world are giving out loud cries of pessimism and defeat in these troublous times that are upon us. Only as we see the marvelous power of Christ at work in the lives of individuals like Peter who have laid down the nets of this world to truly follow Him can we fully see Christ's power in this world. We are told in John's account of His coming that He came into the world and the world knew Him not, but that to every individual that did know and receive Him He gave power to become the Sons of God. So we would say that as long as even one life will, like Peter, make that great confession man will not be able to deny the Saviour-hood of Christ but will at least silently yearn in his heart of hearts for the day when every knee shall bow to One who has such healing in His wings.

It is thus we single out for our study the life and struggles of Simon Peter. He in a most thrilling way followed the Christ and became like Him in spite of his human weaknesses and failures. We would have you quickly note that Peter's apostleship did not happen in a moment. When he first dropped those nets to follow the Carpenter from Nazarus Simon was a long way from being the Saint Peter of later years. No, Christ said in calling him that it would be a gradual process: "I will make you to become fishers of men." John's account has Jesus saying to Simon these significant words: "Thou art Simon, Son of Jona, but you shall be called (or became) Cephas." Here, we might say is the key to the study of his life. If you would conclude that Simon became Cephas when he first dropped his nets to follow Jesus then you are in for some very shocking disappointments in the study of this diamond-in-the-rough called Peter.

In our lesson here we see that very close on the heels of his great commendation received for his confession there follows a strong rebuke for his blindness. We shall see him for a long space in his schooling with Christ thus; at one moment manifesting qualities that can be used for the very foundation stones of Christ's Kingdom and in the next moment showing qualities in his blindness that loom up before the Master as stumbling blocks in His Kingdom. However, it will be in these moments of triumph and failure that we as students of his life as related to Christ shall profit most in these studies. Here will be seen the mastery of our Christ over the sins of the world and here will also be witnessed that thrilling drama of Simon, the uncouth fisherman, becoming Cephas, the great apostle. If out of this study there shall come to each Sunday school teacher a vision of the many Simon's before them who may become a Cephas to inspire them with the greatness of their task these studies will not be in vain. Let Christ commend or rebuke as he must he is still a builder of lives that shall rise up out of sin and flaws to become Sons of God of whom Peter leads the rest.

"There's a fleck of rust on a flawless blade—
On the armor of price there's one:
There's a mole on the cheek of the lovely maid—
There are spots upon the sun.

"But the blade of Damascus has succored the weak,
The shield saved a knight from a fall:
The mole is a grace on my lady's cheek—
The sun, it shines for all."

S. A. WALKER.

IT PAYS TO BE TRUE

In a remote district of Wales, we are told, a baby boy was lying dangerously ill. The widowed mother walked almost five miles in the night through a drenching rain to get a doctor, but the doctor hesitated about making the unpleasant trip, knowing that he would receive no pay for his services. Too, he no doubt felt that this boy in a remote district would never become anything more than just a poor common laborer. But love for humanity and his esteem for professional duty overcome him, and he made the trip taking the poor mother to her humble home. In the end the life of the boy was saved.

Years after, when this little boy grew into a great man—Lloyd George—and became Chancellor of the Exchequer, the old doctor said: "I never dreamed that in saving the life of that child in that humble farm home that I was saving the life of a great national leader."

This story comes to me from a minister's scrapbook and was gathered from the Sunday School Chronicle. I am passing it on that the young people who read the Biblical Recorder may be impressed with the truth of the story, which will feelingly apply to the life that many people live in their inattentiveness to the little, but most worth-while things of life. It seems that many of us allow our thinking equipment, as it is sometimes bluntly expressed, to become sluggish. It is acknowledged that people of vision, people of responsibility and a wider range of activities, are those who, in early life, gave due consideration to the initial thinking of little things which, after all, become great things.

There are too many little boys and girls in the humble homes of our land today without a chance in life because of physical handicaps. No doubt some of them would become national leaders, as did the little ill Lloyd George, if they only had a chance.

BURNING FACTS ABOUT CHURCH AND SUNDAY SCHOOL

It is obvious that there is much dead wood in our churches. The writer has analyzed the situation covering a period of ten years in 125 churches, representing fifteen different denominations. The analysis revealed the fact that fully 90 per cent of our new members come from the Bible schools. In looking for the cause of church inactivity it is therefore necessary to analyze the Sunday school situation. Is the Sunday school giving us members faithful in church attendance and loyal in financial support?

The life of the Sunday school is not integrated with the life of the church. Many schools boast worship programs better than those of the morning worship service. Many dare even say they have teachers in adult classes who can preach better than the pastor of the church. The Sunday school in many instances has become a successful competitor of the church. Rarely do we find a church service as largely attended as the Sunday school. The writer visited a church where the Sunday school attendance was 242 and the church attendance was only 54. Out of such an atmosphere come most of our new recruits who unite with the church by baptism on confession of faith. They come into the church before the church comes into them. Many do not get beyond being only names on the church rolls. For example, fifty churches in Toledo, Ohio, reported an aggregate attendance of 6,778 pupils and 861 teachers in their Sunday school session. Of this number only 3,524 pupils and 689 teachers remained for the church service which followed. On a given Sunday a group of Dayton Sunday schools reported an attendance of 1,588 scholars and 177 teachers. Of these 850 pupils and 140 teachers attended the church worship service. Eighteen Cincinnati Sunday schools reported a total attendance of 423 teachers and 4,232 pupils. Of these only 326 teachers and 2,029 pupils remained for the church service.

This shows a wide gap between the church and her main recruiting field. Evangelistic programs, mass meetings, personal work, and Sunday school evangelistic campaigns are putting members into the church, but evidently, from the reports of our Local Church Emphasis Committee, there is need for a campaign to put the church into the members. We must look to the source of supply if we would have live churches. Our churches are slowly committing suicide. Streams of our youth pour out of our Sunday school and miss altogether the worship service of the church. In addition the Sunday school offers a substitute competitive worship program which seemingly makes attendance at the public worship service unnecessary. We start a great procession of Sunday school youth toward church membership and church activity and then permit that procession to be distracted by a substitute for the public worship of God. The procession is turned away from its true course.

There is needed also a better understanding of what constitutes real spiritual worship. The Sunday school should confine itself to teaching. In the Bible school we talk about God. In the worship service we talk to God. Worship belongs to the church. We must not make worship too common by having it in too many places. Our oncoming church members should be taught the essentials of "worship in spirit and understanding." Our youth should be educated in worship essentials and the forms which express them, in addition, to the history of worship. God is seeking worshippers and has set apart a day for worship. We have dedicated buildings for worship. The morning service in those buildings is especially planned for the worship of God. Let us keep step with God in seeking worshippers.—McKeesport, Pennsylvnia. (Abridgement of article by Rev. Arthur B. Strickland in The Watchman-Examiner.

◆

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY IN THE N. C. CONFERENCE FOR JANUARY, 1939

By REV. F. L. GIBBS

What Is Young People's Day?

It is one of the four major special days authorized by the General Conference and has come to take its place along with Easter, Rally Day, and Children's Day.

It is a time when a special effort is made to enlist the active participation of Young People in the life and work of the local Church and to bring a spiritual message to all connected with the organizatoins of the local church.

It is an occasion when a special effort is made to raise the World Service money for the support of World Service enterprises.

Where Does the Young People's Day Offering Go?

It does not all go to the Department of Religious Education! Instead, it is used as other World Service money is used. After a certain administrative expenses and flat appropriations are paid for Evangelism, Superannuates, Children's Home and Home for the Aged, it is divided as follows:

67 per cent to Board of Missions.

28 per cent to Department of Educational Institutions.

5 per cent to Department of Religious Education.

Therefore, this offering goes to the support of the entire program of the General Conference. Each local Church receives credit on its World Service apportionment for the amount raised, as well as on Appreciation Year Allotment.

Some Things You May Wish To Do For The Promotion Of This Day.

1. Make it a definite part of your Church program for 1939. It is your first Special Day of the New Year!
2. Inform your people as to what Young People's Day is, the purpose for which it is held, and where the offering goes.
3. Urge that someone in your Church place an order for the Young People's Day materials. Samples have been sent to the Pastor, Sunday School Superintendents, and Christian Endeavor Leaders of each Church.
4. Pray earnestly that this part of your Winter Program for 1938-39 will mean much for your church and the cause of Christ beyond your local Church.

Your cooperation during the past ten years for the observance of this Day has been greatly appreciated. Due to Methodist Union this will possibly be the last year we will promote it under the present auspicies. Therefore, we feel sure that you will help to make this observance the most successful of all.

Wishing you a most enjoyable and successful 1939.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

NEW YEAR'S THOUGHTS

Greatly begin! Though thou hast time
But for a live, be that sublime.
Not failure, but low aim is crime.
—Lowell.

Can We Improve Our Record?

In your President's report to Annual Conference in November, 1938, she stated that there were 118 active auxiliaries, and 224 churches in the conference. Mrs. Kearns' receipts of money from 118 auxiliaries during the conference year was the basis for this statement. This leaves a vast field of work for pastors, district chairmen and interested women in North and South Carolina and Virginia. Will we live up to our opportunity?

The report to conference stated that of the 5,500 women in the churches having auxiliaries, 3,200 women are co-operating in auxiliary work. This was an increase of 500 co-operating members. Surely there is some person in each auxiliary who can do some missionary or educational or "Fellowship Furtherance" work of some sort to win each of the 2,300 women not co-operating to active participation in the work. There are more of us than of them.

Thank-Offering Season Again

If you are alive, you ought to be thankful.

If you are able to walk, you ought to be thankful.

If you have the use of both hands, or even one hand, you ought to be thankful.

If you have the use of two eyes, or even one eye, you ought to be thankful.

If you can hear with two ears, or even one ear, you ought to be thankful.

If you have food and fuel, you ought to be thankful.

This page could easily be filled with causes for thankfulness.

God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son.

If we are truly thankful we will give for gratitude.

The Minnis Salary

There remains only three months in which to complete the raising of $1,500 which the N. C. Branch obligated itself to pay for the salary of Rev. J. F. Minnis in India. Will you who read this, stir those who have not given to this cause, so that our obligations will be met in full on March 31, 1939.

Quarterly Meeting January 12

Don't forget the hour for this meeting, nor the place.

10:30 A.M., State Street Church, Lexington.

Please be there, all Auxiliary Presidents expected to give helpful information for the benefit of churches and auxiliaries who need plans and methods.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HELPS

"FINDING HIDDEN TREASURE"

Christian Endeavor Topic for January 15

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

The Text: 2 Tim. 3:14-17; 2 Pet. 1:19-21.

There is no more appropriate subject that we could have for our consideration at the beginning of the New Year than that which we have for our Christian Endeavor discussions for three Sundays—the study of our Bible. If we make our lives a success throughout the coming year it will be because of the inspiration and teaching that we get from our Bible.

Paul in his letter to Timothy gives us some advice that is worthy of our consideration. "But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them: And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." 2 Tim. 3:14-17.

Our Bible is so full of Hidden Treasures that we only have to open the cover to find them, but of course, there are some gems that are more meaningful than others—and yet our Bible is so classified that we can always find the type of hidden treasure that we are in need of at the time. The Old Testament books may be classified as follows: Law—Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy; history — Joshua, Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, 1 and 2 Chronicles, Exra, Nehemiah, and Esther; poetry—Job, Psalms, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes; prophecy—Isiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi. The New Testament books may be classified as follows: Biography—Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John; history—acts of the apostles; epistles—Romans, 1 and 2 Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, and 1 and 2 Thessalonians; the pastorial epistles—1 and 2 Timothy, Titus, Philemon, Hebrews, James, 1 and 2 Peter, 1 and 2 and 3 John, and Jude; prophecy—Revelations.

The best preparation for a successful study of the Bible, which will lead to the hidden treasures, is deep devotion to Him who is its Author, and to the Saviour of whom it speaks. Only second to this is a good method of study, which will conduct the mind naturally into the subject, and lead it on. Without love to God the Bible has little chance of being much read: but without an intelligent method, a great love for it may be arrested or even extinguished. Love quickens study; and study, pursued in the right way, increases love.

There are several ways that we can go about finding the hidden treasures: We can study the Texts as a child does by reading and memorizing small portions at a time. Or we can study, not just verses or chapters, but whole books at a time. Then we can consider whole groups of books to get the history of the laws. But if we are to get the real meat of the Bible we must go farther than this and study the Doctrines of the Bible. It is by this method that we get the deepest meaning and the real genus of our Bible.

There are any number of places where we can find recommended verses and chapters to read in time of suffering, sorrow, or distress. Somewhere in most Bibles and in much of the religious literature that comes into our hands such lists are found. Use them, because they are helpful in trying to find the Hidden Treasures in the Bible.

Holy Bible, book divine,
Precious treasure, thou art mine;
Mine, to tell me whence I came;
Mine to teach me what I am.

Mine, to chide me when I rove;
Mine, to show a Saviour's love;
Mine art thou to guide my feet;
Mine to judge, condemn, acquit.

Mine to comfort in distress,
If the Holy Spirit bless;
Mine, to show by living faith
Man can triumph over death.

Mine to tell of joys to come,
And the rebel sinner's doom;
Oh, thou holy book divine,
Precious treasure, thou art mine.
—John Burton.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CHOIRS IN EVIDENCE

It seems that there is a growing interest in the organization of young people's choirs among our churches. This is a healthy sign, for it not only helps to tie our youth a little closer to the church, but it provides the nucleus for the choir of the next generation. Also, it adds variety to the church music.

We know of such groups in our churches at Asheville, Mebane and Reidsville. There may be more, and we should like to know about them. With the proper supervision and direction, and with regular rehearsals and opportunities to sing, these choirs should be able to accomplish much for the churches of which they are a part.

An opportunity to use their talent is afforded these singers on Young People's Day, the fifth Sunday in this month. They may also be privileged to sing during Christian Endeavor week, if meetings are held, and the next Sunday, which is Christian Endeavor Day. Encourage them, help them, give them a chance, pastors and officials.

Reidsville, N. C.

E. LESTER BALLARD.

There must be—if democratic processes are to survive—an intelligent obedience to duly constituted authority.—Governor Frank Murphy.

Our Children's Home

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Spring Hill S. S., N. Davidson	$ 8.04
Woman's Auxiliary, Harger Memorial, Detroit, Mich., for shoes	5.00
Mt. Carmel S. S., Forsyth	3.34
Fair Grove S. S., Haw River	.78
Woman's Auxiliary, Tiffin, Ohio, for shoes	6.00
Cedar Falls S. S., Richland	13.53
Union Ridge S. S., Forsyth	5.00
The Ethel Hemstead Circle, Inwood, L. I., feeding child	10.00
The McCullock Class, Grace Church, Greensboro, clothing child	4.00
The Golden Rule S. S. Class, First Church, Burlington, for shoes	3.00
Woman's Missionary Society, Opeliha, Ala., for shoes	2.25
The Missionary Society, Haynesville, Ga., for clothing	4.00
Woman's Auxiliary, Stephen's Memorial, Kansas City, Kans., for shoes	3.00
Graham Auxiliary, for shoes	3.00
Friendship S. S., Haw River	5.00
Hickory Grove S. S., Guilford	4.80
Woman's Auxiliary, Brower's Chapel, Richland	6.00
Alleghany S. S., Davidson, November and December	1.50
Chase City S. S.	1.85
Mr. J. W. Hopkins, Brown Summit	2.50
Mt. Zion S. S., Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	3.50
Tabernacle, W. Forsyth	1.00
Kistler's Union S. S., Cleveland	3.35
Caroleen S. S.	3.77
The Kiwanis Club, Asheboro, for five children	10.00
China Grove S. S.	3.36
Hebron, Orange	4.50
Bethel, Alamance	7,20
Mrs. Kate Pearson, Richmond, Va., annual pledge	1.00
Rockingham S. S.	2.00
Bethesda, North Davidson	3.00
Union Chapel, Granville	14.55
Ladies Aid Society, Elwood, Ind., feeding child	5.00
Maple Springs, Forsyth	5.00
Mt. Zion S. S., Weaverville	1.00
Bellmont S. S., Mt. Hermon	5.54
Canaan S. S., N. Davidson	3.50
Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	1.61

The above is a list of the regular offerings for the last two weeks in 1938.

Thanksgiving and Christmas Offerings

The following is a list of a few belated Thanksgiving offerings, and the Christmas offerings which came during the last two weeks of 1938. Many of the Christmas offerings came designated for special children, and for special purposes. One $25.00 comes out of a bequest, the income of which must be "spent for Christmas joy for poor children."

Mt. Zion S. S., Orlando, W. Va.	$ 6.30
Big Springs S. S., Ridgeway, Ohio	5.10
The Children's Missionary Society, Baldwin, N. Y.	5.00
Mrs. J. J. Crawford, Orange Chapel, Saxapahaw	1.00
Auburn S. S., Ind.	5.00
St. Johns, Baltimore, Md., White gifts	25.00
Graham, Additional T. O.	2.00
Mrs. Nettie Chilcutt, Prospect Hill, N. C.	1.00
Mt. Olivet S. S., Arlington, Va.	35.00
Glen Burnie S. S., Md., White gifts	5.00
The Rae Missionary Society, Dunbar, Pa.	5.00
Mr. C. E. Shaw, Cumberland, Md.	2.00
Herds Gap Auxiliary, Sylacouga, Ala.	2.25
Boliver Circuit, Baliver, Mo.	1.40
Rev. J. F. Wooden, a Superannate, Westminster, Md.	1.00
York Church, Media, Ohio	1.00
A Friend, Asheboro,	2.00
Chestertown, Md.	5.00
New Hope, Georgia Conference	10.00
Mrs. Emma B. Siler, Additional for Siler City	3.00
The Jesse Ricketts Estate, Starr Church, Baltimore	25.00
Falls Mill, W. Va.	1.20
C. E. Society, Hillsdale, Pa.	5.00
Special, Friendship, Friendship-Love's Grove	8.25
Hurlock, Md.	3.00
The Missionary Society, Harger Memorial, Detroit, Mich.	10.00
Grayson Church and Missionary Society, Grayson, La.	5.00
Mt. Zion, Mahaffy, Pa.	5.50
High Point Church, Medena, Mo.	1.00
Dunbar S. S., Dunbar, Pa.	30.52
Mr. Louis Wilson, Magnolia, Ark.	.60
Beulah S. S., Bangs, Ohio	6.65
Coshocton Circuit, Coshocton, Ohio	5.00
Adams Basin S. S., N. Y., White gifts	10.59
Mr. A. B. Owen, Gibsonville	10.00
Mrs. J. G. Whites' S.S. Class, Gurnsey, Ohio	1.00
Class No. 3, Avery Church, Morgantown, W. Va.	.23
New Marshfield S. S., Ohio	5.00
Mrs. W. C. Scott, Baltimore, Md.	50.00
Chestnut Ridge, Orange	10.63
Todd's S. S., Stockport, Ohio	1.00
The Woman's Aux.-Central, Asheboro, Special	5.00
The Junior and Primary Departments, Turtle Creek, S. S., Pa.	5.00
Mrs. A. A. Ramsey, Lillington, Memorial	3.00
Miss Juanita Amich, Washington, D. C., Special	10.00
Miss Bonnie Silver, Asheville	10.00
The Intermediate Dept. - Trinity Church, Baltimore, Md.	2.50
Missionary Circle, Washington, Pa.	3.00

Thus closes the financial report for the calendar year, 1938. It makes a good report. Especially is that true of the last three months of the year. We are thankful to all who helped to make it so. We trust that 1939 will be even better.

Clothing and Other Gifts

This list is long, so we are abbreviating as much as possible to save space in the HERALD.

Asheboro—A box of Christmas packages and 2 boxes of oranges.

Cleveland Charge—184 half-gallon and 17 quart cans of fruit and vegetables.

Bess Chapel—97 half-gallon cans of fruit and vegetables. A few potatoes were put in the boxes with these two donations.

Mecklenburg—Beulah, 24 cans of fruit and vegetables; Stallings, 50 cans of fruit and vegetables; Antioch, 16 cans of fruit and vegetables, and New Hope, 112 cans of fruit and vegetables, 2 boxes of corn and a package of sage.

Friendship-Love's Grove—Love's Grove—2 packages of lux, 8 packages of rinso, 13 packages of Chipso, 18 cakes soap, 3 pints of jelly, 10 lbs. sugar, 8 lbs lard, 22 half-gallon and 12 quart cans fruit and vegetables.

Friendship—4 bags corn, 2 bags potatoes, 43 half-gallon and 16 quart cans fruit and vegetables, 4 pumpkins, 2 pr. shoes, 3 cakes soap, a box of candy, a bushel of oranges, 48 lbs. flour, 25 lbs. rice, 1 lb. coffee, 1 gal. syrup, 1-2 bu. oats, 45 lbs. sugar, 6 bowls, 6 plates, 10 cups, 3 pr. pants, and 3 dresses.

Mr. C. E. Lowman, 8th grade shop classes, High Point schools—5 doll beds, 5 wheel barrows, 2 servings and 4 doll cradles.

Fairview, Anderson, Ladies Aid Society—10 half-gallon and 4 quart cans fruit and vegetables, 1 package corn meal and package sweet potatoes.

Mr. Cecil Bulla, Asheboro—One bag of oranges.

Mr. LeRoy Sykes, High Point—One bag of oranges.

Girl's Missionary Society, Worthville—A box of towels, washcloths and handkerchiefs, 10 quarts and 2 half-gallon cans fruit and vegetables, 2 pr socks, and a tube of tooth paste.

The Rainbow Class, Lebanon S. S., High Point—16 yards print dress goods, 8 pr. socks, and 8 pieces underwear.

The Ladies Aid Society, Hollister (Essix)—A Christmas box.

Mr. R. R. King, Greensboro—One box of oranges.

Shiloh, Shiloh—4 half-gallon cans of fruit and vegetables.

First Church, Salisbury, Md.—Christmas box, 7 cans fruit.

Mrs. Lee Butcher, Aurora, Mo.—Christmas box.

Mrs. Fred J. Nichols, Lansing, Mich.—Linen and handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Elmer Cook, Lansing, Mich.—1 quilt.

Mrs. J. R. Kanan, Hazlett C. E. Soc., Cherry Tree, Pa.—Box of towels, etc.

Mrs. Wm. Hammett, Kelly, La.—1 quilt.

Mrs. B. M. Edwards, Klondike, Tex.—Towels, washcloths, etc.

Mrs. Geo. Olson, Westville, N. J.—Christmas box.

San Angelo, Tex.—Box clothing, 3 quilts.

Mrs. Tempie Bynard, Caroleen, N. C.—1 quilt.

Mrs. Wm. Howard, Cherry Valley, N. Y.—Clothing, toys, etc.

M. P. Aux., Panama, Okla.— Clothing and a blanket.

Mrs. Nettie Vickey, Princeton, Ill.—Box of clothing.

Mrs. H. A. Hart, Bridgeton, N. J.—Christmas box.

Rev. J. W. Townsend, Snow Hill, Md.—Towels, etc.

Miss Olive Jackson, Lynbrook, N. Y.—3 boxes of Christmas packages.

Harmony M. P. Church, Washington, C. H., Ohio,—Clothing, fruit, washcloths, soap.

First M. P. Church, Anderson, Ind.—Christmas box.

Deer Park Miss. Soc., Westminster, Md.—Christmas box.

Mr. Charles Robertson, Frankfort, Ind.—Clothing, etc.

Mrs. J. M. Chandler, Parksley, Va.—Box of handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Vena Glancey, Foss, Okla.—Christmas gifts for girls.

Miss Lucile Reynolds, Elwood, Ind.—Box of dolls.

Mrs. C. C. Evans, Notasuiga, Ala.—1 quilt, coupons and clothing.

Mrs. Joshua Warfield, Woodbine P. O., Md.—Box of dolls and Christmas packages.

Mrs. K. Harding, Arkport, N. Y.—Box of clothing.

Woman's Miss. Soc., Newton, Iowa,—Toys, towels, washcloths.

Mrs. F. A. Phonemus, Sabina, Ohio—Christmas box.

Woman's Miss. Soc., Oceanville, N. J.—Christmas box.

214 Meek Ave., Byesville, Ohio.—Christmas box.

Friendship Class, Dallas Tex.—Box of clothing.

Mrs. John P. Roth, Richwood, Ohio—Christmas box.

Mrs. H. R. Smith, Washington, Pa.—Christmas box.

Mrs. W. W. Cousins, Enfield, N. C.—Bag of nuts.

Mrs. H. E. Dickey, Chauncey, Ill.—Box of clothing.

M. P. Church, Stahlstown, Pa.—Box of clothing and Christmas presents.

M. P. Church, Uniontown, Pa.—A present for each child.

Rev. Mr. Edwards, Tarrytown, N. Y.—2 Christmas boxes.

Ladies Aid Soc., M. P. Church, Newcomerstown, Ohio—Christmas box.

Mrs. H. E. Demart, Castle Shannon, Pa.—Christmas box.

Miss Alva Marple, Buckhannon, W. Va.—Box of Christmas cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Miles, High Point, N. C.—A present for each child.

Mrs. R. B. Winter, Hannibal, N. Y.—Christmas box.

N. Glebe Road, Arlington, Va.—Christmas box.

Mrs. T. E. Landis, First M. P. Church, Lynchburg, Va.—Christmas box and coupons.

Sunbeam Miss. Band, St. Paul's M. P. Church, Greensboro, N. C.—Box of handkerchiefs and coupons.

Mrs. A. B. Dark, Siler City, N. C.—Box of clothing.

Plymouth M. P. Church, Adrian, Mich.—Christmas box and 2 quilts.

Mrs. Earl Bulla, Asheboro, N. C.—Christmas box.

Friendship, Fallston, N. C.—Christmas box.

Miss Hazel M. Hackney, Amity, Pa.—Box of towels and soap.

Miss Naomi Pickenpaugh, Morgantown, W. Va.—Christmas box.

Mrs. Elmer Hessell, Hampton, Va.—Box of clothing and Christmas presents.

Mrs. H. Houldsworen, Three Rivers, Mich.—Christmas box.

Mrs. M.'Shunk, Westminster, Md.—Box of clothing.

Mrs. Howard Perrin, Cumberland, Md.—Christmas box.

Mrs. D. G. Raynor, Oceanville, N. J.—Christmas box.

Miss Katherine Gerwig, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Christmas box.

Mrs. M. V. Durman, Birmingham, Ala.—2 boxes of socks.

Spragg M. P. Church, Spragg, Pa.—Box of towels, soap and tooth paste.

3503 Beechwood Blvd., Pittsburgh, Pa.—Christmas box.

Mrs. J. Lee Boller, Marion, Ind.—Christmas box.

Mrs. E. K. Barss, Coshocton, Ohio—Christmas box.

Rev. J. E. Tripp, Medina, Ohio—Christmas box.

Mrs. E. S. Wulzer, Long Point, Ill.—Christmas presents and box of candies.

Ladies Aid, Essex M. P. Church, Richwood, Ohio—Christmas box.

Sunshine Circle, Central M. P. Church, Asheboro, N. C.—Christmas box.

Rev. G. B. Evans, M. P. Church, Garland, Mich.—Christmas box.

Mrs. J. G. Whites, Guernsey, Ohio—Christmas box.

Mrs. C. A. Isner, West Lafayette, Ohio—A box of handkerchiefs.

Mr. T. C. Bailey, Wilmar, Ark.—Christmas box.

Mrs. A. Wells, Grayson, La.—A box of towels and soap.

Mrs. A. L. Steinfeldt, Charleton, Ill.—Christmas box.

M. P. Church, Morrisville, Pa.—Christmas box.

Mrs. A. A. Lackey, Fallston, N. C.—Christmas box.

Mrs. O. L. Easter, Lebanon, High Point, N. C.—Box of cookies.

Mrs. Mary Dean, Frankfort, Ind.—Christmas box.

Mrs. D. J. Hatley, Albemarle, N. C.—Christmas box.

The Belk-Stevens Co., High Point—A box of candy.

The Lexington Grocery Co., High Point—A box of candy.

The S. E. Hauser Grocery Co., High Point—A box of groceries.

We are thankful to all who gave any thing for our comfort and happiness, and if any item be left out it is certainly not intentional. A card from you calling attention to any omission will have our immediate attention.

Yours in His blessed service,

A. G. DIXON, Supt.

NOTICE

Friends, the time has come to put some of our booklet money into the "Home." May we have what you have collected. We have about $100.00 worth on hand yet. Won't you help us turn these into cash. Note change of address from Box 1323 to 1915 N. Main St., High Point, N. C.

MABEL RUSSELL.

OPEN MY EYES, THAT I MAY SEE

Open my eyes, that I may see
Glimpses of truth Thou hast for me:
Place in my hands the wonderful key
That shall unclasp, and set me free.
Silently now I wait for Thee,
Ready, my God, Thy will to see;
Open my eyes, illumine me,
Spirit divine!

—Cokesbury Hymnal.

All laws have in them something in the nature of regimentation.—Henry A. Wallace.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. J. R. Taylor, Halifax charge	$2.00
Rev. W. M. Howard, Halifax charge	2.00
Sent by Mrs. H. W. Mitchell.
Mrs. W. V. Routh, West End church	.50
Mrs. J. C. Stockard, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
Mrs. J. L. Kernodle, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
Mrs. Ella Layton, Guilford charge	.50
R. S. Garmon, First church, Charlotte	.50
Mrs. J. H. McCall, First, Charlotte	.50
Sent by Mrs. McCall.
G. W. Riley, Orange charge	1.00
W. A. Minnis, Orange charge	1.00
J. M. Minnis, Orange charge	2.00
Sent by Pastor Morris.
T. W. Duncan, Littleton charge	2.00
Sent by Pastor Broome.
Club subscriptions, E. M. Hamilton, First church, Lexington	3.10
Mrs. W. T. Hemphill, Mt. Pleasant chg.	1.00
Mrs. Colon Smith, Mt. Pleasant charge	1.00
Sent by Pastor Braxton.
Mrs. Mary E. Trogdon, Tabernacle chg.	2.00
Gift subscription from Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Trogdon.
Mrs. W. H. Clark, Rockingham	1.00
Sent by H. W. Bell.
W. E. Hill, Denton	2.00
Sent by Pastor Curry.
Rev. C. L. Spencer, Randleman	2.00
Mrs. Belle Smith, Randleman	1.00
Sent by Pastor Spencer.
Mrs. C. W. Bates, Haw River charge	2.00
Mrs. H. C. Foust, Alamance charge	1.00
Sent by Mrs. J. M. Foust.
E. H. Coble, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
Sent by Pastor Anderson.
Miss Mae Hatley, Friendship-Love's G.	.50
Sent by Pastor Cook.
Mrs. W. E. Luck, First, Charlotte	2.00
Mrs. A. L. Jones, Guilford charge	1.00
Edna Cross, First church, Lexington	1.00
Mrs. A. E. White, Vance charge	1.00
Rev. J. L. Pittard, Moriah church	1.00
W. A. Sherrill, Moriah church	1.00
Sent by Pastor Pittard.
Rev. J. P. Pegg, Granville charge	1.00
Mrs. Earle Shoaf, Welch Memorial	2.00
Sent by Catherine Gill S. S. Class.
R. L. Laughlin, Calvary	1.00
Sent by Pastor Stubbins.

NOTICE

Please call attention to a mistake that is on page 103 of Conference Journal which says: Gibsonville promised pastor $1400; paid pastor $1000. The facts are that the Gibsonville church paid the promised salary of $1400, and set the salary for 1939 at $1000.

O. B. WILLIAMS.

WISDOM

Youth says, "I'll take this life of mine
And make it something great and fine:
I'll wrest from it fame and fortune too,
And my dreams of love shall all come true."

Maturity knows, through life's good and ill,
That it shapes our destiny as it will:
It crushes our hopes, our dreams are slain,
Then it lifts us up, to begin again.

So wisdom is learning to do each day
The tasks at hand—not forgetting to pray;
Content to love and work and forgive,
With courage and faith to look up and live.

—Selected.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Davidson Charge, W. H. Neese, Pastor, Jan. 2, 1939.—Well, here we are way down in Davidson among some of the best people in the conference. The people here have given us a warm welcome into their homes, their churchs, their auxiliaries, and their communities. They have remembered us with good things for our table. Mrs. W. A. Frank started the good work the day after we moved by sending milk and fresh meat; since that time others have remembered us and we have been enjoying fresh meat ever since we moved. Those sharing good things since last report are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Wood, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith, Mrs. Edd Morris, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. J. H. Loflin, and Misses Bruce Smith and Sylvia Morris. We are also indebted to Mrs. R. L. Binkley of Thomasville for a nice fat duck for Christmas, and Mrs. W. D. Payne, fresh meat.

Through the church paper we wish to thank our friends from former charges for the many nice Christmas greeting cards sent us. We received one from Culver City, Calif., and one from Florida. The others came from North Carolina—70 in all. We appreciate these expressions of good will.

Now just a few words about the women's organizations on the charge. At Lineberry church we have an auxiliary that seems very much alive. Miss Bruce Smith is the president. At Chapel Hill Mrs. Van Surratt is president of their auxiliary. Both societies have a small membership, something like 12 members in each, but they are very much alive and we see no reason why great things may not be accomplished. We expect to have each society represented at the quarterly meeting January 12.

A few weeks ago this writer was invited to meet with the Denton charge M. E. ladies in their charge auxiliary meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Wood. Since we are soon to be one church and since this writer appreciated the invitation and she felt she would like to know how the M. E. ladies carried on their auxiliary work, she accepted the invitation and enjoyed the meeting and the social hour following. After all we felt that we were in one of our own meetings. They have a meeting like this once a quarter when all their auxiliaries come together in a meeting and we believe it a good thing for us to do likewise.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

Denton, N. C.

Lawndale, Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, Pastor.—Since our last report we have been fortunate in listening to two splendid sermons by our beloved pastor. The sermon on last night was fitting and appropriate for the beginning of the new year.

The Woman's Auxiliary met on Tuesday, December 13, in the home of Mrs. Fred Richard with Mrs. Laxton Mauney joint hostess. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. T. G. Madison. Mrs. Eskridge gave the devotional in her usual impressive manner. Mrs. Eva Mauney called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting in the absence of the secretary. It was decided at this meeting to look up the less fortunate and remember them at Christmas time. Mrs. Eva Mauney was appointed to do this. The auxiliary was extended an invitation to meet on Tuesday, January 10, in the home of Mrs. Eva Mauney, with Mrs. Peeler joint hostess.

During the social hour the hostess served dainty refreshments. About one year ago the members of our auriliary decided to start a Sunshine Club and appointed Mrs. Mamie Neal treasurer of this club. Each member pays 5c per week into this treasury. Since the beginning we have sent flowers to the hospital on two occasions, $3 spray for funeral, one house coat, 2 pair pajamas, $1 in money, a basket of fruit and candy to each of three families for Christmas, two dresses, also a basket of fruit which Rev. and Mrs. T. G. Madison and three of the members carried to the county home. We still have a treasury of about $10.

The Sunday school sponsored a Christmas tree and program which was enjoyed by everyone present. Santa Claus was present and it seemed was jollier than usual, and of course the children were made happy when he began to call out their presents.

The entire Cleveland charge with some of the members from each church present met at the parsonage on December 12 and gave our pastor from what he says a pretty severe pounding. He said it started with a large bag of flour and came on down to a chicken, and last an opossum, which was fortunate enough to get away at the last minute.

Since we have three denominations to worship in this church, the Sunday school superintendent places three good sized boxes in the store with each pastor's name on a box. They are filled with whatever the spirit moves a fellow to place in these, and then the boxes are presented to the different pastors at the usual Christmas exercise.

Since we don't have a fifth Sunday night service, Rev. Mr. Madison announced last night that he and Rev. Mr. Goforth, the M. E. pastor, had decided to give us an extra service. We appreciate this very much.

MRS. PEELER, Reporter.

Union Chapel Church, Mocksville, N. C., Rev. K. G. Holt, Pastor.—The Christmas holidays passed off very quietly in our community. With the beginning of a new year January 1, 1939, our church had an unusually large attendance for the bad weather we are having. We intend to make the year 1939 a better year with our church than we have ever made before.

We still have several sick in our community. We hope for them a speedy recovery so they can be with us to worship again, for we miss them greatly.

During the holidays we were very sorry to lose one of our girls, Miss Minnie Lee Bailey. Miss Bailey is now the Mrs. Robee Laster, of Elkin, N. C. We will miss her in all our church work. We hope for Mr. and Mrs. Laster a very happy life together.

There will be preaching at Union Chapel the second Sunday night, and the fourth Sunday morning each month. Every one is invited to attend these services. There is also Sunday school each Sunday at 10 o'clock.

CHURCH REPORTER.

Central-Canaan Methodist Churches, Geo. L. Curry, Pastor.—Christmas at Denton was celebrated in a way that meant a great deal of joy and satisfaction. Indeed we feel it was very properly done. At the church in Denton we had our service on Sunday night, December 18. The program was good, the choir was vested, and the music was of a high order. The idea of the White Christmas was featured. The decorations were all in white, with blue lights. All who took part were dressed in white. Gifts were brought to the altar by those dressed in white and representing classes of the church school and departments of the church. Objects remembered in these gifts were missions, Children's Home, Herald subscription, needy families, and wefare work of our public school, etc.

At Canaan the service was observed on Christmas day. Here too the White Christmas idea was carried out. In the offering a number of causes were found to be remembered. Missions, Children's Home, and local interests. Among the local needs remembered was more than $25 for a brother who had met with the misfortune of losing two horses. Christmas music was used and a program which was suited to the occasion.

We believe the people of both churches were quite favorably impressed with the White Christmas idea.

Communion services with a large number of communicants were observed at both churches during the Christmas season. At Denton on December 18 at the morning service and at Canaan on Christmas day as a part of the Christmas service.

During the holiday season a number of our young people who are engaged in school work spent time at home. Among them were Robert Johnson and Virginia Churry of High Point College; Inza Hill, a teacher at Rankin High School near Greensboro; Lillian Bisher of Bennetsville, S. C.; Golden Morris of Greensboro, and Ruth Morris of High Point. The last three are attending business schools.

Our Denton church has recently taken on a new name. Two names were suggested, Bethel and Central. Central received the largest number of votes, and from this on our church in Denton will carry the name of Central Methodist church.

On last Sunday, New Year's day, one new member was received. Mrs. Roy Morris, a recent bride, came to us from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. She came to us on New Year's day and she was the first to join Central Methodist church of Denton, N. C.

During the holidays, through generous contributions of free labor, considerable improvements have taken place at our parsonage. The space formerly used as a hall has been added to the reception room, making a large, ample reception room. The stairway has been so changed that it leads from the back instead of the front. Double doors have been placed between the reception room and the dining room. The arrangement now is so that there two large rooms can be thrown together to accommodate a large gathering such as we often have in our parsonage. We are indeed grateful to the brethren who made this improvement possible.

We have been remembered very kindly by our people here, as well as by friends elsewhere during the recent weeks and especially during the Christmas season. Fresh meats and other good things have been plentiful. Lots of good eats have come our way. We have lots of good wood on the parsonage yard and more in the woods. We mention here Brother Sam Martin and Brother Carl Hoover. A number of other nice gifts came from our people and we are not able to mention all and we will not mention any. Cards came in larger numbers this year thnn ever before. A large number came from our people here and large numbers came from good people we have formerly served and learned to love. We thank all these good people for all these good things and we pray God's blessings upon them all.

GEO. L. CURRY.

◆

Mt. Hermon Church, Mt. Hermon Charge, Rev. J. R. Anderson, Pastor.—We were indeed very glad to have our pastor fill his regular appointment Sunday morning. This was the first time this conference year that he and his wife had met with us. We are glad to know that he is regaining health and strength and will soon be able to take his place of leadership once more.

Our Christmas Cantata was given Sunday evening. A goodly number being present to enjoy it.

Our Christmas tree and program is being planned for Saturday night.

We feel that our Sunday school work is moving along nicely, with interest and attendance being good. May we all work together for the good of our church, and the work of Christ.

REPORTER.

◆

Caroleen, Rev. H. D. Garmon, Pastor.—Our work has started off fine for the new conference year. The Sunday school and also church attendance are growing. We gave our Christmas program Saturday night which we think was one of the best, ever presented in our church. We thank God for the great interest of the young people in our church. For the faithfulness of each one in making our program so great a success. The packed house on Saturday night showed they were expecting a fine program. Although many had to stand, we feel that they caught the intended spirit and could say that it was good to have been there, and that as a result of our program our church will grow both in spirit and in number. Our Christian Endeavor is still growing and has meant much to the young people. There are officers and teachers of our church this year, that will say without the C. E. training they have had, they would never have been able to fill their office today. We were glad to have our pastor with us Saturday night, although he had to fill his appointments at the other churches Sunday. We are looking forward to our preaching services next Sunday. We feel that our pastor with our help will make this the greatest year for our church in history. We are so glad to have our members who have been on the sick list back with us. We are sorry to report that God saw fit to take one of our members since our last report to the paper, Mrs. Sam Scruggs. But she suffered so many years while in this life, and although we miss her terribly, its sweet to think of her in that heavenly place where theres no pain and suffering. Our loss is Heaven's gain. As we begin the new year, may we all rededicate our lives to God's service and all work harder for the up-building of God's Kingdom.

(MISS) LOIS HOLLIEFIELD, Reporter.

◆

Asheville.—This Chisrtmas has been both joyful and sad to us here in the Asheville parsonage. We have been saddened by the death of Mrs. Bethea's father, which occurred December 23, and he was buried on Christmas Eve. This removes from us the last parent, as my mother and father went away quite awhile ago, and my mother-in-law some twenty years ago.

Mr. Warlick was one of the best of men, that goes without saying to all who knew him.

Next day after the funeral, Christmas, two of our boys came to spend just the one day and night, but that was a happy time to us. We regretted so much hat the other children could not be here, but circumstances were such that all could not come.

The old fashioned Christmas tree here in the church brought us joy. A turkey for our Christmas dinner being the biggest thing that we received. Then the mail box was stuffed every day, as so many of our new found friends here sent us cards, and then from other places where we have so many good friends came Christmas greetings. So many that we counted these and the last mail the number of cards amounted to greetings from two hundred and eight. My how good this made us feel! Then the mail for two days brought us an arm load of packages each day, and they kept coming until the number ran up to fifty-seven different gifts. And then here in Asheville and through the mail came thirty-seven dollars in cash. Never got so much money as a gift on Christmas. All these things and remembrances made us forget our sorrow in a measure, to know we had so many friends that were thinking of us on this glad day.

To all of these who have remembered us at this time of sorrow as well as of joy, we sincerely thank you, and pray the blessings of Him who sees every act and knows every thought, that He may reward you richly.

We have been hindered in getting started in our work here in several ways, but we are very much encouraged to believe that as the New Year opens up we will have an opportunity to get things going, though the start is late.

The attendance a church has picked up considerably, and the people of the church and community have been unusually kind in their words of appreciation and helpfulness.

We would like to mention names of all but time and space forbids at this hour.

We earnestly ask an interest in the prayers of those who know us throughout the conference, there are many obstacles here, perhaps more than the average church, but we are looking to Him who is able to make all grace abound that His wisdom may guide us and His grace strengthen us so that a victory to advance the Kingdom may be given us.

N. G. BETHEA.

◆

Kernersville-South Winston, Dec. 30—The first quarterly conference for this charge was held at the Kernersville church Saturday, December 17, 1938, at 2:30 p. m. Official members of four churches attended. Because of the brief time intervening since the fourth quarterly conference, the reports were few and brief. The pastor's report revealed that $75.86 had been received on salary, and 56 visits had been made. The apportionments of the annual and general conference were accepted by the conference. A number of recommendations of the pastor, relating to the financial phase of the work were adopted. Miss Hazel Hendrix, who served as secretary of the conference for the past year, was re-elected. The conference created a parsonage fund with the money received from the sale of the Oak Ridge property. A. N. Linville was elected treasurer of the parsonage fund, amounting to over $250.00. The conference instructed the parsonage trustees to purchase a new circulator for the parsonage, which was installed during the week prior to Christmas. The pastor and family are now enjoying the comfort and convenience of the new circulator, the make of which is The Allen.

Christmas programs at three churches were rendered on Friday night before Christmas, and each one was interesting. We could attend only one of them, namely the Pine Grove church program. The church was completely filled with members and friends of the Sunday school and church. The old-fashioned Christmas tree adorned the church auditorium, to the delight of every one. The pastor and family were the recipients of a number of useful gifts, including a large box of fruits, nuts and candy. Also an amount of money was given at this church.

The pastor and family were remembered with a large number of Christmas greeting cards this year, over one hundred being received from members of churches of the present and former pastorates. Also we are thankful for numerous gifts from members of the present charge brought to the parsonage for the past two weeks. All of these gifts are high appreciated.

The December meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Kernersville church, which has two circles, No. 1 and No. 2, met jointly December 17, 1938, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. W. Corum, president of Circle No. 1. The program provided for a Christmas song, after which the devotional service was conducted by the pastor, who read a Christmas Scripture lesson from St. Luke 2:1-15. The business program was then carried out. A very delightful feature of the meeting was the presentation of Christmas gifts, this being done by each member of the two circles, who drew names the first of the year, the idea of twin sisters being carried out by the plan, which provided for an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The spirit of Christmas giving again gave special significance to the meeting when the pastor's wife became the recipient of a lovely Christmas shower of beautiful and useful gifts. The pastor, too, was remembered with a number of appropriate gifts. The pastor and wife appreciate very much all these gifts.

C. B. WAY, Pastor.

Friendship Church, Fallston Charge.—A large crowd attended Sunday school and church last Sunday. Mr. Evan Wilson came as a representative from the M. E. Church South of Fallston, to express their appreciation in being invited to join us in worship each Sunday. They will not accept the invitation before the meeting of the churches in April. However, we are looking forward with great anticipation to having them visit with us on the fifth Sunday in January.

Rev. Hethcox delivered an inspiring message on the subject, "The Lure of the Second Mile." His text was taken from Matthew 5:45. A new member was added to our church roll, Mr. Moton W. Propst. We were happy to have Mr. Grady Reed from Texas, in our midst for church service.

The children of the Primary department are gathering toys to send to the Children's Home at High Point. Colon Wright and Dwight Wilson of Phiefer College and Miss Imogene Lackey of Elon College are at home for the Christmas days. Several others are yet to come. A wish for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year is extended to all.

REPORTER.

Alamance Charge.—After spending twelve pleasant years with our church in Reidsville we have had to experience the unpleasant task of moving. Only those of my brethren who are in the ministry, and have to move now and then, are aware of the fact that there is nothing pleasant about packing all of one's household effects, including a barrel or two of used and often misused sermons, moving some distance then unpack and get things to rights again in a strange place among strange people. But such is the lot of a preacher, and he must learn in whatever state he finds himself therein to be content. We leave our friends, but, thank God, we do not lose their friendship or their love or their sympathy. These things we carry with us as treasures more precious than rubies or diamonds. The friendships we formed in Reidsville in and out of the church are our priceless heritage.

After having practiced on one church charges for a number of years, our conference finally awoke to the fact that we were competent to handle a four church charge, and we were assigned to one. So, here we are the pastor of Alamance Charge, composed of some of the finest people to be found anywhere on earth. We have been most cordially received by all of the churches, and we are looking forward to a happy and prosperous pastorate with them.

Our first quartely conference was held some ten days ago at Center church. All of the churches were represented, and the business of the conference was transacted harmoniously and expeditiously. The assessments sent down by the annual conference were apportioned to the several churches. We are hoping to make our offerings this year real expressions of our appreciation and gratitude for the more than one hundred years of service our denomination has rendered to the Kingdom of God. Brother J. W. Whitehead, who for almost a half centurn has been the efficient secretary of the conference, was unanimously elected to succeed himself. I suppose most of our members know that he is the father of the beloved pastor of our Henderson church—a worthy son of a noble sire.

We were invited to attend a Christmas entertainment at the Rock Creek church on Friday evening before Christmas. Of course we went, and to our utter amazement the members and friends took us all unware and almost pounded the life out of us. The ways these people "messed up" our car was a sight to behold; but we didn't get mad and fuss about it. We tried to express our gratitude; but all we could do was to stammer and sputter. We went home and after taking an inventory of our possessions we hardly knew which to do, enlarge the pantry or open up a grocery store.

For the benefit of all concerned let us say that we are occupying the Liberty church parsonage in Liberty, N. C. The pastor, Rev. Aubert Smith, being a "Lone Ranger," hasn't the time, even if he had the inclination, to occupy the house, except for brief intervals. During these intervals we enjoy his fellowship very much. It has been years since we had the pleasure of intimate association with one of our pastors, and, believe you us, we are making the most of it.

GEO. R. BROWN, Pastor.

First Church, Lexington, L. E. Mabry, Pastor.—The First church held the Christmas program Thursday night, December 22. A play was given by the young people entitled "A Chiid Shall Lead Them." Also the children gave some very fine speeches. This program was under the direction of Mrs. L. B. Koonts. Everyone seemed to enjoy the pageant very much, also a great many presents were given out among the people. The Sunday school gave the treats out to the scholars last Sunday morning. At the worship service Rev. L. E. Mabry preached a thoughtful sermon on the subject, "Christmas." We did not have any service Sunday night, as it was Christmas and a good many of our members went visiting.

There are quite a few of our members on the sick list at this time. We make it a habit to put down names of every one of our members who is sick on a list at the church door so the pastor and people can visit them.

Mrs. H. C. Koonts entertained her Sunday school class at her home last Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Names were drawn and presents were given out, and also many games were played.

REPORTER.

Shiloh, Randolph Charge, Rev. Mr. Isley, Pastor, Dec. 27.—A large number enjoyed the Christmas entertainment Friday night, which was given by members of the Sunday school, after which a great pile of gifts was distributed from beneath a beautiful Christmas tree. Everyone present was presented with a bag of fruit, for which we give Mr. James Brown credit for making it possible. Our pastor was present and gave a short talk. Several of our people presented him groceries.

Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday. It being Christmas day and so many were away for the holidays, the congregation was small. We hope it will be better at the next appointment. His sermon was taken from Matt. 2:2, "The Star in the East."

The Jordan family have our greatest sympathy in the death of their wife and mother, Mrs. E. E. Jordan. The church has lost one of its faithful members, and the community a good friend and neighbor.

Also our sympathy goes out to the Brown family in the recent death of their wife and mother, Mrs. Connie Brown. May the memories of their companionship by God's help comfort each of these families in their bereavement.

MRS. EUGENE BROWN, Reporter.

Welch Memorial Church, High Point.—On Friday night, December 16, the Ladies' Auxiliary presented a special program for the women of the church. All women in the church and Sunday school received an invitation for the meeting. The purpose of the program was to form a closer relationship among our women, and in all respects the program was a success.

Last Thursday night our annual Christmas program was held. The Christian Endeavor society presented a pageant, "The Shepherd King," under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Joiner. A true and sincere spirit of Christmas was depicted in this pageant. After the presentation of "The Shepherd King," the appearance of Santa Claus and the distribution of numerous gifts placed under an enormous Christmas tree formed the latter part of the program. The entire Sunday school received Christmas treats.

Saturday night of this week, our Christian Endeavor society is planning a watch party in celebration of the New Year. In the course of this party, we plan to install our new Christian Endeavor officers. We anticipate the presence of several state Christian Endeavor officers, and look forward to a most successful evening.

From our church comes a sincere hope that every one of you will have a most successful and prosperous New Year.

MILDRED SOUTHERN, Reporter.

Davidson Charge.—This writer has been handicapped somewhat with a prolonged cold, but all appointments have been met in regular order. We find ourselves in the midst of a fine people who have plenty and to spare. We are located three miles south of Denton in sight of highway No. 109. An electric light line is assured for this immediate section, as well as for other sections of rural Davidson.

We are well pleased with our location and with the people, and with the prospect for a profitable year.

WM. H. NEESE.

Community Church, Thomasville. — Community church had Sheik Raphael Emmanuel at the church Sunday morning. He lectured on the Bible lands where Jesus came from. Mr. Emmanuel is a native Chaldean who comes from the country where the Garden of Eden was located and from where Abraham was called to go out into the lands of Canaan. Mr. Emmanuel's description of the Holy Land and of the customs of its people was very interesting. Knowing something about this country, and knowing that it has changed very little since the days when Jesus lived there, makes it very easy for us to visualize the birth and life of Jesus Christ.

On Sunday afternoon the Finch Institute Singers gave a Christmas cantata, "The Birth of Christ." This cantata was the story of the Christmas night 20 centuries ago. As much as we love the story, we had a new appreciation and deeper love for it after hearing it expressed so beautifully in song.

From the heart of our beloved pastor and all the members of this church, we wish everyone God-speed "even unto Bethlehem."

MRS. TOM EINSTEIN, Reporter.

* * *

Kannapolis Church, D. T. Huss, Pastor.—I want to thank the Editor for publishing the letter sent in by Miss Gaynelle Price. Gaynelle is a wonderful Christian girl and has been a great inspiration to me. I have never seen anyone so cheerful as she is under her circumstances. Will every reader of the Herald please write Gaynelle a letter or card to cheer her along her way to recovery? We are looking for her back in Kannapolis Sunday school early in the spring. Cover her hospital cot with mail. She is thrilled to get mail from anyone.

Kannapolis Sunday school is still making progress under the leadership of Brother Tutterow. He has a fine way of spreading his grand Christian spirit to the school and to everyone he touches. He was an excellent steward and seems to be fitting even better as superintendent of the Sunday school. A gradual growth in this branch is sure to come.

Many of us were afraid it would be hard to find a chairman of the board of stewards who could take Brother Tutterow's place. He was located in the person of M. E. Marlowe. This group has already set a record for this church. When the every-member canvass was completed it was found that the church budget was largely oversubscribed. I am told that nearly double has been pledged over the pledges made last year. These stewards are not only willing to see that all bills are paid promptly, but have gone with me to help those who are unfortunate and to help win the lost. These men have greatly encouraged me in my efforts.

Our first quarterly conference is to meet January 14. We are to get our plans for the year in shape then and get ready for a drive to wipe out our church debt.

This auxiliary has one of the best and most satisfactory plans for making money that I know about. Will be glad to send full details of it to any pastor or auxiliary president who will write to me.

Kannapolis church is happily entering its last year as Methodist Protestants and expects to start its first year in the new church with its house in order and to enter a happier relationship in the larger body. It will do its part by all the conference interests at the same time.

* * *

Eden, Halifax Charge, Rev. W. M. Howard, Jr., Pastor.—We wish for everyone the joy and peace of the Christmas season with a hope it may continue throughout the coming year.

The first Sunday in December our pastor brought to us Rev. Sprigg Harwood of Baltimore, Md., and Duke University, who preached for us that day. It was a great pleasure to hear him. He speaks with a spiritual depth that has an uplifting influence on his hearers. We hope to have him visit us again.

Last Sunday afternoon, December 18, we had a truly beautiful service. The church was beautifully decorated in green and white, white candles, miniature Christmas trees, and native evergreen being used.

The young people and small children of the Sunday school gave a program, directed by the superintendent, Mrs. R. G. Willey. Although they only had a few days' preparation and one rehearsal, every one did remarkably well.

After the program Mr. Howard talked to us about the priceless gift of our Savior, bringing before us the matchless beauty that so often is obscured by the prevalence of commercialism. We are sorry so many of our usual congregation were absent, as we feel that those who were there will have a happier Christmas.

Since our last report the Auxiliary has held two meeetings. A check-up at the last meeting shows finances appallingly low. However, optimism is high and we have some faithful workers, especially Mrs. F. M. Parker. We are indeed grateful to her for her generous gifts and much personal work.

Our president, Mrs. R. G. Willey, is a most capable leader and we hope for the continued cooperation of the membership.

Electric service for this section of the county has been potentially approved. We hope it may become established. When and if it does we expect to have the hut and church equipped with lights.

Again best wishes for a happy Christmas and New Year.

MRS. ETOIE WILLIAMS, Reporter.

* * *

Union Grove Church, Rev. Mr. Bingham, Pastor.—Happy New Year! To every reader of the Herald I extend a wish for a Happy New Year.

Since the old year 1938 has gone from us forever, may we not sit and mourn her departure and the mistakes we made during the year. But, may each of us mend our ways for the year 1939 with the mistakes we made in 1938. May we try to do more for our Master. The only way to be happier this year is to make more people happy by showing people you are interested in them and helping them bear their burdens.

We extend to Mr. Bingham our deepest sympathy in the death of a dear niece, who was buried on Christmas day. Mr. Taft White filled his appointment during his absence on Christmas day, and preached a good sermon.

Union Grove church lost one of its members on Thursday before Christmas. Dr. Trivette died with pneumonia. He left a host of mourning relatives and friends and neighbors. There is a lot of illness in our community such as pneumonia, flu, measles and colds.

Our Sunday school gave a very effective program on Christmas eve. The smaller children gave recitations and dialogues. The young people's class gave a pageant called "Warm Hearth Fires." After the program came the most interesting part to young and old, the delivering of gifts from under the Christmas tree. Each member of the Sunday school received a bag of treat from the Sunday school.

In making our resolutions for the new year, may we sincerely resolve and pray over them. And let us remember the Sunday school of today will become the church of tomorrow. Let us do our part.

FLORA MAE WOOTEN, Reporter.

Plaques, Mottoes, Greetings, Books
Finest line of Christian Workers' Supplies in this country. Write for catalog. Agents wanted. Write Dept. J.
The Higley Press, Butler, Ind.

The Monument That Will Preserve Your Cherished Memories.

Appropriate in design, beautiful in texture and finish, Stone Eternal Monuments are unaffected by the ravages of time. You can buy with this assurance.

Stone Eternal Monuments

are unsurpassed in brilliance, freshness, beauty and durability. Cut from perfect granite, impervious to the elements, all Stone Eternal Monuments and Markers are trade-marked and guaranteed. For your assurance, this mark of quality is neatly cut on all Stone Eternal Monuments. Demand the genuine.

STONE ETERNAL

Write for booklet and name of authorized dealer in your community.

The Georgia Granite Corp.
Elberton, Ga.

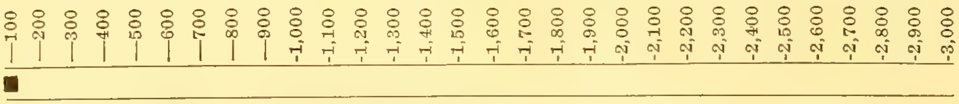
Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"
Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.
MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

REV. C. W. BATES, D.D.
Subscription Booster

BOOSTING THE HERALD

To those of you who read the HERALD, and may read this, the church paper needs little boosting. As they say, you are already "sold on it." If you are like I am, you await its coming from week to week with impatience, as if, as last week, no paper is issued, something has gone out of your life.

But, unfortunately, not all the folks are like you and I. A great many of our church members dont' take it; and some who take it don't read it.

We must somehow "sell the paper" to these folks. They need it. All the interests of the Kingdom and of the Conference are halted because they do not take it.

And there has never been a time when the paper was more needed than now, nor a time when our folks needed more to read it. Perhaps the chief reason they need to take and read it is the approach of Methodist Union, in which we are all vitally concerned. I am interested in the advertisement in the last several issues of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, which I take and read with interest. Here it is:

"METHODIST UNION MEANS THE GREATEST YEAR METHODISM HAS KNOWN

"The whole thrilling story will be told by the Methodist press—and nowhere else.

"The Advocate (shall we insert "Herald"?) expects its greatest year in striving to secure a union of Methodists who know.

"A union of Methodists is fine, but far better is union of intelligent and well informed Methodists—those who keep posted. Every reader of the Advocate (Herald?) must know at least one Methodist who needs to get into this union—into this new union of informed Methodists."

Not all the ignorance—or, more politely, lack of information—is in our sister church. We have some of it. Let's make it less by getting the folks to read more.

The Editor has asked me to act as Herald Booster. I'm about to get started. But I can't do much by myself. I need the help of all those who read the HERALD. YOU read it—get SOME ONE ELSE to read it. I'm counting on you.

I hope to have some plans for pushing the campaign in the next issue. In the meantime, you do a little boosting.

C. W. BATES.

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	2½	....
Albemarle	20	....	....
Anderson	32	½	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	2	..
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	2¾	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	....	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	10	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	....	....
Creswell	29	....	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	3	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	2½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	½	....
Flat Rock	77	....	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	1½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	....	...
Graham	30	1	....
Granville	58	1	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	2½	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	....	....
Greensboro, W. End	25	¾	....
Greensville	55	....	....
Guilford	37	½	....
Halifax	42	4½	....
Haw River	48	1	....
Henderson	35	3	....
High Point, First	75	2½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	...
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	2½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	2½	....
Lexington, First	48	2	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	....	....
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	....	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	4½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	5½	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	1½	....
Orange	77	6	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	3	....
Pleasant Grove	17	2	....
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	¾	....
Randolph	78	¾	....
Reidsville	13	3	....
Richland	35	....	....
Roberta	29	. ..	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	....	5.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	...	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	....	....
Siler City	22	1½	....
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3	....
Tabernacle	40	2½	....
Thomasville, Community	18	....	....
Thomasville, First	25	3	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	2½	....
Weaverville	20	¼	....
West Forsyth	68	7½	....
Whitakers	8	....	....
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	¼	....
Yarborough	9	½	....
Miscellaneous		2½	....

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Gray's Ointment

USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES

25c at your drug store.

FOR COLDS—Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

FOR QUICK
HEADACHE RELIEF
STANBACK
10¢-25¢

Don't Neglect Slipping

FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wabble when you talk, eat, laugh, or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

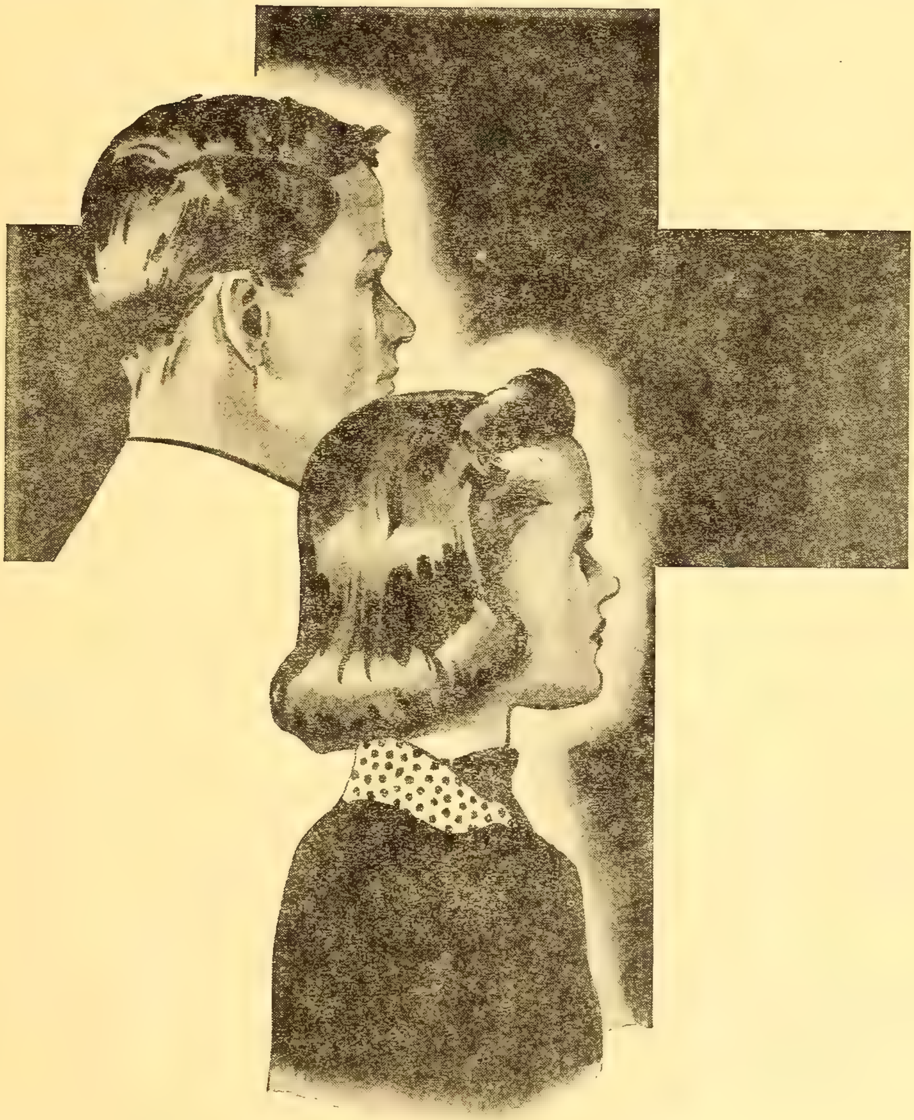
Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRI AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

Rev HL Isley 2feb9 R1

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 12, 1939 NUMBER 9

1939 - YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY - 1939



YOUTH IN GRATITUDE

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Rev. R. C. Stubbins Appointed District Chairman

I am appointing Rev. R. C. Stubbins as chairman of the 5th district to succeed Rev. J. Elwood Carroll who feels that he ought to be relieved of this duty in order that he may have more time to spend on writing the history of our Annual Conference.

The New Journal

The new conference journal has reached me and it has been read with a great deal of interest. In the main I think it is a fine piece of work, however, there are a few puzzling things in it and if anybody can unravel the mystery I shall be glad. For instance, in the report of the statistician the number of accessions is given as 1,856 and the number discontinued is given as 963. Naturally we would conclude that we had a gain of 893 but instead a loss is registered amounting to 83. In this same report the number of members in 1937 is given as 30,604 while that of 1938 is given as 30,521. But in table No. 2 which deals with membership the 1937 membership is listed as 29,871 while the 1938 figures are given as 30,521. This would give us a gain of 650 over the previous year. The only conclusion I can reach is that the brethren, in making out their reports this past conference did not start with the number as listed on the roll at the 1937 conference but put down a smaller number which, perhaps, they actually found on the roll. I know that it is difficult to keep statistics absolutely correct, however, I had been hoping that for this our last year as a separate denomination we might know just how many members we have. In making this digest of our membership there is no criticism of any of the officials who made up these reports. The only thing they can do is to take the reports just as they come into their hands. This year's journal records only three charges which did not have a single accession but there are nine charges listed which did not have a single adult baptism. These figures speak for themselves and it is hardly necessary for me to comment, however, one thing is clear, these churches are not getting hold of either the adults or the children. In a great many places these days it is difficult to reach the non-churched mature people but in a great many churches fine groups of children are being gathered in. But when neither is reached it is just too bad.

Available for Fifth Sunday Rally

Purposely I have refrained making any engagements for any local church for the fifth Sunday, thinking that there would be a number of fifth Sunday rallies and that I could be of larger srevice there than in a local church. But up to the present time no invitation has come for a fifth Sunday rally. If any District Chairman needs me I shall be glad to go.

Delegates Expenses to Uniting Conference

One thing which we must keep in mind this year is that delegates expenses to the Uniting Conference will have to be raised early in the year, if the delegates have the use of this money. April will soon be here and it is very important that our delegates go and important that they have something to go on. Reservations for our delegates have been made at the Robert E. Lee hotel in Kansas City at the very best rate possible.

A Sunday Morning at Liberty

Last Sunday morning was spent with our church at Liberty, Rev. Aubert Smith pastor. For a good many years this church has occupied a very important place in the life of our conference. Quite a good many of our people have had a very gratifying acquaintance with this church when they were students in the Boarding school which once was carried on there. But as one goes back to this church now one is deeply conscious of what death has wrought in this congregation in that many who were once there are there no more. There was a fine congregation present last Sunday morning and many young people were in the audience. The Sunday school superintendent complimented the school for the greatly increased attendance. It was a real pleasure to preach to this fine group last Sunday. Brother Smith will soon finish his course at Duke University and after that will be able to give more time to this church. At the present time he is serving both the Liberty and the Siler City charges. Both of these charges ought ot have the all time services of a pastor but for the present it seems best to let one divide time with the two. Brother Smith is very popular with the people and things seem to be running smoothly. I trust this church may grow and make good use of the large opportunity which it seems to have.

The Ninth District Rally

Hurrying away from Liberty soon after noon last Sunday, I soon found myself at Welch Memorial church in High Point for the Ninth District Rally. Rev. J. C. Madison, the District Chairman, had planned the program and presided. The devotions were conducted by Rev. Edward Suits, pastor of the Rankin Memorial church, however, I did not arrive in time for this part of the program. Dr. S. W. Taylor of Asheboro gave a fine address on, What the Methodist Protestant Church Has Meant To the World. Dr. P. E. Lindley, the dean of High Point College gave us another fine address on Gratitude for What We Are To Take Into the Union. It was my task to speak on How We Can Show Our Appreciation with special reference to our raising World Service budget in full. The attendance was good, there being representatives from almost if not all of the churches in the district. All pastors of the district except one were present.

Appointments

Sunday, January 15th, 11 a. m. Mebane.

Sunday, January 22nd, Mocksville charge, appointments to be announced by pastor.

J. E. Pritchard.

◆

The Piedmont Ministers will meet at Grace Church, Greensboro, Monday, January 16, at 10:30 o'clock. An attractive program is being arranged.

(J. E. C.)

◆

"The nation will have to choose between the motor car and the liquor traffic."—Henry Ford.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV — GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 12, 1939 — NUMBER 9

A Message in Verse

Every mason in the quarry,
Every builder on the shore;
Every woodsman in the forest,
Every boatman at the oar;
Sawing wood or drawing water,
Splitting stone or cleaving sod;
All the dusty ranks of labor
In the regiment of God.
March together toward His temple;
Do the work His hands prepare.
Faithful toil is holy service,
Honest work is praise and prayer.

Henery Van Dyke.

◆

Pastor J. M. Morgan reports a new parsonage for Greenville charge, with electric lights for both parsonage and church. Hurrah for Greenville.

The Third Annual North Carolina Convocation of the Churches is scheduled to be held next week, January 17-19, in the First Presbyterian Church, Durham. Among the leaders we note the names of Drs. H. E. Luccock, Roy A. Burkhart, John R. Cunningham, Gordon Poteat, Carl C. Rasmussen, Albert W. Palmer, and Bishops Purcell, Penick, and Pfohl. We presume a large number of our pastors will attend this convocation.

Hearing and Not Doing

You may recall the proposal of a certain preacher three or four years ago that we have a moratorium on peaching—that we closed all the chuches for a definite period like the banks were closed during the last panic. The proposal did not find enough favor with those who were accustomed to attend church services to try it. Of course, there were then and are now tens of thousands of people who rarely, if ever, hear a sermon. But what most of us know quite well is, there are many times more who hear sermons and who read the Bible but never do anything about it. And there must have been such in the days of our Lord for He said, "He that heareth these words of mine and doeth them not, I will liken him unto a man who built his house of the sand." However good a house it may be, it will fall—cannot stand the storms of life.

This practice is a self-destroying practice. They use their emotions for their entertainment or pleasure. Play with high ideals and deep emotions. They are connoisseurs of high passion but are sordid in their acts. Cry out their sympathy for the oppressed and needy, shout out their religious impulses and thereby allow their quickened desire to act die; fritter their convictions away in idle dreaming. They become emotion drunkards, and like the whiskey drunkard, in their sober moments they make many good resolutions and fair promises but are never gripped deeply enough by them to attempt to do them. It is not that they should be taught higher ideals, but that they should try to live upon higher levels. It is not that they are in deed of more knowledge through the ear and eye, they must have that knowledge through the heart and the hand. That they be doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving themselves.

The Privilege of Sharing

That part of Christian service which we often call the budget, or the apportionments and sometimes the assessments, does not seem to be very popular with some nominal Christians. The fact is, they think of it as a task imposed instead of an opportunity given to serve. No one enjoys having a task imposed upon them. Duties exacted of us by others are as a rule unhappily performed. The individual initiative appears cramped when we are assessed so much or told that we MUST do for certain causes; like paying taxes, observing fruitless forms and technical laws, and such.

But if those who give money to the religious causes and who give their time and energy to the extension of the Kingdom would feel towards all such that they are just sharing with others what others have shared with them, it surely would become more joyous to give and more pleasure to serve. Let him that hath of this world's good give to those who need and let those who have acquired skill in doing, who have time for doing, as they serve, let them do it with the consciousness that they are sharing that which was given them to share. As we often sing, "We give thee but thine own," as we make our offerings at Church.

The Days of Youth

As the human race grows older and tries out more of the so-called wise formulas of life, the thoughtful ones become aware of the places for both the aged and the youth to labor. There is certainly no endurance test proposed. It is recognized that the aged cannot live and labor like the young, nor should they require the young to live and act like the aged.

The aged worker who is wise gladly gives place to his younger worker, and the wise youth is equally aware that there is still some very definite work for the aged. The spirit of adventure finds its fullest expression in the days of our youth. The great pioneers like Capt. John Smith, Hannibal, and Columbus, did most, if not all their important pioneering in the days of young manhood. The great preacher-reformers like Calvin, Martin Luther and John Wesley startled the natives with their ideas in the days of their youth. The great musician like Mozart and Schubert were famous composers by the time they were thirty.

Youth has enthusiasm, vision, courage, optimism, and the powers of endurance of which age can rarely boast.

Once when Dr. Grenfeld had told of the hardships he had undergone in his varied labors in Labrador, he was greatly pitied by a good woman, to which he replied, "Madame, I am having the time of my life." While there was hardly a day that did not try his skill, his bodily strength and courage, yet he loved it. It was the spirit of youth in him.

The Church offers a varied field of service for the young men and young women. There are tasks for them which surely challenge the spirit of adventure which stirs them. The Church needs youth and the young need the Church. Just now in our emphasis of the work of the needs of our Board of Young People we are calling for fuller and larger enlistments of youth. We trust every pastor in our Conference will relay this call from the Headquarters of our denomination, and that there shall be scores of our young people who shall repeat the answer of young Isaiah in the temple long ago, "Here I am, Lord, send me."

YOUTH IN GRATITUDE

Young People's Day

Here comes again our "Young People's Day"—the last Sunday in January. Every year has seen a decided advance in observing it. Its history roots in Christian Endeavor Day but its meaning has been extended in many directions.

Now, it is a Good Day. Just as good as any other, and very much better than many. We ought to remember Father Clark and those magnificent times when the youth movement was getting into action. And when Christian Endeavor got going it surely started something. In a way it started the whole business of youth in action. We owe much to it. Many of us who are older can never forget what it did for us and to us.

And when we look at these magnificent Training Schools which dot the whole summer calendar and see what our young people today have come into,—well, in the first place, it makes us rather happy, even though we were denied these opportunities years ago; but we also remember that without those heart burning days that which we now have would not exist at all.

Well, let us show our gratitude, we young people. Let's put on a great youth program in the church. I am sure the cooperation of the whole church will be such as to give us the right of way. Secretary Gibbs has done another fine job in preparing the program and he will be happy to send out all that may be needed.

Always, on a day like this, there are the two objects to keep in mind:

1. "O come let us worship and bow down."
2. "Let us come with an offering."

May the good Lord bless the day through the entire church. And you who have gotten a bit older, join hands with your young people, help them to feel you really care.

Jas. H. Straughn.

This Is Life

When Ole Bull, famed violinist, was playing a concert in Paris, the A string on his violin snapped. He transposed the composition and finished it on three remaining strings. That is life—to have your A string snap and finish on three strings.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY

For ten years the Board of Christian Education through the department of Religious Education has prepared an excellent program for Young People's Day. We have sought by this method to inform the church of what is being done in providing opportunity for a better trained leadership among our youth and to assist the church in discovering the potential possibilities of their young people as well as to emphasize their place in the life and program of the local church. It affords them the opportunity of fostering one of the most vital departments of our denominational activities. Rev. Gibbs, Executive Secretary, of this part of the Board's work, has given special thought to the "Appreciation Year." Emphasis in arranging these excellent materials which give opportunity for recognition of the men and women who have given prominence both to the local church and denomination.

The Young People's Day program offers to every pastor materials by which he may make Young People's Day one of the really great days on the church calendar.

Use the program. Take the offering. By this you may assist your church to register as a 100 per cent church in the "Appreciation Year Program." It gives a splendid opportunity to assist in raising your budget in full through the offering on this occasion. Your church can profit by the information and inspiration of the program and your denomination needs the offering. May we have your cooperation by ordering programs and materials at once from Rev. F. L. Gibbs, 3267 W. Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.?

E. A. Sexsmith, President.

A SALARY MIXUP

I have heard all my life the expression, "Figures don't lie." It happens they do a lot of lying in the 1938 Conference Journal. But, I assure you, it wasn't intentional on anybody's part. And I am probably most to blame for it in that, when I read the proof, I did not detect it. But I was looking for errors in spelling and arithmetic; not misplacements of columns. For that is what has happened.

Two or three of the brethren have written me to correct the figures for salary promised, paid, and promised for 1938—that by the way, ought to be 1939. And one or two have corrected the matter in the Herald.

Here's what has happened: The headings of the second and third columns in Table IV have been reversed. If where it says, Paid Pastor, you will put Promised for 1939, and where it says, Promised for 1939, put Paid Pastor, it will be straightened out.

I had hoped to live long enough to get out a Journal that wouldn't have any errors in it. But, alas, I am about to come to the end of my secretarial life—and the Journal is still imperfect. "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, you who might not make such a mistake, restore such as one, considering thyself, lest thou also. . . ."

C. W. Bates, Secretary.

As a piece of literature, entirely apart from its supreme value as the sacred book of the Christian religion, the Bible holds a unique and remarkable position.—Amy Cruse.

CLASSROOM ECHOES

By P. E. Lindley

WHY PROFESSORS GET GRAY

All I ask of students is that they let me teach them. My business is to help others see and understand truth, and when this is going on I am happy. When young minds are willing to receive information it is a pleasure to present it. The intensity of the professor's delight, therefore, is measured by the degree of eagerness in those who sit before him. Great teaching goes on only among hungry minds, and intellectual appetite on the part of the students can inspire even the dullest instructors.

Fortunately for the dispenser of knowledge, such an ideal condition does occasionally exist. At times the subject-matter becomes so interesting, the atmosphere of the classroom so tense with attention, that the students themselves lose sight of the clock on the wall, and the teacher feels a mystic power possessing his own soul. Then he is really teaching! His mind is delighting itself in fatness. Such an elevated sense of victory can, I think, be appreciated only by those who have experienced it.

Doubtless it is, though, the same kind of joy that fills the soul of anyone who is succeeding in his chosen work. It is, for all I know, the identical thrill that accompanies the making of a million dollars. Or it may be compared with the triumphant shout of the warrior who has won the day. The composer who has framed a great symphony, or the artist admiring his own masterpiece may know something of the same reward. In each case it is a native, deep, original joy —a joy that can neither be bought nor sold.

So far, so good, but many things happen to reverse the picture. There is, for instance, the dull and ignorant student who cannot understand the lessons before him. But ignorance we can stand. Feeblemindedness in the pew is not the worst thing that can befall a classroom. Benjamin Franklin, you know, said that ignorance is no disgrace, but the disgrace lies in the willingness to stay that way. So simple ignorance can be tolerated.

Moreover, the student's opposition to what I teach can be endured. In fact an active rejection of a teacher's views even proves interesting. It stimulates him. You can't fly a kite unless the kind blows. Likewise the professor welcomes opposition; it gives him an opportunity to wrestle with truth and prove his point.

But the thing that kills the teacher is just plain, blank indifference. I can stand ignorance and opposition, but the vacant look, the listless mind, whitens my falling hair. If students could only say they didn't believe a word I was teaching, that would be refreshing. Or if they would only confess utter ignorance of the subject, that too might be a wholesome thing. But when they sit there as if nothing important is going to happen while I try with all my might to interest them in the logic of Plato or the eloquent flights Browning—that is living grief, a sort of foretaste of perpetual defeat.

Yes, I would rather the whole school take up intellectual arms against me than that one student should sleep on class! What hurts the teacher is not that the students do not know their lessons so much as the fact that they act like they are not worth knowing. The psychology in the case doubtless rests on the principle that the instructor's whole life is identified with what he teaches. Thus to ignore his teaching is to ignore him. To show no respect, not to say reverence, for his subject is to disrespect him.

But aside from this psychic law, there is another explanation, namely, that the teacher has discovered a profound truth and he longs for others to see that same truth. The truth is greater than any vehicle that carries it, and it is this truth the teacher champions. Knowledge that appears indispensable to the schoolmaster himself would, he is convinced, prove equally as precious to others if they would only receive it. In other words, he feels that those who slight his message rob themselves. What a pity, sighs he, that people will deliberately shut out the very light their souls so much need. He is there to give it to them and they desperately need it, and to have it cooly passed by is to blight his hopes of helping them.

Yes, it is the "I don't care for truth" attitude that silvers the professor's hair. But, as I said in the beginning, many there are who love to walk the ways of wisdom with the searcher after truth. These are my joy and crown.

◆

PETER SEES CHRIST'S GLORY

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, January 15

Lesson Text—Matthew 17:1-9, 14-18.

Golden Text—We beheld his glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father.—John 1:14.

Here again we find Peter receiving special attention from the Master. It has been literally just a week since he received those words of rebuke from Jesus for not minding the things of God, and it would almost seem that in his remarkable transfiguration Jesus was staging a definite project at this time to cause Peter with James and John to better heed them. This thrilling incident stands out as a very significant happening with Christ, for one of the most predominant facts of his earthly career was his almost utter submission to the flesh. Even with the hosts of heaven anxiously concerned with his earthly mission and having at his disposal the angelic legions of his Father Jesus depended almost entirely upon human agencies. However, on this mountain of prayer he does allow heavenly elements to intermingle with his efforts that he might take into his confidence these highly selected disciples. Of course Christ was going to finally be glorified after he had completed his task and then his life would be available as a mountain peak for the most lowly, but until then he needed these three lives as a spiritual unit to work with him—a sort of inner-circle.

With what we have already learned about the life and character of Peter it is not at all surprising to find him as one of this group. Christ saw elements of strength and courage in him very quickly—elements that were a bit scattered and that needed to be knitted closer together if he was to become spiritually strong. Peter possessed physical strength but Christ wanted to transform it into spiritual power, for it is here alone that the battles of Christ's kingdom can be won. In the long lines of Christian heroes who have displayed great strength and who have done great deeds there are to be found great throngs of those who have very little outward strength of which to boast. Through this strength that is made perfect in weakness they have moved great mountains for Christ. It was that transfigured moment on the Damascus road that changed Paul from a physical weakling to a spiritual giant whose marvelous success is on epoch of human struggle and achievement. We of the rationalistic age have grown too skeptical of the place and power of spiritual vision in the lives of men. Out of this skepticism there is growing among nations a strong cry that might makes right. Many today like Napoleon are trying to convince themselves and the world that God is merely on the side of him who has the largest battalions and they too are in for a sad awakening. History, both religious and secular, has over and over again proven that with even a single life responsive to a high vision God has won tremendous victories.

When John Wesley as an unimportant clergyman of the Church of England walked down from the mountain of his heart-warming experience at Aldersgate he was able to bring about a revolution in Europe—at least in England—that was as sweeping as that of the infamous French Revolution which was accomplished only by thousands of bloody hands.

"To blind old Milton's rayless orbs
A light divine is given
And deaf Beethoven hears the hymns
And harmonies of heaven."

Thus Peter, James, and John came down from the mountain with greater courage and power to take up the tasks of the valley. There they heard the Master saying to the powerless disciples below that the reason for their impotency was to be found in their lack of prayer and fasting. He said to Peter that he must leave the mountain top for the valley and to these others that they must leave the valley for the heights. In other words Christ is pleading that we balance up our lives —that we harness our visions to earthly tasks. He would have us exclaim with Peter:

"O Master, it is good to be
Entranced, enwrapt, alone with thee;
Till we, too, change from grace to grace,
Gazing on Thy transfigured face."

But then he would lead us immediately into the valley to sing with us the glow of that vision. Mountain tops are not made for habitation, they are not for the homes of men. Like the stream we should find our source there, but then we, like it, should find our way down the slopes to the valley and fields below.

◆

"Where will we find a sermon strong enough to restrain us in our scandalous, hoggish life, and to rescue us from this drink devil?—Martin Luther.

FROM "THE COTTER'S SATURDAY NIGHT"

The priest-like father reads the sacred page—
How Abram was the friend of God on high;
Or Moses bade eternal warfare wage
With Amalek's ungracious progeny;
Or how the royal bard did groaning lie
Beneath the stroke of heaven's avenging ire;
Or Job's pathetic plaint, and wailing cry;
Or rapt Isaiah's wild, seraphic fire;
Or other holy seers that tune the sacred lyre.

Perhaps the Christian volume is the theme—
How guiltless blood for guilty man was shed;
How He, who bore in heav'n the second name,
Had not on earth whereon to lay His head:
How His first followers and servants sped;
The precepts sage they wrote to many a land
How he, who lone on Patmas banished,
Saw in the sun a mighty angel stand,
And heard great Bab'lon's doom pronounced by Heav'n's command.

Then kneeling down to Heaven's Eternal King,
The saint, the father, and the husband prays:
Hope "springs exulting on triumphant wing,"
That thus they all shall meet in future days:
There ever bask in uncreated rays,
No more to sigh or shed the bitter tear,
Together hymning their Creator's praise,
In such society, yet still more dear,
While circling Time moves round in an eternal sphere.

Compar'd with this, how poor Religion's pride
In all the pomp of method and of art,
When men display to congregations wide
Devotion's ev'ry grace except the heart!
The Pow'r, incens'd, the pageant will desert,
The pompous strain, the sacerdotal stole;
But haply in some cottage far apart
May hear, well pleased, the language of the soul,
And in His book of life that inmates poor enroll.

—Robert Burns (1786).

◆

ALL CAME TO AN END

Those who suffer under the present depression should read the following:

There was a business depression in 1857 lasting 12 months.
There was a business depression in 1869 lasting 8 months.
There was a business depression in 1873 lasting 30 months.
There was a business depression in 1884 lasting 22 months.
There was a business depression in 1887 lasting 10 months.
There was a business depression in 1893 lasting 25 months.
There was a business depression in 1903 lasting 25 months.
There was a business depression in 1907 lasting nearly 12 months.
There was a business depression in 1914 lasting 8 months.
There was a business depression in 1921-22 lasting 14 months.

All of them came to an end except this one. It will, too. —Chicago Daily News.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

SELF-DEPENDENCE

By MATTHEW ARNOLD

There were three Matthew Arnolds: the militant Arnold of his prose, the apostle of culture; the genial, kindly Arnold of his letters; and the Arnold of his poetry, in his sadder, doubting mood. From his father, Thomas Arnold, for a number of years head-master of Rugby, a man, who, by the strength of his character and intellect, made an imprint on many of the important men of his day, his son learned the lesson of accepting nothing unquestioned; and in an age of confusion and controversy—

. . . "an iron age
Of doubts, disputes, distractions, fears"—

he struggled through many years to arrive at a clear understanding of the confusion and a satisfaction of his own indecision and doubts regarding the meaning of life and man's destiny in the world.

As he questioned the old accepted tenets of religion he found he was not in sympathy with many of them, yet he had not advanced into a broader, newer interpretation of the religious life. In Stanzas from the Grande Chartreuse, as he found himself

"Wandering between two worlds, one dead,
The other powerless to be born,"

he longed to find peace and rest from the doubts that assailed him in the quiet monasticism and withdrawal from active contact with the world, yet that was not his conviction in regard to man's usefulness. So in most of his poetry he cried again and again for release from his doubts, for a solution to the problems of life, as he did in the first stanza of this poem:

"Weary of myself, and sick of asking
What I am, and what I ought to be,
At this vessel's prow I stand, which bears me
Forwards, forwards, o'er the star-lit sea."

So he struggled through the years, a victim of honest doubt, the doubt of which Tennyson said:

"There lives more faith in honest doubt, Believe me, than in half the creeds," and it was only finally through the healing and ministering power of nature that he found the answer; the quiet work of two forces of nature that held for him the solution: that of the stars and the sea. Arnold's great love for these two elements is shown over and over in the allusions to them in his poetry. Through them he came to realize that a man finds the fulfillment of his destiny by the work which he must do; and that this work must be done, as Goethe said, "without haste, without rest"; it must be done, as Arnold himself said in his sonnet, Quiet Work, "two duties kept at one",

"Of toil unsever'd from tranquillity."

But nowhere does he come closer to the yearned-for answer than in Self-Dependence, a poem which is one of the finest sea-poems in our language, and includes lines which reach a high-water mark of lyrical purity and nobility of expression. One has said "There is no one among the English poets who so feels and expresses the question as to the meaning of life, the recreating charm of nature, and the power of classic beauty." No one who has read and known this poem can ever stand at night and look over a star-lit sea without feeling its mighty charm. The poem is not didactic. That it solved the problem of life for Arnold is inherent in its lines; that it may thus solve the same problem for another is only incidental.

"From the intense, clear, star-sown vault of heaven,
Over the lit sea's unquiet way,
In the rustling night-air came the answer:
'Wouldst thou be as these are? Live as they.' "

Arnold's acceptance of the performance of the destiny for which these elements were created, which is accomplished

"Unaffrighted by the silence round them, Undistracted by the sights they see"

calls for a self-poised soul pouring all its power into its own tasks, only in this way attaining the mighty life for which it is created.

The necessity for joy in the performance of duty in order for it to attain its noblest height finds its expression in two of the finest lyrical lines to be found in the poetry of any writer in any age:

"And with joy the stars perform their shining,
And the sea its long moon-silvered roll."

Nowhere else in all his search for a satisfying answer to all his questions did he come to a more conclusive and all-embracing answer, a serener self-command, than in the last stanza of this poem:

"O air-born voice! long since, severely clear,
A cry like thine in my own heart I hear:
'Resolve to be thyself; and know that he,
Who finds himself, loses his misery!' "

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY

In the North Carolina Conference

Being a member of the North Carolina Conference, I appreciate the way my Conference has responded to the program of Christian Education in the local church, etc. In a special way you have made Young People's Day a major event. It now ranks with your other major special days in both the number of churches participating and the amount of the offerings received.

This may be our last Young People's Day under the present auspices. Let's make it the best ever for the Old North State!

Place your order now if you have not done so.

F. L. GIBBS, 3269 W. Liberty Ave.,
Room 208, Pittsburgh, 16, Pa.

January 5, 1939.

"Temperance puts wood on the fire, meal in the barrel, flour in the bin, money in the purse, credit in the country, contentment in the house, clothes on the back, and vigor in the body."—Benjamin Franklin.

Our Children's Home

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	$ 1.61
Men's Bible class, First, Thomasville	14.17
Millgrove S. S.	2.62
Rehoboth, Granville	10.50
Pleasant Grove S. S.	17.00
Harmony S. S., Yarborough's	1.00
Forest Grove, Caldwell, Ohio	5.00
Friendship, Fallston	6.50
First church S. S., Burlington	35.00
Grace S. S., Greensboro	5.00
M. P. church, Aurora, Mo.	6.00
Patrick S. S., S. C.	2.27
Greenfield, Ind.	9.00
Clark's Chapel S. S., Weaverville	1.00
Bess Chapel S. S.	1.56
First church S. S., Lexington	5.00
Baraca class, Community church, clothing boy	5.00
Friendship S. S., Friendship-Love's Grove	6.00
State Street S. S., Lexington	4.35
Lincolnton	3.29
Concord S. S., Nov. and Dec.	40.00
First church S. S,, Winston-Salem	6.00
Mt. Pleasant S. S., Mt. Pleasant	6.00
Kannapolis S. S.	7.20
Mt. Moriah S. S., Cleveland	.56
Denton S. S.	5.00
Matthews Chapel S. S., Greensville	1.25
Level Cross S. S., Randleman	1.86
Worthville S. S., Randleman	15.30
Fairfield S. S., Guilford	4.25
Mt. Lebanon, Randleman	5.38
Liberty S. S., Davidson	1.00
Dunn's Chapel S. S., S. C.	5.00
Pleasant Hill S. S., and Birthday, Spring Church	12.00
Bethel S. S., Flat Rock	1.63
Sapling Ridge S. S.	2.00
Midway S. S., Haw River	2.58
Tabernacle S. S., Tabernacle, Dec.-Jan.	8.40
First church S. S., Charlotte	15.96
Whitakers S. S.	5.00
Kennedyville S. S., Maryland	7.00
Mt. Hermon S. S., Mt. Hermon	3.44
Macedonia, Seagrove-Love Joy	1.00
N. C. Branch, Woman's Auxiliary, by the Treasurer	75.73
A Friend	5.00
Glen Raven S. S.	7.16

A Few Christmas Offerings

Grace church, Greensboro	10.00
Ladies' Bible class, First church, Newark, N. J.	15.00
Sunday school class, Harrisville, W.Va.	4.00
Junior boys' class, Denton, White Gifts	2.00
Efland, Orange	5.60
Jennings Chapel S. S., Woodbine, Md.	5.00
Young men's class, Mebane, White Gifts	5.50
Union Grove, Orange	3.00
Shelton church, Camden, Ala.	2.30
Pleasantville, Ohio	1.50
Whitakers	5.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

Mr. Harry B. Finch, Community church, Thomasville, 200 lbs. sugar, 2 cartons of corn flakes, and 2 cartons of giant sized Octagon soap.

Level Cross, Randleman, an additional 14 half-gallon cans of fruit and vegetables. Also 7 cakes for school lunches.

Tabernacle Auxiliary, Tabernacle, 73 half-gallon cans of fruit and vegetables.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Lamb, Tabernacle, a splendid picture of Christ at 12 years of age for our chapel.

The Beginners' class, Denton S. S., White Gift packages containing pencils, tooth brushes, handkerchiefs, and tablets.

Primary class, Denton S. S., White Gift packages containing apples, oranges, socks, pencils, soap, handkerchiefs, tablets, and fillers for loose leaf binders.

Denton Auxiliary, five half-gallon cans of tomatoes.

Mrs. J. F. A. Thompson, Hillsboro, one quilt.

I am barely able to sit up this Monday morning to make out this report. So I'll say a hearty Thank You to all who helped to make it possible, and close. God bless every one of you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

◆

REV. AND MRS. G. F. MILLAWAY CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Millaway celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary December 20, 1938. Many of their friends from over the state remembered them with visits, gifts and beautiful cards.

Among the friends bringing nice gifts were:

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Andrews, Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Ashburn, Rev. T. F. McCulloch, Miss Pearle McCulloch, Miss Velna McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Summers, Mrs. Iris Andrews, and Bobby Andrews, Mrs. Ida Raybourne, Miss Nellie Raybourne, Mrs. Boyd Frazier, Mrs. Doskie Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Skenes, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Skenes, Mrs. J. A. Brewer, Mrs. Roy Cowman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Parr, Miss Flossie Jones, Miss Pearle Jones, and Little Frederick Jones, all of Greensboro.

Mr. W. L. Spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Rascoe, Mrs. Ida Lineberry, Miss Hettie Lineberry, Mr. Clemont Lineberry, and a gift from Mt. Pleasant church membership.

Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Redding, Mrs. J. M. Caviness, Mrs. W. C. Hammer, Mrs. Opal Giles, all of Asheboro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanner, Mr. and Mrs. Max Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garrett, of Julian.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Pritchard, Mrs. Nora Lee Andrews, of High Point.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mrs. Etta Foster, Miss Susie Stafford, Miss Ila Stafford, of Burlington.

Mr. W. M. Taylor, Miss Margaret Taylor, of Altamahaw.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hopkins, of Brown Summit.

Mr. and Mrs. Millaway also wish to thank their children for gifts and to thank Fairview church for a basket of fruit.

They are appreciative of every kindness shown.

◆

A nation is no better than the people who compose it.—Roger W. Babson.

Missionary Column

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

THE MINNIS FUND

How are we beginning 1939? Has our interest in the Minnis Fund materialized? Well, some have started off fine, and some have written me about their gift. Mrs. George W. Holmes sent in a substantial gift from the Bethel church Sunday school. Mrs. Bates sends in a fine check from their work, and the Ladies' Aid from Pleasant Grove church is sending a nice gift. I had the pleasure of attending this meeting and seeing the real pleasure these ladies got from contributing to the Minnis Fund. This was an interesting group of ladies, interested in the program of the church, and they were proving their interest by giving. After all, the greatest joy we have in life is the joy we get from serving. So let's serve in India with our money.

MRS. H. C. NICHOLSON.
Thomasville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1939.

◆

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$746.41
Grace	5.00
Mt. Lebanon, Randleman	5.00
Haw River Circuit, Mrs. Bates	11.50
Bethel, Alamance, Sunday school	14.15
Mrs. Bates, Haw River Circuit Aux.	3.01
Mrs. Bates, Friendship C. E.	19.83
Mrs. Bates, Friendship church	6.20
Mrs. Bates, Mizpah church	3.11
Mrs. Bates, Midway church	2.85
Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kittrell	20.00
Welch Memorial	1.00
Denton, Baraca class	5.00
Denton, Philathea class	5.00
Total amount collected on Minnis Salary	$848.06

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer
N. C. Branch Women's Work.

◆

THANK-OFFERING

Amount previously reported	$779.09
Siler City	4.61
Mt. Hermon, Mt. Hermon	6.35
Union Ridge	10.00
Harmony	3.50
Love's Grove, Friendship	5.60
Lexington, First	5.30
Haw River	1.00
West End, Greensboro	16.00
Bethel, Alamance	10.00
State Street, Lexington	5.85
Lawndale, Cleveland	7.00
Baltimore, W. F.	2.10
Total November Thank-Offering	$856.40

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer,
N. C. Branch Women's Work.
January 6, 1939.

◆

FEBRUARY THANK-OFFERING

Appeal for 100% Observance in the North Carolina Conference

"Giving for Gratitude in Appreciation Year" is the theme for our February thank-offering with accentuation on Missions. A new pageant, "A Parable of the Kingdom," a one-act religious drama on India, has been written, as has an appropriate worship service, and will be available around January 15th upon application to the undersigned, or to Miss Bettie Brittingham, 516 N. Charles street, Baltimore.

As has been previously stated, our thank-offering slogan in North Carolina is "Three G's—Gratitude, Give, Goal," the latter being $1,000 for the fall thank-offering, the same for February. The amount of the fall thank-offering amounted to $856, and we must make up the deficit during February. If each auxiliary and each church in which there is no auxiliary will observe thank-offering, we will not only reach our goal but will go far beyond it, and will be using this occasion as one in which we are responding to the call of our beloved church.

Remember, thank-offering money is credited on your local church World Service budget. The North Carolina Branch of Women's Work is calling on each church to rally during this Appreciation Year. Begin now and assist in our "Giving for Gratitude" program.

MRS. Wm. C. HAMMER,
Secretary Thank-Offering.

Asheboro, N. C.

◆

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HELPS

THIS CHURCH AND OUR DENOMINATION

Christian Endeavor Topic for January 29 (Young People's Day)

By REV. F. L. GIBBS

The Text: Ephesians 5:25-27.

WORSHIP PROGRAM

Prelude: Instrumental—familiar hymn tunes.

Call to Worship: O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving . . . for the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. O come, let us worship and bow: let us kneel before the Lord our Maker.

Hymn: "The Church's One Foundation."

Prayer: Followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Scripture: Ephesians 5:25-27.

Special Music: "The Church in the Wildwood."

Leader's Remarks: (See below)

Forum Discussion: "Why I Am Grateful for My Church."

Offertory: Young People's Day offering for World Service.

Hymn: "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," or "Faith of Our Fathers."

Mizpah Benediction.

To the Leader—A Gratitude Meeting

This is denominational Young People's Day. Youth in Our Church and other denominations this evening are thinking, talking, worshipping, and seeking to find the way in which they can be of more help in the life and work of their Church and the Cause the church represents in the world. The topic, "This Church and Our Denomination" is easily correlated with the Young People's Day, theme, "Youth in Gratitude." During our "Open Forum Discussion" we are expecting each one present to name and discuss at least one thing about the Church for which he is grateful. To give us a start one of our members will read an article prepared by a young Methodist Protestant and printed along with similiar articles in the Young People's Day material.

Why I Am Grateful for the Methodist Protestant Church

By Donald Barss

Today there are about 200,000 Methodist Protestants. As one of these I am deeply grateful to our forefathers for their Christian beliefs, their sacrificial efforts, their loyalty and unwavering faith. Upon such a foundation our present church is built.

I wish to express my gratitude that I have a share in the great Youth movement of such a Church.

The Board of Christian Education through the departments of Religious Education and Institutions furnish us with local church programs, summer camps, colleges and seminary. These opportunities for Christian training have had a great influence. Thousands of young people have been enrolled and graduated from our colleges and summer conferences, taking up the ministry or other fields of active service in the homeland or foreign field.

The value of the Sabbath School, the Christian Endeavor and Church services cannot be estimated. Through these services we are given new hope and courage to face the temptations in the world today.

We appreciate the ministers, our Sabbath School teachers, and other Methodist Protestant leaders for the part they have had in guiding us in our decisions for Christ and His Church.

No individuals, however, have had greater influence nor have been a greater help to me than my Methodist Protestant parents. To them I owe my loyalty to the Church and my faith in Christ. From earliest childhood the habit of church attendance was formed and later Christ became a reality in my life. The personal advice and counsel of my parents, with their encouragement have helped me over many difficulties and temptations. The Christian training in my home laid the foundation for my life's work. But it was in the Summer Conference School that I felt definitely called to the Christian work in which I am so deeply interested.

The Methodist Protestant Church has played an important part in the shaping of my life and career. With all reverence and respect I wish to voice my appreciation and gratitude for the Church with its various organizations, its leaders and its members, and to my parents and Christian friends.

To God who has given me these benefits and blessings, as an appreciation, I consecrate myself, to serve in a larger and fuller way in the New Methodist Church.

"Because I have been given much,
I, too, shall give;
Because of Thy great bounty, Lord,
Each day I live
I shall divide my gifts with Thee
With every brother that I see
Who has the need of help from me."

Some Facts Which Should Make One Grateful

Numerical Strength of My Church: Statistics for 1937 show that there were 2,101 churches with a membership of 198,780; Sunday Schools numbered 1,860 with pupils and officials totaling 203,283; Christian Endeavor Societies numbered 1,207 with 33,127 members. There are 25 Annual Conferences and 11 Mission Conferences in the United States. Our Church maintains Missionary work in India, China and Japan.

Some Achievements of My Church: Our Church maintains three four-year colleges; namely, Western Maryland; Adrian and High Point; a National Seminary at Westminster, Maryland and a Junior College in Texas. Our home missionary projects are: Children's Home at High Point, N. C.; Alvan Drew School at Pine Ridge, Kentucky, etc. There are 26 Conference Councils of Christian Education in our Church. These sponsor in cooperation with the Board of Christian Education Camps and Conferences annually for 3,000 students, and provides a program for the Christian Education of Children, Youth and Adults.

Special Notices About Young People's Day

This day begins Christian Endeavor Week. Materials for its observance may be ordered from: The Board of Christian Education, 3269 W. Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, 16, Pa. The materials are free. Christian Endeavorers are helping to make the observance of this day a great occasion in many local churches. The Dramatic Worship Service—"Shrines—Our Religious Heritage in Chancel Drama," is great for Youth groups to use, especially at this time when we are thinking of Our Church in relationship to Methodist Union. For materials for Christian Endeavor week, write to the International Society of Christian Endeavor, 41 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston, Mass. An attractive package of helpful suggestions may be had for 25 cents.

F. L. Gibbs.

Pittsburgh, Pa.
Dec. 23, 1938.

◆

FROM C. E. RIDGE, JR.

Dear Dr. Andrews:

My purpose in writing to you is two fold—first to tell you that we have been getting the Herald for two years now and look forward to each issue about as much as a letter from home.

Secondly, twin daughters, weighing 8 lbs. each were left us by Santa this year, arriving two days after Christmas. My father over at Shiloh is certainly a proud grandfather.

We have been living in Wytheville for two years now and like it very much here. Since there is no Methodist Protestant church in this vicinity, the M. E. church is our next choice and we enjoy worshiping with them.

My best wishes for a successful year with the Herald and with your work.

CHARLES E. RIDGE, JR.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, Rev. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—We were sorry our pastor could not be with us on his regular appointment Sunday but we were glad he could be with his friends and relatives in N. C. and hope he had a happy Christmas. He will preach if the Lord's willing the 5th Sunday in January.

An offering was taken Sunday for a beloved former member of this community who is greatly suffering. We pray for the Lord to lay His healing hand upon her and may she never stray from the side of the Saviour.

The ground improvement program is still continuing. Some of the shrubbery which was planted in the early spring died. Last week some of the members gathered at the church and reset the shrubbery. The Young Peoples Day Program will be given the 5th Sunday night in January. We are hoping to have a good program for this special day.

As the New Year approaches may we make a resolution that must not be broken. Serving the Lord with our whole hearts through the coming year.

MRS. HORTENSE SMITH, Reporter.

Pleasant Hill, Seagrove - Love Joy Charge.—Rev. J. H. Trolinger filled his regular appointment Sunday, January 1, with a large number present. He read for his scripture lesson the 23rd Psalm. He chose for his text Psalm 23:1, the subject being "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

The members and friends of the church gave Mr. and Mrs. Trolinger a pounding which was a great surprise to them.

Our Sunday school is starting the new year with a larger attendance than last year. We are looking forward to see our Sunday school grow more.

FLONA BROWN, Reporter.

College St., Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Well dear readers, here we all are again with our hearts filled with Christmas spirit.

We have so many things to be thankful for, that we are indeed happy.

Our pastor has filled his regular appointments, and we enjoy his wonderful messages.

He has been our helpful companion, in our work and he seems to be pleased with us.

Just before the Christmas holidays our Woman's Auxiliary served the Lions Club supper promptly at 6:30 o'clock.

On Tuesday night after Christmas day, an interesting program was given at 8 o'clock. The play was "Since Santa Claus Changed His Mind." The play was directed by Mrs. Curtis Porter, assisted by Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Tasker Williams and Miss Annie Perkinson. There was a large crowd present. Between the first and second scene, Rev. and Mrs. Broome's children sang a song, and Mr. Tommy Morris and Mrs. Bobby Newsom sang "Holy Night." After the program was over, the Christmas tree, followed. Members of the church and Sunday school, received their presents and all the children were given bags of fruit, candy and nuts.

The Auxiliary met at the home of our president, Mrs. Sallie Williams, at our last meeting. Mrs. Bud Perry had charge of the program for the evening. The meeting was opened with a song, "What a friend we have in Jesus." After which Mrs. Williams led in prayer. Then Mrs. Morris, Mrs. King, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Broome and Annie Perkinson took part in the scripture reading. Mrs. Perry read the meditation. Then the meeting was open for business discussion.

The discussion was ways and means of raising funds for the Auxiliary treasury. A supper was decided upon, after the business discussion. We all were served a delicious course of hot chocolate, with marshmallow, cakes and mint drops. We were then dismissed by Mrs. D. D. Broome. Our next meeting will meet at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. Broome.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely, even though the weather has been cold. We hope all the HERALD readers and others have a Merry Christmas and will have a happy New Year.

ANNIE PERKINSON, Reporter.

Granville Charge, J. P. Pegg, Pastor, Jan. 2, 1939.—The first quarterly conference on this charge was held a few days ago in the Rehoboth church. The attendance was good and the business transacted in a spirit of interest and cooperation.

The Parsonage Aid has added to the comfort and beauty of the parsonage by placing a new rug on the floor in the living-room. This is appreciated very much.

Mt. Carmel played Santa Claus to us just before Christmas. This was a real pounding. We rejoice in the good will and free spirit of the Carmel members. The gifts were useful and we thank each and all. Also the individual gifts from many friends in each of the churches were gratefully received.

The Rehoboth church was saddened a few weeks ago by the passing of Mrs. Sam Hunt. She was faithful unto the end. She was loved and esteemed by all who knew her. Our prayers go out to the bereaved family.

PASTOR.

Baltimore Church, West Forsyth Charge.—New year wishes to all the Herald readers. We have just finished another book in life's history. Are you satisfied with your past life? Do you desire a closer walk with our Lord? If so, let us put away the stained and blotted pages of our past life and turn over a new page and keep it as clean as possible all through the year 1939. Asking God to help us, may we set a goal and work as the Apostle Paul, so when we come to the end of our life's journey we may, with Paul, say, "I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

We welcome the return of our former pastor and family for another year. They have served so faithfully in the past year.

Rev. Sulon Ferree was with us Sunday morning to bring the new year's message. He read the 4th chapter of Philippians, placing special emphasis on the 8th verse. The note of joy recurs in the opening verses of this chapter. Paul was a prisoner in Rome when he writes, "Rejoice always." Conditions and circumstances mean little compared with the ground of rejoicing which Paul had in Christ. Paul's knowledge was vast, but he prizes most the knowledge gained through Christian experience.

We had a nice Christmas program on Christmas eve, which was enjoyed by all present. Although we didn't let Christmas pass without remembering our good pastor and wife with a nice pounding.

The first quarterly conference was held January 1 at 2:30 p.m. at our church, with a very good attendance.

The Lord's Supper was also observed at the morning service.

JOSEPHINE PHILLIPS, Reporter.

State Street, O. C. Loy, Pastor.—We are glad to report that Mr. Loy was able to fill his appointment Sunday morning, January 1. We were very much concerned over his recent illness and we hope for him a speedy recovery.

Our Christmas exercises were held December 24 in the dining room of the church. The children, ages from 4 to 11, were the principal characters. Christmas stories were told by Doris Fay Loy and Scottie Brandon. Carols were sung by the congregation. Recitations were given by Brice Sink and Adrian Neal, and a dialogue by several little folks was all in keeping with the Christmas season. A nice large tree was beautifully decorated and effectively lighted for the occasion, and every member of the church received a treat and presents were exchanged.

The church was well pleased over the sale of 100 blankets, a nice sum of money realized and used for a worthy cause.

We sincerely ask the prayers of all Christians in our work to make 1939 equally as good as 1938.

We invite all who read this letter to visit our church when in Lexington.

MRS. W. T. NEAL, Reporter.

Hope Church, Siler City Charge, A. M. Smith, Pastor.—Due to the illness of the writer, a report from our church has not appeared recently in the Herald. However, our church has been quite active and busy with the task of beginning a new church year as well as the new year.

First, we may mention our deep appreciation to the conference for sending to us Mr. Smith for another year. His loyal devotion in work and fellowship for the past two years has been an inspiration to each of us. We are earnestly hoping that this year we may accomplish, through the cooperation of every interested person, a number of the goals we are seeking.

The first Sunday appointment was filled by Mr. Smith, delivering an interesting message on the subject, "Impossible Tasks."

Christmas was observed by the rendering of a short program by the primary and junior classes. Each child did his or her part very well, and it was fully enjoyed by all. The senior class sang a selection of Christmas carols. Following this a treat was given to each member of the Sunday school.

At the beginning of the past quarter Mrs. D. T. Vestal and Mrs. W. H. Andrew offered a prize to the pupil in each of the primary and junior classes that had the most perfect attendance. This was won by Mary Jean Brewer, primary class, and Clarence Dunn, junior class. Each prize was a Biblical picture. The Sunday school offered prizes to each member of the class that had the highest number of perfect attendances. The primary class won, having perfect attendance eight Sundays.

The church remembered Mrs. R. R. Moore, who has been confined to her home by illness for some time, with an attractive basket of Christmas fruits and candies.

Clayton Blair, Sunday school superintendent, who suffered head injuries received from a fall Thursday, is now a patient at Chatham Hospital. Everyone hopes he will soon be better.

Lucy Jones is recuperating after several weeks of illness, followed by the removal of tonsils.

LUCY JONES, Reporter.

* * *

West End Church, Greensboro.—The pastor is beginning to find where the members live and to get the work of the new year started. Last Sunday the officers were installed, and Sunday night was held a most helpful service. It was Goal or Objective Night. The officers, superintendents of the departments, and teachers of the organized classes, the Christian Endeavor society, and others made statements of what their department, board, class or society had set for a goal this new year. The attendance was quite good and the participation very gratifying.

The pastor was surprised and pounded on Wednesday night before Christmas. A White Gift service was held by the school, and our Sunday night service of Christmas was devoted to carol singing, readings, piano solos, etc.

PASTOR.

* * *

Shady Grove Church, Connelly Springs Charge.—The union prayer meeting Saturday night, December 31, here at Shady Grove, was very good. People were present from eight churches and the majority stayed until after 12 o'clock. The next union meeting will be at Warlick's Baptist church Saturday, January 14. One soul was saved in the prayer meeting at Mr. Marler Wilson's Sunday evening.

Rev. Mr. Yokeley filled his regular appointment yesterday, and gave us a very inspiring message for the new year.

The Christmas pageant, "The Shepherd's Staff," was presented with a fine spirit. I would love to name the characters if it would not take too much space. Candle lighters were Bowman Seagle and Billie Aiken; David, Joyce Cordell; shepherds, Ralph Decker and Clarence Zimmerman; leader, Mrs. Gladys Causby; interpreting angel, Mrs. Joyce Cordell; announcing angel, Miss Ageline Fowler. There were five groups of pilgrims, as follows: first group, Mildred Zimmerman, Sadie Berry, Dorothy Ingle; second group, Virginia McNeely, Elizabeth Braswell, Betty Hice; third group, Ruby Watson, Connie Berry, Ethel Decker; fourth group, Gladys Ingle, Helen Decker, Thelma Berry; fifth group, Ruby Aiken, Theresa Watson, Pearl Barnes. Woman of India, Rena Mae Fowler; immigrant, Gladys Sutherland; slum child, Eloise Tomlinson; Mary, Edith Watson. Choir members were: Mrs. Maudie Berry, Mrs. Fulton Tomlinson, Ruth Tomlinson, Mary Tomlinson, Mae Tomlinson, J. C. Tomlinson, Mabel Townsend, Ray Zimmerman, Pauline Townsend, and Vella Watson.

We have very good interest in the C. E. Union and all other services.

MRS. RUTH AIKEN.

* * *

New Hope, Why Not Charge, Rev. C. H. Hill, Pastor, Jan. 3.—We were very pleased indeed that conference returned Brother Hill to us for another year, and we truly hope that this will be the greatest year in the history of the church; for we realize that there is much to be done.

A Christmas program and tree was held here on Thursday night before Christmas. Every member of the Sunday school received a treat, and several baskets of fruit were sent out to the people of the community who were unable to attend church.

Work is progressing nicely on the parsonage. The building is finished on the outside and part of the inside work done. Brother Hill expects to move in the spring, as Mrs. Hill is unable to move before then an account of ill health.

Our hearts were made sad the week before Christmas when death took from our midst one of our members, Mrs. Martha Trogdon, wife of Samuel Trogdon. Mrs. Trogdon had lived in this community for some 25 or 30 years, had been a member of this church for about five or six years, having moved her membership here from the Union M. E. church below Carthage. Her girlhood church, and where she requested to be buried. She is survived by her husband and 12 children, six sons and six daughters, and several grandchildren. A large number of friends and neighbors mourn her going, for we feel that in her passing a good woman is removed from our midst. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the entire family, and may her going draw them into the service of the Master she served so faithfully.

Now, as we enter into a new year of service for the Master, may we as a church be resolved to do more for the upbuilding of God's kingdom than ever before; and as individuals may be let our lights so shine that they may be seen of men, and that people may so live everywhere that they will be ready when the Master calls, is my prayer.

MRS. J. V., Reporter.

* * *

Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor, Jan. 2.—The work of the new conference year on Shiloh charge is off to a good start, and our people are planning and hoping to make this another good year for the church and the Kingdom.

The Thanksgiving offerings to our Children's Home were good, and all organizations in our churches seem to be starting the new year with renewed interest. Shiloh, Friendship, and Greer's gave a Christmas program and treat to the Sunday school, and the pastor and family were also remembered in this and other gifts, along with many Christmas greetings from our members and friends here and there. We did not attempt to answer them all, but we do want to assure all who remembered us that we do appreciate them a lot, and it all helped to make ours a very merry Christmas.

Now that the new year has dawned upon us we are beginning to settle down to some real work on the church and conference program. We held our first quarterly conference at Friendship Saturday, December 31, at 2 p.m. with all churches represented. The reports were encouraging and the spirit of courage and optimism was in evidence. The pastor's recommendation to accept all conference budgets in full and to raise World Service and Delegates' Expense to the Uniting Conference before April 30, was passed without a dissenting vote. Shiloh and Friendship have paid pastor's salary up to date, and some money has been paid in on budgets.

Sunday, January 1, was a good day for Shiloh church. The weather was ideal, so the Sunday school started the new year off with 287 present. The large congregation that remained for the worship service, with the presence and power of the Holy Spirit, made it a joy and a privilege to preach the Word unto them. In the evening Rev. J. W. Groce came over from High Point and spoke to the C. E. society and closed the day with a good message and a consecration service for our young people which seemed to be very fitting in starting the New Year.

In writing to the Herald we all write only the good news. Nobody wants to read bad news, so we don't say anything that sounds discouraging. But we all have our problems and our heartaches, and I think we ought to pray more for each other. "The fields are ripe unto the harvest." When we see so much indifference to the church, especially among the membership of the church, it is a chalenge to every ounce of strength, energy, and wisdom of every minister of the gospel to help usher in a new day in the church of Christ.

It seems to me that this is a most significant year in the history of our church, and we ask you to pray for us, that we may be able to meet all of our obligations ni keeping with the spirit and purpose of Appreciation Year.

PASTOR.

* * *

Concord, Rev. E. O. Peeler, Pastor, Jan. 2.—On Saturday night, December 24, we had our Christmas tree and treat for the Sunday school. The children gave a program and the trees looked very pretty. Our superintendent, Mr. Fred Sides, had charge of the tree, and he led the devotional. Mrs. Fred Sides had charge of the program. The children were very happy when Mr. Sides told them that Santa Claus was around. When Santa came in Mr. Sides called for Mr. Peeler to come to the front and that Santa wanted to see him, as he had got his letter. Then Mr. Sides presented to Mr. Peeler a beautiful watch from the Sunday school and church. That was just a small token of our appreciation of the love we have for Mr. Peeler.

On Sunday morning, Christmas day, our hearts were made so happy when we went in to preaching service and our organist, Mr. Willie Furr, began to play the chimes. We have been so anxious for the chimes, but we did not know when we would be able to buy them. You can just imagine how happy Mr. Peeler looken when he got up and said that he was so happy to present to the church for dedication the chimes given by the children of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sides in honor of them. Mr. Fred Sides, chairman of our board of stewards, accepted the chimes for the church.

At this service we were so happy to welcome into our church family Mrs. Louise Holland Ketner and Mr. Lane Harrington. Then Mr. Peeler gave us a beautiful message, using for his theme "The Song the Angels Sang."

Our Sunday night program was the best we have ever had, "Why the Chimes Rang." I know Mrs. Litaker worked very hard getting up this program, but it was well worth the work to see how everyone enjoyed it.

Yesterday, the first Sunday in the new year, we were happy to have a very large congregation for the worship service. The Lord's Supper was observed and I think the largest number took part in this service here in a long time. Mr. Peeler gave us another beautiful message, using for his theme "Facing the New Year." Then in our 5 o'clock service Sunday afternoon Mr. Peeler gave us his first of a series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer. We will use this the month of January.

We are so glad to know that Mr. Peeler's mother is improving some. Mrs. Edna Haupt spent the week in the hospital during Christmas. We hope Mrs. Haupt will soon be well and strong. She is in a very nervous condition. Our hearts go out in sympathy to Mrs. James Rimmer. Death claimed her sister, Mrs. Lula Penninger, Saturday night.

BERTHA EARNHARDT, Reporter.

* * *

First M. P. Church, Danville, Va., Rev. G. L. Reynolds, Pastor.—With resolutions made, resolutions kept, and resolutions broken during the new year, let us all do our best to hold to the one made in church last Sunday night—of being better, more useful workers for Christ this year than we were in 1938. Our pastor brought a fine sermon to us at the new year's evening service, and if we will take his advice in using each day as it comes and living a day at a time, we can accomplish more than we can trying to do great works. Let us start this day attending services regularly, giving utmost cooperation, and doing the best we can, small as it may seem, to make each day a happier one for someone else.

Sunday night, December 25, the Christian Endeavor society presented a pageant, "The Enchanted Candle," composed of over 20 characters. We enjoyed having so many visitors present, and the Endeavorers appreciate the cooperation of the Sunday school and church members in helping to make this service a success. At that time a Christmas love offering was taken to catch up a few back debts of the church, and $48 was received and several pledges. We also appreciate the sacrifices made in order to give this money to the church.

The first quarterly conference was held last Wednesday night at the church. Circle No. 1 of the Ladies' Auxiliary are meeting with Miss Ora Whisenant Monday night. Although this group is very small in number, they have been very active during the past year. They were very helpful in getting our pastor's rooms fixed up for comfortable living, and in purchasing and putting up curtains.

Several of our members have been ill during the holidays and we certainly have missed having their presence at the Sunday school and church services. Miss Lucille Kendrick has returned from the hospital, and we were so happy to see her seat filled again at church. We are asking the prayers of everyone that Mrs. Charlie Hubbard, who is critically ill at Memorial Hospital, will soon recuperate and be with us again. Lest we forget, let us thank God for the good health you and I have enjoyed during 1938.

Mr. Mahlon Elliott, one of our very active Christian Endeavor and church workers, has entered law school in Kentucky. We miss him already from our services, and also Mrs. Georgia Turner, who has moved to South Carolina. We wish them both the best of success, and that God's guiding hand may go with them wherever they go.

We, the church as a whole, wish to thank Bessie (Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wells' cook) for returning and allowing Mr. and Mrs. Wells to come back to Sunday school. We think it an excellent new year's start for Bessie, a fine start for Mrs. Wells, a swell start for Mr. Wells, a splendid start for Faye, and a happy new year's day for the Sunday school to see them back again.

May we all welcome the new year of 1939 with a determination to accomplish more for Christ through love, patience, tolerance, faith, work, and a broader understanding of our fellowman.

ELEANOR TANNER, Reporter.

* * *

Roberta Charge, Rev. H. W. Bell, Pastor.—Our church is progressing nicely under the leadership of our new pastor; everyone is wide awake and on the go in a spiritual way. We have services every Sunday morning: Sunday school at 9:45, preaching at 11 o'clock, and at 6:30 Sunday evening prayer service. They are well attended.

A very serious accident happened Friday evening, killing Mr. Baxter Garmon. A car turned over, killing him instantly. He leaves a wife and six children to mourn their loss. May they look to God for comfort, for he is the only one that can fill their every need.

MRS. CARL WILLIAMS, Reporter.

* * *

Yarborough's Chapel, Rev. T. H. Vickery, Pastor.—Although it has been quite a while since there has been a report from Cross Anchor, we are still alive, and seem to be going forward nicely. Our Sunday school is increasing from Sunday to Sunday, and we hope it will continue to do so.

Much interest is being shown in our church work. Our pastor filled his regular appointment the fourth Sunday in December and brought a wonderful message. Communion was observed.

We have organized a Methodist young people's meeting at the M. E. and M. P. churches in Cross Anchor. We have it each first and 3rd Sunday night at the M. E. church and each second and fourth Sunday nights at Yarborough's Chapel. Each church is showing great interest in it, also some of our Baptist friends attend. We ask for the prayers of you good people for our success in this great work we are trying to carry on.

Everything possible is being done to make this one of our greatest and most successful years in history, but we feel that we can accomplish much more if you Christian people will help support us with your prayers.

LUCILLE GOSSETT, Reporter.

* * *

Flag Springs Church, Why Not Charge, Rev. C. H. Hill, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday, January 1, 1939, at 2:30 p.m. He brought us a very helpful message. The sermon was enjoyed by all present.

Our Sunday school attendance and interest are good.

We hope for the sick in the community a speedy recovery.

REPORTER.

* * *

Mill Grove Church, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—We are in the new year 1939. We had a good start Sunday with a most excellent sermon by the pastor, after which Communion was observed. At 6:30 our first quarterly conference was held. We had a fine talk by Brother Cook on our General Conference budget program, explaining the situation of the conference when the churches unite this spring. We can very readily see what we ought to do as our part toward making our church in A No. 1 shape. We hope to be able to be in better shape spiritually as we will have more people to be helping.

Our Sunday school is doing nicely now. The attendance is above a year ago. Mr. O. B. Furr is planning to take the children to the singing convention the fifth Sunday to have them sing. We think that will be very nice and also helpful to the children.

We are starting a Bible study course here Wednesday night, the 11th. We hope to have a good attendance.

We have some sickness here now; hope they may all soon recover.

CHAS. W. MISENHEIMER, Reporter.

* * *

Hawkins Chapel, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor, Jan. 8.—Our Christmas tree and program were given Christmas day evening at 7:30. Leader, Mrs. Baldy Green; assistant, Mrs. Phillip Hawkins, Mrs. Willie Grey Mitchell and Miss Eunice Green; and Brother Broome also had a part in it.

The first Sunday evening Brother Broome read part of St. John third chapter, his subject "Regeneration." Second Sunday morning he again brought us an inspiring sermon on the subject, "A Christian." At this service Mrs. Willie Grey Mitchell and Miss Lillian Hawkins sang a beautiful duet.

Our Sunday school is getting along as well as usual. After Sunday school the first Sunday Mr. C. F. Hawkins, our class leader, held prayer service. He asked Mrs. Claude Hawkins to hold it the third Sunday.

Fourth Sunday Mrs. Claude Hawkins awarded one of her pupils, Miss Lillian Hawkins, a five year's diary for having the highest percentage of the past six months and learning "The Apostles' Creed," "The Lords Prayer," "The Ten Commandments," "The Beatitudes," "Psalm 1," "Psalm 23," and "Books of the New Testament."

We are planning to start our Sunday school rooms in the near future.

Rev. and Mrs. Broome and family were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hawkins Sunday.

Mr. Frank Pearce and Miss Maggie Hawkins were married December 3 at Emporia, Va. They are making their home near Halifax. We will greatly miss Maggie in our church and community.

We are sorry Mrs. C. F. Porter is in the Roanoke Rapids hospital; also sorry to note Mrs. Squire Cullom is ill at present.

MRS. CLAUDE HAWKINS, Reporter.

◆

Rankin Memorial, Edward Suits, Pastor.—This is our fifth year on this charge. During the four years just past the building program has taken much of the pastor's time and energy. The building program is not yet complete. We hope to finish up our Sunday school rooms this year. The year is starting off fine. Finances are considerable ahead of what they were at this date last year. The attendance at the preaching services is as good, if not better than it has been since we have been in the present building. At the 11 o'clock hour yesterday we administered the Lord's Supper with the largest number communing since I have been pastor. We think all of these things are encouraging.

We were glad to have Mrs. E. L. Varner join with us Sunday. She is the daughter of Rev. Mr. Routh, who was pastor in our conference for a number of years.

Since the beginnig of the year we have received many tokens of kindness from the good people of this charge. On Wednesday evening before Christmas, at the close of the Christmas program, we were treated to an old fashioned pounding. In this pounding we received an abundance of everything that a preacher is likely to use for the table. Then on the first Monday evening of the new year, at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Suits received a beautiful linen shower. All of these tokens of appreciation are very valuable and useful. Every one who has taken a part in this have our sincere thanks. It is not merely the value of the presents but the spirit which prompted the givers. May God's richest blessings rest upon each one.

EDWARD SUITS.

◆

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, Rev. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—We were indeed glad to have our good pastor back with us Sunday after being away for Christmas holidays. He brought two very inspiring messages Sunday, making us feel more humble and unworthy of what we have. May we see the situations and conditions of the world today and try our best for our good Master for the coming new year.

We were indeed glad to have 118 present in Sunday school. We had several visitors with us. We welcome them back each Sunday.

A recent marriage of much interest to this community was that of Miss Hortense Foster and Mr. Hobart Smith. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Foster. She is a very faithful member of the Willing Workers class and is now the teacher of the boys' intermediate Sunday school class. She is also one of our church reporters. She is a graduate of Reidsville high school. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Smith and is a graduate of Duncan high school. We wish them much happiness, and may God's richest blessings be with them through life together.

We were glad to see Mrs. W. M. Compton back at church Sunday after being confined to her bed for several weeks.

The Willing Workers class held their regular monthly meeting January 3 at the home of Mrs. Eddie Waddell. Plans and discussions were made and they decided to start a contest the third Sunday in this month. Miss Lillian Compton and Mrs. John McClimon were chosen for the leaders. The teacher of the class presented a nice poster to the class which showed how the contest would be carried out. Each side chose the members, having equal on each side. Either side having all present counts 3 stars, a new member 2 stars, and a visitor 1 star. They started this contest to interest the members of the class, and that they might work harder in helping others.

A shower was given for Mrs. Hobart Smith at the class meeting. She received lots of useful gifts. Mrs. Waddell served refreshments and each one reported a very nice time.

We regret to report H. R. McClimon being ill at this writing. He has been confined to his bed with the flu ever since before Christmas. Our sincere wish is for him and all others that are sick, that they may have a speedy recuperation.

The regular prayer meeting is still held every Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

MRS. J. D. McCLIMON, Reporter.

◆

Friendship Church, Albemarle, Rev. E. A. Cook, Pastor, Jan. 9, 1939.—New Year greetings to every one. This comes from the Ladies' Auxiliary No. 1, of which Mrs. J. A. Herlocker is the efficient president. So far this year we have had very helpful meetings with a splendid attendance. We have finished paying for two nice heatrolas for our church, which gives everyone a warm welcome. We have several projects in view which we hope to finish in the near future. We have recently installed a telephone in the parsonage, which adds much to the convenience of our pastor in getting messages. The Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. D. W. Sides Friday evening, January 20, at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

◆

Friendship Church, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor, Jan. 8.—For our service, our pastor read the 14th chapter of Exodus. Then he emphasized that wrong cannot win, the criminal will be brought to justice, righteousness will prevail, and right will triumph. If the world is confused, then the church and prayer is the hope of the world. He concluded by quoting Poling, "God helping me in my whole life, everywhere, I will be Christian."

The Rally for the 11th District will be held at Gray's Chapel the fifth Sunday. A full attendance is desired.

Last Sunday the following Sunday school teachers were elected for the coming year: Lelia Byerly, Mrs. Zeb Snider, Mrs. W. M. Byerly, Ida B. Holt, Henry Hartley, Mrs. Lonnie Shoaf, Mrs. D. K. Miller, Mrs. Leo Phillips, and May Shoaf. Our Sunday school seems to be doing well, but there is much work to be done and much praying to do. We were glad to have Mrs. MacMahan and her attractive twin girls with us. We have so many sweet babies who are brought to church of whom we are very proud.

Going back to college last week were Ona Virgil Byerly to State college, and Robert and Lawrence Holt to High Point college.

Miss Juanita Phillips spent the Christmas holidays with her aunt in Harrisburg.

We have already started on our budgets and feel that we can get them all met by April, the Lord helping us in our new year's resolutions.

We were glad to have Mr. Bob Sink, our circuit Sunday school superintendent to open Sunday school for us last Sunday.

IDA B. HOLT.

◆

Bethesda, N. Davidson, O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Our Sunday school seems to be improving each Sunday, we are glad to report. Let us hope and pray that it will continue.

Our pastor meets with us each second and fourth Sunday with very helpful messages. The young people gave a very interesting Christmas program, "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," also speeches by smaller children. Treat and a present was given each member of the Sunday school.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. S. R. Wagner with Mrs. Numa Leonard and Mrs. Williard Whitlow joint hostesses for their Christmas program. A very interesting program was given. A large crowd was present. At the close of the meeting a gift from the lovely Christmas tree was given all present. Delicious refreshments were served. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Enzer Latham. There will be a fellowship meeting at the church this week to make plans for the betterment of our work for the new year.

MRS. J. O. EVERHART.

◆

China Grove, N. C.—We hope everybody had a nice Christmas and enjoyed the holidays as much as we did. Our Christmas program was given on Christmas eve; it was directed by Brother A. N. Herring. We regret that our pastor and his family could not be with us at that time. Seventeen Christmas bags were delivered to needy children of our community, and our offering to the Children's Home was $3.00.

Our Sunday school is still going along nicely and our congregations at our regular preaching services are increasing.

We wish for you all a happy new year. Pray for us that we as a whole may go onward and upward, serving our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

REPORTER.

◆

Canaan, N. Davidson Charge, O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Well, we still seem to feel the spirit of better things ahead here at Canaan. The Sunday school is rapidly growing. The young folks are taking greater interest in the work of the church, and what it means to them, which brings the average up considerably.

Rev. Mr. Williams filled his appointment here the first Sunday morning, bringing to us a very interesting message. We sure have fallen in love with him and his kind wife. They come into our homes and act as though they are one of the family, which suits the people in this community. They have met with us in our Ladies' Aid twice.

We sure appreciated having them with us. He has given us very interesting talks at each meeting. This helps us out in our plans.

The Ladies' Aid is giving a hot supper February 11th. Hope to have a large crowd. We cordially invite everybody, especially those of the North Davidson charge.

Just a word about the parsonage. It has been furnished with a few more things which have been needed for some time, but on account of insufficient finances it has lingered along until now. The charge as a whole has been very faithful in seeing that those things have been placed in the parsonage. This shows good will toward the comfort and benefits of those who come our way.

I would like to say here that we are blessed with usual health; we haven't had much sickness in the community so far this year. Hope this will continue.

May God's richest blessing fall upon you, is my prayer.

MRS. CARL W. CLODFELTER.

◆

Concord, Saxapahaw Charge, Rev. M. C. Henderson, Pastor.—Here is wishing all the good readers of the Herald a happy new year.

Work at this church is moving on very nicely. We have been having good crowds at Sunday school and church services. Our pastor has met all his regular appointments with us and has delighted the people.

The prize for the best attendance by the classes in the Sunday school last month was won by the beginners department. For this month a banner is to be awarded for the best attendance.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Friday night, January 13, with Mrs. Neal Hargrove.

The friends of Mr. T. H. Moore gathered at his home Sunday and gave him a birthday dinner honoring his 85th milestone. He is the oldest member this church has.

The church is buying new song books which we hope will help out in having better music at our services.

The people of the community are planning to meet at the church Monday of this week and cut some wood and do some needed work.

BESSIE COBLE, Reporter.

◆

Center, Alamance Circuit, Geo. R. Brown, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his first appointment at Center Sunday, December 11, 1938, with a very inspiring message.

Our first quarterly conference was held at Center Saturday, December 17, with all churches represented, and business was transacted harmoniously.

Our Sunday school gave a very interesting and impressive program on Saturday night, December 24. Members exchanged gifts and a treat was presented to all present. The young people's class followed their usual custom of sending well filled baskets of fruit to the sick and oldest members of our church and community.

Mesdames Archie and Harold Braxton were hostesses to our anxiuiary meeting in January. Our budget is paid to date and we plan to have a bazaar at our next meeting, which will be held with Mrs. Jasper Braxton and Mrs. Guy Braxton as hostesses, Saturday night, February 4.

Dr. Brown gave us a splendid sermon January 8 from Acts 12:5, after which the Lord's Supper was observed for the first time this year. Mrs. Brown spoke briefly of the women's work and urged us all to attend the meeting to be held in Lexington Thursday, January 12.

We were glad to have some of our members from a distance worship with us the first appointment of the year, Professor and Mrs. Paul Braxton of Siler City, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson. We are always glad to have people from other churches come and worship with us.

MRS. C. C. RICHARDSON, Reporter.

◆

Matthews Chapel, Greensville Charge, J. M. Morgan, Pastor.—Our Sunday school is moving along nicely during this cold weather, and there is much interest being shown in our church work.

Our quarterly meeting was held on Sunday afternoon, December 18, at Wesley's Chapel church. Plans were made to meet at the parsonage Monday afternoon, January 2, at 2 o'clock for the purpose of completing plans for the building of a new parsonage.

Sunday night, December 25, a beautiful pageant, "The Story Beautiful," was given by the young people. The stage setting represented the Babe in the manger, with Doris Taylor as Mary. After a good-night prayer by the junior class the gifts were given out.

Mr. Morgan filled his regular appointment with us Sunday afternoon, January 1, at 2:30 o'clock. It was a splendid sermon, enjoyed by all who heard it. He mentioned the fact that we should be more considerate of others. His next appointment will be Sunday morning, January 15, at 11 o'clock. We invite you to come and worship with us.

The Christian Endeavor will meet Sunday night, January 8, at 7:30 o'clock, with Carolyn Taylor as leader. The topic for discussion will be "Why Have a Conscience About Liquor?" Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

CAROLYN TAYLOR, Reporter.

◆

Graham.—The members of the Graham church received us very graciously on our return from Annual Conference. Since then quite a number of kind expressions have been uttered, for which we are grateful. Too, several gifts at Thanksgiving and Christmas have added materially to our comfort, or otherwise, to too much demand for eating. But all of these kindnesses are calculated to cause us to reciprocate by giving them our very best service during the coming year.

Soon after the returning arrangement was made to hold a union Thanksgiving service with the Methodist Episcopal church. The attendance was good; however, the outstanding feature was the offering presented for the Children's Home. Our folk are loyal in their support of this institution.

The first quarterly conference, though not largely attended, took forward looking steps for the ensuing year. Certain committees were named by which special interests would be handled for the year. It is our hope that those appointed will make wise suggestions which will adequately provide for the needs. Special emphasis was laid upon the fact of the Appreciation Year enterprises.

With the approach of the Christmas season a service of carols and the dramatization of "Why the Chimes Rang" with the white gifts was presented on Sunday before Christmas. The program was excellently rendered and the service made a deep impression upon the people. Again, a fine gift for the Childrens Home was received. On Friday evening before Christmas a children's program and tree, with gifts for the children of the Sunday school, was given. This was an occasion of rejoicing to those in attendance. Several groups and classes of the church and Sunday school entered into the spirit of the season by distributing baskets to needy families. This act has become habitual with many of our people here.

The new year has been ushered in with increased attendance at church services. A splendid congregation assembled for the morning worship last Sunday. The evening service was in the nature of a union service, consisting of all the churches of Graham. The service was held at the Presbyterian church with the pastor of the M. P. church as the leader. It was the concluding service of the Week of Prayer as outlined by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. For the second time, the first week of the new year, the churches of Graham have followed this nation-wide suggestion of prayer for reconciliation. The interest was good.

At the present time several of our members are very ill. Slight improvement has been made in some cases. Our fervent prayers and earnest sympathies are offered in their behalf.

H. FREO SURRATT.

◆

First M. P. Church, Albemarle, C. G. Isley, Pastor.—This is my first report of the new conference year, the fourth year of my pastorate here. The work of the church has had a good beginning in general interest as is manifested by attendance at the church services, and by the success of the various branches of the church organization. The Sunday school under the supervision of W. M. Lowder and J. R. Johnston, assistant, has had a steady growth and is in good condition. There is a live interest in the Brotherhood of about 50 men which meets monthly. The Ladies' Auxiliary is kept constantly busy in the work of raising funds needed in the various causes toward which their organization contributes. The church has paid recently another thousand dollars on the debt of the church.

ITCHY SKIN
Get quick, prolonged relief with gentle Resinol. Its oily base soothes.
RESINOL
MAKES YOU COMFORTABLE

Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE

Since conference we have had the pleasure of receiving two new members into the church: Mrs. William Cheek, from Centenary Methodist church, Winston-Salem, and Mr. Alonzo McSwain, from Jenkins Memorial Methodist church, Raleigh.

Recently Mr. D. J. (Jap) Hatley presented the writer with a fine overcoat, which is greatly appreciated. Mr. Hatley always keeps his pastor and his needs in mind. We have received, also, many other gifts of fresh meats and other valuable articles of food, as well as shirts, ties, etc. To all those who have thus remembered us we extend our heartfelt thanks.

The children of the church rendered an excellent Christmas program Saturday night which was largely attended. Sunday night the choir under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Johnston presented a special program.

I see no reason why this should not be one of the best years in the work of this church, as well as that of the Pine Bluff and Porter churches, where good progress is being made.

C. G. ISLEY.

◆

Grace Church, Greensboro, J. Elwood Carroll, Pastor.—The two outstanding events here since our last report consist in the "pounding" of the pastor and the Christmas programs.

The Grace choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Morrissett, gave a beautiful musical program on Sunday afternoon, December 18, at 5 o'clock. The church was beautifully decorated and the attendance was large. Following the processional hymn of "O Come All Ye Faithful," various combinations of solos, duets, trios, quartets, and choruses of seasonal music were rendered. The chancel was beautifully decorated with pines and the light was from candles on the altar and in trios in the windows. Many attending said that the service was all that could be desired in beautiful Christmas music and worship.

The church school had a Christmas tree and White Gift service for the Children's Home on Wednesday evening, December 21. The attendance was large. The smaller children were provided a treat by the school, and most of the adult classes had gift exchange among their members. The offering for the Home was good. The program was under the direction of Superintendent Scarboro.

On Wednesday evening, December 14, the members of Grace church gave Pastor Carroll and family a real pounding. Prayer meeting was proving quite a surprise by an overflow attendance, but not until the pastor returned to his home next door did he get the real surprise—the presence of a large percentage of the congregation and a small truck load of food. Three-year-old Betty Ann Carrol asked, "Mommy is this a store?" Only two or three names were included, therefore Pastor Carrol is compelled to issue a general "Thank you."

John R. Dickey's Old Reliable
Eye Wash
Used 65 Years
Soothes, relieves and gives comfort to irritated eyes.
Genuine in red box
25c and 50c sizes. Ask your druggist for new large size with dropper.
Dickey Drug Co., Bristol, Va.

Among our members we are glad to note that Ernest W. Teague is rapidly improving from an operation at Piedmont hospital. Mrs. Frank Lamb is about well from injuries received in an auto accident in November. Mrs. E. B. Huffines has recovered from flu. Frank Hutton is out after an illness and his wife is sitting up after two months in bed. Mrs. J. M. Stone is improving. Little Leslie Bird is getting along nicely after a few sick spells about Christmas time. Mrs. A. H. Johnson and Mrs. J. E. Deviney are much improved.

We regret the removal from the city of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fox and son, who are making their home in Charlotte, and Miss Alma Sharpe, who is now living in Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Tate have just moved into their new home on Walker avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Hall have moved into their new home on South Elm street extension.

In recent weeks Grace members seem to be moving about. During Christmas week Pastor Carroll, Mrs. Carroll, their niece, Carroll Jones, and Audree Faye Dodson took a trailer trip through Florida. While there they visited Miss Charlie Hunter in St. Petersburg, and Mr., Mrs. and Swanson Poer in Ft. Myers, Grace members now living in Thomasville. Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Stout and son, Henry, went last week to visit their aunt, Miss Hunter. Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hornaday went as far as Jacksonville with the Stouts. Miss Hulda Booth spent Christmas in Waycross, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Dean F. Snyder visited in Kansas and Missouri during Christmas.

We were glad to have Dr. P. E. Lindley, dean of High Point College, fill our pulpit on New Year's Sunday in the absence of our pastor. Dr. Lindley brought us an excellent message on "The Indwelling Christ."

◆

Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge, Joel B. Tregdon, Pastor.—Our pastor was with us yesterday and brought us a very inspiring message, as usual.

The work at this church seems to be moving along splendidly, and the Sunday school attendance is holding up well. A committee has been appointed to raise our part of the World Service budget, and we expect to raise it in full.

Our Sunday school is planning on observing Young People's Day January 22 with the junior class in charge.

Our church is looking forward to a great year. We are hoping by God's help it will be the best year we have had. We desire the prayers of all Christians that we may stay in the center of God's will.

REPORTER.

◆

Rockingham Charge, R. L. Vickery, Pastor.—Another Christmas has come and gone and now another new year is before us. I hope that we will all resolve to attend church services more regularly, pray more, and study our Bibles more than we have ever done before. We may then look for greater success in our work for our Master.

We enjoyed a beautiful Christmas program at our church on Saturday night, December 24. The young people all did splendidly.

We were glad to welcome visitors with us during Christmas. Our former pastor, Rev. H. W. Bell, and wife were here, and Mr. Bell led prayer service on Tuesday night at Mr. John Phillips' home. A wonderful service was reported. Another visitor was Rev. Thurman Vickery, son of our present pastor. He is a fine young man and an excellent speaker. Mr. Vickery is also a member of the South Carolina conference. We hope both Mr. Bell and Mr. Vickery can be with us again soon.

Our Sunday school attendance was fine last Sunday. The mid-week prayer service, the C. E. society and the Ladies' Aid are doing fine. We want to see our attendance increase, nevertheless.

We sincerely desire the prayers of the churches for us that we may serve the Lord in a more perfect way. We assure you that you will be remembered in our prayers likewise.

MRS. EUGENE BULLARD, Reporter.

◆

Bethel Church, Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor.—We have not sent in a report for some time, although we have been active.

We recently built three new Sunday school rooms, giving us a room for each class. Our Sunday school enrollment is 140, our regular average attendance being about 120.

Our first quarterly conference met at our church Sunday, December 18. We had the pleasure of having Dr. Taylor to talk on Methodist Union.

We had our Christmas tree at the church Christmas morning. Several songs were sung by the junior classes. All the junior and intermediate classes were treated by the Sunday school. We gave our pastor and his wife a fruit shower on Sunday before Christmas.

Yesterday, New Year's day, we heard a fine sermon from our pastor, his text being taken from one of Paul's letters to the Thessalonians, which was very appropriate for New Year, "But this one thing I do: forgetting the things which are behind, and reaching out to the things which are before. I press onward to the mark which is the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

The church was filled and the sermon was enjoyed by all.

We had a change in pastors this year and everyone seems very much pleased with Mr. Isley.

MRS. PORTER ANDERSON, Reporter.

◆

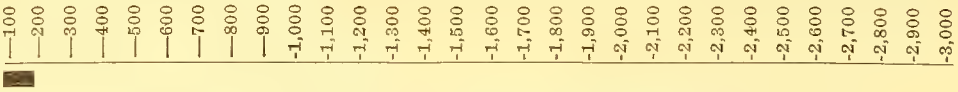
She: "Sometimes you seem so manly and other times absurdly effeminate. Why is it?"

He: "Heredity. You see, half of my ancestors were men and the other half were women."—Ex.

Church and Sunday School
Furniture
Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"
Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.
MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder
and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	7½	....
Albemarle	20	....	....
Anderson	32	½	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	2	..
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	2¾	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	17½	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	....	....
Creswell	29	....	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	3	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	2½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	2¼	....
Flat Rock	77	....	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	1½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	....	...
Graham	30	1	....
Granville	58	1	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	...	....
Greensboro, W. End	25	3½	....
Greensville	55	....	....
Guilford	37	½	....
Halifax	42	4½	....
Haw River	48	2	....
Henderson	35	6½	....
High Point, First	75	2½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	...
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	3¾	....
Lexington, First	48	3	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	....	....
Mill Grove Church	10	...	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	6½	...
Mt. Pleasant	62	6¾	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	1½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	3	....
Pleasant Grove	17	2	....
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	¾	....
Randolph	78	2¼	....
Reidsville	13	3	....
Richland	35	....	....
Roberta	29	...	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	....	5.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	1	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	1	....
Siler City	22	1½	....
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3	....
Tabernacle	40	3½	....
Thomasville, Community	18	....	....
Thomasville, First	25	3½	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	3	....
Weaverville	20	¼	....
West Forsyth	68	7½	....
Whitakers	8	....	....
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	¼	....
Yarborough	9	½	....
Miscellaneous		2½	....

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. J. Norman Kirkman, Calvary $1.00
By Pastor Stubbins.
L. M. Teague, Welch Memorial church. 1.00
J. T. Morgan, Welch Memorial church. 1.00
By Pastor Williams.
Mrs. Jasper Braxton, Alamance charge 1.00
W. I. Braxton, Alamance charge 1.00
Dr. G. R. Brown, Alamance charge ... 2.00
Mrs. George H. Armacost, Alamance .. 2.00
Mrs. W. M. Marr, Alamance 2.00
By Pastor Brown.
S. A. Alexander, Mt. Pleasant charge . 2.00
Mrs. C. H. Stout, Mt. Pleasant charge . .50
By Pastor Braxton.
Mrs. Mabel Russell, First church, High Point 1.00
Mrs. H. S. Barrow, Kernersville charge 2.00
R. M. Whitt, Kernersville charge ..... .50
By Pastor Way.
Mrs. Shelton Lineberry, Randolph chg. 1.00
By Pastor Isley.
H. L. Swicegood, First, Lexington 1.00
Rev. L. E. Mabry, First, Lexington ... 1.00
By Pastor Mabry.
Mrs. Della Murray, Orange charge ... 1.00
By Pastor Morris.
Rev. R. L. Hethcox, Fallston charge .. 2.00
W. L. Huss, Fallston charge 1.00
Mrs. E. I. Sain, Fallston charge ...... .50
By Pastor Hethcox.
Rev. T. J. Whitehead for extra Heralds (Henderson) 5.00
Rev. T. J. Whitehead, Henderson 2.00
Mrs. J. T. Ramsey, Shelby, club subscriptions 2.00
D. T. Gaster, Randolph charge 2.00
F. S. Stockard, West End church 2.00
V. C. Stockard, West End church 2.00
Mrs. R. P. Johnson, West End church . 1.00
Miss Verla Mae Leonard, West End . .50
Sent by Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
W. D. Moore, Seagrove-Love Joy charge 2.00
Mrs. C. L. Fuller, Vance charge 1.00
By Pastor Cranford.
John Spoon, Mt. Hermon charge 1.00
Fred Ingle, Mt. Hermon charge 1.00
By Mrs. Knox Lamar.
Rev. A. M. Smith, Liberty 2.00
R. L. Elkin, Liberty 1.00
By Mrs. B. J. Gregson.
Mrs. G. A. Nicholson, Mt. Hermon ... 2.00
By Pastor Anderson.
Mrs. Lonnie McPherson, Alamance ... 2.00
Mrs. T. J. Pearson, Greensville charge. 1.00
Rev. J. M. Morgan, Greensville charge 2.00
Mrs. T. R. Towery, Chase City 2.00
By Pauline Jarrell.
Mrs. B. C. Bracket, Cleveland charge . 1.00
Lura Waters, Cleveland charge 1.00
R. C. Waters, Cleveland charge 1.00
C. W. Self, Cleveland charge 1.00
Alvin Ivester, Cleveland charge 2.00
Belle Crowder, Cleveland charge 1.00
Mrs. Garland Richards, Cleveland chg. 2.00
Mrs. Flay Richards, Cleveland charge . 1.00
Fred Richards, Cleveland charge 1.00
Bert Bracket, Cleveland charge 1.00
Leroy Jones, Cleveland charge 1.00
Mrs. Hugh Wallace, Cleveland charge. 1.00
Mrs. Franklin Wallace, Cleveland chg. 1.00

Sent by Pastor Madison. Thank you, my brother. A few more pastors responding so well to our SOS will get us out of the "red."

Mrs. J. Turner Richardson, Haw River 2.00
By Pastor Bates.
Miss Lelia Kirkman, Tabernacle 2.00
By Pastor Lamb.

Subsidy

Liberty church, by W. M. Hanner ... 5.00

◆

NOTICE

Please call attention to a mistake that is on page 103 of the Conference Journal which says: Roberta, promised pastor $1,000 paid pastor $1,200. The facts are that Roberta church paid the promised salary of $900. And set the salary for 1939 at $1,200.

H. W. BELL.

◆

As surely as night goes and day comes, war will disappear.—Carrie Chapman Catt.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER
EVEN CHRIST
BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 19. 1939 NUMBER 10

The Annual Conference Paper

For nearly fifty years the North Carolina Annual Conference has been served, by its Conference Organ—the HERALD and its predecessor, OUR CHURCH RECORD. Much credit is given this conference organ for the progress the church has made in this conference during these years. It is generally believed that without the assistance of the HERALD, as a publicity medium, we would have neither The Children's Home nor High Point College. The widely scattered churches in our conference and the lack of frequent intermingling of the members has necessitated that our leaders use the church paper to acquaint these members with the projects undertaken and the way it was proposed that they be set up. The HERALD has ever sought to extend the Church and to increase its efficiency.

The columns of the HERALD have ever been open not only to pastor and local church reporter, but to The Children's Home and High Point College. Any project these institutions wanted to put over have found the HERALD their willing medium. Likewise the Pastors' Summer School, the Young Peoples' School, District Conferences, the messages of the Conference President, have all been welcomed and given all the space they needed each week. In other words, the HERALD has been and is really and truly the Organ of the Conference—its agent to speak the mind of every official or pastor or person who had a message for the rest of the Church. Furthermore, the HERALD sends out each week comments on the C. E. topic, the S. S. lesson, very readable and interesting discussions by Dr. Lindley, and our newest feature a weekly visit to some poet by Miss Idol. Then there are other contributed articles from friends and reprints from other publications which are wisely selected; and finally the editor always tries to fill his measure with editorial comments upon such subjects as he deems timely and especially suited to our readers.

We have never tried to make the HERALD a newspaper because we do not think our people want just a newspaper. Neither have we set out to defend the faith, strictly speaking, in our editorial pages, but we have endeavored to keep the objectives of the conference before its readers and to stimulate interest in those objectives. As we see it the local church greatly needs such assistance.

So this declaration of our purpose and our past is made in order to give a greater emphasis to the place the HERALD has had and we hope shall maintain for the present, at least, in the minds and the hearts of our people. We want to make the HERALD your agent and we want you to have the HERALD. Let us beseech you therefore brethren, by the ministry of your Conference Organ, that you bring in your annual renewals as a living testimony of your appreciation and of your loyalty to the annual conference which has decided to continue the HERALD for the rest of this year. For I declare to you through the knowledge I have as your editor, that no pastor or HERALD Agent or subscriber ought to think within himself that this Church paper can exist and make its weekly visits into the homes of our church people unless more of them subscribe for it and pay in advance.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

A Sunday Morning at Mebane

Last Sunday morning was spent with the Mebane church, Rev. D. I. Garner pastor. I did not visit this church last year except at prayer meeting one Wednesday night. This church, like a good many others has been one of our dependable churches for a goodly number of years. Several of our ablest pastors have served this church in the days gone by. The church has been a blessing to them and they in turn have been a blessing to the church. This is Brother Garner's third year, I believe and the work shows evidence of careful and thoughtful supervision. The Sunday school attendance last Sunday was off somewhat from the previous Sunday although the offering was decidedly better than on the previous Sunday. The house was well filled at the eleven o'clock hour and the people were very attentive to the sermon. Even though I preached under great physical handicaps yet it was a pleasure to make the effort. Brother Garner had a well-planned worship service and the people entered into it in a very commendable way. A bulletin is printed each week giving the order of service and the announcements and the people seem to make good use of it. This church is fortunate to have as its choir leader Brother T. O. Pender who for a number of years rendered valiant service in many of our churches as an evangelistic singer. And while he has not done much of this work for a number of years he is still ready to help out with this kind of work in case any of the brethren need his services this Spring. Having had him as an evangelistic singer in the years gone by I know his worth in a meeting.

A Fine Plan for Raising World Service

Brother Garner at Mebane gave me his plan last Sunday morning for raising World Service in full and it is such a good one I am passing it on to the rest of our people with my hearty endorsement. The plan is this: Brother Garner went out to find fifty members of his church who would give $1.00 a week for eight weeks for World Service and before he gave up the search he had found the required number. Even though the plan has been in operation a short while it is bringing forth fruit and the expectation is that the Mebane church will raise its quota in full. This plan, perhaps, could be worked at many other places and if it were there would be a great increase in the amount of money raised for the General Church. Being a District Chairman Brother Garner not only is trying to raise the World Service on his own charge but is trying to help others to do it on their charges. One thing that will help him considerably is the fact that he has found a solution of the problem in his own church and he can have more confidence in presenting it to others.

Not At Home

Last Sunday afternoon on the return trip from Mebane I decided to do a little visiting, so my first stop was at the home of Rev. J. R. Anderson who has been ailing considerably since conference. From there I went to the home of Mrs. H. A. Garrett and then to the home of Dr. George R. Brown in Liberty. My intentions were good but the results were not so gratifying as neither family was at home. I was told by somebody that Rev. Mr. Anderson was holding services at Friendship church Sunday afternoon and that Mrs. Garrett had gone to church. As to the whereabouts of Dr. and Mrs. Brown I can imagine that they had gone home with some of their parishioners for Sunday dinner and that the good work was continued into the late afternoon.

More About HERALD Subscriptions

Adequate support for the HERALD is a subject on the hearts of some of us these days. As I have said before we never have needed the HERALD more than we need it this year, for there are great issues before us and our people need to keep themselves informed. Really I do not see how we could get along without the paper. At our home it is as a letter from very dear friends. We look forward to it with a great deal of pleasure for we know that we are going to hear from a good many people that we otherwise would not hear from. It is worth all it costs in this respect.

I know that our editor has a big job on his hands to keep the paper going and to carry on his church work also. And here I want to take off my hat to West End church for its generosity in allowing its pastor to give part of his time to the paper. Having been the editor for two years I know what it means for a church to grant such a request. It shows a very generous spirit on the part of the church and I am sure that we all appreciate it. This is perhaps the greatest sacrifice that any of our churches are making this year. Calvary did this for two years and that church still deserves the thanks and gratitude of the conference. So I say, All Honor to West End.

Appointments

Sunday, January 22, Mocksville charge, 11 a. m. Union Chapel; 2:30 p. m. Dulin.

Sunday, February 5th, West Forsyth charge, 9:45 a. m. Stony Knoll; 11:15 a. m. Baltimore.

Tuesday, February 7th, 10:30 a. m. Western Pastors' Federation at Roberta.

Sunday, February 12th, 11 a. m. Reidsville.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

◆

SECOND DISTRICT RALLY

First Methodist Protestant Church

Sunday, January 29

11:00 A. M.—Appreciation Year Sermon by Dr. Fred W. Paschall, Pastor First Methodist Protestant Church, Burlington, N. C.

12:30 P. M.—Picnic Lunch.

2:00 P. M.—A Drama Worship Service—SHRINES.

6:30 P. M.—Fellowship Supper for the Methodist Youth of Vance County and Youth groups in Henderson.

7:30 P. M.—Youth Rally with the address by Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, Executive Secretary and Director of Young People's Work, North Carolina Conference of M. E. Church, South.

T. J. WHITEHEAD, Chairman of the District.
C. B. BASKET, Chairman of Fifth Sunday Rallies.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 19. 1939 NUMBER 10

A Message In Verse

"The path made smooth beneath thy feet,
The way made plain before thy face,
He brings thy soul with patience sweet,
Unto His love's appointed place.
And how much owest thou?

The thing thou couldst not be, He is;
The goal thou couldst not, He has won;
About thee throng His ministers,
Before thee shine the light of home.
And how much owest thou?"

◆

And now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches in Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him; that there be no gathering when I come.—St. Paul.

Increasing wealth will only prove the means of destruction unless accompanied by an increasing power of control. —Josiah Strong.

For overtime parking on one of the city streets of Greensboro, J. C. Wilkes, a Montgomery County farmer, is now serving a thirty day sentence on the roads. Our courts can hardly aid the cause of justice by imposing such extreme penalties for traffic violations.

Now that we are closing the first quarter of the conference year we do well to remember that every church is expected to raise amount equal to two per cent of the pastor's salary to help pay the delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference which is scheduled to be held in Kansas City, next April.

The offering for the work of the Board of Young People is now due to be taken. Every Church can take this offering even though they do not hold the service as prepared by Mrs. Gibbs. However the service should be held for the benefit which will come to the Church making the contribution.

Again, the apportionment for Annual Conference Expenses is also set for the first of the year and should be raised as early as possible. We have observed that for the majority of churches it is easier to secure these apportionments in smaller amounts than to lump them into one; and the annual conference has so planned for them to be raised.

Our columns are greatly crowded these days; we have copy enough to print thirty-two pages instead of sixteen pages this week. So if your article or letter is among those left over for another time, be patient with us, we are doing our best to serve you.

We are sending out some interesting copy about the Uniting Conference and matters relating to Methodist union this week. President Straughn has some interesting articles, we are also indebted to the Christian Advocate for more informing copy. We are therefore yielding some of our space to these articles in order that we may relieve the congestion in our office.

The Editor regrets that we shall not have Dr. Lindley's weekly comments in the Herald. He states his reason over his signature this week. We know that it has taken much valuable time of a very busy dean and teacher to prepare those messages. We thank Dean Lindley sincerely for the "echoes" and hope he will find time to favor us with a continuation of them or to have his comments under another general topic.

◆

Names Omitted

We are informed that the names of Mr. and Mrs. Worth Trogdon, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Coble, of Tabernacle Church should have appeared in the list of those who visited Brother and Sister Millaway to wish them happiness and to present their tokens of appreciation.

UNITING CONFERENCE ENTERTAINMENT

Information concerning hotels, rates, etc. for the Uniting Conference, Kansas City, Mo., April 26 has been mailed to all the delegates direct from the committee at Kansas City. This information comes a bit late as many reservations have already been made but the committee is prepared to take care of all who desire location. It is important to send your application in at once stating the kind of entertainment you desire.

I have been asked a number of times if we would have a denominational headquarters. This has been found impracticable for many reasons, the chief one being that so many kinds of entertainment are necessary, ranging from the higher priced to the more modest conveniences. Some annual conference delegations are however seeking to be located together but even this imposes some difficulties on the Committee.

Application has been made for a room in the auditorium for our use and which will become our headquarters for such purposes as may be necessary and in all probability they will and ought to be few. We will however want to find each other —it is a vast affair, that auditorium—and such a room will provide the opportunity.

Jas. H. Straughn.

◆

"The smaller the drink, the clearer the head and the cooler the blood."—William Penn.

◆

Prayer is not conquering God's reluctance, but taking hold of God's willingness.—Phillips Brooks.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

TO A WATERFOWL

It was mainly in the well-stocked library of his father, a poetry-loving physician, that William Cullen Bryant read and absorbed the poems of the "church-yard school" of poets in England, Blair, Collins, Gray, and the others who had learned the lessons of life from death, and who had influenced the poetry of England and America for the closing years of the eighteenth century; and, equally important, it was there that he fell under the spell of that epoch-making volume, Wordsworth's Lyrical Ballads, with its new and mystical revelation of Nature in poetry. If we add to these influences the Calvinistic ancestry from which Bryant was descended we can understand much that made Bryant the poet that he became. But Thomas Dickinson says that no record of influences can explain his genius. As a poet he was deeply impressed by the forms of natural beauty around him. He was the first American poet to make himself a completely flexible instrument for the expression of the native American landscape. William Lyon Phelps calls him the poet of Autumn, as Whittier is the poet of Winter, and Lowell of June. There is in him a combination of nature description and meditation or moralizing, a keen and quiet sensitiveness to Nature, moral self-restraint, and a mind that was contemplative rather than energetic. There were those who called him an American Wordsworth, but Lowell said of him that that was not true—that he was an "excellent Bryant," who showed "how much grace, strength, and dignity lie in repose," though there was in him little that was mystical after the manner of Wordsworth.

At the time that Bryant wrote To a Waterfowl he was twenty-one years of age. His own account of the causes which led to its composition is sufficient enlightenment as to the inspiration of the poem. On December 15, 1815, he had been to Plainfield, Massachusetts, to inquire into the opportunities offered there for the practice of law. He said that he felt, as he walked up the hills, very forlorn and desolate, indeed, not knowing what was to become of him in the big world. The sun had already set, leaving a brilliant New England sunset sky, and, rejoicing in its splendor, he watched a lone bird making its solitary way along the horizon until it was lost in the distance; asking himself whither it had come and to what far home it was flying. When he reached the house where he was staying for the night, his mind was still on what he had seen and felt, and this poem was the result.

One of the best known of all his poems, Thanatopsis, was published in September, in The North American Review,—a poem of which the editor, Richard Henry Dana, is said to have remarked when he read it, "No one on this side of the Atlantic is capable of writing such verses"; but half a year later The Review published To a Waterfowl, and Bryant was fairly launched as a poet. These two poems illustrate the two main styles of poetry Bryant wrote—something of the grand style of Wordsworth in the former, and the simple stanzas of the latter, strong and clear-cut, with the high seriousness and Biblical flavor of his best contemplative verse. Inherent throughout the short lyric is a certainty of the goodness of God that is as unquestioning as Whittier, and a feeling that God is everywhere identified with Nature, that, though it does not reach the same Pantheistic heights, is akin to the mysticism of Wordsworth.

Beginning simply with a question,

"Whither, midst falling dew,
While glow the heavens with the last steps of day,
Far, through their rosy depths, dost thou pursue
Thy solitary way?"

and sketching in with the unerring eye of a close observer of nature and an artist who selects his details with care, Bryant wrote with a faith as simple as that of Whittier:

"There is a Power whose care
Teaches thy way along that pathless coast—
The desert and illimitable air—
Lone wandering, but not lost."

Not only did he paint graphically the flight of the bird through the sunset glow—

"As darkly seen against the crimson sky Thy figure floats along," but he gave lyrical expression to his own desire for the happy, the satisfactory solution to his personal problem in the lines:

"And soon that toil shall end;
Soon shalt thou find a summer home, and rest,
And scream among thy fellows; reeds shall bend,
Soon, o'er thy sheltered nest."

In some of his other poems the moral is didactic and obviously an expression of that New England Puritanism, which was a definite part of his inheritance that could see no work of art worth while except as it taught a lesson, but the conclusion of this poem is the lyric identification of the writer with the natural subject he has described; the imagination that can in words as imperishable as our language achieve a mastery of simple poetic art:

"He, who from zone to zone,
Guides through the boundless sky thy certain flight,
In the long way that I must tread alone,
Will lead my steps aright."

DISTRICT RALLY FOR THIRD DISTRICT

Sunday, January 29, the Third District will have a Rally at Salem Church, Saxapahaw Charge. The Conference Appreciation Year plans will be the theme for discussion. Every pastor in the district is urged to be present and to get as many of his people to come as possible.

Speakers for the Rally will be announced later.

D. I. Garner, District Chairman.

1938 CONFERENCE JOURNALS WANTED

For some reason or other there seems to be a shortage in some quarters. Not enough were ordered, or mistakes were made in sending out the Journals. If any of the brethren think they have any to spare, please let me know. I'll tell you where to send them. And give you credit for the number you are sending.

C. W. Bates, Secretary.

CLASSROOM ECHOES

By P. E. Lindley

NO MORE ECHOES AT PRESENT

For about two years I have written these weekly articles on "Classroom Echoes." Great has been my pleasure in doing so, and generous indeed has been the kindness of readers in looking them over. Numbers of persons have told, written, or otherwise shown me their appreciation for my efforts. Their kind works have been deeply appreciated. I take this opportunity, therefore, and thank everyone for the attention and consideration given to me about the "echoes." Your words have been most encouraging.

I thank the Editor too for allowing space in our paper from week to week. Perhaps I have taken too much valuable space. If so I ask pardon now. Every relationship with the Herald has been most pleasant, and it is with a feeling of some regret that I leave the column at this time.

Two reasons lie back of my decision to discontinue the articles. First, I am busy. Other duties crowd in, and I find it difficult to take out time enough to prepare a paper worth sending in. Then, in the second place, I fear that readers think I am taking too much valuable space. It may be refreshing, thus, not to run across the Classroom Echoes heading for a while. I do not want to get a monopoly on the paper.

One thing more: Miss E. Vera Idol, head of our English Department here at the College, is writing a splendid, scholarly, contribution to this paper each week. The institution will, therefore, be well-represented during the coming weeks.

So I have decided it is more profitable to read and study her articles than to try to write my own. Miss Idol is a wonderful teacher. She knows English and American literature. It will pay you, I know, to follow her articles closely.

I have enjoyed sounding these "echoes" forth in the Herald for a couple of years. Now I give you a rest, and perhaps at some future period I will gather nerve and boldness enough to launch in anew.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

That Appreciation Year, and all of you have heard of it. In the annual conferences it got a most respectful and to all appearances a responsive hearing.

We are now at the time for action. A little over three months and the thing is done. Whatever we may have in mind to do for this church of our's must get done now. Now. Now. Yes, I said, NOW.

We are not serving the interest of any one person. No one gets any particular credit for the good which may come out of it. It is for the Lord's work. But those who fail to hook up to this movement will not get any particular credit for themselves. I do not suppose any more supreme test of loyalty ever faced us—preacher or layman. It is to be expected that some will not join up—unfortunately there are some who can never be counted on when a Great Moment arrives. But there are enough people in the Methodist Protestant Church who do love it to make this Appreciation Year a tremendous success, and beloved, I plead with you with all that is in me.

The actual returns are just beginning to show up but from what I can learn, such as the report in this issue from the Maryland Conference, and from the activities in many of our conferences where the data is not at hand, I am confident we are in for a Great Triumph. Pittsburgh is working at it beautifully; Ohio is steaming ahead; Indiana and West Virginia send in good reports. And time would fail me to give the total list.

May I not however make this request—Send to Dr. Shipley direct your good words. What and how many charges have definitely pledged the full payment of their World Service by the end of April. It'll look good in print.

Then there's the Easter program. There's one running ahead for the whole pre-Easter season. Another general plan will be published later. The Board of Missions has an Easter day program—send for it and make the most of it. I have been told a number of times that down South they pay little attention to the Easter opportunity. But brethren, start in this year. The rest of us have found Easter a magnificent opportunity for winning people to Christ and to the Church.

Jas. H. Straughn.

PETER DENIES HIS LORD

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, January 22

Lesson Text—Luke 22:31-34; 54-62.

Golden Text—Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.—1 Cor. 10:12.

This story of Peter's denial of Christ ought to humble even the greatest of us before God and to cause us to never release our constant hold upon His protection and power. We hear Peter saying just a little while before this, "Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended because of thee;" "Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee;" "Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake"—and thy coming ringing into every heart of us to strike a sympathetic chord. How like us in our New Year's resolution does Peter declare these sincere resolves to his Master, how like us too do we see him shortly go out and weep bitterly for noble resolutions broken. In all these declarations Peter was sincere, for nowhere do we learn that insincerity was one of his several faults. Blunt, plain, impetuous, impulsive, rash under provocation, yes—but not insincere. To every strong man among us who would follow Christ afar off in his every day life the clear words of our text come sounding this kind warning, "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

Let us not center our condemnation too heavily upon the weakness of Peter manifest in this sad stage of his life, for if we study the strength of his temptation we shall perhaps have to raise the degree of his strength before he goes down into defeat. Although he was described as "following afar off'' yet it must be said that he followed when all others of his fellows fled entirely. Some time we become so anxious not to be tempted that we so shield ourselves from the struggles of Christ's kingdom as to be of no use in building that kingdom. Be you well assured that the more zealous you are in following the Master the greater will be your temptations and struggles with Satan. As with Peter here it will lead you into the very courtyard of the enemy camp, and there the enemy will see in you elements and resemblances of the Nazarene and will harshly accost you. Let us not condemn Peter for being in the place of temptation but for not being near enough to Christ to withstand the temptation. If you would wonder why Peter was so violently assailed by Satan all along the path of his walk with Christ the answer will come from the fact of his strength rather than that of his weakness. Just as the Master recognized in him great spiritual possibilities so did also Satan and he levelled all the artillery of hell at the life of the key pillar in the ranks of the Son of God. In modern warfare there is a special kind of rifleman used against the enemy; he is called a sniper and his job is to camouflage his position and from there to pick off one by one soldiers of the other camp while there is no battle under way. In some instances they are payed a commission for each successful shot and this commission is based on the rank of the soldier killed. For a private one sum, for an officer a greater sum according to his rank; thus his greatest effort and ambition would be towards a high ranking officer. So Peter, the high ranking disciple of Jesus, was the constant target for Satan's darts. If we consult the biographies of the many Bible heroes or those of the many modern ones we shall be reading the story of lives beset by temptation. It is when a soldier of Christ becomes vulnerable to temptation and is pierced by it that he receives that look from Jesus that broke the heart of Peter. Here we must take heed not lest we be tempted but lest we fall.

How did temptation triumph over the powerful life of Peter? His denial of Christ reaches almost the depths of traitorous sin, and it is hard to conceive of Peter, who had shown up so well just before this moment, as committing such a sin against his Christ whom he loved so much. We must go back to the garden scene for part of the answer. Peter had challenged the mob who approached the Master in the way that he knew—that of force and he had been rebuked by Christ and told that he could never win a victory for him by the sword. As he saw Jesus with his hands bound and, from all outward appearances, helpless and defeated Peter was definitely bewildered and uncertain. His world with Christ in the center was shaken up and in this moment of faltering and distrust sin caught him with his guard down and Peter denied Christ shamefully. Without an unfaltering trust in the divine position of Jesus no one will ever be able to overthrow the powers of sin. Resolutions are all right, moral goals are vital if they can be attained, but without the converting power of Jesus in our lives to enable us to initiate them they are of little use. After Christ had finished His earthly task as Messiah and had revealed himself to the disciples as one who has power over sin and death then we find Peter with all the rest confessing Christ as the Son of God in much more perilous places than did Peter before this frail maiden. As was the case on the lake when He was walking on the water to Jesus he began to sink when he took his eyes off of the Master. So let us not remember the cruel words and the traitorous act of Peter's denial too much, but let us rather see him again return to his former noble self when he recaptures his faith in the Lord again.

''Manlike is it to fall into sin;
Friendlike is it to dwell therein;
Saintlike is it for sin to grieve;
Christlike is it all sin to leave.''

THE HERALD'S PLACE

During these days when special emphasis is being placed upon the Methodist Protestant Herald in our campaign for subscriptions, we would do well to consider the Herald's place. The fact that it has lived during all these years and still lives is, within itself, evidence that our Annual Conference deemed it worthy of a place in the program of the church.

To a large extent the ministry and laity have been and are conscious of the Herald's place in our work. But, on the other hand, the fact that the subscription list is comparatively small while so many Methodist Protestant homes in our conference are without the benefits of the Herald, seems to indicate that not all of us are conscious of the Herald's place in our church activities.

Then what is the Herald's place? It may be that my answer to this question will not satisfy you. If not, then will you set yourself thinking on the question and find an answer which will satisfy you to the extent that you will do two things: 1. Be a subscriber to the Herald yourself. 2. See to it that your church or charge, at least, reaches its quota of subscriptions.

I. The Herald has a place in the achievements of the Methodist Protestant Church in the North Carolina Annual Conference. Just at this particular point in the history of our beloved church we are inclined to take a retrospective look at her work. As we thus look we have just cause to be grateful. We appreciate the growth and achievements of our conference; we are proud of the great philanthropic work of the Children's Home; we boast of the rapid growth of High Point College; and we are grateful for the splendid work of the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work. But without the Herald none of these could have succeeded as they have.

The Herald has served as a medium through which the conference could keep its program before the people. The Children's Home uses the Herald to promote and report its work. High Point College had her first boosting through the columns of the Herald. And it serves the women in a very useful manner in the carrying on of their work.

II. The Herald has a place in the home. It is good literature. Bacon said: ''If I might control the literature of the household, I would guarantee the well-being of the church and state.'' Recently I have been asking some of the Herald readers on this charge the question: ''Why do you read the Herald?'' One man said ''I read it because I am a Methodist Protestant and I like good Methodist Protestant literature.''

The home needs the information found in the HERALD. Another subscriber answered my question by saying, "I like to read the HERALD in order to keep up with what is going on. It gives me the information of the church like the county paper gives me the information of the county."

III. The HERALD has a place in the pastor's interests and efforts. As an individual the pastor may derive the same benefits from it as any one else. In addition to that he finds the HERALD a very useful assistant to him in his work. It keeps its readers acquainted with the conference program which the pastor is endeavoring to promote. When he makes an appeal for some particular interest of the conference they know just what he is talking about and are more sympathetic and ready to respond.

Therefore, if the HERALD helps the conference and its institutions as well as the pastor and his people, why should we not support it 100 per cent? As a pastor, I consider it a part of my official duty to help to promote the circulation of our church paper. In answer to the quesiton "Why do you take the HERALD?" one subscriber said "Because the pastor won't let me stop."

T. G. MADISON.

KANSAS CITY PREPARES FOR CONFERENCE

Preparations for the Uniting Conference of the three churches—Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal, South, and Methodist Protestant—are already so far advanced that it is possible to give a foretaste of the program, which will begin with the opening reception of delegates and visitors on April 25.

A local organization for the handling of the Conference work has been completed, and the committees whose names were given in a recent issue of THE ADVOCATE are at work.

The program committee, which met in Kansas City on December 14, outlined a series of evening features which should crowd the Civic Auditorium night after night, not only with people from the Kansas City region, but visitors by the thousand from afar.

It is not yet possible to give the names of the persons invited to speak at the public programs of the successive evenings, but the committee is arranging not merely for good speakers, but for leaders in the very front rank of American life, religious, social, and governmental.

Other Program Features

Among the programs which are already fixed will be the rendition of Handel's "Messiah" by a great chorus choir. This will be in charge of Mr. Powell Weaver, the distinguished organist and composer, and the singers will include well-known soloists and the choirs of a large number of churches and other organizations.

A definite date has been assigned as Youth Night, Saturday, April 29, and the Young people of the three churches are actively planning for a huge youth demonstration, with great delegations present from a wide area. This will be in the main a forward-looking program, but it will give large recognition to the fiftieth anniversary of the Epworth League, which was organized in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1889.

Another great evening will be that under the women's organizations of the three churches, when the work of the women's societies will be vividly and impressively presented.

Foreign missions will have its evening, as will home missions and Christian education. For these evenings the executives of the various boards are preparing programs which will be at once popular and informing.

At least two spectacular pageants are under consideration, one of which will visualize the growth and development of Methodism from its beginning in this country. The other will portray the publishing work of the churches, which began with the organization of the Methodist Book Concern, exactly one hundred and fifty years ago. Dr. Henry C. Jennings, one of the great publishing agents, once called this story "a romance of history."

The Negro members of the united church have assumed responsibility for a program in which the astonishing story of that race's relationship to the Methodist movement, and its influence on the race itself, will be tellingly described and illustrated.

Many other programs are in the making, of which details will be available a little later, when the final arrangements with speakers and organizations have been completed.

Housing Committee

Kansas City itself is making enthusiastic preparations for the entertainment of a continual stream of visitors during the last week of April and the early part of May. The Housing Committee, with Dr. E. J. Kulp as chairman, has established headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, and is already making reservations and assignments for rooms. All inquiries concerning accommodations in hotels, apartments, and private homes should be directed to Dr. Kulp, in care of the Chamber of Commerce, Convention Bureau.

The great Civic Auditorium will afford accommodations for the Conference such as no General Conference has ever had before. All the standing committees will be able to hold their daily meetings under one roof. The auditorium has more than enough rooms of adequate size to accommodate every agency and activity of the Conference.

The weather bureau promises, so far as its records can make promises possible, that the period of the Conference will be delightfully characteristic of late spring in this latitude. The normal temperature for Kansas City, April 26, is 58; for May 15 it is 64; and for May 22, 67. If even one day of unseasonably warm weather should come along, the auditorium is so adequately air-conditioned that the maximum of comfort for delegates and visitors is definitely assured.

The first formal session of the Conference will be held on the morning of April 26, but plans for a great reception and program on the previous evening are under way.

A two-year inquiry by psychologists at Columbia University has resulted in the conclusion on the part of the investigators that the home is the greatest influence for moral and religious education, as compared with schools, Sunday schools, associates, and clubs. The investigators studied 1,200 public-school children and students in six private schools in their survey.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

Editor's Comment.—The Editor of this column is glad to be able to sit up a part of the time.

Wednesday, January 18, 1939.

REPORT OF TREASURER, N. C. BRANCH OF WOMEN'S WORK

Third Quarter Ending December 31, 1938

RECEIPTS:	Total for 9 Mos.	Third Quarter
Bank Bal. Sept. 30, 1938 . . .		$ 68.32
Funds received for:
College	$ 861.73	39.68
World Service	2,211.73	969.39
North Carolina Budget .	1,835.90	606.34
Minnis Fund	817.06	279.06
Thank offering	841.45	735.57
Total Receipts for 9 mos	$6,567.87
Total Receipts 3rd Qtr. . .		$2,698.36
DISBURSEMENTS:
Mrs. Geo. R. Brown, mailing Calendars	$ 1.25
Dalton Florist, flowers for Auman funeral	5.15
Board of Missions, literature from July 1 to Oct. 25 . .	10.57
Mrs. Andrews, expenses of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Stewart, speakers at annual conf. women's night .	14.35
Mrs. Andrews, expenses for 6 months	2.63
Mrs. Bowman, expenses for third quarter . . .	2.32
High Point College	34.93
Mrs. P. S. Kennett, Student Loan Fund	90.97
Rev. Homer Casto, Bethel Home	121.21
Dr. A. G. Dixon, Children's Home	303.19
H. C. Staley, Treas. W. S.:
Undesignated	831.39
7 Life Members . .	70.00
2 Memorial Members . . .	20.00
1 Perpetual Member . .	30.00
Work in China	3.00
Scholarship to India .	15.00
Minnis Fund	279.06
Thank-offering	735.57
Total Disbursements . .		2,570.59
Cash in Bank		$ 127.77

Respectfully submitted.
MRS. COY L. KEARNS, Treasurer,
N. C. Branch, Women's Work.

Receipts show approximately 7% increase over same period last year.

A little over two months and our auxiliary year will close. There are a number of auxiliaries which have not sent in their funds for the November thank-offering—please let these contributions come forward at your very earliest convenience so that the February thank-offerings may come in in order.

THANK OFFERING.

It is difficult for some of us who are actively interested in the Women's Work of our church to realize that this will probably be the last Thank Offering service to be held for the benefit of our branch of Methodism.

Sixty years ago we began our missionary work. For years we have regarded our February service as a birthday celebration accompanied with gifts suitable for such an occasion. We look back over the years of our existence as an organization and rejoice over our success: but we deplore the fact that we have failed to grasp many of the opportunities that have been within our reach. Too many of us have had a passive instead of an active interest in the work.

I never heard that either of the other Methodist churches have special thank offering services, as we do. It may be that in the new church we shall continue to have them, but if we should not it seems to me that we should all strive to make this offering the very best we have ever had, for in so doing we shall honor the birthday of the W. F. M. S., and register our pledge to the new organization whose birthday we are anticipating.

To use a very expressive colloquialism, "it is a fur piece" from where we started to the place we occupy today. There is a great difference between the old "penny" collections and the dime cards the women started with and the splendid offerings many are able to make now. Women used to think they should earn the money they gave for missions. I remember that I made gingham aprons for a friend's small boy to earn the first dollar I gave. Now many women have an allowance or a joint bank account with their husbands, and this has brought a different attitude toward giving to benevolences. We should be thankful for this.

Ours was the first Methodist church to ordain a woman to preach the gospel, Dr. Anna Shaw, and ours has been one of the first denominations to honor womanhood by giving her the right to vote, and by recognizing her ability and her value in an official capacity and a member of its Boards. For this we should be thankful.

There are various programs and plans for use in the Thank Offering service. I think one of the best was used by our First Church, High Point, a few years ago. The pastor and his secretary sent an empty envelope to each member on the church register with the request that it be returned containing a thank offering in memory of parents. The result was very gratifying. We might enlarge the list by giving an offering for the missionary, the pastor and the Sunday School teacher whose influences have made our lives count for service in the Kingdom. For example, when Miss Hodges was about to leave for Japan her Branch wanted to assume her support, but was badly in need of reorganization. She insisted and plead with me to become the leader, though I felt entirely incapable of doing so. From that time to the present I have found joy in the missionary work of my church. I am thankful for the influence of Miss Hodges on my life.

I hope all the women of our North Carolina Branch may be inspired to make this February Thank Offering the most sincere and the most sacrificial service they ever rendered their church.

MRS. GEO. R. BROWN.

THIRD QUARTERLY MEETING

State Street Church, Lexington, N. C., was hostess to the 3rd quarterly meeting of the N. C. Branch of Woman's Work on Thursday, January 12th, 1939, and from the standpoint of interest and attendance, proved to be one of the best quarterly meetings ever held.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. R. M. Andrews, who could not attend on acount of illness, Mrs. D. S. Coltrane, first Vice-President was in the chair. Mrs. Geo. C. Haltom was appointed Secretary Pro Tem in the absence of the Recording Secretary, Mrs. S. S. Holt.

Mrs. E. O. Peeler, Secretary of Spiritual Life, conducted an impressive Devotional, closing with a prayer in which she remembered especially our President and her daughter, who is a patient in St. Leo's hospital.

Officers, Secretaries and District Chairmen present numbered 17. Reports of officers and Secretaries indicated some progress during the quarter, especially along financial lines, receipts to date being 7 per cent more than at the same time last year.

Due to a shortage of funds in the Student Loan Fund, and our inability to take care of all applicants this year motion prevailed to make the Loan Fund apportionment for next year 20 per cent of our budget instead of 15 per cent as at present.

The Secretary of Literature, Mrs. T. L. Speas, requested that all Auxiliaries pay for their program literature before the Branch Meeting.

Guest speaker for the day was Mrs. F. J. Spruill of Lexington who brought an illuminating message on "Missions in Southern Methodism". She outlined in a very interesting manner the organization and workings of the women's work in her church, showing that we have mutual aims and objectives as well as mutual problems and difficulties.

Another interesting feature of the day was the report of Presidents or representatives of 23 Auxiliaries. Each one spoke of aims and methods and expressed the conviction that our women's work is steadily growing.

Mrs. W. C. Hammer called attention to the February Thank Offering and exhibited materials to assist in its observance.

Mrs. H. C. Nicholson reported that the Minnis Fund is steadily growing and expressed the desire that it might soon be entirely raised.

An invitation to hold the annual Branch Meeting in First Church, High Point, was extended on behalf of the Auxiliary, which invitation was graciously accepted for the Branch by Mrs. Coltrane.

A Committee on Branch Meeting Program was appointed as follows: Mrs. Geo. R. Brown, Chm., Mrs. S. S. Holt, Mrs. J. T. Bowman, Mrs. J. H. Walker, Jr., and Mrs. H. C. Nicholson.

A Nominating Committee consisting of Mrs. J. T. Bowman, Mrs. A. H. Ragan, and Mrs. J. Clyde Auman was also appointed.

The meeting closed with prayer by Dr. Geo. R. Brown.

MRS. GEO. C. HALTOM, Sec. Pro Tem.

Twins Born

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ridge, Jr., of Wytheville, Va., on December 28, twin girls, weighing 7½ and 8 pounds.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Brown Summit S. S.	$ 2.10
Haw River S. S., Glen Raven	4.50
Bethany S. S., Randleman	7.07
Giles Chapel S. S., Richland	3.50
Graham S. S.	7.00
Canaan S. S., Denton	1.00
Enfield S. S.	5.00
Selma, Tenn.	.85
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	1.51
Friendship S. S., Shiloh	4.25
Rock Creek, Alamance	1.45
Pleasant Union S. S., Mt. Pleasant	2.00
Spring Church, Spring Church, birthday money	6.00
Baltimore S. S., W. Forsyth	3.00
Cedar Grove S. S., Conley, Ga.	4.00
Bethel S. S., Mocksville, Dec. and Jan.	3.00
Ladies' Bible class, R. I. Ave., Washington, D. C., clothing child	5.00
Glen Raven C. E. society, clothing child	5.00
Liberty S. S., Dec. and Jan.	10.00
Salem S. S., Saxapahaw	6.00
Center, Alamance	8.00
Siler City S. S.	5.00
Shiloh S. S., Randolph	3.00
Moriah S. S.	4.50
Henderson S. S.	10.00
Mr. Bascom Frazier, Midway, tithes	8.00
Interest, the H. G. Ellington Estate, Harris Chapel, Vance	14.05
Hickory Ridge, Forsyth	5.50
Bethel S. S., Randolph	3.25
New Hope, Why Not	4.65
Reidsville S. S.	6.00
Yarborough's Chapel S. S.	4.09
Mebane S. S.	6.50
Central Church, Frederick charge, Md., birthday money	6.50
Welch Memorial S. S., High Point	10.00
Asheville S. S., Dec. and Jan.	6.69
M. P. Sunday school, Tyrone, Ga.	3.14
Love Joy S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy	2.00

A Few Thanksgiving and Christmas Offerings

Mt. Nebo, Mt. Orab, Ohio	6.21
Goodell's Circuit, Goodells, Mich.	25.00
Hartwood church, Newcomerstown, O.	5.00
Glen Raven S. S. and church, with more to follow	52.60
Olivet, Mich.	7.00

There are no packages and other gifts to be reported this week.

We thank all who contributed to help make the above financial report possible.

We take it that nearly all the Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings for this season are in. So we come down to the regular offerings for the next few months for the support and maintenance of the Home.

If we could only have had a balanced budget at conference last fall, we would now be considerably ahead. But as it is we lack just a little of having an even start in the beginning of the new year. To avoid a deficit this coming fall, when we really merge into Methodist Union, the regular offerings per month must be considerably better than last year.

A few Sunday schools have increased their monthly goals. Has yours? If not, will you take it up with your people and do it at once?

Several Sunday schools perhaps should not increase their monthly goal; but judging by the way some do contribute, then there are many Sunday schools which should increase.

Please remember that it is a free will offering, but if the superintendent will call attention to it, or see that some one else does, in almost all cases the people will contribute more on Children's Home Day than just for the regular Sunday school collection. Do your best for us, and we will do the best we possibly can with the offerings sent us. We thank you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

J. R. Moore, Asheville	$1.00
By Pastor Bethea.
Rev. H. D. Garmon, Shelby-Caroleen	1.00
G. R. Hemphill, Randolph charge	2.00
Miss Mildred Loy, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
Mrs. C. A. Green, N. Davidson charge	2.00
By J. R. Payne.
J A. Suits, Midway church	1.00
By Pastor Hamilton.
Mrs. J. A. Russell, First, High Point	1.00
C. T. Russell, First, High Point	1.00
Mrs. W. C. Porter, Littleton charge	1.00
By Pastor Broome.
J. P. Owen, Pinnacle charge	2.00
By Pastor Morris.
Mrs. B. H. Kimery, West End church	2.00
Mrs. B. Z. Routh, West End	1.00
By Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
J. D. Allred, Randleman charge	2.00
Mrs. Lizzie Fields, Randleman charge	1.00
Mrs. C. O. Boyd, Randleman charge	1.00
Sent by Mrs. Boyd.
Mrs. D. L. Carroll, Reidsville	2.00
Miss Cleo Pugh, Richland charge	1.00
Mrs. Helen Winningham, Richland	1.00
Mrs. Earl Vestal, Richland	1.00
Clifford, Brown, Richland	1.00
Miss Pauline Burrows, Richland	1.00
Miss Helen Styers, Richland	1.00
A. M. Ragsdale, Richland	1.00
Mrs. Zell Brown, Richland	1.00
Mrs. Martha Brown, Richland	1.00
By Miss Helen Styers.
Mrs. Nannie Ballentine, Harmony	2.00
Mrs. G. B. Taylor, Harmony	1.00
By Miss Sara Simpson.
Mrs. Russell Shell, Greensville charge	2.00
Miss Lottie Edwards, Greensville	1.00
J. M. P. Wright, Greensville	1.00
J. C. Whitby, Greensville	2.00
T. F. Humphreys, Flat Rock charge	2.00
Vann Surratt, Davidson charge	1.00
Mrs. John Swing, Davidson charge	1.00
Sent by Pastor Neese.
Mrs. E. N. Grabbs, Forsyth charge	2.00
Dr. J. D. Williams	2.00
Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Kernersville	1.00
W. H. Smith, Kernersville	1.00
Mrs. A. N. Linville, Kernersville	2.00
Mrs. Pink Linville, Kernersville	1.00
By Pastor Way.
Mrs. Nan Eller, Asheville	.50
Mrs. Hale Thomas, Asheville	.50
J. A. Hornaday, Asheville	.50
Dr. R. B. Wilson, Asheville	1.00
By Miss Frances Cunningham.
J. W. Hardee, Halifax charge	2.00
Mrs. R. A. Ivester, Cleveland charge	1.00
Sent by Pastor Madison.

Subsidy

West End church	7.50
Harmony church	1.25
First church, Henderson	10.00

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Henry V. Capps

Henry V. Capps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Capps, was born October 25, 1864, departed this life December 1, 1938, aged 74 years, 1 month and 6 days. He is survived by his wife who before marriage was Miss Mannie Henderson; three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Cox of Liberty route 1, Mrs. Melvin Huffman and Miss Lois Capps, of Greensboro; four sons, Hunter and Floyd of Greensboro, Wade of Asheboro, and A. C. of Liberty route; one sister, Miss Lula Isley, of Greensboro; also a host of friends and relatives.

Mr. Capps had been a member of Shiloh M. P. church for many years. The funeral and burial took place at this church on Sunday, December 4, 1938. The pastor and Rev. W. M. Pike had charge of the service.

May the Lord comfort and bless those who are bereaved.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Mrs. Ida Jane Scruggs

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Jane Scruggs were held Tuesday afternoon, December 20, at 3 o'clock, at the First Methodist Protestant Church, Caroleen, N. C.

Mrs. Scruggs, having been sick for some time, died at her home, December 19, about 5 a. m. Surviving are the husband and six children. The children are, Mamie Tipton, Bernice Webb, Belvia Alley, Lucille Scruggs, Boyce and Paul Scruggs, also eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Scruggs, professing Christ as her Saviour early in life joined the First M. P. Church at Caroleen. While health permitted, she was active in the church work, and could be depended upon to do her part in the Lord's work. Her services to God and her community, and to her family, will not soon be forgotten. Thanks be unto God for allowing this beautiful life to bloom in the garden of memories, and may His ever comforting hand rest upon, and console those bereaved.

REV. HERBERT D. GARMON.

◆

Jordan

Mrs. Mary Ephland Jordan was born April 5, 1876, and departed this life December 20, 1938, age 62 years, 8 months, and 15 days. She is survived, in addition to her husband, by two sons, Raymond and John, one daughter, Mrs. Harold Davis, one grandchild, two brothers, J. B. Ephland of Versailles, Missouri, R. J. Ephland of Billings, Montana, and two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Edwards of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. A. W. Calvin of Versailles, Missouri, also one aunt, Mrs. William Brothers. She joined Shiloh Church a number of years ago and had been a faithful worker.

The funeral was conducted at Macedonia Baptist church, near Liberty, on December 21, 1938, by the pastor, Rev. A. O. Lindley, and Rev. Mr. Cox. Burial took place in the church cemetery.

H. L. ISLEY.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Rehoboth, Creswell Charge, Rev. Forest Wagoner, Pastor.—This is our first report this conference year. I will say we were all very glad to have our pastor return.

Yesterday we had services at Rehoboth, with the largest congregation we have had in a long while, and everyone seemed so happy this new year. Brother Wagoner and myself were invited to the home of Brother C. L. Everett (a good Baptist brother) for dinner, which we thoroughly enjoyed. I heard a lady who was at church say she enjoyed the sermon so much that she would not take $1,000 for it, it did her so much good.

Our church has been leaking; so much rainy weather in November and part of December it could not be fixed. Brother Joe White reported that he and Brother Wheeler Swain had finished the work. Very glad Mrs. Henry Swain is up again; she has been very ill. We have had it healthy in this section, only a few colds.

The weather was beautiful Christmas. My brother, G. J. Cherry, and his wife, from Charleston, S. C., spent the season with us. Mrs. Cherry and myself attended services at the Baptist church. They had a beautiful service by Dr. A. G. Martin, pastor. After services the regular Christmas confections were handed around to all. Many bags left over were given to little children in the community who had just moved in.

I saw the letter from Miss Gaynelle Price and enjoyed it so much. I will write to her soon, for last year I was in hospital three months, and letters were such a pleasure to me. REPORTER.

◆

Lexington, First, and Mt. Carmel.—This is our second report to the Herald since conference, and it will be fitting for us to say that we have been well received back on our present pastoral charge for the fourth year. It has been indeed a pleasure to have served this people for the past three years; and it now looks as if we will have one of our best years for the fourth. Many encouraging things have been said to us in so many different ways. Not everything is roses, and there are still things to demand the best we have to give; but God is always with us in our worthy undertakings.

Never before have we served a people that so nearly all of them remembered us in some way during the Christmas season. We were the recipients of many useful gifts, and a vast shower of Christmas greeting cards. Then, too, our pantry has been well supplied with fresh meats, etc., from generous hands. We will not attempt here to enumerate them and give names, as that would occupy too much space. But we do want to say we are truly grateful for these and all other gifts that have come to us already this conference year.

Then, too, to the charges we have served before, may we say thank each and every one of you for the Christmas cards and other ways by which you remembered us. We would like to have remembered each of you, but this is about all we can do in that way. We say, thank you, and wish for you and your present pastors the best year in the Master's service.

All organizations of our two churches are functioning in a normal way. We had nice Christmas exercises at each church, well attended, and the largest offering at each church there has been for Christmas during our pastorate here. We appreciated this very much, as it will aid on our World Service budget. Plans are already well on the way to observe Young People's Day the fifth Sunday, just as our board has planned it, with all the emphasis on the offering that we can get there.

As to improvements, we might say that Mt. Carmel has plans to refurnish the pulpit with both chairs, carpet, and altar railings. Practically enough money is in hand to do this much-needed work. The painting on the church will be completed in just a few more days. With these improvements, the good people of Mt. Carmel church and community can well be proud of their nice church. Also, with the coming of power for lights, this will be still another much-needed improvement.

First church has as its goal in improvements for the year, new hymn books and the recarpeting of the pulpit floor and choir space. These are much needed, but with the cooperation of the people who are so faithful and loyal it can be done.

L. E. MABRY.

◆

Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—Several weeks have passed without a report from our church, but our work is moving along smoothly in church, Sunday school, and auxiliary work. Our Sunday school numbered 186 the second Sunday. Rev. Mr. Braxton brought us the morning message on the subject, "Sailing Into a New Year." The bulletins Rev. Mr. Braxton prepared for this service were very attractive. We realize much time is spent in preparation of these bulletins, and we appreciate them.

During the holiday season Rev. and Mrs. Braxton had as their guests Rev. Lawrence Little and family of Maryland. Mrs. Braxton's mother also spent several days with them.

Two more bodies have been laid to rest at Mt. Pleasant and one of our number at Giles Chapel cemetery. Mrs. Arlena Smith, wife of W. H. Smith, aged 71 years, passed away at her home after several days of critical illness. She leaves to mourn her loss, two daughters and three sons: Mrs. C. E. Black, Liberty, R. 2; Mrs. Narvia Amick, of Liberty; Flavius Smith, Liberty, R. 2; Marvin Smith, Liberty, R. 2; Charlie Smith, of the home; and several grandchildren. Funeral services were conducted at Mt. Pleasant church by Rev. Harold Loman of Liberty Christian church, Rev. J. A. Burgess and Rev. J. W. Braxton.

John Shaw passed away at his home in Burlington and was buried January 5. Mr. Shaw has been in declining health for some time. He is survived by his wife, the former Frona Patrum Shaw, and one brother, Phillip Shaw, of Burlington. Funeral service was conducted at First M. P. church at Burlington by Dr. Fred Paschal.

Mrs. Susan Amick Pritchard, 77 years of age, passed away at the home of her nephew, R. C. Causey. Funeral service was conducted from the home on Sunday, January 1, with burial following in Giles Chapel cemetery. Rev. J. W. Braxton and Rev. Joel B. Trogdon had charge of the service. She is survived by two brothers, Dr. T. C. Amick of Louisburg College, William Amick of Virginia; four step-children, Dr. Jesse E. Pritchard of High Point, John Pritchard of High Point, Charles Pritchard of Thomasville, and Mrs. Milton Burrows of Asheboro; also several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Pritchard was lovingly called "Aunt Sue" by all who knew her, and will be missed from her home.

MRS. CARL CURTIS, Reporter.

◆

Enfield Charge, D. R. Williams, Pastor.—I presume many readers of the Herald are wondering why there is no report from Enfield. It seems that no one wants to fill this office, and I am a poor excuse for a reporter. And as but few of our people in the conference read the Journal, I would like to state here that Enfield and Whitakers paid everything in full for 1938. We want to do as well in 1939.

We are glad to be back with our friends. A few days before Christmas William R. Davis and Tom Porter Powers drove into our backyard with a real pounding. We can't give names or articles of what we found on our table when they finished unloading. We have also had gifts from Whitakers and Whitakers Chapel, and many nice presents from our loved ones and friends from different parts of the state, and a hundred Christmas cards from this and other states. For all these things we are very grateful. God bless you everyone.

Brother Willie Baker, teacher of the adult class of the Enfield Sunday school, was operated on some time in November in Rocky Mount. He is at home at present, but has to go back to the hospital each week for treatment. We miss him at church, for he was a very useful man. Also Mrs. Jimmie Rives is in the hospital at this time for an operation. These and their loved ones have our prayers and best wishes.

D. R. and MRS. WILLIAMS.

◆

Mt. Lebanon, Randleman Charge, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—Our work here continues to move along very well. The Sunday school continues to grow, and our rooms are soon to be completed. The Baraca boys have theirs completed, and the class is going on with their work, under the guiding hand of their teacher, Mrs. Causey.

The stewards held a business meeting at the parsonage Saturday evening. A very interesting and uplifting sermon was held and an outline of the work was given to each one. After the meeting the pastor's dear wife served delicious fruit cake, ice cream, and coffee to Mr. C. A. Lambe, Mr. Ross Wood, Mr. John Daniels, and Miss Rozelle Smith. Two of the stewards were not able to attend.

There are some of our members kept away from the services of the church an account of sickness.

The church suffered a great loss in the passing of Mrs. C. J. Parsons, one of our oldest members. She has been confined to her bed for some time. We feel that we should not mourn. She was laid to rest in the Mt. Lebanon cemetery beneath a beautiful mound of flowers on Sunday afternoon, January 8. Our sympathy goes out to her family.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. John Daniels. Mrs. C. L. Spencer, president, will preside over the meeting.

Mr. Spencer has filled his appointments with very interesting and uplifting sermons. Wish more people would come and hear these wonderful sermons.

Miss May Caudle was hostess Monday night to the Willing Workers class. A very interesting program was rendered.

We ask an interest in your prayers for us in our work.

MISS ROZELLE SMITH, Reporter.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Auxiliary, North Davidson Charge, O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Mt. Pleasant Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Lester Leonard, Thursday, January 5, for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Roy Hilton had charge of the devotionals, assisted by Mrs. Dela Ball reading the scriptures, and Mrs. Ruth Payne, Mrs. Winfra Hilton and Mrs. Ethel Hayworth reading the meditation. Prayer was led by Mr. Williams. Also Mr. Williams suggested that we sing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," which really rang with harmony. We always enjoy being with Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

When the roll was called all members but one answered; wish it could have been 100 per cent. The auxiliary was very happy to add two new members to our list, Mrs. Pearl Berrier and Mrs. Mary Hilton. We lack only two now of having our goal of 25 members. We were very glad to have Mrs. Wilker Murphy and Mrs. Bernie Hilton visit our auxiliary; hope they can meet with us more and join our society. I am always glad to report for the auxiliary when it is very active—which it always seems to be—there being 46 sick visits made and three trays and flowers taken. Mrs. Williams suggested that we use the "Blue Plate" this year, which was accepted.

Mrs. Della Ball, our thank-offering secretary, distributed the thank-offering boxes to each member at this time.

About 12 members of the auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. J. C. Hayworth January 2 and quilted our quilt. The big event of the day was the picnic lunch at the noon hour with hot coffee. Mrs. Ruth Payne had charge of the social hour. Mrs. Alfred Craven excelled in the contest.

Mrs. Leonard served tempting refreshments, after which the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Minnie Morris the first Thursday in February.

◆

Kistlers Union, Cleveland Charge, T. G. Madison, Pastor.—This church continues to enjoy the interesting and inspiring sermons brought to us regularly by our pastor.

We are having a good Sunday school. Much interest is being shown. The enrollment for the new year is fine. We are hoping and working for better attendance this year due to the changes that are being made in this community. A new register board, was bought by the Sunday school and placed in the church in December. The secretary is well pleased with the board, and perhaps the audience is better pleased yet.

Since our last report death has been in our midst and taken the father of Mr. O, V. Warlick and the father of Mr. Lamar Peeler. We as a church extend to them our deepest sympathy in their loss of a father.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mr. James White, the nephew of Mr. John T. Warlick; also the sickness of Mrs. Howard Peeler, the daughter of Mrs. Velus Ivester. These two are in the Shelby hospital. We wish them a speedy recovery.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met last Sunday at the church. The program was good, and new interest is being shown in raising money to paint the Sunday school rooms. One month ago our auxiliary decided to start a Sunshine Club and appointed Mrs. Ira Elmore as treasurer of this club. The money from this club is used for flowers, fruits, foods,—anything for the sick. The auxiliary is planning a thank-offering for February.

May this be one new year resolution: that we will make our Sunday school better, our auxiliary better, be better, and work harder ourselves, and when this is done, our church will be better.

REPORTER.

◆

Love Joy, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, Pastor.—We are glad to report a good start for the new calendar year. Our Sunday school attendance is growing. We had 114 present for Sunday school yesterday. We had a large crowd for church service. Our pastor delivered a very stirring message, using as a subject "The Lord Is My Shepherd." We believe that each one present was encouraged to press forward in the Christian battle.

We gave our Christmas program Saturday night, December 24. This was one of the best programs ever given at our church. We appreciate the splendid work the young people did in making this program a success.

We are sorry to report that some of our members are on the sick list. We miss them in our church work and hope they will soon be able to come back.

The Friendship circle held its regular monthly meeting Friday night with Miss Etta Reynolds. Eighteen members were present. The next meeting will be with Mrs. I. F. Russell. Every member is urged to be present.

MRS. L. L. RUSSELL, Reporter.

◆

Enfield, Rev. D. R. Williams, Pastor.—The reporter has failed to send any news from this church for some time, but activities have not ceased during this period. The church work is moving along nicely and the attendance at Sunday school is picking up as the weather stays pretty.

We are happy to have our pastor, Rev. D. R. Williams, and his wife with us for another year, and we take this opportunity to express our appreciation to conference for their return. As this is Appreciation Year throughout our denomination, we trust we can show Rev. and Mrs. Williams our great appreciation for their wonderful and untiring work in our church.

The Woman's Auxiliary is also doing a splendid work. They have reorganized the study class, and are meeting on the second Friday night in each month at the parsonage. They are studying "Moving Millions," a book on India, at present, with some member reviewing one chapter at each meeting. The Junior Woman's Auxiliary under the capable leadership of Mrs. Matt Smith and Mrs. Owen Bellamy is doing very fine work.

Both groups will work together Tuesday night and serve a supper to the American Legion at our hut to make money for our treasury. We are also planning a Fellowship meeting for January 20 which we are all looking forward to with much interest, and all are expecting a good time.

Miss Annie Mae Herbert, a member of the Junior Auxiliary, was married December 11 to Mr. Jack Carlysle of Whitakers. Both auxiliaries are planning a joint shower for her during the coming week.

We have had much sickness in our midst. Mr. W. D. Baker continues very ill at his home near Enfield. We ask the prayers of our friends for his comfort. Mr. Alex Hunt, we are sorry to say, is able to be out again after being in for several weeks.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Powers, who has just lost her sister, Mrs. Lelia White. We also extend sympathy to all her relatives, for their loss is also our loss. A friend rightly said, "Mrs. White was one of the most consecrated Christians that Enfield has ever known."

Mr. Exum Bellamy is teaching the adult class in Sunday school in the absence of Mr. Baker. Mr. Bellamy is most efficient and the Sunday school is fortunate to have him as teacher. Mr. James Rives is teaching the boys' class; with his fine character we feel he can do much good with his class.

The news has just gone out that Mrs. Jimmie Rives went to Park View hospital, Rocky Mount, today, for a very serious operation. We pray for a speedy recovery for her.

REPORTER.

◆

Mt. Moriah Church, Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday, January 8, at 11 a.m. It was a splendid sermon, enjoyed by all who heard it. Our pastor meets with us every second and fourth Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend these services.

The District Rally will be held at Mt. Moriah church the fifth Sunday of this month. A full attendance is desired.

Our Sunday school attendance and interest are good. Every first Sunday our offering goes to the Children's Home.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet January 22 at the church.

I would like to say here that we are blessed with usual health; we haven't had much sickness in this community so far. Hope this will continue.

May God's richest blessings rest upon you all.

DESSIE WATERS, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor.—Attendance both in Sunday school and the regular church services has been on a gradual increase since Christmas. The Sunday school superintendent, Mr. Louis Garmon, is back with us after a serious illness, and the attendance has picked up in every department.

The young people are preparing a play, "Opening the Door," to be given at the evening service on Young People's Day, January 29. Much interest in the church activities has been taken by the members of this department, and we are very proud of them.

Perhaps the increase in attendance can be credited to the grand sermons our pastor has been delivering. He really puts himself into his work and even though it be slow, there are always good results. He began a series of sermons on the Ten Commandments Sunday night. These sermons will be of interest to everyone that attends and of great benefit to them.

We are also proud of our choir. Mr. Marvin Pressly has consented to play his violin in the services. This of course will add to the spirit of our services. We are indeed glad to have Mr. Pressly help us.

Circle No. 2 of the Ladies' Auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at the church. The night circle will meet with Mrs. W. J. Lazenby, Monday night. This circle has just been reorganized, with Mrs. L. W. Garmon, chairman.

The District Rally meeting of the 16th district will meet at the First M. P. church, Charlotte, January 15 at 3 p.m. A large delegation from every church in the district is expected to attend. Discussion will be held on the following subjects: "What My Church Means to Me," "What the Methodist Protestant Church Has Meant to Me," "Evangelism," and a number of others.

HELEN McCALL, Reporter.

Friendship Church, Chase City Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—On December 25th our pastor filled his regular appointment and brought to us a beautiful Christmas message. We were very delighted to have his wife and family to worship with us. Their children sang a Christmas trio for us.

On Monday night after Christmas our children presented a Christmas program under the leadership of Mrs. George Bell and Mrs. James Lenhart. Santa Claus came and everyone received a Christmas bag.

The Sunday school has held up very well this winter. The intermediate class filled a nice Christmas basket for Mrs. Hugh Lenhart, who has been sick for the last while.

Our pastor will be with us again on the fourth Sunday of this month. We also will hold our quarterly conference. All the officers and leaders are urged to attend.

Our prayer meetings are still improving. I am sure they are a great help to everyone who attends them. I can speak for the whole church when I say we were indeed grateful for Mr. Preston Johnson of the M. E. Church, South, for conducting prayer meeting for us Sunday night. Mr. Nathaniel Garland of Chase City will speak for us next Sunday night.

PAULINE JARRELL, Reporter.

Rankin Memorial Church, High Point.—We are getting along nicely at Rankin Memorial church. Our attendance is good for both church services and Sunday school.

Our pastor has been bringing fine messages, and on last Sunday the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to one of the largest congregations since our church building was erected. We also received a new member at that service, Mrs. E. L. Varner.

For some time we have been unable to have a midweek prayer service due to inadequate heat in the prayer meeting room, but we are beginning some cottage prayer services which we hope to continue until our heating system is fixed.

The Christmas program which was given in our church recently was declared a success. We had a splendid attendance and the program was well rendered.

We regret to report that one of our members, Mrs. M. J. Embler, is now in the Guilford County Sanatorium. We hope that she will soon be back with us.

The auxiliary is still doing a great work in our church. We feel that they are due much credit for the work they did last year. They received four new members at their last meeting, and also presented our pastor's wife with a linen shower.

Much interest is being shown in our Intermediate Christian Endeavor society which was recently organized. We had as our guest speaker last Sunday Miss Myrtle Davis from the First M. P. church, and we enjoyed her talk very much.

Our first quarterly conference will be held Saturday night, January 14, at 7 o'clock.

REPORTER.

Stallings Church, Mecklenburg Charge, J. R. Short, Pastor.—On Sunday morning, December 25, everyone gathered at the church for our Christmas tree. Each Sunday school class drew names and gave presents to those whose names they drew. After presents were presented a treat was given to each. Then on Sunday night a very interesting pageant was given, "The Birth of Christ." This was one of the best pageants given in many years. We feel we owe Mrs. P. D. Drye and Mrs. Ethel Hartis lots of praise for their splendid work.

Brother Short brought us a very interesting sermon last Sunday morning, January 8. We feel that every sermon he brings comes more from his heart and sinks deeper into ours.

The Ladies' Aid met on Friday night, January 6, at Mrs. P. D. Drye's. Mrs. Ethel Hartis was in charge of the program, which was very good. Nine members were present and one visitor. After the meeting was over Mrs. Drye served delicious refreshments. At this meeting everyone resolved to do more for the upbuilding of God's Kingdom than ever before. I am hoping that when Christ knocks at your heart's door, that you will let Him in, and will try to bring others to live with Him.

MRS. SHELLEY STALLINGS, Reporter.

First M. P. Church, Thomasville.—The members of First church are very proud of their new pulpit chairs. Some think that the chairs have a big part in the good talks we have been having lately, because the speaker does not get worn out before his talk is delivered.

Christmas left everyone in good spirits. With the help of Mr. Knox Teague, Wilson Myers, and Mrs. Annie Watts, we were given the most beautiful Christmas tree that the church has ever had. Everyone left the church with the feeling that they had not been forgotten. The superintendent of Sunday school, Mr. D. R. Cornell, saw that every member of the church received a treat including one of our visiting members, Mr. Ishmael Dorsett, who made a very inspiring talk on "How to Keep Christmas."

Under the leadership of Mr. D. R. Cornell the Sunday school is steadily improving. Last Sunday every chair but one was filled in the men's Bible class.

The Minnis Circle had its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, January 10. The young people have been having study classes under the leadership of Mrs. J. T. Bowman. The circle has raised its budget in full.

A special service is being planned to observe Young People's Day the fifth Sunday in January. There will be several services during the day.

Mr. J. T. Bowman plans to attend the third annual North Carolina Convocation of the Churches that is to be held at the First Presbyterian church in Durham. It will begin January 17 and last until January 19.

For the last two years Miss Nell Jarrett has been the president of our Christian Endeavor. Nell was a fine president, and proved that young people can make good leaders. This should be some encouragement to our newly elected president, Finch Jackson. The Christian Endeavor extends to him a glad hand, and stands willing to help him in every way it possibly can.

AUDREY SULLIVAN, Reporter.

Bess Chapel, W. L. Harkey, Pastor.—The new conference year has begun with a good attendance at both Sunday school and worship services. Sunday morning, January 8, Rev. Mr. Harkey delivered a very inspiring message. He used for his theme "The Meaning of the New Year."

Within a few days we expect to have all our Sunday school rooms completed, and we will be so glad.

We apreciate very much the thoughtfulness of the good people at our Lincolnton church in relinquishing their fourth Sunday morning service and giving it to us.

A marriage of interest to a host of friends in our church and community was that of Miss Margaret Baxter, daughter of Mrs. Ida Baxter and the late Mr. John Baxter, and Mr. Feeman Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright. Rev. E. A. Bingham was the officiating minister.

Our January auxiliary meeting was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hull. Thirty-three members were present. The program was interesting and well given. Mrs. Hull, Miss Avis Hull, and Mrs. Earl Baxter were joint hostesses.

Rev. and Mrs. Harkey were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beam.

MRS. B. L. HEAVNER.

Lineberry M. P. Church Auxiliary.—The auxiliary held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Elliott last Saturday afternoon, January 7, with Mrs. E. D. Lanier as leader of this month's program. Meeting opened with a song, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Marshall Skeen. Prayer by Mrs. W. H. Neese. Meditation was given by Mrs. Neese, also a very interesting talk on Christian Unity in India. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Whit Wood. Poem was given by Mrs. Vernon Hall. Our auxiliary is using "Moving Millions," each member reading the book, and then it is to be reviewed.

The business session was conducted by the president, Miss Bruce Smith. Ten members were present to answer to the roll call. Minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Garven Elliott. Plans were discussed for thank-offering service. Repairs ordered for the parsonage by the auxiliary some time ago have been completed, which adds much to the looks and convenience of the parsonage.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. E. D. Lanier in February, with Mrs. Van Wood as program leader.

The hostess served delightful refreshments of sandwiches, cake, pickles, and coffee.

We feel that we have had a very successful year and much interest manifested, but not as good as we hope to have in the coming year, with our pastor's good wife, Mrs. Neese, who seems willing and ready to do her part in every good cause in Christian service.

I am reminded of a beautiful poem entitled, "Our Old Year Has Passed," which I am sharing with our readers as they approach the realities of an untried year.

Our Old Year Has Passed

Our old year has passed, its victories won;
An untried new one just begun.
The old has gone, can no more return,
Our new brings lessons we must learn.
Both joys and sorrows to our hearts still cling,
Which memories of the past oft bring;
Yet our loving Father understands
When we trust our all within His hands.
His strength and mercy never fail;
Love for His people shall prevail;
His righteous laws in love we must obey,
Their truth unchanged from yesterday.
If in Christ we live our world will be more blest,
When every heart shall learn to love Him best;
God's gracious gifts of sunshine and of rain,
Alike to all, and to each a share of pain,
The scattered tares among the fields of wheat
Must grow until the harvest is complete.
Who sows good seeds shall in gladness reap,
But who sows tares must some day weep.
O Father, teach us in sincere faith to pray
As thy blest Son taught us to say,
"May thy will be done, not mine."
And through this year of Thirty-nine,
There shall be less days we have lived in vain—
For we shall not pass this way again.

MRS. VAN B. WOOD, Reporter.

Randolph Circuit.—The work for the new conference year on Randolph circuit seems to be starting off in a very satisfactory way. Generous Thanksgiving offerings were received at each church for the Children's Home. Christmas was observed with appropriate exercises at all four of the churches. Since some of these services conflicted, the pastor had the privilege of attending only two of the services, Shiloh and Bethany. We received a generous pounding at Shiloh, consisting of almost everything needed for the pantry, and a shower of fruits and other articles from Bethel church. And the surprise came at Bethany. Besides a number of useful articles, this church presented the pastor a cash donation of $10.23. We are profoundly grateful to all these good people. It is our desire to serve them to the very best of our ability. Also many thanks to present and former members for the large number of Christmas cards.

"The charm of Christmas lies in the thought that we live in the memory of our friends."

Our first quarterly conference was largely attended, there being around 35 present. Dr. S. W. Taylor of Asheboro kindly consented to come and talk to us on Appreciation Year. He delivered an inspiring address and presided over the business session of the conference. Plans were outlined covering the entire year.

Young People's Day will be observed at each church in the near future.

Most of the most loyal people in our conference are on Randolph charge. May the Lord abundantly bless our efforts together.

H. L. ISLEY.

Macedonia, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge, J. H. Trolinger, Pastor.—Macedonia hasn't been heard from so much in the past, but we hope we can do better this year.

Our new pastor has filled three appointments. The members and friends of the church are well pleased with him. We miss Mr. and Mrs. Cowan and hope they like their new work.

In closing, we hope everyone has made a resolution to serve the Lord with his whole heart throughout this year.

MYRTLE SAUNDERS, Reporter.

Harmony Church, Yarborough Charge, J. F. Farr, Pastor.—There has been no report from our church since conference, but that does not mean that we have not been working. We have for our new pastor, Rev J. F. Farr from the Princeton charge of the M. E. conference. Although we regretted having to give up our former pastor, Rev. T. H. Vickery, we feel that we have been greatly blessed by having Rev. Mr. Farr sent to us. He has been delivering some splendid messages.

Since our last report we have organized two Christian Endeavor societies, a senior and junior society. The senior society has for its officers: president, Ralph Hughes; vice-president, Eleanor Knight; secretary, Mattielene Page; and treasurer, Sara Simpson. The Junior society, under the leadership of Misses Edna Hughes and Eleanor Knight, has for its officers: president, Opal Copeland; vice-president, Rebecca Jacques; secretary, Marian Lee; and treasurer, Sybil Knight.

The Senior Christian Endeavor society prepared and delivered baskets of fruit to all the older and sick members of the community on Christmas eve. Our Sunday school, as a gift to our pastor, gave him a pounding on Christmas eve.

We hope that this year will be as prosperous as the last year.

ELEANOR KNIGHT, Reporter.

First M. P. Church, High Point.—We have not reported since Christmas, but that does not mean we haven't been busy. It is a bit late to refer to Christmas, but we feel the Christmas programs should be mentioned. On Tuesday before Christmas the Sunday school gave its program and treat to the children. Each department was given an allotted time on the program, and the children were the participants. The program was well received, to say nothing of the treat! On Christmas morning Hawley's "Christ Child," a beautiful cantata, was presented by the choir. Many considered this the best musical program ever presented by the choir. At the Christmas meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary the Junior church was hostess. A pageant, "The Old, Old Story," was given. The stage was attractively decorated as a living room, and after the impressive pageant refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table by the children. Arnold Koonce, as Santa Claus, distributed gifts. Gilbert Grey told Dickens' Christmas Carol, and Janet Edwards sang "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" during the social hour.

A well attended, interesting meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held Monday afternoon, January 16, at the church. Mrs. J. M. Millikan gave a report on the meeting of the Woman's Work held in Lexington last Thursday. Howard Leak, a student at the college and a member of our church, spoke on the Young People's Work in our local church. During this month the young people are sponsoring Sunday night services. They have been singing in the choir every Sunday night and will have complete charge of the service the last Sunday night this month.

Mr. Madison has been using as his theme for the evening services this month, "Religious Art." His subject Sunday night was on "Sistine Madonna." Thus far these services have been well attended. A 5x8 print of each of these masterpieces studied is given to every member of the congregation.

The Girl Scouts have taken a small unused room in the church basement and are making a most attractive work shop. The Boy Scouts have been helping them paint. Miss Myrtle Cates, capable leader of the girls, has developed our troop into one of the outstanding Scout groups in town.

We were glad to welcome into our church fellowship recently Mrs. Ivan Hill, Mrs. W. C. Koonce, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Farlowe.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

Richland Circuit, C. L. Grant, Pastor.—We are still pressing on. We hope we are making some improvement. Our congregations are still encouraging. The Sunday school rooms at Charlotte are about complete. This will add a great deal to our Sunday school. We have organized a Christian Endeavor at Charlotte with a good number of members. The young people are showing a great deal of interest. At Browers Chapel the church has been underpinned. This adds a great deal to the appearance and comfort. Also new steps have been built. At Giles Chapel a new circulator adds a great deal to the comfort during this cold weather. The new part of the graveyard has been graded and will be sowed in grass this spring. Plots will be for sale to those desiring them. Other improvements will be made here in the early future.

We plan to hold a memorial service at Giles Chapel the third Sunday in May. The program will be announced later.

No special improvements to be mentioned at Cedar Falls, but here we have an interesting congregation and the church is moving along in a fine way.

Union has an interesting Sunday school and a very interesting prayer meeting going on. They report very often professions during the prayer meeting. The congregations here for the preaching services are good.

Giles Chapel and Browers have paid the A. C. Expense. Charlotte and Cedar Falls are about ready to pay this. We hope to meet all these claims as they come due. Pastor's salary is about paid to date.

We wish to express our appreciation to all who have given presents and gifts to the family, and helped in preparing our wood for the stoves: to Mr. J. D. Ross for his remembering us, and we wish to express our appreciation to Dr. Dempsey Barnes and Dr. Soady for their kind services during the illness of the children.

Best wishes to the Herald readers.

C. L. GRANT.

◆

Pensacola, W. C. Clark, Pastor.—Mrs. Emma Hensley recently bought new song books for the church.

On Christmas day the Sunday school was given a treat of candy and oranges. We also remembered our pastor with a small gift when he filled his appointment that day.

Mrs. F. E. Wilson and T. J. Wilson recently paid some on the painting of the church. The Sunday school gave a Christmas program.

MRS. W. G. BLANKENSHIP.

◆

Flat Rock Charge.—Our first quarterly conference was held at Bethel. All the churches were represented. All the business was harmoniously transacted. Annual conference budget was accepted in full. The conference approved the effort to raise the general conference budget in full. Substantial payments on pastor's salary have been made by all the churches to date.

During the Christmas season the work remembered us with many nice and valuable gifts, for which we are thankful. Our congregations are gratifying. The people are attentive to the Word and seem much interested in the services. Our Sunday schools are thoroughly alive and interesting. Our Ladies' Aids are doing excellent work. Recently the Ladies' Aid at Flat Rock church has beautified the church grounds with shrubbery at a cost of about $60. The people of Bethany have recently covered their church.

PASTOR.

◆

First M. P. Church. Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor.—The District Rally meeting, including the Mecklenburg and Rockingham charges with our church in Charlotte, was held at the Charlotte church last Sunday at 3 p.m. The devotionals were conducted by Rev. J. W. Short, pastor of the Mecklenburg charge, with Rev. T. E. Strickland presiding.

Discussions were held on subjects of great interest to every Methodist Protestant member. The first discussion was led by Rev. R. L. Vickery on "Personal Evangelism." He used scripture found in first chapter of John, verses 35-42, as a basis for his discussion. "How to Increase Church Attendance" was discussed by Rev. J. W. Short. Three points were very outstanding: deepening the spiritual life and spiritual awakening; making religion real; and the handicap of the empty pew may be overcome by communion and fellowship.

Mrs. E. T. Bullard, a member of the Ladies' Aid society of Rockingham, reported on the splendid work done in their society, giving some very interesting and helpful suggestions. Mrs. B. W. Little, of Charlotte, gave a very interesting talk on "My Appreciation for the M. P. Annual Conference." Mrs. Little has for many years been an active member in the M. P. church. Even though she makes Hawthorne Lane M. E. church her church home, she is vitally interested in the Methodist Protestant church. "My Appreciation of the Methodist Protestant Church" was discussed by Mr. R. S. Garmon, layman of the First M. P. church, Charlotte. Family tradition in the Methodist Protestant church has created for Brother Garmon a deeper appreciation for the M. P. church. Rev. Michael Garmon and Rev. Hubbard W. Peeples organized the first M. P. church in this district at Midland.

Oen forum was held on the proposed methods of raising both general and annual conference budgets. A strong feeling was manifested by all to raise all assessments. We feel that this meeting created a deeper interest in our work.

A program will be launched, Mr. Strickland has said, beginning January 29, to raise our annual conference claims. Young People's Day will be observed and a special offering for World Service claims taken Sunday night, January 29, at which time a play will be presented by the young people of the church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charlotte church will meet with Mrs. J. H. McCall, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. This meeting is a meeting of the Day Circle. The Night Circle will meet Monday night with Mrs. W. J. Lazenby.

Mr. Strickland began a series of sermons for better Christian living based on the Ten Commandments, Monday evening, January 8. His first subject was a very serious question, "Whom shall I put first in my life?" The subject for last Sunday evening was "Keep your eye on the goal," based on the second commandment. The subject for Sunday evening, January 22, will be, "To thine own self be true." We invite you to come and worship with us.

HELEN McCALL, Reporter.

◆

Chapel Hill, Davidson Charge, W. H. Neese, Pastor.—At the request of the Chapel Hill reporter I am reporting in her stead this week.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. the Chapel Hill auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Wade Smith with ten members and two visitors present. The program was in charge of Miss Bruce Smith. The theme was Christian Unity in India. Those having part on the program were Mesdames Van Surratt, C. L. Surratt, Raymond Steed, and Misses Bruce Smith and Sylvia Morris. The next program will be in charge of Mrs. A. C. Harris and the meeting will be with Miss Bruce Smith. Ways and means for raising money were discussed and it was decided to order and sell Skidoo. Some time prior to the meeting Mrs. Van Surratt had made an apron and placed thereon a pocket. The apron was then sent out on its mission of collecting money. Each person was asked to give one penny for each inch of waist measure. When the time came to count the pennies it was found that the apron had brought in something over $7. This amount went on the stove fund. The president, Mrs. Van Surratt, then made the pastor's wife a present of the apron. At this service it was decided to hold a thank-offering service the third Sunday in March. Each auxiliary member was given a thank-offering box. The ladies seem very much interested in the auxiliary work, as was shown by the splendid attendance at the quarterly meeting in Lexington last Thursday. Chapel Hill and Lineberry auxiliaries were represented by the following ladies: Mesdames Van Surratt, C. L. Surratt, A. C. Harris, Wade Smith, Garvin Elliott, Whitt Wood, Van Wood, W. H. Neese, and Miss Bruce Smith. The men going were Mr. A. C. Harris and Rev. W. H. Neese.

Just to show the Herald readers the Chapel Hill ladies put things across when they begin a thing, will say this: one month ago today a movement was started to get a new heating system. Today when we went in the church we found a nice new wood stove already serving the purpose and an oil circulator ready for use when needed, and the good part about it is it is nearly all paid for.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at Chapel Hill today and a large number of the members communed.

The people are still remembering us with good things for our table and for our comfort. The latest donors are Mrs. Whitt Wood, Mrs. Edd Morris, Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. Effie Varner, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. Nichols and Mr. Van Wood. To all we say, Thank you. We are indebted to Mr. A. W. Surratt and Mr. Van Surratt for the cook stove that we found here when we moved. We appreciate their kindness in making it possible to have something on which to cook the good things our friends are giving us to eat.

We have found the people at Chapel Hill, as well as the other churches on the work, kind and appreciative, and we are hoping and praying that this may be a great year for us all, as we work and plan for the advancement of God's Kingdom here on earth.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

◆

Worthville, Randleman Charge, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—Our church and Sunday school work is, we feel, making progress. On the first Sunday we had a very good Sunday school. Spiritual and worth-while talks were made by Mr. F. E. Allred, assistant superintendent, and Mr. Ralph Jennings, secretary. Each Sunday the most important part of the lesson is brought out by some one of the different classes. Our attendance has increased with the beginning of the new year, and we are encouraged and hope that better work will be done his year than ever.

Our pastor is faithful, filling each appointment with good messages.

Most of our members have been blessed with good health so far this winter, except for colds, which have not yet kept them from attending the Sunday services.

MRS. C. O. BYRD, Reporter.

◆

Shiloh, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday at 11 o'clock. His subject was "The Soul's Vision." Scripture lesson is found in the 28th chapter of Genesis. Get your Bible and read this chapter and you who did not hear this splendid sermon will find in this scripture one whose soul had a vision and thus was stirred to action, which is always the result of a vision.

Mr. Ray Leatherman is our Herald Agent for this year. He has proven his ability to fill this place very efficiently in the past

◆

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

MARRIED

Foster-Smith

A marriage of much interest throughout the Liberty Hill and surrounding communities was that of Miss Grace Hortense Foster to Hobart Franklin Smith on Dec. 25, at 4 o'clock p. m.

The marriage took place at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Stogner of near Simpsonville with the attendance of a few relatives and friends. The bride wore a lovely suit cf teal blue with wine accessories.

Mrs. Smith is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Foster of the Liberty Hill church community near Greer, S. C., and the teacher of the Boy's Intermediate Class cf that church. She received her education at Reidsville High School.

Mr. Smith is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Smith of the Fulton church community and president of the Senior C. E. Society of Liberty Hill Church. He received his education at the Duncan High School.

The couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

◆

Stafford-Roberson

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony united in holy wedlock Miss Mattie Mae Stafford and Charles D. Roberson at the Methodist Protestant parsonage in Kernersville Saturday, December 24, 1938, at 7 o'clock in the evening. The ring ceremony of the Methodist Protestant Church was used, the writer officiating. Attendants for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Marshall, of Kernersville, whose marriage was solemnized in Winston-Salem two hours earlier.

For the ceremony, the bride was attired in a dark blue velvet outfit, fur coat of gray and accessories of black. Mrs. Roberson is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Mattie Stafford and the late James Stafford, of Kernersville, and has been employed in the office of the Southern Silk mills here. She is a graduate of the Kernersville high school.

Mr. Roberson is a son of George Roberson and the late Mrs. Roberson, of Alamance County, where he resided until four years ago when he became connected with the Southern Silk mills in Kernersville.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple departed for their bridal tour which included Washington, D. C., and other northern cities. They will reside at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mattie Stafford, who is a member of the Kernersville Methodist Protestant church. Mr. Roberson and his immediate family are members of Bethel Methodist Protestant church, on Alamance Charge.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50e at your druggist.

FOR QUICK HEADACHE RELIEF
STANBACK
10¢ - 25¢

Mr. and Mrs. Roberson, who are quite popular in Kernersville, have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy married life.

C. B. WAY.

◆

Baxter-Wright

On December 28 Ferman Alexander Wright and Margaret Mittie Baxter were united in marriage by E. A. Bingham, uncle of the bridegroom at the Union Grove parsonage. The ring ceremony of the Methodist Protestant Church was used.

Mrs. Baxter is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Ida Baxter of Cherryville, N. C. She received her education at North Brook High School and Appalachian Teacher's College at Boone.

Mr. Wright is the son of W. A. Wright and Dillie Wright of Fallston, N. C. He is a graduate of Fallston High School and High Point College. He is looking forward to finisching his theological work and being one of our ministers in the Methodist Church.

They have our prayers and best wishes for a happy and prosperous journey through life.

E. A. BINGHAM.

◆

Green-Hayworth

On Friday, December the 23rd, Miss Mildred Green and Mr. Clayton Hayworth were united in holy matrimony, in the writers parsonage home at Lineberry Church. Davidson Charge. Both bride and groom are prominent young people of Mt. Pleasant, North Davidson Charge. The ceremony was witnessed by a few close friends of the contracting parties. Our best wishes follow them.

WM. H. NEESE.

◆

Swicegood-Leonard

On Friday, December 23, at 5:00 p. m., a beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride when Miss Naomi Swicegood became the wife of Grady L. Leonard.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Swicegood of Lexington, R. 3, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harper A. Leonard, also of Lexington, R. 3. Rev. C. E. Ridge, pastor of the bride and groom, was the officiating minister and those in attendance at the wedding were the relatives and friends of the Leonard and Swicegood families. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard are both graduates of Reeds high school, and both are active members of Shiloh church. Their many friends join us in heartiest congratulations.

◆

Mize-Everhart

On Saturday evening, December 24, a wedding of interest to their many friends in this community took place at Shiloh parsonage, when Miss Drucilla Mize became the bride of Mr. Otho Banks Everhart.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mize of Lexington, R. 4, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Everhart of the Bethesda community. This young couple received their education at Welcome high school, and they are very prominent in social and religious circles. Mrs. Everhart is an active member of Beulah Reformed church, while Mr. Everhart is a member of Bethesda M. P. church. Rev. C. E. Ridge heard the vows that united them in the holy bonds of matrimony, using the impressive ring ceremony of the Methodist Protestant church. They, too, have our heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.
Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

◆

Everhart-Byerly

On Saturday afternoon, December 24, at Shiloh parsonage, the writer united in marriage Miss Alda Everhart, of Lexington, and Mr. Henry Byerly, of the Greer's Chapel community.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Everhart of Lexington, received her education in the city schools, and is a member of the Second Reformed church. The groom was educated in the Churchland high school and is a member of Greer's M. P. church. Again we extend congratulations and very best wishes.

◆

Fletcher-Pritchard

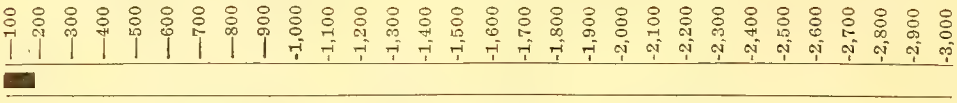
On Christmas morning at 9 o'clock in the President's parsonage in High Point Miss Ruby Pauline Fletcher was united in marriage to Wilbur Dixon Pritchard, the ring ceremony being used by the writer who is an uncle of the bridegroom. Mrs. Pritchard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fletcher of High Point. She attended High Point High School and for some time has held a position in the office of the Adams-Millis Corporation in High Point. Mr. Pritchard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pritchard of High Point and is a graduate of High Point High School and of the North Carolina State College at Raleigh. Since the time of his graduation in 1933 he has held a responsible position with the Adams-Millis Corporation in High Point. Mrs. Pritchard is a member of the South Main Street M. E. Church, South, in High Point, while Mr. Pritchard is an active member of the First Methodist Protestant church.

These young people are now at home to their friend on Boulevard street in High Point. May they have happiness and success in life.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	7½	....
Albemarle	20	...	...
Anderson	32	½	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	4½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	2¾	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	18	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	....	....
Creswell	29	....	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	5	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	2½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	2¼	....
Flat Rock	77	....	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	2½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	....	...
Graham	30	1	....
Granville	58	1	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	...	....
Greensboro, W. End	25	5	*7.50
Greensville	55	4½	....
Guilford	37	½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	2	...
Henderson	35	6½	*10.00
High Point, First	75	2½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¼	..
Lexington, First	48	3	...
Lexington, State Street	28	1	...
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	.
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	...	....
Mt. Hermon	99	7	.
Mt. Pleasant	62	6¾	....
Mt. Zion	16	..	....
North Davidson	36	2½	...
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	4	..
Pleasant Grove	17	2	...
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	2¾	....
Randolph	78	3¼	....
Reidsville	13	4	....
Richland	35	4½	....
Roberta	29	....	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	....	5.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	1	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	1½	....
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3	....
Tabernacle	40	3½	....
Thomasville, Community	18	....	....
Thomasville, First	25	3½	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	3	....
Weaverville	20	¼	....
West Forsyth	68	7½	....
Whitakers	8	....	....
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous		3½	....

◆

FROM PASTORS AND PEOPLE

(Continued from Page Fourteen)

several years. We are sure there will soon be renewals and new subscriptions to the Herald rolling in to the editor, and we will soon have our quota raised.

The 11th District Rally will be held at Greer's Chapel the fifth Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

At the close of our preaching service January 15 our pastor opened the doors of the church and Mrs. Prather Koonts and Mr. Hollis Lanning were received into membership. They come by letter, Mrs. Koonts from State Street church, Lexington, and Mr. Lanning from Reeds Baptist. We cordially welcome them to a place among us.

There continues to be illness in our church family. We are praying that they may have a speedy recovery.

Pray for us that we may grow stronger in the Lord's work.

MRS. KYLE SINK, Reporter.

◆

Calvary Church.—It has been a long time since Calvary church has had a report in these columns. However, this does not mean that we have not been doing things—only the fault of a new reporter.

We are indeed pleased to have Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Stubbins returned to our church for another year. Everyone enjoys Mr. Stubbins' good sermons, and by his kindly visits he brings cheer to those who are sick or in sorrow. The church attendance is increasing at both morning and evening services. The financial plans for the new year have been launched with a good response by the membership. Every department of the church work seems to be alive and active, from the Sunday school through the C. E. societies and the three young people's missionary societies. We try to stress the work of the young people, believing that the future of the church is dependent upon them. Our choir has taken on new life under the direction of Mr. J. Westley White, a musician of fine training and much experience. Our former director, Mr. Arthur Fiddler, of High Point, favors us with solos ocasionally, and we always appreciate his presence and help.

PEARL McCULLOCH, Reporter.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

◆

OUR FRIENDS PLEASE NOTE

Mrs. A. A. Ramsey sent us a special offering at Christmas in memory of her 15-year-old son who was called home on Christmas eve, 1937. She designated how the money was to be spent, and it has been spent as she said. The letter was written from Lillington, N. C., and was postmarked Lillington, N. C. We answered the letter and mailed it to Lillington, N. C., but it came back today. We try to answer all letters, but the circumstances clustering about this letter made us wish to answer specially. So we regret to have the answer come back. A card from anyone giving us the full address of Mrs. Ramsey will be greatly appreciated.

A few other letters have come back, and now we have no way of answering unless we hear from the same persons again. The street address or R. F. D. number will aid us in getting replies to the proper place. We thank you, and hope in this way to reach our good friend, Mrs. Ramsey, that she may know that we received and appreciate her gift.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder
and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 26, 1939 NUMBER 11

Rev HL Isley 2feb9 M1

The Peril of Being Comfortable

By Ryland Knight

There is real peril in being comfortable. Our very comfortableness tends to dry up our sympathies, narrow our horizons, limit our interests, dwarf our generosity, deaden our souls. We have enough to eat; it is hard for us to visualize those whom hunger stares in the face each morning. Our children going comfortably to school blind us to orphans with no language but a cry, and wistful youths deprived of the education they long for by the lack of a few dollars. We go freely to church when we wish; so we forget that in other lands men are in prison at this very hour for attempting that same privilege. Someone taught us the gospel message with no effort on our part. We lose sight of the multiplied millions—thousands of them in our own city—who know nothing of our Christ. We have adequate facilities for work and worship. We fail to realize that men and women from homes like ours have gone out to other lands as our representatives, hazarding their lives for the Lord Jesus, preaching in dingy meeting houses that will not hold the crowds who seek to come, doing their work of healing in insanitary buildings with dirt floors, seeking to carry on for Christ, but constantly hampered by inadequate facilities. If they could sit in our pews for this one day, and we could stand in their place of service, they would never again have to ask us for whole-hearted support. But we are at ease in Zion. And being comfortable our souls are shriveling, our sympathies are stagnating. May God enlarge our hearts!

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

A Sunday On the Mocksville Charge

Last Sunday was spent with the pastor of the Mocksville charge, Rev. K. G. Holt, with two appointments, Union Chapel at 11 a. m. and Dulin's at 2:30 p. m. I did not visit this charge last year either on Sunday or during the week but did put it on the calendar for an early visit this year. On the way up last Sunday rain began falling and continued until near the hour for the church services. But at Union Chapel Sunday morning there was fairly good attendance at the Sunday school and all of these remained for the morning services. It had been a little more than twenty years since I had visited this church, the last and only other time to visit it was when I held a revival there for Rev. T. F. McCulloch in August, 1918. Several of the people who were active in the work at that time are still there. Some of these remembered me and I remembered them. Printed bulletins were used in the services Sunday morning giving the order of services and announcements. Brother Holt seems to be at ease in handling the services and everything went off smoothly. Both the bulletin and Brother Holt emphasized the fact that they wanted to raise Annual Conference Expenses and Delegates' Expenses to the Uniting Conference during this month and next. I trust they may succeed. It really was a pleasure to be at this church again and to renew former acquaintances.

My visit to Dulin's in the afternoon was my first there. This church is something like five miles northeast of Mocksville while Union Chapel is five or six miles northwest. The congregation at Dulin's was not large but seemed to be interested. Really I was well impressed by their evident sincerity of purpose to make the church work successful in the community. There were several intelligent looking young people in the services which always gives promise for the future. The organist was not present and there seemingly being no one else to ''hist the tune'' it became my opportunity to play that part. But the people sang lustily and seemed to follow my leadership. They seemed to be good listeners and rather easy to preach to. Here also as at the morning appointment printed bulletins were used. This is Brother Holt's second years on this charge and the work seems to be starting off well. The quarterly conference has accepted all of the assessments handed down to them by the annual conference and an effort will be made to raise them. I trust this charge may have a good year.

Young People's Day

Again I am calling attention to the importance of observing Young People's Day throughout our conference. If this has not been provided for for next Sunday then plan for it for another Sunday. The most of our churches will find it possible to use the programs sent out from headquarters but those churches which think they cannot use this program can observe the day by having a special sermon to the young people with the young people furnishing the music and acting as ushers. By all means let every church take an offering for young people's work as this counts on World Service.

Appreciation Year Meeting at Grace Church Feb. 20th.

A letter from Dr. S. W. Taylor who is the director for the southeastern area of the Appreciation Year Committee informs me that Dr. J. H. Straughn, the President of the General Conference can be in North Carolina for an Appreciation Year Meeting on Monday, February 20th. This meeting will be held at Grace Church in Greensboro and will be conference wide. It will be under the joint leadership of the Southeastern Area Committee and the Conference Committee. It will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will last through the afternoon. A full list of speakers in addition to Dr. Straughn will be announced as quickly as possible. In the meantime let every pastor plan to go to Grace Church on Monday, February 20th and let each pastor take some of his laymen. Announcement will be made later as to the noon meal.

Going To Duke Hospital

As a great many of you know my physical condition has been at a low ebb for the past several weeks. This condition has baffled my family physician and two or three other specialists. So, on tomorrow morning—Tuesday—I expect to go to Duke University Hospital for observation to try to determine the cause. In the meantime if you need to write me address me at 909 West College Drive, High Point, for I may not find it necessary to remain very long at Duke.

More About The HERALD Campaign

I am suggesting to all of our people that they read the splendid article on the Methodist Protestant Herald by Rev. T. G. Madison as printed in the Herald last week. This article shows very clearly what the Herald has meant to our conference and to our people generally. Having been in the business of getting subscriptions ever since I entered the conference I know that the way to get subscriptions is to go out and solicit them personally. Very few subscriptions have ever come in as a result of an appeal from the pulpit although that has its place. It is good preparation to present the matter from the pulpit but it must be followed up by a personal solicitation. Let Herald agents and pastors be very busy these days for the people need the Herald and the Herald needs the subscribers. Having had the responsibility of running the paper for two years I know something of what it means to try to finance the paper. We must not leave all of this to the editor but we must help him.

Appointments

Sunday, January 29th, 11 a. m. Denton, Canaan in afternoon.

Sunday, February 5th, West Forsyth-Stony Knoll 9:45 a. m. and Baltimore at 11:15 a. m.

Tuesday, February 7th, 10:30 a. m. Western Pastors' Federation at Roberta.

Sunday, February 12th, 11 a. m. Reidsville.

J. E. Pritchard.

''If temperance prevails, then education can prevail; if temperance fails, then education must fail.''—Horace Mann.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV | GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 26, 1939 | NUMBER 11

A Prayer All Might Pray

O Lord, grant me so to love thee, with all my heart, with all my mind, and with all my soul, and my neighbor for thy sake, that the grace of charity and brotherly love may dwell in me, and all envy, harshness, and ill will may die in me; and fill my heart with feelings of love, kindness and compassion, so that, by constantly rejoicing in the happiness and good success of others, by sympathizing with them in their sorrows, and putting away all harsh judgments, and envious thoughts, I may follow thee, who art thyself the true and perfect love.—Dr. Harry E. Fosdick.

Many men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties.—C. H. Spurgeon.

Every noble work is at first impossible.—Thomas Carlyle.

Let us beware of losing our enthusiasm. Let us ever glory in something, and strive to retain our admiration for all that would ennoble, and our interest in all that would enrich and beautify our life.—Phillips Brooks.

The one prudence in life is concentration; the one evil is dissipation; and it makes no difference whether our dissipations are coarse or fine.—Emerson.

Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength and my redeemer.—The Psalmist.

◆

Judging Spiritual Truth

There is a common and a very erroneous opinion that a bad man may be as good a judge of spiritual truth as a good man. This is based, we suppose, upon the assumption that all knowledge is gained the same way. That the mysteries of grace is understood by the method used in learning the multiplication table or the rules of syntax. But St. Paul declares that "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness to him; and he cannot know them, for they are spiritually discerned." That what a bad man is so darkens his mind and dulls his heart that he is unable to discern the mysteries of grace. The only true judge of spiritual truth is the saint. The Psalmist exhorts us, "O taste and see that the Lord is good." We can never know the fulness of pardon and the power of that love which never faileth except through experience. Yes, there are humble saints whose knowledge of history and science is so small they may be termed ignorant, yet they have walked with God so long, that the great scholars of the Hebrew and Greek languages may sit at their feet with profit. The judge of spiritual truth is the saint.

◆

"So Run"

St. Paul was a modernist, in that is he so phrased his messages that those to whom he wrote saw the relation of spiritual truth to the every day life they were living. He more than once refers to the Christian life as a race to be run. And in this race all may run but one receiveth a prize. He here exhorts, "So run that ye may obtain." When Ramsey MacDonald was Prime Minister of England he delivered an address on the Secret of Success, there is one point in that I recall, he said one ought always to do his best. That is admittedly the way to win—do your best; so run as to obtain. And if one really does his best and fails to win he has not lost, though he did not receive the prize. There are many among us who seem never to be embued with the desire to do their best with life. They live a Micawber sort of way expecting something to "turn up" that will bring success. It rarely does. We have seen teachers in the Sunday school just "killing time" with all sorts of devices; they were teaching to get through, rather than to get some truth across. Once in a while you hear a sermon that is delivered the same way. You are impressed with the aim of the preacher, he has three or four points to be elaborated, some illustrations to tell—enough of them to last for thirty minutes and then he is satisfied. All of us may need to heed this injunction of the Apostle, "So run that ye might obtain."

St. Paul was a winner. Although he was a man with great accomplishments he had many obstacles to overcome, some of them great enough to defeat a man so great as he, but he was a winner. And during the last year of his life he writes to Timothy, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished the course; kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." "So run."

◆

APPRECIATION YEAR RALLIES

Arrangements have been made for Appreciation Year Rallies in the Eighth District, as follows: Randleman charge, Mt. Lebanon church, first Sunday in February; Richland charge, Brower's Chapel, second Sunday in February; Why Not-Love Joy charge, Why Not church, third Sunday in February. The hour for each rally is 2:30 p. m. The program will be arranged to consume about one hour and thirty minutes. Addresses will be made by visiting speakers to be announced later.

We are conferring with pastors of other charges in the district, and expect to be able to announce more rallies to be held in due time.

S. W. Taylor, Chairman.

January 19, 1939.

◆

THIRD DISTRICT RALLY

The Third District Rally will be held at Salem Church, Saxapahaw Charge, Sunday, January 29, 1939. The program will start at 2:00 p. m.

Devotion, by Rev. M. C. Henderson. Rev. Geo. R. Brown will speak on the subject: "Gratitude for the Methodist Protestant Church." Mrs. R. M. Andrews will speak on the subject: "Appreciation Year—Women's Part." We will have special music by Saxapahaw quartet and Hebron church quartet.

D. I. Garner, District Chairman.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER DECLARES HIS LOVE

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, January 29

Lesson Text—John 21:11-19.

Golden Text—If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments.—John 14:15.

If Peter in his wretched denial was the outstanding occasion that revealed the weakness and meanness of human nature he is in his dramatic reclaimation the occasion that brings to us the outstanding attribute of Christ. Human sinfulness is an old story but Divine forgiveness as seen in Christ is amazingly new. Other religions have many of the elements that are found in the Christian religion but in the reclaiming of sinful life from the powers of sin Christianity is unique. Judaism dealt with sin and the sinner but with sin it had only "thou shalt not" and for the sinner it had only punishment—even death in many cases. God through Christ demands restitution but that demand works to restore the soul of the sinner. "The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not dispise." "The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit." Thus in this touching scene in which Jesus so carefully and kindly brings about the restoration of poor wretched Peter we see this process of God's redemptive quality in action.

Since all of us have sinned like Peter and often come short of the glory of God this fact of God's attitude of loving redemption from this sin is the keynote of this lesson for us. Beecher once said that when a man undertakes to repent toward his fellowman, it is repenting straight up a precipice; that when he repents toward public sentiment, it is throwing himself into a thicket of brambles and thorns; that when he repents toward the law it is repenting in the crocodile's jaw; but when he repents toward God, he repents toward all love and mercy. Of course it is Peter's broken and contrite heart that led him back to the Christ that he had sinned against but before the thought of repentance as a solution for our sinful predicament must come this consoling reality that God will regard our wretched state with pity and salvation. The climax of the famous Prodical Son story as told by Christ was perhaps at the point where the Prodical seeing that he had sinned against his father decided to return but the element of the story that has made it immortal was the scene wherein the father fell on his neck and kissed him.

"'Tis love! 'Tis love! thou diedst for me!
I hear thy whisper in my heart;
The morning breaks, the shadows flee;
Pure universal love thou art:
To me, to all, thy mercies move;
Thy nature and thy name is Love!"

The tenderness and long suffering kindness of Jesus Christ are nowhere more clearly illustrated than in his dealings with Peter. That tender, disappointed, beseeching look that He gave Peter is one of the strongest incidents of the whole story of His human life. Then in these thorough, heart-searching words of "Lovest thou me" are to be found the far-reaching nature of his salvation. He did not send that piercing sentence home three time to punish Simon for his three denials, but rather that he might make his joy of forgiveness to be full. His is no patched up job of soul appeasement; when Christ restores a soul it is restored from even the most crimson red to whiteness of snow.

Having declared the love of Christ as seen in this lesson we would not fail also to emphasize the glory of Peter in declaring his love as is intimated in the lesson subject. Our hopes for his salvation in last Sunday's lesson were left suspended on that side glance of the denial scene which told us that after this dastardly act Peter was seen to go out and weep bitterly. His ability to declare his love after the resurrection rested on the nature of that remorse. Remorse is not always a sign of repentance. At times men can have remorse for a sin and yet not have repentance which we have said is necessary for salvation. It was remorse and not repentance that led Saul to say: "I have sinned." David sinned as greatly as did Saul but his was true repentance that said: "I have sinned against the Lord." Pharaoh prayed: "Take away the plague." David prayed: "Pardon mine iniquity; take away the guilt." Worldly sorrow seeks to escape punishment; Godly sorrow, to escape the cause of it. Peter's reaction to the searching words of the Master's puts his sorrow in the bracket of Godly sorrow—sorrow that drove him to repentance towards God. The incident at the hands of Jesus stirred in him a deep love that from henceforth enabled him to keep Christ's Commandments.

"'Tis the part of a coward to brood
O'er the past that is withered and dead;
What tho the heart's roses are ashes and dust?
What tho the heart's music is fled?
Still shine the grand heaven o'er head,
Whence the voice of an Angel thrills clear on the soul,
Gird about thee thine armor, press on to the goal."

PAUL HAMILTON HAYNE.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT RALLY

The Eleventh District Rally will meet at Greer's Chapel Church, Shiloh Charge, Sunday, January 29, from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. A good program has been arranged and every minute is going to be full of interest, and information about "Our Church", what it has done, its present program, and its future.

The following speakers are to appear on the program: Rev. Kenneth Holt, Mrs. Wiley Shoaf, Rev. L. E. Mabry, Rev. O. C. Loy, and Rev. A. Ridge.

Come on folks from the 11th District and lets encourage these speakers by giving them a packed house. That would certainly be a thrill to all of us.

C. E. RIDGE, Chairman.

Careful attention to one thing often proves superior to genius and art.—Cicero.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

THE MAN WITH THE HOE

By Edwin Markham

As an illustration for an article appearing in the magazine section of the New York Times for the Sunday just past there was a cartoon bearing the title of the poem selected for this week's consideration, showing ''The Man With the Hoe'' bowed under the weight of present day burdens, wars, old hatreds, arms, economic problems, taxes. In 1899 America was emerging from the War with Spain and caught in an industrial turmoil that, although it did not approach in scope or seriousness the world-wide uphaeval of today forced thoughtful people into a growth of social consciousness and ideas of responsibilities toward their bellow-beings that they had not known before.

It was on January 15th of that year that there appeared in the San Francisco Examiner ''The Man With the Hoe, a poem that so incorporated all the problems of the time, so intensified the unrest that was in the air, that it transcended the country and the times that called it into being and voiced the indignation of all humanitarians everywhere, not against toil itself, but against the drudgery and soul-destroying exploitation of labor. Immediately the lines appeared in every part of the globe; they were quoted and copied in every walk of life, in the literary as well as the labor world. Some one called the poem ''the battle-cry of the next thousand years;'' and Joaquin Miller said of it that it ''contained the whole Yosemite—the thunder, the might, the majesty'' of it. Louis Untermeyer said: ''In the figure of one man with a hoe Markham drew a picture of men in the mines, men in the sweatshops, men working everywhere without joy, without hope. . . . To social consciousness he added social conscience.''

Edwin Markham owed the inspiration of this poem to Millet's painting bearing the same title. As he looked at the bowed, broken French peasant he became to him a symbol of the poverty-stricken, hopeless toiler in all lands. ''The Yeoman is the landed and well-to-do-farmer,'' he said, ''you need shed no tears for him. But here in the Millet picture is his opposite—the Hoeman; the landless workman of the world.''

In ringing blank verse the poem resounded, describing this ''montrous thing distorted and soul-quenched,'' and in terrible indicting questions, arraigning Mankind for its betrayal of humanity:

''Bowed by the weight ot centuries he leans
Upon his hoe and gazes on the ground,
The emptiness of ages in his face,
And on his back the burden of the world.
Who made him dead to rapture and despair,
A thing that grieves not and that never hopes,
Stolid and stunned, a brother to the ox?
Who loosened and let down this brutal jaw?
Whose was the hand that slanted back this brow?
Whose breath blew out the light within this brain?''

This creature is the Thing that crushing hopelessness had made of that which God decreed:

''To have dominion over sea and land;
To trace the stars and search the heavens for power;
To feel the passion for Eternity,''

and with prophetic awfulness the poet foresaw the destruction that must overtake the destroyer himself, and the danger in which the very universe itself must become involved.

With great imagery and lofty flights of imagination caused the poet to picture the loss of all that man may know and feel and be in his greatest and most inspired moments:

''What gulfs between him and the seraphim!
Slave of the wheel of labor, what to him
Are Plato and the swing of Pleiades?
What the long reaches of the peaks of song,
The rift of dawn, the reddening of the rose?''

But all these wonders of the universe are lost because of ignorance and cruelty and darkness.

In his poem, ''Caliban in the Mines,'' Louis Untermeyer in the voice of a worker in that never-ending darkness cried with a terrible poignancy:

''God, if you wish for our love,
Fling us a handful of stars!''

With somewhat less lyricism, but the same yearning desire for beauty and justice, Markham urged ''masters, lords, and rulers in all lands'' to touch again this distorted and soul-quenched shape with immortality:

''Give back the upward looking and the light,
Rebuild it in the music and the dream;
Make right the immemorial infamies,
Perfidious wrongs, immedicable woes.''

Poets from time to time have always been touched with the love of humanity, and in the past quarter of a century this has been increasingly true. A poet as new as Stephen Spender cries with an even more hopeful note that Markham himself of the Man who shall be made, ''bringing light to life.'' But the thought-provoking questions uttered with the true poetic fervor of imagination with which Markham closed his poem reach the very heart of humanitarianism. Not a sentimentality which identified itself with the famous and the powerful, but a sympathy, which, while it voiced hope and a faith in the ultimate triumph of justice, did not hesitate to penetrate to the very heart of injustice, crying to the ''Judges of the World'' a protest that is also a prophecy:

''O masters, lords and rulers in all lands,
How will the Future reckon with this man?
How answer his brute question in that hour
When whirlwinds of rebellion shake all shores?
How will it be with kingdoms and with kings—
With those who shaped him to the thing he is—
When this dumb terror shall rise to judge the world,
After the silence of the centuries?''

◆

When anyone has offended me I try to raise my soul so high that the offense cannot reach it.—Descartes.

DR. BETHEA BOOSTS THE CHURCH PAPERS

As an ex-booster for the Herald, I am not quite sure of what I should say. After having studied the reports of each so long and made out my letter from them it is pretty hard to keep off that line now. But as Dr. Bates is official booster now, will try to say some of the things that I have already said, for it would be hard to get into this field of saying a good word for the Herald and not get on territory that has already been covered.

If I were to tell you that it was necessary to eat good food, nutritious food, in order that the body might be strong, you might question what kind would be the best, but you would not question the fact that food should be taken at regular intervals to keep the body in a healthy state.

Now when we think of the many folks are simply guessing at what is going to be done in April at the Uniting Conference, without reading any of the plans that have been made, it is easy for us to take into our minds something that will not make us such healthy Methodists as we need to be when we get into the new set-up that is coming this year. I believe in the men who have been working on this thing. They are fair minded men. They are trying to carry out the will of the majority, and we remember that has been overwhelming. This shows us that we need to read the more in order that we may not be suspicious of the men, but that we may look for something bigger and better than we have ever been connected with before.

This writer is reading three Methodist papers now and the Missionary Record of our own denomination, and there are a great many things that are coming to light that are encouraging.

I am thoroughly convinced that the leaders are anxious that this thing shall mean more for us all and especially in the advancement of the Kingdom. So what I am trying to get at is that we need to read more and keep right up with what is going on. This can be done in a measure by reading the Herald. In a larger measure by reading other Methodist periodicals. Well, then; One of the big things for us Methodist Protestants to do here in North Carolina Conference is to keep our own paper so that we may have our side of it, and we believe that will give us a greater inspiration for what is to come.

May we not advance the interest of the entire cause by doing all we can for our own. Some said to me when I first came to Asheville that our cause here was languishing because we were waiting for union to come along and pick us up and get us going. I said well, folks do not like dead things. Curiosity seekers like to look at a corpse. We preachers have all found that out. But we will feel much better to get going and go in with our bands playing and our heads up because we have something to take in that others will want and we will not feel like we are slinking in, excuse the term for the lack of a more descriptive one, and we want to put something into it that will give a thrill to others as they join forces with us against evil.

This has had a wonderful effect. Our congregations has more than doubled. Our collections at first were very discouraging. They have been doubled in the last three weeks. A good neighbor asked me to lets have union services. I told him we could not pay our bills that way. We must be honest in order to be Christian. This is APPRECIATION YEAR! I want some of these claims paid if we cannot pay them all. I want you folks to take your church paper so you will not only know what is going on, but will help to carry a living institution into the new church. Won't that look better? Will not that be one way to be faithful? I am duty bound to the Methodist Protestant Church and its institutions till the day of her union with larger numbers. Let us do our best brethren, not simply to say we did it, but because we want to honor Him who has permitted us to live these years, and we are going in alive from every standpoint. Therefore lets subscribe, read, and induce others to take the Herald and carry on for this year, then to bigger and better things!

N. G. Bethea.

ANOTHER VOYAGE, NOT BY SEA

I continue to get many kinds of invitations for all sorts of Methodist occasions. It seems that since we have but one such general officer my name pops up as the natural person. As far as possible I'm saying "yes." If there were half a dozen of us it would ease the tension somewhat. But everywhere I go I get so much fine attention, and, and—shall I say, flattery! It's simply because our people in the other two churches are intent upon proving their sincerity in this matter of union. To see representatives of the three churches "ganging up" one would suppose they never had been separated, that it always had been this way. But, dear me! Had there been more of it in all three back over the years there would be less occasion for it now. But that's not the point. The point is, that it is so now and we are all happy about it.

Why have Christmas if you can't stay home for the joy of it! Tuesday after is too soon to be leaving it. And yet, out at Garrett, the theological school of the Northern church, there is held at this time each year what is known as "The College of Preachers," under direction of the Board of Education. It brings together about 125 of the annual conference education leaders, expenses all paid. And it's a great affair—about three and a half days with many of the leading minds of the church making the addresses. I felt like I had had a postgraduate course in theology. The general theme was "Man." Last year it was "God." My assignment was "The Worshipping Man—or, Man on His Knees." Should you want to check on me you can do so by securing the little booklet containing a digest of all the addresses. It is difficult to overestimate the value of a group like this, touching as it does the entire denomination in America. Personally I hope the institution will be continued in the new Church and that some of the rest of you will have the opportunity of addressing. The trouble about it though is that the Thing makes you work so hard to get ready for it.

You will remember that last year the Southern Church had a great Aldersgate program at Savannah under the auspices of the Missionary Council. This year the affair was at San Antonio, Texas. It was called the Unification session. The attendance seemed larged than at Savannah. The great church was crowded day after day. This time to my great satisfaction I was not the lone speaker from our Church. Dr. Hawley, chairman of our Board of Missions, made an address dealing with the Missionary Situation in our church. He made a fine job of it and got a fine reception and certainly made many more friends for our church. I came on the next day with my part on the Preparation of the Ministry for Deepening the Spiritual Life of the Church. But here again were many of the great leaders of this Southern church. They are indeed on the march in this church . The vigor, the vitality, the outlook they put in their work is amazing. Should any one suppose this Southern crowd is not alert to the days we live in will be pleasantly surprised when they know better. I doubt if there is a denomination in the entire country pursuing its task with more inspiring leadership and programs. But, returning to our part—Dr. Forney Hutchinson, one of their outstanding men, at the beginning of his address said: "It is becoming increasingly apparent that the Methodist Protestant Church will make a contribution to the United Church far out of proportion to their numbers." Not so bad, as a discovery. Of course, being modest, we've known it all along, haven't we!

Then, on my way back, I stopped off at Kansas City to speak to the joint Methodist Preachers Meeting. There again was a fine hearing. Bishop Mead is there and doing his part in this entertainment business, and it is a hard job. With Bishop John M. Moore we explored the vastness of that mighty auditorium. It is really a gorgeous affair. The main room seats about twenty thousand. A second beautiful theatre about two thousand and a smaller octagonal room about one thousand. In addition, there is vastness, upstairs and down with all sorts of committee rooms seating anywhere from fifty to five hundred. We'll surely be properly housed, and with amplification all over the building, even the timid soul can be heard, if he dare make a speech. Mighty things are ahead of us—and we need to be much in prayer.

JAS. H. STRAUGHN.

WESTERN PASTORS FEDERATION MEETING

The Western Pastors Federation will meet in Roberta M. P. Church on Tuesday, February 7, at 10:30. The ladies of the church will serve lunch for all who attend at a very small cost. Ministers are expected to bring their wives and some leading laymen from their respective charges.

A brief devotional service will be conducted by the chairman, and this will be followed by an address by Rev. E. A. Bingham on the subject, "How the HERALD Helps Our People, and the Work of Our Church." Following this we will hear an address by Dr. J. E. Pritchard, President of the North Carolina Conference.

In the afternoon we will have a short address session, this to be followed by two addresses. Rev. J. C. Madison will speak on, "The Methodist Protestant Church Is Neither Dead Nor Dying." The last speaker for the afternoon will be Rev. J. L. Ingram, pastor of Welcome Circuit, M. E. Church, South; subject, "After Union, What?"

I think we decided in our last meeting to invite some of our neighbor pastors in the churches uniting in this plan of Union to meet with us, and I hope you brethren will do this.

C. E. RIDGE, Chairman.
T. G. MADISON, Secretary.

FIFTEENTH DISTRICT RALLY

First Methodist Protestant Church
Albemarle, N. C., January 29

◆

Afternoon 3:00

Devotion .... Max Gantt.
What My Local Church Has Meant To Me and the N. C. Conference .... Rev. H. W. Bell.
Larger Fellowship In the New Church .... Rev. D. T. Huss.
Special Music.
Benediction .... Earl A. Cook.
Recess until 7:00 o'clock.

◆

Mrs. W. L. Little, District Chairman
Ladies' Auxiliary, In Charge

Hymn—"Come Thou Almighty King."
Scripture Lesson ... . Mrs. H. M. Tarleton.
Special Music.
Prayer .... Mrs. D. W. Sides.
Offering.
Special Music.
Religious Drama—"SHRINES" by Concord Church.
Hymn.
Benediction.

C. G. ISLEY, Cairman.

PROGRAM: 14th. DISTRICT RALLY

Mt. Moriah Church, January 29

11:00 A. M.

1. Hymn: Congregation.
2. Devotions: Rev. R. L. Hethcox.
3. Special Music: Polkville Glee Club.
4. What the Methodist Protestant Church Has Meant To Me: Rev. H. G. Garmon.
5. Special Music: Glee Club.
6. What We Are Taking Into the Union: Rev. T. G. Madison.
7. Business and Announcements.

Lunch.

1:30 P. M.

1. Hymn: Congregation.
2. Prayer: Rev. Herman Yokely.
4. What My Local Church Has Meant To Me: Mrs.
3. Special Music.
B. L. Heavener.
5. Special Music.
6. The Larger Fellowship In the New Church: Rev. W. L. Harkey.
7. Hymn: Congregation.
8. Benediction.

T. G. MADISON.

◆

The rikisha, long regarded as the symbol of the Orient, is fast disappearing in Japan. Motor busses, taxis and tramcars have forced the quaint man-drawn, two wheeled vehicle off the busy streets of most of the larger cities.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

Mrs. Hammer reports that the new pageant on India has been delayed. She will mail copies as soon as she receives them.

◆

DATE SET FOR WOMAN'S CONVENTION

Mrs. William C. Hammer who has just returned from a meeting in Pittsburgh, announced that the Annual Woman's Convention date has been changed from May to June on account of the Uniting Conference. The Convention will meet June 9 at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md.

This announcement was made to a group of present and past members of the Executive Board of the N. C. Branch of Woman's Work who were spending the day in Thomasville at the home of Mrs. J. H. Boyles, as guests of Mrs. Boyles and Mrs. H. C. Nicholson.

◆

THANK OFFERING

By Mrs J. Clay Madison.

One of the most ennobling influences of life is to be gripped by a sense of gratitude and in the spirit of sportsmanship seek to pay back in part at least that of which we have been the recipients. We can hardly think of a higher motive for righteous living than that of gratitude. We are often reminded of the debt we owe the home from which we came and of our responsibility of living up to the expectations of the parents therein. That is an institution in importance second to none. We are often reminded of the great nation of which we are citizens, the freedom and opportunity which it provides. It deserves our loyalty. Then we are most often told the story of Jesus Christ, His sacrifice, His love for us. What a debt of gratitude we owe to Him!

This year the Methodist Protestant Church is calling upon its members to give more liberally than ever before motivated by a sense of gratitude for their church. And why should we be thankful for our church? Let us remember that the Christian home has been nurtured and preserved in a culture conditioned by the Christian Church. Let us remember that our nation is what it is today because of a free church, free to proclaim its message, free to pronounce the judgments of God, free to give direction to public policies. Let us remember that the church is the channel through which the message of Christ has lived and found its way into distant cultures, through which that message has come to us today. The church began with a cross, it has lived as a result of great sacrifice, its freedom has been preserved at the price of blood, and yet it comes to us asking nothing but our loyal support and devotion in return. And what shall we do? In the spirit of honor and good sportsmanship are we not bound to give in return, to invest one more sacrifice in the life of this great institution? Surely that at whose hands we have received the greatest treasures of life has a claim upon us.

Thank Offering, gratitude for our church, that is our opportunity to share Jesus Christ with the world, whom through the church we have found. In the spirit of appreciation for what the church has done for us, that is our opportunity to give that church new life and new outreach by contributing liberally to its program.

◆

PASTOR HOWARD WRITES

It seems quite customary for the pastors to write at least one letter to the Herald and say how glad they are to be back with their people. Every preacher who has served in Eastern North Carolina knows how kindly the Servants of the Lord are treated down here. It would make too long a letter to enumerate the gifts, cards, and countless "nameless, unremembered acts of love." All of these strengthen the tie that binds a pastor to a congregation. Though the gifts are not enumerated and the givers are not named, there is gratitude in the heart of this preacher.

The moving season has brought into the Eden and Hollister communities several new families. We welcome them and offer them rent-free some empty pews in our churches. The Sunday School at Eden has been substantially increased in the past month.

Some improvements are planned for Bethesda Church. This is one of the most historic churches of the conference and has been praised for its worshipful atmosphere. Every effort will be used to keep the church looking its age. There is a religious value in history and sacredness in age which ought to be more carefully guarded in our church life.

We are expecting this to be a very good year for Halifax Charge. And effort is being made to observe all of the special days in order to help raise the entire assessment for Appreciation Year. It is right much of an effort for the churches in this district to raise their apportionments but if there is any section of the church which has something to boost appreciation year it is Eastern North Carolina. The First District was the cradle of the conference; the children have outgrown the parent, but we will try to show our appreciation for the Methodist Protestant Church by raising the World Service budget in full.

W. M. HOWARD, JR.

◆

A man went to his doctor and requested treatment for his ankle.

After careful examination, the doctor inquired: "How long have you been going about like this?"

"Two years."

"Why, man, your ankle is broken! How you managed to get around is a marvel. Why didn't you come to me at first?"

"Well, doctor, every time I say something is wrong with me, my wife declares I'll have to stop smoking."—Ex.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. J. K. Osborne, West End	$1.00
Mrs. W. L. Bilbro, West End	1.00
Mrs. John Inmon, West End	2.00
Sent by Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
Dr. P. S. Kennett, First, High Point	2.00
C. F. Anderson, Randolph charge	1.00
Edward Cox, Randolph charge	1.00
Sent by Mrs. C. F. Anderson.
Dr. J. A. Pickett, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
Mrs. L. R. Diffee, First, High Point	1.00
By L. F. Ferree.
Mrs. J. E. Deviney, Grace church	1.00
By Mrs. F. R. Stout.
H. L. Stone, Pinnacle charde	2.00
By Pastor Morris.
C. S. Moton, Albemarle church	1.00
J. R. Johnson, Albemarle church	1.00
W. M. Lowder, Albemarle church	1.00
J. U. Whitlock, Albemarle church	1.00
Rev. C. G. Isley, Albemarle church	1.00
Curtis Lisk, Albemarle church	1.00
Mrs. Attie Geddy, Albemarle church	.50
Sent by Mrs. C. S. Moton.
T. C. Hensley, Weaverville charge	1.00
Mrs. W. M. Bridges, Cleveland charge	2.00
Nina Richards, Cleveland charge	1.00
By Pastor Madison.
Mrs. E. T. Everhart, First, Thomasville	2.00
C. B. Freeman, First, Thomasville	2.00
Miss Audrey Sulivan, First, Thomasville	2.00
By Mrs. T. A. Lloyd.
L. H. Hilton, N. Davidson charge	1.00
H. S. Payne, N. Davidson charge	1.00
By J. R. Payne.
Mrs. Hazel Holbert, First, Burlington	1.00
By Pastor Paschall.
Mrs. A. L. Foust, Alamance charge	2.00
Clifton R. Reed, Community church	1.00
Ira W. Baity, Forsyth charge	2.00
J. F. Baity, Forsyth charge	2.00
Mrs. Ida M. Hine, Forsyth charge	2.00
By Mrs. Lucile Baity.
Rev. Herman Yokely, club subscriptions for Connelly Springs	2.00
L. L. Wren, Siler City	2.00
Mrs. Victor Durham, Siler City	1.00
Mrs. L. L. Woody, Siler City	1.00
Mrs. T. C. Fox, Siler City	1.00
Mrs. Duncan Welch, Siler City	.50
By Miss Sallie Smith.
Mrs. W. L. Hooper, Rankin Memorial	.50
Mrs. C. C. Burke, Graham church, club subscriptions	12.00
J. C. Coe, Calvary church	.50
By Pastor Stubbins.
Rev. J. F. Minnis, India	2.50
(Gift by friends.)
Mrs. John G. Hanner, Siler City charge	2.00
By Miss Lucy Jones.
Theodore Smith, Davidson charge	1.00
Miss Della Taylor, Davidson charge	1.00
By Pastor Neese.
G. A. Middleton, Flat Rock charge	2.00
By Pastor Burgess.
Mrs. Mattie Mitchell, Guilford charge	1.00
Miss Josie Parsons, Guilford charge	1.00
By Miss Martha Parsons.
Miss Annabel Thompson, First, High Point	1.00
Sent by W. J. Spencer.
Miss Etta Hight, Henderson	1.50
By Miss Agnes Harris.

Subsidy

Whitakers, by Miss Mollie Wheless	2.50
Rev. J. C. Auman, Council of Religious Education	40.00
(Thank you, Brother Auman.)

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

"ALL ONE BODY WE"

February 5, 1939

Scripture Text: Eph. 4:1-7, 11-13.

"Like a mighty army
  Moves the church of God;
Brothers, we are treading
  Where the saints have trod;
We are not divided,
  All one body we;
One in hope and doctrine,
  One in charity."
        —Sabine Baring - Gould.

Christian Endeavor through its discussions and its union meetings, such as city, county, and state conventions, has done much to make this indeed a reality within the churches in America. In its thought and in its program is has leaped across denominational barriers and has helped young people the world over to sing with consecrated meaning:

"We are not divided,
  All one body we;
One in hope and doctrine,
  One in charity."

On all sides today one hears churchmen discussing the coming together of denominations in order that they might be better able to carry on the work of the gospel ministry. Ever since the first century the church has been a divided church, but today with many leaders who are more Christlike in their spirit than the world has known for a long time, we are changing our conception of the true church from what our forefathers have led us to believe it is and are turning back to our Lord's teaching and the interpretation of that message by the early churchmen.

All too often the different denominations of the Christian Church have spent so much time and effort trying to defend some of their petty differences of creed and worship, that they have not been able to accomplish their purpose in the world. True Christianity does not have to be defended, but rather it should be practiced.

Basic in the teachings of Jesus was unity of believers. He desired to bring all men into a spirit of unity and brotherhood. Jesus is the Shepherd and thus we are all sheep of one flock. God is our Father, and we are all sons and brothers who look up to our elder brother Jesus to lead us to the way of life desired by the Father. Somehow we have fallen far short of the ideal which Jesus desired us to practice. There are very few men in the world today who could and would reach out their hand to every other man in the world and with the spirit of love which Jesus taught, call him brother. It will be only when we catch the Spirit of Jesus that we can say, "All one body we," either as human beings or as denominations. We have a long way to go, but the appeal of the Master is so powerful that young people are leaving all to follow Him. It is these same young people who are going to do much to mend the schisms now existing between followers of His.

There are several agencies besides the Christian Endeavor that have been definitely working to bring all believers into one body. They are the Federal Council of Churches, the Internatoinal Council of Religious Education, the Emergency Peace Campaign, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the United Christian Youth Movement, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and other like-minded groups.

Nothing has ever gone as far in this state toward uniting the peoples of all denominations into a concerted effort as has the North Carolina Council of Churches. This was evidenced last week when for three days men and women representing all of the leading denominations throughout the state filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church of Durham. There they worshiped together, ate together, communed together in Christian fellowship, and were led into richer Christian experiences by the religious leaders of other denominations.

When enough of us come to really know Jesus Christ and Him crucified, all denominational lines and racial barriers will be broken down, and all men will work in Christian unity—then we will "all one body be."

"Keep close, then, boys, and never quarrel;
Observe the dying father speak,
Try, lads, can you this bundle break;
Then bids the youngest of the six
Take up a well-bound heap of sticks.
They thought it was an old man's maggot;
And strove by turns to break the fagot:
In vain; the complicated wands
Were much too strong for all their hands.
See, said the sire, how soon 'tis done:
Then took and broke them one by one.
So strong you'll be in friendship tied;
So quickly broke, if you divide.
Keep close, then, boys, and never quarrel:
Here ends the fable and the moral."
        —Jonathan Swift.

◆

SATISFACTION

There's no thrill in easy sailing,
  When the sky is clear and blue;
There's no joy in merely doing
  Things which any one can do.

But there is some satisfaction
  That is mighty sweet to take,
When you reach a destination
  That you thought you couldn't make.

◆

WHAT IS LIFE?

Life is a pattern cut to fit
The span of years that models it.
With springs of humor, lacy smiles
That may be changed to match the styles.
Shot through sometimes with tragedy
And edged with brown sobriety.
A garment beautiful to see
For one who wears it gracefully.
        —Lolo M. Stultz.

◆

"Brother Jones," said the Deacon, "can't you all donate some small contribution to de funds for fencing in de cullud cemetery?"

"I dunno as I can," replied Brother Jones. "I don't see no use in a fence around a cemetery. You see, dem what's in there can't get out, and dem what's out sho' doan wanna get in."

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Harris Chapel S. S., Vance	$ 2.30
Saxapahaw S. S., Saxapahaw	1.40
Fair Grove S. S., Haw River	.72
Orange Chapel S. S., Saxapahaw, Dec. and Jan.	2.00
Chase City S. S.	1.17
Shiloh S. S., Shiloh	8.50
Fountain Place S. S., Burlington	5.60
Chapel Hill S. S., Davidson	1.46
S. S. Circle, Linthicum Heights, Md., for shoes	2.00
Calvary S. S., Greensboro	15.00
Union Ridge S. S., Forsyth	5.00
New Hope, Mecklenburg, Dec., Jan. and Feb.	3.00
Friendship S. S., Haw River	5.00
Aurora, Mo.	1.00
Dale's City, Ill.	5.75
Baraca class, Mebane	3.44
Eden S. S., Halifax	3.00
Hickory Grove S. S., Guilford	6.26

We thank you for these offerings. There are no packages to report this week.

The list this time is short, because we are now down to the regular offerings, and must depend on these for a long time. Please boost the monthly offerings for us, or we will fall behind again.

A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

A CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking my good friends all over the state for the many cards and letters of sympathy that have come on the account of the death of my father, S. M. Warlick. I am enclosing one sent by a former pastor of my father. Here it is:

"Mr. Sam Warlick was one of God's good men. He possessed those Christian attributes that make men great. I shall never forget the friendship, and the privilege of being his pastor for five years. He made it so easy for the preacher to preach. I was greatly impressed by his modesty, his self-control, and his wonderful personality.

I shall always remember him as one of the best Christian men I ever knew, and I am glad to pay him this tribute.

C. E. R.

I would like to quote others, but this covers the ground so completely that I am only giving this one.

Also wish to thank the Auxiliaries and Circles where we have labored for their messages of sympathy also.

MRS. N. G. BETHEA

◆

The tramp called at a cottage and asked for food.

"And how would you like a nice chop?" said the owner of the cottage kindly.

"That all depends, lady—is it lamb, pork, or wood?"—Ex.

◆

"Say, Grandpa, how do you account for your longevity?"

"My which? Longevity? Never had it—it's rheumatism that bothers me."

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Haw River Circuit.—It's about time somebody was reporting from this part of God's moral heritage. Maybe that somebody's me.

We have been received kindly for our third year. Prospects are that it will be the best year yet. The congregations this month at all the churches have been the best since I've been here.

We are making plans for the holding of Young People's Day services at all the churches. We are hoping that the response to the Appreciation Year appeal will be large.

We are also working on the raising of our Annual Conference claims. We are asking the folks to put aside a dime a week for the Sundays of the first quarter of the conference year. If 200 of our folks will do it, we will be able to raise our claims in full by the first of March. It remains to be seen, of course, whether they will do it. We'll let you know later, whether they did or didn't.

Through the Circuit Auxiliary more than $50 has been turned in on the Minnis Salary fund. Almost $19 of this amount came from the Friendship Christian Endeavor society.

It's a little late to say anything about it, but I want to express my thanks to the Mizpah C. E. society for a fine shirt they gave me at Christmas. The season was observed in some way or other at each of the churches. It was my good fortune to get to all of them, excepting the one at Friendship. I was away from home at that time, much to my regret.

The folks are keeping us in fresh meat and other good things for the table, for which they have our sincere thanks.

C. W. BATES, Pastor.

◆

Lincolnton, W. L. Harkey, Pastor.—Our pastor brought us a very inspiring sermon this morning. Three new members were admitted into the church: Mrs. Floy Garrison, Mrs. Ruth McGinnis, and Mr. Ford.

New class officers and teachers were elected last Sunday in the Sunday scohol. Mrs. Cass Leonard resigned as teacher of the Beginners, and Mrs. Ted Eurey was elected to fill her place. Mr. Flay Garrison was elected to teach the young men's class after our pastor asked to be relieved of the duty.

The young matron's class is staking a campaign for funds to have some work done to their class room. They have had a number of new members to join the class recently.

The Women's Auxiliary held their monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. J. C. Eurey. Most of the members were present. They decided to purchase some much-needed song books for the church.

The Christian Endeavor society has been having an unusually large attendance. Very interesting programs are being given each Sunday. Keep up the good work, Endeavorers!

Our pastor is planning to launch a drive for subscriptions for the Herald very soon. We hope he will be very successful, because the members who do not take the paper now are missing it so much.

The last report mentioned that our furnace was to be repaired. When the man started the work, he found the complete works were burned out. So rather than try to patch up the old, we decided to buy a new furnace. It was installed just before Christmas, and everyone is very proud of it.

A new plan has been adopted by which we hope to pay off our church debt. A number of members have pledged 25c a week which will be paid into the Building and Loan. If each member will cooperate with the pastor and officers in this plan we can soon have the House of the Lord free of all debts.

MRS. TED EUREY, Reporter.

◆

Flat Rock Church, Flat Rock Charge.—It has been some time since a report has gone in from this church, but that does not mean we have been idle. Our treasurer tells us that the financial condition of the church is better than it sometimes is at this time of the year. We are making an effort to raise a certain part of the pastor's salary each quarter. We are glad Mr. Burgess is with us again this year. We are well into the third year of his pastorate, and he continues to bring to us regularly his splendid, rich messages from God's Word.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. Carl Haynes this month, with the new president, Mrs. Alvis Ellison, in the chair. Now that the church debt is a thing of the past and dedication a cherished memory, and a long-planned-for planting of shrubbery has been placed about the church as a result of the efforts of the society, the ladies are undertaking to help with the local church budget this year.

One of our faithful members, Mrs. Nannie Wilson, passed away suddenly on January 2. The bereaved family have our sympathy. Mrs. Wilson was a regular church attendant and also a member of the Ladies' Aid. She will be greatly missed.

We have heard many expressions of regret among the members of our congregation at the removal from our neighborhood of "Uncle Bob" Haynes and his good wife, "Aunt Ella." They say they expect to get back to church occasionally, circumstances permitting.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. IRA N. JOHNSON, Reporter.

◆

Spring Church, Spring Church Charge, J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—We are holding our Sunday school and prayer meeting at the usual hour, with about the same average attendance.

In the absence of our Sunday school superintendent, Clinton Rae Crew, our new assistant, has been doing a good job in taking his place. We feel that we are indeed fortunate in having young people that are willing to take a leading place in church whenever they are asked to.

Mr. J. J. Massey, our newly-elected class leader, has decided to let the young people lead the prayer service one Sunday each month. On the second Sunday Catherine Crew, as leader, used Prayer as her subject. Many of our young people took part in the discussion, also led in prayer. This was not only an enjoyable service but beneficial.

We enjoyed having our young people that are in college and away at work, with us for the Christmas holidays. We certainly miss them now that they have returned to their different fields of work.

Mr. Garlington was with us for three weeks. He preached each Sunday he was here, and brought us some good and helpful messages. He made many pastoral visits. We certainly enjoyed having him in our homes. He will be with us again next Sunday.

Quarterly conference, which was held in Pleasant Hill church Friday night, December 30, was well attended. Each church was represented. Mr. Garlington urged that we accept the entire World Service apportionment and put forth every effort to raise it.

We have paid a good amount on our church debt since Christmas. We hope to raise the entire amount before the year is out.

We are now trying to supply our church with the Methodist Hymnal. Several have been donated. If any of our former members, pastors or friends would like to place one or more in our church in honor of some loved one or friend, we would certainly appreciate it. The price of one Hymnal is one dollar.

We are glad that Mabel Massey was able to return to college in Greensboro after the holidays. She was operated on in Roanoke Rapids hospital during the early part of her vacation.

Mrs. S. E. Crew, who has been a patient at Stuart Circle hospital in Richmond, Va., for the past two weeks, is at home convalescing nicely.

MRS. R. M. ROBINSON.

◆

Caroleen, Rev. Herbert D. Garmon, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointments here last Sunday and delivered two fine messages. There was a good crowd present for both services. Our Sunday school attendance averages about 203.

We are proud to report our church service of two weeks ago Sunday (our preaching services are every other Sunday). Our pastor (whom we thank God for sending us) brought two wonderful messages. At the morning service one soul found Christ, and at the evening service one was reclaimed. We are so thankful for messengers and messages that stir the hearts of sinners at each and every service.

There is still fine interest in our mid-week prayer services as we make a study of the Book of Acts. We are proud of our Christian Endeavor societies, both Junior and Senior. There are about 40 on roll in each society. We are still working for more and greater things.

LOIS HOLLIFIELD, Reporter.

◆

Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge, J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—It is somewhat late for Christmas news, but anyway, here it is.

On Friday night before Christmas a short program was given by the C. E. society, folowed by a Christmas tree. The society remembered a needy family with a very substantial Christmas box, and presented the church with a much-needed set of stage curtains. We appreciate the help of Mrs. J. W. Medlin and Mrs. M. L. Crew in getting and making the curtains.

On Sunday night, December 25, a pageant, "The Heart of Christmas," in which about 20 young people took part, was presented. The pageant was unusually good, and the audience unusually large. The offering was $8.00.

Our birthday offering for the past year amounted to about $9.00, which, combined with the Thanksgiving and regular monthly offerings, made a total of $31 contributed to the Children's Home since conference.

First quarterly conference met on December 31, at which time Mr. Garlington explained the purpose of the World Service budget, and the importance of raising it in full this year. As a result, since then $50 has been pledged on the budget, and we hope the entire amount of $102 can be raised at an early date.

We are hoping to present our Young People's program on Sunday night, January 29, using the pageant, "Shrines."

We enjoyed having Mr. Garlington in the community during the holidays. He gave us two good sermons while he was here.

Mrs. Rose Crew, who has been ill since the last of November, is slightly improved.

REPORTER.

* * *

Mt. Zion Church, Pinnacle Charge, Rev. J. D. Morris, Pastor.—We are beginning a new year, hoping that many have made the resolution to get the most out of it by attending church and helping build up God's Kingdom.

We were sorry our pastor could not fill his regular appointment with us last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Presnel of Pilot Mountain delivered the sermon to us at the 11 o'clock service.

Our collection for the Children's Home was $3.08. We had good attendance. We have 84 on roll now and are praying that more will join in with us each Sunday.

We are hoping that by God's help this will be the most successful year we have ever had.

REPORTER.

* * *

Pine Grove Church, Kernersville - South Winston Charge.—Due to the fact that our pastor cannot be with us on the last Sunday of this month, Young People's Day was observed at our church yesterday. The program, as arranged by Rev. F. L. Gibbs, was carried out. Mr. H. G. Easley of Burlington, a talented musician, was present and furnished special music and sang a solo. The Pine Grove quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ingram, Ned Ingram, and Fred Dillon, sang. Young people and members of our church also sang, with Miss Peggy Beeson at the piano. A splendid sermon was preached by our pastor, Rev. C. B. Way. The message was very appropriate on Paul's advice to young Timothy, "Let no man despise thy youth." Both Sunday school and church services were well attended.

We were sorry to learn of the illness of one of our loyal members, Miss Sally Barrow. We missed her at church service and wish for her a speedy recovery.

Our church house has received a new coat of paint, and part of it the second coat, but the painters have been held up because of weather conditions.

The Ladies' Aid met at the church Saturday afternoon. After a short devotional program, business was taken up. Mrs. Allen Warren was elected corresponding secretary. The president, Mrs. Ned Ingram, then appointed the members of the program, prayer, and flower committees. An open discussion followed. It was decided that an outstanding need we could supply was a new carpet for the pulpit, and plans were formed to raise the money needed. The next regular meeting will be at the home of one of the members on Friday evening, February 17. After the program of this meeting there will be an auction sale to sell articles made and donated by the members.

MRS. RALPH FULP, Reporter.

* * *

Pleasant Hill Church, Rev. G. B. Ferree, Pastor.—It scarcely seems possible that we are well on our way into a new year, the last as a separate denomination.

We were deeply impressed with the message presented by our pastor Sunday, it being the first of the new year.

The Woman's Auxiliary met last week, with 14 members and four visitors present. They contributed to the payment for the church roof. Two more subscriptions for the Missionary Record were added to the present list.

The Young People's society meets on fourth Sundays immediately after Sunday school. Miss Lena Hunter directs these meetings.

We are very sorry to report the illness of Mr. W. A. Long, also Mr. R. J. Whitman. We sincerely wish for them a speedy recovery.

Ralph Ferree, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ferree, and a student at High Point College, spent the week-end with his parents.

MILNA LONG, Reporter.

* * *

Fairview Church, Rev. Joe Coble, Pastor.—Since there has not been a report this year from this church, we are glad to say that the work is porgressing nicely under the leadership of our new pastor. We are very happy to welcome him and his wife into our church and community, and feel sure that we are going to have a good year together.

The various organizations of the church are showing much interest at this time. Our C. E. society is very active and is doing a great work; also our auxiliary is doing good work. We are planning to make a quilt, to be sold to raise funds for the various causes needed.

The first quarterly conference met in the Haw River M. P. church on January 1. Many new plans were suggested at this meeting for the year.

The attendance in our Sunday school and church services is very good, and we are earnestly hoping that this will continue all through the year, and that through our prayers and efforts we will accomplish great things this year.

MRS. CLARENCE RUDD, Reporter.

* * *

Mizpah, Haw River Charge, Dr. C. W. Bates, Pastor.—I appreciate the honor my church has bestowed upon me and hope to fulfill my duties to the best of my ability.

It seems many of our people must have made a new year's resolution to attend church better in 1939. Anyway, we are delighted to have our old ones and the new ones in the community to attend our church services.

We have learned to love our pastor and family. He filled his appointment Sunday and preached a most helpful and appropriate sermon on the subject, "Hands That Pray." Throughout the discourse he made it very plain the essentials necessary in answered prayer.

The committee appointed for the special services throughout the year have already begun to function; the first being the Christmas service which was very sweet for the occasion. The program for Young People's Day is being prepared. All other activities of the church are functioning properly.

We feel the prayers of many of our people are being answered since our co-worker, Mrs. H. G. Jones, who has been sick for quite a while, seems to be so much better. We trust God will soon restore her to her health.

We hope to cooperate with our pastor in every way possible to make this a successful year for our church.

Our pastor has been appointed subscription "booster" for the church paper, so please help him by sending in your subscriptions. Thanks.

LALALEA STEWART, Reporter.

* * *

Friendship Church, Fallston Charge.—A large crowd attended Sunday school this third Sunday with 117 present and 4 visitors. The following people have attended Sunday school every Sunday in 1938: Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Richards, Vera and Irene Richards, J. D. Coolidge, Wayne Bingham, R. L. Leonhardt, Jr., and Nancy, Madeline and Hubert Wright.

Rev. Mr. Hethcox took his text from Revelations 2:17, and gave to us an inspiring message concerning repentance. At the close of the services a short business meeting was called by the building committee with the pastor in charge. This committee wants the main part of the basement finished. In order to do this we must all help. The members might give trees for lumber, money or labor. A committee consisting of Mrs. A. A. Lackey, Mr. Johnny Lewis, and Mr. Gettys Bingham was appointed to canvass the members for the materials needed. Mr. C. A. Wright, a member of the building committee, has volunteered to take the responsibility for seeing that it is finished when the materials have been given. We want soon to have the church dedicated.

There will be a union Sunday school of the two churches of Fallston the fifth Sunday, followed by Communion services. The fifth Sunday district rally will be held at Moriah church.

* * *

College Street, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Paster.—We have started our new year with a willing mind and have resolved to accomplish much within the year. The Ladies' Auxiliary met at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Broome at our last meeting. The meeting was called to order by our president, Mrs. Sallie Williams, and Mrs. D. D. Broome had charge of the program for the evening. A song, "He Leadeth Me," was sung at the opening, and Mr. D. D. Broome led in prayer. Mrs. Broome gave an interesting talk on China, and others added information on the subject that was discussed. At the close of the program, business discussion began. The treasurer gave a summary of the auxiliary treasury and a statement of what had been spent during the month. Arrangements were made to pay our bills, and so we started out with a clean sheet for a new year ahead. The meeting was closed by sentence prayers, after which a delicious plate, consisting of fruit salad on lettuce, crackers, home-made candy, and orange juice, was served.

The Sunday school increased in number last Sunday. We are hoping to have a larger school this year than last year.

We are sorry not to have Mr. Tasker Williams with us now in our work. He has gone to Richmond, and we miss him very much.

Our pastor has filled all his regular appointments, and we are given an extra service on the first Sunday night.

ANNIE PERKINSON, Reporter.

* * *

Saxapahaw Charge, M. C. Henderson, Pastor.—This being our first report since coming to this work, we hardly know where to begin. We are comfortably located in the parsonage, and are looking forward to a good year. We have been cordially received by these good people. They have remembered us with many useful gifts. From Concord church came a nice pounding. For all this we are thankful; may we show our appreciation by giving them our very best service during the year.

Our first quarterly conference was held at the Saxapahaw church December 17, with all the churches represented and the business transacted harmoniously. All the churches have accepted their budget in full.

On the fifth Sunday afternoon of this month the district rally will meet with us at the Salem church, and we are hoping that all the churches will be represented.

PASTOR.

* * *

Maple Springs Church, Forsyth Charge.—The first quarterly conference of the charge was held at this church the second Sunday afternoon with a very large attendance. Rev. R. A. Hunter presided. An address was given by Rev. J. L. Trollinger, pastor of the First church in Winston-Salem. After the meeting everyone adjourned to the basement and enjoyed sugar cake and coffee.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met this month with Miss Elsie Baity. Mrs. A. C. Motsinger was in charge of the devotionals. Two interesting readings were given, as follows: "Christian Unity in India," by Mrs. R. A Hunter; and "Interdenominational Fellowship Projects in India," by Mrs. Baucom Mrs. Ira Baity conducted the Question Box, and Miss Myrtle Kiger closed the program with prayer for the Christians and missionaries in India.

During the business session it was decided to have a chicken pie and oyster supper at the church on February 11.

Our pastor, Rev. R. A. Hunter, filled his regular appointment last Sunday evening and brought us an inspiring message.

REPORTER.

* * *

Seagrove, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge.—Our pastor, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, filled his regular appointment Sunday at 11 a.m. He delivered an interesting message, full of inspiration and spirituality. Communion service was held and a large part of the congregation partook.

Our Sunday school is growing steadily. New members are added each Sunday. A contest is being carried on and the Sunday school is divided into two parts, the Blues and the Reds. James Auman and Wade Harris are the captains. At the close of this quarter the side having the best attendance and getting the most new members will be entertained by the losing side.

Our Christian Endeavor is increasing in membership, and interest seems to be also growing. A business meeting was held Saturday night, January 7, in the basement of the church. New officers were elected, as follows: L. A. King, superintendent; James Auman, president, and Vera Williams, secretary. After the business session, games were played by the young people and refreshments were served.

A Christmas program was held in our church on Friday night before Christmas. The program was in charge of Mrs. James Green, Mrs. A. C. Harris, and Mrs. D. J. Johnson. A large number of presents were exchanged, and every member of the Sunday school and everyone present received a bag of fruit, candy, raisins, etc.

A watch night service was held in the basement to watch the old year out and the new one in. Refreshments were served and an impressive service was held conducted by our pastor.

Our December meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. W. V. Redding. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. The January meeting met with Mrs. Clyde Russell. Nearly all members were present. One new member was added to our number. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. P. Strider. Pray for us that we may do more for the Master tihs year than ever before.

MRS. NOAH WILLIAMS, Reporter.

* * *

Kernersville Ladies' Aid Circle, Jan. 23.—The January meeting of Circle No. 1 of the M. P. Ladies' Aid society of Kernersville was held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Linville. Rev. C. B. Way, pastor, led the prayer immediately following the reading of a chapter from St. Matthew by Miss Rose Linville.

A feature of the program was the singing of "My Grandfather's Clock" by Miss Louise Way and brother, C. B. Way, Jr. Miss Mamie Bull, vice-president, had charge of the business program in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. W. Corum. Reports were made by the secretary, Mrs. C. B. Way, and the treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Linville. Plans were discussed for the purchase of new chairs for the church choir.

Mrs. Linville was assisted by her daughter, Miss Rose Linville, in serving refreshments. In addition to the members, four visitors were present. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Watkins.

REPORTER.

* * *

Bethesda, North Davidson, O. B. Williams, Pastor.—The Ladies' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Enzer Latham, with Mrs. Ray Lillien and Mrs. Ruth Everhart as joint hostesses. The meeting was opened by singing. Prayer by pastor. Scripture by Miss Mildred Latham. Meditation by the president, Mrs. C. M. Yokley. Roll call and minutes read by Miss Doris Brinkley. Poems by Misses Lila Mae Latham and Doris Brinkley. Rev. Mr. Williams made a short but interesting talk on Missions. Mrs. Williams gave a brief report on the quarterly meeting held at Lexington. We decided to use the Blue Plate as a way to raise some money for the coming year.

After the business, two short contests were held, Mrs. S. R. Wagner and Miss Doris Brinkley winning prizes. Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Williams, Mesdames C. M. Yokley, S. R. Wagner, R. L. Grubb, John Brinkley, Henry Sowers, June Everhart, Ray Latham, Clayton Hinkle, Mary Lanier, Enzer Latham, J. O. Everhart, and Misses Virginia Wagner, Lila Mae and Mildred Latham, and Doris Brinkley.

The Workers' Council held a fellowship meeting at the church, with the pastor present. Plans were made to get in touch with every church member during the year. A corresponding secretary is to be elected by the church.

MRS. J. O. EVERHART, Reporter.

* * *

New Salem, Randleman Charge, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—This is our first report this conference year. I will say we were all very glad to have our pastor return. We trust we can show Rev. and Mrs. Spencer our great appreciation for their wonderful and untiring work in our church.

It is a bit late to refer to Christmas, but we feel the Christmas program should be mentioned. We gave our Christmas program Saturday night, December 24. This was one of the best programs ever given at our church. We appreciate the splendid work the young people did in making this program a success.

We are glad to report that one of our members, Mr. E. L. Hayes, who has been very ill at the home of his daughter, is improving. We miss him in our church work and hope he will soon be able to come back.

Miss Isabelle Ward has been confined to her home this week with flu. Mr. C. B. Hinshaw, who has been sick for some time, is able to be out gain, we are glad to report.

We as a church extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. M. A. Fogleman, who has just recently lost his brother.

Miss Eva Brown, of Gadsden, Ala., is spending some time here visiting her sister, Mrs. E. C. Hinshaw.

MRS. R. F. WARD, Reporter.

* * *

Christian Endeavor Society of Vickery Church.—There has not been a report from our society for a long time, but we are still having our meetings. We have made a new year's resolution to have better attendance and better programs. We began an attendance contest on the second Sunday night of the year. We have 47 on roll and had 33 members present on that night. Mildred Kirkman, the leader for the night, read the scripture, after which we were led in prayer by Bessie Mae Willard. Fleta Mae and Lois Hahn sang a special song. We had as our speaker Miss Marks, a teacher from Sumner school, who made us an interesting talk on the subject, "How We Got Our Bible." At the close of the program Emily and Carolyn Kirkman rendered a special song.

Our most interesting program was held on January 15. Esther Marsh, as leader for the night, was fortunate enough to get Professor Byron Crouse, a man who has had the recent privilege of traveling around the world doing missionary work. He is also a very good singer and favored us with a solo. He made a very interesting talk, the subject being "Your Life Is Not Your Own." I am sure we all enjoyed his splendid talk as well as his singing. At the close we were led in prayer by Mr. Crouse.

After the program we had a business meeting at which Mr. Frazier, a representative from the City Union of Greensboro, made us a brief talk and asked us to join the City Union. We accepted the invitation and will be voted in at the next rally meeting. We are very proud of our attendance and wish to welcome everyone to our meetings. We were glad to have Fairfield C. E. society with us Sunday night. We are also glad to have Paul Armfield and Clifton Duncan back with us, as they have been sick for several weeks.

REPORTER.

◆

Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Pleasant Charge, J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—Attendance at the Mt. Pleasant Sunday school for the fourth Sunday was 193. Plans are being made to observe Young People's Day at the 11 o'clock service on the fifth Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Braxton is giving a series of Sunday evening lectures with stereopticon slides at the church, which is being enjoyed by all.

The Business Girls' Circle met at the home of Mrs. Louise Shoffner on Saturday night, January 21. Mrs. Grace Stafford read the scripture, with Mrs. Virgie Amick leading in prayer. Special music was furnished by Mrs. Rebecca Alexander. The topic was "Home Evangelism in China," and was discussed by Mrs. Nellie Curtis. After the business session the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The regular auxiliary meeting was held Sunday morning, January 22, after the Sunday school hour.

Miss Elaine Causey, from Greensboro College, spent the week-end at her home, and had as guests Miss Thelma Loftin, Miss Frances Lister, Miss Elizabeth McCall, and Miss Josephine Corbett, all students at the college. We have several new faces who have joined our Sunday school. We welcome all these new members and visitors.

This writer had the privilege to visit and worship with Shiloh Presbyterian members on the third Sunday. The message of the morning was brought by Dr. E. E. Gillispie, superintendent of Synod's Mission Home.

Mr. Tilden Shoffner, who has been ill for some time, was moved to Piedmont Memorial hospital Sunday night. Miss Jauncie Smith at the same hospital is quite ill at this time. Mrs. Underwood, mother of Mrs. R. C. Causey, is also a patient at this hospital. We wish for them all a speedy recovery.

REPORTER.

◆

Bethel, Alamance Charge, Dr. Geo. R. Brown, Pastor.—Our work has started off fine for the new conference year. We are glad to welcome our new pastor and his wife to Alamance charge. May we support them by our prayers, our contributions, our cooperation, and our presence at church services. Dr. Brown has filled all his regular appointments and Mrs. Brown conducted our fall thank-offering service at Bethel. Our Woman's Auxiliary is indeed fortunate to have Mrs. Brown to assist us in our missionary work.

We have a wide-awake Sunday school which is doing good work. Officers have been elected as follows: Superintendent, Lonnie McPherson; assistant superintendent, William Seawell; secretary, Miss Nannie McJherson; assistant secretary, Miss Sadie McPherson. We had a beautiful Christmas service and tree the night before Christmas. Also the teacher of the mothers' class, Mrs. Lonnie McPherson, entertained her class at her home during Christmas one day. About 45 ladies enjoyed her hospitality and the beautiful program she had arranged.

We were glad to have a number of the young people with us at church during the holidays.

Our Auxiliary held its regular meeting the second Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Foust. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Braxton Bivens the second Sunday in February.

Our district rally will be held at Salem church on Saxapahaw charge next Sunday afternoon, January 29. We hope Bethel church and all others in the district will be well represented.

At our next preaching service the Lord's Supper will be observed.

MARCIA FOUST, Reporter.

◆

Seagrove-Love Joy Charge, James H. Trolinger, Pastor.—This charge consists of five churches, Seagrove, Love Joy, Fairgrove, Pleasant Hill, and Macedonia. Love Joy and Macedonia are in Montgomery county; the other three are in Randolph county. We have here some big-hearted people at all these churches.

To say that we have been pounded is not enough, but when we say that Fairgrove pounded, Seagrove pounded and just keeps pounding, and then Pleasant Hill pounded, I am sure you will know that space would not permit us telling of the three; and then Love Joy people have been on the giving hand, and just the other day Brother Noah Williams of Seagrove church sent over a nice truck load of wood; and this is not the first wood he has sent to the parsonage since our coming.

We feel that the people have been very nice to us, and we want to say Thank you, and we just pray the dear Lord to richly bless you all.

JAMES H. TROLINGER.

◆

Corinth, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Our Sunday school is still moving on. We hope to have better attendance since several new families have moved into the community.

Our pastor has filled all appointments at this church. We were glad to have visitors from Littleton and Hawkins Chapel on the third Sunday night, and we hope they will come again.

We regret very much to lose Mr. W. I. Porter and family from our church. They moved to Vaughan and took their letter with them. They wil be missed in the church and community.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Morris celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on January 16. If I make no mistake, Mr. Morris is the oldest member of this church, and he is one of the most faithful members we have, always present and on time at church service and Sunday school, if he did have to walk a mile and a half to get there. He has attended Sunday school at this church since a small boy, and has always stood by his church and pastor. The preacher always found a warm welcome in his home. Our church is proud of this good member, and we wish we had more like him. He and his companion have raised 11 children, all living, and at one time they all belonged to Corinth church; but moving and going to other places to live, they moved their membership. Mrs. Morris is a member of Hawkins Chapel church. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are living at the same place they started out together 50 years ago.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Pearce in the loss of their infant son on January 7. He was buried in the church cemetery on January 8.

MRS. B. F. MORRIS, Reporter.

◆

Whitakers Church, Rev. W. L. Loy, Pastor.—We haven't had a report since conference. However, we are still alive and holding our own. We gave our new pastor a little get-together meeting and all seemd to enjoy it. We think he is taking very well with the people generally.

Christmas night we had a program of readings and songs, with a contribution which was given to the two orphanages, the M. E. and our Children's Home. We have a fairly good Sunday school attendance, could do better. Our auxiliary is doing well, good attendance and interest. We are expecting to observe Young People's Day the fifth Sunday morning at the Sunday school hour. We have had some sick ones for a while, but are glad to report they are better now.

We will hold our first quarterly conference the third Sunday in February.

REPORTER.

◆

Clark's Chapel, Weaverville Charge.—You have not heard from us since conference, and the reporter pleads guilty to the charge of negligence, but pledges more faithfulness to the discharge of the duties of his office in the future.

We are grateful to have Rev. W. C. Clark return to us again for the third year. Mr. Clark is doing a wonderful work on this charge, and was rewarded by a rich harvest of fruit for his labors by having the pleasure of carrying a "paid in full" record for the entire charge with him to conference last year. This record has not been paralleled for several years, therefore we are indeed very thankful, and we are praying that we may be able to reach even a higher goal this year.

The pastor has favored us with preaching services on the second Sunday night and the fourth Sunday morning each month. He delivered a very earnest and influencing sermon the fourth Sunday morning on the vital problem of fighting the move to vote legalized liquor stores back in our county. This move is to be put to a vote in the very near future, and he pointed out that it is not only the duty of the churches but of the entire citizenship of this county to defeat this issue.

Our Sunday school, with a few exceptions, reelected the same officers and teachers for this year, and we are very proud to report that the Sunday school has had the best average attendance so far this winter that we have had in a number of years; and we are sure that it will show a pleasing increase with the arrival of warm weather. We still have unoccupied seats in our church, though, and we request our fellow churches to join us in prayer that we may be able to reach out and fill these spaces from the vast number who are not affiliated with any church.

The organization in the near future of a Christian Endeavor society is planned for the young members of our church so that they may carry on their share of the good work in a service of their own.

JAMES R. CHEEK, Reporter.

Vickery Church, Guilford Charge, Joel B. Trogdon, Pastor.—Although we have not taken time to write, Vickery church has not been idle. The recently completed addition to our church building has been paid for and we are beginning a new year entirely out of debt. We have also bought a new Heatrola, and through the generosity of Miss Pearl Pentecost we have some new pulpit chairs.

Regular services were held at our church Sunday morning. Sunday school was at 10 o'clock, with 132 present. At the 11 o'clock service our pastor brought us a very inspiring message.

The Woman's Auxiliary will be with Mrs. George Osborne for the next meeting, Friday, January 27. The attendance has not been as good as we would like during the winter months, but we are expecting a better attendance as the weather improves.

The Christian Endeavor society gave a very interesting program last Sunday night with Miss Esther Marsh as leader. Prof. J. Byron Crouse, of Wilmore, Ky., furnished special music and gave a very interesting talk. Professor Crouse is a very capable speaker and has been in 30 different countries singing and preaching.

It was decided last Sunday that we would observe Young People's Day the fifth Sunday of this month.

FLETA MAE HOHN, Reporter.

Central Church, Asheboro, S. W. Taylor, Pastor.—Our work has started well for the new year, and we are moving along with encouraging trends. Thanksgiving and Christmas were duly observed with appropriate services, and with the usual offerings for the Children's Home.

Our first quarterly conference, held December 8, attended to all routine business, including the adoption of the budget, set up by the stewards, of $4,670. All general and annual conference budgets were accepted, and an Appreciation Year committee appointed for the local church. Our monthly church paper, "The Messenger," was ordered continued. "Loyalty Day" was observed December 18, with good results. Slightly more than $2,000 was subscribed by 111 members. The stewards are still working, and other members are subscribing. An interesting and pleasing "Watch Night" service was observed in the social room of the church December 31, from 10 to 12 o'clock, with quite a number present.

We are now planning for Young People's Day, to be observed on the fifth Sunday in this month, January 31. "Shrines," a chancel drama, will be the chief feature of the night service. We are also planning our annual Bible Sunday, which will be observed February 12, second Sunday. Dr. P. E. Lindley will be our speaker for the morning hour. We are trying to make much of this service. Magnifying the Bible is big business.

There is increasing sentiment among our people for improving our church building, especially our Sunday school housing. Some steps are being taken in that direction, but nothing definite has yet been done. Such movements require time. Among other gratifying aspects of our work here there is to be noted the splendid interest on the part of our young people. We have a fine group in that class, and they are making a very encouraging and worth-while contribution to our work. A Junior C. E. society is in contemplation, and we hope to have it going very soon. The Asheboro church has a great opportunity. The fields are white unto the harvest, and we are hoping and praying that God may use us in a great reaping.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Burkhead have our deep sympathy in the recent passing of Mrs. Burkhead's father, Mr. A. C. Cox, and likewise, Mrs. Eunice L. Hayworth, in the passing, yesterday, of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Phillips. We pray God's comforting mercies upon them. We are also deeply concerned for Dr. Soady because of painful hurts received on Christmas Sunday in an automobile accident, while he and his son, "Ted," were on their way to Canada. "Ted" was only slightly hurt. The Doctor is gradually improving, and will no doubt be well soon. He is still practicing, despite the fact that one foot is in a cast.

S. W. TAYLOR.

Fountain Place, Burlington, R. E. L. Moser, Pastor.—Since this is the first report from Fountain Place since conference, I wish to say that we are very happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Moser come to our work for another year. In the past two years we have enjoyed working with them and hope we may be just as happy and able to accomplish more this year.

In the fall the Ladies' Auxiliary held an interesting thank-offering porgram, at which time a good offering was received. During the last few months there seems to be a decided increase in interest in the auxiliary work, due largely, I think, to the enthusiasm and efforts of the president, Mrs. M. P. Nicholson. The budget is paid up to date and some has been paid on the local building fund. Plans are being made to plant shrubbery on the church grounds. The December meeting of this society was especially well attended. Nineteen were present at the home of Mrs. Burke Baliff. After a Christmas program and business meeting, Pollyanna gifts were exchanged from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, and the hostess gave each person present a treat. In January the meeting was held at the new home of Mrs. T. A. Amick.

At Thanksgiving Fountain Place Sunday school sent an offering of over $100 to the Children's Home. This offering included a good donation of material from the local plaid mill for the Home.

At Chirstmas the Ladies' Auxiliary gave Christmas cheer to an elderly lady who, having no family of her own, lives in the home of friends and was in need of clothing. The Annie Forest Bible class, Mrs. J. W. Sharpe, teacher, gave Christmas happiness to a needy family, consisting of a mother and four children. Clothing, food, bedding, and toys were given.

Thursday night, December 22, a Christmas get-together was held for the entire church. Christmas carols were sung, and devotions led by the pastor; then Dr. T. M. Johnson, who was visiting in the community, reviewed in his interesting manner "The Other Wise Man." After more Christmas carols were sung, the group went into the recreation room, where fruit was served and Santa Claus gave each child his treat from the Sunday school.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society invited their parents and friends to a candle light Christmas service in their room Sunday evening, December 18. A Christian Endeavor prayer meeting was held around an open fireplace where embers glowed and the candle light, Christmas tree, and other decorations made the scene a beautiful one. These Juniors have recently held a contest in which Lucy Nicholson was winner. They are making other plans for the near future.

In recent months three newcomers have come into our midst: to Mr. and Mrs. James Parrott, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steele, a son, and to Rev. and Mrs. R. E. L. Moser, a son.

Fountain Place church plans to celebrate Young People's Day the last Sunday in this month.

MRS. A. V. AMICK, Reporter.

West End Church, Greensboro.—A Fellowship meeting was held and a "potluck" supper served last Friday night. The attendance was very good, and all appeared to enjoy the occasion, even the women who did all the work.

There has been quite a bit of sickness in the congregation this winter. Among the number is our superannuated preacher, Mr. W. D. Reed, and Mrs. Reed. Both are improving, we are glad to learn.

Three new members were added to the church last Sunday.

The Board of Stewards is planning to enlist more of the members in tithing by making February Tithing or Loyalty month.

Miss Gladys Routh is chairman of the committee to arrange for the observance of Young People's Day. General superintendent of the Sunday school, Brother J. Norman Wills, is alert in trying to keep the departments all functioning normally.

Moriah, Rev. J. Leo Pittard, Pastor.—We are glad to report a good start for the new calendar year. Our attendance has been good for both Sunday school and church services.

Our Christian Endeavor is doing fine. Twenty-two of the members attended the quarterly meeting of the Grensboro Union on January 17 at 7:30 at West End church. A very good meeting was held, after which there was a social hour. Our hats are off to West End. We had a grand time.

Our pastor has been bringing us some wonderful sermons this year. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was held on January 8. This was a very impressive service and we had a very unusual attendance.

The first Sunday in February we are having Young People's Day. A special program is being arranged, and we are expecting a good crowd at our 11 o'clock service, at which time Mr. Pittard will bring us a message suitable to the occasion.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. C. E. Moser the last Friday in December. We had a good meeting, and during the social hour Mrs. Moser served coffee with fruit cake.

Three cheers to our pastor for his help and guidance. We have the mortgage paid off our parsonage and, too, it has been redecorated on the inside and painted outside.

February and March have been set aside as tithing months. Let us hope this works so well we will keep it up.

The senior Bible class met with Miss Kate Kirkman and her brother, A. V., Jr., on the last Saturday night in December. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed by all.

The junior Bible class had a Christmas and New Year's party on the last Wednesday night in December at the N. C. club house. We are proud of these young people. We know, though they be young today, they will be the backbone of our church tomorrow.

I wonder if everybody is enjoying the little book, "The Upper Room," as much as I am. Our pastor passed but 25 of these the first Sunday in the year, and I for one will not be without one from now on.

A few of our members have been quite ill, but we are glad to report some improvement. Our fervent prayers and earnest sympathies are offered in their behalf.

MRS. W. A. SHERRILL, Reporter.

First M. P. Church, Gibsonville.—We were appointed to this charge just before Christmas by the conference president. We moved into the parsonage on December 22, and were just in time to participate in the Christmas festivities. To add to the Christmas joys of the pastor and his family, the good folks of the church gave them, among other things, a substantial pounding, consisting of many good things to eat. Since arriving here the folks in Gibsonville have been very gracious to us.

The work in the church is progressing in a favorable manner, with the church services and Sunday school being well attended. The Christian Endeavor, with new officers recently elected, is growing in interest and showing an increase in attendance from Sunday to Sunday.

The first quarterly conference meeting was held Friday evening, January 20, with the pastor in charge.

We are looking forward to a profitable stay, in working with our co-laborers in this part of the Lord's vineyard.

CHARLES E. ANDERSON.

Hope Church, Siler City Charge, Rev. A. M. Smith, Pastor.—A very interesting knowledge came to me a few days ago when I received a renewal from Mrs. John G. Hanner, that I wanted to pass on to the readers of the Herald. Mrs. Hanner has not been without the Herald since it began being published, which is a period of over 30 years. She is one of the oldest living members of Hope church, joining in early womanhood after her marriage to the late Mr. Hanner. In early girlhood she joined an M. E. church in this section. For the past few years she has not been able to attend regularly, but in prayer, thought, financial aid, and loyal devotion, she is one of the most faithful. The activities of the church are always an interest to her, and her support to any worth-while cause is always given.

Mrs. Hanner is to be congratulated on her loyal Christian devotion and her devotion to the Herald. Her many friends wish her a long and happy life in the beautiful service of the Lord she is now living.

The regular first Sunday appointment will be filled by the pastor. May we have a large number of members and friends to enjoy another of his wonderful messages.

Clayton Blair, who suffered a head injury some time ago, is able to be out again.

LUCY JONES, Reporter.

Pine Bluff Church, Rev. C. G. Isley, Pastor.—Perhaps it would be of interest to the young people of the other churches to know how the young people of our church carry out their Christian Endeavor work or our Bible study, as we call it. We first started our work by selecting some book in the Bible, and then the leader assigning one chapter of the book to each person who was willing to take the chapter, read it and study it, and then explain it to the group the next Sunday. We always hold each study after Sunday school each first and third Sundays, as we do not have preaching service on these Sundays.

Then after studying a few different books, not only did the young people take a great interest in the work, but also the older folks began to take a part in our study. So now in the Bible study the older folks take a part just like the young people. So by this work we are all learning more about the Bible.

CLIFFORD BARBEE, Reporter.

Union Chapel, Granville Charge.—Rev. Mr. Pegg has been filling all of his regular appointments with very interesting and helpful messages each time. Last Sunday being time for the regular Communion service, he brought a splendid sermon appropriate for that occasion.

The parsonage aid met with Mrs. Pegg last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with about 20 present.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. J. W. Floyd on next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. We are hoping for a good attendance.

We are sorry to report several of our faithful women on the sick list—Miss Emily Floyd, Mrs. J. F. White, and Miss R. M. Edwards. We hope for them a speedy recovery.

MRS. E. C. HUFF, Reporter.

Liberty Hill Church, Anderson Charge, Dr. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment last Sunday morning, January 22. We were very glad to have with us at this service Dr. Sam Taylor. He brought us a very inspiring message and used as his text, "The Lord has need of him." The pastor was not with us on Sunday night, as he wished to be with Dr. Taylor at Fairview church on this same charge.

The Young People's Day program is to be used at our church this year. We are now making preparations for the program. We hope the drama will leave a lasting impression on the listeners.

The Ladies' Aid held their monthly meeting Sunday night. We think the ladies have done good to our church, and may God richly bless their work and each one that helps in the progress of God's work.

On the 19th of this month we were honored with the presence of the Church of God quartet of Granville. They rendered several messages in song. The audience was blessed spiritually by their gospel singing.

We still have a large attendance at our Sunday school. We only hope this will continue.

The regular monthly class meeting of the Willing Workers class will be held on February 9 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Jackson.

We ask each one that prays to be much in prayer for our church and our work. We will certainly pray for God to bless His work everywhere.

MRS. HORTENSE SMITH, Reporter.

Midway, Haw River Circuit, Dr. C. W. Bates, Pastor.—Our work at this place continues to move along very successfully. Our Sunday school numbered 106 yesterday, and all teachers and officers seem to be interested in their work. Dr. Bates' subject for the morning was "The Law of Liberty." This was a good sermon, and was enjoyed by all.

The second Sunday in February at 10 a.m., Dr. Bates will preach a special sermon to the young people, and the third Sunday night we will have a young people's program. We hope all our young people will feel interested in these services.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet February 5th just after Sunday school.

We hope that this year will be a prosperous year to every Christian in the North Carolina conference. Pray for us.

MRS. G. W. APPLE, Reporter.

Community Church, Thomasville. — Community church plans to observe Young People's Day next Sunday in every service of the day. In the evening there will be a Youth Rally at the church in the form of a fellowship lunch at 6 p.m. Every youth in the church is being sent a special invitation to be present. Then at 7:15 in the auditorium there will be a special program by the young people, to which every member of the church and Sunday school is invited. $100 has been set as the goal for our offering. This gives every member of the church a share in this day.

On Saturday morning of last week, the members of the church who knew Mrs. Elmore Potts (Miss Louise Perry) were saddened when they learned that Mr. Potts had suddenly died. Louise and the members of the family concerned have our deep sympathy.

Then again on Sunday morning we were told of the passing of Mrs. A. J. Rothrock of Winston-Salem, the only remaining sister of Mrs. C. M. Stone of our congregation. While we never knew Mrs. Rothrock, yet her faith in the closing scenes of her earthly life was an evidence of her devotion to God. Mrs. Stone and the other members of the family have the sympathy of the whole church in this hour.

The auxiliary met with the president, Mrs. J. R. Sechrest. They had a good program and much interest was shown in the plans for the raising of Community church's Appreciation Year apportionment.

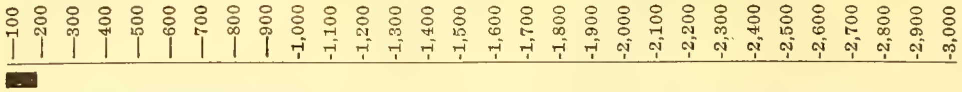
J. CLYDE AUMAN.

"Daddy!" exclaimed the little boy.

"One more question, then," sighed the tired father. "Only one."

"How far is it," inquired the tot, "between to and fro?"—Catalina Islander.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

REV. C. W. BATES, D.D.
Subscription Booster

"WHEN EVERYBODY WORKS, AND NOBODY SHIRKS"

I heard a preacher say some years ago he thought the church was made up of two classes: workers and shirkers. It does look like some churches have more or less of one or the other. And they succeed or fail accordingly. But what's that got to do with the HERALD? Only this: It will succeed or fail in the measure that we work at the task of helping increase the subscription list, or shirk our responsibility in that direction.

Perhaps the second column isn't a fair index; but it certainly does indicate that some of the brethren, preachers or HERALD agents, are working at it. And the rest of us had better get busy or they will so far outdistance us in the race to get that 100 per cent and CAPITALS that we won't even be in sight.

All the pastors have, I suppose, received their HERALD subscription lists by now. Won't you get that list to your agent or agents, and urge them to get renewals. Pick out those on your charge who ought to be taking the HERALD, and give such lists to your helpers. And remember, we want in the next months A UNION OF METHODISTS WHO KNOW.

C. W. BATES, O. H. B.

◆

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	8½	....
Albemarle	20	3¼	....
Anderson	32	½	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	4½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	3¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	19½	...
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	....	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	6	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	2½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	2¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1	...
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	5½	...
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	....	...
Graham	30	7	....
Granville	58	1	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¼	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	....	....
Greensboro, West End	25	7	*7.50
Greensville	55	4½	....
Guilford	37	1½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	2	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	3½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1¼	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¼	....
Lexington, First	48	3	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	8	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	6¾	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	3½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	2	....
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	4¼	....
Randolph	78	4¼	....
Reidsville	13	4	....
Richland	35	4½	....
Roberta	29	....	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	....	5.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	1	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	5	....
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3	....
Tabernacle	40	3½	....
Thomasville, Community	18	½	....
Thomasville, First	25	6½	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	3	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	...
West Forsyth	68	7½	...
Whitakers	8	....	*2.50
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	4¾	....

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

MARRIED

Sykes-Terrell

The marriage of Miss Frances Sykes and Carr Terrell was solemnized on December 24 at 5:00 p. m. at the home of the bride in Mebane. Rev. C. P. Morris, pastor of both the bride and groom, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Terrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sykes of Mebane and is a member of Chestnut Ridge Church, Orange Charge. Mr. Terrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrell of Mebane and is a member of Hebron Church, Orange Charge.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. T. F. Sykes, Misses Gladys and Cornelia Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McDaniel, Miss Carmen Vaden, and Mrs. C. P. Morris. Immediately after the wedding the couple left for a honeymoon trip. Upon their return, they will be at home in Mebane.

C. P. MORRIS.

Church and Sunday School Furniture

Write for Catalog

SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

Common Itching RASHES

Apply Resinol at once to subdue the itching and soothe the angry skin

RESINOL

PROMPT AND PROLONGED ACTION

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 2, 1939 NUMBER 12

Christian Stewardship

Stewardship is the right attitude of a Christian towards his possessions. It has been called by some, the law of Christain living. It is the heart of Christian missions, the very soul of all altruistic enterprise. It grows out of our recognition of the Lord as the owner of all things of value, and of man as his steward to administer them for the glory of God in the upbuilding of the human race.

Every Christian will some time in his life answer the great question, "How much owest thou thy Lord?" For as a steward of his possessions and time; his privilege and opportunity, he will daily question his right to keep all he receives of the wealth of this world for his very own, and may have to decide whether since he is favored with health, friends, and opportunity for service, he can really be Christian and have no share in the extension of the Kingdom of Heaven.

The great compulsion of stewardship is love, not law, nor is it the desire to do as others do. The acts of the Christian steward are not changeful like the weather vane, he acts because he is loyal to his Lord and Master. A trustee is bound to be faithful by certain legal requirements, but the faithfulness of the Christian steward is prompted by love. Being God's representative he acts for Him as he disposes of his possessions.

To the Christian steward money can be converted into spiritual power. He knows that every dollar he holds represents that much time, skill, energy or self-sacrifice. It is to him, therefore a sacred trust, not to be dissipated. The Christian steward sees the power in money to heal the sick, to feed the hungry, to lift higher the standards of living, and even to preach the gospel to those who know it not. So the Christian steward makes money his servant, sends it out as his messenger of good cheer. It may reach many he has never known and he becomes a co-laborer with God. He may not be able to go as a missionary to a foreign country or to preach a sermon, but those he sends may carry the glad tidings to thousands because of his gifts.

Many hungry children may have bread because of him and may be clothed by his gifts whom he may never know in this life and they may rise up in heaven to thank him when he may say unto them in the language of the parable of our Lord, "When saw we thee and hungered and fed thee? or thirsty and gave thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger and took thee in, naked and clothed thee?" Does not the present need of our Board of Missions challenge all of us? Can we better show our appreciation of our Church than by sharing with it the gifts God has given us? What we shall do for the Methodist Protestant Church must be speedily done. A few months and it will be no more. The call comes to us to show our appreciation of the services our boards of missions and education rendered by giving generously toward the liquidation of the debts incurred in keeping these phases of the work of the Church going on. Act, therefore, the part of the Christian steward, and give to World Service as you have been blessed.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Meeting at Grace, February 20th

I am again calling attention to the Conference-wide meeting to be held at Grace church in Greensboro on Monday, February 20th, beginning at 1:30 o'clock and running through the afternoon service. Dr. J. H. Straughn, the President of the General Conference will be one of the speakers and in addition there will be several others. Next week I hope to give the names of the speakers and their subjects. This meeting is in the interest of the Appreciation Year Campaign but some of the subjects will deal with the past and the future of our Church. But right now, begin to make your plans to be at Grace that day, both ministers and laymen. The Executive Committee of the Conference Committee on Appreciation Year met at the President's parsonage today and plans were made to have both men and women on the program.

Many District Meetings

Last week when I read the HERALD I was particularly gratified to see that there were to be so many District Meetings on this past Sunday. In case any district did not have one I am urging that you do have one at an early date. When the Conference Committee met some time ago it was decided that the interest in the Appreciation Year work could best be promoted in District Meetings. Whenever these meetings are held I am sure there will be more interest. For the whole matter comes back to the problem of leadership. Where there are enthusiastic leaders there will be some willing laymen. So let the good work go on in the District meetings.

A Sunday On the Denton Charge

Last Sunday was spent on the Denton charge, Rev. G. L. Curry, pastor, the morning being given to Denton and the afternoon to Canaan. The weather Sunday morning was rather gloomy and rather threatening. This, it was thought, had some effect on the congregation. However, there was a fair sized congregation and these seemed to be interested. The Sunday school was in session when I arrived and it later reassembled enabling me to see something of the size of the school and the age of the pupils. I had visited this church at an evening service last year but had not been there for a morning service before. We have a splendid building in Denton and our church has always been one of the leading churches of the town. Recently the name Central has been given to the church, so they will have no difficulty in recognizing themselves from now on. This is Brother Curry's second year on this charge and he is very active in the work as he always is. Last Sunday being Young People's Day throughout the denomination, the printed bulletins sent out by that department were used. The offering was stressed as being a credit on the World Service Budget.

At the afternoon hour we found ourselves at Canaan Church. This church is something like five miles rather northeast of Denton and it is near the Randolph County line although the church is in Davidson County. This was my first visit to this church and for various reasons I was delighted to be there. There was a splendid congregation present with a high percentage of nice-looking young people. Since I had planned to preach to young people it pleased me much to have so many to preach to. Here also the programs sent out by the Board were used. There is always something interesting to me about going to a church for the first time. This church has the honor of being the home church of two of our most useful ministers, namely, Revs. C. E. and Atlas Ridge. For that reason I was delighted to be there. After the service Brother Curry was good enough to drive me past the homes where both of these men were brought up. I always feel like taking off my hat as I pass by the old home place where our ministers and missionaries and church workers were brought up. And I always thank God for the parents who were instrumental in directing the lives of their offspring into channels of service. I wish I could visit the old home place of all of our ministers. There is always something sacred about these old places. Well, it was good to be with Brother Curry and his good people and the day was all too short. Brother Curry is one of the hardest workers and one of the most likeable men we have.

A Memorial To Our Deceased Ministers

One thing which I meant to present to our recent conference but which I failed to do was to suggest that on Memorial Day this year a brief service to be held at the grave of all of our deceased ministers and that flowers be placed thereon. Having held a service for the past two years I know there is virtue in the idea. If the present pastor did not know the deceased and does not care to make any remarks he can get some one else to take this part. Some fine historical facts will be instilled into the younger generation by this method. And since this probably is our last year as a separate denomination it is especially appropriate that we do this as a part of our appreciation of our church and those who have made it possible. I expect to have more to say about this later and I trust that at our meeting at Grace on February 20th we may take some action that will get something started along this line. According to my way of thinking one of the signs of greatness is to see the good in others and to appreciate what others have done for us.

Raise Money for Delegate's Expenses

While we are thinking about raising World Service in full this year let us not forget to raise that fund for Delegate's Expenses to the Uniting Conference. It will be asking too much of these people to require them to pay their way to Kansas City and to bear their expenses after arriving there. If every charge will take some steps to raise this amount and send it to Treasurer Allen by April 10th it will be great.

Appointments

Sunday, February 5th, West Forsyth Charge, Stony Knoll at 9:45 a. m. and Baltimore at 11:15 a. m.

Sunday, February 12th, 11 a. m. Reidsville.

Sunday, February 19th, 2:30 p. m. Fairgrove church on the Seagrove-Love Joy charge in Appreciation Year Rally.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church
Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.
Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.
Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.
VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 2, 1939 NUMBER 12

A Message In Verse

"Go quickly." Not with angel host the glad commission lies;
'Tis thine the blessed news to bear.
Redeemed lips his love declare,
A joy with angels may not share,
The work is thine, Arise.
"Go quickly." Urgent is the call, it will not brook delay;
Go forth with loyal heart and brave,
Go tell them of the empty grave;
Go speed thee in the way.
Happy whoso Christ's word convey,
That He may meet them on their way.

—Selected.

◆

Punctuality is the soul of business as brevity is the soul of wit. —O. S. Marden.

By the street of by and by one arrives at the house of never.—Cervantes.

Whoever can make two ears of corn, two blades of grass to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind and do more essential service to his country than the whole race of politicians put together.—Swift.

The secret of success in life is for a man to be ready for his opportunity when it comes.—Disraeli.

◆

We greatly appreciate the responses of pastors and Herald Agents to our SOS. Shiloh comes in with the largest contribution, twenty-five dollars this week. And Pastor Ridge sends us a very fine article on the Herald. Look at it and read it.

We hope our correspondents have been patient with us. We just received more reports, obituaries, marriage announcements and other contributions to our pages than we could handle. But we are catching up some this week and hope to publish those much delayed reports, etc. very soon.

The friends of Dr. Bethea will be glad to tune in on WWNC, Asheville, 10:45-11:00 a. m., February 6-10, Monday to Friday. He has charge of the regular morning devotions at that time for the days stated above.

◆

"Doing a Common Thing Uncommonly Well"

Several years ago J. D. Rockefeller, Jr. in speaking of the elements of success said, success largely consists in doing common things uncommonly well. I think you will agree that this is a splendid way to define success; or to state it differently, this is a sure way to win success. And yet for most people it is a very difficult thing to do. Common tasks do not make a very strong appeal to us. The average person wants to be challenged, to be summoned to try the impossible; to do what no one else has ever done. And this is what they call success. Naaman the leper in the days of the prophet Elisha was of that type. To dip his leprous body seven times in the river Jordan looked like a very common treatment for leprosy. He expected the prophet to come out to his chariot, to rub his hands over the sores and to speak some magic words, or to send him back to his own country there to perform a great task.

Our experience as a pastor is, that we had far too few church members who were willing to give their time and energy to the doing of some common task so completely that they did it uncommonly well. They were allured by a good set of new year resolutions, or a different program for worship or new plan for raising the church budget, but when it came to keeping the new year resolutions of church attendance, family prayers, visiting other church members, paying their assessment weekly, being present on time at the class of unruly boys fifty-two times a year; they failed to do these common things uncommonly well. They did not meet the conditions of success in the phases of church activities they had given themselves up to. We repeat, it is no easy thing to do common tasks uncommonly well, and yet the doing of them describes the difference between success and failure in the lives of many otherwise good people.

◆

Worship

Worship is the central act in the Christian religion. Its reach is from earth to heaven; like the ladder Jacob saw upon which angels ascending and descending brought comfort to his lonely soul. Worship holds the worshipper to God like gravity holds us to the earth. Worship renews the strength of the weary like the refreshing showers bring new life to the withering flower. Worship clarifies our understanding of truth and deepens our sense of responsibility to God and to man; it is only through the spirit of devotion that we feel most sensibly the presence of the Lord. Our souls are lifted by worship out of the miry ways of evil and we are placed upon the sure foundation of eternal life. Formal religion becomes real only through spiritual devotion. The prophet Isaiah called worship waiting upon the Lord, and declared that all such would renew their strength and mount up with wings like eagles; that they would run and not be weary and walk and not faint. Worship is to the soul what food is to the body and it is by this spiritual exercise that we grow in grace. ''Forsake not the assembling of yourselves as the manner of some is.''

◆

PRAYER

Create in us, O God, dreams of great things yet to be done and may neither cowardice nor timidity hold us back from the last full measure of devotion in order that our divinely inspired dreams may be realized. In the name of Christ. Amen. —W. C. Covert.

◆

To be content with little is difficult; to be content with much impossible.—Proverbs.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN
AND THE PASTURE

By Robert Frost

Many people today feel that the apparent formlessness and lack of conventional romanticism in most of the poetry written during the past quarter of a century take it out of the realm of truly great poetry. On the contrary, some of the poetry being written today is as great as has ever been written; but it is different. It sounds a new note; it manifests a new approach to life, but is that not to be expected? Life is not static; the old order must change and give place to the new. This is an age of realism and a new romanticism, and those poets who are writing worthwhile poetry during these days have caught and reflected these characteristics. Therefore in order to come to a real appreciation of the new poetry it is necessary for the reader to approach the poems with an understanding of this fact.

Robert Frost is one of the few American poets who stand at the top among the poets of past and present. One must understand the sturdy and rugged New England ancestry that has gone into the heritage of this man to obtain the greatest joy from what he writes. He and his poems are as much New England as the isolated farmhouses, the blueberries, the birches, or the stone walls, of which he writes, yet he is as universal in his description of these natural settings and his delineation of the characters who mave among them, as nature and humanity are universal. Louis Untermeyer says of him: ''Neighborliness is universalized and localism is a province of humanity.''

Most poets at some time and in some form, either in prose or verse, set forth their theories of what poetry means to them individually, and their aims for its meaning to their readers. In The Road Not Taken, used as the foreword to Mountain Interval, one of his early volumes, and in The Pasture, the introduction to North of Boston, published in 1914, and the volume which first acclaimed him as a really great poet, Robert Frost sets forth his aims and ideals. Mr. Frost does not ever give in so many words a moral to any of his poems, yet through all of them, even the most whimsical, there is a moral earnestness that is more impressive than a moral set off in words could possibly be; he does not at any time insist upon the acceptance by his readers of his own attitude toward any phase of life, yet his strong, sturdy, and steadfast philosophy is apparent in everything he writes. This philosophy se seems to have acquired as early in life as Robert Browning did, and to have found it not only unchanged but even intensified as the years went on. In one of his earliest poems he wrote a premonitory couplet in regard to those who would find him again later on:

''They would not find me changed from him they knew,
Only more sure of all I thought was true.''

One has said of these lines: ''No reviewer has written, no critic will write, a better summary.''

To every thoughtful and purposeful person there comes a time when he must choose one course or the other, and his whole future depends on the road he takes. Robert Frost, in The Road Not Taken, writes a comprehending poetic understatement of such a choice:

''Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in undergrowth;
Then took the other, as just as fair
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;''

Then this common experience:

''Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.''

To how few of us comes the assurance that the way we chose was the one that would have led to the greatest success; we constantly face the question whether or not the other road would have taken us to greater heights, just as in these lines:

''I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.''

Many of the important poets today are the writers of short poems. This is especially true of Robert Frost. He has written no long poem, yet everything he has written is complete —there is no unfinished fragment. Each is the fulfillment of an experience and the moving on to another, perhaps as homely as it is universal, but essential to life and happiness.

The Pasture, a brief lyric of only eight lines, contains an invitation into an understanding of all his poetry and all his philosophy, and into his very workshop as well. The forms he uses in his poems are as simple and straight-forward as the life he depicts: simple rimed stanzas or a free flowing blank verse far removed from the formality of the iambic pentameter of an earlier day; the philosophy he reveals is as strong and genuine as the rugged hills among which he has spent his life; there is a morality implicit without being insistent—''and watch the water clear, I may;'' and all is told with a homeliness of language and subject-matter that gives to poetry a new meaning.

Here is the poem in its entirety:

''I'm going out to clean the pasture spring;
I'll only stop to rake the leaves away
(And wait to watch the water clear, I may):
I sha'n't be gone long.—You come too.

I'm going out to fetch the little calf
That's standing by the mother. It's so young,
It totters when she licks it with her tongue.
I sha'n't be gone long.—You come too.''

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER PREACHES AT PENTECOST

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, February 5

Lesson Text—Acts 2:12-18, 36-41.

Golden Text—Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts. Zachariah 4:6.

After the Sermon on the Mount by Jesus Himself, this sermon by Peter on the day of Pentecost is the most famous in the annals of Christian history. It is the first presentation of the gospel in its completed form after the ascension of Jesus. We have, of course, but a condensed outline of the sermon, but enough to show us something of its scope and character. It was a sermon preached on short notice and before an excited mob, thus making it a difficult one to preach. Therefore it was not a sermon that was prepared very long beforehand though Peter did call upon his earnest and faithful study of the Old Testament Scriptures in proving to this crowd that Jesus Christ was the true Messiah. This sermon was almost purely and simply coming straight from the new Peter that had come to the front at the day of Pentecost. He had come through the careful schooling of the Master as to the true secret of his power and had learned through bitter lessons that it was "not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit" that he and the others would be able to build His church. It is the presence of this Holy Spirit in the life of Peter that makes this sermon so powerful and effective.

Let us get the dramatic picture of this lesson: A great multitude of people surround the disciples, and the crowd constantly increases as the service proceeds. There, in the midst of the throng, stands Peter, a strong, robust fisherman, with none of the graces of the schools, but aflame with earnestness and magnetic with the power of the Holy Spirit. There is no attempt at elegance of speech, but just a big, blunt, plain-spoken man, trembling with holy passion, on fire to the very tips of his fingers, speaking out of the Scriptures, and still more out of his own heart history, what he knows about the life and death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. He is absolutely fearless of everybody but God. People may not always be pleased with him, but they will always want to hear him. Had it not been for the presence of their own consciences along with that of the Holy Spirit to show them the truth of Peter's piercing words they would have perhaps put him to death. Thus we see that most of the power that is in the sermon is in Peter's own heart and life and not in the written matter that is preserved on the paper here for us.

Phillips Brooks says that the most powerful part of a sermon is the man behind it. In the Iliad Homer makes an ugly, ill-tempered, sharp-tongued man deliver a speech against King Agamemnon, which in ink is one of the finest things in the Ilaid. But it had no effect on the army, because of the character of the man that made it. "In engineering," says Dr. Gregg, "it is a rule that a cannon should be one hundred times heavier than its shot. And a man's character should be a hundred times heavier than what he says." So with Peter here, he has come from his schooling with Jesus and from his anointing by the Holy Spirit a hundred times heavier than his sermon and God marvelously used him in winning about three thousand souls for Christ by his first sermon.

"Help me the slow of heart to move
By some clear winning word of love;
Teach me the wayward feet to stay,
And guide them in the homeward way."

It is interesting here to note that it was in the preaching of a sermon that Christianity found its first advance in the pagan world. Thus the pulpit has found a very prominent place in the church down through the centuries. The Methodist Church came preaching, as Peter, in the glow of Pentecost and so long as the warm heart shall prompt the preacher Methodism will continue to command hearers. It will be well for Methodism, as it approaches a greater church in numbers, to remember that "not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord" will her preaching have power to move the lost masses of earth.

"Our lives are songs; God writes the words,
And we set them to music at pleasure;
And the song grows glad or sweet or sad,
As we choose to fashion the measure.
We must write the music, whatever the song,
Whatever its rhyme or meter;
And if it is sad we can make it glad,
Or if sweet we can make it sweeter."

◆

PERSONAL MENTION

Ogburn Stafford, Jr., West End Church, has gone home after undergoing an appendectomy.

Mrs. Raleigh S. Stewart, West End Church, after undergoing a serious operation is at home and rapidly regaining her health.

Mr. J. Norman Wills, General Superintendent of West End Sunday school spent last week in Jackson, Miss. attending an important meeting of one of the committees on Methodist Union.

Rev. W. D. Reed is able to be up in his room after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Reed is also recovering from the 'flu.

Rev. G. F. Milloway has not been so well, we learn, for the past week.

Mrs. J. S. Wade, St. Paul Church, is improving from a serious attack of pneumonia and complications at a local hospital.

Mr. E. W. Teague, is recovering from a serious operation at his home.

◆

"Your vegetables cost more than they used to."

"Yes," replied the farmer, "when a farmer is supposed to know the botanical name of what he's raisin', the zoological name of the insect that eats it, and the chemical name of what will kill it, somebody's got to pay."

SUPPORTING THE HERALD

For nearly half a century the Methodist Protestant Church in North Carolina has had its own church paper, and the only reason for keeping it in existence through the years as I see it, was to further the cause of our church and the Kingdom of God. That it has done this no one would dare to deny. This paper has made a great contribution to every church, to every organization in our church, to every institution that we have, and every Methodist Protestant home where it has made its weekly visits, and we might go a step further and say that no agency in our Conference has done as much along all lines of endeavor, and played such an important part in the development of our beloved Zion.

This paper needs no one to defend its record, or its indispensable value in service to our church. We all rise up with one accord, and say "We Must Keep the HERALD."

It may seem a bit strange that a publication of such infinite value to the very life and growth of our church has had such a struggle to exist, because of inadequate financial support. But, some of the best things that have come to the church have had to struggle for their very existence. That has been true of Christianity itself.

For a number of years we have had as our goal three thousand subscriptions from thirty thousand members of North Carolina. We are still trying to reach that goal as indicated by the chart on the back page of the HERALD. If every charge will get busy and raise its subscription quota as listed on back page, the HERALD's financial problems would be met for the year.

This is the time in the history of our church when Methodist Protestants should be reading our own church paper. We must be informed in order to know, and appreciate this great Union of Methodism. We must get much of this information from the METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD. We can subscribe for it with the full assurance that this paper is going to live on in the future. If a merger should take place in the future it will enable us to receive a church paper of still greater size and value.

After all that we pastors have said about the HERALD, and as much as we have appreciated it, I seriously doubt if ALL of us have ever got solidly behind a campaign to raise that HERALD quota on every Charge in this Conference.

We are living in a day that success comes only to those who go after the business, and the preacher's business is no exception. I believe that if every pastor, in cooperation with his HERALD agents, will get squarely behind their subscription quota and go out and sell this paper in the confidence he has something to offer that our people need, and cannot afford to be without, that subscriptions will begin to pour in. "It Can Be done." Surely we want to do this thing because we ought to do it, for the sake of the church and the Kingdom.

C. E. RIDGE.

◆

All journeys must some time end; all accounts must some time be settled. The greater the speed and the more sin one accumulates to his account the harder it will be to reform and the more certain he will not be able to escape punishment.—Annual Lesson Commentary.

THANKFULNESS AND CONFIDENCE

By REV. W. A. LEDFORD

Some have called Paul's letter to the Philippians his love letter, while others have termed it a letter of the heart. After his gracious salutation, he pours out his great heart and soul in thanksgiving and confidence. There he saw no theological errors to correct, nor open sins to rebuke. Such lovely relations existed between him and them that he thanked God every time he thought of them. There were no nauseating memories.

The generous hospitality he experienced in the home of Lydia seems to have been an omen of all that followed. Long after other churches in that section ceased their sympathetic cooperation, the church at Philippi continued with the regularity of a budding tree, or the blooming of the monthly rose. Courageous Epaphroditus hazarded his very life ministering unto the needs of Paul. Their hospitality left as sweet a remembrance with Paul, as Mary's alabaster box of precious ointment left with Jesus Christ. Such acts make up part of that "Invisible Salary", which the late Dr. H. L. Elderdice use to speak of, with such eloquence and warmth of appreciation.

While Paul appreciated very much all the personal kindnesses shown him, he seems to have appreciated more the fine sympathetic cooperation given in the furtherance of the Gospel, which was dearer to Paul than life itself. Most pastors have found a few members, who were rather generous with the local church, and intensely loyal to the local cemetery, but were hostile to the Missionary Program of the church, and would place as many obstacles in the way of the forward movements of the Kingdom, as Diotrepes ever did. When such stumbling blocks are removed, surely the angels rejoice. Paul found no such members among the saints at Philippi.

Doubtless, the growing opposition to the growing church was apparent to all. Perhaps, there was much anxiety as to what would become of the church when Paul died. Sensing their anxiety and fear for the future, Paul wrote this message of comfort and assurance, "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you . . . being confident of this very thing, that he who began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of Jesus Christ—the Judgment." Paul was unshaken in his faith that the work there was of God, and was confident that God being Alpha and Omega, that the work would be carried on successfully.

Years ago, as I sat at the feet of that intellectual giant and spiritual genius, Dr. Harris E. Kirk, pastor of the Franklin St. Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, Md., I realized as never before Paul's feeling of confidence. Dr. Kirk had just returned from one of his many vacations in Europe. He viewed his church then himself. He felt somewhat depressed. The church was becoming a down town church and he was growing old. He has now given more than forty years of marvelous ministry to this great church. The disturbing question that inevitably came up, was, "What will become of this church, when I am gone?" Paul's message of assurance to the church at Philippi satisfied the heart and soul of this modern preacher. Doubtless, myriads of both ministers and laymen have been comforted by this gracious assurance. One man may begin and another finish, but our God is the beginner and finisher of all that He undertakes. We are just day laborers in His vineyard.

Messages of comfort and consolation are always in order. This brief one may fall into some hands, who are nearing the retirement age and have many misgivings for the church of the future. There may be some, who are disturbed over the approaching merger of the large bodies of Methodism. Hazy in their minds as to how it is all going to work out. Paraphrasing the assuring words of Paul, I am confident that the God who began Methodism in the nursery of Susanna Wesley, enlarged it in the Holy Club of Oxford University, and gave it a Penticostal Baptism in Aldersgate, is in this merger, and will lead in the greater days and wider mission that is just ahead of us. Our past makes thrilling history, and our future is perfectly safe in the hands of God.

The church of God is one institution in this world that is here to stay. Our Lord assures us that it is built upon a rock and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. Our little institutions have their day and pass away, but the church of Jesus Christ remains a thousand years the same. The motto of Methodism, "The workers are called home, but the work goes on" should be consoling to all, who are nearing the retirement age. Instead of feeling that the church cannot get along without us: let us understand that the church can get along a thousand times better without us than we can without it. It holds all the light this world has to travel to the better world by.

Allow me to close these rambling remarks on this double theme by pointing out a few of the things that brought comfort and confidence to Paul. The first is that God is able to carry on anything He begins to a successful conclusion. If a work is of God man cannot defeat it. The second thing that was helpful to Paul was that all things work together for good to them that love God. He learned this lesson after much suffering and prayer. These things taken separately, like pieces of steel that go to make up an ocean liner, would sink him, but together they were his salvation. Would build sinners up into the statue of the fulness of Christ. Finally Paul exclaimed, "I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day." These unshaken confidences logically and inevitably broke into thanksgiving and praise.

Laytonsville, Md.

Hotel Clerk (to visitor): "May I ask what that strange thing is you're carrying under your arm?"

Visitor: "That is a new fire escape. I always carry it in case of fire so that I can let myself down from the hotel window."

Clerk: "A good idea. But, by the way, our terms for guests with fire escapes are cash in advance."

We are all of us architects, or, rather, we are laborers together with God as the great Architect. We are building up the soul into character.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

It takes really a higher faith to trust God for this world than for the next.—Garrett.

GERMAN AUSTRIAN SCHOOLS

It is announced by the Hitler regime that religious and other private schools of German Austria were to be closed September 19, 1938, following which the State and National Socialist Party will assume the education of youth.

Most of the non-public schools in Austria were Church schools, conducted by the Roman Catholic Orders. There were also a few sectarian schools operated by Protestants, and a small number of secular private schools.

Previous to the announcement of the new educational plan, Hitler's Chief Deputy for German Austria, Joseph Burckel, said in a speech at Stuttgart, August 31, 1938:

We must take care of the preservation of our nation in this world. This only is possible if care is total care, therefore the school must belong to the State upon which devolves the responsibility for the future.

The State owns youth; the Church can only act in a secondary capacity in religious care.—Supreme Council Bulle.

ANSWERS

What is faith? Gardens say
As the pine trees are in May;
Newness lifting from the old,
Greenness starring boughs that hold
Deep within a pulsing will
Neither frost nor cold can kill.

What is courage? Gardens know;
As the iris ranks that go
Dauntless through the white high noon
To some earth-old marching tune;
Forward-facing, rainbow clad,
Gallant and forever glad.

What is love? Gardens prove
Love is life—life is love;
And wherever these are one
Beauty flowers in the sun.
Minds weave mysteries about
Things that gardens never doubt.

By Molly Anderson Haley in The Churchman, New York.

No doubt a world in which matter never got out of place and became dirt, in which iron had no flaws and wood no cracks, in which gardens had no weeds and food grew ready cooked, in which clothes never wore out and washing was as easy as advertisements describe it, in which the right word was not hard to find and rules had no exceptions, and things never went wrong, would be a much easier place to live in. But for the purpose of training and development it would be worth nothing at all. It is the resistance that puts us on our mettle; it is the conquest of the reluctant stuff that educates the worker. I wish you enough difficulties to keep you well and make you strong and skillfull.—Henry Van Dyke.

Nothing relieves and ventilates the mind like a resolution. —John Burroughs.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

HANDS ACROSS RACIAL BARRIERS

Topic for February 12, 1939

DAILY BIBLE READINGS

Monday, February 6—Serving foreign captors. Dan. 5:13-17.

Tuesday, February 7—Deathless love between aliens. Ruth 1:14-17.

Wednesday, February 8 — Helpfulness, a barrier-destroyer. Luke 10:30-37.

Thursday, February 9—God, no respector of races. Acts. 10:34-38.

Friday, February 10—No racial barriers in Christ. Col. 3:10, 11.

Saturday, February 11—Jesus Christ, the common Lord. Phil. 2:9-11.

The Text: John 13:55; 15:12-17; Acts 17:24-28. (Race Relations Sunday).

Perhaps there is no way in which we who are Christians are disappointing God, and acting contrary to the teachings of Jesus Christ as in our attitude toward, and our relationships toward those on the other side of our racial barriers. There are a good many of us who are quite willing to support the local church, and even to go as far away from home with our Christianity as some orphanage supported by our own denomination.

Jesus had much to say about those people who were satisfied to live within their own group and let the remainder of the world suffer as circumstances made it necessary. We have pretended to be Christian, and at the same time we have so built up racial barriers that we have turned away from Christ many who looked to us as model Christians.

We look with condemnation upon the caste system of India and yet we have built up a more degrading caste system in our civilized America. In many places the Jew, the Negro, and the Oriental are just as much an untouchable as the lower caste people in the jungles of India. We who are followers of the Christ do it; contrary to His new commandment: "A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another."

So few of us are able to pass the acid test of Christian Discipleship, that we sometimes wonder if there really are many followers of the Christ in the world; for how many people do you know who can pass the test: "By this shall all men know that ye are My disciples, if ye have love one to another."

One of the most practical lessons that Jesus ever taught was directly upon this subject. A lawyer one day tempted Jesus by asking Him what he must do to inherit eternal life. Jesus answered in a few words coming immediately to the point: "Thou love the Lord thy God . . .; and thy neighbor as thyself." But the lawyer tried to justify himself as we still do today, by asking who his neighbor was. In answer Jesus told a story which we have all known from childhood but which has apparently meant little to us.

"A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee."

Jesus does not say to the lawyer, "Thou shalt not . . .;" but he tells him to step across racial barriers and give a cup of cold water in the Master's name. He is demanding that if we are followers of His we do the same today.

Dr. Clovis Chappell in one of his sermons on the Lord's Prayer says that all men are divided into two groups: Those who are against Christ—who try to tear down love and build up barriers of hate between individuals and races. Those who are for Christ are doing everything in their power to bring about the brotherhood of men. They are tearing down racial barriers and showing their brothers of other races that God is Love.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer after he had given up his friends and his professorship in the University of Strassburg and gone to Africa as a missionary wrote home somewhat after this fashion: "The operation is over, and I am sitting in the dormitory watching the patient, waiting for him to wake. By and by his eyes open, and he ejaculates, 'I have no pain, I have no pain!' Then his hand feels for mine and finds it, and he begins to ask questions. And I tell him and the others who are present that it is the Lord Jesus that told me and my wife to come out to Africa, where there is so much suffering. And as we sit there thus holding hands we know from experience the truth of what Jesus said, 'One is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren.' And I wish that my generous friends at home could live through one such glorious hour."

So it is with you and me. If we give even so much as a cup of cold water in His name, we are helping to build up the brotherhood of mankind — to break down Racial Barriers.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

In reporting last week the amount from Hickory Grove S. S., Guilford, should have been $7.26 instead of $6.26 as reported. We are sorry for the error.

Fair Haven S. S., N. J.	$ 4.60
Canaan S. S., N. Davidson	3.50
Flat Rock S. S., Flat Rock	2.50
China Grove S. S.	1.88
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	3.43
Dulins, Mocksville	1.60
Brower's Chapel, Richland, December and January	10.00
Friendship, Fallston	4.50
Maple Springs S. S., Forsyth	5.00
Hope S. S., Siler City	1.00
Kistler's Union S. S., Cleveland	3.18
Hartford, Ala.	1.00
Union Chapel S. S., Granville	8.89
New Salem S. S., Randleman	2.25
Caroleen S. S.	3.36
Efland S. S., Orange	10.97
Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	2.06
Bessemer City S. S.	1.00
Bess Chapel S. S.	3.50
Baraca Class, Gibsonville, clothing child	5.00
The Ladies' Aid Society, Elwood, Ind., feeding child	5.00
Bethel, Alamance	6.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

First Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., 3 boxes of white gifts packages.

Calvary, Greensboro, cakes and cookies for school lunches, and 14 cans of fruits and vegetables.

We are thankful for all these gifts of money and substance.

February will be upon us when you send this report. Offerings have dropped since Christmas. May we not start in with February to boost them back to normal again? We thank you.

A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

Two New Yorkers were visiting the Mexican village in Los Angeles. Looking around for a place to get some real Mexican food, they spotted a sign over the door: "Portos—Chili—Enchiladas."

"What is it?" asked Harry.

"Don't be a chump," replied Mack, "act wise and follow me."

In they went, and when Mack told the waitress to bring them "portos," she only gave them a blank look. Mack repeated the order.

"I am sorry," finally stammered the girl, "I cannot give you Portos."

"Why not?" asked the puzzled Mack.

"Becoz," replied the waitress, "Portos, he ezz my father."—Ex.

◆

The labor situation is becoming wholly impossible and very dangerous.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

THE DEDICATION OF THE CHURCH IN INDIA

Possibly the greatest day in the history of the Methodist Protestant Mission in India was Sunday, December 11, 1938. The new church was dedicated. It meant a lot of work for me and the preachers but for almost a month we spent our time at the church. The preachers all worked like carpenters and sandpapered the pulpit furniture. We had the altar, pulpit, lectern, two chairs, and altar rail made by our local Hindu carpenter. It is very plain but looks well and fits exactly in the church. Well it looks like a real church. There is a platform looking like many of them at home and a kneeling pad at the altar rail. On the inside of the rail is a small shelf for the communion cups. From the rail back it looks like many churches you see at home but from there to the door it looks like the east. There is not a pew in the church. The walls are all pillars and arches. There are two rows of pillars in the church with beautiful graceful low arches just in front of these. On the outside walls are pillars like those inside but in the arches are filled with cathedral glass. I believe you will pardon me for saying that it really is beautiful in its simplicity. There is a very large window in the back of the church made up of colored glass. The Mohammedan merchant from whom we bought our provisions gave the glass to us. A small window back of the altar is also made of colored cathedral glass. We hope to have a beautiful art glass window there later. The top is corrugated iron. That will make a perfect roof as it will not leak and will last a life-time. The floors are made of stone and the walls are colored cream with the ceiling painted ivory. On one side of the pulpit is a room for the study and on the other is a room for storing the articles needed about a church. About the church lot is a strong fence about five feet high. Later on when the new line is laid we shall have water on the lot and will plant a garden and have a hedge about the grounds. We have not had the current connected up but the wiring has about all been done. Soon we hope to have someone in for a couple of days and finish the wiring. For some time we shall not need the lights as all our meetings are in the day. Doubtless you will be surprised and pleased to learn that a house for the pastor, also junior church is about completed. This house is just across a side street from the church, and is just directly in front of the front gate of the compound on which we live. We have a splendid plant now and when the house is completed there will be a good hall, 15 by 40 feet, for junior Sunday school and church also. The hall may be used for any meetings of the community, thus keeping the church for worship only.

Invitations had been issued to all the neighboring missions, the leader of the Methodist Episcopal Church and representatives of the government to attend the dedication services at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. They attended in a big way and remained for dinner with us.

The procession from the old hall in which we had worshipped for fifteen years was most impressive—all the participants wearing robes—mine being the only black one.

The sermon by a leader of the United Church of India, to which body we belong, was a most fitting one. Bishop Badley of Delhi read the dedication in English and I read it in Marathi.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Bishop Badley delivered a message of power, and observance of the Holy Communion followed.

We now need a church bell that will sound over the whole of Dhulia. We ask that some friend in America who has such a good unused bell, will send it to us. We cannot get one here.

Thanking all who have helped in the work here in any way I am, sincerely,

J. F. MINNIS.

NOTE: This article has been condensed to fit our space, by the editor, from a letter to Dr. Haddaway which appeared in the Recorder of January 27.

A ROMANCE IN CHRISTIAN PUBLISHING

Sixty-three years ago a young man, animated with a passion for Christian service, had an idea. Today it is realized in the great out-reach of the David C. Cook Publishing Company.

The story of this concern reads like a romance. First, there is a slender, dark-haired youth teaching in a Chicago mission Sunday school and needing inexpensive lesson helps. He edits the material and strikes them off on an old hand press. They are good. Other schools want them.

Then a young man decides to give up a paying business and enter an untried field—mass production of Sunday school lesson helps and Christian story papers. Faith? Yes; faith—and work. The hand press gives way to one more powerful. The business prospers. It outgrows the Chicago quarters.

David C. Cook decided to move to Elgin, Ill. He sets up presses and other equipment in an old woolen mill. Ill health overtakes him, but nothing stops the work.

Like the sons of the prophets, his foremen say, "The place where we dwell with thee is too strait for us." A big building project is undertaken, and presently there is another migration—this time to new and ample quarters. Addition are made as needed.

Here, for twenty-five years, the consecrated mind of the founder originates plans for the Sunday school betterment, proves their worth in practice, and broadcasts them by means of his publications.

When, in 1927, the torch falls from his failing hand, it is caught up by his son, David C. Cook, Jr., fanned to new brilliancy and carried high for all too short a time. But the Cook line and the Cook traditions still go on. David C. Cook, III, steps forward. Youth is again at the helm. New ideas are born, new plans perfected.

The giant presses still roar, and every working day of the year tons of Sunday school literature are mailed to all quarters of the globe. A large and well supplied merchandise department furnishes addenda for all Sunday school needs, from Bibles to banquet decorations.

The David C. Cook Publishing Company serves 60,000 schools and sponsors thirty-seven different publications for all age groups, from adults to beginners. Lessons are thoroughly Biblical and Christ-centered in emphasis.

Its magazine for teachers is conceded to be the best in the field. Its story papers speak the language of youth. They meet young folks "where they live," and are a strong force for character building from childhood to maturity. Besides its thirty-seven different varieties of printed matter, the company also conducts a Personal Service Bureau which is much appreciated, judging by the widely varied demands made upon it. In short, when people want information on any Sunday school problem, they do not "Ask Foster;" they ask Cook's!

A great organization, founded in faith and nurtured by prayer and perseverance, the David C. Cook Publishing Company stands squarely today on the platform which has remained unshaken for more than half a century—"The Best of Everything for the Sunday School."

"THE CODFISH LAYS A MILLION EGGS"

The codfish lays a million eggs,
  The helpful hen but one,
But the codfish doesn't cackle
  To tell you what she's done;
And so we scorn the codfish coy,
  While the helpful hen we prize,
Which indicates to thoughtful minds
  IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Mother: "Johnny, on your way home from school stop at the store and get me a stick of candy and a bar of soap."

Father: "What do you want with a stick of candy?"

Mother: "That's so he'll remember the soap."—Ex.

No neutrality is of any value that we are not willing to insist upon by force of arms.—Bernard M. Baruch.

Some men over 70 are fit to serve and some men under 70 aren't fit to serve at anything.—Senator Carter Glass.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Draper, J. L. Love, Pastor.—Our church is doing fine. Our pastor brings us a soul-inspiring sermon each service. He is delivering a series of Sunday night sermons on Eternal Security, which is very much needed in this day of so much handshake religion, join the church, live as you please and go to heaven, being taught.

Our Sunday school is double what it was last year, and still growing. Mr. Ernest Chilton is our superintendent.

The young people's C. E. society is growing. More young people are taking an interest in it, of which we are glad.

We have cottage prayer meeings each Tuesday night. Have Bible study at our Wednesday night service, which is interesting and profitable to us all.

Our Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Edna Wilson last Monday night. After the devotional new officers were elected as follows: Mrs. J. L. Love, president; Mrs. Minnie King, vice-president; Miss Katherine Ferris, secretary; Mrs. J. S. Biddle, treasurer; Mrs. Page, Miss Helen Stewart, and Miss Magdalene Chilton, sick committee; Miss Edna Wilson, program committee.

Mrs. Annie Boyles, one of our teachers, has been confined to her home for some time. We hope she will soon be able to come back and continue the good work she was doing. She is missed very much.

Pray for us that we may still grow in grace and the knowledge of our Lord.

A MEMBER.

* * *

Mt. Zion, Weaverville Charge.—Rev. W. C. Clark filled his regular Sunday morning appointment last Sunday. We are very glad to have him with us for another year. Everyone is very much impressed with the splendid sermons he brings us twice a month.

Our Sunday school attendance has been almost double since Christmas. Officers were elected last Sunday. Mr. Frank Rogers is our new superintendent and others took offices.

The Ladies' Aid society met at the home of Mrs. Russell Roberts last week. The attendance and interest are good. They are working on quilts that will be sold. Proceeds will be used for improvements on the church.

CLEO ROBERTS, Reporter.

* * *

Bethany Church, Randolph Charge, Rev. H. L. Isley, Pastor.—Since this is the first report since conference, I wish to say that we are glad to have Mr. Isley as our pastor this year. We enjoy Mrs. Isley worshiping with us also. Our pastor brought us a very inspiring message the third Sunday in January. Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the direction of Miss Swanna Baldwin, superintendent. We had 122 present for Sunday school the fourth Sunday. This is the largest attendance we have had in years. But due to sickness and bad weather we had only 100 present yesterday.

The Christian Endeavor society meets at the church every Sunday night. Interesting programs are given at each meeting. We now have around 50 members.

We are planning to have electric lights installed in our church in the near future.

Mrs. Etta Allred is improving from a recent illness. We hope she will soon be able to come to church again.

REPORTER.

* * *

Haw River Church, Glen Raven Charge, Rev. Joseph Coble, Pastor.—Our church and Sunday school work is again progressing. Sunday school attendance is growing each Sunday and we have a very good church attendance.

Our new pastor, Rev. Joseph Coble, is showing much interest and we all appreciate him very much.

The Lord's Supper was observed this Lord's Day and many communed. The service was beautifully carried out by the pastor, with sermon and songs for the occasion.

The pastor, and church and Sunday school officials, will meet this Saturday night, January 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Williamson for an oyster supper, and to discuss and plan the work for the new year. We ask you to pray for us that we may be able to meet our obligations and that we may all be faithful in the work of the Master.

MRS. HENRY MARTIN, Reporter.

* * *

Pinnacle M. P. Church, Rev. J. D. Morris, Pastor.—We started off our new year happy when we realized how fortunate we are to have our pastor back with us again this year. He has been very successful since he has been with us, making friends with everyone with whom he comes in contact. We are looking forward to showing him our appreciation for his good work by giving him larger attendance this year.

Every year we witness many changes in our church. This year we are giving up some of our young people from our Sunday school. Our junior class teacher, Miss Pauline Watson, was married to Mr. Tom Jones, another member of our Sunday school. They are making their home in Florida with Pauline's brother, Wesley, who was also married last year. They all attended church regularly. They leave a space in the church that is not filled and we think of them every Sunday. We know that by our loss someone else gains, and wish them much success and look forward to their return to us.

Our regular monthly preaching service was held this morning with Rev. J. D. Morris presiding.

We were very fortunate to have with us Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wright, instructors from Pinnacle high school, who led the choir program, Mr. Wright leading the singing and Mrs. Wright playing the piano.

The choir program consisted of three songs: "Sun of My Soul," "Take the Name of Jesus With You," and "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" Responsive reading: Preaching the Gospel, Matt. 28:18-20, Rom. 1:14-16, Rom. 10:12-15. A special offering was taken to pay our share of the expenses of sending delegates to the Uniting Conference to be held in Kansas City in April. Mrs. Wright rendered a beautiful piano solo entitled, "Give Me Thy Heart."

Our pastor, Rev. J. D. Morris, brought a very interesting sermon, taking his text from Timothy 2:3. He gave many illustrations and each time brought us back to his topic, "A Good Soldier of Jesus Christ." He gave us some hints on how to be a good soldier for the church. The service was closed by a song by the choir, "Sweet By and By."

VIOLETTE A. HUNT, Reporter.

* * *

Lebanon, Spring Church Charge, J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—This is our first report since conference. Our church attendance is below average, but is improving.

Rev. J. E. Garlington, our pastor, is attending the Seminary. Because of this fact we have changed our regular church services from the first and third Sundays at 11 o'clock to the second and fourth Sundays at 2 o'clock. This change has been made so that he can come just twice a month and have a service at all the churches each time. The plan will be in effect only until Mr. Garlington gets home from school, which will be in April. We still have Sunday school services on the first and third Sundays at 10 o'clock.

We had our first afternoon service Sunday, at which time Mr. Garlington delivered a splendid sermon on "Reaping What Is Sown." The text was, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Gal 6:7. He stressed the point that although one is ignorant of what kind of seed he sows, he will still reap what is sown.

We have raised our portion of the annual conference expenses in contributions and pledges. These pledges are going to be paid before the third Sunday in February.

We are planning to have our Young People's service for Sunday, February 12, at 2 o'clock. We are expecting to have a short program by the young people and a sermon on "Youth in Gratitude," by Rev. Mr. Garlington.

DOROTHY COOKE, Reporter.

* * *

Pleasant Grove, Rev. F. R. Love, Pastor.—We have not reported to the paper for some time, but activities have not ceased during this period. The church work is moving along nicely. We are having good attendance in all services. Some time ago we set as our goal for the Sunday school attendance 200, and we have more than reached our goal.

Our pastor brought us a very inspiring message at the 11 o'clock service. He took as his text 2 Cor. 5:17, "Therefore, if a man be in Christ he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." We always feel spiritually uplifted after hearing these God-given messages that our pastor brings to us each Sunday.

In our mid-week prayer meetings Mr. Love is bringing to us a series of programs using Bible pictures, which are very interesting to the children as well as the older people.

Our Christian Endeavor societies meet each Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Hazel Hedrick, the president of the senior society, has been directing the program committee, whose programs are original and spiritual. The society was very fortunate in having Major Cowan, of the Salvation Army, to speak to them one evening some time ago. His message held the interest of all present. We hope it will be convenient for him to come again. Mr. Love has charge of the program the first Sunday night of each month. These programs always prove interesting. Our doors are always open to visitors and new members.

The Junior C. E. society is under the direction of Mr. Love, assisted by YeSable Hedrick. We use object lessons and have been doing some memory work. Through this society we hope to accomplish a great work for our future church. We would like to have all the children of our community as members, also any others who might come.

The young people's choir, which was organized about a year ago by Mrs. Quentin Veach and Mr. Love, sang for the Hasty high school P. T. A. this month. This choir was greatly helped by the singing school which was held at our church last fall.

We are planning a program for Young People's Day January 29. A very effective play will be given by the young men and ladies of the church Sunday evening. The young people's choir will have charge of the music for both morning and evening services.

Mrs. Woodrw Kennedy recently joined our church. We are grateful to have her as a member, for she has already proven herself a great help in the church activities.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Walter Shuler is recovering nicely from an operation which she underwent last week. Our prayers are with her.

We request the prayers of all Herald readers that we may be able to help many souls through our church.

REPORTER.

* * *

Orange Charge.—Since our reporters have been too busy to write, being engaged in activities ranging all the way from getting married to seeking a husband (with the exception of one who has been occupied with managing a husband) I have decided to write a line or two to the Herald. At least our local subscribers will be interested in reading a report from the charge.

At our first quarterly conference it was decided to accept the entire apportionment for World Service, in keeping with the Appreciation Year program, and an effort be made to raise it by the last of April. Since four-fifteenths of the Fellowship Crusade money sent in last year, as well as all money sent in for World Service from May to the annual conference, counts on this apportionment, we believe that the amount is not beyond our reach. Therefore, we are calling on our people to show their appreciation through the three remaining special offerings to World Service, namely, Young People's Day, February Thank-Offering, and Easter. If these offerings are substantial, the balance to be raised by the last of April should be small.

In order to stimulate our people in giving and to show them the progress we are making, I have prepared Appreciation thermometers which have been posted in all the churches. These posters, done in black and white with a red mark representing the mercury in the thermometer, contain an itemized statement of the church budget on one side of the thermometer, and the following phrases on the other: "The thermometer registers our Appreciation temperature," "Your dollars help to make the mercury go up," "Each space represents ——— dollars," and "For Christ and the Church." As yet our Appreciation registers rather low but we hope to reach the boiling point before the year is out.

Young People's Day was observed last Sunday morning at Hebron, with the scripture lesson being read by Fletcher McAdam and short talks by Miss Doris Mae Wilson, Mrs. L. A. Dixon, Grady Kinley, and P. N. Thompson, Jr. At Chestnut Ridge in the afternoon there was a Youth Communion Service. In each of these services Service Enrollment cards were distributed among the young people to be filled out and returned to the pastor. It is my aim to enroll 100 on Orange charge who will subscribe to at least some of the items suggested. Sunday night the young people of Hebron played hosts to the C. E. society of Chestnut Ridge, which rendered a fine program under the direction of Merrill Hobbs as leader and O. F. Jones as president.

Since the annual conference I have had the pleasure of marrying several couples of my younger set: Elevene Hayes to Odell Sykes, Frances Sykes to Carr Terrell, Flora Riley to Connor Smith. We have had the supreme misfortune of losing by death Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Sykes of the Chestnut Ridge community, and Mr. June Lloyd, the husband of one of our faithful members at Union Grove. They will be missed greatly.

Young People's Day will be observed at Union Grove the first Sunday morning, and at Efland the first Sunday night. The second quarterly conference will be held at Chestnut Ridge the first Sunday afternoon in March at 2:30 o'clock.

We have quite a few members sick at the time of this writing, and we are trying to visit them as often as possible. We remember them constantly in our prayers, and trust they will soon be restored to their homes and to their church.

Since my last letter to the Herald my wife and I have received many favors on the part of our members and friends. For all of these things we are profoundly grateful. May God richly bless you all, and pray for us that our hands may be strengthened for the Master's service.

C. P. MORRIS, Pastor.

* * *

Oak Grove Church, Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, Pastor.—The fact that this church has not been heard from in quite a while is no reason we are not wide awake. The reporter has been away for more than two months.

Great progress is being manifested right now toward the completion of our church. Quite a few workmen are busy every day. We sincerely hope that there will still be more persons to become interested and very soon the church will be not only finished, but every debt paid. May God richly bless everyone that helps in any way.

On the fourth Sunday Young People's Day was observed. Very interesting talks were made by Miss Billie Pendleton and Miss Farrie White, on the Church and what it means to young people. The pastor delivered a very helpful message on youth, taken from Paul's writings to Timothy. This was greatly enjoyed by a large number present, and was quite appropriate at this time.

We are still progressing in our Sunday school work. We hope this will continue, and as spring is almost here, we want to see more of our older people present every Sunday.

The Woman's Auxiliary has done a lot for our church. We pray that God may wonderfully bless every member.

Our Christian Endeavor society is still an interesting part of our church work. We look forward to these meetings with happy anticipation, as there is usually an interesting program every Sunday night. We still want to get more young people interested in our society, as there are quite a few that do not attend.

REPORTER.

* * *

Union Chapel Church, Mocksville, N. C., Rev. K. G. Holt, Pastor.—We have been having some bad weather in our community.

Miss Ruth Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bailey, is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation which she underwent some time ago. We hope she will soon be able to attend school again.

The small children of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins are able to be out again after being confined to their homes with scarlet fever.

Our church is thinking about purchasing some shrubbery which will greatly improve the looks of the church. We know that with the help of all of our people that we can get it. We are also planning to get the electric lights as they come through the rural district.

Sunday, January 22, Rev. and Mrs. Holt and Mary Holt and Dr. Pritchard worshiped with us. President Pritchard delivered a very important and inspiring message. This is his first time to be with us since 1918. We hope he may be back with us before 20 years pass again.

RUTH BOYER, Reporter.

* * *

First Church, Burlington, Dr. Fred W. Paschal, Pastor.—Haven't written in quite a while, but all church activities have been moving along nicely, and have had a busy month. The Woman's Auxiliary met in the hut Monday evening, January 16, for their regular monthly meeting with a good attendance. Circle No. 1 was hostess for the month.

Mrs. Blanche Kirkman reviewed our study book on India, and kept everyone spellbound. We truly felt as though we had journeyed to India.

Routine business was transacted, with very favorable reports from the various secretaries. At the close of the business session refreshments were served.

On Tuesday evening, January 17, Mr. J. G. Rogers, who is chairman of the Board of Stewards, entertained the board and assistants with a delicious dinner, there were 18 present. Mr. T. E. Stough, of Gibsonville, was guest speaker and brought us a very inspiring message on Stewardship.

Ways and means of getting our inactive members back to church was discussed, and it was decided that the stewards and assistants put on a visitation campaign. We are expecting results from them. This was a much enjoyed meeting, closing with benediction by our pastor.

Sunday, being set apart as Young People's day, was observed in our church, with a good attendance, also a good number of young people were present. The Rev. Charles Coble, of Haw River, brought us the message of the morning service. He used as his theme Follow Me, or God's Call to You. We were glad indeed to have him with us, and the message was a challenge to the youths as well as to the older ones. The junior choir very beautifully rendered the music for this service.

At the 7:30 evening service the young people of the church gave an impressive pageant, entitled "Shrines". The junior choir also furnished the music. This service was well-attended.

On Friday evening of the coming week, the young people are having a banquet in the hut, and a big crowd is desired.

We are very proud of our young people and the active part they are taking in the church's program.

Congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Paschal on the birth of a new daughter which was born Friday, January 27, at Alamance General hospital. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

With best wishes to everyone.

MRS. J. W. WILLIAMSON, Reporter.

◆

Alamance Charge.—After services held recently at Center church, I went out to get in my car and found it all "messed" up with flour, sugar, canned goods, etc. I do not know who are the guilty parties, as there were no names to be found on the articles, but the Lord knows and He will reward them for their generosity. Mrs. Brown and I are deeply grateful for this and other expressions by the members of the charge of their solicitude for our welfare. While it is impossible for us to repay these friends in kind, and I know they do not want us to do so, it shall be our earnest endeavor to pay them in service. It is not only our business to serve every member of this charge in any way possible; it is our joy to do so. We want to be happy. Happiness comes through service, therefore we serve.

We are very much pleased with the way the work is progressing, and we confidently expect this to be one of the most successful years of our ministry.

GEO. R. BROWN.

◆

Spring Hill, N. Davidson, O. B. Williams, Pastor, Jan. 30—It has been quite a while since we have had a report, but it is no sign of a lack of activity in our church. Attendance at the regular services has been fairly good although we hope to see better.

Last Sunday we observed Young People's day. During the Sunday school service several beautiful hymns were sung.

During the morning church service the pastor preached a very interesting sermon, "Youth in Gratitude," which the listeners enjoyed very much. Special music was furnished by the young people and a duet was sung by Catherine and Donna Swaim.

A fairly good offering was made for the World Service.

Our Ladies' Aid is doing good in our church. Most of the members attend our meetings regularly. A few months ago we put new song books in our church and our singing is a good deal better. Our last meeting was held with Mrs. Carl Swaim. Every one enjoyed the evening very much. We will hold our February meeting with Mrs. Julius Craven. We are planning on a good one.

The Christian Endeavor meets twice a month, every second and fourth Sunday nights at 6:30. It is not doing so much now. We need more attendance and are very glad to have any visitors at any time. We hope to make a better success in the new year than in the past.

DORIS HAYNES, Reporter.

◆

Bethel Church, Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor. — We are observing Young People's day next Sunday, February 5, and are planning on a nice time. Several of the young people are taking part in the program.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Tom Jones and family in their recent bereavement. Mr. Jones passed away on January 11, 1939.

Although he was a member of Gray's Chapel, he lived in our community and attended our Sunday school regularly and was one of our best teachers. He is greatly missed, especially in the old people's class.

At our last preaching appointment our pastor brought us one of the most inspiring sermons I've ever heard. We are proud of our pastor and are looking forward to our next appointment.

We are glad to know that he is taking a great interest in visiting the members of the charge. MRS. PORTER ANDERSON.

◆

Alamance Charge.—It pays big for a pastor to be his wife's "shofer". Here it is. During Christmas week Mrs. Lon McPherson of Bethel church entertained her Sunday school class at dinner. Mrs. Brown was invited to attend. She can not drive a car, so, with an engaging smile, she told her "shofer" to get out the car and carry her to the scene of action. He did. And was he rewarded? He certainly was. He was permitted to eat all over the house including the kitchen, and when he was ready to return home, the members of the class gave him a beautiful shirt. Yes, it pays to "shofer."

For several years, I understand, Mrs. McPherson has been entertaining her Sunday School class at a dinner during Christmas week. On this occasion more than fifty women were present. The home was beautifully decorated with a Christmas tree and evergreens. Gifts were exchanged. The hostess presented each woman present with a beautiful silver thimble, which, I suppose, will be used in darning socks and in placing decorative patches on their husband's pants. So mote it be! May God bless this and all other Christian homes.

GEO. R. BROWN.

◆

Gibsonville, Rev. C. E. Anderson, Pastor.—We are glad to report that our work has started well for the new year. The Sunday school and church attendance is fine. Sunday a week ago our attendance at Sunday school was 200.

We are happy to welcome our new pastor and his family to this charge and we feel that under his leadership our church will make much progress.

Young People's day was observed Sunday morning. Several young people took part in the service. A girl's quartet sang "Others". The junior choir also rendered special music. An inspiring Young People's day message was delivered by the pastor.

A joint meeting of Circles No. 1 and 2 of the Woman's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Owen, January 19. As a result of the Blue Plate campaign more than forty dollars were realized. After the business session and program a Blue Plate supper was served to about 40 members.

Those attending the quarterly meeting of the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work in Lexington were: Mrs. A. B. Owen, Mrs. W. J. Jennings, Mrs. Frank Owen and Mrs. C. E. Anderson.

Fifteen members of our Christian Endeavor atended the Greensboro Union on January 17. The Christian Endeavor society has been growing in interest and the attendance is improving. The new officers recently elected were: President, Miss Aldine Dennis; vice-president, Mrs. John Rosson; secretary, Miss Dorothy Wall; treasurer, Miss Elaine Anderson; program chairman, Wesley Randolph; adult leader, Mrs. C. E. Anderson, and assistant, Mrs. W. J. Jennings.

REPORTER.

◆

First Church, Lexington, Rev. L. E. Mabry, Pastor.— Our Sunday School attendance is holding up very good at this time. There was a good crowd out for the worship service last Sunday morning to hear Rev. Mabry. He preached a very interesting sermon on the subject "The Mission of the Church."

Our district Rally was held at Greer's Chapel last Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock. A few of our folks planned to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Mary Jane Lookerbill underwent an operation at the Davidson Hospital last week. We hope her a speedy recovery so she can be back with us.

Mrs. J. D. Allen has taken over the job as church janitor which has been held by Paul Wallace.

Our pastor, Mr. Mabry, purchased a new '39 Chevrolet a few weeks ago.

REPORTER.

◆

Guilford Charge, Joel B. Trogdon, Pastor.

Dear Dr. Andrews:

I want you to know how much I enjoy your grand and impressive editorials in the Herald. The thing I regret is that our people do not know what they are missing by not taking the paper, but there are none so blind as those who will not see. I have not written anything since conference, and would like to say just a few things in regard to this work. I feel the work is moving along right well. It looks like the people have a mind to do things in a big way in regard to our budget.

Hickory Grove observed Young People's Day the fourth Sunday, and the offering was about $16 for World Service. Yesterday at 11 o'clock the young people were to put on their program at Fairfield, but for some cause they failed to get ready. But I took the offering anyway and we got $30 for World Service. I went over to Vickery last night and the young people put on a nice candlelight program. The fog was so bad not many people came, but we got $5 for World Service. So the committees at each church feel that we will raise our budget this year, and we do about what we believe we can.

I attended the Christmas program at Hickory Grove and the first present from the tree was a $10 bill given by them to this writer to buy my car license. I attended the Mitchell's Grove Christmas program and we received fruit and candy there. We did not get to attend Fairfield and Vickery, but we received fruit and candy from these churches.

The fourth Sunday in this month I had the pleasure of taking dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Matthews from Hickory Grove. After a good dinner, when I had to go, they gave me 24 pounds of flour and a pound of coffee. For all these deeds of kindness we are thankful, and pray God's blessings upon the people. God bless our Editor and all the readers of the Herald.

JOEL B. TROGDON, Pastor.

Fairview Church, Anderson Charge, Dr. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—As we start the new year, we hope it will be the best year that we have ever had in the winning of lost souls and the advancement of His Kingdom here upon earth.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. J. C. Henderson, with her daughter as co-hostess. During the meeting the following were elected as officers for the new year: Mrs. E. S. Pepper, president; Mrs. Willie Kistner, first vice-president; Mrs. Jack Tripp, second vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, secretary; and Mrs. T. J. Watson, treasurer.

On Sunday evening, January 8, Rev. Frances Whitmire, with a group of young people from the Fellowship Club of Greenville, came over and helped with the Young People's Christian Endeavor program. During the program Rev. Whitmire brought a very inspiring message on "Sampson's Strength."

In the Christian Endeavor work, Mr. Ervin Johnson was elected president, and Mrs. Bertha Maw as vice-president. In our Junior Endeavor work, Miss Eleanor Watson and Mrs. Lester Coker are in charge.

On Sunday evening, January 22, Dr. S. W. Taylor came to our church and brought a wonderful message on "God Hath Need of Him."

ALEEN JOHNSON, Reporter.

Hollister, Halifax Charge, W. M. Howard, Jr., Pastor.—Perhaps the readers of the Herald are wondering if we are still existing, since we have not reported in quite a while. This is due to negligence on the part of the reporter, and not for the lack of interest or the scarcity of news.

The Sunday school is doing very well for the winter months. There seems to be an increase in the interest and attendance of the Sunday school. Several new members have been added to our roll recently. The average attendance has been better this winter than it has been in several years.

Our pastor has filled all of his appointments at this church since conference, with interesting and helpful sermons. We appreciate our pastor and his untiring efforts in helping us to promote the Lord's work. We are busy now trying to get renewals and new subscriptions for the Herald. There are several homes in our church that the Herald should be a member of, and I am sure this is true of all the churches on this charge. The splendid report our pastor had in last week's issue of the Herald is worth a year's subscription, to the people of Halifax charge. Surely the Herald has a place in every Methodist Protestant home, if the people would subscribe for it. Since this is Appreciation Year and the uniting conference is soon to meet in Kansas City, I think the people should be more anxious to subscribe to the Herald than ever before. A good way for us to show our appreciation to the Herald is to send in our renewals with a lot of new subscriptions. We hope to send in several subscriptions from this church soon.

We are planing to observe Young People's Day at our next regular service. Mrs. J. J. Williams is training the young people for this service.

We are also planning to have our semi-annual thank-offering service next month. Mrs. W. E. Knight, our thank-offering secretary, is preparing the program. We have gotten three new subscriptions to the Missionary Record. We hope more of our members will subscribe to the Herald.

KATHLEEN SHEARIN, Reporter.

Chapel Hill, Davidson Charge, W. H. Neese, Pastor.—My attention has been called to a mistake I made in reporting Chapel Hill auxiliary meeting in the Herald of January 19, so I hasten to correct my mistake. I reported $7 raised by the apron plan when it should have been $11.50. I thought I had the right figures but it seems I didn't. However, I am glad we have more than I thought we had. The ladies have worked hard in raising the money to heat their church and they deserve credit for every cent of it.

We are finding plenty of work to do down here and are trying to find the sick and afflicted members and visit them in their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Fine had the misfortune to lose their home and contents by fire January 23, but friends have come to their rescue and they are again keeping house.

The following people have recently remembered us with provisions for our table: Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Walker, Mrs. Whitt Wood, Mrs. W. A. Frank, Mrs. Edd Morris, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Miss Della Taylor, Mrs. Arch Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fine, and Mr. Van B. Wood.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

Weaver's Chapel, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Although it is rather late to talk about Christmas, but this being our first report since Christmas I will say a few words. We had a Christmas tree and a short program on Monday night, December 26. All of the Sunday school was remembered with a bag of fruit, and the Sunday school gave fruit to six people in the community who were not able to attend Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Broome have visited in some of the homes in the community and the people are glad for them to come again. Mr. Broome will meet his regular appointment the first Sunday afternoon with another one of his good sermons, and Communion service will be held. We hope to have a large attendance at both Sunday school and church service.

Miss Edith Moore and Mr. Van Wood, both of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., were married on December 24 at Emporia, Va. Although Van lives at Roanoke Rapids, he is one of our members and attends church here often.

The friends of Mrs. N. E. Wilson are glad to know that she has improved some in the last few weeks, and we hope and pray that she will continue to improve and soon be able to come back to church and be with us. We sure do miss her in our church and Sunday school. She has been sick ever since last summer.

We hope this will be a prosperous year for all the people that are working for the Lord. Pray for us.

ALICE MAE WHITLEY, Ass't Reporter.

Lebanon Church, O. L. Easter, Pastor.—Since conference we have been so busy trying to create effort and response which go to make up news for the HERALD that we have not taken time to write a letter since annual meeting at Greensboro, N. C. I should like to say that we do have things already worth telling about although we know that we should like to have accomplished more. The first thing that thrills me as the pastor of Lebanon is to see the enthusiastic response that is being made to our effort to raise our World Service budget in full for this our Appreciation Year. There is every evidence that we will do it and further that it will be done before April 1st. We observed Young People's Day in our church last Sunday in the Sunday school and in both the

FOR QUICK
HEADACHE RELIEF
STANBACK
10¢-25¢

SHIP TO
FRANK E. BROWN
Dealer in
HIDES, WOOL, TALLOW AND FURS
Roanoke, Va.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE

Quarterlies and Papers
Following the
Int. Uniform Lesson Topics

A free sample pack with catalogue sent on request to any Sunday School Official.

Address
Union Gospel Press
Box 6059 Cleveland, Ohio

morning and evening services. The young people assisted in these services and a fine program was presented. At the evening service the drama worship service called "Shrines" was used for a very beautiful effect but we were rather disappointed at this service by the size of the audience made small by very bad weather.

We are happy too to say that in a few days now we are putting in our order for the New Methodist Hymnal for use in our church. The ladies of the church started the movement for this project and by presenting it to each class in the Sunday school they have very nearly gotten the desired number of books subscribed for by them. There is a fine spirit of work and cooperation in the church for this year and we are hoping and praying that this notable year in our denomination might also be one creditably spent by us in the Master's kingdom.

It is in order for me as pastor to say that I am very happy it fell my lot to be sent back to this people as their humble servant for another year. With many acts of kindness and helpfullness they have made Mrs. Easter and me feel that they have open heartedly received us for better or for worse this year. Soon after returning home from conference they showered upon us a bountiful pounding of very useful things. At Christmas time many gifts, large and small, came from many groups and individuals of this church community that spoke to us of gracious kindness. Just the other day a coal truck backed up to my coal bin in the usual way and dropped in a fine load of coal, but drove off in a most unusual way by demanding no payment. We were quick to discern the secret although we yet do not know the names of those who gave. These are some of the external expression of the broad internal impulses of goodness that are to be found in the people of Lebanon Church and we are happy to be yoked with them in the Master's field.

O. L. EASTER, Pastor.

◆

Caroleen, Rev. Herbert D. Garmon, Pastor.—We are happy to report that our church is progressing rapidly. Our attendance is fine with several new members each Sunday.

The mid-week prayer services are still fine and very interesting with the study of the Bible. Some of the older members who understand the Bible better than we, makes talks and explain each Scripture so every one will get a blessing out of every service.

We are very proud of our C. E's. The little ones take as much interest in their meetings as the older ones. There is always a large crowd every Sunday of old and new members. Everyone seems to enjoy the meetings and say they are very educating. We are preparing ourselves for bigger and better work which we hope to perform some day.

We are looking forward to our next preaching day. We feel sure our pastor will have fine messages for us, which we hope will help someone to find Christ.

LOIS HOLLIFIELD, Reporter.

◆

Mt. Carmel Church, Rev. L. E. Mabry, Pastor.—The Sunday school is doing good work and continues to grow. Each fifth Sunday assistant officers and teachers take charge of the Sunday school. This past Sunday being the fifth gave teachers a chance to be pupils once again.

The Ladie's Auxiliary keep the good work going. They are now planning to fix the pulpit by adding new chairs and building banisters around the pulpit. The Auxiliary is raising money by putting patches on an apron with donations behind each patch.

We are sorry that Mrs. Clifton Rowe and Mrs. Oscar Coppley's mother of Roanoke, Va. is dead. Mrs. Rowe and Mrs. Coppley are both members of Mt. Carmel Church.

Our community was saddened by the death of Thama Jane Morphies, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morphies. Funeral services were at Reed's Baptist Church Saturday afternoon. We will miss Thama, although she was not a member of our Sunday school she attended some.

This church was represented at the District Rally which was held at Greer's Chapel. Our pastor was one of the speakers, his subject being "Set Your House in Order."

BEAUTUS WAITMAN.

◆

Concord, Rev. E. O. Peeler, Pastor.—The last report from our stewards made us feel like we had a good start for the New Year and we just hope we can keep ahead all the year. Mr. Ralph Waddell is chairman of our Board of Stewards and he sure is a good one. At one of our meetings for the teachers and officers of the Sunday school he made a suggestion that we give each Sunday school class a chance to help with the Church Budget he said he thought it would help to bring the school and church more close together. We were all well pleased to see how the classes took on to it. One of the teachers started each member of her class with a dime each and they are to see how much they can make with that dime, from reports they won't have any trouble getting up their part. Each class is doing its part and we are sure we are all going to enjoy this work very much. Our Woman's Auxiliary is working very hard to finish up our work as an Honor Auxiliary. One circle will have a George Washington Birthday Party and at the next circle meeting, each one will take a orange and then pay a penny for each seed in the orange. Another circle is selling scouring pads and they are making good. And when Mrs. Peeler comes around with her traveling basket you had just as well have some money because she will sell you something.

Some of our folk went to Albemarle Sunday to attend the District Meeting.

We were so happy to see Mrs. Edna Haupt back at church Sunday. She has been in the hospital at Newton, N. C. for three weeks.

Mr. Grover Honeycutt has entered the Duke Hospital for treatment.

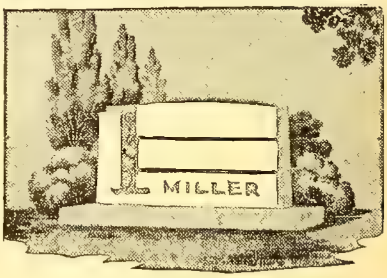
Mrs. William Newton has returned home from the hospital and is getting along nicely.

Miss Annie Brown is confined with the flu.

Not published for profit
ELECTRICITY and CHRISTIANITY
By
Crump J. Strickland
96 pages of practical illustrations in which electricity illustrates Christianity. Written by an electrical expert especially for studious minded ministers, teachers and religious workers. Stiff binding 35cts, prepaid. Order from your religious book house or
ELIZABETH PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 E. 5th Street Charlotte, N. C.
Send stamps or coin.

25 CENTS IN COIN
ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed,
8 never-fade Velox prints—only 25c.
Low prices on candid film.
Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN!
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO..
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE



"For A Memorial Unto the Children of Israel Forever."

These were the words of Joshua when he built a lasting monument to commemorate the passing over Jordan.

So when we honor with a Memorial the one who has passed over Jordan, let us select a genuine and lasting Stone Eternal Monument fitting and expressive of his virtues and accomplishments.

Stone Eternal Monuments

are cut from perfect granite impervious to the elements. The beautiful tone and texture, freshness and brilliance of these monuments are unaffected by the ravages of time.

Stone Eternal Monuments and Markers are guaranteed and trade-marked. For your assurance, this mark of quality appears neatly cut on all Stone Eternal Monuments.

STONE ETERNAL

Write for booklet and name of authorized dealer in your community.

The Georgia Granite Corp.
Elberton, Ga.

Mr. Willie Furr had the misfortune of breaking his foot while playing football.

We miss these folk at church and we hope they will soon be able to come back. This has been the longest I have ever known Willie Furr to be absent. We were happy to have Miss Marie McMurry worship with us several Sundays while she was visiting at the parsonage.

Our hearts go out in sympathy to Mrs. H. J. Laughlin as death claimed her brother.

We missed Mrs. W. H. Scarbow Sunday. She had a bad cold.

Mr. P. E. Lindley, we miss your Class Room Echo very much. We could almost hear you talking when we read them.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Beulah Wyley is going back to the sanatorium. Beulah sure has been a good church worker since she came home from the sanatorium. The girls of the Business Girls Circle have gotten up her wardrobe for her. They did this to try in some way to show their love and appreciation. We hope she don't have to stay so long.

BERTHA EVERHARDT, Reporter.

◆

First Methodist Protestant Church, High Point.—The regular church services were conducted Sunday with Mr. Madison preaching an unusually good sermon at the 11 o'clock hour on "Time Against Eternity." Sunday night the services were conducted by the young people of the church with Howard Ling presiding. The subject, "Youth in Gratitude" by the following: Zeb Vance, Bill Wall, Vest Troxler, Annabel Thompson, and William Frazier. There was a splendid attendance. At the Junior church service Sunday morning Miss Zulah Hopkins, new executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A. spoke interestingly to the boys and girls.

A wedding of dignity and beauty was solemnized late Saturday afternoon at the church when Miss Julia Coe, the daughter of Mrs. S. S. Coe and the late Dr. Coe, and Mr. Lee Sherrill of Statesville took their marriage vows before Rev. Fred Surratt, an uncle of the bride. Both the bride and groom are graduates of High Point College. They will make their home in High Point for several months. We wish for them the happiness and success they so rightly deserve.

The Philathea class sponsored a spaghetti supper at the church last week. Approximately one hundred people were served and twenty-five dollars were cleared. Also last week, the Junior church served a banquet to the paper boys of the High Point Enterprise. The boys and girls cleared thirty-one dollars. Part of their money will go to the Building Fund and the rest will be spent for music. On Friday evening of this week the young people of the church will hold a banquet memorializing the birthday of Christian Endeavor. Much interest is being shown and a large crown is expected.

We are glad to report Mr. W. L. Edwards is improving at his home. He suffered a heart attack last week, but seems to be out of danger now.

We are happy to welcome into our church fellowship: Mr. William H. Pugh, Mrs. W. J. Snotherly, and Mrs. J. H. Hicks.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

◆

Do It Now!

When you've got a job to do—
Do it now!
If it's one you wish was through—
Do it now!
If you're sure the job's your own,
Buckle down to it alone,
Don't hem and haw and groan—
Do it now!

◆

No member of the Supreme Court is under any illusion as to the mental equipment of his brethren.—Charles E. Hughes.

MARRIED

Hobbs-Copeland

Miss Elizabeth Jeanette Hobbs, of Efland, N. C., became the bride of Mr. Elery Odell Copeland of Chapel Hill, N. C., December 25, 1938 at Danville, Va. Rev. Stowell officiated. The vows were spoken in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Hanley Holt of Haw River, N. C.

Mrs. Copeland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hobbs of Chestnut Ridge community, and is a member of Chestnut Ridge Methodist Protestant Church.

Mr. Copeland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Copeland of Chapel Hill, N. C., and is a member of Antioch Baptist Church.

Their many friends wish them a long, prosperous and happy life together.

Youth
MUST BE SERVED

If it is to be prepared for Christian service

Give your young people character-building Story Papers that point the way to Christian idealism and achievement, that apply Christian principles to day-by-day living, that are designed especially for individual age groups. In other words give them—

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WEEKLY
For young people 18-22
17 cts. per quarter

THE BOYS' WORLD
For boys 12-17
12 cts. per quarter.

THE GIRLS' COMPANION
For girls 12-17
12 cts. per quarter.

WHAT TO DO
For boys and girls 9-11
12 cts. per quarter.

DEW DROPS
For children 6-8
6½ cts. per quarter

LITTLE LEARNER'S
For children 3-5
3 cts. per quarter

Write Today For Free Samples and Special Trial Rates

DAVID C. COOK PUBLISHING COMPANY

The House That Serves

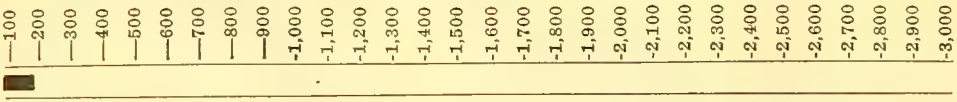
00-0 LINCOLN STREET
●
ELGIN ILLINOIS

DAVID C. COOK PUBLISHING COMPANY
00-0 LINCOLN STREET, ELGIN, ILLINOIS

Please send me free samples of your Story Papers and particulars of your half-price trial offer. ☐ Would also like catalog of your full line of supplies.

Name ....
St., Box, Route ....
City .... State ....
.... Sunday School

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	8½	....
Albemarle	20	3¼	....
Anderson	32	2	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	4½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	3¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	19½	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	....	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	6½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	2½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	5¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	5½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	2½	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	2	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¼	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	...	....
Greensboro, West End	25	7½	*7.50
Greensville	55	4½	....
Guilford	37	1½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	2	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	6½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1¼	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¼	...
Lexington, First	48	4½	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	9	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	6¾	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	4¼	....
Reidsville	13	4	....
Richland	35	4½	....
Roberta	29	...	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	1	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	5	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3	....
Tabernacle	40	6	....
Thomasville, Community	18	2½	....
Thomasville, First	25	6½	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	3	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	7½	...
Whitakers	8	....	*2.50
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	4¾	....

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. Raleigh S. Stewart, West End ...$1.00
By Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
Mrs. Roy M. Hauser, First, Winston .. 2.00
Miss Yesable Hedrick, Pleasant Grove . 2.00
L. R. Hughes, Randleman church 2.00
By Miss Nora Hughes.
J. W. Smith, Anderson charge 1.00
By Pastor Johnson.
M. K. Hedgepeth, Granville charge 2.00
By Pastor Pegg.
Mrs. Linney Bailey, Mt. Hermon charge 1.00
By Lois Coble.
T. S. Coble, club subscriptions, Haw River church 5.20
Miss Beatrice Waitman, First, Lexington 1.00
W. M. Byerley, Shiloh church 2.00
J. W. Walser, Shiloh church 2.00
Miss Juanita Phillips, Shiloh church .. 2.00
Miss Lelia Byerley, Shiloh church 2.00
N. W. Essex, Shiloh church 2.00
Sent by Miss Lelia Byerley, Friendship church.
Mrs. L. A. Fine, Davidson charge 1.00
Sent by Pastor Neese.
Mrs. V. B. Morris, North Davidson chg. 1.00
By J. R. Payne.
Mrs. R. A. Lackey, Fallston charge 2.00
Mrs. A. A. Lackey, Fallston charge ... 2.00
Mrs. W. J. Lackey, Fallston charge ... 2.00
By Pastor Hethcox.
Rev. J. C. Auman, Community church . 4.00
E. M. Hamilton, First, Lexington, club subscriptions 2.10
Paul Wallace, First, Lexington .... .50
Wade Yarborough, First, Lexington ... .50
By E. M. Hamilton.
Mrs. J. C. Henderson, Anderson charge 1.00
T. B. Nalley, Anderson charge 1.00
By Aleen Johnson.
Mrs. Herman Hayes, N. Davidson chg. 1.00
Miss Orpha Anne Burgess, First, High Point 2.00
Mrs. S. P. Keltz, First, High Point ... 2.00
Dr. A. G. Dixon, First, High Point 2.00
E. L. Auman, First, High Point 1.00
D. A. Dowdy, First, High Point 1.00
Sent by Ross H. Davis.
Mrs. H. Tyson Shaw, Tabernacle charge 2.00
Mrs. P. L. Monnette, Tabernacle charge 1.00
By Pastor Lamb.

Subsidy

Pleasant Grove church, by Miss Yesable Hedrick 5.00
Siler City church 2.50
Shiloh church, Shiloh charge 12.00
Greer's Chapel, Shiloh charge 3.00
By J. L. Evans. Thanks.

◆

Rough Chum: "Don't be so particular; use your fingers—they were made before forks, anyway."

Polite Boy: "Not my fingers! They are just five years old, and Mother's had these forks ever since she married."

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

WINTER FARM RELIEF!

Here's farm relief no farmer can afford to be without—EN-AR-CO (Japanese style) OIL. Stimulates local circulation for the relief of pains of Neuralgia, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Fatigue and Exposure, also the discomfort of Head Colds and Bronchial Irritation. EN-AR-CO has been doing it for over 50 years. Best insurance against a crop of troubles. Get EN-AR-CO today and get your quick pain relief. All Druggists.

MADE IN U.S.A.

NATIONAL REMEDY CO. NEW YORK

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 9, 1939 NUMBER 13

Enthusiasm vs. Indifference

A check-up on the personalities whose achievements have greatly influenced the progress of the human race would assuredly show them to be alike in one particular;—they were all enthusiastic for their cause or enterprise. Take the case of the discoverer of this country; poor Columbus, scorned by the great, mocked by the simple; poverty stricken, foot-sore, weary, seeking assistance in one country after another, only to be refused; disappointed but never despairing. Rising from one defeat after another with a burning enthusiasm to discover the shorter course or route to India.

And St. Paul was like that in his enthusiasm for the cause of Christ. He describes it this way, "Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes, save one, thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep. In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine own countrymen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren" etc., etc. and yet there was no experience hard enough to quench his enthusiasm for Christ; for he declares, "I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless I live, and the life I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God."

While indifference never won a victory in any worthy cause, it has managed to find favor among church people. It sometimes occupies a high seat in the councils of the church and lays its heavy hand on those who should lead in the cause of righteousness. Indifference is a greater enemy to the cause of Christ today, by far, than active opposition. The lack of enthusiasm kills a good cause. Indifference to what may happen is harder to hurdle than honest opposition. The lukewarm church was among the seven churches of Asia mentioned in the Revelation. Laodicea is stigmatized; it was neither hot nor cold, and because it was lukewarm the Lord said He would spue it out of His mouth. The peril of the indifferent church, of the lukewarm church, is its fruitlessness; never accomplishes things that are really worthwhile. Spiritual inertia is as deadly a sin as lust or greed, that is, it is sure to strangle the spirit and to paralyze the hands of the Christian worker.

Was it not the enthusiasm of the early saint that sent him abroad telling of the wonderful works of God? And it is too often the indifference in the present day saint who is now scattered in every country of the world that keeps him from telling the story which won him to Christ. Jesus met it in His day as He likens that generation to children standing in the market place and crying out "we have piped unto you and ye have not danced, we have mourned unto you and ye have not lamented." Christianity is an old story with so many of us that we never enthuse in hearing it retold. The experience meeting conducted on the plan of the church fathers too often palls upon the hearers, not because it is not true but because it is not new. Like the cultured Greeks St. Paul found in Athens, eager to hear something new, these indifferent church members need a tonic to stir them in their religious activities.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

More About the Meeting on February 20th

By the omission of a little round figure usually called a naught which means nothing I was made to say in the HERALD last week that our Appreciation Year meeting to be held on the twentieth would begin at 1:30 whereas it should have said 10:30 a. m. This meeting will be held at Grace Church, Greensboro, and will be Conference wide. There will be a full program both in the morning and the afternoon. Rev. J. C. Madison, pastor of our First Church in High Point will conduct the morning devotions. Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, the pastor of Grace Church and Dr. J. H. Straughn, the President of the General Conference will speak before noon. In the afternoon Mrs. W. C. Hammer of Asheboro, a member of the General Board of Missions and former President of the North Carolina Branch and Dr. S. W. Taylor, pastor of our Central Church in Asheboro and Director of the Appreciation Year for the Southeastern Area of the General Church will speak. It is possible that Rev. F. L. Gibbs of Pittsburgh, Pa., a member of our own conference and at the head of the department of Leadership Education in the General Church will be present and will speak on the subject, "Youth and the Appreciation Year." Make your plans now, both men and women, ministers and laymen, to be present. Remember the meeting starts at 10:30 a. m.

First Quarter to End February 14th

Knowing that there is doubt about when the conference year will end I have decided to make this quarter exactly one fourth of a year from the time of the adjournment of the Annual Conference. So this quarter will end with Tuesday, February 14th. Blanks will be sent out in due time for the quarterly report.

Thanks For the Inquiries

Since my statement in the HERALD of a couple of weeks ago in regard to my going to Duke Hospital so many inquiries have come in that I take this method of informing those interested that I have been down to Duke twice but that the specialist did not think I would have to remain in the hospital but that a trip at stated times would be sufficient.

Rev. G. F. Millaway Ill

Last week I went to see Rev. G. F. Millaway, one of our honored Superannuate Ministers who has been quite ill for several weeks. To see him suffer as he does and to realize that there is nothing that human skill can do except to give him opiates is tragic indeed. While we cannot understand why such good people have to suffer so in this world we do know that our God is good and that He makes no mistakes.

A Day On the West Forsyth Charge

Last Sunday was spent with Rev. G. B. Ferree on the West Forsyth charge, the first appointment being at Stony Knoll at 9:45 a. m. and the other one at Baltimore at 11:15 a. m. My visit to Stony Knoll was my first since my student days. Both of these churches are on the west side of the Yadkin River and are in Yadkin County. The pastor lives in Forsyth County and three of his churches are in Forsyth and three in Yadkin. The auditorium at Stony Knoll has been slightly enlarged recently and several Sunday school rooms have been built. Some of these are finished and are in use while two of them are not yet ready for occupancy. Brother Ferree, being a builder himself knows how to lead the way for other men of like gifts and talents. The weather last Sunday morning was cold and frosty. This, together with a large number of cases of measles in the community cut the congregation according to those who ought to know. But those who were present seemed very appreciative and seemed to get a good deal out of the services. Within a few seconds after the close of the service the pastor asked that I preach the same sermon at the Baltimore church. After a good deal of persuasion on the part of the pastor and his wife I decided to try to meet their request. By so doing I broke a rule which I made at the beginning of my work as president, namely, never to preach the same sermon twice to the same pastor.

My visit to the Baltimore church last Sunday was my first Sunday appointment at this church. I was there for a week day appointment of some nature several years ago. But to say that I was pleased with what I saw is to put it mildly. Really it was one of the finest rural congregations which I have seen for quite awhile. And one pleasing thing about the services was that there were so many young people. Surely this church must have a great future. Here also Sunday school rooms have been built recently and are being used. This is characteristic of a great deal of our rural work. A great many of our churches were never in better condition to do real constructive work than they are now. But one fine thing about it is that in the new church these improved buildings can be put to the best possible use. Nothing or very little that we have done in the way of improvements will be made unless because of union. And while the congregation last Sunday was large there was a warmth about it that was refreshing. At both services Sunday the people seemed as appreciative as any that I have preached to since I have been in this work. Brother Ferree is a hard worker and has done fine work on this charge. When I was at Harmony Grove church last year I found that it had been rebuilt and that Sunday school rooms had been added. And now with the splendid new rooms at the two churches visited last Sunday surely his pastorate will be remembered as one of great building activity. It was a real pleasure to be with him and his family and his church people for the day.

Appointments

Friday, February 10th, 7:30 p. m. Quarterly Conference First Church, Lexington.

Sunday, February 12th, 11:00 a. m. Reidsville; 7:30 p. m. St. Paul.

Sunday, February 19th, 2:30 p. m. Fairgrove on Seagrove-Love Joy charge in Appreciation Year Rally. Other appointments for the day being arranged.

Sunday, February 26th, Kernersville charge, Sandy Ridge at 11:00 a. m. and Ai at 2:30 p. m.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 9, 1939 NUMBER 13

Some Sentence Sermons

Nothing is too great for anyone to do if it is conducted in partnership with the Eternal.—Lyman Abbot.

The sins that ye do by two and two, ye shall pay for one by one. —Kipling.

When God prepares a hammer, it will not be made of silk.—Horace Bushnell.

The whisky business is like throwing sand in the bearings of a steam engine.—Thomas Edison.

The Christian life is friendship—with God, with man.—Henry Churchill King.

It is never,too soon to get ready to do a great task.—John R. Mott.

We should all choose that brave career in which we can do most for mankind.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Wealth is a trust, not to be used for one's personal pleasure alone, but for the welfare of others.—Helen Gould

It is possible to have a lovely home even in an unlovely House. —Selected.

In taking revenge, a man is but even with his enemy; but in passing it by, he is superior; for it is a prince's part to pardon.—Bacon.

It is encumbent upon every person to contribute to his country's welfare.—George Washington.

◆

The Psalm of the Tither

By Bernice A. Ford

The tithe is my greatest joy; I shall never relinquish it. It maketh me to lie down in peace on the money question; it leadeth me into the sensible path of keeping books; it rejoiceth the church treasurer.

It leadeth me in paths of greater spiritual life for the Cause's sake. Yea, though I become stricken with extreme poverty, or rise to the unexpected joy of a big bank account, I will never let go the tithe, for it is a safe guide for rich and poor alike.

The sight of greenbacks in my tithe box comforteth me.

The tithe prepareth me to answer all calls for money without scratching my head; it anointeth me with a joyful generosity; mine opponents on the tithe question gape, opened-mouthed. Surely the realities of Christian joys grow greater every day because of it, and life can never grow stale to a tither.

◆

Mr. E. D. Milloway is now the manager of Mann's Cut Rate Drug Store in Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Halton have moved from Denton to Star, N. C.

Dr. G. I. Humphries, president of High Point College, spoke to the Ministerial Association of Greensboro last Monday. The meeting was held in Grace Church and was a luncheon meeting. The address was well received.

◆

Soul Thirst

"As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God" express the soul thirst of man after God as the Psalmist expressed it. While all of us know something of this quest for God which no other knowledge or experience can satisfy, not all of us have felt it so sensibly as did the writer of that sentence. But it is our noblest aspiration. We know no quest which moves us more deeply. And we know no substitute for that communion which is the ultimate result of that quest.

People have tried many of them. Our Lord tells about a man who had set his heart upon material values, who said to his soul, "Soul take thine ease, thou hast much goods laid up for thee," but he was called a fool. Neither can honor among men, nor power over men be a satifying substitute for the soul quest after God. And yet it is so easy for even good people to overlook this fact and to give themselves so completely to the accumulation of wealth and honors and power that they forget the cry of their soul for the living God. It is the curse of riches, the blight of pleasures, the obsession of worldly knowledge that they starve the soul by denying it a chance to commune with its Maker and Redeemer.

◆

The Withered Hand

St. Luke tells how one day Jesus found a man in the synagogue with his right hand withered, and healed him. Of course such an affliction had been a tremendous handicap to the poor fellow. Were he an artisan, it doubtless meant he could not support himself, so his appreciation must have been boundless.

We have seen church organizations with withered hands, that is they were greatly hindered by their lack of leadership, or by their lack of cooperation between their boards and societies. If the financial program was emphasized, some other phase of the work was neglected—just could not function as a normal church. It might be there was good equipment for a large and efficient Sunday school, but the lack of competent teachers made the school a poor type of school. It is pathetic to see a Church school handicapped by the unwillingness of its own leaders to respond to the opportunity before the school. Or to see a Church fail to arise to its opportunity because its boards and societies were not coordinated into one properly functioning organization. But such is the case in many communities. We know of but few churches in the North Carolina Conference that are not hindered in the rang and quality of their work by the "withered hand."

Some reasons for such a conditions could easily be removed were the church willing to work together. But when those who plan the work of the church leave out of consideration the work of the Sunday school or vice versa; when those who make up and raise the budget of the church forget the spiritual interests of the people and vice versa; you will see a church trying to function with a withered hand. To emphasize this point, let me be plain; if the pastor of the church fails to take interest in the workings of the Sunday school, and then if his Sunday school teachers and officials fail to take interest in the program of the church you have an obvious demonstration of what we mean. The normal church must have all its parts working together in the projects it undertakes; anything less than this spells failure.

◆

JOURNALS AND JOURNAL MONEY

I'd like to have a lot of the latter and some more of the former. Several of the brethren who didn't order enough, or for some other reason didn't get enough, have written me for copies. I do not have any. If any who read this have any left over, please write me and let me know how many you have.

And now concerning the latter. Brother Reiner, who has always been very patient with us in the matter of the Journal bill, and who still has it—patience I mean—would like to make the best possible showing in his accounts when the audit of his books is made. The fiscal year closes with the last day of this month. Can I somehow prevail on the brethren to send in their Journal money in time for me to get it to Brother Reiner before the books close? Please do that, and help me to help him.

C. W. Bates, Secretary,
Brown Summit, N. C.

(The address ought not to be necessary; but one of the brethren mailed some Journals to me addressed to Haw River. It cost me ten cents to have them forwarded.)

◆

GLEANINGS FROM YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY
North Carolina Conference

Burlington, First—Rev. F. W. Paschall, pastor. Effective and inspirational service held. Young People's Day materials used. Offering $41.25.

Asheville Charge—Rev. N. G. Bethea. In spite of rainy weather, had a good service. Offering doubled in comparison with last year Young People's Day service. $10.55.

Gibsonville Charge—Rev. C. E. Anderson, pastor. Young People carried out the services of the day, excepting a sermon by the pastor. Response fine. Offering $7.92.

Henderson Charge—Rev. R. J. Whitehead, pastor. Young People's Day material used. "Shrines" used for the district rally. Offering $15.00.

Spring Church Charge—"Shrines" presented at Pleasant Hill Church. All three churches of this charge observed the day. Offering $6.35.

F. L. Gibbs.

◆

LIKE LIGHTHOUSES

Some churches are like lighthouses built of stone, so strong that the thunder of the sea cannot move them—with no light at the top. That which is the light of the world in the church is not its largeness, not its services celebrated with pomp and beauty, not its music, not the influences in it that touch the taste or instruct the understanding: it is the Christlikeness of its individual members.—Henry Ward Beecher.

◆

If temptation might be turned about, and shown on both sides, the kingdom of darkness would not be so populous.—Bishop Hall.

WITH THE POETS
Elizabeth Vera Idol

MEMORABILIA

By Robert Browning

This simple little poem of four stanzas gives evidence of Robert Browning's artistry as a poet in a form which he frequently uses, a parallelism of structure, setting forth in the first half of the poem a literal explanation of an experience, and in the other two stanzas giving a figurative expression of the meaning that the incident had for him.

Browning as a writer was not always so careful of the forms of his poetry; as a matter of fact, he frequently allowed himself to be so carried on by the thought underlying his subject that he built too carelessly. In some instances his poems suffer so greatly from a diffuseness and inartistic difficulty that the reader is unnecessarily perplexed and perhaps even hindered from further reading and enjoyment of his poetry. That Browning himself was aware of his occasional lack of careful writing is attested to by statements which he himself admitted, but even in some of these apparently most difficult poems he rewards the attention of those readers who are willing to spend sufficient time to learn his meaning. Browning's own wide knowledge in all lines, especially in history, music, painting, and sculpture, was reflected in his writings, and he paid his readers the compliment of expecting them to know as much as he did. Not many of us can match him in knowledge, and that fact frequently accounts for our failure to comprehend him. In the mean, however, his poems which are simplest and least difficult to understand are most artistic and most worthwhile.

As was true of many of his poems, this one had its origin in an actual experience. Early in his life Browning fell under the spell of Shelley's poetry. It is said that once as he was passing a bookstall he saw in a box of second-hand volumes a little book advertised as "Mr. Shelley's Atheistical Poem—very scarce." Notwithstanding the fact that The Daemon of the World and some of the other poems included in the book constituted a literary piracy, he became interested in Shelley's poetry and read everything he could find that Shelley had written. Later in a London book-store he is said to have overheard a stranger remark that he had once seen and spoken to Shelley. Afterward Browning wrote, "I have not forgotten how strangely the sight of one who had spoken with Shelley affected me."

If Memorabilia had merely related this incident, interesting as it is, it would have little claim to immortality. Its main value lies in its imaginative suggestion of two attitudes common to most human beings. All of us, by nature, more or less hero-worshipers, and we long for the glory and inspiration that can be attained by friendly meetings or at least by acquaintanceship with that individual who has so inspired us. When someone else has had that privilege and merely tells us about it we look upon him with something closely akin to envy. This is true even though that one whose experience we so covet can not share our enthusiasm, and our eagerness and exultation only move his laughter.

Can we not then catch the spirit of zeal and enthusiasm of the youthful Browning for one who has achieved that success which he himself has dreamed of, and feel the same breathless exaltation that he felt when he stood in the presence of one who had actually known and spoken to the man he so honored?

"Ah, did you once see Shelley plain,
And did he stop and speak to you,
And did you speak to him again?
How strange it seems and new!

But you were living before that,
And also you are living after;
And the memory I started at—
My starting moves your laughter!

In the third and fourth stanzas Browning in a figurative language pictured a second experience common to life. To everyone the greater part of life is, of necessity, a "moor," "blank miles," but in most lives there occasionally shines in the midst of it "a hand's-breadth" of great inspirational and transfiguring power. To everyone who would develop to the utmost his abilities there must come such a mountain-top experience, but after that high moment the paths of achievement must lead through the valleys of work and endeavor to reach the goal, the reward of it all. In the case of Browning he brought from this experience and hid inside his breast the "eagle-feather," the feather of the mightiest of birds, even though it proved to be a "moulted feather," (symbolic of the discarded poem of Shelley), and so carried in his heart and mind the gleam, the ideal, which could lead him on to the fulfillment of all his dreams:

"I crossed a moor, with a name of its own
And a certain use in the world, no doubt,
Yet a hand's-breadth of it shines alone
'Mid the blank miles around about:

For there I picked up on the heather
And there I put inside my breast
A moulted feather, an eagle-feather!
Well, I forget the rest.

◆

"The Knight of the Burning Heart" is the title of an English life of Wesley for the use of young people. Along with this title should be kept in mind the familiar declarations of John Wesley. "I felt by heart strangely warmed." "I parted company with leisure." All these went into the making of that wonderful life.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

◆

Only as we know what it is to cherish love when sore at some unkindness, to overmaster ourselves when under provocation, to preserve gentleness during trial and unmerited wrong, —only then can we know in any degree the "manner of spirit" that was in Christ.—T. T. Carter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER HEALS A LAME MAN

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, February 12, 1939

Lesson Text—Acts 3:1-10; 4:8-12.

Golden Text—But Peter said, silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that I give thee. Acts 3:6.

In this little episode on the porch of Solomon's temple and also by the Beautiful Gate we find some very interesting side glances of the lives of the apostles after Pentecost. We, of course, are interested to know just how they are going to behave after this marvelous anointing by the Holy Spirit. We would like to know what change, if any, it will make in their attitude to the temple or forms of worship, what difference it will make in their attitude towards the needs and condition of mankind. Will it put them above the need for worship in the usual forms, of formal worship, prayer meeting and the like? Will it so transform them that it will not lift them out of the realm of the sinful, unregenerated men and women around them? In this graphic little picture of Peter and John we get a vivid answer to these questions.

The ecstatic hours of the Pentecost were still warm in their heart's memory, and to some it would seem that such an experience would have made them contemptuous of the ordinary routine of temple worship and prayer. Peter and John might have said, "We are no longer mechanical worshippers; we have received the Holy Spirit into our hearts, and for us all Sabbath days, and sacrificial hours and sacred places of man-built structures are abolished—we live the higher life." They, however, made no such speech. They forever said for the church that we do have our Pentecostal moments which lift us up to the very courts of heaven but that we are moved by that higher spirit to keep our feet upon solid earth of human agencies. It will not allow us to give up to saying:

"My willing soul would stay
In such a frame as this,
And sit and sing herself away
To everlasting bliss."

What about that beautiful gate? Should the Christian apostle who had sat at the feet of Jesus with all of His divine nature that knew no bounds resort to the mere man-made structures and symbols of Solomon's temple? When Christ answered the woman by the well in Samaria and told her that God was a spirit and must be worshipped in spirit and in truth—things which transcend the mere temple in Jerusalem —did He not lift worship above the means of mere gates and stones? Well, the answer is with these spirit-filled apostles, Peter and John, that they are on their way to the temple at the hour of the ordinary prayer-meeting. Christ did say that His spiritual Father could not and should not be shut up within the temple in Jerusalem but that the doors long shut by selfish Judaism would be thrown open by His coming and that the light of God's spirit would flow forth from its portals to all life, even Samaria. Now light can be shut in a building so as to leave the yards dark without but in opening windows and doors and letting the inner light shine forth into the yards it does not rob the inside rooms of their light. So Christ affected temple worship in His coming. In one respect then He changed the nature of the Jewish temple. In the place of the Greek words engraved on pillars of this beautiful gate which read, "Let no stranger pass beyond this on pain of death," Christ has gone through and substituted these comforting words which read, "Come unto Me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." Thus we believe that Christ sanctions the use of the beautiful gate in worshiping His Father in the beauty of holiness.

Then what about that ugly, wretched bit of humanity that got itself mixed up in the beauty of the temple? Should he have been permitted to use this beautiful and consecrated place as a place to ask his alms? To all who would debate this question both pro and con here is the answer of Peter and John. They behold the beauty of God's nature as symbolized in the temple; in like manner they were led to see the contrasting urgliness of sin-ridden humanity as symbolized by this lame man at the temple gate; and in response to that contrast they reached out human hands supported by divine love and lifted this poor lame brother of theirs to be able to walk again. Now get the completed picture—

"And leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them, into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God."

Thus in conclusion we would say that we should build and enter our temples of beauty to worship our heavenly Father, but as we see in contrast to this beauty the wistful expectancy of humanity made ugly by the ravages of sin we must forever respond by saying to this needy humanity which still lies at the gate of every church and temple today, "In the name of Jesus of Nazarus, rise up and walk."

MESSENGERS WITHOUT MESSAGES

By Rev. W. A. Ledford

Many take pride in their own individualities, and peculiarities. This is well and good, but after all, we all belong to certain classes of society. It was that way also in Bible times. Esau belonged to the profane class, who like Demas, loved the things of this world more than the things of the next world. Such delight more in the things of the flesh than of the things of the spirit. Abraham is known as the father of the faithful. That rather obscure messenger, associated with the armies of King David, Ahimaaz, represents the class of messengers without messages.

Ahimaaz was in a veritable maelstrom of events. The very air must have been tense with news. Such an opportune time for a front page story. The wise counsellor Ahithophel, like Judas Iscariot, had committed suicide. Absalom was in revolt against his father, David, and had driven him out of Jerusalem. The armies of David and Absalom were in battle in the forests of Ephraim. The fair, winsome, politically minded Absalom had been brutally slain and buried like a dog. Doubtless, the air was full of rumors. Tidings had been dispatched of the outcome to King David. Ahimaaz outran the Cushite, whom Joab had sent with the tragic news. As he came into the presence of David, he was asked, "Is it well with the young man Absalom?" Ahimaaz reported that when he left Joab there was a great tumult, but he didn't know what it was. David told him to stand aside.

This much might be said in behalf of this messenger without a message. He was a good man, son of the priest, Zadok, and was one of the most trusted messengers. It was partially through his messages that David was able to escape out of Jerusalem. Some have thought that Joab thought too much of him, to send him on the hazardous mission, of imparting the sad news to David of his son's tragic death. Instead a foreign slave, a Cushite was selected to bear the tidings to King David. David actually did take Joab out of the army for his part in Absalom's death. Doubtless, no such an alibi could be made for many of God's messengers without messages.

After all the good things that might be said of Ahimaaz's fittness, trustworthiness to be a messenger, he seems to have been dominated by the spirit of rivalry and vainglory. When he was denied the privilege of bearing this message to King David, he obtained permission to run along also. The motive seems to have been, to show the Cushite that he could outrun him. Perhaps, De Quincey would class among, "Murder As a Fine Art," some modern people striving to equal, or surpass "The Jones and the Browns." Such seem never to learn that pride, jealousy, vainglory, the spirit of selfish rivalry are not among the fruits of the blessed Holy Spirit. This spirit leads to the "padding" of church registers, and making false reports, that some former, or neighboring pastor may be surpassed.

Ahimaaz learned that King David wanted to hear something more than about excitement, tumults, and emotional spasms, when the destiny of nations were in the balance, and thousands of lives being hurled into eternity. It was a great day for Elijah, when he learned that God was in the still small voice, rather than in the wind, earthquake, or the fire. The messengers of God must hear more than trumpets, see more than tumults, and feel more than excitement, if they are to bring comfort, and consolation to poor souls, sitting in darkness and the shadow of death, and guide their feet in the ways of peace. The Son of God prefaced His great mission, by announcing that "the Spirit of God was upon him." Some of us ministers are slow to learn that noise is not emphasis, nor hot air preaching.

The tragedy of Ahimaaz, was that he was ignorant of the king's son. The great heart of David was naturally interested in the welfare of the kingdom, and the news in general, but at this time, the absorbing topic with him was his son. When the armies went to battle, David requested that the young man, even Absalom be dealt with gently. His first question of the messengers was, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" David was wrapped up in his own son. The whole scene is real to us parents. The story is told of a certain Vice President in Washington, spending the night by the side of his little adopted son's crib, while the President and his cabinet wrestled with world problems. The world honors that Vice President for doing that very thing.

If Scripture has no message for us today, we are not interested in it. We make well beaten paths to certain portions of Scripture because we find comfort and assurance there. Other sections of our Bibles remain perfectly clean. What lesson has this messenger without a message in the long ago, have for us today? Gleaning from modern books, magazines, and religious literature in general; there appears to be many occupying chairs of religious education, and Christian pulpits, who are ignorant of God's Son. Jesus Christ was in the midst of the people, in the time of John the Baptist, and they didn't know it. Philip was with Jesus a long time without knowing Him. Jesus Christ and Him crucified, might be foolishness to some, and to others a stumbling block, but the Great Apostle to the Gentiles determined to know nothing else.

It is possible for the teacher, or preacher to delve into the depths of literature, science, politics, philosophy and entertain an audience. These are His according to Paul. Such preaching never hits pet sins. But in our more sober moments, we delve into the deep things of God, and answer with Peter, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life. And we have believed, and know that Thou art the Holy One of God."—Jn. 6:68, 69. Without such knowledge no one should occupy a chair of Christian education, nor accupy a Christian pulpit. Such would be messengers without messages.

Laytonsville, Md.

◆

A TRIP THROUGH THE KITCHEN

Do you ever think of your familiar kitchen as offering you a trip to foreign countries? Take a look around and see what a wonderful voyage you can have right at home?

First, notice the coffee can. There we make the first stop—Santos, in Brazil. Our coffee comes from there principally—six million bags yearly, each bag weighing one hundred thirty-seven pounds. Some comes from Colombia, Venezuela, parts of Central America, and the Netherland Indies.

Your tea most likely grew in Japan, China, India, or the East Indies—quite a trip for one item, particularly as the United States is not considered one of the "tea-drinking" nations.

The cacao bean, from which your cocoa and chocolate are made probably originated either in British West Africa, Brazil, Ecuador, or Trinidad. And did you know that we use about one hundred thousands tons of these items a year? When you consider that a teaspoon of ground cocoa makes a cup, how many cups do you suppose we consume?

The sugar tin catches your eye, and you think, "At least that's American!" It may be, yet statistics show that about half our supply is imported, mostly from Cuba and Java. Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines account for one-quarter of the balance, while only one-quarter of our needs is actually produced here.

Among the articles referred to under the general head of "breadstuffs," we find that much of our rice comes from Hong Kong, and at least a portion of our wheat from Canada and Australia. Sago and tapioca are entirely foreign, coming from the East Indies.

In spite of home production, beans and lentils are imported from Japan in large quantities. Garlic comes from Italy, Spain, or China, and we import large supplies of onions from Spain. Dried peas come to us from Mexico and Japan.

Nuts are one of the most traveled of our kitchen friends. Almonds originate in Spain, Italy, or France, and our coconuts come from the Philippines, Trinidad, and Central America. Coconut meat is imported principally from Oceania, and the shredded kind from the British East Indies. Brazil-nuts give themselves away by their name, while filberts come from Italy and Spain. A great many of the peanuts we use grow in Japan and China, and we import large quantities of walnuts from Italy, France, and China.

Most spices have an interesting foreign background—countries you'll enjoy visiting. Red pepper shouts, "Japan, Spain, and Africa," and again we go to Hong Kong for cassia. The familiar clove comes mostly from East Africa and Zanzibar, and the ginger root from West Africa and Jamaica. We depend on England for most of our mustard, but black pepper sneezes, "Netherland Indies or Straits Settlements is home."

Even the pots and pans play a part in your trip, being made from tin imported from the Malay Peninsula or China. The linoleum represents Spain and Portugal in the cork used, Argentine or Britain in the linseed oil, and New Zealand and the East Indies for the kauri, or copal gum. Indian jute also has an important place in the maufacture of this floor covering.

So most of this civilized world is represented in this all-too-familiar kitchen of yours when you look around. Perhaps getting dinner tonight will be less of a task and more of an adventure if you take "A Trip Trough the Kitchen" while you work.—Katherine Houison, in The Ambassador.

◆

YOUR YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY OFFERING

The large number of orders and reports being received indicate that Young People's Day was widely observed throughout the Methodist Protestant Church. The offering taken on Young People's Day should be sent to the Treasurer of your Annual Conference and marked "Young People's Day Offering." This offering is a credit on World Service and of course counts on your "Appreciation Year" goal. Please send all such offerings to the Treasurer at your earliest convenience.

F. L. GIBBS.

◆

At each moment of a man's life he is either a king or a slave. As he surrenders to a wrong appetite, to any human weakness, to any failure, he is a slave. As he day by day crushes out human weakness . . . recreates a new self from the sin and folly of the past, then he is a king. He is a king ruling with wisdom over himself.—William G. Jordan.

◆

The Church is not a gallery for the exhibition of eminent Christians, but a school for the education of the imperfect ones.—H. W. Beecher.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

LOOKING AT POLITICS THROUGH CHRISTIAN EYES

Topic for February 19, 1939

Daily Bible Readings:

Monday, February 13—Jew and Gentile, one in Christ. Eph. 2:14-18.

Tuesday, February 14—Tribute to whom due. Matt. 22:15-21.

Wednesday, February 15—Jesus, a victim of intrigue. Luke 22:1-6.

Thursday, February 16—Unworthy citizens. Luke 11:39-44.

Friday, February 17—An unfailing rule. Matt. 7:12.

Saturday, February 18—Christian conduct, the criterion. I Pet. 2:9-20.

The Text: Matt. 5:13-20.

While this is being typed a report is coming in over the radio telling of further developments in the uncovering of some of the political corruption that has been practiced in New York. No doubt the condition is just as rotten in your community and in mine as it is in the places in our country where some of the scandal has been uncovered.

As Christians, we have known for a long time that things were not as they should be, but for some reason which cannot be explained to our satisfaction, the word politics has been tabooed in our churches. We have been afraid that politics would get into the churches, and we have been afraid that the church would get into politics. We do not advocate that this should be done, but it is time we pause to consider just why we have the corruption that we do have in our civil government.

Murry Benson, a lawyer and a prominent layman in our Maryland Conference, says: "The church people complain because certain laws are passed and because certain conditions exist in Baltimore; which they, the church people, are responsible for. These conditions which are contrary to the principles of Christ exist because a voting majority of the people want them. The Christians must not complain, but must do something by exercising the right to vote and by changing the hearts of others who do vote." Too long the church people have sat idly by while men who would have been good leaders, fall before the temptations offered them by the forces of evil.

The few times that church people have become stirred to the point of taking a definite stand; they have done, in many cases, more harm than they have good; by their lack of common sense. They have become so stirred up that they have demanded certain things of their law makers without considering the fact that they in turn would have to compromise with unscruplous politicians to get what was demanded.

Recently in one of our counties a group of ministers went to the law enforcement agents and complimented them on a certain piece of work that had been done and encouraged them that more of the same thing be done in the future. One of the officers said to this group just about what Murry Benson said. "What was done has been done because the church people were stirred up, but most of the places we closed will be open again in ninety days, because right or wrong, we do what a majority of the people in the county want—that is the way we keep our jobs."

A movement was started in this same county several months ago for law observance and law enforcement, and it was defeated because there could not be found in that county a Christian layman who had nerve enough or Christianity enough to lead such a movement.

It will be only when we have enough of the courage, desire for right, and spirit of cooperation of Jesus Christ; that we are ever going to be able to change our corrupt politics. No evil can be changed by hiding our eyes and refusing to look at the sore. Too long the church has refused to notice prevailing conditions and has turned her face and practiced a hands off policy.

It is going to take the cooperation of Christian people working for the right regardless of cost, such as has been done in Mecklenburg County and is now being done in Alamance County, before our politics can be carried on in a Christ-like manner.

◆

FROM BROTHER LEWALLEN

Editor, The HERALD:

The pastor has just delivered a discourse on "Sandy Foundations," using as his text the narative of the man who built his house on the sand, as recorded in the seventh chapter of St. Matthew.

I don't know just why this pastor ever thought about preaching from this subject for he evidently was not interested in the kind of foundations his members were building on. For after his discourse a young lady who had been promoted to church membership in a Sunday school decision day servive and had taken the vows of the church, no one ever having explained to her about the spiritual birth or regeneration.

This young lady came to her pastor and said, "Pastor, I am afraid I am building on a sandy foundation.

"I don't know whether I have ever been converted or not, and I am troubled about my soul. When I joined the church I tried to be honest in answering the questions you ask me. When you asked me if I believed in the Lord Jesus Christ I thought it would be very wicked not to believe in Him so I said that I believed in Him, and you told me that that was all there was to it.

"Now I want you to tell me what to do. I want to find peace to my soul."

This pastor, if he should be called a pastor, said to this young lady, "If that's all you have to worry about just go on and forget about it, for we all have our doubts and difficulties. Just go on believing and you will be all right."

If this preacher had really been regenerated and filled with the Holy Spirit and called to preach with the anointing of the Holy Spirit upon him, he could have pointed this truobled soul to the Lamb of God and helped her to find peace. But this preacher could not help her so she went away with a troubled heart, but not for long for she soon found a friend that really knew God and knew how to deal with a soul that is hungering and thirsting after righteousness. So she found peace to her soul and went on her way rejoicing.

"Dear pastor, did you ever have one of your members come to you and say, 'Pastor, I don't know whether I am measuring up to the New Testament standard for a Christian or not. When I read the Bible or hear the word preached it fills me with doubts about my condition, and my heart is troubled. I want you to tell me what to do. I want you to explain the spiritual birth to me so I can understand it.' "

If so did you tell them they were all right and to go on and forget about it. Or did you take them by the hand and point them to Jesus, and help them to find peace to their souls. I believe the minister who is being led by the Spirit of God, can by talking a few minutes with an honest person who is willing to unbosom their heart to him, assertion whether or not they have been born of the Spirit or regenerated, and if they have not, he can lead them into the light so that they can see where they stand and can help them to find the Saviour.

The preacher who can not do these things, should go back to the prow the shop or the mill, for if the blind lead the blind all will fall in the ditch.

Many will come up to the great judgment at the last day to find that their names are not recorded in the Lamb Book of Life and will turn away and point an accusing finger at some preacher and say he said I was all right.

C. A. LEWALLEN.

◆

School over, Albert reached home, bearing evident signs of having been fighting.

"Come here, Albert," said his mother sternly. "Now tell me, how did you get that black eye?"

"I was protecting a little boy," said Albert, and all the wrath left his mother, who patted him on the back, saying, "That's a good boy; so noble of you. Who was the little boy?"

"Me," said Albert.—Stray Stories.

◆

Visitor: 'These biscuits are lovely, Mrs. Smith. I don't know how many I've had."

Little Tommy: "You've had seven!"—Ex.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

PAGEANT ARRIVES

A telephone message from Mrs. Hammer states that she has received the pageant on India, and inasmuch as she has sent substitute material she will wait to hear from you before sending this pageant and worship service. So, if you wish a copy of the new one-act religious drama on India, "A Parable of the Kingdom," write Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer, Asheboro, N. C.

We trust that many organizations will order the pageant and that thank-offerings will be generous.

A THANK-OFFERING SUGGESTION

It is February again and throughout the M. P. church we are thinking in terms of Thank-Offering and Appreciation Year with our World Service budget raised in full. For several years we at Lebanon church, High Point, have used the candle lighting service very successfuly in taking our offering. It is interesting to see how people like to light or have lighted for them, a candle representing some amount of money given in helping to carry on our missionary work. This year we plan to have a birthday cake with 60 candles on it, and I hope to see each one lighted. We are indebted to Mrs. Geo. R. Brown for the much-sought information as to the age of our W. F. M. S., also our foreign work in North Carolina, which is 40 years old some time this year. Lebanon is one among eight churches to be the first in North Carolina to have a W. F. M. S. We were planning our birthday cake as a surprise, but since it has been suggested, we pass the idea on through the Herald. We decided to do it in the hope that someone will be benefitted thereby, and thus help in raising our World Service budget. We have given a thank-offering box to each Sunday school class and plan to light a candle for each dollar or fraction thereof. Also, throughout the congregation any one who wishes may light a candle for some designated amount. Some no doubt will want to light five or more, each representing a dollar. We will have a devotional service and a play. It is always our chief objective for the spiritual side of our program to be of a very impressive and uplifting nature.

LOULA THACKER.

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

In a search through several Missionary Records I find that the N. C. Branch of Women's Work has 132 life members—that is, paid life members.

An amazing thing about this list is that very few on the list are truly LIFE MEMBERS, since they were made so after they became adults. Another strange thing is that one may become a LIFE MEMBER any time up to 16 years by the payment of $5.00 to the treasurer, Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C., but after one passes the 16th year it is necessary to pay $10.00 to become a LIFE MEMBER.

Now, in the remainder of this year let us see if we can't have some real life members. I have noticed with interest the births recorded in the Herald. If parents will enter their infants on our Life Membership list, they will truly become LIFE MEMBERS.

Several years ago I met a very charming woman who, when she found that Henderson was my home town, recalled that when she was a very small child she was visiting her grandparents when the M. P. conference met and the delegate to that conference from Henderson was entertained by her grandparents. She supposed that it was a mark of courtesy to her grandparents that this gentleman who was their guest paid $5 to make her, the grandchild, a Life Member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. P. Church. The parents of the little girl never lived where there was a Methodist Protestant church, but when the little girl grew up and married, she and her husband lived in a town where they could and did join the M. P. church. The woman, as well as her husband, was a most effective church worker. She became president of the Woman's Auxiliary of her church.

Who would say that $5 for that Life Membership was not well invested?

It seems to the Editor of this column that this example might well be followed by parents or grandparents or relatives or friends in making the babies real Life Members of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work. We'd like to report all new Life Members between now and March 31 in this column. Remember the $5 is a credit on the World Service and Appreciation Year and Woman's Auxiliary budget. Send the money and the name to Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C., and also send names to Mrs. R. A. Hunter, R. F. D., Winston-Salem, N. C. Mrs. Kearns will send list to Herald for publication.

Thank you—who'll be first? Or will they be twins?

TRIBUTE TO MISSIONARIES

By MADAME CHIANG KAI-SHEK

At a missionary meeting held in Hankow, China, as a farewell to China's greatly beloved Bishop Logan H. Roots, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek was present and spoke to the company. We are glad to give space to excerpts from that memorable speech:

"Some years ago it was the fashion to decry missionary efforts as being a failure, and I even remember that a commission was sent out from America to gauge the results of missionary work because there was then a widespread feeling that missions had failed in their object. At that time many wondered where were the successors of the Livingstons, the Morrisons, and the Young J. Allens. I think if one were to view impartially the work done by the missionaries, especially during these last nine months, one need no longer doubt whether the same stalwart, courageous, intense passion to help humanity is today present, as it was in the days of pioneering missionaries. I would say from my personal experience, that almost without a single exception all missionaries who are now in the China field have shown themselves to be possessed of those qualities which we so admired in those missionaries of other days, whose names have become famous.

"Many people today are thrilled when they read how Morrison, with a Chinese teacher, worked on his sampan translating the Bible into colloquial, while edicts from the Empress Dowager were sending guards to arrest him. We see something heroic in the way he labored under the uncertain glimmer of an oil lamp, risking his life as his sampan traversed tortuous canals, so that masses may have the benefit of the Bible in terms understandable to them.

"Today, however, missionaries are working under even greater handicaps of death and woe than those which harassed Morrison. All of you know too well what has recently happened in Nanking, Hangshow, Wuhu, and throughout that densely populated region marked by those cities; you know how the missionaries have stood their ground and saved hundreds of thousands of our refugees in the face of bayonets, artillery, bombs and unbridled lust.

"I need not stress what missionaries of the past have done in educational, medical, industrial and agricultural lines to help the people all over the country. One of the cabinet ministers who is a non-Christian remarked one day that he was studying the Bible. When asked if he were a Christian he replied: 'No, but I notice that the Christians throughout the country show a great self-sacrificing spirit and therefore I feel that there must be something to Christianity.' By your work and spirit that underlies it you have made manifest the meaning of true Christianity. The results of your efforts are so appreciated that the Generalissimo has now found it possible to have that law forbidding religion to be taught in Christian schools amended, so that religious subjects may henceforth be taught in registered mission schools. This decision is the greatest testimony in the history of China of our appreciation of the vital, real contribution that Christianity has made to the spiritual well being and livelihood of our people."—N. C. Christian Advocate.

MARRIED

Jones-Anthony

On Saturday, December 24, at 2:30 Mr. Joseph Astor Anthony and Miss Margaret Jones were united in marriage at the home of T. G. Madison, who heard the vows. Only a select group of friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony are residents of Lawndale and will continue to make their home there. Mr. Anthony has a position with the Cleveland Mill and Power Company. We wish for them a long and happy life.

T. G. MADISON

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Liberty M. P. Church, Rev. Aubert Smith, Pastor.—We were pleased to have with us the second Sunday in January Dr. Jesse E. Pritchard, president of the North Carolina Conference. Dr. Pritchard preached an excellent sermon at the 11 o'clock service to a large congregation. He will be pleasantly remembered as one of our "Liberty Normal College" students.

Mrs. James Cheek, one of our members who has been very ill in the hospital in Siler City is much improved.

Mrs. Kelley Overman, who has been critically ill for the past two weeks was carried to Siler City hospital Friday.

The town of Liberty celebrated its golden jubilee anniversary January 30th with many interesting facts of the five churches of Liberty being published in the Liberty News, the city's weekly news paper.

The Ladie's Auxiliary met in the church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. B. J. Gregson, president, had charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional.

Mrs. George R. Brown was guest speaker for the evening.

Mrs. Mamie Smith and Mrs. Clarence Highfill took parts on the program.

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. W. M. Hanner Thursday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Colon Brady, circle leader, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. B. J. Gregson had charge of the program. The subject for study was "Christian Unity in China."

Mrs. Herbert Smith, guest from the Methodist Episcopal Church, led the devotional.

Mrs. Wade Hardin read "Meditation."

Mrs. J. E. Cox read "Inter Denominational Relationship." Mrs. W. M. Hanner read a poem, "Youth."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Protestant church met Thursday afternoon in the church parlor. Mrs. J. A. Lyles, circle leader, presided at the meeting. After the business meeting the circle went to Mrs. W. M. Hanner's for refreshments and Mrs. Hanner was assisted in serving by Mrs. Colon Brady and Mrs. Wade Hardin.

* * *

Love's Grove, Friendship - Love's Grove Charge, Rev. Earl Cook, Pastor.—Our first fifteenth District Rally was held at First M. P. Church, Albemarle, January 29. Rev. Mr. C. G. Isley had charge of the afternoon session. Max Gantt, a very promising young man of Albemarle had charge of the devotionals. The world and more especially our churches, need more young men and women of this type, men and women who are proud of their Saviour and who are not afraid to take a firm stand for Him. Max, we bid you God speed. Rev. Mr. Bell from Roberta gave an interesting talk on, "What My Local Church Has Meant to Me and the North Carolina Conference," being followed by a talk on,. "Larger Fellowship in the New Church," by Rev. Mr. Huss from Kannapolis.

Dinner was served in the dining room of the church at 5:30 o'clock with the ladies from Albemarle church serving hot coffee.

The evening service was given over to the ladies work with Mrs. W. L. Little presiding. The main feature of the evening was a religious drama—"Shrines," presented by the Concord church. This was very impressively rendered and with much reverence and grace. Many thanks to those who took part and especially to Rev. and Mrs. Peeler who put forth special effort to make the drama a success.

Each Sunday our Sunday school shows progress over last year in every respect, but still we have a large number of people who need to be enrolled in our school, or in some Sunday school. Our superintendent, Mr. J. S. Polk, never tires or tries to shirk his obligation toward the church. May we never fail him in trying to make our Sunday school what God would have it.

We are forwarding plans to remodel our church and perhaps install a heating system. Perhaps this might be the means of bringing some of our members home. We hope very much that those who have gone away, but who still hold their membership at Love's Grove, will see the need to come back home. We need you, but God needs you much more in the work of His kingdom. Our pastor, Mr. Cook is a grand preacher and a most enthusiastic worker, and if you have never heard him or had the privilege to work with him, we want you to come and do so. There is no greater pleasure or comfort to man than to be a worker in God's kingdom. We have preaching service each second and fourth Sunday at 11 o'clock.

MRS. W. L. LITTLE, Ass't. Reporter.
R 1, Concord, N. C.

* * *

Sapling Ridge Church, Alamance Charge, Rev. George R. Brown, Pastor.—We were very happy to have Dr. George R. Brown preach to us at 11 o'clock. He read from the 12th chapter of Acts. His text was the 5th verse: "Peter therefore was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him." We had a very good crowd out today. Hope they will continue coming. Our Sunday school is getting along very nicely, although we do not have a very large attendance. We sincerely hope we can get interested enough in God's work to come out to Sunday school.

The Woman's Auxiliary met last months with Mrs. Ruben Stone. Nine members were present. We will meet next month with Mrs. Roy Self. We are planning to observe the world day of prayer at this next meeting.

We were very glad indeed to have with us at church again today Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pugh who have been kept at home for a long time on account of sickness.

Mr. A. G. Campbell is still unable to attend church. Does'nt seem to get much better, but we hope he will soon be lots better.

Rev. and Mrs. George R. Brown were dinner guests at the home of Mr. Rufus Johnson Sunday.

We still ask an interest in the prayers of the Christians, for us in the work of our Christ.

MRS. FRANK WEBSTER, Reporter.

* * *

Thomasville, First Church, Rev. James T. Bowman, Pastor.—As I haven't noticed any report from our charge in a few weeks I shall take the liberty of writing a short sketch of the activities of our work.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have taken hold of the work again this year, and everything is going splendidly under their leadership.

We held our quarterly officers and teachers meeting on Monday night, January 9th. Quite a number of changes in the teachers was recommended in order that others may be getting the practice that it takes to fit them for future work in that particular line—for we realize that a teacher is not made only through and by persistent efforts from time to time. These recommendations were carried out, and they were elected the following Sunday by a vote of the entire school.

We held our promotional service on the fifth Sunday and somewhere around fifty were sent up into the higher brackets, making room for those who are constantly coming in from time to time. Our school numbers around three hundred with an average of around two hundred each Sunday, which does not measure a sufficiency in accordance with our enrollment. I have always contended that where twenty per cent or over are not accounted for that something is wrong somewhere and a check-up should be made.

Our pastor, Mr. Bowman, has been confined to his room with the grippe and was not with us last Sunday (January 29th).

We always miss the pastor's leadership in his absence more than anyone else.

Mr. Bowman is a little better situated than most pastors, in his absence his good wife can take over the services almost if not as conveniently as does the pastor, so we are fortunate in having this combination as our leaders.

Last Sunday being Young People's Day, the printed bulletins sent out by that department were used. Mrs. Bowman made the talk at the morning service, also Brother Walter Loftin, chairman of the board of stewards, made an appeal as to the financial responsibility of our charge—this being the last year before the merger, he stressed the fact of making this a cleanup year as to finances so that we can go to our annual conference with all claims paid.

Our C. E. society elected new officers for the following year. Finch Jackson was elected president replacing Miss Nell Jarret who has been president for the past two years. Nell has made a good leader and the work has gone along fine under her leadership. Finch is a fine boy and I am sure that the society will go forward under his management.

Mr. Alfred Hedrick (of our young folk) and Miss Arlene Walton of Trinity, N. C.

were married at the parsonage on Saturday night, January 21st. Rev. Mr. Bowman officiating. Alfred is a member of our church and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hedrick of Thomasville. We wish them a long and happy life.

And now I must say a word in behalf of our HERALD. Is is the only periodical that comes into our home that I read in its entirety.

I am sure that if we read the HERALD (beginning with the Editorials, The President's Message, The Sunday School Lesson, by Mr. Easter). And I came very near saying Dr. Lindley's contribution, which he has just recently laid aside (to our regret). And I might say Dr. we miss them. It will give us information that will make us better workers in our own local churches.

Again I might say to you HERALD Committee of the different charges of our denomination. See if you can get the HERALD in the homes of those who have never taken it, so that they too, may share the good messages that will be in store for them, and if they read it and get the proper information of the doings and activities of our denomination in general, and don't make better servants in their own local church—then I shall be very much disappointed.

Brother Andrews you are giving us a good paper.

D. R. CONNELL.

◆

Asheville.—There has been no report from our church for some time but that has been due to the illness of the reporter rather than to inactivity in the church. We really are encouraged in many ways by the interest shown and the progress we have made. Church attendance is increasing and Dr. Bethea's splendid sermons are helpful and inspiring. At our Young People's Day services both attendance and offering were most gratifying. The offering was three times as large as our offering last year. This broadened interest in missionary or world service activities is an encouraging sign, for the most successful church is always one which thinks in broader terms than local church needs. Rev. W. C. Clark gave a splendid address at the evening service on "Appreciation Year." Mrs. A. G. Wilcox, of Enfield, Miss Irene Holcombe, of the Weaverville church, and our own Mr. James Bailey and young people's choir with their capable director, Miss Nancy Clouse added greatly to the services by their beautiful music.

The Auxiliary continues to carry on a successful year's work and althought small in numbers they lack nothing in cooperation and helpful spirit. Circle One met last Thursday with Mrs. R. B. Wilson and Circle Two met with Miss Frances Cunningham. Both circles are enjoying and profiting by their interesting Bible study at each meeting.

Sunday school work is progressing nicely although attendance is not as large as we would like to have. There seems to be a splendid class spirit in all the classes. Regular business and social meetings are held and all classes are cooperating whenever possible in the activities of the church. The Baraca-Philathea class is sponsoring a series of benefit parties, proceeds of which will be applied on the church budget. The first was held on January 27th at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson and the second is scheduled for February 17th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heller.

The Fawcett Bible Class will hold its meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Hornaday.

We are sorry to report that many of our people are ill and hope they may soon be able to return to their places in our church. Among the sick members are Mrs. H. L. Hanner, Miss Eula Taylor, Richard Charnock and Miss Edna Moore and little Miss Mary Margaret Wilson who have recovered sufficiently to be out again. Miss Minnie Boyd is improving after several weeks at the Mission Hospital.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanner and the birth of a son, Thomas Isaac, at the Mission Hospital on January 29th.

FRANCES CUNNINGHAM, Reporter.

Since the above report was written we have received the sad news of the passing away of Mr. E. C. Fawcett, of Cheyney, Pa., for many years superintendent of our Sunday school and teacher of the Fawcett Bible class. Our entire church is saddened at this news and we all join in expressing our sympathy to his bereaved family. Mr. Fawcett was one of the most wonderful Christian characters I have ever known. It was a privilege to have known him and although he has been removed from our midst he will continue to live in the hearts of all who knew him—a loyal citizen, sympathetic and understanding friend, and a true Christian.

◆

Mt. Hermon Charge.—Our reporter at the Belmont church ask me to drop in a few lines for the church paper in her place this week. But I want to say first that I am not as familiar with just what has been going on in any of the church as I would like to be, due to several week's illness. On the day following the adjournment of the annual conference I was stricken down with a very serious illness which kept me confined to my bed and room for around six weeks, and while I am much improved, I still have to rest a while each morning and afternoon. This of course keeps me from visiting very much on my work. But thanks to Brothers Wayne Curtis and Lee Moser all of my appointments have been filled but one. Brother Curtis offered to fill that one for me, but I thought I was stronger than I really was. I found at the last minute that I was not able to go.

But I am now in my place each Sunday, and find the churches and Sunday schools moving along nicely. Our Sunday school at Belmont under the efficient, faithful leadership of our superintendent, Brother Royzelle Coble, is doing fine work.

Our heating system that we put in the Belmont church last fall in time for the first cold weather, is a joy to us all. And due to the comfortable building or some other cause we are having a very marked increase in our Sunday night attendance despite the fact that we have had and still have quite a lot of sickness in our community.

Mrs. Jackson Sharpe has been very sick with pneumonia, (Uncle) Joel Sharpe also has pneumonia, Mrs. Mary Shoffner is desperately sick at this time. She has been confined to her bed for several months. There seems to be only one hope for her recovery, Divine intervention. Mrs. Sharpe is reported better, they have dismissed the trained nurse, and think her out of danger. But a message has just come to me while writing this letter that Mrs. Shoffner has passed away. She was one of our most-spiritual leaders in the Belmont church. The church will miss her, the community will miss her very much.

I knew I lived in a fine community, had the best of neighbors, and served a fine people, I did not have to get sick to find that out. But while sick I found more evidence of it. The neighbors came in and hauled up several loads of wood for me. One good friend giving the wood, then they sawed it up and put it in the wood house. Many of my neighbors brought fresh meats, some came to see me and left a bill in my hands when they said good-bye. At Christmas time the churches and the Sunday schools sent in baskets of groceries and fruits. Mt. Hermon church sent us two nice wool blankets and several pieces of bed linen, and then a number of personal gifts came along with it. The Belmont church gave us a nice wool blanket, and a beautiful table lamp, and bags of fruit. The Friendship church, Business Girls' circle, sent us a large box of groceries and other personal gifts. The Philathea class also sent a large basket of groceries and personal gifts. The Cedar Cliff church sent a quantity of fresh meats. The treasurers of the churches knowing that sickness meant medicine and doctor bills, came in with checks that covered all of my expenses while sick. Words cannot express my gratitude for the kindness of these good people.

May the rich blessings of our Heavenly Father be upon them everyone, Jesus said, "Peter, if you love me feed my sheep." If you love me prove it by what service you render. May the Lord help me to prove my gratitude by the service I render, and make me a better preacher and a better pastor.

J. R. ANDERSON.

◆

Kernersvile Church, February 6.—The January meeting of Circle No. 1 of the Ladie's Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Linville. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. C. B. Way and consisted of a song, scripture reading by Miss Rose Linville and prayer by Rev. C. B. Way. A duet by miss Louise Way and C. B. Way, Jr. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. J. W. Corum, Miss Mamie Bull had charge of the business program. Reports were made by the secretary, Mrs. C. B. Way and the treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Linville. Plans were discussed for the purchase of new chairs for the church choir. During the social hour the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Rose Linville, served refreshments to a good attendance of members and four visitors. The February meeting will be held with Mrs. Jack Watkins.

Circle No. 2 of the Ladie's Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. G. L. Wall Saturday evening January 21st. The meeting opened with a song "More Love to Thee." Miss Louise Way read the 26th Psalm. Prayer by Mrs. C. B. Way followed. Mrs. Clay Parrish, secretary, read the minutes and in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Odell Corum, Mrs. Parrish collected dues and gave the treasurer's report. The lesson study was taken from the book of Leviticus.

The personal service report showed 20 visits to the sick made, 3 trays and 3 baskets of fruit sent. Three new members, Mrs. C. B. Way, Miss Louise Way and Miss Meta Ragland were welcomed into the circle. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Clay Parrish served refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Willis Taylor.

The work at our church is progressing nicely. Since conference our church has had the woodwork on the exterior painted and some remodeling with a complete redecoration of the interior. A lovely new carpet has been put down and we are hoping for more improvements in the near future. We have about the same attendance for both Sunday school and church services. We had a very impressive service the 3rd Sunday a. m. in January. Prof. Easley, blind musician was present. He played for the service. He also sang two lovely solos. Two new members were received at this service, Mrs. Gladys Wilson and Miss Mamie Bull. Our pastor in his usual interesting manner preached an excellent sermon. Last Sunday evening our pastor's subject "Open hensive manner to an attentive audience. hensive maner to an attentive audience.

We were sorry to learn of the passing of our beloved pastor's brother which occurred at Burlington, January 28th. We again extend to the entire family our sympathy. In addition to the pastor and his family those attending the funeral services from here were Mrs. Add N. Linville, Mrs. Clay Parrish, Mrs. John Linville and C. J. Ragland.

We were very glad to have Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Williams present for one of our evening services recently. Rev. Mr. Williams is a former pastor of this charge, having served us for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higgins are making their home at present with the bride's mother. Mrs. Higgins was formerly Miss Hazel Hendrix and is one of our most loyal and best loved workers. We wish for this young couple much happiness and success.

Young People's Day will be observed at our church next Sunday evening with an outside supper and special music.

MRS. PAUL BUTNER, Reporter.

◆

Shiloh, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—"Substitutes For God" was the subject of the sermon brought by our pastor this Lord's Day. Text was the 13th verse of 2nd chapter of Jeremiah. In the 2nd chapter of Jeremiah we find God's prophet crying to the children of Israel, to turn again unto God who had made them great. But they as, America is becoming today, felt themselves sufficient to carry on without God. But God permitted them to be destroyed because of their evils. And our country will suffer the same consequences if we fail to worship the true and living God.

I have not thus far this year mentioned our mid-week prayer meetings. There are from 18 to 25 members who attend regularly and our attendance is gradually increasing. If more of our people would come out for just one service we believe they would receive a blessing that would make them want to come again.

We are planning to observe Young People's Day the 3rd Sunday at the eleven o'clock service. The intermediates, single young people and the primary department will have charge of the music.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Young with us in our preaching service today. We are always glad to have any who will to come and share with us the splendid sermons which our pastor brings each first and third Sundays in each month at eleven o'clock.

MRS. KYLE SINK, Reporter.

◆

Ringwood, Halifax Charge, W. M. Howard, Jr., Pastor.—Perhaps the reader of the HERALD do not know we are on the charge as we have never made a report in the church HERALD. We do not have a Sunday school in our church as the membership is very small, and Sunday school at the Episcopal Church every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, which is a very few steps from our church.

We have service once a month, every second Sunday afternoon with a very small congregation. Guess it is disheartening for the pastor to preach to such a small crowd, but we who go enjoy hearing him as he would preach to a church full.

Mr. Howard brings us an interesting and helpful message each time he meets with us. He has met with us twice since conference. We are looking forward for his wonderful message Sunday.

We want to say we are very glad to have Mr. Howard with us another year.

We hope we can have some news for the HERALD this year. I enjoy reading the HERALD. I look forward to its coming on Saturdays.

MRS. E. V. NEVILLE.

◆

Haw River Circuit.—This is to inform the Rev. Geo. R. Brown, D.D., pastor of Alamance Charge, and any others who may be interested, that he isn't the only preacher who gets his car messed up. When I came out of Mizpah Church yesterday to get in my car I found a real pounding on the front seat. (I haven't figured out why they put it on the front seat unless they thought the sugar, which was a good part of the contents, would remind me of my wife, who didn't happen to be with me.) Well, a pounding never came at a time when it was more acceptable. Our hearty thanks to all who had part in it.

We put on the pageant "Shrines" at Fair Grove last night, and at Friendship a week ago. The attendance was good last night: not so good at Friendship. The offering at both places was not quite as good as last year, I am sorry to say, although some who were not present may contribute to it yet and bring up the total. Next Sunday night we will put on the pageant at Mizpah, and on the third Sunday night at Midway. I am trying to bring a message at the morning services in line with our young people's work.

The Friendship Christian Endeavor Society had an anniversary supper at the Monticello High School last Saturday night. The young people from Mizpah and Fair Grove were invited. A number came from Mizpah. A good time was had by all. I am impressed, as I see a group of young folks together in such an affair as this, that it isn't necessary for young people to do as a lot of them do in order to have a good time. Our young people thoroughly enjoyed themselves—and didn't have any regrets afterward.

The women's work, in circles and an as auxiliary, is making good progress. We were glad to have Rev. and Mrs. Ballard at the December meeting of the auxiliary, and as guests for dinner.

C. W. BATES, Pastor.

◆

Friendship Church, Mt. Hermon Charge, Rev. J. R. Anderson, Pastor.—Although we haven't taken time to write, it does not mean that Friendship Church has been idle. Regular services were held at our church Sunday morning. Sunday school at 10 o'clock with 106 present. Mr. Anderson brought us another one of his inspiring sermons at the 11 o'clock service. His text was taken from Luke, 23rd chapter and the 22nd verse. His subject: "The Robber's Prayer." (which was uttered at the crucifiction). He pointed out very clearly that this should be our prayer.

In recent months we have replaced new seats in two of the Sunday school rooms and also the auditorium.

We are sorry to note that some of our church members and of the community are ill at this writing. Namely, Mr. W. A. Patterson, J. J. Sharpe and J. S. Euliss, and we wish for them a speedy recovery.

Glad to have Mrs. J. S. Graves back to worship with us today, for she has been confined to her home for quite a while.

We welcome all visitors to attend our services. Glad to have Mrs. Frank Roberson from Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Paul Kinney from Kannapolis, N. C. who are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patterson.

We hope this year will be a prosperous year to all churches and people.

REPORTER.

◆

Davidson Charge.—We have done right much visiting since coming to this charge, but we have not been in every home. This is a large field and much time will be needed to cover the ground. Our week day visiting is, in the main, with those who are sick and unable to attend church. The sick, the disabled, the sorrowing have a major claim upon a pastor; a claim that no other person or interest has.

We recently disposed of 20 copies of The Upper Room. Twice the number might have been as easily sold. The Upper Room is par-excellent and marvelously cheap as to price.

We are anticipating a good year.

WM. H. NEESE.

◆

Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—Rev. Mr. Braxton's message on the first Sunday was "Christian Stewardship." He stressed the fact that being a Christian meant to give ourselves and also the tenth of our money to the Lord's work. The scripture reading was Malachi 3:7-12.

The Philathea class gave a Sunshine Shower to Miss Johnsie Smith who has been a patient in Piedmont Memorial hospital for several months.

The Mission Band held the January meeting in the social rooms of the church. Ella Mae Linens reviewed a chapter in the study book. Scripture reading by Virginia Barber and prayer was led by the teacher, Mrs. Ned Suits. New officers for the year are as follows: President, Mary Ruth Sharpe: vice-president, Ella Mae Lineus; secretary, Leona Rose Curtis; assistant secretary, Helen Sheppard; treasurer, Thelma Clapp; assistant treasurer, Howard Clapp; program committee, Dorothy Lineberry and Virginia and Marie Barber.

Mr. Braxton is giving a series of illustrated lectures on Sunday nights at the church. Last Sunday night the lecture was based on the book of "Ben Hur."

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Euliss are making their home now with their son Cal. Mr. Euliss has not been so well for several days.

Mrs. Tom Garrett and Mr. Tilden Shoffner, both patients at Piedmont Memorial hospital, are improved at this writing.

The Junior Baraca class and Philathea class have exchanged Sunday school rooms, the boys now being in the social rooms and the Philathea class back in the room which they had for so many years.

We enjoyed having Mrs. W. I. Braxton and sons, Winfred, Ira and Calvin, worship with us the past Sunday.

MRS. CARL CURTIS, Reporter.

* * *

Kannapolis, D. T. Huss, Pastor.—We still feel that our church is making good progress. The regular stewards' meeting was held at the church Saturday evening. After the meeting an oyster supper was served in the Sunday school building. Then our first quarterly conference was held. Good reports were heard from most officers, and everyone is expecting further progress. Regular committees for the year were elected.

Every officer present agreed to work toward clearing the church of debt within the next three months. At the Sunday service most of the money was pledged to pay the debt. A committee was elected to take charge of this matter. We are also expecting a gift of seats for the Sunday school building.

It was also decided that this church would accept the invitation given us by the M. E. church to cooperate with them in their spring revival. That meeting is to be in charge of Rev. John R. Church. At the Sunday school opening exercises last Sunday the Ladies' Auxiliary presented Mrs. N. F. Harris with a fine silver-plated toaster in honor of her 62nd birthday, and also to acknowledge her fine work in visiting the sick and doing all in her power to help the church and ladies' work along. The presentation was made by our pastor, Rev. D. T. Huss.

EDWARD SIDES, Reporter.

* * *

Union Grove Church, Rev. E. A. Bingham, Pastor.—One week ago last Sunday the young people observed Young People's Day at this church. We had morning and evening service. Misses Mozelle Templeton and Alene Starnes had charge of the program. The whole program was very effective.

Improvements are being made on our parsonage. They have built a new barn and are going to dig a basement for the parsonage.

The Christian Endeavor society is very active for our cold winter months. The attendance is good. We feel that the young people of this community are getting a very good training through our C. E. society.

We surely are glad to say one of our church members, Mr. O. G. Templeton, is home from the hospital, getting along fine.

The Woman's Auxiliary is unusually active. All through these winter months our attendance hasn't dropped below 15 to 20 active members.

Lord, I have heard Thy message spoken,
The call to justice, mercy, and good will;
Words of rebuke for sin, words of persuasion,
Thou speakest through the mouths of prophets still.

Though even a poor instrument Thou usest,
Whose voice gives broken and uncertain sound,
Yet, through its tones, if carefully I listen,
Some note of truth and wisdom may resound.

What then is my part? It is quick to answer
With ready lips, and heart resolved and true,
"Speak, Master, for Thy servant heareth:
What Thou dost bid me, Lord, that will I do."

FLORA MAE WOOTEN, Reporter.

* * *

Mitchell's Grove, J. B. Trogdon, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his appointment here last Sunday afternoon with a fairly good attendance. He brought to us a most inspiring and helpful message. This is his second year with us and we hope he will be with us many more.

Our church has grown both spiritually and in number. 38 members have been added to the church recently. Improvements have been made inside and out, a front entrance built, new pews added, and painted inside and out.

We have an organization which we call "The Prayer Band." We hold prayer services in different homes at least once a week. In this prayer band last year we had around 40 conversions. Help us with your prayers.

Our Sunday school attendance has dropped down for the past two Sundays. Some of this is due to sickness. We have 174 on roll. Our highest last year was 205. We are hoping to reach 250 this year.

Each Sunday night we have our Christian Endeavor. Mrs. Guy Hill is our president. We have about 50 members on roll. This has been a great help to the young people as well as the old.

At this writing Mrs. Annie Billings is very sick. She has been sick for the past few weeks, but the last few days has grown much worse.

CALLIE BILLINGS, Reporter.

* * *

Mt. Carmel Church, Rev. L. E. Mabry, Pastor.—Attendance today in Sunday school shows a gain of eleven over a year ago today. The superintendent, Mr. H. V. Swicegood usually has charge of the songs, and he is very anxious that all seats in the choir be occupied.

Rev. L. E. Mabry preached a good sermon to a large congregation. His appointments for this church are the first and third Sunday mornings of each month.

Rev. Mr. Mabry went to Roanoke, Va. Monday to help in the funeral services of Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Oscar Coppley's mother.

A committee of three were appointed to work with the pastor and others in interest of Appreciation Year. Rev. Mr. Mabry plans to attend the Pastor's Western Federation which meets Tuesday. He hopes that some of the committee will be present too.

We were very glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe Teague of Plymouth, N. C. in our services Sunday. Mrs. Teague was once a member of Mt. Carmel Church, having moved her membership when she moved from the community.

Quarterly conference will be held Friday night of this week at First Church, Lexington. President J. E. Pritchard will be present. If you had forgotten about this meeting let this be a new reminder and go.

BEAUTUS WAITMAN.

* * *

Mt. Hermon Church, Mt. Hermon Charge.—We are glad to report that our Sunday school and church work is moving along nicely. Although some of our members have been sick, attendance has been very good.

Last Sunday Young People's Day was observed. The devotional service, "Youth in Gratitude," was led by Miss Lola Thompson. Special music and a pageant, "Shrines," was under direction of the program committee and Miss Truth Isley. The offering was $8.80. We feel that everyone enjoyed the program.

Our pastor has been able to fill all appointments this new year. At last third Sunday's service Communion service was held. A large number were present and took part in this service. We think one is strengthened and helped by having a part in such a service.

Since our last report we have lost some of our oldest members. We wish to express our sympathy to family and friends in this time of sorrow.

Our prayers and best wishes go out to those who are sick and have been sick for some time. May they soon recover and be able to meet with us again.

REPORTER.

* * *

First M. P. Church, Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor.—The Annual Conference budget for our church has been pledged and will be paid by the 15th of April. We are now working on our World Service budget, which we hope to raise just as successfully as we did our Annual Conference budget.

Young People's Day was observed by our church Sunday, January 29. "Opening the Door," a Christian educational play, was given by the Young People's C. E. society. This play was indeed a success. The Tabernacle just behind the church was renovated and the platform rebuilt to make a suitable place to present it. This play was such a success that we are planning to present others in the Tabernacle.

The young married ladies' class held their monthly class meeting with Mrs. A. H. Alexander. After the business meeting the group enjoyed a social hour of Chinese checkers.

The monthly business meeting of the C. E. society will be held Thursday evening at which time plans will be completed for the Valentine party. This affair has been an annual event with this group and is one of the most outstanding social events of the year.

The young girls' class will hold their monthly class meeting at the home of their teacher, Mrs. J. H. McCall, Friday night. After the business meeting the young men have been invited to go on a skating party.

At the evening service Sunday, February 5, the Worldwide Evangelization Crusade gave a motion picture of the work done by their missionaries in Africa and India. This was a very interesting program, and I am sure everyone who attended went away feeling the great need of missionaries in the foreign field.

Next Sunday evening our pastor, Rev. Mr. Strickland, will resume his sermons on the ten rules for living. His subject for Sunday evening service is "The Day That We Forget."

HELEN McCALL, Reporter.

◆

Friendship, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—A large congregation was present last Sunday when Rev. Mr. Cook delivered one of the best sermons we have had the pleasure of hearing in quite a while. Our pastor always does a perfectly good job, but he went just a bit out of the ordinary at the 11 o'clock service. His text was found in Hebrews 2:3, "How shall we escape?" At the evening service his theme was "The Misery of a Sinful Man," the text, "The way of the transgressor is hard." A goodly number of visitors enjoyed these fine messages with us.

The ladies are doing a fine work in the auxiliaries, both circles are planning to install a hot water system in the parsonage. Both circles will meet on Friday night, February 10. Circle No. 1 will meet with Mrs. Luke Hatley, and Circle No. 2 with Mrs. Ernest Lee Hall.

Mr. Cook has been so gracious as to print for each home a church directory, giving the names and addresses of all members of the church, also the names and dates of death of all the members that have died. This will be a great help, especially to the stewards.

There has been installed in the parsonage a much-needed telephone. Anyone desiring to contact our pastor may do so by calling Albemarle 27-R. We are quite sure this is greatly appreciated by Pastor Cook, since his other church is some distance from the parsonage.

Dr. and Mrs. John S. Nesbet, missionaries for 32 years, will address the Christian Endeavor here Sunday evening, February 12, at 6 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

We desire the prayers of all Christians that our church and people may grow stronger in God's grace.

MRS. GLADYS HARKEY, Reporter.

◆

All correspondence for the Herald should be addressed to Box 2107, Greensboro, N. C.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, 8 never-fade Velox prints—only 25c.
Low prices on candid film
Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN!
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

25
CENTS
COIN

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"
Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.
MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Sarah Jane Kernodle

Sarah Jane, daughter of Alfred Moore and Sarah Brown Whitsett, was born in Rockingham County, North Carolina, December 11, 1849. After attending the community school, she went to Jamestown College, and, after it was destroyed by fire, she went to Salem Academy, Salem, now Winston-Salem, N. C.

Early in life she was converted and united with the Methodist Protestant Church, possibly at Fair Grove, Haw River circuit. Later she became identified with the Midway church on the same charge, and to this historic church she gave many years of her eventful life. She was a teacher in the Sunday school for a long period of time, and there are those still living who testify to her efficiency as a Bible teacher.

On September 10, 1866, she was happily united in marriage with Rev. George Sampson Kernodle, a lay-preacher in the Methodist Protestant Church. To this union a daughter was born; but death claimed it in infancy, and its body rests in the cemetery at the Fair Grove Church.

In the fall of 1912, they moved to Reidsville where they had already acquired considerable property, and they immediately became interested in the establishment of a Methodist Protestant church. While the building was under construction her devoted husband was stricken and died. Mrs. Kernodle did not want the building enterprise to fail, so, with the consent of all the parties concerned, the building was completed, and, with the exception of a few hundred dollars, it was paid for out of the Kernodle estate.

On March 30, 1917, she was stricken with paralysis and remained an invalid for the remainder of her life. In spite of this physical handicap she never lost interest in religious and civic affairs. She was keenly alert mentally and spiritually, and devoted herself to the promotion of righteousness among her neighbors and friends. With great difficulty she attended all of her church services, taught a Sunday school class, and looked after her many business interests until a few years ago.

She was the most liberal church member the writer has ever known. She made large contributions to High Point College, to the Children's Home, to the missionary work of the denomination and to her local church. Her contributions to her local church amounted to hundreds of dollars each year as long as she lived, and through her generosity the Reidsville church owns one of the best and most convenient parsonages in the conference. She was one of the best friends any pastor ever had. Her loyalty to her pastor as well as to her church was never questioned. She cooperated with him 100 per cent in all of his endeavors.

In the early morning of November 22, 1938, she fell asleep. The funeral services were held in the church she loved so dearly on the following day, conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. E. Lester Ballard, newly appointed pastor, and by Rev. J. D. Williams, a former pastor. Her body was laid to rest by the side of her husband in the Reidsville cemetery. So another veteran of the Cross has won her eternal reward. She will be missed by her relatives and friends, but she will be most missed by her church. It is our hope that the mantle of her love, liberality, loyalty and devotion may fall upon the shoulders of the members of her church.

GEO. R. BROWN.

◆

Lassiter E. Hatley

Lassiter E. Hatley, 42, veteran of the World War, and well-known citizen of Albemarle died at Yadkin Hospital Friday afternoon, November 4th, at 3:30 o'clock. He had been in ill health for a number of years.

For a number of years, Mr. Hatley was connected with local plumbing concerns. He was a man of engaging personality and had a large number of friends. He was a loyal member of the Methodist Protestant Church of Albemarle in which he had held a number of official positions, which he had filled capably. He will be missed in the church as well as in his home.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Rebecca Lowder, and three children, Mrs. James Morton of Burlington, Misses Frances and Ruby Mae Hatley of Albemarle. The following brothers and sisters also survive: C. W. and D. L. Hatley, Mrs. Attie Gaddy and Mrs. Ira Smart, Albemarle; Mrs. D. T. Curlee of Memphis, Tennessee.

Funeral service was held at the Methodist Protestant church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the writer in charge. Burial was in Fairfield Cemetery with military honors. Pallbearers were R. Lipe, J. U. Whitlock, Frank Rose, L. D. Brooks, Frank Patterson, and W. N. Pence. A crowd that overflowed the church spoke of the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family, and we pray God's comforting grace may be present in this hour of their sorrow.

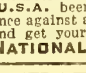
C. G. ISLEY.

◆

Eliza Jane Stapleton

Mrs. Eliza Jane Stapleton, one of Grace Church's oldest members, passed away Saturday morning, January 7, at the home of her only living child, Mrs. A. S. Pettit. Funeral services were conducted from the home on the following afternoon by Rev. J. El-

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.



WINTER FARM RELIEF!
Here's farm relief no farmer can afford to be without—EN-AR-CO (Japanese style) OIL. Stimulates local circulation for the relief of pains of Neuralgia, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Fatigue and Exposure, also the discomfort of Head Colds and Bronchial Irritation. EN-AR-CO has been doing it for over 50 years. Best insurance against a crop of troubles. Get EN-AR-CO today and get your quick pain relief. All Druggists.
MADE IN U.S.A.
NATIONAL REMEDY CO. NEW YORK

POCKET QUARTERLY FREE
Every verse explained. Practical Helps. Higley's Commentary, $1.00. Guaranteed the best. Big catalog FREE.
The Higley Press, Dept. J, Butler, Indiana

wood Carroll and Dr. S. K. Spahr, pastor and pastor emeritus, respectively, of Grace Church.

"Miss Jennie," as she was affectionately called, was born in Patrick county, Virginia, March 19, 1849, daughter of Joseph and Mary Ann Dalton DeBoe. She would have been ninety years old her next birthday. In early childhood she moved to Summerfield where as a young woman she married William Shepherd Stapleton who passed away in 1899. Mrs. Stapleton has made her home in Greensboro with Mrs. Pettit since 1905.

The beautiful floral designs and many friends present for the funeral service on Sunday afternoon are evidences of the high esteem in which she was held. Pastor Carroll spoke of her charming personal life and her devotion to her Christ and the church. Dr. Spahr led the prayer. Mrs. Clarence Clapp, Miss Mary Clapp, Clarence Clapp, and Bynum R. Clapp, accompanied by Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll, sang three of Mrs. Stapleton's hymns. While the following members of Grace Church acted as pallbearers: W. S. Jones, T. D. Sharpe, Dr. A. H. Johnson, E. S. Wills, Willis Booth, Roy C. Millikan, N. W. Kirkman, and A. W. Staley. Members of the Sutton Philathea Class had charge of the flowers. Interment was in Green Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Stapleton was an excellent Christian and loyal Methodist Protestant being a member of Flat Rock and Grace Churches all her life. She read freely, enjoyed her friends, and was constantly interested in all phases of her church. Surely a good sister in Israel has fallen asleep. (J. E. C.)

◆

Bobby Dace Thompson

Bobby Dace, son of John Dace and Nellie Fuquay Thompson, was born December 5, 1938, and died December 21, 1938. Surviving are his parents and one little brother, Billy. He came into our home to brighten our lives for a while. Oh, such a short while, but long enough to endear himself to us. His heart strings interlaced our own. He was very sweet. 'Tis so hard to give him up, but he fulfilled his mission here. He is leading us nearer to God. We tried to live right before, but now, we just must live very near to God and some day meet our darling in Heaven. We can not understand why his life on earth was so short, but we know that God knows best, and we believe that He had some place in the Homeland for our dear one to fill, for which we could not train him here, so he has gone home to be under the tutelage of God and the angels. So pure and sweet and good. Not one sin against him. Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. L. Isley December 22, 1938, and he was laid to rest in Center Cemetery. Beautiful flowers covered the little mound beneath which lay the sweetest flower of all, but the soul of our dear boy has been transplanted to the beautiful garden of God. Dear Bobby, some sweet day, when God wills, we will meet you there. We know you are happy there, free from all the sorrows and troubles of earth. Growing up in Heaven. Safe in the arms of Jesus. We give you up to Him We know 'tis best. Goodby till we meet again.

"Oh, to be over yonder
In that world of wonder,
There to be forever
In the presence of the King."

MOTHER.

DON'T Scratch!
You risk Infection!
To quickly ease the stinging itch, soothe irritated skin, and aid healing, apply comforting
RESINOL

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Harmony S. S., Yarboroughs	$ 2.00
Vickery's Chapel, Guilford	4.10
Bellmont S. S., Mt. Hermon	9.03
Rockingham S. S.	2.00
Flag Springs S. S., Why Not	2.50
Yadkin College S, S.	1.00
Greer's Chapel S. S., Shiloh	1.45
Mt. Hermon, Creswell	3.00
West End S. S., Thomasville	5.00
Ethel Hempstead Circle, St. Paul's, Inwood, L. I.	5.00
Moriah S. S.	4.50
Seagrove S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy, Nov., Dec. and Jan.	5.00
Mrs. C. W. Mengel, Greensboro, personal	1.00
Liberty Grove S. S., Mt. Pleasant, Nov. to Feb.	2.00
Gray's Chapel, Randolph	2.50
Central S. S., Asheboro	40.00
First Church S. S., Lexington	5.00
Friendship S. S., Friendship-Love's Grove	5.26
Rehoboth, Granville	11.00
Young Ladies class, Gibsonville, feeding child Jan. to March	15.00

Some Belated Thanksgiving Offerings

Beaver Falls S. S., Pa.	8.55
First Church, Burlington, additional	3.50
Monett S. S., Mo.	4.00
Uniontown S. S.,. Md.	1.55

Clothing and Other Gifts

Friendship, Friendship-Love's Grove, an additional Harvest Home offering of 3 boxes of clothing and other things.

For all these gifts of money and other gifts we are profoundly grateful.

This report is following a fifth Sunday when not many of our people take an offering for the Children's Home. But a few of the first Sunday offerings came in time for this report.

We are hoping for good reports for the month of February. We thank you, and may God bless His workers everywhere.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

George Madison Jones

George Madison Jones was born October 2, 1850 and departed this life December 25, 1938, age 88 years, 2 months, and 23 days.

Surviving are four brothers living, Frank Jones of Franklinville, Route 1, Harris Jones of Climax, N. C., Quint Jones of Pleasant Garden, and Tom Jones of Climax. Also two dead brothers, Jim and Wesley Jones. Three children, Maggie York of the home, Wesley Jones of Dunn, and one dead, Martha Curtis. He has three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

He was the son of John and Martha Jones.

Mr. Jones had been a member of Gray's Chapel M. P. Church for around 50 years. He attended church regularly as long as his health permitted.

The funeral and burial were conducted at Gray's Chapel on December 26, 1938, by Rev. A. O. Lindley and the pastor.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Lucille Wright

Just nine years ago tonight
Oh how sad the day
Oh how sad and lonely
Since my little girl went away.

She has gone from us to heaven
A home of heavenly rest
I am longing to go to her
And fold her to my breast.

Oh won't that be a happy meeting
When God calls me to His throne
Some day He will call me
When He wants me for His own.

Some day in the bright near future
When the stars are shining bright
God will say you can come home
You may bid your friends goodnight.

Then I'll see my little darling
In that land beyond the sky.
Oh won't that be a happy meeting
In the sweet by and by.

MOTHER.

◆

Janie Proctor Logan

Janie Proctor Logan was born June 12, 1855, departed this life January 3, 1939, age 83 years, 6 months, and 21 days.

She was united in marriage with Andrew Logan. To this union were born six children: David, Joseph, Mrs. Mary Waters, Mrs. Cara Lindsay, Mrs. Ada Price, and Hannah Logan. She is also survived by 27 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

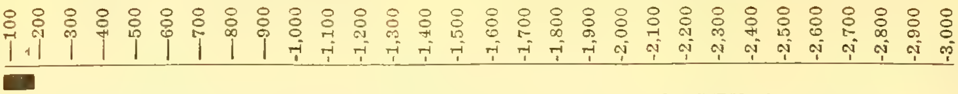
Mrs. Logan professed faith in Christ in early life and united with Mount Moriah Methodist Protestant Church where she continued until death.

The funeral was conducted from Zion Grove Baptist church by Rev. Ottis Cook and T. G. Madison. Interment was in the local cemetery. T. G. MADISON.

More Comfort Wearing
FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

REV. C. W. BATES, D.D.
Subscription Booster

HELP! HELP! HELP!

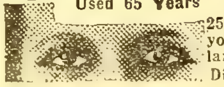
What can I do or say that will help boost the HERALD subscription list? If you've got an answer to that question, I'd like to have it. We need to "increase the length of that black line" up at the top of this page. Need it becaues it means a good deal in financing the paper. But much more because we need that many more readers. A UNION OF METHODISTS WHO KNOW. And the only way to know the momentous things that are happening in the Methodist world these days is to read the church paper. Well, it appears I'm doing a good deal of preaching and not much practicing so far as getting my folks to take the paper. I'm ashamed of it. But we're all going to do better.

Shiloh Charge is very much in evidence in the Subsidy Column. All raised! Congratulations. And look at Cleveland with a third of their HERALD quota already secured. If they can do it, so can the rest of us.

C. W. BATES, Pastor.

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	9	...
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	2	....
Asheboro	47	....	....
Asheville	13	5	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	3¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	19½	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1	....
Davidson	56	8	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	3	.
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	5¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	¾	....
Forsyth	46	5½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	4	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	. .	....
Greensboro, West End	25	10¾	*7.50
Greensville	55	4½	....
Guilford	37	2½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	2	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	9½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1¼	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¼	....
Lexington, First	48	5	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	....	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	7	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	4¾	....
Reidsville	13	4	....
Richland	35	4½	....
Roberta	29	1½	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	5	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3½	....
Tabernacle	40	6	....
Thomasville, Community	18	2½	*5.00
Thomasville, First	25	6½	....
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	3	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9	....
Whitakers	8	....	*2.50
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	4¾	....

John R. Dickey's Old Reliable
Eye Wash
Used 65 Years
Soothes, relieves and gives comfort to irritated eyes.
Genuine in red box 25c and 50c sizes. Ask your druggist for new large size with dropper.
Dickey Drug Co., Bristol, Va.



Methodist Protestant Herald
Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.
R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
Contributing Editors
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor
Price—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.
Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.
In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.
All remittances, business letters and communications for the Herald should be addressed to M. P. Herald, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.
Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. W. W. Eldridge, West End church	$2.00
Mrs. D. W. Trogdon, West End church	1.00
C. F. Johnson, West End church	1.00
Miss Gladys Routh, West End church	1.00
Mrs. S. H. Stapleton, West End church	.50
By Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
J W. Whitehead, Alamance charge	1.00
Mrs. N. C. Ridge, Denton charge	1.00
Mrs. S. M. Speas, W. Forsyth charge	2.00
C. G. Hunter, West Forsyth charge	1.00
By Pastor Ferree.
Rev. J. W. Braxton, club subscriptions, Mt. Pleasant charge	4.00
Mrs. H. F. Amick, Mt. Pleasant charge	2.00
Mrs. N. Alexander, Mt. Pleasant charge	1.00
By Pastor Braxton.
W. L. Weedon, Guilford charge	2.00
By Mrs. Claude Tedder.
Dr. G. I. Humphreys, First, High Point	2.00
Miss Xannie Stowe, First, High Point	2.00
Mrs. P. W. Callahan, First, High Point	2.00
By W. J. Spencer.
Mrs. L. A. Michael, West End church	1.00
Gift of Mrs. Cooper, sent by Mrs. Stockard.
Mrs. J. G. Holt, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
Mrs. Clay W. Holt, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
By Pastor Anderson.
Mrs. Carl Sykes, Mebane charge	1.00
By Mrs. D. A. Pender.
Miss Frances Ellis, Randolph charge	1.00
By Miss Gladys Pugh.
Mrs. J. W. Medlin, Spring Church ch'ge	1.00
Sent by Miss Olie Crew.
Mrs. Hattie Holcombe, Democrat charge	2.00
J. E. Gantt, Albemarle	1.00
D. J. Hatley, Albemarle	1.00
Sent by Mrs. C. S. Moton.
Mrs. Mary L. Coe, Calvary church	1.00
Sent by Pastor Stubbins.
Rev. J. H. Trolinger, Seagrove	1.00
Mrs. Stroman B. Fields, Seagrove	1.00
Sent by Pastor Trolinger.
Y. D. Eller, Asheville	1.00
Sent by Miss Cunnigham.
Forest S. Wagoner, Creswell	1.00
Mrs. E. R. Breedlove, Granville charge	2.00
Sent by Pastor Pegg.
R. L. Penninger, Roberta church	2.00
Rev. H. W. Bell, Roberta church	1.00
J. C. Smith, Davidson charge	2.00
Miss Sara Marie Neese, Davidson ch'ge	1.00
Sent by Pastor Neese.
Subsidy
First church, Thomasville	5.00

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 16, 1939 NUMBER 14

Evangelism

In this message is good news for a lost world. It brings us a new life, a new language, a new vision, a new relationship, a new joy, a new Master to serve, and a revitalized power to serve Him. The word comes to us from the Greek, eu, good; angelos, messenger—the good messenger. The implication is, that a good message will come from a good messenger or that a good messenger will carry only a good message. In evangelism is the declaration of the faith of the evangelist of the full assurance of his own salvation. And it is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness saying, ''Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight.'' It is the message of the lonely father yearning for his son in the far country and bidding him come home. God is saying through the evangelist, ''Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.'' ''Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people . . . speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem.'' ''The Lord of host is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge.'' The daily presence of the all powerful Christ is promised all who accept Him. The impartial love of God to all peoples is declared. Peter restored and standing courageously before rulers and multitudes; Zaccheus giving back to those he had defrauded fourfold; polluted Mary going out from the presence of Jesus to win disciples to Him; all these testify to the fulfillment of the words of Jesus, ''I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.''

The success of evangelism is not so much a matter of technique as of spirit. No number of personal workers without the spirit of the Lord can bring a revival to a church. No amount of preaching; nor the narration of incidents and the denunciation of sin can win men to Christ where the Spirit of Christ is absent from the evangelist. Good news of redemption told by the unredeemed must fall on heavy ears and dull hearts. As the early disciples could speak only of those things they had seen and heard and known, so the modern witness for Christ, his testimony is limited to his experience of salvation. Anyone who knows the joys, the pardon, and peace of redemption should be able to tell it to his neighbor.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Final Word About Meeting February 20th

This will be my final opportunity to boost attendance at our meeting at Grace Church next Monday, February 20th, in the interest of the Appreciation Year Campaign. Please remember that there will be a morning and an afternoon program. The meeting will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will close in time for those attending to drive home by night. Monday morning Rev. J. C. Madison, pastor of our First church, High Point, will conduct the devotions. Following this, Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, pastor of Grace church and Conference Historian, will speak on the subject, "Our Church, Its Past." After this, Rev. J. H. Straughn, D.D., president of the General Conference, will speak. This will take us up to the noon hour when the women of Grace church will serve lunch for the sum of 40 cents per plate. The uncertainty of the number to be served makes it necessary to charge a little more than if they knew just how many are coming.

The afternoon program will begin at about 1:30, and the first speaker will be Mrs. W. C. Hammer, of Asheboro, who will speak on the subject, "The Work of the Women in the Appreciation Year Campaign." After this Rev. F. L. Gibbs, director of Leadership Education of the General church, will speak on "Young People and the Appreciation Year Campaign." The chairman will then conduct a round table discussion on best methods for raising World Service. The last address of the afternoon will be by Dr. S. W. Taylor, of Asheboro, on the subject, "Our Church—Its Future." Please make your plans to be present without fail.

A Committee Appointed

Notice is hereby given of the appointment of a committee consisting of Dr. Geo. R. Brown, Dr. S. W. Taylor, and Mr. M. A. Coble to boost the campaign to raise the Expense Account of Delegates to the Uniting Conference.

Quarterly Reports Called For

Before this is read the quarterly report blanks will be in the hands of the pastors. Please return these blanks as early as is convenient.

Last Call for Annual Conference Expenses

The period in which we were to raise Annual Conference Expenses is now rapidly drawing to a close, as January and February were the months designated. Please do your best with this and let us get it out of the way of something else.

A Sunday Morning at Reidsville

Last Sunday morning was spent with our Reidsville church, Rev. E. L. Ballard, pastor. This was my first visit to this church for the past several years, and I was delighted with what I saw. The membership of this church is not large, compared with some of our churches, but the attendance was very good indeed. 104 were in Sunday school, and there was an audience at the church service that several of our larger churches would like to have. One of the most recent developments is the procuring of vestments for the Young People's Choir.

This is Brother Ballard's first year as pastor, and he is perfectly aware of the fact that congregations are usually better at the beginning of a pastorate; however, the people speak highly of him, and especially of his ability as a worker with the young people. But while the people are generous in their praise of the present pastor and his wife, they do not forget to say a good word for the former pastor and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. George R. Brown, who served this church for twelve years. In fact, the present pastor says that his work up to the present has largely been to build upon the fine foundation laid by Dr. and Mrs. Brown. It is always a happy experience to find a people who are fond of both the former and present pastor. I am afraid that in many cases much effort is lost because of the complete change in program and method when we change pastors. Well, it was a pleasure to be at Reidsville last Sunday, and I trust this church may have a good year.

A Sunday Morning at St. Paul

Last Sunday evening was spent with the congregation of St. Paul's church in Greensboro, Rev. A. D. Shelton, pastor. Here I found a splendid congregation for a Sunday evening service. Someone sometime remarked that this church is the most wide-awake spiritually in these parts. When one is in one of the services it is not difficult to realize the truthfulness of that statement. This is Brother Shelton's fifth year on this charge, and the people seem very fond of him and speak highly of his preaching. He is a strong gospel preacher and the people hear him gladly. I was told that the fact that the mills in Greensboro have been on short time for so long makes finances rather hard. But I hope this church may find a solution for all of its problems and be able to rejoice in the victory.

Western Pastors' Federation

The Western Pastors' Federation meeting was held at Roberta church on Tuesday of last week in a most helpful meeting. The program opened at 10:30 and ran until about 3:30. Rev. C. E. Ridge is the president of this federation, and Rev. T. G. Madison is the secretary. This federation has set a high standard for the other two in the conference. They hold three meetings each year and they are usually well attended. The remarkable thing about it is that the men drive such considerable distances to be present and seem to enjoy it. At the noon hour the women served a splendid meal in the school house nearby. It was indeed a good day.

Appointments

Sunday, February 19th, 11 a. m. Seagrove. 2:30 p. m. Fairgrove church in an Appreciation Year Rally.

Sunday, February 26th, 11 a. m. Sandy Ridge on the Kernersville charge. 2:30 p. m. Fountain Place, Burlington in District Rally.

Sunday, March 5th, 11 a. m. Maple Springs on Forsyth charge; 7:30 p. m. Mt. Carmel.

Sunday, March 12th, 11 a. m. Albemarle; 2:30 p. m. Pine Bluff.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 16, 1939 NUMBER 14

A Message In Verse

"They say life is a highway,
And the milestones are the years –
With now and then a toll gate
Where you pay your way with tears.

It's a hard road and a rough road,
And it reaches wide and far,
But it leads at last to a golden town
Where golden houses are."

◆

The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill and to destroy; I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.—Jesus Christ.

Senator Umstead from Orange County is verifying the saying of old, "Give the camel the privilege of warming his nose under your tent and soon his body, hump and all, will be there." A bill is being introduced in the legislature to legalize the shipment of intoxicating liquors into dry counties. "This is a control bill, and I mean that," said the senator. Yes, senator, we understand you. And we are hoping that the voters of Orange County also understand this proposed act of their senator.

◆

Learning To Forget

St. Paul prefaced the statement of the major purpose of his life with, ''Forgetting those things which are behind.'' One does not have to live long to accumulate much rubbish in the attic of the mind called memory. The recollection of words which stick and sting the very soul, the memory of deeds and attitudes which left more unpleasant impressions, can destroy the peace of mind and make one, like Haman, thoroughly unhappy, because Mordecai failed to bow before his lordship as they passed on the streets that day. Now and then you find some poor souls bowed down beneath the burden of such trash so constantly that they are unable to do anything else but review those things.

And there are others whose memories work best when recalling the mistakes, foibles and failures of others. They delight in taking these skeletons out of the closet of memory and exhibiting them for the delectation of those of like mind. It is a feast of frustrations and failures they have on such occasions. Not many great and mighty are spared when they go muckraking. They would profit by storing in this same memory of some one,

''If you know anything that will darken the joy
Of a man or woman, or a girl or a boy,
That will wipe out a smile or the least way annoy
A fellow, or cause any gladness to cloy,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.''

And here is another group, they are hindered by what they have done and said. Their successes keep them from doing greater things. Their ancestry, their scholarship, their money, their good reputation, etc., etc., all these stand in their way when they would rise up and work. Oh, how all such need to learn to forget. They talk of the good-old-days, of the glories of the former temple, of the power of the former preacher, of the splendid music of the former choir, of the ease with which the church budget ''used to be paid,'' etc., etc. Could all such only forget those things, count them but dross even thy might do something worthwhile now.

◆

World Peace

In a sense world peace is a luxury the isolationist hopes to enjoy by keeping away from the warring clans of other regions, and the pacifist by refusing to fight for his rights and privileges. But modern inventions of many sorts make it impossible to keep out of the range of the bellicose dictators, and the sacredness of treaties are to them nothing more than scraps of paper. The strife between the strong and the weak goes on, and the balance of power fluctuates daily. The greed for power is as hard to satisfy as the greed for gold. No country is safe from invasion and no one has an abiding guarantee that his rights will be respected as he goes his way on tomorrow. Communism reducing the rights of earning, possessing, and development of the personality to the dead level of mediocrity, and fascism exalting the authority and honors of the dictator to the place of Jehovah threaten all God-fearing, law-abiding citizens of the world today. Neither the isolationist nor the pacifist has a chance to win with such insanely ambitious rulers as Hitler and Mussolini. The country that is prepared to meet them with their own methods is the only country that they will respect. We know that only the Spirit of Jesus Christ can end world strife but so long as there is an aggressor nation like Japan there can be no world peace. If the war party in that country were Christians as are thousands of their people, there would be no Japanese invasion of China now. We believe greater effort should be made by our boards of missions to carry the gospel to Japan and other heathen countries and we believe as sincerely that our country should be prepared to say to Hitler, Mussolini and the warlords of Japan, ''thus far shalt thou come and no farther.''

◆

LIBERTY FIRST

Through the faithful efforts of Brother W. M. Hanner and Pastor Aubert Smith, Liberty Church has raised its apportionment of World Service in full. Brother Hanner is sending in today $282, the amount apportioned. Who will be next?

◆

There is nothing so small but that we may honor God by asking His guidance of it, or insult Him by taking it into our own hands.—John Ruskin.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

BEVERAGE ALCOHOL AND ITS SOCIAL PERILS

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, February 19

Lesson Text—Amos 6:1-6; I Peter 2:11, 12; 4:1-5.

Golden Text—It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to o anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Romans 14:21.

It is rather striking to the reader of history how modern and yet how antiquated are the problems of sinful human nature. By changing a few names in this sermon by Amos in the text of our lesson it would be stream-lined with enough modern application that it could be preached from any pulpit in ultra modern America and be a timely message courageously given. ''Woe unto them that are at ease in Zion, . . . that drink wine in bowls, . . . but they are not grieved for the afflictions of Joseph.'' Is not this a true challenge to any distressing problem of intoxication among our youth today? There is a woeful amount of ease apparent in our dealing with this age-old problem that brings so much affliction to the sons and daughters of our modern day. Even a child can readily see the danger that lurks in a drunken man and will readily flee from him, but the officials of our great nation either have not the wisdom even of a child or are so much at ease in Zion that they care not to take the trouble to run. Yet the evil of intoxication is a lurking enemy to the strength and integrity of our fair country—more subtle and devastating than many of the ''isms'' that are being boldly assailed by press and committee on every hand. We seem to have denied by our attitude to the sale and advertisement of liquor that alcohol is a destroyer of human liberty and social welfare. All experience with alcohol as a beverage shows it to be a habit-forming drug that binds its victims to a horrible slavery—slavery of lost will, lost character, lost decency. Thus any element that has power to destroy elements like these in our citizens is a definite threat to the welfare of our nation. Yet there is a by-word abroad among governmental officials, voters, homes, merchants—yea and even among many in the organized church which says ''It is nothing to me.''

> '' 'It's nothing to me,' the merchant said,
> As over the ledger he bent his head;
> 'I'm busy today with tare and tret;
> I have no time to fume and fret.'
> It was something to him when over the wire
> A message came from a funeral pyre—
> A drunken conductor had wrecked the train—
> His wife and child were among the slain.''

Our leaders today argue their case of social drinking, advertising, loose legislation on basis of moderation in the modern drinker. They say that the way to control this evil is not to totally wean them but to give them enough to keep them contented—thus relieving the pressure that prohibition stimulated which led to outlawry and revolt. In the first place let us say frankly that there is no such thing as a moderate drinker for long. Like one who takes hold of an electrifying-machine and cannot let it go when he is writhing with the pain of the current, so is the drinker of alcohol. In the second place we would say to those who would further insist upon the possibility of moderate drinking that even in that early stage of intemperance there lurks great danger to our social welfare. It is moderate drinking that is responsible for the horrible number of fatal accidents upon our highways. A really drunken driver is usually not as dangerous as a more moderate one because he is more easily detected and is usually incapacitated. The really dangerous driver is the man who has had one or two drinks only who still thinks he is in possession of his faculties, but whose driving judgment has been impaired. Then if our trouble admittedly lies here we must stand for total abstinence. If, as one has said, we could have ''sober first'' as a slogan instead of ''safety first'' most of this great problem would cease. It was Edison who said to this business and mechanical age that ''there is as much a place in business for alcohol as for sand in an engine.''

Is it not a strang paradox that is found in American emotions which allows us to grow so indignant over the persecutions of human life as allowed by other governments against their own peoples but fails to arouse our emotion of indignation against the destruction and persecution as allowed by our government in licensing and sponsoring the liquor business? Is it not strange that we grow so indignant at the loss of life incurred in the war in Spain and in China and yet have none left for the appalling slaughter that whiskey is inflicting upon us here in America? That Christian sympathy is to be cherished in our people but we must let our charity start at home. Let us pray for the Lord of our life to send to His people again another Amos who will warn us of our dangerous contentment in face of this world menace to social happiness, and pray too for Christian leaders as Peter and Paul who will show us the higher social law of Christ which says to us that our liberty for the good of all must not cause our brother to stumble.

FOURTH DISTRICT RALLY

The Fourth District Rally will be held on Sunday, February 26th, 2:30 p. m. in the Fountain Place M. P. Church, Burlington. The program will consist of a pageant presented by the First Church, Burlington, and an address, by Dr. J. E. Pritchard, president of the N. C. Annual Conference.

Pastors and people of the district please urge attendance at this important meeting. The following charges are included in the Fourth District: Burlington, First; Burlington, Fountain Place; Gibsonville, Glen Raven and Graham.

Thank You. See you there.

H. FREO SURRATT, Chairman.

Genius is the infinite art of taking pains.—Thomas Carlyle.

There are some people who visit the Christ. There are others who abide in Him.—J. H. Jowett.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

WHEN LILACS LAST IN THE DOOR-YARD BLOOMED

By Walt Whitman

"When lilacs last in the door-yard bloomed,
And the great star early droop'd in the western sky in the night,
I mourn'd—and yet shall mourn with ever-returning spring.

O ever-returning spring! trinity sure to me you bring;
Lilac blooming perennial, and drooping star in the west,
And thought of him I love."

The thoughts of the nation have turned in the past few days to Abraham Lincoln, the man who, as few others have done, so incorporated in his whole life all that America has stood for in the democracy of its idealism and achievements. The romance and tragedy of his life have captivated the pens of biographers and poets ever since his untimely and tragic death on that April night, 1865. It is not strange that Walt Whitman, endowed as few men have been by circumstances of birth and life, and by democratic interpretation and understanding not only of America, but also of the lives of all men, was able to express in unsurpassed poetry the soul of Lincoln and the sorrow of the nation at his passing.

This poem, along with his well-known O Captain, My Captain and the other briefer and less well-known Hush'd Be the Camps Today come near to occupying the highest place in elegaic verse in English poetry. As is to be expected, Whitman did not conform to many of the conventional requirements for an elegy, but when was he ever a conformist? In his own cadenced free verse, composed with no regular rhythm or rhyme, but with the power and strength that caught the rhythmical irregularity of nature itself, Whitman has caught the perfume of the lilacs in an April breeze, the rise and fall of the bird's song, and the lone grandeur of the western star in its onward sweep through the firmament. The public has been slow to accept this form as poetry since it was so far removed from any of the well-known poetic forms, but no orderly meter fixed by time-honored metric rules could have caught and transmuted those natural elements into such perfect poetic imagery; and could have pictured with such prophetic delineation a man whose very characteristics each image depicts with realistic truth.

It is a three-fold characterization of magnificient connotation. Sixty years after Whitman wrote this poem Amy Lowell said of the lilacs:

> " . . . you are a very decent flower,
> A reticent flower,
> A curiously clear-cut, candid flower,
> Standing beside clean doorways,
> Friendly to a housecat and a pair of spectacles."

Was not Whitman's symbolism a prophetic inclusion of that homeliness of nature that was throughout his life one of Lincoln's dominant characteristics? And as Whitman in imagination followed the funeral cortege across the continent, day and night, over the breast of spring, on past farmhouses, amid cities, through old woods where violets were peeping through the ground, he pictured in his own imitable way the woe of the people, their grief-shadowed faces, and the mournful sound of dirges and shuddering organs that filled the air. In true lyric fashion he identified himself with all the sorrow of the nation in a simple line:

"I give you my sprig of lilac."

The second symbol of Lincoln was of such grandeur that it speaks for itself:

" . . . the great star early droop'd in the western sky in the night,"
"O powerful, western, fallen star!"

and the third, the song of the lonely hermit thrush, perhaps the most affecting in the poignancy of its association with the heart-breaking loneliness that followed Lincoln throughout his entire life. Whitman's choice of the hermit thrush to portray this characteristic is one of the finest lyric identifications in literature.

"In the swamp, in secluded recesses,
A shy and hidden bird is warbling a song.
Solitary, and thrush,
The hermit, withdrawn to himself, avoiding the settlements,
Sings by himself a song."

and again:

"Loud human song, with voice of uttermost woe."

Such brief concerpts and the omission of so much of the poem, including the Death Carol, which is Whitman's interpretation of the song of the bird, cannot hope to present an adequate appreciation of the piece. It must be read in its entirety. But a high watermark of elegaic verse is reached as Whitman answered the conventional question of all elegies, "If a man die, shall he live again?" and combined with rare artistry and true climatic fervor the three natural objects which were to him the soul of Lincoln:

"Yet each I keep, and all, retrievements out of the night;
The song, the wondrous chant of the gray-brown bird,
And the tallying chant, the echo arous'd in my soul,
With the lustrous and drooping star, with the countenance full of woe,
With the lilac tall, and its blossoms of mastering odor;
With the holders holding my hand, nearing the call of the bird,
Comrades mine, and I in the midst, and their memory ever I keep—for the dead I loved so well;
For the sweetest, wisest soul of all my days and lands . . . and this for his dear sake;
Lilac and star and bird, twined with the chant of my soul,
There in the fragrant pines, and the cedars dusk and dim."

LINCOLN'S PHILOSOPHY

Abraham Lincoln's code of ethics reached an exceptionally high moral plane. The following statements have been gleaned from his writings by Lincoln Lore:

The possibility that we may fail in the struggle ought not to deter us from the support of a cause which we believe to be just.

In times like the present men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and eternity.

Truth is your truest friend.

If a man is honest in his mind you are pretty safe in trusting him.

So long as I have been here I have not willingly planted a thorn in any man's bosom.

I am slow to listen to criminations among friends and never expose their quarrels on either side.

May the Almighty grant that the cause of truth, justice, and humanity shall in no wise suffer at my hands.

It is a cheering thought throughout life that something can be done to ameliorate the conditions of those who have been subject to the hard usages of the world.

What I did, I did after a very full deliberation and under a very happy and solemn sense of responsibility.

Let us have faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it.

I shall do nothing through malice; what I deal with is too vast for malicious dealing.

I am very little inclined on many occasions to say anything unless I hope to produce some good by it.

I have been unwilling to go beyond the pressure of necessity in the unusual exercise of power.

Engaged as I am in a great war, I fear it will be difficult for the world to understand how fully I appreciate the principles of peace.

I have no other (ambition) so great as that of being truly esteemed by my fellow men by rendering myself worthy of their esteem.

I shall always bear with me the consciousness of having endeavored to do my duty in the trying times through which we are passing.

I have considered this, and will not shrink the responsibility.

I have cultivated patience and made no attempt at a retort.

If I know my heart, my gratitude is free from any taint of personal triumph.

It will be just all we can do to keep out of a quarrel—and I am resolved to do my part to keep peace.

I believe you can be my personal witness that no man is less to be dreaded for undue severity in any case.

I am not wanting in purpose, though I may fail in the strength to maintain my freedom from bad influences.

As I am trying to preserve my own temper by avoiding irritants so far as practivable, I decline to read the cross letter.

I wish you to do nothing merely for revenge, but that what you may do shall be solely done with reference to the security of the future.

General Schurz thinks I was a little cross in my late note to you. If I was, I ask your pardon. If I do get up a little temper, I have not sufficient time to keep it up.

It is better only sometimes to be right than at all times to be wrong.

Stand with anybody that stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong.

Let us be sure that in giving praise to certain individuals we do no injustice to others.—Young People's Leader.

WANTED $553.00.

Nine hundred forty-seven dollars of the Minnis Salary is in hand and $553.00 yet to be raised, in order that the N. C. Branch of Women's Work may pay the full salary of fifteen hundred dollars it assumed because of its faith in the Methodist Protestants of North Carolina.

Wanted: Fifty Sunday School Classes or C. E. Societies, or Ladies' Aid Societies or individuals to give ten dollars each, and fifty-three individuals to give one dollar each!

Come on folks, let's get this out of the way. Mr. Minnis is tired of reading the appeals to you, and if you'll send in the money we'll say thank you and stop.

We must have the $1,500 by March 31, 1939 in order to meet our obligation.

Remember, the Minnis salary is a credit on World Service, so be sure to give the name of your church when you send your money to Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C.

If you want to rejoice the heart of Mrs. H. C. Nicholson, director of the campaign for raising Minnis salary, send her a card and tell her you're going to raise $10.

Yours for Appreciation Year, and World Service and branch budgets in full.

Mrs. R. M. Andrews,
President, N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

REWARDS

"Every man shall receive his own reward."—1 Corinthians 3:8.

Two young men were fast friends in college. One of them studied for the ministry. The other was preparing to become a lawyer. Both were good students, active in athletics, and leaders in college activities. They finished college with honors. Each went his way.

Twenty-five years afterward the minister became pastor of the church of which the lawyer was a member. They had a visit and talked over old times. The lawyer confided that he had progressed and prospered in his profession. His income now averaged $23,000 annually. The minister's salary was $3,000. He was paying $20,000 a year for the privilege of preaching. It was worth it.—Church Chimes.

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he gives himself for a principle. Words, money, all things else are comparatively easy to give away; but when a man makes a gift of his daily life and practice, it is plain that the truth, whatever it may be, has taken possession of him.—J. R. Lowell.

SAINT VALENTINE

Many, many years ago the people of the village of a country far from here were given many gifts. They would find these gifts lying on their doorsteps when they arose in the morning. They did not know who left these gifts on their steps. Poor people received coal, wood, meat, and groceries. Poor children would have shoes, coats, clothes, and mittens given to them. No matter how closely they watched, they could not see the good giver of these gifts.

After a few years the people of the village began to notice that on the morning of February 14, each year, every needy man and woman, boy and girl, found a gift on his doorstep. People, not needy, found some little token of love awaiting them.

Then the people of the village discovered that there was an old man by the name of Valentine living there. They watched. Sure enough, they found him leaving gifts on the steps of those he was remembering.

"Why do you do this?" they asked the man.

"I am an old man," he said. "I have not many years to live. I enjoy making others happy. I would rather give gifts on my birthday than have people give gifts to me."

Before many years, Valentine died. The poor people missed him very much. The children missed his cheery smile.

When his birthday came again all the people of the village were very sad. No gifts were on their steps.

"What can we do that would please Valentine?" they asked one another.

One person whom Valentine had helped very much said: "I know what we can do. On his birthday, February 14, every year, let us give little gifts to one another. Let us remember especially the boys and girls that he loved so much."

So from that time, on Valentine's birthday, the people of his village would remember each other with a simple gift. Perhaps it would be a card, a ribbon, candy, or flowers, but they did it because they knew it would make Valentine happy if he knew of it.

They tried very hard to let no one see them leave their Valentine greetings. What fun it was for the children to try to catch the giver!

Valentine had been such a good old man that the people of his village thought of him as a saint. Before long they began speaking of him as "Saint Valentine."

We call him that today. Each year on his birthday, February 14, we do as he did when alive. We send cards, called Valentines, to those we love. We especially remember the children.

We use hearts for Valentines because hearts stand for love, and St. Valentine's heart was filled with love for the children and any one in need.—Alice Sumner Varney, in Christian Observer.

Then said I, Ah, Lord Jehovah, behold, I know not how to speak; for I am a child. But Jehovah said unto me, Say not, I am a child; for to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak.—The Prophet, Jeremiah.

SCIENTIFIC CONCLUSIONS IN REGARD TO ALCOHOL

In the social and political world alcohol is a perennial subject of debate but men who have authority in the world of science seem to be agreed upon the following facts:

1. Alcohol is a narcotic. It depresses the higher centers of the brain, removing inhibitions and this is responsible for the mistaken belief that it is a stimulant.

2. The injurious effect of alcohol upon body functioning is principally due to its affinity for water and its affinity for fats. It interferes particularly with the functioning of the digestive tract and the nervous system.

3. It has calorie value, which is responsible for the erroneous belief of many not scientifically instructed that it is a food. Alcohol is oxidized in the body but this is true also of citric or acetic acid (lemon juice and vinegar) which, like alcohol, cannot be used in sufficient quantities to make a material contribution to the fuel required by the body.

4. The effect of the use of alcohol upon heridity is a moot question. Nature has gone to extreme length in protecting the heritage of the human race and it is possible that the principal damage of alcohol to the oncoming generation is its effect upon environment.

5. The value of alcohol for internal use as a medicine is exceedingly limited. It is a most valuable rubifacient.

6. The use of alcohol as a beverage greatly handicaps the defense mechanism of the body against infections.

7. Its popularity as a social agent is based upon its inhibiting effects, which make for garrulity, a loss of the sense of responsibility and a false sense of adequacy.

8. Alcohol distinctly impairs judgment, the power of reasoning, control of conduct, physical accuracy and endurance.

9. Its habitual use even in "moderate" quantities tends to decrease longevity.

10. The motive for its use is primarily psychological.

THE SOURCE

The Bible is one of the solid facts of Christianity. What it is is not affected by what men think of it. Changing opinions about the Bible do not change the Bible. Whatever the Bible was the Bible is. And what it is it has always been. It is not men's thoughts about the Bible that judge it. It is the Bible which judges men and their thoughts. It has nothing to fear but ignorance and neglect. And the church need have no other fear on its account. The Bible will take care of itself if the church will distribute it and get it read.

There should not be a home without the Bible. In one sense there cannot be, for it is the Bible from which the ideal of the home is derived and from which the forces for its realization flow.

And what the Bible is for the home it is for men and women one by one—namely, the source of true ideals of character and the fountain of those energies in Christ by which character is won.—Robert E. Speer.

Hurrah for Brother Crawford. He heads the list of contributions this week.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

LINDY AND THE LOLLIPOPS

A Story for Temperance Sunday

By JANE B. SLOAN

Lindy sat on the back steps thinking hard.

Yesterday had been Sunday and of course she had gone to Sunday school. Mother and Daddy always went, and Lindy loved to wear her prettiest dress and slippers and a big bow on her curly hair.

It was fun to sing with the other boys and girls, and Miss Drake always told the most interesting stories. When they prayed, Lindy always closed her eyes tight so she couldn't see even Miss Drake. Praying was talking to God, and it would be very impolite to look around at other people when one was talking to Him.

But yesterday had been different. A strange man had been there and had talked about alcohol. Lindy knew about alcohol. There was alcohol in beer and wine and whisky, and even in cider. Hadn't she promised never to drink any of those things, and then written her name on a card that Miss Drake had fastened on the wall with those of the other children in her department? The cards were there so that when visitors came into the room they would know that the Junior boys and girls had promised not to drink anything that contained alcohol.

The man who talked to them had asked everybody in Sunday school to learn a verse from the Bible, and Lindy had learned it with the others. It was a long one for a little girl, but she had said it over and over until she was sure she knew the words, but the trouble was that she didn't quite understand it all.

She said it over again to herself, "It is not good to eat meat, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth."

Of course, Lindy knew it was not good to drink wine. And the man had told them that when the verse was written, some of the people believed it was wrong to eat some kinds of meat. The great preacher, Paul, had said that if that was the case, he would not eat any of the meat that seemed wrong to his friends. Lindy wondered about the last part of the verse, "It is not good to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." She wanted to be very careful so that she would not make any one stumble. No nice girl would want to do that.

Lindy had two pennies in her pocket and Mother had told her she might spend them for candy. Her cousin Patsy was coming to spend the afternoon and Lindy had saved her pennies so that she might buy two lollipops, one for herself and one for Patsy. They sold such nice big ones at the corner store.

Lindy bought the lollipops and put them carefully away until Patsy should arrive. Patsy had been ill and Lindy wanted to be especially kind to her. As soon as Patsy came, Lindy told her she had a surprise for her, and ran to bring the lollipops. She came back saying, "I kept them until you came so you could have one."

Patsy looked at the big lollipops, and then shaking her head said, "Thank you, Lindy, but the doctor said I must not eat candy for a while. They do look ever so good, but I don't want to eat anything that isn't good for me. You can have mine."

Lindy looked at the big lollipops and was about to take the paper from one, when suddenly she thought of her verse. Now she knew what it meant! It Patsy ate candy, she might be ill again; if she didn't eat it, she would feel hungry and unhappy if she saw Lindy eating it. Either way, Patsy would "stumble."

Lindy would not make Patsy "stumble;" so, putting the lollipops away, she said, "All right,—come on, let's play with the dolls."

◆

ALCOHOL, ITS USE AND ABUSE

Prize-Winning Essay by a Greensboro School Boy

To Be Used on Temperance Sunday, February 19

Alcohol is a substance that can be very useful to man or it can be a curse to him.

Alcohol has been known since the earliest civilization. Even then, it was a curse to man. It is recorded in the Old Testament about Noah's getting beastly drunk and losing the respect of his sons.

Alcohol is made of fruits, grains and such, fermented and then distilled. It is very useful in hospitals as a disinfectant. It is used to make ether, soap, ink, varnish, glue, drugs and other useful articles. Used as such it is very useful to man, but man is not satisfied with this. He wants to drink it and thus make a curse of it. When a man drinks alcohol he harms himself physically, mentally and morally. Other persons are affected by his drinking as I shall tell later.

First, I shall tell how alcohol harms man physically. Every part of the body is affected more or less by the drinking of alcohol. When alcohol is taken into the stomach, it injures the delicate lining of the stomach and intestines, making it tough and leathery. This hinders the digestion of food which will cause the person to lose his appetite and perhaps get sick. It injures the delicate tissues of the cells of which the body is made up. Such organs as the liver, kidneys, stomach, heart, brain and all other organs cease to do their best work, after the drinking of alcohol.

The heart and the arteries are weakened by alcohol. After continued use it injures them. It makes the muscles of the heart, weak, fat and flabby. Then it cannot do its work like it ought to. The arteries are elastic and as the heart beats it swells the arteries with blood. After continued use of alcohol the arteries become stretched and shapeless. The heart cannot supply them with enough blood to fill them. Then the blood pressure becomes low.

Drinking alcohol affects the body temperature. When the alcohol is taken into the body it causes the blood to rush to the skin, and the drinker appears to be hot when he is cold. If the blood had been circulating as it should be he would not have been cold. People have been found frozen to death in cold weather, because they had been drinking alcohol. If they had not taken the alcohol, they would not have frozen.

One of the most important parts of the body to be affected by alcohol is the brain. The brain, as you know, is the master control of the body. It is the first part of the body to be affected by alcohol. The alcohol numbs the cells of the brain. The cell, or center that controls thinking, is the first part to be affected by alcohol. A person drinks alcohol because it depresses the higher brain centers which control worry and pain. He feels good and does not think about his troubles.

Drinking alcohol affects the muscles by affecting the brain. One who drinks alcohol cannot think to move his muscles as quickly as one who does not drink. If a person is driving a car he cannot think to put on his brakes quickly. In such games as baseball, the players are forbidden the use of alcohol because it slows them up.

Last of all, alcohol weakens the body so that it cannot resist diseases. Such diseases as pneumonia are more often fatal to those who drink. It shortens life in many ways. Insurance companies prove that the life of a drunkard is much shorter than that of an abstainer.

These are only a few of the ways that alcohol affects people physically and mentally.

The effect of alcohol is not on one person alone. It affects many people besides the one who drinks it. A drunkard's children are oftentimes weak in body and mind. They inherit the traits of their parents. It fills our insane asylums, our prisons, our houses of correction, our hospitals and our cemeteries. Its cost runs up into millions of dollars.

There is no one that can tell of the miseries and terrible suffering from the drinking of alcohol as a drunkard's family can. I have had such an experience for about eight of my twelve years of life. I have seen my mother abused, my sister and brother separated and making their own living. I know the want of proper food, clothing, and other necessities because the money was spent for drink. I have suffered all the humiliation that the son of a drunkard can suffer. I have lost the love and respect for a parent

(Continued on Page 9)

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

WHAT ARE OUR MODERN FRONTIERS?

Topic for February 26, 1939

The Text—Numbers 13:17-21, 25, 30-35.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS:

Monday, February 20—Possessing the land. Josh. 1:10-18.

Tuesday, February 21—Restoring Jehovah worship. II Kings 23:21-25.

Wednesday, February 22—Purifying God's house. Matt. 21:12-17.

Thursday, February 23—The Twelve commissioned. Matt. 10:1-11.

Friday, February 24—The obligation of the rich. I Tim. 6:17-19.

Saturday, February 25 — Impartiality enjoined. Jas. 2:1-9.

Most young people of all ages bemoan the fact that they are born too late. They drink in the stories of adventure of their parent's generation and then resign themselves to the thought that there is no new frontier for them to give themselves to. True, the coming generation cannot very well "Go West," but there are bigger and greater fields on our modern frontier that need to be explored and developed . . . We can go upward.

All around us are new frontiers that have to a great extent been neglected by our adventure seeking parents. These new frontiers are not geographical but rather are moral and spiritual. They do not have the lure of distance but rather are close at hand. As Christian pioneers, we must push above our present moral and spiritual standards.

We have been quite unjust in our attitude and our relationships toward peoples of other races. This is a frontier that we are going to have to explore and develop if we are to be true Christians. There was no uncertainty in the teaching of Jesus concerning our attitude toward all mankind. "By this shall all men know that you are My disciples, if you have love one for another."

Another modern frontier that looms so large that it is going to take the united effort of Christian young people, is in the field of crime prevention, law enforcement, and clean politics. Our topic last week was closely related to this, but we in our C. E. meetings could not in one week exhaust, or fully explore such a frontier.

We mentioned last week the movement that has been started in Alamance County for law observance and law enforcement. All ministers of the county were asked to present to their people on last Sunday morning, something of what is trying to be done, and to give the Christian people an opportunity of signing the following Covenant Card:

Covenant Card

For Membership in Alamance County Association for Law Observance

Desiring to have a county that is known for its respect for and observance of our laws, and one which is wholesome in its every influence, I willingly enter into a covenant with the citizens of our County that:

1. I will remember to be careful in the observance of our laws.

2. I will heartily co-operate with our appointed and elected officers in the enforcement of our laws.

Signed ----- -------------- -- ----------

On Sunday afternoon a mass meeting was held with over a thousand in attendance, at which time officers were elected, and an organization instituted to carry on this movement. Three thousand of the covenant cards were reported signed, with the total by now running over five thousand. A proposed amendment, to give to Alamance County the right to control some of the places of corruption within the county was passed upon by the group and handed to the representative from this county who was present at the meeting. What this county is doing, our young people could lead other counties into doing.

A further frontier we have neglected is the churching of newly built-up residential sections; and the revitalizing of old churches. Because our organized churches have failed in this field any number of local and unaffiliated churches have sprung up. Many are rendering a great service, but most are doing more harm than good.

The frontier that has been almost completely neglected has to do with wholesome amusements. We have complained about the existing types but we have done nothing to improve conditions. Until we do something constructive in this field, a great number of our youth will never be led in the right path. We have some of the greatest frontiers to develop that the world or mankind has ever known. Only by following the teaching and example of Jesus can we ever hope to explore and develop them aright.

◆

"One ship sails east, and another west,
By the self-same winds that blow;
'Tis the set of the sail and not the gale
That determines the way it shall go.

"Like the winds of the sea are the storms of fate
As we journey along through life;
'Tis the set of the soul that determines the goal,
And not the calm or the strife."

◆

Visitor: "This isn't a dwarf; he's over five feet in height."

Showman: "That's the wonderful thing about him. He's the tallest dwarf in the world."

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Grace church S. S., Greensboro	$14.00
Kannapolis S. S.	8.30
State Street S. S., Lexington	3.48
Elbaville S. S., Mocksville	3.00
Mt. Pleasant S. S., Mt. Pleasant	8.00
First Church S. S., Winston-Salem	7.00
Concord S. S., Saxapahaw	4.50
Sapling Ridge S. S., Alamance	3.70
Pinnacle S. S., Pinnacle and Mt. Zion	1.85
Lebanon S. S., Spring Church	2.00
Mill Grove S. S.	2.80
Mt. Hermon S. S., Mt. Hermon	4.06
Pleasant Hill S. S., Spring Church	2.80
Fairfield S. S., Guilford	3.00
Mr. H. L. Horton, Robertsdale, Pa.	2.00
Mt. Lebanon S. S., Randleman	6.10
Denton S. S.	6.60
Worthvile S. S., Randleman	14.04
St. Paul S. S., Greensboro	18.00
Siler City S. S.	5.00
Glen Raven S. S.	6.25
Macedonia S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy	1.00
Concord S. S.	20.00
Mrs. Robert P. Petree	1.00
West End S. S., Greensboro	10.00
Level Cross S. S., Randleman	1.34
Whitakers S. S.	5.00
First Church S. S., Burlington	35.00
Tabernacle S. S., Tabernacle	8.77
Harmony Grove S. S., W. Forsyth	2.83
First Church S. S., Charlotte	5.91
Tabernacle S. S., W. Forsyth	2.40
Reidsville, Thank-Offering	22.06
Bethel S. S., Flat Rock	2.08
Pleasant Grove	17.00
Midway S. S., Haw River	3.06
Gibsonville S. S.	15.00
Community Church S. S.	14.04
Community church Baraca class	5.00
Herbert Garmon	1.00
Graham S. S.	6.10
N. C. Branch, Woman' Auxiliary	163.20
Love's Grove S. S., Friendship L. G.	8.70

I am sick in bed again with deep cold, so Mrs. Dixon has made out this report for me. If anything is omitted will report it next week. Thank you and God bless all of you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT

(Continued From Page Eight)

that I would otherwise have loved and honored.

If there is anything that I can do or say to keep some other boy from having my experience, I want to do or say it. That is why I am writing this composition, and I want everyone to know that I am an enemy of alcohol and always will be.

Editor's Note: If someone in your Sunday school has written a better essay than the one above, use it by all means.

The boy who wrote the above essay had just completed the study in the 6th grade of the free text book "Alcohol and the Habit-Forming Drugs" by Grant L. Donnelly.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge, J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—Rev. Mr. Garlington filled his regular appointment on the second Sunday night, using as his subject, "God in the Hands of Man." He spent Friday and Saturday nights of last week in the home of M. L. Crewe.

On the fifth Sunday night in January the pageant, "Shrines," was very successfully presented in connection with our Young People's service. Owing to unfavorable weather conditions this service was not very well attended. Offering amounted to $6.35.

We have raised our part of our parsonage insurance, paid the annual conference expense in full, and are still going forward on the World Service apportionment.

The members of the Auxiliary will present their thank-offering program on Sunday night, February 19, using "Tithing" as their theme.

Our C. E. society seems recently to have suffered a slump. We hope, as the weather improves, that the attendance will increase.

We are sorry to note that Mrs. Virginia Magee, who has been sick for several weeks, is but very little improved.

REPORTER.

* * *

Lawndale, Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, Pastor.—On January 12 the Woman's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Eva Mauney. Mrs. T. G. Madison, president, presided. Mrs. Eskridge, devotional leader, made a beautiful talk and had each member present tell just what the Auxiliary had meant to them in the past year. This was sprung as a surprise, and of course each member gave the meaning as she felt it,—no time to cut and dry a big speech. After the program was rendered the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll, each member answering with a verse of scripture. During the business session it was decided for each member to pay a thank-offering instead of sponsoring a program. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. P. Richards, with Mrs. Mamie Neal joint hostess. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Mauney, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Dewey Canipe, served dainty refreshments.

On the fifth Sunday we held the 14th district rally at Moriah church. The weather was unfavorable, but we had a good crowd and a much enjoyed program. Mr. Gorman spoke at the morning session. Dinner was served at the noon hour in the Sunday school rooms. The afternoon session began at 1 o'clock. Miss Avis Hull, of Bess Chapel, brought a good message on "What the M. P. Church Means to Me." Rev. Mr. Hethcox brought a good message also. Rev. Mr. Madison made some good remarks on the topics that had been discussed. The entire program was based on Appreciation Year. Mrs. Price Withers, music teacher at Pokeville, with three of her pupils, rendered some good numbers in song. Some of the ladies of Bess Chapel sang in the afternoon.

On the fifth Sunday night, at Lawndale, Rev. T. G. Madison and Rev. R. C. Goforth held a union service and observed the Lord's Supper. This service was very impressive. On last Sunday night, February 5, Rev. Mr. Madison observed Young People's Day. This program was enjoyed very much, and we had some good talks by Miss Bettie Joe Eaker, Alvin Blanton, and Earl Wease. Palm Tree young people were present and brought some good messages in song.

The three denominations will begin a two-weeks revival on Sunday, March 5, and continue two weeks. Rev. J. W. Grose from High Point will do the preaching. We are looking forward to and praying for this meeting.

REPORTER.

* * *

Mocksville Charge, Rev. K. G. Holt, Pastor.—The work in these parts is about as usual. Dr. Pritchard was with us at two of the churches on January 22. I suppose the reporters will have more to say about that.

The people of Bethel church gave this preacher a big surprise on the night of January 1 by bringing to church a lot of good things for the table and pantry. We will not attempt to enumerate the articles or the names of the givers. We do wish to express our appreciation for every gift that was received.

The first quarterly conference has been held. The World Service and annual conference budgets were accepted in full. We are planning to observe all the special days and to raise the budgets in full.

The attendance at Sunday schools seems to be some better this year than it was last year at the same time. There seems to be some hope of getting power lines in reach of the three churches that do not have electric lights at present.

K. G. HOLT, Pastor.

* * *

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, Rev. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—Our hearts are saddened today to report of our good pastor being ill at this writing with a cold. We certainly did miss the messages that he would have brought us. May God send His healing hand and restore him back, if it is the Lord's will, to be with us the fourth Sunday.

The Willing Workers class is still doing fine with the contest they started in January. The Ford V-8 side is still in the lead. The class is trying to increase the attendance and hoping and praying that we may get some in our community that aren't coming to come and help build up our class more.

Mr. and Mrs. Rome Harrison and family visited relatives in Greenville, S. C., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchant Davis of this community are the proud parents of a little daughter, born January 31.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McClimon attended a singing in North Carolina Sunday with the Church of God quartet from Greenville.

Our Sunday school is still holding up fine this winter. We do appreciate our good superintendent who is working and striving so hard to build up the school. We had 114 present Sunday, and we pray that each one will help and cooperate with Mr. Waddell, our superintendent.

The Willing Workers class held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. T. Jackson. She had a splendid program. Discussion and plans were made for our class and a grand supper was served by Mrs. Jackson. Miss Elaine Harrison will take charge of the next meeting.

Plans are being made for a Bible school to be held at our church soon, directed by our pastor, Rev. T. M. Johnson. We have had one since he was pastor here on the New Testament. My understanding is that it will be on the Old Testament this year.

Several of this community have been confined to their beds since the last report. We pray for them a speedy recovery and their return back to church.

May I add just a few lines in hope it will help someone:

"So long as faith with freedom reigns
And loyal hope survives,
And gracious charity remains
To leaven lowly lives;
While there is one untrodden tract
For intellect or will,
And men are free to think and act,
Life is worth living still."

MRS. JOHN D. McCLIMON, Reporter.

* * *

Love Joy, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge, J. H. Trolinger, Pastor.—We have had two splendid sermons delivered by our pastor since our last report. Sunday at 11 a.m. he preached about the awfulness of sin. The main point that was brought out was that the innocent must suffer because of the sins of the guilty. He brought out a clear picture of how Achan's family were stoned to death because of the sin of Achan. What a picture of sin in comparison with life today! At the conclusion of the sermon Communion service was observed. This brought to our minds once more the suffering and death of Jesus which was caused by sin.

Our Sunday school attendance has held up fine during the winter. As spring is just around the corner we are hoping our attendance will pick up. We appreciate the cooperative work that is moving along so nicely, both in Sunday school and church work.

Plans are under way for our Easter program and we hope to have much interest manifested among our young people.

We ask an interest in the prayers of the Herald family that our church may grow spiritually and continue to be a great shining light to the community. Our prayer is: If we can place only one little brick in the pavement of the Lord's pathway, let us place it there that coming generations may walk thereon to the heavenly City.

MRS. L. L. RUSSELL, Reporter.

* * *

South China Grove, Rev. Atlas Ridge, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his last appointment here the first Sunday and gave us two inspiring messages. This is his second year with us. He has filled every appointment this new year. Last first Sunday Communion service was held. Our church has grown, both spiritually and in number.

The church people gave an oyster supper for the adults and senior classes and all officers and teachers.

Our Ladies' Aid has been progressing very rapidly. We had a few new members to join us Saturday night.

Our first quarterly conference was held. Good reports were heard from most officers and everyone is expecting further progress.

We still have our prayer meetings and are winning souls for God's kingdom. We were glad to have Sister Bertha Moore and also Grandmother Moore back with us last Sunday; they had been absent for quite a while sick.

We are planning to have service every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock which will be given by our superintendent, Brother Titus Wright.

We ask the prayers of all Christian workers that our church may win many more souls for God's Kingdom.

MRS. TITUS WRIGHT, Ass't Reporter.

◆

Cedar Cliff Church, Rev. J. R. Anderson, Pastor.—Our pastor brought us a very interesting and inspiring sermon last Sunday at the 11 o'clock hour, using for his text the third Psalm and the 13th verse of the 103rd Psalm. This sermon he preached in cooperation with the Ministerial Association. He also brought our attention to the covenant card. We are expecting 100% cooperation in this move to make Alamance county a better place for our young people.

Our Sunday school is moving along nicely now in spite of our bad weather. We have had an increasing interest in our Sunday school since the first of the year. We sincerely hope we can get more of our young people in our church during this conference year. We feel like this would be one of the best moves to make in helping clean up our county.

We have had quite a bit of sickness in our community. But we are very happy to report the condition of both Mrs. J. D. Payne and Mrs. Tom Bailey as somewhat improved.

REPORTER.

◆

Mill Grove Church, Midland, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—Sunday, the 12th, was a good day. Brother Cook gave us a good service. It was very inspiring and helpful to all.

We have some new Sunday school members of whom we are proud. The Sunday school is going very well now.

Brethren, let us pray for each other, that we may get close to the Christ who died for our sins and for the world.

CHAS. W. MISENHEIMER, Reporter.

◆

Friendship Shiloh Charge, Rev. C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment with a heplful sermon on Faith, reading the 11th chapter of Hebrews from 1 to 19, and quoting many passages from Matthew and John.

Sunday morning at 6 o'clock our community was shocked by the tolling of the church bell, and was greatly saddened by the passing of our beloved friend, Mrs. Henry Shoaf. Friday she had an operation, and we thought she was doing so well. She will be missed, but we feel that our loss is her eternal gain. She cannot come back to us, but we can go to her. Let us be patient and finish our work till we are called home.

Miss Virginia Perrell has appendicitis, but is better. Also little Miss Yates, who was operated on, is very much improved.

The wedding bells will ring this week for one of our most popular girls. Misses Catherine Koonts and Adele and Juanita Phillips are giving a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening for Miss Beatrice Shoaf, bride-to-be. We wish her much happiness, and will miss her from our Sunday school class.

Our Sunday school attendance is good and we are making much progress on our budgets.

Pray for us and for those who are so saddened by the passing of a saintly mother.

IDA B. HOLT.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Church, North Davidson Charge, Rev. O. B. Williams, Pastor.—There has not been a report from our church this year, and so I take the liberty to make one.

We hated very much to give up Rev. and Mrs. Neese, and we know the people they are now serving have a fine pastor and wife. Rev. and Mrs. Williams have entered the work with zeal, and everything seems to be moving along nicely.

Our Sunday school seems to be increasing, as we had an attendance of 105 yesterday, February 12. We observed Young People's Day. The young people had charge of the Sunday school hour. The choir was made up of young people and teachers were selected from the younger people: Class No. 1, Mr. Thomas Hilton; No. 2, Mrs. Ruth Payne; No. 3, Mrs. Joseph Payne; No. 4, Miss Dorothy Hilton; No. 5, Miss Iris Leigh Murphy; No. 6, Miss Treva Reid. Mrs. Paul Green acted as superintendent, and Bernie Hilton as secretary. For the church service, Mr. Williams brought us a fine sermon on "Youth in Gratitude."

We are sorry to say we have had some sickness in our church family this year. One of our older members, Mr. J. R. Stone, has been very ill, but is improving now.

Pray for us that we may continue to grow in the knowledge and love of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

A MEMBER.

◆

Mt. Lebanon M. P. Church, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—Appreciation Sunday or district rally was observed by our church Sunday night, February 5. Dr. S. W. Taylor acted as chairman for the day's program, which was opened by the congregation singing "Faith of Our Fathers." Dr. Taylor then delivered a short talk on the meaning of these appreciation rallies.

The quartet of the church sang "Walking by Faith." Dr. Humphries, president of High Point College, introduced Dr. Frank W. Stephenson, who spoke on "Appreciation of Our Church," after which Mrs. W. C. Hammer, of Asheboro, made a talk on "Women and Appreciation." Dr. J. Clyde Auman, of Thomasville, spoke on "The Why and How of Appreciation."

The quintet of Level Cross M. P. church rendered a selection which concluded the program.

A thank-offering service was held at Mt. Lebanon church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, the object of which is to raise in full the World Service budget of the church. The speaker for the service Sunday was Mrs. J. E. Pritchard, of High Point. Her subject was "Greater Appreciation." The young men's quartet furnished the music. The Little Sunbeams also sang two selections. The collection was $18. We hope to have Mrs. Pritchard with us again soon.

The Willing Workers class was entertained Monday night at the home of Miss Myrtle Causey. A very interesting program was rendered, after which a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Our pastor is bringing us some of the best sermons, and our church people enjoy them very much.

We are so glad to have Brother John Daniels back with us after his recent illness.

The Christian Endeavor society held its regular meeting Sunday night, with Miss Rozelle Smith as leader. The Endeavorers enjoyed having the Level Cross society visit with them at this meeting. Brother Scarlette made a very interesting talk, which was enjoyed very much. The Level Cross quartet sang a special selection.

MISS ROZELLE SMITH, Reporter.

◆

Zoar, Mecklenburg Charge, Rev. Robert Short, Pastor.—As I have been re-elected reported for the coming year I will try and fill my place.

I want to say that our church work has been going on very well. The condition of the church spiritually and financially is much better at this writing than it was at this time last year.

We have a very good Sunday School when Spring opens, hope more will attend. Also our preaching services are better attended.

Rev. Short has been very faithful to us and has delivered some real good sermons.

The ladies have organized an auxiliary which we hope will mean much to our church.

Pray for us that we may go forward.

LILLIE ADKINS

◆

Harmony Church, Yarborough Charge, Rev. J. F. Farr, Pastor.—We are glad to report that our Sunday school and church work is progressing very nicely, although attendance is not as large as we would like to have.

The District Sunday School Convention was held February 3 at the Buncombe Street M. E. church in Greenville. The speakers, Dr. A. R. Gunter, Rev. C. B. Dawsey, Rev. J F. Lupo, Dr. O. W. Moerner, Dr. W. L. Mullikin, and Bishop Clare Purcell, made splendid talks on Christian Education and Evangelism. The entire day was enjoyed by all.

Rev. Mr. Farr filled his regular appointment last Sunday morning. He brought us a most inspiring and helpful message.

Both the Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor societies have been holding their meetings regularly. We feel that the young people of this community are being greatly helped by these societies.

ELEANOR KNIGHT, Reporter.

◆

Hawkins Chapel Church, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—We are glad to learn through the HERALD, that Dr. Pritchard did not have to stay at Duke Hospital. Hope for him a speedy recovery.

Fifth Sunday Brother Broome, and family were with us at Sunday School, also were glad to have Rev. and Mrs. Leo Pittard to worship with us.

Second Sunday morning Brother Broome used for his text, Proverbs 4:23, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." At this service the Communion service was observed.

We have organized a Ladies Aid. Mrs. Broome, president; Mrs. Claude Hawkins, vice-president; Miss Grace Pittard, Secretary; Mrs Hayward Glasgow, treasurer. The society meet with Mrs. Glasgow Monday. Our first meeting will be Thursday, February 16, at 7:30, with Misses Grace and Margaret Pittard.

Our Sunday School rooms are now being built, we are proud to say.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Morgan are proud of a little boy, and also Mr. and Mrs. Abbie Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Broome and family were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pittard the fifth Sunday. Second Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Broome, and little girl, and Mrs. M. J. Morris were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hawkins.

Well, two of our members got married since the holidays: Mr. Clifton Hawkins to Miss Mamie Shaw, and Miss Fannie Mae Hale to Mr. Eugene Powell.

Glad to note little Inez Greene has recovered from scarlet fever, for we have missed her, and mother, Mrs. Edward Greene, and sister, Frances, very much in Sunday School.

MRS. CLAUDE HAWKINS, Reporter.

Caroleen, Rev. Herbert D. Garmon, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointments here last Sunday, and delivered two interesting messages. He is also doing fine work here and we hope he may continue with success.

Our Sunday school is doing nicely and the attendance is very good, with new members and several visitors each Sunday. We have fine singing and very often have specials by some of our singers.

We are still interested in our Christian Endeavor, and are very proud of it. Some of the members who haven't been doing their best are now taking part and enjoy doing what they can. I know we will accomplish more by working together. We hope to work together in everything to help our church and pastor.

We ask the prayers of everyone as we work for our Lord.

LOIS HOLLIFIELD, Reporter.

Enfield Church, Rev. D. R. Williams Pastor.—Our pastor filled all his appointments in January and gave us some of the best sermons we believe we have ever heard. But all of February he has been sick with flu and not able to be out. For several days he was very sick—but we are happy that he is improving now, and we hope as soon as the weather clears up he will be able to sit up, and then be out real soon. Mrs. Wilians has also been sick, but she is better, too. She wasn't confined to her bed. Their son, Mr. Ralph Williams, from New York, spent this week-end with them, and we feel his coming meant so much to them.

The Junior Woman's Auxiliary held their February meeting with Miss Lillian Bellamy. They are a fine group of girls and doing splendid work.

The Woman's Auxiliary met with Mrs. Mary Barnhill for their January meeting. Mrs. Egbert Barnhill and Miss Delia Sykes were assisting hostesses. There was a large number of members and one visitor present. Mrs. Cecil Matthews had charge of the devotionals, and Mrs. D. R. Williams had charge of the question box, which was very interesting and helpful. The Auxiliary decided to patch an apron during February for the money making project. Mrs. J. P. Neville is starting the apron; the members will pass it from one to another, and each will ask their friends to patch it before passing it on. It is to be brought in at February meeting.

A committee was appointed to plan a program for World Day of Prayer which we expect to observe.

The February Thank-offering service will be a public service and will be under the capable direction of Mrs. P. S. Bellamy, Thank-offering Secretary.

We are glad, to report Mr. D. A. Hunt is able to be out after being confined to his home for some-time. Also we are glad his wife is able to be out after being confined with an infected foot.

We are also happy to report Mrs. Jimmie Rives did not have to have the serious operation, as the doctors thought when she was rushed to the hospital. She is home now and improving, and we pray she may continue to improve.

Mrs. Addie Beavens, mother of Mrs. Stanley Whitaker, is still confined to her room but is improving.

Mr. Chester Bellamy is at home after undergoing an operation for appendicitis in a Rocky Mount hospital. We wish for these and the many other sick in our community a speedy recovery.

REPORTER.

Asheboro Church, Dr. S. W. Taylor, Pastor.—"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord".

From early childhood attending church services has given me joy. Recently I was denied that pleasure for several weeks, while recuperating from an illness. Now it is a pleasure to be back in the services again and to find all departments of the church work functioning so well. The attendance at Sunday school and preaching services is good.

Dr. Paul Kennett is always a welcome visitor in our midst, and we were pleased to have him preach for us Sunday, January 29, at the eleven o'clock hour. The evening service was a well planned and well rendered Young Peoples Day program.

We were pleased to welcome Dr. S. W. Taylor back the first Sunday in February. He had been away two weeks attending meetings of the Uniting Conference Committee.

February 12th was observed as Bible Sunday. This has come to be an annual event with us and one that a large number of people express interest in. A number of people were present who have read the Bible through one or more times. Dr. Taylor read from a very old Bible which was brought from England by the ancestors of Mr. John M. Presnell. A Bible-reading club has recently been organized in our congregation and the enrollment is increasing each week. The Boy Scout troop attended this service in a group and were recognized by the congregation. Dr. P. E. Lindley brought the message of the hour, using as his subject, "The Book Above All." This was an interesting and instructive message.

One of the best things that has come our way recently was a sacred concert Sunday evening by an Italian singer, Giovanni Sperandeo, who was assisted by Mrs. Sperandeo, pianist and accompanist. In addition to his singing he told briefly his life story and how his faith in God has helped him overcome physical handicaps. To see him and hear him is an inspiration.

Our newest organization is a Junior Christian Endeavor society with more than twenty members. Mrs. S. W. Taylor is in charge of this work and is a most capable leader.

The Woman's Auxiliary has been quite active and we feel that they are bringing to a close a good year. At the February meeting Miss Lollie Jones was elected president, with Mrs. N. M. Harrison, treasurer; Mrs. L. F. Ross, recording secretary, and Mrs. S. W. Taylor, corresponding secretary.

ESTER ROSS.

West End, Greensboro, R. M. Andrews, Pastor.—Attendance at all services in our church is holding up well, averaging about 120 for the 11 o'clock hour; 215 were present at Sunday school last Sunday. A church loyalty campaign will soon be started, which we hope will increase interest and activite in all departments of the church.

On Friday evening, February 10, the young women's circle of Women's Auxiliary met with Miss Marjorie Stockard, 107 Granite St., with an attendance of 8 members, 2 visitors, and Mrs. R. M. Andrews. This group has just recently been organized, having Mrs. Eugene Lamb as a special guest and speaker at that time. An interesting meeting was held and papers were read on India, and other fields of mission work.

Dr. Andrews took his text for the Sunday morning hour, February 12, Luke 19:9, "And Jesus said unto him, 'This day is salvation come to this house, for as much as he also is a son of Abraham'." This had reference to the conversion of Zaccheus, which was so sincere there was no question about it. Being a tax collector, he was despised by his fellows, making it hard for him to become Christian.

The Women's Auxiliary met Monday evening with Mrs. R. M. Andrews, at the parsonage, Mrs. M. H. Waynick and Mrs. Sherman Stapleton being joint hostesses with her to 25 or more members. Mrs. T. W. Fain had charge of the devotional, and Mrs. Charles Routh spoke on different phases of Home Mission work. Following routine business, election of officers for the new year took place. Both women's circles are at present selling peanuts as one way of increasing funds. Refreshments in Valentine motif were served during the social hour.

We hope for a speedy recovery those of our number who are sick at this time and unable to be out.

Several new members have joined our congregation recently and we welcome them sincerely.

MILDRED STAPLETON, Reporter.

There was a frantic call for a doctor. "Hurry over to our cottage, doctor, everybody here has something the matter with his eyes."

"It must be serious if you wake me up at this time of the night. What's the trouble? Do they see elephants and snakes and things?"

"No, sir, that's why I called. The room is full of them and I am the only one who can see them."

"Anything the matter with the car?"

"Well, there's only one part of it that doesn't make a noise and that's the horn."

MARRIED

Bumgardner-Peacock, Williams-Myers

A wedding that was of much interest to the people of Thomasville was the marriage in a double wedding of Thomas Peacock and Waverly Bumgardner, Chester Van Myers and Doris Hall Williams in the Main Street Methodist Church on Christmas Sunday afternoon at 1:30 with the writer and the pastor, Rev. C. M. Pickens of the Main Street church officiating.

The marriage of Chester Van Myers and Doris Hall Williams will be of particular interest to some of the readers of the HERALD. Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams of Thomasville. Mr. Myers is the son of Mr. and Mrs W. S. Myers of Thomasville. Mrs. Myers attended Lenoir-Ryne College and Mr. Myers is a graduate of the Thomasville High School. Both are connected with the Thomasville Chair Co. They are among our finest young people in Thomasville. Mr. Myers is secretary of the Sunday school of the Community Church. We anticipate for both Mr. and Mrs. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Peacock a long and happy life together. At least this is our great good wish for each of them.

J. CLYDE AUMAN.

James-Ward

Miss Nettie McNair James and Mr. Jesse Ward were united in marriage at the Mebane Methodist Protestant parsonage on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock, December 23, 1938. Mrs. Ward is a member of Hebron Church, Orange Charge. Mr. Ward holds a position with the Riggs Lumber Company of Mebane. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are making their home in Mebane. We wish for this young couple a long and happy life together.

D. I. GARNER.

Williams-Jones

On Saturday afternoon, December 19, Mr. Francis Jones and Mrs. Essie Williams, both of Lawndale, were united in marriage at the parsonage of Cleveland Charge. The pastor heards the vows in the presence of a few relatives and friends. We wish for them a long and happy life. They will make their home in Lawndale.

T. G. MADISON

Pearce-Lindley

Rev. A. Oscar Lindley, of Liberty, N. C., an honored member of our conference, and Mrs. Virginia Harris Pearce, of Albemarle, N. C., were united in marriage on January 14, 1939, at the parsonage in Liberty. Rev. Geo. R. Brown officiated. All of us wish our brother and his wife great happiness and success.

Flynt-Hanner

A wedding of quiet simplicity and dignity was solemnized when Miss Juanita Flynt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynt, of Liberty, N. C., and A. J. Hanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hanner, also of Liberty, were united in marriage by Rev. M. W. Finilator, pastor of the bride, at the parsonage in Pittsboro. The pastor heard the vows, using the ring ritual of the Baptist church.

The bride wore a dress of teal blue with wine accesories. She is a graduate of the Liberty high school. The bridegroom attended the University of North Carolina and is now connected with the Liberty Chair Company.

The young couple will make their home in Liberty.

Russell-Fuller

On Monday, December 12, Miss Minnie Russell of Troy became the bride of Mr. Samuel E. Fuller of Kittrell. The ceremony was quietly solemnized at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Z. V. Arthurs officiated using the ring ceremony. Only the immediate families were present.

The bride wore an attractive three piece suit of autumn rust, with accessories to match.

Mrs. Fuller is the daughter of Mr. I. F. Russell and the late Mrs. Fannie Russell of the Love Joy community. She is a member of Love Joy church.

Mr. Fuller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Fuler of Kittrell. He is a member of the M. E. church there.

The young couple will make their home at Kittrell, N. C. Their many friends wish for them a long, prosperous life of happiness together. REPORTER.

Walton-Hedrick

On Saturday, January 21, at 8 p.m., in the parsonage of the First M. P. church of Thomasville, a wedding of interest to their many friends was solemnized, when Miss Arlease Walton became the bride of Alfred Hedrick. The vows were spoken before James T. Bowman, pastor of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hedrick is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walton, of Trinity. Mr. Hedrick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hedrick of Thomasville. He holds a position with the Thomasville Chair Company. He is a member of the First M. P. church of Thomasville.

They have our prayers and best wishes for a happy and prosperous journey through life.

JAMES T. BOWMAN.

Coggins-Holt

On Friday, January 20, about 8 o'clock, Miss Helen Lucille Coggin and Mr. Jim Clay Holt were united in holy matrimony in the Methodist Protestant parsonage at Seagrove, N. C., by the writer.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. Randell and Mrs. Estelle Coggins, of Eldorado, N. C. The groom is the son of Mr. S. L. and Veloria Holt of Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt are making their home in Asheboro, N. C. Our best wishes for a long and happy life.

JAMES H. TROLINGER.

Hughes-Higgins

Of interest to their many friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Ruth Hughes to E. L. Higgins on November 26, 1938. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. H. B. White, in Saluda, S. C.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. A. K. Hughes, and has made her home with her aunt, Mrs. G. B. Taylor, for quite a while. She is a member of the Harmony M. P. church, and takes great interest in community activities. For her wedding, she was becomingly attired in an outfit of blue with accessories of black.

Both these young people are employed by the Ware Shoals Manufacturing Company, and are making their home near Ware Shoals. EDNA HUGHES.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. T. W. Fain, W. End, Greensboro	$1.00
By Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
J. Edwin Lineberry, St. Paul's, club subscriptions	5.76
Marvin Sexton, Denton charge	1.00
By Pastor Curry.
Mrs. Joseph E. Bird, Rankin Memorial	1.00
By Pastor Suits.
Mrs. W. E. Lanier, Mocksville charge	2.00
Rev. K. G. Holt, Mocksville charge	2.00
By Pastor Holt.
C. C. Hargrove, First, Burlington	2.00
By Pastor Paschall.
A. J. Blackwelder, Roberta charge	.50
Arthur Lambert, Roberta charge	1.00
Mrs. M. M. Starnes, Roberta charge	1.00
J. M. Penninger, Roberta charge	1.00
Mrs. L. C. Carter, Roberta charge	1.00
W. R. Foster, Roberta charge	1.00
Z. D. Cochran, Roberta charge	2.00
Miss Matronia Furr, Roberta charge	1.00
By Pastor Bell.
H. L. Miller, S. Winston church	1.00
W. E. Mabry, S. Winston church	1.00
By H. L. Miller.
John N. Smith, Friendship-Love's Grove	2.00
Mrs. Jonah Little, Friendship-Love's Grove	2.00
W. L. Little, Friendship-Love's Grove	2.00
By Pastor Cook.
Mrs. A. H. Ragan, First, Thomasville	2.00
L. R. Jarrett, First, Thomasville	2.00
By Mrs. T. A. Lloyd.
Mrs. J. T. Ramsey, Shelby, club subscriptions	1.00
Mrs. H. G. Ellington, Vance charge	2.00
E. R. Boyd, Vance charge	2.00
Charlie Knuckles, Vance charge	2.00
S. W. Reavis, Vance charge	2.00
Mrs. Arthur Faulkner, Vance charge	2.00
Mrs. Lucy Poythress, Vance charge	1.00
By Pastor Cranford.
Miss Esther Ross, Asheboro	2.00
Mrs. John C. Taylor, Asheboro	2.00
By Mrs. John C. Taylor.
Miss Eleanor Tanner, Danville	1.00
By Cecil Cole.
P. P. Richards, Cleveland charge	2.00
Allen White, Cleveland charge	1.00
I. E. Johnson, Cleveland charge	1.00
Mrs. Lem Beaver, Cleveland charge	1.00
By Pastor Madison.
D. N. Trogdon, Richland charge	1.00
C. F. Laughlin, Richland charge	2.00
Dr. A. H. Redding, Richland charge	1.00
C. C. Redding, Richland charge	1.00
G. P. Ferree, Richland charge	1.00
By Miss Helen Redding.
Mrs. A. D. Jones, Reidsville	2.00
By Pastor Ballard, extra Heralds	.25
Mrs. E. A. Spencer, Haw River charge	2.00
T. Walter Butler, Haw River charge	1.00
Mrs. H. G. Jones, Haw River charge	1.00
By Pastor Bates.
Mrs. Herman Isley, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
By Mrs. Johnson.
H. O. Vestal	2.00
By Dr. Pritchard.
A. E. McCulloch, Tabernacle charge	2.00
By Pastor Lamb.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Samuel Monroe Warlick

Samuel Monroe Warlick was born September 22, 1849, died December 23, 1938, age 89 years, 3 months, and 1 day. He was the son of Abram and Rosa Warlick.

At the age of 23 he was married to Frances Wood of Lincoln County. To this union were born three children: Mrs. Zimri Kistler of Shelby, Mrs. N. G. Bethea of Asheville, and Mr. O. V. Warlick of Lawndale.

His first wife died on February 3, 1918. On May 23, 1923 he was united in marriage with Miss Nancy Elizabeth Towery, and to this union were born two children, Samuel Eugene and Elizabeth Christine, both of Casar. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, William of Amarilla, Texas, and A. D. Warlick of Lawndale, 14 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

In early life, Brother Warlick professed faith in Christ and united with Pleasant Hill Methodist Protestant Church. He loved his church and served it in an official capacity and was a regular attendant as long as he was physically able.

* * *

A. C. Cox

On January 14, 1939, the death angel came to the home of A. C. Cox on Asheboro Star route, and called him to his eternal home. Mr. Cox had been in declining health for the past year. His age was 79 years, 9 months and 17 days.

He is survived by four sons: Ross, of Tampa, Fla.; Fred, of Lexington; E. C., of Asheboro Star route, and C. D. Cox, of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Rodema Ingold and Mrs. L. D. Burkhead, of Asheboro; also eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held on Monday, January 16, at the Flag Spring church. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Hill, had charge, and was assisted by Rev. J. B. Trogdon; after which the body was laid to rest beside his wife in the church cemetery, in the presence of a large congregation, beneath a great mound of beautiful flowers which showed the esteem in which he was held.

Mr. Cox will be greatly missed in his home, his community, and in his church. He was loyal to his church, at the time of his death serving on the board of stewards.

May the example he has sent before us be an inspiration and a guide to those who are left behind. May the Lord bless the children, and may they find comfort in reading these few lines of poetry:

"Dearest father, thou hast left us,
And our loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled,
Up in heaven in joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed.

"Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low;
Thou no more will join our number,
Thou no more our sorrows know.
And we long to cross that river,
Long to rest upon that shore,
There to see, and know, and love thee
With the Savior, evermore.

"Farewell, dear fahter, sweet thy rest,
Weary with years and worn with pain,
Farewell till in some happy place
We shall behold thy face.
'Tis ours to miss thee, all our years,
And tender memories of thee keep;
Thine in the Lord to rest, for so
He giveth His beloved sleep.

MRS. H. L. RICHARDSON,
S. S. Superintendent.

* * *

Mrs. Nannie Moore Wilson

Mrs. Nannie Moore Wilson was born April 6, 1869, the daughter of Herbert Cannon Moore and Mary A. Moore, and departed this life on the morning of January 2, 1939. Her age was 69 years, 8 months and 26 days. She was united in marriage to Thomas Alexander Wilson, May 27, 1891. To this union were born three sons and three daughters. The sons are Clay M. Wilson, Thomas Bryan Wilson, and William Fred Wilson. The daughters are Mrs. Lillian May Wilson, Mrs. Ruby Roberts Winfree, and an infant daughter, who died March 27, 1899. Her husband preceded her in death 23 years ago. Four sisters survive, who are Mrs. Janey Lowery, Mrs. Emma Murchison, Mrs. Lucy Harrison, and Mrs. Hannah Johnson.

Mrs. Wilson professed faith in Christ and united with Flat Rock Methodist Protestant church in her early childhood. She remained a devoted and faithful member until her transfer from the church militant to the church triumphant. Mrs. Wilson was devoted to her children and was loyal to her church and its institutions. The writer of this obituary, who was requested by the sons and daughters to prepare it for publication in the Methodist Protestant Herald, knew Mrs. Wilson during a three-year pastorate. She was always interested in the welfare of the church and its pastor. She had a desire to be an intelligent Methodist Protestant, as was evidenced by the fact that she was a regualr subscriber to the Methodist Protestant Herald.

We have never known a more sincere, consecrated Christian woman during the 15 years of our ministry. There is a vacancy in the home because of her departure, and a vacancy in the church to which she belonged. Perhaps the place she will be missed the most will be in the hearts of the sons and daughters, sisters, nephews, nieces, neighbors, and friends. Surely, the good influence of her life will live on in the memory of all the loved ones left behind and serve as a benediction in the coming years until the happy reunion on the eternal shores of deliverance.

Funeral services were held at Flat Rock Methodist Protestant church on the afternoon of January 3, in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. A. Burgess, who was assisted by Rev. J. R. Hutton and the writer. At the conclusion of the service at Flat Rock church, the remains were taken to the Summerfield Baptist church, where the body was tenderly placed in the tomb beside the husand, there to await the morning of the general resurrection.

May the sons and daughters, sisters, and all other relatives be comforted with the thought, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

C. B. WAY.

* * *

J. Thomas Jones

J. Thomas Jones was born March 3, 1870, and departed this life January 11, 1939, aged 68 years, 10 months and 8 days.

He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Lucy Bell Lineberry; seven daughters: Mrs. N. D. Reece, Jackson Springs; Mrs. L. M. Fulton, Mrs. C. C. Blair, Mrs. H. N. Lumley, and Mrs. D. C. Kesler, all of Greensboro; Mrs. B. T. Johnson, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. George Ross, of Climax; one son, W. K. Jones, of Greensboro; three brothers, Frank Jones, of Franklinville; Harris Jones, of Climax, and A. Q. Jones of Pleasant Garden; also a host of relatives and friends.

Mr. Jones had been a member of Gray's Chapel M. P. church for a number of years. The funeral was conducted at Gray's Chapel on January 13, the pastor being assisted by Revs. A. O. Lindley and J. R. Hutton.

May the Lord comfort the relatives who still remain.

H. L. ISLEY.

* * *

G. R. Bonkemeyer

G. R. Bonkemeyer departed this life January 11, 1939, at his home on Riverside drive in Central Falls, following a brief illness. He was born November 24, 1867, the son of G. and Sarah Bonkemeyer, of near Central Falls. He was married to Miss Nannie Hughes, January 15, 1888, and to this union were born 14 children, 11 of whom are still living.

Surviving are his widow and the following children: Rev. Jesse Bonkemeyer, of Dyer, Tenn.; Mrs. Boniar Allred and Mrs. Richard Allen, of High Point; Mrs. Rosa Belle Styers, of Spencer; Mrs. John Plummer and Mrs. F. O. Gibbs, of Greensboro;

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed,
8 never-fade Velox prints only 25c.
Low prices on candid film.
Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN!
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO .
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.
25 CENTS IN COIN

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nethol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50e at your druggist.

Rheumatism Relieve Pain In Few Minutes
To relieve the torturing pain of Neuritis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia or Lumbago in few minutes, get NURITO, the Doctor's formula. No opiates, no narcotics. Does the work quickly—must relieve cruel pain to your satisfaction in few minutes or money back at Druggist's. Don't suffer. Get trustworthy NURITO today on this guarantee.

Mrs. M. E. Desern, of Durham; Mrs. C. M. Bunting, of Asheboro; Mrs. Elmer McAdams, of Dover, N. J.; Leonard Bonkemeyer, of Kernersville; and Mrs. J. R. Lackey, of Winston-Salem; also 35 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. He leaves four brothers, W. H. Bonkemeyer, of Greensboro; J. A. Bonkemeyer, of Jonesboro; T. J. Bonkemeyer, of Randleman, and C. B. Bonkemeyer, of Central Falls.

Mr. Bonkemeyer was a lifelong member of Giles M. P. church, having united with the church in early manhood.

The family wishes to thank the friends and neighbors for every kind deed shown during his illness and death.

Funeral services were conducted at Giles M. P. church by the writer, assisted by Rev. R. C. Stubbins, Rev. Joel B. Trogdon, and Rev. J. T. Swinson.

C. L. GRANT.

June Lloyd

The funeral service of Mr. June Lloyd was conducted at New Hope Presbyterian church, January 16, at 11 o'clock, by Rev. Mr. Cheek, pastor of Hillsboro Baptist Church, with Rev. Mr. DuBose, pastor of Hillsboro and New Hope Presbyterian Church, and Rev. C. P. Morris assisting. Burial took place in the church cemetery.

Mr. Lloyd, having been in ill health for several years and seriously sick for several days, died at his home, January 14, about 5:30 p. m. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nannie B. (Blackwood) Lloyd, and one son, Mr. Mitchell Lloyd of Hillsboro.

While Mr. Lloyd was not a member of our church, being a member of Hillsboro Baptist church, he attended Union Grove M. P. church quite regularly and his home was the preacher's home. Mrs. Lloyd is one of the most faithful members of Union Grove church and a loyal Methodist Protestant. Hers will be the greatest loss, but the entire community will also share the loss. We pray God's blessings upon the home and the hearts which have been broken.

C. P. MORRIS.

ARE YOU BEING Poisoned BY CONSTIPATION?

If your system is weakened by the toxic effects of constipation start taking Innerclean Intestinal Laxative at once. Thanks to this amazing blend of natural herbs you may now enjoy blessed relief without resorting to harsh cathartics. Take Innerclean herbs at bedtime. Just a pinch on the tongue—a swallow of water—no taste. Morning will bring you welcome and gentle relief...Buy a 50c package of Innerclean (enough to last the family for months) at your drug or health food store or write for free trial supply. Once you have used this wonderful compound you will bless the day you heard of it.

INNERCLEAN INTESTINAL LAXATIVE

FREE Name__________________________
TRIAL Address________________________
SUPPLY City________________State____

Mail to—INNERCLEAN CO.—Los Angeles, Dept. 30
In Canada—427 St. Francois Xavier St., Montreal

H. A. Underwood

Henry A. Underwood, son of Samuel and Martha Odell Underwood, was born October 16, 1857, and departed this life January 7, 1939, at the age of 81 years, 2 months and 21 days.

He was married to Joanna F. Bonkemeyer October 16, 1881; to this union were born eight children, as follows: W. A. Underwood, S. C. Underwood, C. C. Underwood, J. D. Underwood, H. G. Underwood, R. S. Underwood, and H. O. Underwood, and one daughter deceased.

Mr. Underwood was a lifelong member of Giles M. P. church, having united in early life. He left this testimony with his friends that he was ready to go when the end came.

The family wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their deeds of kindness shown during his sickness and death.

Funeral services were conducted at Giles M. P. church by the writer, assisted by Dr. J. E. Pritchard, Rev. R. E. Heath, and Rev. O. P. Dix.

C. L. GRANT.

Susie Harris Borrell

Susie Harris Borrell was born of a good Methodist Protestant family of Halifax county, North Carolina. Her parents, Henry and Betty Harris, made their home in the Bethesda and Ringwood sections of the county.

In September, 1910, during the pastorate of Rev. W. L. Harris, Susie Harris joined Bethesda church and lived in obedience to her vows until her death. None knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise. In 1914 she was married to J. M. Borrell. Four children of this union survive: Edward, Bill, Lela, and Dorothy, all of Roanoke Rapids. In addition to her husband and children, two sisters and five brothers are left: Mrs. Conrad Roscoff, of Hopewell, Va.; Mrs. J. T. Aycock, of Littleton, N. C.; W. E. Harris, of Weldon, N. C.; J. E. Harris, of Gumberry, N. C.; J. W. Harris, of Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Jesse and Herbert Harris, of Enfield, N. C.

Mrs. Borrell was patient and cheerful during a year of suffering. On Christmas Eve when the world was preparing for merriment, the home was made sad by her passing, but glad that she had gone where the afflicted find rest.

Mrs. Matilda Hunter Browning

Mrs. Matilda Hunter Browning, whose span of life on earth measured 86 years, departed this life January 26, 1939, at the home of Mrs. Garland Dwiggins, near Kernersville, with whom she had resided for some time. Death came suddenly but peacefully. Mrs. Browning was the widow of Rufus Browning, who went to his eternal reward in 1909. In early life she united with Pleasant Hill Methodist Protestant church, now a part of West Forsyth charge, and after her marriage she removed her membership to Bethel Methodist Protestant church, on Flat Rock charge, where she remained a member until her transfer from the church militant to the church triumphant.

Surviving Mrs. Browning are two brothers, W. W. Hunter, of Greensboro, and R. C. Hunter, of Spray, the former a member of Grace Methodist Protestant church, Greensboro, and the latter a member of the Kernersville Methodist Protestant church. Two step-sons, John and Martin Browning, of Kernersville, Route 2, and a large number of nephews and nieces also survive. Mrs. Browning was a sister of the late Rev. A. L. Hunter, whose departure from this life occurred last year, and an aunt of Rev. R. A. Hunter, the present pastor of the Forsyth charge.

Funeral services were held at Pine Grove Methodist Protestant church, on the Kernersville-South Winston charge, January 27, 1939, at 3 p. m., with the writer officiating. The deceased was blessed with a long life which was given to Christ and lived for His glory. The life she lived was a blessing to all who knew her, and the memory of her will live on in the hearts of those who knew and loved her, until the reunion in heaven.

C. B. WAY.

John W. Shaw

John W. Shaw was born on the 29th of July, 1876. He passed from this earth on the 3rd of January, 1939. His age was sixty-two years, five months and five days.

In 1906 he was united in marriage with Miss Flona Patrum. In the year 1912 they came to Burlington and resided here until his death. I do not know when he first united with the church, but the register of this church shows that he placed his church letter here on February 10, 1918 during the pastorate of Dr. J. E. Pritchard. His membership remained in this church until his death.

From November 20th, 1937, until his passing he was confined to his room and bed. Several weeks of that time were spent in the hospital. Perhaps no human knows the degree and extent of his suffering during those months, yet I never heard him grumble or complain. He seemed to be submissive and was constantly putting up a brave, courageous fight to regain health and strength. He did not win that fight; but faith leads

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

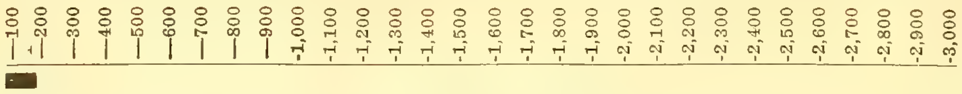
For Speedy HEADACHE Relief Snap Back with STANBACK 10¢ & 25¢ DOES NOT LEAVE YOU UPSET

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder
and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	9	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	2	....
Asheboro	47	2	....
Asheville	13	5	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	4¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	22	....
Concord	26	2	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	8	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	3½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	5¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	3¾	....
Forsyth	46	5½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	4	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3	....
Greensboro, West End	25	11¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	4½	....
Guilford	37	2½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	4	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	9½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1¾	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	2½	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	7¼	....
Lexington, First	48	5	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2	....
Moriah	17	4½	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	11½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	4¾	....
Reidsville	13	5	....
Richland	35	7½	....
Roberta	29	6	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	2½	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	5	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	3½	....
Tabernacle	40	7	....
Thomasville, Community	18	2½	....
Thomasville, First	25	8½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9	....
Whitakers	8	...	*2.50
Why Not	30	....	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

Methodist Protestant Herald
Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

◆

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

◆

(Continued from Page Fifteen)

to the firm conviction that the great Judge of the earth does all things well.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, other loved ones, and a host of friends.

May the bereaved be comforted in their sorrow and know continually of God's presence and peace. FRED W. PASCHALL.

◆

John Ward

Zion church regrets to report the death of one of its oldest and most faithful members, Mr. John Ward. A great number of Mr. Ward's friends, including five ministers, Rev. Mr. Andrews, Friends pastor, Rev. Mr. Weaver, Baptist pastor, Rev. Fred Love, Rev. A. O. Lindley, and Rev. Charles Sharpe were present at the funeral to pay their respects.

The following obituary prepared by one of the relatives of the deceased gives the important facts of Mr. Ward's earthly life:

John Pinkney Ward was born May 22, 1856, in Chatham county. He resided in this community all his life. He married Mary Anne Teague in 1883. To this union seven children were born. Two of these have gone on before.

He professed faith in God early in life and then later united with Zion M. P. church about 30 or more years ago. He was a faithful, active member at the time of his passing January 10, 1939. He was a trustee of this church. His age was 82 years, 7 months and 18 days.

Surviving are his widow; five children, Mrs. W. A. Buckner, Mrs. W. E. Johnson, both of Siler City; J. Randolph and Wade M. Ward, of Staley; and Mrs. W. C. Pugh, of Graham; 17 grandchildren, 8 great-grandchildren, and other relatives.

Our loss is his gain.

◆

Junius M. Lloyd

Junius M. Lloyd, aged 73, the only child of Andrew and Mary Jane Lloyd, passed away at his home five miles south of Hillsboro, January 14, 1939. He had been a member of the Baptist church from boyhood. Living in the Union Grove community, on Orange charge, he had always attended services at our church.

October 30, 1901, he married Nannie Blackwood, a member of Union Grove church. He will be remembered by pastors who served this charge, as he always welcomed them to his home and enjoyed their company.

Beside his wife he is survived by his son, Mitchell Lloyd, and three grandchildren. He had been in poor health for five years with heart trouble, but kept up and able to go until a few days before his death. He will be missed greatly by all who knew him. May God comfort those who were nearest his heart.

A FRIEND.

◆

Mrs. Mary Coggins

Funeral service for Mrs. Mary Coggins was held from Allegheny church, January 19, 1939. Her age was above 78 years. In early life she declared her faith in Christ and united with Poplar Springs Methodist church. Those who knew her testify that she was faithful to the end.

Her husband preceded her 15 years ago. She leaves, among many others, to mourn her passing, one daughter, Mrs. W. R. Cook, with whom she made her home. The service was in charge of the writer.

WM. H. NEESE.

◆

The superintendent of an insane asylum noticed an inmate pushing a wheelbarrow upside down.

"Why do you have it upside down?" asked the superintendent.

"You don't think I'm crazy, do you?" was the reply. "I pushed it right side up yesterday and they kept filling it with gravel."
—American Legion Magazine.

Methodist Protestant Herald.
ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.
VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 23, 1939 NUMBER 15

"Christ and the Way"

By Rev. F. W. Stephenson, D.D.

Christianity is a way of living. In the very beginning it differed so strikingly from the way the adherents of other religions lived that the disciples of our Lord stood out from among their fellow citizens unmistakably. The difference was found in the kind of men and women they were, and in the way they behaved themselves. Life and conduct are inseparable. Conduct is the expression of character. We act because of what we are. Christian behavior depends upon Christian character. Those "of the Way" will bear constant testimony by what they are and what they do, proving beyond question that "the dayspring from on high" has visited them, making inevitable that "those who sit in darkness" do indeed see a great light.

"Preparation for the Way"
And Jesus increased—Luke 2:52
Scripture: Luke 2:39-52.

The greatest human influence in our lives is the home. From the moment of birth on down the years to maturity, and beyond, it exerts a power second to none. Other environmental forces can and often do modify this dominant influence, to a greater or less degree, but essentially we are what our homes have made us. For good or ill, this is the situation. What diligence we should exercise in building good homes!

Jesus was reared in a home which had many ideal qualities. Here, first of all, we have parents of the right kind. Joseph the sturdy, industrious, manly and godly type, loving his home and family. Mary the tender, faithful, devout woman, pure hearted and God-fearing. Religion with them was not incidental and immaterial, but central and supreme.

Under such conditions and circumstances, Jesus knew the tender care and loving ministries of a good home. He did not belong to the neglected, underprivileged or forgotten children. Nor did He go into the world under the handicap of a divided or broken home. Poor as His people were they provided the best within their reach. And that best was not merely material and worldly benefits but those deeper and more valuable treasures of the spirit.

In preparing their son for a life that was strong, noble and useful, they knew that religiou was fundamental. It was practiced in the home and followed in the ceremonies of the church. In this larger experience they gave witness to confidence in the blessings of common worship, religious observances, and spiritual service. It is little wonder that Jesus was at home among the people of God and that He early learned to cherish the things for which His parents stood so staunchly.

Could there there be any better preparation for the Christian way of life than a godly home? Defective homes almost guarantee defective preparation for life. Study the reports of reform schools, jails and penitentiaries and the findings of those who have searched out causes for lawless and criminal character and in the vast majority of cases the trouble is found in an inadequate home life.

It is equally true that good homes almost guarantee good preparation for life, and certainly for the life that is Christian. The seed of truth then planted brings forth the fruit of spiritual growth, physical health, social acceptability and the favor of Almighty God. Our greatest national and church asset is the Christian home.

Lord of life and King of glory,
    Who didst deign a child to be,
Cradled on a mother's bosom,
    Throned upon a mother's knee:
For the children Thou hast given
    We must answer to thee.
        —Christian Burke.

Prayer: Heavenly Father. In all the great struggles of life, its trials and temptations our eyes would be blinded by selfishness and sin were it not for the light of Thy truth. Save us, O Lord, from the follies of the world and lead us in the way of life and peace. We pray in Christ's name. Amen.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

First Church, Lexington, Quarterly Conference

On a recent Friday night I was at the First Church, Lexington in the First Quarterly Conference. Rev. L. E. Mabry is the pastor of this charge and there are two churches on the charge, namely, the First Church in Lexington and Mt. Carmel church some four or five miles out from Lexington. Both churches were represented in the quarterly conference although the attendance of official members was not large. But there were quite a good many visitors or non-official members who seemed to be interested in the work. The pastor gave a good report showing that he had been busy during the first quarter He reported that he had been received cordially and that congregations had been good. The fact that the mills of Lexington had been on short time had had an unfavorable effect on the work of the church from the standpoint of finances. But the hope was expressed that things would take a turn for the better and that the church would have a good year.

A Sunday Morning At Seagrove

Last Sunday morning was spent with the Seagrove church on the Seagrove-Love Joy charge, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, pastor. This was my first Sunday service at this church although I held a quarterly conference there one Saturday afternoon last year. The church at Seagrove is comparatively new. The building is brick veneered and has several Sunday school rooms. The windows are semi-art glass and admit the soft light. There is also a basement where social gatherings may be held. Last Sunday I arrived in time for part of the Sunday school and found the largest number present as compared to the enrollment of any place I have visited in so far as I remember. The register board showed 94 on the roll and 90 present which is almost ninety-six per cent. There was a fine congregation present for the morning church services. At the close of the service I noticed that no one said anything about my going home with him for dinner. This is always a little disturbing to the visiting minister. Presently some one said they were serving dinner in the basement. After going down there the pastor explained why they were doing this. He said that if I went home with one family the others would not get to be with me but by having a community dinner in the basement we could all be together. Well, that is certainly true. Nobody seemed to be in a hurry to get away. There was ample time for fellowship and we just had a good time together. While there I learned that this social room is being used quite frequently these days for dinners and get-together meetings and that it is proving very helpful to the church. That is certainly fine and I wish more of our churches could do something like this. My visit to the Seagrove church will not soon be forgotten.

An Appreciation Year Rally At Fairgrove

After spending a good while with the Seagrove people we drove on down to Fairgrove church for an Appreciation Year Rally at 2:30 p. m. This meeting was for the entire charge and it had been provided for by Dr. S. W. Taylor who is the Appreciation Year Chairman for the Southeastern Area. Dr. Taylor was unable to be present on account of a funeral, so the pastor, Brother Trollinger presided. Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Spencer from Randleman and Rev. N. M. Harrison from Asheboro were present as visitors and both of these ministers made some remarks. The first speaker on the program was Mrs. W. C. Hammer of Asheboro who spoke on the Women's Work in the Appreciation Year Campaign. After this it was my turn to speak on the Why and the How of the campaign. While the attendance was not large yet the interest was gratifying. This is Brother Trollinger's first year on this work but the people speak highly of him and his wife and seem to be pleased. The work is starting off nicely and I trust they may have a good year.

The Appreciation Year Meeting At Grace

The Appreciation Year meeting was held at Grace church in Greensboro on Monday of this week according to schedule. All of the speakers seemed to be at their best and those who missed being there missed a treat. Rev. J. Elwood Carroll's paper on the history of the Methodist Protestant Church was said by some to be the best yet. Dr. Straughn, Mrs. Hammer, Rev. F. L. Gibbs and Dr. Taylor were all good. In the round table discussions there were several thrills as the audience listened to different men tell how they are putting the campaign across in their churches. The prospect now is that we will make a good showing here in North Carolina.

April the Thirtieth the Deadline

In the meeting at Grace on Monday Dr. Straughn, the president of the General Conference reminded us that what we do for the Methodist Protestant Church in the way of helping to pay its debts would have to be done by April 30th which is the end of the General Conference year. He is of the opinion that the Uniting Conference will provide for a different set-up of finances after that time. So let all of our people take due notice and work to this end. As this is a case of emergency Dr. Humphreys, the president of High Point College suggested that the College Campaign be postponed until May and June to get out of the way of the Appreciation Year. The President's Advisory Committee will be called together right away to consider this matter. The months of May and June have been designated by the conference as the time to raise the assessment for Church Extension. Announcement will be made concerning this right away.

A Memorial To Our Deceased Ministers

At the meeting at Grace church Monday the president appointed a committee to consider the advisability of having some brief memorial service at the grave of our decesaed ministers on the Sunday nearest Memorial Day this year. The committee appointed studied the matter during the noon hour and in the afternoon made a recommendation that such services be held and that where the graves are not marked that an effort be made to get a marker. Thereupon I appointed a committee consisting of Rev. G. L. Curry, Rev. R. A. Hunter and Rev. J. W. Braxton to promote this matter. Our

(Continued on Page Four)

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church
Established 1894 By Rev. J. E. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., FEBRUARY 23, 1939 NUMBER 15

A Message In Verse

It fortifies my soul to know
That, though I perish, truth is so;
That's howsoe'er I stray and range,
What e'er I do, Thou dost not change.
I steadier step when I recall
That, if I slip, thou dost not fall.
—Arthur H. Clough.

◆

Sentence Sermons

If any one would tell you the surest way to happiness he must tell you to make it a rule to thank and praise God for everything that happens to you.—William Law.

Robert Moffat sowed the seed in tears; he labored for years and saw no convert. But when a blood-thirsty chief like Africana became a convert, Moffat saw his harvest.—J. D. Jones.

It needs a very humble tongue on the one hand, as well as a very humble ear on the other, to speak and to hear words of reproof. —Hugh Black.

The most important thought that ever occupied my mind was that of my individual responsibility to God.—Daniel Webster.

◆

Editorial Comment

Conversion is the right start towards Christian living. It does not settle all the questions which relate to life and hereafter but it turns our face in the right direction and opens our eyes to see the light that shines ahead and to hear the voices which speak to us on the highway of holiness. Saul of Tarsus continued to Damascus after he saw the light and heard the Lord; but it was not to arrest and imprison the followers of Jesus Christ, it was to sit at their feet and learn of them how he too could follow the Christ he had so lately persecuted.

◆

Terrible things have been done in the name of religion; deeds of violence, words of scorn spoken, reprisals which ought to make even Satan ashamed; these were the acts and words of religion which had lost its heart and become only a matter of the head. Sympathy, pity, compassion, moved the heart of Jesus as He went among men. The ordinaces of religion were appointed for the good of man, the ministry of the church for his uplift. It is never the prerogative of the preacher nor of his members to consign the erring soul to perdition. Only those without sin should cast the stone. For "Love suffereth long and is kind . . . beareth all things . . . and never faileth."

◆

Judging others is one of the most difficult of all tasks. In a sense, it becomes necessary; that is, we must appraise the good and bad qualities of people, try to understand their motives, else understanding them we will fail to work with the good and to oppose the evil purposes of the bad. But the spirit with which men pass judgment can be such that their decisions are all awry even though their facts may not be wrong. The censorious spirit, prejudging, faulting in its intent; blind to the good qualities of others refusing to see the handicaps under which they live and labor, is the spirit which is condemned by Jesus Christ.

◆

The insincere questioner met Jesus and he often stands in the way of vital progress today many times, frequently is not discovered until too late. In our legislative halls he is seen and heard as he asks questions which may appear to be proper and important, but for him are only asked to hinder the cause under consideration. We have seen this questioner stand in the way of real progress in the Church asking his irrelavant questions until the advocates of the cause weary of the controversy and quit. Woodrow Wilson saw the cause for which he gave his life go down by the same method. We know of a few congregations worshipping in inadequate church buildings which could well have been replaced by good ones, but for the insincere questioner. The friends of the liquor stores work up great sympathy for the public schools of the state now and then. But there are some of us who know that he who advocates debauching a people in order that he may secure funds to educate their children is either insincere or a moron. The present day politician has a large assortment of subterfuges which he can deftly shift into strategic positions as he fights legislation which he has been employed to defeat —can do it so well that many of those back home never suspect his sincerity.

◆

Second Church To Report

Pastor Aubert Smith reports that Piney Grove Church, Siler City Charge, has raised its apportionment for World Service. Who will be third?

◆

GLEANINGS FROM YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY

North Carolina Conference

Graham Charge—Rev. H. Freo Surratt, pastor. Young People's Day material used. Offering $20.00

First Church, Reidsville—Rev. E. Lester Ballard, pastor. Shrines used effectively. Observance throughout the day. Offering $20.00

Orange Charge—Rev. C. P. Morris, pastor. Four churches of this charge observed the day. Offering $25.00.

Mebane Charge—Rev. D. I. Garner, pastor. Lovely program using Shrines as Young People's Day presentation. Offering $8.00

F. L. Gibbs.

◆

If I am concerned about doing the will of God, He is infinitely more concerned that I should know His will.—Bishop William Culbertson.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER IN SAMARIA

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, February 26

Lesson Text—Acts 8:14-25.

Golden Text—Come ye, buy, and eat; yea come buy wine and milk without money and without price. Isaiah 55:1.

In this encounter with Simon of Samaria Peter and John bring to light a very interesting problem for the early church to face. Interesting, yes, for it still remains with us in forms yet today. There still appear Simons who see the desirability of God's gifts and who like this Simon of Samaria would offer to buy them with money. The apostles dealt with him very sternly, and rightly so, for his spiritual welfare and that of the Church were at stake; however, this writer feels a strong surge of sympathy for the seeking Simon who blundered so clumsily in his quest for spiritual gifts. In many cases wherein such blunders are made there is present a certain degree of sincerity of motive which offers apostles of religion an opportunity to give this seeker what he wants by the right approach. Of course with Simon of Samaria there was grave fault of motive as well as approach and this must be sternly reprimanded, yet let us be ever watchful to save and direct whatever of right purpose that is made evident.

For instance, modern hearts who are so much a unit in a highly commercialized society will find it very easy to follow the invitation of our text to the point where it says "Come ye, buy and eat" of this spiritual food. Herein Isaiah is speaking in good modern advertising slogans. But when he finishes by saying that this is to be bought "without money" right then they are lost in a maze in their desire to secure God's gifts. Having been so thoroughly exposed to the material life of this world which has money as its chief medium of exchange they rather naturally make this awkward blunder. The man of the world has learned full well in the words disconcerting words:

" 'Tis heaven alone that is given away,
Each ounce of dross costs its ounce of gold;
For a cap and bells our lives we pay
Bubbles we buy with a whole soul's tasking."

But when he turns aside to the booth of God offering money for his products he is rather bewildered to hear these disconcerning words:

" 'Tis heaven alone that is given awayy,
'Tis only God may be had for the asking."

Now we must not say to these seekers that there is no accompanying cost involved, but rather that that cost cannot be payed by the medium of mere money. In the process of asking for God there is continued the cost and method of of obtaining spiritual gifts, for asking—by means of supplication, prayer, worship, dedication — involves ones inner heart while buying with money involves primarily one's pocketbook. Since our heavenly Father looketh upon the heart in His dealings with us we who have come to know Him readily see the gross error of offering Him money for His gifts which are spiritual. Therefore as we broadcast and advertise these gifts of our God to an anxious world saying that they are to be had by all we must be on the lookout for those like Simon who come offering money as their price and quickly and wisely show these ones that they are off on the wrong foot: "for thy heart is not right in the sight of God."

The modern term "simony" comes down to us today from this episode and it is used to brand any form of commercialism of sacred powers. Oh, its very easy to be guilty of such a thing. Many within the Church find it much easier to throw a bill in the money plate than to cast his heart and soul upon the altar for kingdom service. There are many I believe who are more ready to pay for their preacher in monetary support than are ready to hear him and follow him. It's much easier to throw a dime in the hat of some poor wretched soul who confronts us than it is for most of us to put into his empty life an uplifting gift of loving comradship and kindness of heart. Yet we are ready to admit that such simony will never solve his problem. That dime serves to make him the more a beggar while the other course would turn the trick almost immediately. You big brothers, have you not been guilty of such when that little brother of yours is crying to go with you on some escapade and you seek to buy him off by giving him a nickel to run along and play by himself? Money just will not suit to fill his longing for comradeship with you. Does this seem a bit seculor? Well, the point is that such issues of life must be solved through spiritual mediums which money can not buy. And we who know it should offer to every poor Simon.

"God's Holy Spirit, which Enables with perpetual light
The dullness of our blinded sight."

The President's Letter

(Continued from Page Two)

Conference Journal of 1919 gives the burial place of the most of our deceased members up to that time.

Appointments

Sunday, February 26th, 11 a. m. Sandy Ridge on the Kernersville charge.

Sunday, February 26, 2:30 p. m. Fountain Place, Burlington in District Rally.

Sunday, March 5th, West Forsyth charge, 11 a. m. Maple Springs, 7:30 p. m. Mt. Carmel.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

◆

Heed not distressing thoughts when they rise ever so strongly in thee; nay, though they have entered thee, fear them not, but be still awhile, not believing in the power which thou feelest they have over thee, and it will fall on a sudden. It is good for thy spirit, and greatly to thy advantage, to be much and variously exercised by the Lord. Thou dost not know what the Lord hath already done, and what He is just doing for thee therein.—J. Penington.

OUR CHURCH—HER PAST

An Address by Rev. J. Elwood Carroll At the Appreciation Year Meeting, Grace Church, February 20

The Methodist Church, so to be called after the Uniting Conference, will incorporate three of the five greatest branches of Christendom which have grown from the evangelical movement led by John and Charles Wesley of the eighteenth century.—M. E., M. E. Church South, and M. P. Church.

The other two major white branches of Methodism are of England — Wesleyan and Primitive churches. The three branches of the new church, therefore, have their origins as organizations in America, though they go back to the English evangelical movement for their motivating springs, and now they go out to the uttermost ends of the earth in their service and number in their united membership more than 8 million people.

My task is to speak of how we came into being as a church, why we were separated from the Mother Church, and something of our accomplishments during our span of life.

In Origin We Are Methodist

1. We are spiritual children of the Evangelical Movement, both from the standpoint of the work of John and Charles Wesley and also of the missionaries who came from England among us. For forty years we were definitely a part of the parent Methodist Church.

2. We have never been Calvinistic in our theology, nor exclusive in our sacraments so as to identify, or even have us leaning towards other denominations than Methodists.

3. We did not want to separate from the M. E. Church, which is the mother church of our American Methodist family. Southern Methodists are younger than we, though more pleasingly plump in size today! The Methodist Protestant Church incorporated the principles which had been advocated by the Reformers. Reformation of the government of the Methodist Episcopal Church was the original purposes of those persons who agitated reform and later founded the Methodist Protestant Church. The formation of a new denomination was the only course to pursue after the large number of Reformers had been expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church. It was as late as 1823 before division was even mentioned in the agitation, for in that year Nicholas Snethen said: "But if they (the members of the General Conference) remain inflexible, that we then proceed to organize ourselves into a kind of patriotic societies, for the purpose of obtaining and securing to ourselves, the rights of ecclesiastical suffrage, and acquiring a knowledge of our numbers, views, and proceedings" (Wesleyan Repository, 111, 123). He further declared that the purpose of the agitation was to convince a majority of the persons within the Methodist Episcopal Church to the views of the Reformers, and then consummate the proposed changes (Ibid, 111; 130). Asa Shinn agreed with Snethen and added in 1824, "To reform and not divide is much more difficult in church than in state." (Drinkhouse, 11.66). Shinn had never lost sight of the unhappy outcome of the O'Kelley Schism in 1792, which took thousands from the Methodist Episcopal and resulted in the formation of the Christian Church which recently was united with the Congregational Church.

4. Our "Articles of Association" as adopted at the first General Convention, under which we operated from 1828 to 1830 when the "Constitution and Discipline" were adopted, are as follows—(In essence):

1) The Articles of Religion, General Rules, Means of Grace, Moral Discipline, and Rites and Ceremonies in the main of the Methodist Episcopal Church are hereby adopted.

2) Each local church shall have sole power to admit societies, which in turn shall choose their own trustees.

3) The right of property is vested in the respective societies.

4) Every accused person shall have a fair trial, and the the rgiht of appeal.

5) Each station and circuit shall have quarterly conference with certain designated duties and prerogatives.

6) There shall be one or more annual conferences in each state, with an equal number of ministers and laymen.

7) Each annual conference shall elect its president and secretary.

8) Each annual conference shall adopt its own mode of stationing the ministers.

9) The president of the Annual Conference shall perform certain duties hereinstated.

10) The powers of the annual conference are defined.

11) The annual conference is to regulate and ordain the itinerants.

12) The annual conference shall fix its time and place of sitting.

13) The travelling preachers are subject to the appointment of the annual conference, and entitled to the same allowance as provided by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

14) The preacher in charge of a circuit shall have certain duties herein stated.

15) "Nothing contained in these Articles is to be construed to interfere with the right of property belonging to any member, as recognized by the laws of the state within the limits of which the members may reside."

16) A General Convention composed of ministers and laymen, chosen by the annual conferences, shall convene in Baltimore, the first Tuesday in November, 1830.

17) Certain rights and privileges are herein granted to supernumerary and superannuated preachers in proportion to their active service. (Bassett, A.C., p. 84f).

(To Be Continued Next Week)

APPRECIATION YEAR RALLY TENTH DISTRICT

Plans are being made for an "Appreciation Year" Rally to be held at Spring Hill Church on North Davidson Charge Sunday afternoon the first Sunday in March (March 5th). The program will be announced in next week's paper.

J. Clyde Auman,
Mrs. A. H. Ragan,
Tenth District — "Appreciation
Year" Committee.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

DIVINA COMMEDIA

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Next week school children everywhere will celebrate the birthday of their beloved poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow by reading and learning his poems . For a time Longfellow suffered at the hands of critics by being accepted as the "children's poet," but someone awoke to the important truth that much of the writing set aside as children's literature contains in it the very elements that are fundamental for all literature, and came to the conclusion that "Longfellow is forever enshrined in the hearts of the children, and therefore is forever safe."

Longfellow has passed through varying stages of popularity; from the enthusiastic acceptance as a great major poet accorded him during his lifetime; through the violent reaction at the turn of the century of radical poets and critics who found him of so little importance that he could be dismissed with a few words as one of the very minor poets; on to perhaps the more final and just evaluation of today, best expressed in the words of Arnold Bennett when he called him "the chief minor poet of the English language."

It is true that the scholarly and gentlemanly college professor that was Longfellow was not interested in the changing, surging, pushing America that was developing during the years that he was writing his poetry. That was left to Walt Whitman. Longfellow wrote, seated in his library, so steeped in the literature of England and Europe that much that he wrote turned to those countries for its subject matter; and even when he treated American traditions and history it was natural that he should use meters and forms derived from England, Italy, or the Scandanavian countries which he so much loved.

His simpler poems have again attained the place they deserve in the anthologies of today, but critics are turning, as well, for his finest achievement to some of his less well-known poems, especially to his sonnets written from 1864 onward. One critic mentions him "as a peer among the great sonnet writers of England"; another as a "master of the sonnet." And certainly no one could be more adequately prepared to express his poetic thoughts in this lofty form of verse than this poet and scholar who lived so much of his intellectual life among the writers who had created and used this form. This was particularly true in the calm and serenity of his later years when his youthful imaginative fervor had given way to a quieter and more retrospective contemplation.

The total of his sonnets is small in number, but they include some of his best verses. Among them are Chaucer, in which he recreated the very spirit of > " . . . the poet of dawn, who wrote

> The Canterbury Tales, and his old age
> Made beautiful with song;"

and caught in a few words the characterizations, the romance, and the inescapable breath of spring that are the soul of that great master; Night, in which there is a deepening sense of his love for night which he had expressed in earlier poems; and The Cross of Snow, in which he gave restrained expression to the great loss that drove him to the translation of the Divine Comedy.

In his later years, or when there is the need for escape from some catastrophe, a writer frequently turns to biography or translation as a more mechanical exercise of his gift of composition. Longfellow, in 1861, had begun a translation of Dante's Divina Commedia as a refuge from the tragic death of his wife by fire in July of that year, and from 1864 to 1869 he composed six sonnets as the prefaces to three portions of this translation. These six sonnets are among the finest that he wrote, combining as they do, his own need for comfort, his sympathetic survey of the story and meaning of this great epic, and his critical appreciation of Dante himself.

The figure that he chose to symbolize this great religious poem, "this mediaeval miracle in song," is, suitably enough, a great cathedral, a vast minster, cross-shaped, statue-adorned, filled with the unknown perfume from the censers of congregations long since dead; its blazing memorial windows; and its great Rose window displaying on its leaves "Christ's Triumph and the angelic roundelays"; while through it all steals the sounds of the organ and the unseen choirs.

> " . . old Latin hymns of peace and love
> And benedictions of the Holy Ghost."

He has blent in the formal arrangement of the octet and sestet of the sonnet the story of Dante's experience in Purgatory, his redemption, and at last

> "The perfect pardon which is perfect peace."

In the first sonnet of the six he compared his entrance into the work of the translation to that of a laborer who laid aside his burden as he entered the cathedral to pray; and expressed his own hope for comfort and consolation to be derived from this work just as the laborer expected to receive pardon and peace from the gentle ministrations of his churchly privileges of prayer and communication with God.

> "Oft have I seen at some cathedral door
> A laborer, pausing in the dust and heat,
> Lay down his burden, and with reverent feet
> Enter, and cross himself, and on the floor
> Kneel to repeat his paternoster o'er;
> Far off the noises of the world retreat;
> The loud vociferations of the street
> Become an undistinguishable roar.
> So, as I enter here from day to day,
> And leave my burden at this minster gate,
> Kneeling in prayer, and not ashamed to pray,
> The tumult of the time disconsolate
> To inarticulate murmurs dies away,
> While the eternal ages watch and wait."

◆

The category of genius is quite inadequate for the historic Jesus. Genius evokes wonder and not worship, but Jesus always evokes worship and not simply wonder.—Dr. John T. Raymond.

THE USES OF FISH

Many are the ways in which man is dependent upon fish. Food, jewelry, isinglass, glue, leather—a great variety of the products of commerce come from various members of this large group of aquatic animals. Fish are also helpful to man in his war on certain diseases, in growing crops, in recreation, and in many other ways. These are all proof that fish play a very important part in our lives.

Fish—dried, canned, smoked, pickled—is a major good in every American home. That makes fishing a major industry—one of the greatest industries of the nation. Off the coast of Alaska, Washington, and Oregon are the fleets of fish-boats of the salmon and halibut fishermen. California waters yield the tuna, anchovy, and several other valuable food fishes. From the Great Lakes region come the white fish and the lake sturgeon. And on our North Atlantic coast fish-boats enter port with their catch of cod, halibut, mackerel, and herring. Always, in every part of the nation, there is the daily urgent demand for fish.

Large canneries are constantly canning the fish in season that it might be a part of our food of those times of the year when those fish are difficult to obtain. But other very important products come indirectly from the canneries, too. From many of the fins and heads that are waste when the fish are cleansed for canning become a source of income when sold to the glue-makers for the manufacture of fish-glue. From the vats from which the glue is drained comes fish-scrap or chum as a by-product—a poultry food pressed into cakes and sold to the poultry raisers of the nation.

You could never imagine fish scales to be very important. Remember the artificial snow you used last Christmas on your Christmas tree? The artificial snow sold during the Christmas season is usually made from the scales of fish. But that is not all. Artificial pearls are often manufactured from a solution of fish scales in some solvent which will dissolve them. A solution of fish scales is also used to produce the bronze or blue or maroon luster paints at one time so popularly used on automobiles.

In many kinds of fish there is an air bladder. It is a bag-like organ storing oxygen and has walls that are silvery in color. When the outer membranes covering these walls are removed and the transparent substance which remains is dried under a heavy weight, the substance known commonly as isinglass is formed. Much of the isinglass in America comes from New England and quantities of it have been imported from Russia.

Even before the white man came to America the Indians knew the value of fish as a fertilizer. It was their custom to place a fish or two in each hill of corn they planted, that the corn might grow more rapidly and produce more ears for the harvest. Today the fish scaps from canneries are use in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers, and in many communities near the sea the fish themselves are used as a fertilizer in the same way the Indians used them.

From fresh cod and halibut the livers are taken just as soon as the fishing fleet's cargo reaches port. And from these cod livers and halibut liver oil is extracted to become the vitamin-rich foods we take to build up our bodies if they need additional nourishment. Livers used for the making of these medicinal oils must be perfectly fresh, so the oil they contain does not become rancid before it can be extracted and purified.

Malaria has been fought in this country by enlisting the help of fish. Carp, sturgeon, and other species commonly living in stagnant bodies of water are planted in sloughs, bayous, and swamp land pools in regions where malaria is prevalent. These fish feed upon the eggs and wigglers of mosquitoes capable of carrying the germs of malaria and so, indirectly, become a check upon the spread of the disease.

The Chinese find shark-fins a dainty delicacy. The Russians' caviar, made from the eggs of fish, has become a common dish on American menus. In the Virgin Islands of the West Indies porcupine fish are dried to form ornamental lanters. Every nation on earth has unusual uses for fish. There can be no doubt that fish, as a group, are exceptionally helpful and valuable to man.—Raymond A. Wohlrabe, in Girl's World.

FIRST METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH BURLINGTON, N. C., FEBRUARY 19

Senator J. W. Umstead,
Representative W. S. Long,
State Legislature,
Raleigh, N. C.

Be it resolved that—

The Baracca Class of the First Methodist Protestant Church of Burlington, N. C. hereby expresses its emphatic disapproval of the Umstead Bill, or any other bill, that will permit the sale of alcoholic beverages in dry counties.

It is our honest conviction that alcohol degrades soul, mind, and body of the consumer and that it is extremely destructive of individual and social good. We pledge our efforts to fight its use or sale in any way and in any place.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Daily Times News of Burington and to the METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD of High Point for publication.

Signed by committee,
C. C. HARGROVE,
WADE H. MONTGOMERY,
H. G. SELF.

NOTICE

The Ladies Auxiliary of Moriah church located 4 miles south of Greensboro on the Tabernacle Road will observe their February Thank-Offering next Sunday, February 26 at the 11 o'clock service. The guest speaker will be Mr. John R. Hughes, prominent attorney of Greensboro.

The public is invited to come and worship with us.

MRS. A. V. KIRKMAN, President of Ladies Auxiliary.

In the blackest soils grow the fairest flowers, and the loftiest and strongest trees spring heavenward among the rocks.—J. G. Holland.

Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into divers temptations; knowing that the proving of your faith worketh patience.—St. James.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

URBAN AMERICA—A NEW FRONTIER

Topic for March 5, 1939

DAILY BIBLE READINGS:

Monday, February 27 — Requirements of Jehovah. Micah 6:6-9.

Tuesday, February 28 — Teaching in the cities. Luke 13:22-30.

Wednesday, March 1—Healing the city's blind. Mark 10:46-52.

Thursday, March 2– A city that rejected Christ. Luke 13:34, 35.

Friday, March 3 — Doom of ingratitude. Matt. 11:20-24.

Saturday, March 4 — Meeting the cities' needs. Luke 10:1-12.

The Text: Genesis 18:20-33; 19:24, 25.

Christianity faces ones of the hardest problems that it has faced in the New World, in the modern urban situation. In the past Christians have been persecuted, but they thrived all the more. Today we who live in urban communities do not persecute Christians; we only neglect them and their Christ. We gad about, satisfying our pleasure-mad selves and merely let the Church starve to death.

When Jesus came to Golgotha they hanged
Him on a tree,
They drave great nails through hands and feet, and made a Calvary;
They crowned Him with a crown of thorns,
red were His wounds and deep,
For those were crude and cruel days, and human flesh was cheap.

When Jesus came to Birmingham, they simply passed Him by,
They never hurt a hair of Him, they only let Him die;
For men had grown more tender, and they would not give Him pain,
They only passed down the street, and left
Him in the rain.

Still Jesus cried, "Forgive them for they know not what they do,"
And still it rained the winter rain that drenched Him through and through;
The crowds went home and left the streets
without a soul to see,
And Jesus crouched against a well and cried for Calvary.

—G. A. Studdert Kennedy.

There has been in the past few years a large number of people from rural communities moving into urban centers—into mill sections—into newly developed residential sections. The majority of these are young people—many of them who were regular in their attendance at church back home, but who now that they are in a new environment, and living under different conditions, take Sunday as a day of rest or as a day to satisfy their social desires, and so neglect the Church.

In many of our towns and cities the residential sections have moved, in many cases away from the center of business, while the churches remain down-town. Thus the churches are unable to reach the people from so great a distance.

In these unchurched, newly developed, sections there are many things that spring up causing this urban community to be a new frontier that the Church must face and conquer. It is in such situations as this and under conditions like this that perverted forms of religion and all of the "isms" that plague the world today thrive. People who have at one time been under the guiding hand of the Church, but who are now facing strange conditions without the church to guide them will follow after anyone who promises to help them solve their problems. Unless someone steps in to conquer this frontier many of these urban centers will be a modern Sodom and Gomorrah.

The Chuich is the only thing that can overcome the difficulties and master this situation. The Church can become the center of acquaintance and understanding. It can constitute educational centers for young people. It can interpret to its membership the needs of the underprivileged area in which the institution is located. It can reduce delinquency by providing leadership and guidance in recreation. It can foster adult education. It can back financially the hospitals, social service agencies, and character-making institutions as the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. But more important is the opportunity it has of ministering to the religious life of the people. The Church has a wonderful opportunity in the urban frontier that it faces today.

◆

APPRECIATION YEAR RALLIES

Two more Appreciation Year Rallies are scheduled for the 8th district. The first of these will be held at Flag Spring church Why Not Charge. The date is the first Sunday in March. Hour, 2:30 p. m. The second one is to be held at Gray's Chapel, Randolph Charge, on the second Sunday in March. Hour, 2:30 p. m. Mrs. W. C. Hammer will speak for the women in each rally. Other speakers will discuss Appreciation Year from other angles. A good day is expected at each place. The pastors of the respective churches will conduct the devotionals. Their choirs will provide the music.

S. W. TAYLOR, Chairman of District.

◆

A motorist entered the police station.

"Is my car back yet?" he asked. "Some of your men borrowed it to chase a bandit."

"Yes," replied the sergeant. "We are summoning you for defective brakes and lights, as well as an inefficient silencer."

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Hickory Ridge, Forsyth	$ 5.50
Haw River S. S., Glen Raven	3.75
Shiloh S. S., Randolph	3.75
Canaan S. S., Denton	1.00
Giles Chapel S. S., Richland	3.50
Pleasant Union S. S., Mt. Pleasant	1.25
Roberta	13.00
Shoals S. S., Pinnacle Mt. Zion January and February	4.59
Mitchell's Grove S. S., Guilford	4.36
Mrs. Geo. M. Fleming, Fairmont, W. Va.	25.00
Love Joy S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy	2.00
Harris Chapel, Vance	2.80
Miss Mary Hopkins, Winston-Salem	6.00
Mr. and Mrs T. R. Towery, Hopewell, Va.	1.00
Henderson, S. S.	10.00
Enfield S. S.	5.00
Chase City S. S.	2.25
Salem S. S., Saxapahaw	7.00
Matthews Chapel S. S., Greensville	1.80
Center, Alamance	5.50
Friendship S. S., Shiloh	3.50
Fair Grove S. S., Haw River	.72
Bethany S. S., Randolph	9.75
Stony Knoll, W. Forsyth, December January and February	9.00
New Hope, Why Not	3.50
Rock Creek, Alamance	1.50
Daily Vacation School, First Church, Pittsburgh	7.00
Lebanon S. S., High Point, January and February	13.66
Bethesda S. S., N. Davidson	3.25

Clothing And Other Gifts

The women of Shiloh, on Shiloh, a bundle of towels, some canned goods and cakes for school lunches.

Ladies Aid Society, Bethany, Randolph, two quilts and cakes and cookies for school lunches.

Mrs. Mabel W. Russell, one can opener and two ironing boards.

We sincerely thank you for all these gifts of money and substances.

Please Note

Our Spring needs are great, and are already pressing upon us. We have just ordered a car load of coal which must be paid for when it comes plus the freight. This will cost us nearly $300.00. We had a balanced budget as of January 1st, but the regular offerings for January and February have not kept us up, so please help us out especially during March. A number of churches and Sunday schools have not sent any offerings during these last two months. Pastors and church officers please look into this and see if they cannot be rounded up for March. We thank you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

◆

An Englishman, visiting China for the first time, timidly ventured into a restaurant. Enjoying the dinner very much, and wishing to inform his smiling waiter that he recognized a tasty ingredient, he pointed to his almost empty plate and smilingly queried, "Quack, quack?"

The Chinese waiter shook his head and answered, "Caw caw!"

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

NOTICE TO AUXILIARIES

At our annual branch meeting held in Burlington, April 1938, it was decided that each auxiliary pay 25 cents per set for the years' leaflets.

I have sent statements to auxiliaries, but several have not yet been heard from. March 31 will close our years work, and I will appreciate if all who have not paid for their leaflets do so at once. It will be much easier for your secretary of literature to get this account settled before branch meeting, in part before March 31.

Year books should soon be ready, as soon as I have the name and price I will ready for your orders, cash with orders. I will send further notice of this.

If your quota of Missionary Record Subscribers has not been assured please work at this until you have them.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. T. L. SPEAS, Sec. of Literature,
226 Sunset Drive, Winston-Salem, N. C.

◆

MINNIS FUND

Get out your last week's Herald and turn to page six and read the article from Branch President—to learn how much we still have to raise on this item. Then resolve that as for you and your church you'll respond and help us report all in and you get credit on World Service.

Appreciation of this kind with your prayers for the work will certainly help the work to progress and make the Minnis' feel good. Try it and see if you too won't receive a blessing in the doing.

Drop me a card and tell me about all the extra for Minnis' fund you have done—I'll enjoy making a roll for the Missionary column.

The suggestion of the president was fine, Who will be first?

MRS. H. C. NICHOLSON,
Box 27, Thomasville, N. C.

◆

A LETTER FROM BROTHER VICKERY

Even though we have not reported so far this year, that doesn't mean that we are not "wide awake" and working.

As before stated the Yarborough's Chapel Church has been attached to the Cross Anchor Charge, Upper S. C. Conference, of the M. E. Church, South. When unification is finally consumnated, this church will be officially a part of the charge. This makes five churches on the charge: Yarborough's Chapel, Cross Anchor, Trinity, Tabernacle, and Quaker; with a total membership of 400 plus.

There is a very nice and well furnished parsonage on the charge, and this enables us to live in the community and be in direct contact with the people, from day to day. This fact enables me to work with the people and serve the charge in a better and more efficient capacity. We felt that we were not doing the church justice last year with only one evening service a month, but, now, under the new financial and spiritual life, we feel that we will go far. It has been through the power of God and prayer that we have accomplished what we have, and we feel that we will continue to go forward with His help.

The Sunday school added two to its enrollment last Sunday; the church added one member to its enrollment last quarter. This brings the total up to six new members on the charge. By letters: Mrs. Clara Gossett, Mrs. Woodrow Simmons, who is one of the school teachers, also Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lemmon and Mrs. Lemmon's mother, Mrs. Gross — Mr. Lemmon is the agriculture teacher, and also a letter for Thurman H. Vickery. We are proud to have all these new additions, to our several churches.

We organized, about six weeks ago, a Young People's Epworth League between Cross Anchor and Yarborough's Chapel, churches with a total membership of 26.

At the beginning, we organized into two groups, the membership of the League with a captain for each. One group captain directs the program on one Sunday night and the other the next and so on, very interesting programs have been rendered each time. We are taking some chapters of the Bible at each meeting, and going through the entire Bible. I believe if we can instill into our young people a more thorough knowledge of the Bible that they will have a deeper appreciation of their church. When we first started, we began a contest between the two sides; the losing side having to treat the other to a social in the near future. Each new member counts five points, visitors one point each and when a member is absent it takes one point from that side. I have promised a prize to the individual with the greatest number of points. We are truely proud of our young people and we expect great things of them, for sooner or later they will take the church program upon their shoulders. We are thus trying to fit them for their task, whatever it may be.

This gives Yarborough's Chapel a total of three services each month.

Last evening, we organized an Epworth League at our Trinity Church with a total of 24 charter members. We are carrying out the same program there. As there is a large number of young people in this community we are expecting a large membership for this league.

On every fifth Sunday we have a charge rally of all the five churches and in the evening, a rally of the three league in the charge. We now have a total of some 80 young people in these organizations. Last fifth Sunday we held a rally at Trinity Church and Mr. E. O. Shealy, a former pastor in the South Carolina Conference, who is a member of the Cross Anchor church, and superintendent of the city schools, spoke at eleven o'clock. After the morning service, a lunch was spread on the ground. Prof. Danny H. Montgomery, a professor of Religious Education at Wofford College and a member of the Upper South Carolina Conference, speak to us. We believe these rallies are going to be very beneficial to the churches of the charge.

The writer attends Wofford College at Spartanburg, S. C. during the week, which is only 25 miles by paved highway from Cross Anchor and is liking it very much. This is an M. E. Church, South, college, and under the sponsorship of the Upper South Carolina Conference.

We observed Young People's Day with an offering, and we are preparing a very interesting program for Easter Sunday at Y. C., with the Epworth League sponsoring it. We hope to have a very large attendance and offering on that day.

At every church on the charge, we have adopted a Unified Budget, embracing pastor's salary, conference claims, Sunday school, janitor's salary, and incidentals, under one sum. All offerings and contributions go into this fund with the treasurer, Mr. J. E. Bobo (at Y. C.) drawing a check for all expenses. This is working fine, and I truly believe that the expenses are going to be met much more easily than in the past. Every member has a pledge card with from five cents to ten dollars a week, individually pledged. Each steward has a list of his allotted member's names, and calls on them weekly or monthly, as the case may be. They then turn it over to the treasurer, and we try to pay one-twelfth of our total expenses on the fourth Sunday of each month. By paying the month's expenses each time, the finances of the church do not accumulate, and the burden is not so heavy at the end of the year. As this system covers everything, it is much easier to get the individual items, etc., out of the way on the date due.

We are going to make some repairs on the church building immediately, and plans are on foot to lay a new carpet or to repair the old one we now have. We have at present approximately $100 in the treasury to take care of this. Offerings are made monthly to our Children's Home at High Point. We are working on our Herald quota and hope to have it complete soon. We are trying to carry out both programs to a complete 100 per cent record, or more.

We are sorry that we must report Mr. Ralph Tiller is seriously ill at the Mary Black Hospital, in Spartanburg, and Miss Zellon Littlefield will leave for the hospital Saturday; both are of Tabernacle church.

My father, Rev. R. L. Vickery, of the Rockingham M. P. church, was with us last Sunday and took part in the program. We are grateful that he could be with us and hope that he will visit us again soon.

We covet an interest in your prayers for the work that we are striving to do for our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We may be out of the state but we are still a part of one great church and all brothers in Christ.

The grace of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ be with you all, now and forever more.

THURMAN H. VICKERY.

◆

THE HAPPIEST HEART

Who drives the horses of the sun
Shall lord it but a day;
Better the lowly deed were done,
And kept the humble way.

The rust will find the sword of fame,
The dust will hide the crown;
Ay, none shall nail so high his name
Time will not tear it down.

The happiest heart that ever beat
Was in some quiet breast
That found the common daylight sweet,
And left to Heaven the rest.

—John Vance Cheney.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Moriah, Rev. J. Leo Pittard, Pastor.—Attendance at our Sunday school and church services has been good, but with spring just around the corner we will have even a better attendance.

We are glad to report that quite a number of our members who have been sick are able to be out again, for which we are thankful.

Young People's Day was held the first Sunday in February. We had a good attendance and our pastor brought us a grand sermon very fitting for the occasion.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Mark Lewis on Friday night, February 24. All members are urged to be present, as the election of officers for the coming year will be held.

The supper the junior Bible class gave on Wednesday night, February 15, was a success, although we had some bad weather for the occasion.

The Auxiliary will have their thank-offering service on Sunday, February 26, at 11 o'clock. We will have John R. Hughes, promient attorney of Greensboro, to speak to us on this occasion. Mr. Hughes attended this church when a small boy. He is a very able speaker and we feel we are fortunate in securing him for this service.

The second quarterly conference was held last Sunday with a good number present.

Our pastor is bringing us a series of nine sermons on the ABC's of church union. These have been interesting and those that have missed them are truly missing some of the best sermons he has preached since he has been our pastor.

The Christian Endeavor is going along well. We were fortunate in having Mr. Foley of Duke university to speak to us during the C. E. meeting.

During the past week I was reading some poetry that some of our great men liked. This week being George Washington's birthday, I think it very fitting to pass one of his favorite poems on to you. Let us remember that Washington was first a Christian, then a statesman, so this little poem is very like him, don't you think? The poem is entitled "A Christian," and reads:

He doesn't stand in church and pray,
  So multitudes may hear;
Nor does he give large sums away
  To charity each year.
He doesn't head the clubs and leagues
  And guilds for glory great;
Nor does he brag about his deeds,
  And his virtues relate.
But when a sad friend comes along
  And tells him of his woes,
He tries his best to comfort him
  Ere on his way he goes.

MRS. WILBUR A. SHERRILL,
Reporter.

◆

Spring Church, Spring Church Charge, Rev. J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—Mr. Garlington has brought us two inspiring messages since our last meeting.

On the fourth Sunday in January he used as his theme, "The Window Sill of Heaven." To make his sermon more impressive he used a beautiful picture of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane. He said if we wished to be like Christ we would need to spend much time in prayer. It will help us to appreciate things of nature more and we will see the good that is in our fellow church members rather than searching for the bad.

The second Sunday in this month Young People's Day was observed. Some of our boys and girls took part in the devotions. Mr. Garlington's message was on "Power." He showed our young people as well as the older ones the good that can be done with power if used in the right way. Man is God's only way in putting His great power into action. This service closed with the entire congregation partaking of the Lord's Supper.

On the first Sundy our prayer service was led by Pauline Massey. She used as her subject "Forgiveness." She brought us some fine thoughts. Many of our boys and girls took part in the discussion and led in prayer which I am sure was very helpful to all.

We have about three-fourths of our annual conference budget on hand; we hope to raise the balance next Sunday.

Choir practice will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Massey Saturday night at 7 o'clock. We hope to have the entire choir present.

World's Day of Prayer will be observed in Pleasant Hill church next Saturday, February 25, at 2:30 p.m. Mr. Garlington will make the address. We invite all to be with us.

Next Sunday our February thank-offering will be held. The ladies will take part in the devotions, and Mr. Garlington will preach an appropriate sermon. We hope that everyone will show their appreciation of God's goodness by making a good offering which will go toward the World's Service budget.

We are very sorry to report that Lunsford Crew is ill at Chapel Hill. We hope he will soon be well and able to resume his studies.

REPORTER.

◆

First Church, Danville, Va., Rev. G. L. Reynolds, Pastor.—We are glad to be back with the "Pastors and People" after such an extended absence. Although absent from the news column, we can say that we really do have news, and pleasant news at that. We've been working on plans to start building a new church in the spring—something we have all been looking forward to and hoping for a long time. Committees have been appointed to have plans drawn up, and for raising funds, so we have a lot to be enthusiastic about.

We are observing this week as "Prayer Week," and special emphasis is being laid on praying. Friday night will climax the special programs when the Ladies' Auxiliary is taking charge. The Auxiliary is also getting up a pageant, "If I Be His Disciple," to be given soon. If any of you happen to miss the play, you will be missing something that is really worth-while. It is a splendid pageant, so make your plans now to attend, Wednesday night, March 8.

Several of our former members were with us last Sunday, including Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Grogan. We certainly enjoyed having so many visitors worship with us, and hope they will come back often, where a cordial welcome always awaits them.

The Christian Enedavor society enjoyed a "hearty" good time at the home of Miss Ora Whisenant, Saturday night a week ago, in celebration of St. Valentine's day. There were hearts given, exchanged, and broken, as various guests had to exchange partners, quote love lyrics, and make proposals. We were especially happy to have a number of visitors participate in the fun with us.

The Endeavorers are working with the pastor, Rev. G. L. Reynolds, in sponsoring Youth Day on March 5. Miss Ora Whisenant is acting chairman of the committee, and is formulating plans for youth participation in services throughout the day. The pageant, "Shrines," will be presented at the Sunday evening service, at which time the special Youth Day offering will be taken.

Now that spring is almost here and building plans are in the air, let us all set out with renewed vigor and make a special effort to attend services, cooperate in every way possible, and do our very best to accomplish something for our Master each day.

ELEANOR TANNER, Reporter.

◆

Concord, Saxapahaw Charge, Rev. M. C. Henderson, Pastor.—Work is moving on very nicely here. We are trying to get a start early in the year so it won't be so crowded at the last of the conference year. Dr. Pritchard plans to be with us the first Sunday morning in April at the 11 o'clock service. We are looking forward to this time. The Ladies' Auxiliary plans to hold a thank-offering service the first Sunday morning in March at the 11 o'clock hour. On the first Saturday in March they plan to have a supper and bazaar. The Auxiliary is doing right much good work at the present time. Our pastor stressed the cooperation of the church members in signing the covenant cards in law observance Sunday morning.

We were glad to have visitors with us Sunday morning for the morning service.

The junior class won the attendance banner for last month and are working to win it this month.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Joe Worth Guthrie is able to return to her home after spending some time in Duke hospital, also that Mrs. Parker Lewis is able to be at church after retiring from the hospital at Burlington.

At this time Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Moore are both able to be up in their home, but are not able to be out any. We are working to raise our part of the World Service budget by the 30th of April.

REPORTER.

◆

State Street, O. C. Loy, Pastor.—We have not made a report for several weeks now, but that does not mean that we are not working just as hard.

The Ladies' Auxiliary sponsored the annual monthly supper Saturday night, the 11th. Approximately $25 was realized to be paid on our building and loan fund.

Mrs. O. C. Loy was hostess to the circle meeting last Tuesday night. Mrs. Harkey, the president, was in the chair. The attendance was very good, and different subjects were discussed and the nominating committee was appointed to elect new officers for the coming year. As a special favor to the men present a social hour was enjoyed, and Mrs. Loy served decorated Valentine candy.

Last Friday night Mrs. J. B. Leonard and Mrs. R. A. Weaver entertained the Philathea class in the home of Mrs. Leonard. Mrs. Frank McCrary led the devotional period. All present reported a good meeting.

We feel grateful to a large group from West End church, Thomasville, for the fine play they put on for us last night. The title of the play was "Everybody's Church." They all acted their parts so well, we know that they have spent a lot of time in study and rehearsing. We hope to have them again in the near future.

The World Day of Prayer will be observed next Friday at the Episcopal church. A large attendance is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leonard plan to leave next Thursday for a two weeks visit with their son, Lloyd Leonard, and family, in Asheville. We always miss them, but we hope that Mr. Leonard's health will be better after a complete rest. They are both loyal to the church, inasmuch as both of them teach Sunday school classes and support the church every way possible.

MRS. W. T. NEAL, Reporter.

* * *

Mt. Zion Church, Pinnacle-Mt. Zion Charge.—We are striving to build up our church and make it a better place to worship each day. We were very proud to have with us some new faces Sunday and see the old ones back again. Our attendance for Sunday school was 60, more coming in for preaching hour. Our collection which went to the Children's Home was $2.71. Our pastor delivered a very interesting sermon to us at the 11 o'clock hour, taking his text from the book of John, 6th chapter, 68th verse.

We are having an epidemic of measles at this time, which is keeping many from church; hope they will soon be back with us. We were glad to have back with us Mrs. E. S. Stone, who has been ill for some time. Mrs. A. L. Hunter is confined to her bed with rheumatism, friends will regret to learn. We were glad to have Mr. J. R. Stone with us Sunday, who has been on the sick list also.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stone of Winston-Salem were welcomed to worship with us Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Jones was appointed yesterday to collect money to buy new song books for our church.

Mr. W. B. and S. T. Lane were appointed to collect money to pay for the new well which we are having dug at the parsonage.

The Missionary Society will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Lane Tuesday night, February 21. Everyone is invited to come and join us in our worship.

NELL MICKEY, Reporter.

* * *

Seagrove, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge.—We were indeed glad to have Dr. Pritchard, president of our annual conference, with us last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. He delivered a wonderful message on the value and influence of the local church. Everyone eujoyed this splendid discourse and we hope Dr. Pritchard will pass this way again soon. Lunch was served in the social room immediately after services.

Our Sunday school is growing steadily. The enrollment has almost reached 100, which was our goal, and I think it will go beyond that soon.

Special music was rendered Sunday at the Sunday school and preaching hour by Mrs. Rufus King, Elbert and Annie Ruth King, and Mr. Plummer; also a quartette by members of the junior class.

We were glad to have as visitors Sunday, Charles Richardson of High Point College, Miss Lucy Ellen Russell and friend from Raleigh, also Pastor Trolinger's stepmother, brother and wife of High Point.

Our Ladies' Auxiliary met Tuesday night, February 13, with Mrs. W. P. Strider. Several members were present. A good program was rendered and delicious refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Trolinger on Thursday night, February 16. A supper was served in the social room of our church. A quilt was sold to the highest bidder. The proceeds after paying all expenses were $24. This will apply toward seating the auditorium of our church.

A thank-offering service will be held Sunday night, February 26.

Christian Endeavor is going on very well. James Auman was leader last Sunday night and Wayne Frye was appointed leader for next Sunday night.

Little Florence Brown, a member of Mrs. Auman's primary class, has pneumonia but is improving.

Pray for us that much good may be accomplished this year for the Master.

MRS. NOAH WILLIAMS, Reporter.

* * *

First M. P. Church, High Point.—A large congregation heard Dr. James Straughn, president of the General Conference, Sunday night, February 19. His sermon was most inspirational and we were so glad to have him visit us. Mr. Madison continues giving us good sermons and congregations have been unusually large recently.

Before the regular church service Sunday night, Mayor Grayson spoke to the Young People's Christian Endeavor society on "A Christian's Viewpoint of Politics." There were approximately 60 persons present and the talk was most worth-while.

A letter is being sent to the membership regarding our church program prior to Easter. It outlines the program. February 19 begins Visitation Week. Members of the congregation were given their lists Sunday. Prayer services will be held each Wednesday evening and during Holy Week services will be held each night at the church except Saturday night. Beginning at 4 o'clock March 27 a class for children in principals for church membership will be taught; on April 2 these persons will be received into the church. On Friday before Easter the junior church will present a pageant, "Out of the Easter Garden." Approximately 60 children will participate The leaders of the junior church are to be commended for their interest in their work and for using so many children in the various programs they sponsor.

Mrs. T. R. Ballard slowly improves at her home on Howell street after a recent illness. Mrs. Ballard is superintendent of the Sunday school.

Our February Thank-offering services will be conducted next Sunday, Mr. Madison will preach and the regular services. We are hoping these services shall bring the results for which we are striving.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

* * *

Vickrey Church, Guilford Charge, Joel B. Trogdon, Pastor.—Sunday school at Vickrey last Sunday was at the regular hour with 133 present.

The young people gave a very interesting Christian Endeavor program last Sunday night. The President of the High Point City Christian Endeavor Union and also a former president gave brief talks. Two groups of special singers from other churches added to the program with their selections. From our own church Lois and Fleta Mae Hohn sang a duet.

The Woman's Auxiliary met with Mrs. George Osborne for their last meeting. Mrs. Williams, wife of a High Point minister and who has traveled in various parts of the country including a rather long stay in Mexico, was speaker of the evening. In her talk she contrasted the customs of the Mexicans with that of ours.

Young People's Day was observed the fifth Sunday of January. A candle light service was given and our pastor, Joel B. Trogdon, gave an interesting talk.

A collection of $4.12 was taken the fifth Sunday for the Children's Home.

FLETA MAE HOHN, Reporter

* * *

Kernersville-South Winston, February 20,—The work of the churches of this charge has been moving along fairly well since the writer made a report to the HERALD. We observed Young People's Day at Pine Grove and Kernersville churches. The program provided by the Department of Religiou Education of the general conference was used. A speaker was secured for the Kernersville church in the person of Clyde A. Shreve, attorney, of Summerfield. Offerings were taken at each service for the World Service budget.

Since our last report to the HERALD some of the people have remembered the pastor and family with appropriate gifts. Brother H. V. Crews, of Pine Grove church, gave us a nice ham, and Brother Dale Pegg, of Pine Grove church was the donor of a nice, large shoulder of meat. Other gifts have been received from members of different churches. We are thankful for all the gifts received, and assure every giver that we appreciate their kindness and their consideration of our needs.

The writer was called to Rockingham county Monday, February 13, to conduct the funeral services of G. I. Sharpe, age 78, brother of Miss Ellen Sharpe, member of Bethany M. P. church, on Flat Rock Charge. The funeral and burial were held at Mount Bethel Christian church. The funeral and burial were held at Monnt Bethel Christian church. The deceased was an uncle of W. H. and C. E. Smith, members of South Winston church. They have the sympathy of the church.

Mrs. J. E. Littleton, of South Winston church, has the symapthy of friends and neighbors in the death of her half-sister, whose funeral was held in Stokes county Sunday, February 12.

Mrs. E. L. Johnson, pianist at South Winston church, entered the City Memorial Hospital at Winston-Salem Tuesday, February 14, for an operation. The operation was successful, and she is recovering nicely.

We were delighted with the presence of Rev. B. A. Culp, pastor of the First M. E. church, Winston-Salem, at South Winston church last Sunday night. He preached an inspiring sermon to a fairly large congregation. We were glad to have a number of visitors present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Casper and daughter, of the Kernersville church.

Dr. J. E. Pritchard, president of the Annual Conference, will preach at Sandy Ridge church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, which will be his official visit to that church for the present year. We hope to have a good attendance for the service.

C. B. WAY, Pastor

◆

Kernersville Church, Kernersville - South Winston Charge, February 20.—Since our reporter, Mrs. Paul Butner, could not be present last Sunday, I will make a brief report for our church. We had 60 in Sunday school, which was an increase over the attendance of a few Sundays ago.

There was also a good attendance at the church service. During the opening service a solo was rendered by C. B. Way, Jr., at the request of one of the members. The pastor presented the following persons for membership in the church: Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Boone, Billy Boone, Owen Boone, Mrs. Flossie Landreth and Miss Fleta Ragland. They were formally received into the church. Mr. and Mrs. Boone and son, Billy, came to our church by transfer from the First Presbyterian church, Winston-Salem, and their younger son, Owen, was received on profession of faith. Mrs. Landreth and Miss Ragland were received by transfer from Pine Grove M. P. church. The church is delighted to have these additions to the membership, and we feel that they will be valuable members. After the sermon by the pastor on the subject, "Reasons For Church Membership," the ordinance of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number of members. In reporting the new members received last month the name of Mrs. Nettie Corum was omitted. We have received a total of ten members during this conference year.

Brother H. M. Casper, who was received into our church last year, will conduct the prayer service at the parsonage Wednesday night of this week. He is assistant teacher of the men's class in the Sunday school.

Dr. P. O. Schallert, of Winston-Salem, will deliver and illustrated lecture at our church next Sunday night on the subject, "The Life of Christ." The lecture and pictures to be shown will deal with some of the last scenes of the life of our Savior.

ASSISTANT REPORTER.

◆

Liberty, Rev. A. M. Smith—I wrote a report last week, but did not have time to get in all the church news.

Our pastor filled his appointments both Sunday morning and Sunday evening. His sermons are very beautiful and soud inspiring. He also led the prayer meeting in a union meeting of all the churches in town last week. May the Lord bless all who are laboring in His ministry.

The writer's father has been sick ever since Christmas night. He had the flu and neuralgia and now has some stomach trouble, though he seems to be improving slowly.

His birthday is next week, the 22nd of February. I will appreciate it so much if any old friends can take time to send him a line of incouragement on a plain postal card or birthday card.

He loves everybody, I don't know a person he doesn't love.

He will be 89 years old, so be kind and gentle to those who are old for kindness is dear and better than gold. So many of his friends sent him cards last year and he would look over them again and again and he treasures them yet. May the Lord bless our pastor and all our church members. We should not forget to pray for each other.

BERTINE SHEPARD, Reporter.

◆

Flag Springs, Why Not Charge, C. H. Hill, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday, February, 5. He brought to us an inspiring message. Our Sunday school attendance is holding up very well, and there is good interest shown in the school.

The Ladies Auxiliary met Friday, February, 3, at the home of Mrs. Roy Hughes with seven members and five visitors present. The program was good and new interest is being shown in raising money for the benefit of the church.

There will be an Appreciation Year Rally service to be held at Flag Springs the first Sunday in March. Addresses will be made by visiting speakers. They are planning to have some special music.

REPORTER.

◆

Report of the Community Methodist Protestant Church, Thomasville, N. C.—Mrs. Susan Finch and Harry Brown Finch entertained the members of the Board of Stewards at dinner at their home on Main Street last Monday evening. After a delightful meal a business meeting was held and pledges of the church was also brought up to date and a very good report of the finances of the church as a whole was given.

Sunday was rather an eventful day for the church. Besides the new organ that we have purchased we had a basket of dollars on the pulpit. These were donated for the purpose of raising the required amount for our Appreciation Year and leave us entirely in the clear when the two Methodist churches became one. Each member was to take a dollar from the basket and see if he or she could double or redouble it within one month. The response was gratifying. After all we must have the material things in the church if we are to accomplish the spiritual aims we are trying to reach.

MRS. TOM EINSTEIN, Reporter.

◆

Davidson Charge.—On yesterday we were greeted with fair sized congregations at Chapel Hill and Liberty. The people at each of these churches and the people of the other churches as well, are very attentive to the word preached. Their interest and attention is most helpful.

Some days ago Mr. Russell Fry gave this writer permission to cut a quantity of tree logs near his saw mill. Mr. Arch Lanier invited several men to assist in getting this wood ready for sawing. In addition to Mr. Lanier and this scribe, the following brethren made axes fly one half day: Hanes Smith, Witt and Lee Russell and J. C. Smith. These men have our thanks for cutting a years' supply of wood. Thanks to the donor.

WM. H. NEESE.

◆

Davidson Charge, W. H. Neese, Pastor, February 20.—On yesterday the pastor of this charge and his wife were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harris of the Chapel Hill church. There was nothing new about being invited out for Sunday dinner, that happens every Sunday on this charge but when we went in to dinner Mrs. Harris said to her mother-in-law, Mrs. C. C. Cranford, "This is yours and Mrs. Neese's birthday dinner." I think someone was surprised. It just happens that Mrs. Cranford and Mr. Neese have the same birthday, February 24. Mrs. Harris presented each honoree with a nice and useful present. The sumptous dinner was enjoyed by all present.

We are very busy these days planning to put across Thank Offering Services at each church on the work. Only two churches, Lineberry and Chapel Hill, have the women organized but we are planning for services at the other four churches.

Several of our number are sick and we are kept busy visiting them in their homes. Quite a number have remembered us with good things for our table. It seems they know just what is needed most. The latest donors are: Mesdames Whilt Wood, J. C. Taylor, J. H. Loflin, B. K. Taylor, Edd Morris, J. C. Smith, W. M. Smith, A. C. Harris, Van Lanier and Mr. Dixon Frye.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

◆

Forsyth Charge, Maple Springs Church.—The Woman's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. W. G. Henning for the February meeting.

Mrs. T. L. Speas had charge of the devotionals. The program leader was Mrs. R. E. Watts. Two readings were given as follows: "Home Mission Work in the Mountains," Miss Elsie Baity; "New Frontiers in Home Mission Work Today," Willie Gray Henning. Mrs. R. A. Hunter conducted the Question Box. The meeting closed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. R. A. Hunter.

A committee, composed of Miss Myrtie Kiger, Miss Elsie Baity, and Mrs. R. E. Watts, was appointed to nominate officers for the new year.

The second Thank-offering program was held on the third Sunday evening. The pastor preached a missionary sermon, his topic being "Responsibility."

Our church and the First M. P. church of Winston-Salem will hold a World Day of Prayer here Friday afternoon.

◆

Friendship Church, Fallston Charge.—At the close of the opening exercises for Sunday school, our pastor asked that we support the petition against the bill now before Congress for the buying and selling of liquor, wine and beer in this county. Cleveland and some of the adjoining counties are sending this petition to the legislature asking that these not be sold in our counties. The three churches of Fallston are taking a great part in this. It was attached to the petition that the Sunday schools voted unanimously against this bill now before Congress.

Rev. Mr. Hethcox came to us on the third Sunday morning with a real soul stirring message. His text was found in James 4:14.

He reminded us that we don't plan to meet our obligations with God. A large crowd attended the services. Miss Claudie Mae Beam came to us by letter from Bethlehem M. E. Church, South.

The death angel has taken two out of our midst since the last report, Mr. Clarence Gantt and Mrs. Amos Canipe. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the two families.

Next Sunday evening a meeting is being planned for the people of the community, to be held at the Fallston Baptist church, in the interest of temperance. Mr. Mull, our representative from this district, is expected to be there. Everyone is urged to attend.

REPORTER.

St. Paul Church, Greensboro.—We folks at St. Paul have been having some mighty good experiences. Our services on Sunday, February 19, especially our morning service, was one of the best we have ever seen. Our pastor, a most consecrated person, led us all to rededicate our lives to the worthwhile service of our Lord.

On Wednesday, February 8, we all went to Brother Millaway's home before our regular prayer service. Each person took along a little gift which might be helpful in the home. Mr. Millaway has not been well for sometime—but the last few weeks have found him right at death's door. The strength which he has shown in spirit and body in this most painful illness should inspire us on. Through it all he has been a model of perfection. May his Lord take him on to his reward (which must be very great) before he has to bear very much more of this world's pain.

The regular Ladies' Aid meeting was held in the hut on Saturday night, February 11.

There was a Washington's birthday social held Saturday night, February 18, by the church women. Many friends and members called between 6 and 8 o'clock; many of them leaving a donation to help carry on the work of the Ladies' Aid. Rev. R. C. Stubbins, pastor of Calvary, made an inspiring talk. We were all much impressed and hope Mr. Stubbins will be able to come back to us real soon. During the evening games were played, everyone joining in. After the games and contests of skill the ladies served fruit.

Brother Ashburn visited us on last Sunday and we welcome him and take this time and space to say we are always glad to have visitors—and we welcome one and all to our church.

President J. E. Pritchard, president of our Conference, conducted our service last Sunday night, February 12. He brought a fine message and we were very glad to have him.

REPORTER.

Graham, H. F. Surratt, Pastor.—Although we have only had one report since Conference our church activities have been alive and showing much interest. The morning services are being well attended; last Sunday we were fortunte to have the girls glee club; under the direction of Miss Graham, to sing. Our pastor gave us a very inspiring sermon on "Evangelism For Today," at the evening service the subject was "How to succeed in the Christian life."

The Sunday school is very active with all teachers showing much interest and are cooperating wiht the superintendent, Mr. Ernest Kirkman,

The officers of the church have been greatly helped after taking a study course for the officials of the church. This being a united effort with the Methodist Episcopal, South, and held in the two churches under the supervision of Rev. E. O. Merritt and Rev. H. F. Surratt. We feel a greater responsibility and also a greater spiritual blessing in our responsibility by having had these courses.

The committee for appreciation gift, composed of Mr. J. L. Amick, Mrs. A. P. Williams, Mrs. Jim Linens, Mrs. L. W. Cheek and Mrs. A. R. Wilson, are making plans to raise our appreciation gift, which we hope to be able to report in full by April. The Ladies' Auxiliary is also helping in every way and we feel very much encouraged when they decide to put things across they usually go.

On February 12 the Law Observance league held a meeting in the Broad Street school in Burlington. There were people from all over the county as this is a county-wide movement.

We are happy to report the improvement of Mr. M. R. Kirkman who underwent a major operation at Piedmont Memorial hospital in Greensboro.

Mrs. J. A. Hester will leave February 22 for the sanatorium in Black Mountain and we hope for her a speedy recovery.

We have been very much saddened by the death of two of our most faithful members, Mr. John Parks and Mr. W. A. Flinton. They will be missed in the church to which they were so faithful. We feel our loss is their gain and can say as Paul said, they have finished their course because of the faithfulness to their God and church to the end.

GLADYS AMICK, Reporter.

Fairview Church, Joe Coble, Pastor, Feb. 21.—The second Sunday in this month was observed by our church as Young People's day with a very impressive service; the entire program for the morning was based on appreciation year and was very interesting.

A very interesting feature of our church services is the junior church, of which our pastor has charge just before the regular sermon is preached; he uses something for an illustration of his talk and this keeps the children very interested, also the grown-ups have expressed their appreciation of this service and seem to enjoy it very much.

There is a marked improvement in our Sunday school attendance now; our goal we had hoped to reach by Christmas, was reached a few Sundays ago with 150 present, and $8 was received as our offering. We know that somebody ha's been working and we believe it was none other than our energetic little superintendent, at any rate we are very proud of this number and just hope it continues.

The Woman's Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Mary Williams on Tuesday night, February 14 with a very good number present: a quilt square was given each member to collect dimes and for each dime a name will be embroidered in the square. We are hoping to make a huge success of this work. After the business meeting was over the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Howard Barber, served ice cream and cake which was enjoyed by all present.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. J. L. Stanley, the wife of our superintendent, is ill in the Duke hospital. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

REPORTER.

Siler City Church, A. M. Smith, Pastor.—Since you have not heard from us this year we will try to give you a brief report of some of the things we are doing. Our Sunday school and church work is progressing nicely. Young People's day was observed on the third Sunday. The young people had charge of each service beginning with the Sunday school. Billy Brady led the devotionals, Misses Mattie Jordan, Mildred Headen and Glenna Harris made fine talks, and special music was rendered by Miss Martha Brady. There were 94 present and each class had good reports. At the 11 o'clock service the young people's program was used. Special music was furnished by Mrs. I. H. Ellington and Miss Joy Holt. The pastor brought a very special sermon that fit right in for the occasion. The Lord's Supper was then administered to a large part of the congregation. At the evening hour a candle light service was given. Miss Pearlie Tillman led devotionals. The young people had charge of the music with little Miss Betty Lou Wright singing very effectively "Love Him"; Mrs. Victor Duncan and Miss Joy Holt sang a lovely duet, "Look For the Beautiful," after which our pastor made a fine talk just like he always does.

The C. E. society enjoyed a social in the C. E. room at the church Saturday night, the 18th. Games and contests were enjoyed and all entered heartily into the fun. Refreshments were served.

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. J. A. Cooper Wednesday night, February 15, and Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. J. H. Fox, Tuesday night, February 14. Ten members were present at each circle. The usual routine of business was transacted with the chairman of each circle in the chair. The Question Box was discussed by both circles. We feel safe in saying that we will round up a very successful year. Tempting refreshments were served.

We are sorry to report so many of our members are not well: Mrs. Hattie Stout had her tonsils removed last week and is recuperating at her home on Jordan street. Mrs. T. C. Fox is at home nursing an infected foot. Glen Fox, age 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fox, had an operation some four weeks ago and is at his home in a cast and will be there several months. About four inches of bone was taken out of a lower limb. Everyone is very sympathetic with him and are trying to help him while away the time as best they can by keeping him something new to read, look at or play with. Mrs. T. L. Smith received word Saturday of the death of an uncle in Florence, S. C. She and Mr. Smith left Sunday for Florence to attend the funeral of Mrs. Smith's mother; Mrs. W. H. Ross is also sick. We hope each one may speedily be restored to health if it can be the Master's will.

As is the custom each year on or around February 21 Mrs. L. L. Woody entertains the Emma B. Siler circle, which is Circle No. 1, at a birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Emma B. Siler, who is the oldest member. This happy occasion fell on the third Sunday. At 1 o'clock the guests were ushered into the dining room, stood while Mrs. Woody returned thanks, then sang, "Happy Birthday to Mrs. Siler." A very tempting plate of many good things to eat, just like Mrs. Woody knows how to prepare, was then served. Mrs. Siler cut the big birthday cake and cake and ice cream was served. Mrs. Woody, in her gracious manner and well-chosen words, presented Mrs. Siler gifts from her circle. After a good social time together each one left, wishing Mrs. Siler might reach the 100 mark. This was her 77th birthday.

A good delegation from our church attended the appreciation year campaign meeting at Grace church Monday.

MRS. J. A. COOPER, Reporter.

◆

Shiloh Church, Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor, Feb. 21.—Our pastor held his regular appointment on the second Sunday at 11 o'clock. The Burlington male chorus was with us. The chorus was led by Mr. Walter Routh and consisted of eight male voices and the pianist. It was enjoyed by all. We hope they can be with us again.

Our church has raised one-half of the World Service debt apportionment. We are hoping to raise the balance by April 30.

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Tyson Hemphill to hold its regular monthly meeting at which time she was given a surprise shower. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Flossie Shaw at her mothers, Mrs. Willie Kime.

We are hoping all those who have been sick will be out again soon.

REPORTER.

◆

First Church, Thomasville.—Our pastor has recovered from his short illness, and is back in the services. We always miss him when he has to be away any length of time.

Everyone was very much impressed by the splendid talks given on Young People's day by the young people. The ones taking part in this service were Mr. Buren Hill, Misses Mary Alma Teague, Nell Jarret, Maxine Carriker, Opal Wood and Mr. Finch Jackson.

On February 10 the local troop of Boy Scouts held a Scout and Dad banquet at the hut. The Scout movement has accomplished much in helping our young people find clean ways of living.

We are about to close another successful year in the Auxiliary work, we feel that we have played a great part in the work of our church. The circles have almost all raised their budgets. The Precious Jewels, Minnis circle, and the Auxiliary budgets have already been reached. The other circles are planning on reaching their budget with this month's work, therefore we will use March as our appreciation month.

Tuesday night, February 14, the Minnis circle held its regular meeting. Mrs. J. T. Bowman made a very inspiring talk entitled "If I Be His Disciple." I believe that everyone really wanted to be a true disciple of Jesus after listening to her beautiful words.

Miss Louise Royals made the last review in the book on the American Negro. We were all astounded at the amount of knowledge about the negro she accumulated in just a few hours of study. One would think she had spent months studying nothing but the American Negro.

25 CENTS IN COIN
ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, 8 never-fade Velox prints—only 25c.
Low prices on candid film.
Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN!
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO..
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

Several of our Young People attended the State Christian Endeavor banquet which was held in Winston-Salem, First Presbyterian church. Everyone of them stated that they enjoyed it thoroughly, both the banquet and the special classes that followed the banquet.

Miss Norma Lanier has returned home from the City Memorial hospital where she underwent an operation for ruptured appendix. She is recovering splendidly, we are very glad to state.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will have its regular monthly meeting Friday, February 24, at the church. At this time Rev. J. T. Bowman will review the study book for the past year.

Sunday night the offering service will be held. The Minnis circle is going to put on a special program at that time. We are looking forward to this service. We are sure the circle will give us a very good program.

Rev. J. T. Bowman is going to attend a special meeting at Greensboro Monday morning in the behalf of appreciation year.

AUDREY SULLIVAN, Reporter.

◆

Orange Charge, Feb. 21.—Just a brief report to acknowledge with sincere appreciation the new Faultless washing machine placed in the parsonage by the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the various churches on the charge. I have a suspicion that may wife has a domestic job for me now in retaliation for the red-handle axe I bought for her sometime ago. Anyway, we appreciate the machine and invite any of our members to bring their washing and come spend the day with us.

Notice is hereby given that the second quarterly conference will be held at Chestnut Ridge the first Sunday afternoon in March at 3 o'clock. All the church officials are urged to be present and make reports of their stewardship for the first quarter.

C. P. MORRIS, Pastor.

◆

Enfield, D. R. Williams, Pastor. — Our church is happy that Mr. Williams is now on the mend following a bad case of flu. He is now in Burlington with his daughter, Mrs. Staley Garrison, for a rest and we hope that he will soon be real well and strong. Mrs. Garrison came for Mr. and Mrs. Williams last Thursday. We trust they will have a happy visit and that the change will do them good. Everyone misses Mr. Williams' smiles and happy greetings on the street—some one said, "I just feel better every time I meet Mr. Williams."

Enfield had a great shock this week-end and is deeply grieved in the passing of Mr. Reuben Jordan, one of our members. He was taken sick at his work last Wednesday and was quite ill, but Thursday morning was considered better. He grew worse Thursday night and was rushed to a Rocky Mount hospital where he died Friday night between 1 and 2 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted from the home Sunday afternoon by the American Legion post No. 34 of which he was a faithful member. Mr. R. Hunter Pope, post commander, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. W. M. Loy, pastor of the M. E. church. The American Legion service is a most impressive one and was witnessed by a host of relatives and friends. Our hearts go out with deepest sympathy to the two children who survive him: Julia and Linwood—Mrs. Jordan died almost two years ago, and their grandmother, Mrs. White, was buried New Year's day. We ask their friends in our Conference to remember them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Marshall and Margaret Ann, have returned from Louisville, Ky., where Mr. Marshall has been connected with a tobacco company.

Good wishes to the Herald and its readers

REPORTER.

MARRIED

Yow-Rossen

In a quiet ceremony Sunday afternoon, December 25, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Douglas Yow and John Rossen, both of Gibsonville, were united in marriage. Rev. C. E. Anderson, pastor of the bride, read the vows, using the ring ceremony. The ceremony, which was performed at 2 o'cock, was witnessed by only immediate members of the family.

Wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Goley Yow, sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Rossen is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Yow, of this place. She is also a sister to Coach Virgil Yow, of High Point College. Mr. Rossen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rossen. The bride was attired in a tailored suit of Boy Blue crepe with shoulder corsage of pink rose buds and valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rosen left for a short wedding trip to western North Carolina. On their return they will make their home in Gibsonville.

◆

Sykes-Dixon

A marriage of much interest throughout the Hebron and surrounding communities was that of Miss Velma Sykes to Clayton Dixon on January 28 at 3 p.m. The ring ceremony of the Methodist Protestant church was used, the writer and pastor of the bride officiating.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride, three miles south of Mebane. The home was beautifully decorated with carnations, gladiolas, and narcissi. Prior to the ceremony Miss Evelyn Nicholson and Mrs. Mildred Jones, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly"; Troy Dixon, brother of the groom, sang "The Rosary"; Misses Evelyn and Rozelle Nicholson sang "The Indian Love Call." Mrs. J. E. Foster was the accompanist. The vows were spoken in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends.

Mrs. Dixon is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Sykes of the Hebron community. She is the talented pianist of Hebron M. P. church, of which she is a member. Mr. Dixon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Dixon and is a member of Hawfields Presbyterian church.

The couple will make their home in Burlington where Mr. Dixon is employed. Their many friends join us in heartiest congratulations.

C. P. MORRIS.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Little Lucy Long

Little Lucy Long was born March 23, 1937, died February 5, 1939. Age 1 year, 10 months and 13 days.

Little Lucy was not a healthy child, and was not strong enough to overcome this last illness, so God took her to be with Him where all is health and joy.

She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Long; three brothers and two sisters, grandparents, Mrs. Henry Long, Mr. and Mrs. James Watkins.

Funeral sevices were held at Love's Grove church, conducted by the parents' pastor, Earl A. Cook. Interment was in the church cemetery.

EARL A. COOK.

Mrs. Eva Malitta Fink

Mrs. Eva Malitta Heintz Fink was born April 29, 1855, died December 11, 1938.

She became the wife of John Wilson Fink on November 7, 1880, and to this union ten children were born. Only three sons and two daughters survive. Mrs. H. B. Furr and Mrs. A. L. Dry, A. L. Fink, A. D. Fink and D. C. Fink. Nineteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Fink was converted early in life and joined the Lutheran church of which she was a faithful member until her death. However, she was not able to attend church the last few years of her life, because they were feeble years. She was kind and was so patient. She bore her suffering without a word.

Funeral services were conducted by Earl A. Cook, assisted by M. E. Heckard at Salem Methodist church. Interment was in the church cemetery under a beautiful mound of flowers.

EARL A. COOK.

Walter Gray Morris.

Walter Gray Morris, one of the prominent business men of the city of Denton, the son of the late Branson Morris and his late wife, Mary Elliott Morris, was born in Montgomery county on September 13, 1898 and died in Duke hospital, Durham, N. C., on December 5, 1939. His age at death was 40 years 2 months and 4 days. He was of a family one daughter and three sons, he being the youngest and the first to go.

The surviving sister is Mrs. Van Lanier, and the surviving brothers are A. R. Morris and B. L. Morris, prominent business men and all of Denton, N. C.

On December 20, 1919, Mr. Walter Morris and Miss Ella Carroll were happily united in marriage. This happy couple established their home in Denton, N. C. and this home was blessed with five children all whom are living. One son, Mr. Banks Morris, is serving in the United States Navy and is now located in China. Kemp, Roby and the dear little twin babies, Ann and Nan, are at the home place with the grieved mother.

Irritated SKIN
no matter how tender—amazingly relieved and faster healing aided with reliable
RESINOL
MANY DOCTORS RECOMMEND IT.

As a young man Brother Morris accepted Christ as his Savior and joined Lineberry Methodist Protestant church. He later became a member of Denton Methodist Protestant church where he remained a member until the end.

Brother Morris was a good citizen and a good friend to his fellow man. He believed in doing that which he thought right. He closed his business on Sunday when so many in the same kind of business feel that they must keep open business on the Sabbath. He loved his home and his family, his church and his God. In his very last rational moments he gave assurance that if death came he felt himself ready to go. He was a man of a quiet and even manner but his was such that he had won for himself a great number of friends all of whom will miss him because of his untimely going. Just a short time before the end no one had thought that a condition that mean death. But there was an ailment in his being that could not be overcome by an undaunted courage and by the most skilled treatment such as can be obtained at so great a hospital as that of Duke. It is difficult for us to understand and to be reconciled to such a great loss to the home, the church and the community. But we bow in humble submission to the righteous will of our Heavenly Father and sing with the poet,

"Lord of earth, and God of heaven,
Evermore, thy will be done."

"The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

The funeral was conducted in Denton Methodist Protestant church on December 7, in the presence of the largest attendance the church has ever known. Indeed the church was taxed to its capacity. The large attendance at the funeral and the closing of places of business of the town clearly indicated the high esteem in which Brother Morris was held in the minds and hearts of his fellow citizens. The funeral was in charge of the pastor Rev. Geo. L. Curry while Rev. J. T. Bowman, a former pastor, Rev. W. H. Neese, Rev. Arthur C. Kennedy and Rev. H. M. Stroup neighboring pastors were present. The body was then laid to rest in the Denton cemetery under a profuse bank of beautiful flowers the numerous contributions of many friends and those who loved.

GEO. L. CURRY, Pastor.

Lunda Lewallen Fry.

Lunda Lewallen Fry, wife of the late Cicero Fry, and daughter of Dawson and Nancy Lewallen, was born in southern Randolph county September 28, 1856. Her early life was spent with her parents on their farm near Eula. She attended what public schools there were in the community in those days, and her religious training in the home was supplemented by the Sunday school and worship services of Flag Springs Methodist Protestant church.

On the 8th of September, 1877, she was united in marriage to Cicero Fry, with whom she lived in peace and happiness until his death in February of 1902. To this union were born the following sons and daughters: Gurney, of Asheboro; J. E. Fry, of Elderado, N. C.; Miss Addie, of the home; Mrs. Jacob Gray, and Mrs. J. O. Graves, of Randleman; Mrs. D. O. King, of Eula; and Mrs. A. E. Williams, Asheboro, Rt. 3. Two sons, Lee and Charles, preceded their mother in death.

Some time after the passing of her husband, Sister Fry took up residence in Asheboro, where she resided during the remainder of her life. She was an esteemed citizen and neighbor.

The religious life of Sister Fry began in her early days. When she was young she professed faith in Christ and joined the Flag Springs Methodist Protestant church. Her membership continued there throughout her life. In her passing a good woman has gone to her eternal reward. She was a devoted wife and mother, a good neighbor, a loyal church member, and a devout Christian. The immediate cause of her death was a broken hip which occurred from a fall while she was out in her garden. Her sufferings were borne with patience and resignation. The release came on the 4th of November, last. She died in the triumphs of the Christian faith. Her age is 81 years, 1 month, and 7 days.

The funeral service was held at Flag Springs church, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. H. Hill and the writer. The body was laid to rest under a covering of flowers in the church grave yard. May God's comforting mercies continue to sustain those who feel most keenly the beaking of these earthly ties.

S. W. TAYLOR.

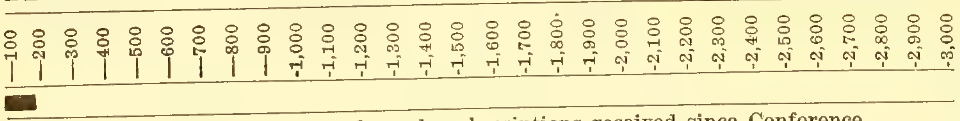
In Memory of William C. Coble

In the passing of W. C. Coble from labor to rest,
The County has lost one of it's noble and best.
His life was always noble, faithful and true,
A servant of the COUNTY not merely a few.
In the going of a loved one and friend we sigh,
We pause on our march, with tear dimmed eye.
Let us think of his life so faithfully done,
Of the mortal laid down, of the crown he has won.
God hath ordained mortal man must die,
But the soul is immortal and lives on high.
Our friend rests from his labor, his example lives on,
We cherish his memory, his work well done.
The home circle, the business circle, all must break,
As our friend leaves us that new journey to take.
Let us remember, as we say goodbye,
Friends must sleep where grasses tangle, flowers wither and die.
Our friend has gone from us to that land of delight,
Where there's no heartaches, no partings and where cometh no night.
Comrades of the County be faithful, noble and true,
And thus be prepared when the call comes to you.

E. C. HAMILTON.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	9	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	2	....
Asheboro	47	3	....
Asheville	13	5	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	5¾	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	1¾	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	22	....
Concord	26	3½	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	8	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	3½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	....	....
Fallston	90	5¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	3¾	....
Forsyth	46	6½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	4	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3	....
Greensboro, West End	25	12¾	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	2½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	4	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	9½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	1	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	1¾	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¾	....
Lexington, First	48	5	....
Lexington, State Street	28	1	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2	....
Moriah	17	5	...
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	11½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	6½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	5¼	....
Reidsville	13	5	....
Richland	35	7½	....
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	3	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	5	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	8	....
Thomasville, Community	18	2½	....
Thomasville, First	25	8½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9	....
Whitakers	8	6	*2.50
Why Not	30	2	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

A FIRST

I am delighted to learn from the HERALD of last week that Liberty church has sent in the full amount of the World Service allotment of $282. So far as I have information this is the first church in the conference to pay in full. I am saying a "God bless you" for Liberty. Pastor Aubert Smith and his splendid congregation have done a good work. I am putting Liberty at the head of the list of the charges that I am keeping that pay in full. I am keeping this list as helpful information in the A. Y. work with which I am charged. Liberty has my gratful thanks for starting it. NEXT?

Asheboro is not quite ready to be a second, though we do have a good start. It is my good faith that April 30th will not find us wanting.

The suggestion of Mrs. Andrews, in last week's HERALD, is a good one, both from the standpoint of the Minnis' salary and also the Appreciation Year. If Sunday school classes will raise definite amounts, the salary will be paid, and a credit may be taken on Appreciation Year, which is the W. S. budget, as every one understands. I do hope that this suggestion my be accepted by many S. S. and C. E. Societies. "All that we need to do great things is a mind to work."

S. W. TAYLOR.

◆

Freddie: "Are you the trained nurse that mama said was coming?"

Nurse: "Yes, dear; I'm the trained nurse."

Freddie: "Let's see some of your tricks, then!"

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. C. T. Luck, Why Not charge	$2.00
John W. Sharpe, Moriah church	1.00
By Pastor Pittard.
J. E. Littleton, Kernersville-S. Winston	1.00
By Pastor Way.
C. B. McCommons, Kannapolis, club subscriptions	5.00
Mrs. J. Henry Cutchin, Whitakers	2.00
Mrs. J. M. Cutchin, Whitakers	2.00
Miss Frances L. Cutchin, Whitakers	2.00
Mrs. R. A. Bradley, Whitakers	1.00
Mrs. W. T. Braswell, Whitakers	1.00
Mrs. Mamie Braswell, Whitakers	2.00
H. A. Braswell, Whitakers	2.00
By Miss Mollie Wheless.
Mrs. W. C. Coble, Tabernacle charge	2.00
Miss Mamie McPherson, First church, Burlington	2.00
W. E. Smith, First church, Burlington	1.00
Joe Holmes, First church, Burlington	2.00
Miss Ila Stafford, First Ch., Burlington	2.00
By Pastor Paschall.
Mrs. C. G. Monnette, W. End church	1.00
Miss Flora Albright, W. End church	2.00
By Mrs. F. S. Stafford.
Mrs. W. G. Crawford, Saxapahaw charge	1.00
Mrs. Stanley Ellington, Granville charge	2.00
By Pastor Pegg.
Mrs. Rose Crew, Spring Church	1.00
By Lie Crew.
Mrs. Roy Johnson, Saxapahaw charge	1.00
By Miss Edith Guthrie.
Mrs. Jas. B. High, Greensville charge	1.00
By Pastor Morgan.
Mrs. J. W. Rich, Concord	1.00
Miss Bertha Ernhart, Concord	2.00
By Mrs. L. H. Sides.
Mrs. C. E. Denick, Spring Church	1.00
Rev. H. L. Isley, Randolph charge	1.00
C. E. Bulla, Asheboro church	2.00
By Mrs. John Taylor.
Mrs. J. R. Blackwelder, Roberta	1.00
W. A. Taylor, Roberta	1.00

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.
ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.
VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 2, 1939 NUMBER 16

Rev H L Isley 23aug9
R 1

Losing the Soul

Rev. J. D. Jones

The soul can be lost—the Bible says so, and the experience of life confirms it. And when I speak about the soul being lost, I am not thinking for the moment about the fate of the soul after death. What may happen to a soul in the world to come I am content to leave in the hands of a wise, holy and loving God. But, short of that final loss, men lose their souls here and now, before our very eyes. We mistake when we postpone this loss to some future world. It is taking place now. We can see the deadly process going on. There are men and women amongst us who have less soul than they started with. Their stock of soul has been diminishing. There are some who seem to have no soul left. For the soul is not a finished product when we get it; it is a power, a capacity, a faculty. And like every other faculty it grows by exercise, it expands by being nourished and fed; but it atrophies and perishes through disuse and neglect.

How does the soul live? On what does the soul live? ''My soul'' cries the psalmist, ''is athirst for God, the living God,'' ''I,'' said Jesus, ''am the bread of life.'' That is how the soul lives—by fellowship with God; by feeding upon Christ; by reproducing the life He lived; by kindness and love and sacrifice; by giving the utmost to the highest; by seeking what is lovely and true and pure and of good report. But when we forget God, when we neglect Christ, when we live for self and the world and sin, we impoverish and destroy the soul. And it is so easy to live this sort of a life. The baser instincts of our own nature tempt us to do it. That is a tremendous word of the Apostle Paul's, and it stands for an experience of which every one of us knows something. ''The flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit lusteth against the flesh.'' We are torn by conflicting impulses. We are dragged in opposite directions, and on the issue of this eternal conflict will it depend what becomes of our souls. For the soul expands and grows when we live for the spirit and crucify the flesh; but it shrivels up and perishes when we live for the flesh and crucify the spirit.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Appreciation Year and College Assessment

Last week I called attention to the fact that the president's advisory committee would be called together to discuss the advisability of postponing the time to raise the High Point College Assessment on account of the Appreciation Year Campaign. This committee met yesterday and discussed the proposition from different angles and decided not to postpone the college campaign. It was pointed out that a few of the churches have already completed the drive for World Service and that others are well along the way. Some put the College Assessment in the church budget and are raising the World Service through special appeals. So it was decided to let the schedule as adopted by the Annual Conference stand and to allow churches to make such adjustments as seem necessary in their own particular case.

College Assessment Called For

In accordance with the schedule of the Annual Conference I am now calling for the High Point College Assessment during the months of March and April. The Conference asked our people to tithe during the month of March and to divide the tithe between the World Service and the Annual Conference Budget. Since the college assessment is a part of the Annual Conference Budget there is no reason why the college assessment cannot be paid by a part of the tithe.

A Sunday Morning At Sandy Ridge

Last Sunday morning was spent with the Sandy Ridge Church on the Kernersville-South Winston charge, Rev. C. B. Way, pastor. This church is some three or four miles west of the Greensboro-High Point Air Port. It is in a good farming section and the community is rather thickly populated. The section has electric power and telephone and has fairly good sand clay roads. But for some reason congregations at this church have declined for a period of years. The heavy rains of last Saturday night and the unfavorable weather Sunday morning evidently kept some people away from the services. There were thirty-two present in Sunday school and about twenty-five present at the church services. This is Brother Way's second year on this charge and he and his family seem popular. Congregations seem to be on the increase at some of the churches, I was told. The Sandy Ridge church is the home church of Rev. J. P. Pegg, the very efficient pastor of the Granville charge. I trust that this church may take on new life and may continue the great work done in other days.

District Rally At Fountain Place

Leaving Sandy Ridge last Sunday, I set sail for Fountain Place Church at Burlington for the 4th District Rally in the afternoon. Here I found a fine group of people from the various churches in the district. It was a pleasure to speak to them on the Appreciation Year Campaign. Following my address the First Church of Burlington gave a pageant called Shrines. This was very effective.

Rev. D. R. Williams Ill

On arriving at Burlington Sunday afternoon I ran in to see Rev. D. R. Williams on Enfied who is ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Staley Garrison of West Davis Street. Brother Williams is suffering from complications caused by the flu and is confined to his bed. It is difficult to tell just how long he will be in.

Pastors' Reports

Recently I asked each pastor in the conference to write out the most important things which have been accomplished during the first quarter of this conference year. For the next few weeks I hope to run on this page as many as possible of the replies received. Here are some things gleaned from the first received:

First Church, High Point, Rev. J. C. Madison, pastor. Nine new members received, church debt reduced by fifteen hundred dollars, regular offerings as good as usual or better. Appreciation Year apportionment accepted and church will try to raise it in full; church attendance unusually good.

Alamance, Dr. Geo. R. Brown, pastor.—All appointments filled, found charge well organized, have been received cordially, electric lights installed in the Rock Creek church and paid for, all the churches contribute monthly to Children's Home, Thanksgiving services for the Children's Home held, all churches have Woman's Auxiliaries, and plan to hold Thank Offering services. Each church has good Sunday school. Center church planning some improvements on building.

Asheboro, Dr. S. W. Taylor, pastor.—Budget for the year promptly set up, ''Loyalty Day'' stressed, appropriate observance of Thanksgiving with offering for Home, Appropriate Christmas observance with offering for Home and needy of community. Watch Night services held, Young People's Day observed with good offering, Bible Sunday observed with sacred concert at evening hour—good day—church consulting with architect looking to improvements on building. Pastor paid in full for the quarter, paid goodly sum on World Service and will press for delegates' expenses. Have had very successful quarter.

Danville, Rev. G. L. Reynolds, pastor.—Some former members returning, Church joining in Evangelistic campaign put on in all Methodist Churches, expect to begin on the new church building at close of evangelistic campaign.

Creswell Charge, Rev. Forrest Wagoner, pastor. — Attendance has increased over that of first quarter last year; salary is being paid more nearly on time. Thanksgiving offering for Children's Home this year was larger than usual.

Seagrove-Love Joy Charge, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, pastor. —New pastor cordially received, goodly amount paid on A. C. B., parsonage debt being reduced, salary fairly well paid up to date, money being raised to seat the church at Seagrove, two new members received at Seagrove.

Kannapolis, Rev. D. T. Huss, pastor.—Money being raised to finish paying church debt. Church to be ready for dedication by June 1 or before. Sunday school improving, more cooperation, several new members received, good interest to-

(Continued on Page Eight)

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 2, 1939 NUMBER 16

A Message in Verse

THE SOUL'S ETERNITY

Author Unknown

The stars shine over the earth,
The stars shine over the sea,
The stars look up to God above,
The stars look down on me.
The stars shall shine for a thousand years,
A thousand years and a day,
But God and I will love and live
When the stars are passed away.

◆

Liberty First Again

A card from Brother W. M. Hanner, of Liberty, states that he was that day sending the full amount allotted to that church for delegates expenses to the Uniting Conference. This makes Liberty the first Church to report that this item had been raised and sent in. We would like to publish each week the names of the charges which raise this apportionment. So let the news come on.

◆

Editorial Comment

A letter from Pastor Aubert Smith of Siler City Charge states that Brother L. L. Wren has sent to Treasurer Allen the apportionment for that church for World Service. Only Hope Church of Pastor Smith's group of churches remains to raise its World Service apportionment to put this charge on the Honor Roll of Churches. We shall await the report from Hope with keen interest.

The Youth Rally of the Greensboro District of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was a great success. The attendance was large and must have gratified those who planned the program. Youth was well represented on the program and represented youth well. Bishop Purcell closed the program with a strong appeal to youth to look to Jesus Christ. We noted several of our ministers present. If this Crusade gathers momentum as it moves towards the end of the four year period it is to run in proportion to the success of the initial meetings, it will in very truth be a Youth Crusade. So mote it be.

As one hears Bishop Clare Purcell speak, the consciousness of his deep spirituality and humility grows upon him. After hearing him address groups of ministers, of university students, and a youth's rally the Editor feels that the Methodists in the Carolinas have one as their leader whose major purpose is to bring them into deeper and fuller spiritual realities. Just the type of person who should go before in spiritual achievement.

Will you not inspect the back page of your Herald. On it you will find the pastoral charge which includes your church. You will also see a quota for Herald subscriptions opposite the name of that charge—one subscription for every ten members of the church, or fractional part of ten. You will also see close to this quota the number of subscriptions sent in this year from your charge. While there are a few charges from which have come no subscriptions since Conference closed, yours may not be such a charge. Now dear reader, if it appears that somebody should get busy and send in a few subscriptions from your charge, we sincerely hope you will see that this is done. We are greatly in need of these tokens of remembrance, called subscriptions, from our church members to make us sure they want the Herald to continue its visits to their homes. Stand by us until the end.

The question has been asked again by one of our pastors what is to be the status of the Herald when union is consummated? We can not now answer that question—we do not know. But we do know that the last annual conference instructed us to publish the Herald this year, and we hope to have the privilege of doing it. And we feel certain that when the paper ceases to exist through a merger with some other paper, those who are then taking the Herald will be fully protected.

◆

AND SHILOH COMES

A card from Brother J. L. Evans, treasurer of Shiloh Church, states that he has forwarded to Treasurer Allen the full apportionment of Shiloh Church, Shiloh Charge, for World Service, and that all the annual conference budget is paid in full; the pastor's salary is paid monthly. Good for Brother Evans, Shiloh Church and Pastor Ridge.

◆

APPRECIATION YEAR RALLY

The Appreciation Year Rally for the Tenth District will be held at Spring Hill Church on the first Sunday in March at 3:00 p. m. Dr. S. W. Taylor of Asheboro will speak. All other ministers in the district are expecting to be present and all committees on the Appreciation Year program are expecting to be present. The public is cordially welcome.

Doris Haynes.

◆

FIFTH DISTRICT RALLY

The Fifth District will hold it's Rally at West End church Sunday afternoon of March the 15th at 2:00 p. m.

There will be a program by the men from 2:00 to 2:45 and by the women from that time until 4:00 p. m. Mrs. E. T. Coble, the district chairman for the women's work, will have as speakers, Mrs. Worth Trogden and Mrs. C. W. Bates. The secretaries of the various societies are asked to report on the work being done.

The men's program is being worked out. There will be special music for the afternoon.

R. C. Stubbins.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

CLEON

By Robert Browning

Browning's greatest contribution to the forms of poetry was his invention and mastery of the dramatic monologue. In 1855, with the publication of Men and Women, he first reached the great heights of his genius in the use of this form, and in many ways he was at the very summit of his poetic powers. His marriage to Elizabeth Barrett, that perfect idyll of married happiness with which the whole world is familiar, had been consummated nine years before, his position in the world of poetry had assumed a solid and satifying basis, and his life was rich and full.

So when he came to write Cleon he could assemble much of the philosophy that he had expressed at one time or an other in various poems, thus making this one of the finest and most profound expressions of his feelings about man's work in the world and the completion of his life in the next. In this poem Cleon is replying to a letter written by Protus, an imaginary king, who is his friend and patron. The thought expressed in the poem is characteristic of that of the Greek philosophers of the first century.

The poem opens with a quotation taken from Acts 17:28, "As certain also of your poets have said"—and the first lines are such a complimentary salutation as one would expect from a poet to one who is first his king, but also his greatly admired friend and, most of all, the patron who has given him the opportunity to advance in his art. In such stately unrimed verse and lofty language as fits the theme Browning allows Cleon to clothe his thoughts.

What a tribute to the laudable ambitions of the king are the lines,

"Didst ne'er engage in work for mere work's sake—
Hadst ever in thy heart the luring hope
Of some eventual rest a-top of it,
Whence, all the tumult of the building hushed,
Thou first of men mightst look out to the East;
The vulgar saw thy tower, thou sawest the sun."

Cleon's achievements "in one short life," as he enumerated them, summing them up in the brief but comprehensive words—"all arts are mine," might seem like boasting if we stopped there, but hear his conclusion as to what the judge will see in his work:

"For, what we call this life of men on earth,
This sequence of the soul's achievement here
Being, as I find much reason to conceive,
Intended to be viewed eventually
As a great whole, not analyzed to parts,
But each part having reference to all—"

One fundamental belief of Browning he gave expression to over and over. In Andrea Del Sarto the painter cried,

"Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp,
Or what's a heaven for?"

Again in Saul David said,

. . . " 'tis not what man Does which exalts him, but what man
Would do!"

And still once more in The Grammarian's Funeral:

"God's task to make the heavenly period Perfect the earthen."

So here Cleon cried out to Zeus

"To vindicate his purpose in our life:
Why stay we on the earth unless to grow?"

To every serious, thoughtful man or woman at sometime has come an almost overwhelming sense of his inability to reach the heights which his soul can dimly perceive in the accomplishments of others who have themselves reached the mountain peaks, but though we may not be able to write the great poem or paint the great picture, there is comfort in the thought that we are able to catch the vision of the master artist. Cleon felt this:

"I am not great as they are, point by point.
With these four, running these into one soul,
But I have entered into sympathy
Who separate, ignored each other's art.
Say, is it nothing that I know them all?"

Protus had asked whether Cleon feared death, since he was leaving so much of himself in the world in his poems and his pictures. In his answer lies great wisdom.

"That imperfection means perfection hid,
Reserved in part, to grace the after-time" and through thought-provoking lines to this ultimate answer:

"Man might live at first
The animal life, but is there nothing more?
In due time, let him critically learn
How he lives; and the more he gets to know
Of his own life's adaptabilities,
The more joy-giving will his life become."

Browning was always insistent upon the mere joy of living; he never scorned the flesh, but believed "nor soul helps flesh more, now, than flesh helps soul." When Protus had sought to find the source of his joy Cleon exclaimed:

"Indeed, to know is something, and to prove
How all this beauty might be enjoyed, is more;
But, knowing naught, to enjoy is something too.

* * * * * * * * *

I know the joy of kingship; well, thou art king!"

Underlying all life is the common cry of all mankind for a knowledge of some life beyond this life; a desire for immortality that is the inherent craving of every individual, pagan or Christian, and Cleon saw Death as the great Liberator and Transformer:

> ''We burst there as the worm into the fly,
> Who, while a worm still, wants his wings.''

In this first century the meaning of Christ much perplexed the world. The pagan Cleon lingered on the fringe of a comprehension of Him, but unlike David, the Jewish lad in Saul, who with prophetic insight caught the vision of the incarnation, Cleon could only say of Paulus and Christus:

> ''Their doctrine could be held by no sane man.''

"CHRIST AND THE WAY"

By Rev. F. W. Stephenson, D.D.

Of the Way—Acts 9:2.

In preparation for the Way, Jesus had the priceless benefits of a thoroughly religious home. Saintly parents are the pre-requisites of a good, that is, a godly home. The spiritual seed sown in the heart of the Child during his early years produced the fruit of kindliness, sympathly, unselfishness and love. And we may add, the fruit of consecration. His experience with the doctors in the temple convinces us that even at the age of twelve He was conscious of a special relatitonship to the Father and that He was intended for a special mission in the world. This being the case, the struggle between His will and that of the Father was inevitable. The Temptation was the turning point in Jesus' life.

"The Choice of the Way"

Not by bread alone.—Luke 4:4.

Scripture: Luke 4:1-13.

The Temptation could have had no meaning for our Lord and still less for us, if it had not been a real experience. His divinity did not preclude, submerge or obliterate His humanity. If He were tempted in all points like as we are, He must have been just as human, just as frail, just as vulnerable. It was an imaginary but a terribly real experience.

The core of this titanic struggle was the temptation to misuse the powers God had bestowed. Would He employ those powers to satify His appetite? Would He use His spiritual resources to capture the glories and plaudits of this world? Would He resort to the marvelous to find a short cut to popularity and dominion? He stood definitely at the forks of the road. The one appeared easy and immediate, the other hard and long. It was a fearful moment for Him. It is none-the-less for us.

Self-indulgence, acclaim and power are the ''bread'' of the world, the meat upon which it feasts. How tempting they are! For the same longings are found in the hearts of all. And today! What frightful consequences are cursing the nations because men serve them instead of serving God.

With us it is a daily encounter, a daily demand for decision. With Jesus, conscious of His divine commission, it was epochal and final. All later temptations, if they came, could be but a shadow compared with this tremendous struggle. Upon the choice made, hung the future for Him and for all the world.

Jesus was well named for such a contest. The word of God was on His lips because it was in His Heart, firmly planted there in the devout Nazareth home. It brought to Him strength and understanding. It cleared His vision to see the difference between the two paths of life. The one was the way of selfishness and sin, the other was the way of self-denial, self-giving and service. He chose God's way.

> To every man there openeth
> A way, and ways, and the way;
> And the high soul takes the high way,
> And the low soul takes the low.
>
> * * * * * * * *
>
> And every man decideth
> The way his soul shall go.
> —John Oxenham.

Prayer: Our Father, we pray for thy blessing upon our homes and the children Thou hast given. We know something of the temptations life will bring and the struggle they must face to keep their goodness, purity and strength. Grant unto all parents grace abundant that in wisdom, patience and understanding they may prepare their children to walk in Thy way, in faithfulness and uprightness. Amen.

A LENTEN OPPORTUNITY

''Lent is the Christian period of self-denial,'' states a recent communication from the Church Committee for China Relief, of 105 East 22nd Street, New York City. ''Why not make your self-denial count by helping save a million babies, boys and girls, men and women in China,—who need food, clothing, medical attention, shelter, and help to become self-supporting again?'' the Committee's statement adds. ''Enlist your family, friends, church school classes, young people's groups, women's and men's organizations in this Christ-like ministry.''

Attention is called to the appropriate ''Dime a Day'' Lenten labels which may be obtained from the Committee without cost. These may be attached to the ''Save Money to Save Lives'' envelopes, of which 500,000 have already been distributed to local committees in many cities of the United States.

This Lenten label reads:

Children—Young People—Adults
A Dime a Day During Lent
February 22 to April 9
WILL SAVE ONE LIFE
IN CHINA
From May Until September Harvest
How Many Lives Will You Save?

From Wynn C. Fairfield, D.D., Director Church Committee for China Relief, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

The high prize of life, the crowning fortune of a man, is to be born with a bias to some pursuit, which finds him in employment and happiness.—Emerson.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER PREACHES TO GENTILES

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, March 5

By Rev. O. L. Easter

Lesson Text—Acts 10:30-48.

Golden Text—Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the end of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.—Isaiah 45:22.

In our present lesson we find the early church at an important cross-road in its young history. Within the vision of its great leader, Peter, concering unclean beasts and its message of universality of God's purpose in this salvation which led the way through Cornelius in to world program we see the first impressive step that they took in giving Christ to the world. For us today who are followers of Jesus it is a bit hard to appreciate the reason for the Jewish Christians being hesitant in preaching Christ to the Gentiles, yet we must see that into their lives had been poured years of social and religious prejudices that were very strong. We all know something of the power of prejudice. Let some one merely tell us of some skeleton in the closet concerning some friend of ours and even when all that we know of that one cries out for us to deny it some how that prejudice to some degree still colors our attitude. Many of us in the South who call ourselves Christians find it very easy to say on the street corner, "I hate a nigger" and if pressed for a reason would have to confess that we do not have any definite ones. The only answer in most cases would be prejudice that had its reason back in another day. The late Dr. Tillett of Vanderbilt University on class one day defined prejudice as being the "mildew of the mind" which is to say that prejudice like mildew results where light is not present. Now the crowning power of Christ is that He is the Light of the world and in this lesson text we see the light penetrating the dark closet of Peter's thinking concerning the Gentiles and thereby dispelling his prejudices concerning all races of men. What a tremendous awakening for all men that was which led these early Christians into the blessed conviction that "God is no respecter of persons."

Robert Frost in his delightful poem Mending Walls has, I think, caught the shallowness and narrowness of human prejudice. In this poem he is describing an old New England custom which has neighbors of adjoining farms to meet each year to mend the old rock wall that divides their farm lands. This custom is handed down with an old saying which has it that "good fences make good neighbors." Frost cleverly shows that in the case of these two neighbors that

"There were it is we do not need the wall:
He is all pine and I am apple-orchard.
My apple trees will never get across
And eat the cones under his pines, I tell him.
He only says, "Good fences make good neighbors."
He will not go behind his father's saying,
And he likes having thought of it so well
He says again, "Good fences make good neighbors."

This neighbor is so wrapped in the old sayings of his fathers that he is blinded to the broader ways of his day. His friend, however, has caught the uselessness of the wall and the foolishness of trying to keep it in repair. Furthermore he sees that it is a stumbling-block to neighborliness.

"Something there is that doesn't love a wall
That wants it down!"

Thus in our lesson we see God patiently reasoning with Peter and the Jewish Christians to show them that the wall of race prejudice which has been handed down to them from their fathers is not right in His sight and that all the conviction of this Christ they preach is that real something which does not love such a wall and wants above all things that it will come down.

This was a hard lesson for Peter to learn and it took the vision from heaven and the voice of the Heavenly Father to effect its teaching. Even with the vision Peter was slow in trusting. When, however he saw the truth of the vision at work in the lives of Cornelius and the other Gentiles, how they had received the Holy Spirit in like manner as the Jew, he was led to perceive that God was truly no respecter of persons. Peter and his frends were more to be excused for their blind prejudice than we Christians of today. We in America who are floundering so richly in the blessings of this new gospel of love and salvation can not hope to be excused easily when we seek to keep this saving faith within our own borders, for were it not for the universality of Christianity we would be without its light today. It is with deep gratitude that we should sing that great hymn which says:

"In Christ there is no East or West,
In Him no South or North;
But one great fellowship of love
Throughout this whole wide earth."

Hear the Master's words in this matter: "By this shall men know that ye are my disciples, that ye have love one to another." Not by color, clan, nor name does God call us but by the language of love and that operates in any human heart any where.

◆

APPRECIATION YEAR RALLY

An Appreciation Year Rally for Randolph Charge will be held at Gray's Chapel Church on the second Sunday afternoon in March, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. S. W. Taylor, chairman of our district, will preside. Mrs. Bruce Pugh, one of the leading members of Gray's Chapel, will conduct a brief worship program. Special music will be furnished. Dr. Taylor and Mrs. W. C. Hammer will be the speakers. A large attendance is desired.

H. L. Isley.

◆

If I know anything about farming, it takes an expert to sow, a novice to reap. The sower and the reaper shall rejoice together.—Jock Troup, Scotland.

OUR CHURCH—HER PAST

By Rev. J. Elwood Carroll

(Continued from Last Week)

The Objectives of the Reformers Were Realized

At the second General Convention, held also in Baltimore, two years later (1830), the objectives of the Reformers were incorporated in the newly adopted "Constitution and Discipline of the Methodist Protestant Church," which contained a historical sketch of Methodism, the Constitution composed of a preamble and seventeen articles, Wesley's General Rules, the regular Methodist Twenty-five Articles of Religion, the ritual for the celebration of baptism, communion, burial, ordination, and marriage, as well as the required course for preachers on trial, blanks and forms for various uses, and a statement of the boundaries of the several annual conferences.

Membership in a local church was based upon only one requirement:—"A desire to flee from the wrath to come, and be saved by grace, through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, with an avowed determination to walk in all the commandments of God blameless." (C. & D., 1831, p. 16).

1. The Mode of Trial. Criticism of the mode of trial as incorporated in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church began in 1798 when Simon Sommers suggested to Bishop Asbury that it should be altered. The major objection to the mode of trial as practiced by the Methodist Episcopal Church, advanced by the Reformers was that it did not allow the accused person ample time to prepare his defense between the date on which he recieved his notice and the convening of the court to hear his case. Samuel K. Jennings, of Baltimore, received his summons on September 19, 1827, and was to be tried the next day. William W. Hill, of North Carolina, had only a two-day notice of his trial. So, in an effort to get a change in the mode of trial, the General Reform Convention, which met in Baltimore during November of 1827, requested in its Memorial to the General Conference of 1828 be modified.

The mode of trial in our Church was fully and pedantically set forth in Articles X and XIV of the Constitution, which parts could be changed only by a two-thirds vote of the annual conferences and the General Conference.

2. Rights of the Local Preachers. John Wesley had a wonderful ability to use laymen in his evangelical movement. These men were given a license to preach and exhort. The number of these traveling and local preachers was ever increasing. It has been estimated that there were at least two thousand local preachers in America by 1804 (Mutual Rights, 1, 402). In 1809, Bishop Asbury had a list of 1,610 local preachers' names and addresses, but he supposed that the number represented only about half the total. By 1823 there were 6,878 local preachers in American Methodism (Ibid, I. 402).

These local preachers had no rights in any of the governing bodies of the Church. So, in 1820, John C. French brought their cause before the General Conference, pointing out the friction between the local preachers and traveling ministers. French asked that, either the local preachers be given a voice in the governing bodies, or be allowed to have their own separate bodies. The latter was granted, but soon repealed.

In the Methodist Protestant Church, the local preachers were made official members of the quarterly conference and could be elected in the place as a lay delegate to the annual and general conferences.

3. The Election of the Presiding Elder. The presiding elder was the "assistant bishop." The position, but not the title of presiding elder, had been recognized at the Christmas Conference. In fact, the thirteen elders elected there were presiding elders, for each of them had a certain territory and several preachers under his care and supervision. The title "presiding elder" appears in the Minutes of the Council in 1789 and 1790, then lost until officially adopted in 1797 (1, 33, 75).

The Presiding Elder had the power to change, receive, or suspend preachers during the intervals between annual conference sessions; to call together the preachers at each quarterly meeting; to see that the District Discipline was enforced; and to attend the bishop when present in the District, and give him a written account of affairs when absent. In this way no preacher of any grade or station was ever left a day without a superior. DuBose says, "The presiding eldership in early Methodism was the right arm of its power. It made the episcopacy effective—the episcopacy as expressed in the authority, personality, and policy of Francis Asbury." (Mutual Rights, 1. 402).

The first entrance of the presiding elder issues into the General Conference was in 1800. There had been, however some criticism of the power of the bishop which was augmented by the increasing number of presiding elders. At this General Conference a resolution was offered authorizing the annual conferences to elect the presiding elders within their areas. The resolution was lost. The issue has come up in some form in practically every General Conference since that time; also, in the General Conferences of the M. E. Church, South, but has always been defeated.

Our Church solved the problem in the early days by having the stationing committee designate the "presiding elder" who supervised the several preachers on a circuit. His term was for only one year, but could succeed himself. But with the development of the appointments to a full-time, one man's responsibility, the presiding elder passed out of the picture.

4. Closely related to presiding elder was the issue of the Power of the Bishops and the General Conference. The issue was brought to a focus in September, 1822, when Nathan Bangs issued his pamphlet the "Vindication of Methodist Episcopacy," which he defended upon the sole ground of "necessity from the moral state of society." (P. 96). Prior to that time much discussion of, and criticism directed towards the Church which had in its governing bodies only ministers, and they in turn controlled by presiding elders and bishops, had been published in the Wesley Repository.

(To Be Continued Next Week)

* * *

Theaters are largely filled and churches are largely emptied because actors treat fiction as fact, while many preachers treat fact as fiction. Jock Troup, Scotland.

DO IT NOW

It is imperative that our denomination have its full quota of delegates present at the Uniting Conference in Kansas City on April 26. To fail to do so might suggest that we are not as whole-heartedly interested in the outcome of such a momentous meeting as we have professed to be, or it might suggest that, because of a failure on our part to provide adequately for the expenses of our delegates to and from the meeting, many of them were forced to remain at home. It is my belief that an overwhelming majority of the members of our church are whole-heartedly in favor of Methodist union, and that they want all of their delegates to be present and participating when it is consummated. I believe, also, that all of us are agreed that no delegate ought to be expected to give his time and pay his own expenses while rendering this important service for the entier denomination.

Having said so much let me hasten to call attention to the fact that in the past we have never paid all of the expenses of our delegates to our conferences, even though assessments have been made for this purpose. Many of our laymen are fully able financially to meet such an expense, but they ought not to be expected to do so. However, few if any of our ministers are able to do so, and unless the assessment made for this purpose is paid some of our ministers will of necessity be kept away from the meeting.

I wonder if it would not be a source of real joy if every charge in the conference paid its assessment for this purpose not later than April 10. Even if this is done each delegate will be under the necessity of paying a part of his expenses out of his own pocket for the reason that the amount assessed is not large enough to meet them in full.

As chairman of a committee appointed by President Pritchard to boost the payment of this assessment in full by all of the charges, I am urging our churches to raise this assessment at once if possible, and send it to Mr. J. H. Allen, Treasurer, Reidsville, N. C. The other members of the committee, Dr. S. W. Taylor, of Asheboro, and Mr. M. A. Coble, of Burlington, N. C., are hereby authorized to add two big boosts to this little one.

GEO. E. BROWN.

The President's Letter

(Continued from Page Two)

ward winning the lost, pastor thinks all claims will be paid in full. Prospects good for best year yet.

Shiloh Charge, Rev. C. E. Ridge, pastor.—All budgets accepted, World Service will be paid by April 30th, all churches gave largest Thanksgiving offering to Children's Home, ever, all churches paid HERALD subsidy in full. Shiloh church has paid every budget except W. S. Shiloh and Friendship churches have paid pastor to date, received seven new members, attendance and spirituality gratifying. Charge will meet all conference requirements.

First Church, Thomasville, Rev. J. T. Bowman, pastor.—Interest and attendance good, cooperation especially fine, congregation pledge to do its best to raise World Service, all other finances paid to date, appropriate services held at Christmas. Unusually good Young People's Day services held, with good offering.

Guilford Charge, Rev. Joel B. Trogdon, pastor.—Already goodly sum raised on World Service. People seem determined to raise it in full. Churches asked to tithe during the month of March, special offerings will take care of Annual Conference budget. Good spirit manifested at each church, good attendance at all the Sunday schools.

Anderson Charge, Dr. T. M. Johnson, pastor.—Continuation of iprovementts on buildings and grounds at both churches, increased interest in World Service, amount raised will be larger this year than last, Ladies' Aid Society of Fairview church planning for review of mission study book, "Moving Millions." Fairview church giving emphasis to temperance. Each church planning to hold a five day leadership school; general condition as to interest and spirituality gratifying.

Spring Church Charge, Rev. J. E. Garlington, pastor.—Response has been very good along all lines, endeavoring to raise all claims, $434.00 paid on debt at Spring Church, good Young People's Day offering at each church with helpful services, most of A. C. claims paid, new hymnals purchased at Spring Church, Thanksgiving offering for Home amounted to $78.54, Woman's Auxiliary active, pastor's salary about paid to date.

Richland Charge, Rev. C. L. Grant, pastor.—A. C. expenses raised at Giles, Browers and Charlotte, Browers and Giles have paid delegates' expenses, some raised on World Service. $100.00 raised for parsonage improvement, Charlotte has about completed Sunday school rooms, the total cost being about $1,300.00 with $400.00 yet to be raised, Browers has underpinned church and built steps at cost of $140.00—all paid, Cemetery at Giles has been greatly improved, six new members have been received, think the charge will raise most of World Service.

Mebane, Rev. D. I. Garner, pastor.—Church attendance best during present pastorate, A. C. expenses paid in full, more raised already on World Service than was raised during all of last year, pastor's salary almost paid to date.

Mt. Hermon, Rev. J. R. Anderson, pastor.—Young People's Day being observed, delegates' expenses being raised, outlook for World Service is good, the people in fine spirit, the work is going fine.

Graham, Rev. H. F. Surratt, pastor.—White Gifts service in interest of Children's Home held at Christmas with good results, Young People's Day services and offering good, study course for church officials conducted, splendid attendance at morning worship services, finances in better shape than at this time last year; World Service assessment being raised; joined in Union Prayer services first week in 1939 in which all churches of the city joined.

Appointments

Sunday, March 5th, Forsyth Charge, 11 a. m. Maple Springs, 7:30 p. m. Mt. Carmel.

Sunday, March 12th, 11 a. m. Albemarle; 2:30 p. m. Pine Bluff.

Sunday, March 19th, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Enfield.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

RURAL AMERICA—A NEW FRONTIER

Christian Endeavor Topic for March 12, 1939

By JOSEPH COBLE

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, March 6 — Messiah's earthly blessing. Ps. 72:1-8.

Tuesday, March 7—Sharing with God. Prov. 3:9, 10.

Wednesday, March 8—A lesson from lilies and birds. Matt. 6:25-34.

Thursday, March 9—Fate of a rich farmer. Luke 12:16-21.

Friday, March 10—Parable of the sower. Matt. 13:1-9.

Saturday, March 11—Spiritual sowing and reaping. Gal. 6:7, 8.

The Text: Prov. 24:27-32.

Perhaps the greatest problem that confronts the church today, especially in North Carolina, is the situation in rural communities—a new frontier that is worthy of our consideration. In the past the rural church has been adequately meeting the needs and has sent out into the world some of the finest men and women that America has produced. The one room church which was the center of the community life reached all of the people of the community. The one or two sermons a month along with the annual visit of the minister, the revival meeting, and family worship instilled something into the hearts and minds of the young people that grew without interference.

Even though in America there are more people living in rural communities than ever before, and present a problem that is worthy of our interest, we perhaps should consider the conditions that exist in North Carolina. While there are still a large number of people who live in rural communities, many of them work in the industrial plants of the cities and towns. Thus the country young people go to the town for education, employment and recreation.

Those who do secure an education and thus might become leaders in local church and community remain in the towns. The rural community has been deprived of these talented young people who should be the leaders in the local church and community. The other young people, those who work in the towns and who may stay at home or come back to the country for the week-end, feel that the one-roomed church is out-of-date and unable to meet their needs, and all too often it is.

These young people associate with town young people, they dress just as nice as do their city cousins. They have money to spend for the same expensive amusements, and so when Sunday comes they are not satisfied to go to the country church with its inadequate program but rather they enjoy commercial amusements that have been denied them in the past.

With small scattered rural churches of various denominational connections which refuse to cooperate with each other, even in the same community; with the people of the community who are earning money, spending it elsewhere; with very little local leadership; and with the type of minister who are willing to work on the salaries paid, we find our rural churches in a pitiful, run-down condition. The buildings need repairs, the equipment and literature is inadequate, and the congregation is made up of some old people who run the church just as it was run a few generations ago, and of a few children who can not get to town for recreation.

There are many organizations who are looking after such situations in urban communities but very little has been done in rural sections. Trained leadership, which in turn would bring a well-worked out program, or the money that would secure such leadership is the greatest need.

Some few churches have leadership training courses, but in many the Christian Endeavor society is the only place where youth may develop itself for leadership. Real good could be done for all parties concerned if a C. E. society in some urban community would go to some rural church with its one sermon a month program and conduct a real program, even to the extent of some of the members doing the preaching on some Sundays. The rural churches could secure from the denominational leaders, at very little cost, a leadership training course that would enable them to revitalize the church and its program.

The best move that has been taken to meet this new frontier in the rural church, has been the working together of different churches of different denominations in the same community to bring to the people an adequate program that will lead the people of the community into a new religious experience—that will meet the needs of the people. It will be only when Christians are willing to work together that this new frontier will be conquered for Christ.

◆

GREATNESS

I like the man who faces what he must
With step triumphant and a heart of cheer,
Who fights the daily battle without fear,
Sees the hopes fail, yet with unfaltering trust
That God is God—that somehow, true and just,
His plans work out for mortals. Not a tear
Is shed when fortune, which the world holds dear,
Falls from his grasp. Better with love a crust
Than living in dishonor; envies not.
Nor loses faith in man, but does his best,
Nor even murmurs at his humble lot;
But, with a smile and words of hope, gives zest
To every toiler. He alone is great
Who, by a life heroic, conquers fate.

—Sarah Knowles Bolton.

◆

A man knocked up the doctor in a small village at 3 a.m., and asked him to come immediately to a place about 10 miles away.

The doctor dressed and got out his car, and they drove furiously to their destination.

Upon arrival the man asked, "What is your fee, doctor?" "A guinea," the doctor replied in some surprise.

"Here it is then," said the man, handing over the money, "and cheap, too. The garage man wanted thirty bob to drive me over. You see, I missed the last train."

MARRIED

Snider-Floyd

On Christmas eve, in the parsonage of the First M. P. church of Thomasville, Miss Lois Snider and Marshall Floyd were united in marriage by James T. Bowman. The ring ceremony of the M. P. church was used.

Mrs. Floyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Snider of Denton. She is a graduate of Denton high school.

Mr. Floyd is the youngest son of Mrs. David Floyd and the late Mr. David Floyd. He is a graduate of Denton high school and is a promising young farmer of near Denton. He is an active member of Central M. P. church of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd are now at home to their many friends near Denton. May they have happiness and success in life.

JAMES T. BOWMAN.

◆

Riley-Smith

A marriage of much interest to the people of the Union Grove community and Hillsboro was that of Miss Flora E. Riley to Connor L. Smith on Sunday, January 22, at 10 minutes until 9 o'clock a.m. The marriage took place at the Orange charge parsonage in Efland, with Rev. C. P. Morris, pastor of the bride, officiating, using the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Parker and Mrs. Morris were the only witnesses of the ceremony.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Riley of the Union Grove community. She is a member of Union Grove church and a very capable reporter to the Herald. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Smith of Hillsboro.

We extend to this couple our hearty wishes for success and happiness.

C. P. MORRIS.

◆

MISTAKES

Machines, I take it, do not make mistakes;
Let me be glad that I am no machine,
And that I err, being human.
He's not a fool
Who makes mistakes, but he is thrice a fool
Who makes the same mistakes continually
Show me the man who never makes mistakes,
And I will show you one who never makes
Anything else. The errors of the past
Herald the future's wisdom and success;
I think that no man ever did become
A great man or a good one, save by making
Many and great mistakes. I wish that I
May find myself among the very few
Who, having erred, acknowledge it. Because
So many I have known—so terribly many!—
Who, though the world derides their claims as nonsense,
Maintain that they are right against the world.
I know one man who has not made a blunder
For twenty years; the record shows that he Died on November Tenth, 1916.

—Ted Robinson.

◆

Teacher: "Your history was bad, and you had to write it out 20 times, but you have only done it 17 times."

Boy: "Yes, sir; my arithmetic is bad, too."

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

AS TO CREDITS ON BUDGETS

In my article on page six of the Herald of February 16, I made the statement that Minis' fund is a credit on World Service.

Yesterday an Auxiliary treasurer asked if she could count what she had sent in on Minnis' fund, to the credit of her Auxiliary World Service budget. If any other Auxiliary treasurers are confused on this matter I should like to clear it up. At Annual Meeting last April every Auxiliary was given a general World Service apportionment, and nearly every Auxiliary was also given a speciled World Service apportionment known as Minnis' fund; it will be necessary for both these items to be paid as given in order that the Auxiliary may meet its budgets in full.

If all Auxiliaries raise their general World Service apportionments in full we will have a total of $4,730 in that item which includes Thank Offerings. Our state treasurer has already received $947 for Minnis' salary. The N. C. Branch has an apportionment of $6,000 for World Service given it by the convention. Although no definite amount was apportioned each Auxiliary for Thank Offering the Branch set its own goal of $2,000 for the two Thank Offerings and we hope these offerings will swell the general World Service funds far enough above the apportionments to reach $6,000; we believe they will if every church in our state is given an opportunity to make a Thank Offering after having an explanation made of the meaning of the offering.

And if in addition to this the various organizations in the churches help us to raise the full Minnis' salary, as suggested in the article referred to above, we will almost have the Love Gift of 10% above our budget asked of all Branches by the convention.

We will need to do all of this for a real observance of Appreciation Year.

Please talk this and work it and pray earnestly for it.

Waiting with earnest expectation for the consummation of our hope, I am,

Yours very sincerely,
MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, President,
N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

◆

URGENT CALL TO PASTORS AND AUXILIARY PRESIDENTS

Lawndale, N. C.
Feb. 27, 1939.

As an Auxiliary worker who is deeply interested in N. C. Branch of Women's Work, may I have space to write a letter to the Herald this week urging a 100% observance of Thank Offering? Please heed this call to observe Thank Offering in every church in our N. C. Conference at an early date. The month of February is the regular time to hold our spring Thank Offering service, but if any church or Auxiliary has failed to hold it in February then plan your services immediately and observe Thank Offering as early in March as possible.

"Giving for Gratitude" is our Thank Offering theme this year, and surely, it is a very appropriate theme for this our last year as a Methodist Protestant denomination when we are celebrating "Appreciation Year." As a church and as individuals, we certainly have much for which to be grateful. How are we showing our gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the many, many blessings He bestows upon us each day? When the church makes a plea for some worthwhile project, do we turn a deaf ear and complain about how much the preacher begs for money for this cause and that? Remember Christ gave His all for us, and if we are true Christians I believe we will be glad to give a proportionate part of our income to His work. In II Corinthians 9:7 we read, "So let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver."

Let's show our gratitude by observing Thank Offering in every church of our Conference. I believe it can be done if every pastor will cooperate and do a little extra work. So, pastors, even if all your churches do not have Auxiliaries please get busy and plan a Thank Offering service for each of your churches. Send the offering to Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C., and tell her it is your Thank Offering and she will be glad to credit it on both the World Service budget of the church and the Auxiliary. Now will not that be an easy way to help raise your World Service budget in full? If each of the 222 churches in our Conference would send a Thank Offering of $5 each we could more than reach our goal, which is $1,000.

So pastors and Auxiliary presidents, let's boost this work and see that our N. C. Branch of Women's Work goes over the top. if you need any literature or information about Thank Offering write Mrs. W. C. Hammer, Asheboro, N. C., and she will send you some free literature.

"Must I give again and again?
'Ah, no,' said the angel, looking me through.
'Just stop when the Father stops giving to you'."

MRS. T. G. MADISON.

◆

MINNIS' FUND

We are on the home stretch and we are going to raise the Minnis' salary in full. If you continue to send me reports like this:

First church, Thomasville, $15.00; West End, Thomasville, $5.00.

These are Love Gifts—above their apportionments. Will everybody please send me a card telling me how much your Auxiliary has sent above apportionment and how much any C. E. society, S. S. class or Ladies' Aid has sent or is sending and get your name in this list of givers of Love Gifts to the Minnis' fund.

Yours for the fund in full,
MRS. H. C. NICHOLSON.

◆

"Ah, you have no idea what seasickness is, Katherine. If you had it and anyone came and wanted to kill you, you would offer to make him your sole heir!"

◆

"How is it that you have a picture of only one of the twins?"

"They both look exactly alike, so what's the difference?"

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Orange Chapel, Saxapahaw	$ 1.00
Reidsville, S. S.	10.00
Mt. Moriah S. S., Cleveland	.78
Pleasant Gap S. S., Democrat, clothing child	9.50
Shady Grove S. S., Connelly Springs	1.00
Browers Chapel S. S., Richland	8.60
Shiloh S. S., Shiloh	10.00
Saxapahaw S. S., Saxapahaw	2.00
Liberty S. S.	5.00
Calvary S. S., Greensboro	15.00
Bethel, Randolph	3.66
Union Ridge S. S., Forsyth	5.00
Charlotte, Richland, Jan. and Feb.	10.32
The Ladies' Bible class, R. I. Avenue, Washington, D. C., clothing child	5.00
Flag Springs S. S., Why Not	2.50
Tabernacle S. S., Tabernacle	7.06
Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	1.29
Miss Vera P. Wilson, Clinton, S. S., tithes	5.00
Miss Gladys Wilson, Clinton, S. C., tithes	5.00
Rockingham S. S.	2.00
Yarborough Chapel S. S.	3.87
Fountain Place S. S., Burlington	5.42
Milton, Del., T. O.	4.00
Friendship S. S., Haw River	5.00
The Ethel Hempstead Circle, Inwood, L. I., feeding child	5.00
Baltimore S. S., W. Forsyth	3.00
Maple Springs S. S., Forsyth	5.00

We are truly thankful for these gifts of money winding up the contributions received for February. We pray God's blessings upon all who have contributed.

Please Note

When you read this March will have come. For the last several years we have had to ask all our good people for a boost in their offerings for March to make up for the falling off of offerings during January and February. We hereby make our appeal for increased offerings in March this year for the same reason. We have fallen behind for these last two months, so please help us out.

If your church or Sunday school has set a goal and is living up to it, we thank you. If not, then please set a goal and a worthy one. Flag Springs, Why Not has increased its goal for this year by 50c per month: Shiloh on Shiloh by $1.50 per month, and First church, High Point, by $10 per month. Henderson set a goal for this year, and a number of other Sunday schools are keeping up their regular goals. This helps us wonderfully. But the great majority of Sunday schools just send us whatever they get whether it be a rainy Sunday or a fair Sunday. Rainy Sundays cut us down.

Special Note

The main thing which has cut our offerings down during January and February this year is the great number of Sunday schools and churches which have not sent any offerings during these two months. We know they do not mean to quit us, so are asking that they make it up during March. Thank you and God bless you every one.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

First Church, Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor. — Workers' Council was held Tuesday evening, February 14, at the home of Mrs. R. S. Garmon on Mathinson avenue. After the business meeting a Valentine party was enjoyed by those attending.

Mr. L. W. Garmon, superintendent of our Sunday school, has been elected secretary of the City-Wide Asosciation of Superintendents. We are sure that he will fill this office successfully, as he is one on whom you can depend. We are indeed proud of him, and our cooperation is extended to him in any way we can help.

Our pastor delivered two very good sermons Sunday. His subject for the morning service was "Reasons for Living." His evening subject based on the fifth commandment, "Honor Thy Parents."

An executive meeting of the Mecklenburg County C. E. Union officers was held Sunday afteronon at our church. Plans are being made for the rally which will be held the first Sunday in March.

We were glad to see Mr. Harwood back at church after his illness, also Mr. James McCall. Both have been in the hospital, but we are glad to know that they are able to be out again.

Mr. C. S. Wilson, a former member of our church, returned to teach the Adult class last Sunday.

The young people have started working on the play, "The Unlighted Cross," to be presented on Easter Sunday. The play, "Opening the Door," was such a success, we are planning also on a big success for the new one.

◆

Draper Church, J. L. Love, Pastor, Feb. 26.—We are glad to report that our Sunday school and church attendance are the best they have ever been. We are happy that our church continues to improve. The remarks you hear is, our church is in the best shape it has ever been in. Our pastor has been working hard these years he has been with us and continues to give us splendid sermons. We had a fine attendance at both services yesterday. Mrs. Pearl Barber united with our church last night, coming from the Baptist church. We have received a good number of new members this year, several have been converted since our last report and united with our church. We are also expecting our spring revival will start Sunday. Pray for us that there may be a great ingathering of souls during the service.

Sunday will be set apart as a special day to raise the Annual Conference expenses and the expenses of the delegates to the uniting conference. Our pastor has been faithful and is doing his best to raise these claims, so we are hoping to raise these next Sunday. We can't understand why some people wont to wait till the last of the year to pay these claims. We should appreciate our church enough to sacrifice if necessary.

Our church has bought a bus, which is very much needed, since our church is at the edge of Draper. We have some faithful members who walk from the other side of town to attend our church, others who want to come but it is to far for them to walk. This has been a handicap to our church all these years. We are hoping this will be cleared up. We are getting our bus today and hoping to have it running next Sunday.

Our Ladies' Aid is working and doing all they can to help with the finances of the church.

Our C. E. society is going along fine. Our choir has been greatly improved since our weekly choir practice every Tuesday night. We are having Bible studies each Wednesday evening, they are very interesting.

Pray for us that our church may continue to go forward.

A MEMBER.

◆

Ebenezer, Greensville Charge, J. M. Morgan, Pastor.—It has been some time since our last report, nevertheless we are moving on. Brother Morgan has filled every appointment and has brought to us a wonderful message each time.

Yesterday he was greeted by an average attendance with several visitors present, among this number was Mrs. C. L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wood and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pearson, of Roanoke Rapids, N. C. Mr. Morgan brought to us the beautiful picture of Elijah and Elisha, and urged us to pray the prayer of Elisha: "That a double portion of his spirit might fall on us."

Our Sunday school attendance is not what it should be partly due to so much sickness in our church family. The names are as follows: Mrs. John Ludor, Mrs. Nannie Wrenn, Miss Lillie Moore, Miss Mary Lee Pearson and Mrs. J. B. High; we are hoping and praying they will all soon be able to come back to church and fill their places again.

We are planning an Easter program to be given the second Sunday night, April 9, if no other announcements is made. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MRS. F. A. PEARSON.

◆

Mill Grove, Midland Charge. — Sunday, February 26, was preaching again; Brother Cook gave us a fine sermon; the text was 63rd Psalms and 7th verse. Subject, "The Help and Refuge of God." His sermon was very inspiring to those who are looking for a better way of living, we should all be glad to have some one to show us the way to a better life while there are a great number to whom we talk who will say they are going to live better but when they get from our sight they seem to forget that there is a Heavenly Father who loves them. Some will think of what God gives them and are thankful for His blessings. We have our problems to contend with, I think if all the members of the different churches could have Brother Cook's pleading and advice that we all would live better lives. Brother Cook is a consecrated, hard working pastor, he gets things done that some times seems almost impossible. He has done something for our church that no other pastor has ever done; he has printed a church directory and yearbook for every member of the church. I think that is a very fine thing for the members. We are very thankful to him for these little books.

On last Sunday, February 19, the children, brothers and friends of Mrs. C. W. Mesinhimer, gave her a surprise birthday dinner. There was a well-filled table of good things to eat. All of the children were present except George. We miss George very much, but he has a good position and we hope will make good.

Pray for all our work at Midland. We are always glad to hear from our former pastors.

CHAS. W. MESINHIMER.

◆

Bethany, Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor.—Young People's day was observed on the third Sunday in February. Mr. Isley preached a very inspiring sermon especially for the young people. A nice offering was taken for the World Service budget.

Our attendance has been good in spite of sickness and bad weather.

Mrs. Clarence Baldwin is taking treatment at the Barnes-Griffin clinic. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Adelaide Osborne, of Worthville, is ill in the Randolph hospital. Mrs. Osborne is one of the oldest members of our church. We hope she will soon be well. Another of our older members, Miss Jane Davenport, has been sick at the home of her sister, Mrs. Tom Gaston.

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Earl Cox and children, of Ramseur, in the passing of Mr. Cox. Mrs. Cox is a member of our church.

The Christian Enedavor society met Sunday night with Paul Routh as leader. A very interesting program was given. Allene Julian will be the leader next Sunday night.

REPORTER.

◆

College St., Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Spring's just around the corner everybody. It makes us all feel so happy to see the shrubbery budding.

The third Sunday was a beautiful day. And along with the pretty weather to enjoy, we also enjoyed the fine message our pastor brought to us. It was based on us Christians sympathizing with the unsaved world. We had quite a few visitors among our congregation of which some were from out of town.

Since our last report, a group of the Auxiliary met with Mrs. W. L. Perkinson to put the finishing touches to the quilt we have been making; now it is ready to be sold.

Tuesday before the third Sunday several of the members spent the day cleaning the church and the church grounds.

Prayer service and choir practice have begun again at the church, having it at 7:30 o'clock Friday night of each week.

Mr. and Mrs. Broome and family were the dinner guests of Mrs. J. W. Warren Sunday.

We regret to report that there is lots of sickness in and around our town and community. Mr. Tasker Williams is sick with flu now and several members of Mr. John Harris and Mrs. Perkinson's families have been sick with flu also.

The Auxiliary met with Mrs. Bud Perry for the February meeting. Miss Annie Perkinson had charge of the program. Our

Our president, Mrs. Sallie Williams, was away at this time, so the vice-president presided over the meeting.

Our latest project now is selling of flavoring extracts and gelatine. The product was distributed to each member during Auxiliary meeting. We are hoping to make this undertaking a success, and pray for us to be successful in all our undertakings that are righteous in the sight of the Lord.

ANNIE PERKINSON, Reporter.

◆

Rehoboth, Granville Charge, J. P. Pegg, Pastor, Feb. 21.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday, February 19. He brought us a very inspiring message from the second chapter of St. John. Before taking his text he gave the young people an interesting talk on "Great Americanism and Their Religion." Our congregations are holding up well under the present circumstances of sickness in the community.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock we had our Missionary Thank Offering service and Young People's program combined. The program consisted of recitations, special music, readings and a pageant. This was well rendered under the direction of Mrs. H. L. Wright, Thank Offering secretary, and Miss Naomi Breedlove. We were glad to have Rev. and Mrs. Cranford, of Henderson, with us at this service.

Friday evening, February 24, at 7:30 o'clock. Circles No. 1 and 2 of our Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Richard Harris in a joint meeting. We are nearing the end of our Auxiliary year and we hope to have all members present.

MRS. MAUDE W. HIGHT, Reporter.

◆

Shiloh, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—Our work here continues to move along very satisfactorily. February 19 was observed as Young People's day at Shiloh. Two weeks before, our pastor set three goals for that day—350 on Sunday school roll; $100.00 offering nad every member contributing. The enrollment reached 349, and the offering went to $103.40 for the morning service. The Sunday school attendance was 272.

Sunday, too, was our regular offering for the Children's Home. Our apportionment has been $8.50 per month but since we've been collecting more than that amount, we raised the amount to $10 per month.

Our pastor gave a special Young People's message which was very deep and instructive. Music was furnished by the young people, with special selections given by the Primary department and also the Harmony Four (a newly-organized quartet, three of which are our own boys, namely our choirleader, Coley Scott, David Heitman, and Grady Leonard. R. L. Young, the fourth member, is from Reeds' Baptist church.)

Not only do our young people take active part in regular Sunday school and worship services but our C. E. society is one that is outstanding in our Conference. We give much credit to the C. E. society for helping to enable our young people to take the active part in leadership that exists in our church. Much of the spiritual life and activity of our young people originates in the C. E. society.

Blanche Sink and Mabel Berrier from our church, with Rev. and Mrs. Ridge, attended the Conference-wide Appreciation year meeting at Grace church, Greensboro, last Monday and enjoyed it very much. It was an inspirational meeting and we believe that you can watch for the report of Shiloh paying her World Service budget in full at an early date, since this item is causing much concern and work and the Conference urges payment before April 30, which is the dead line.

Our weekly prayer service are continuing with great interest and fair attendance. These services are proving helpful to our church's spiritual life. Next Sunday our monthly prayer service will be conducted by the Brotherhood's class of which Mrs. Wiley Shoaf is teacher.

Continue to pray for our success in the Master's service. REPORTER.

◆

Weaver's Chapel Church, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Since we haven't made a report for sometime doesn't mean that we are not working just as hard.

Our pastor has been bringing fine messages, and on February 3 the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large crowd.

At last we have organized a Ladies' Auxiliary. Our first meeting was held at the church last Wednesday night. Considering the cold weather there was quite a number present. Mrs. Hervie Harper was elected president. She will have charge of the next meeting at her home. We are making a quilt and hope to have it finished soon.

The Sunday school is very active with much interest and cooperation. Last Sunday our pastor's three children sang "Jesus Loves Even Me" beautifully.

We are planning an Easter program and looking forward to making it a real success.

We are glad that Mrs. N. E. Wilson is able to be up and hope she will soon attend church and Sunday school as we need her help in our work.

BETTIE MAE KING, Reporter.

◆

Concord, E. O. Peeler, Pastor, Feb. 26.—Since our last report we have held our Young People's day program using the program by the Board of Christian Education. Our pastor and wife, Mrs. Whisnant, Miss Estelle Furr and Miss Melda Scarboro spent a week in Florida. They report a very fine trip. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Burris and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Blackwelder spent a week in Florida, they also report a fine time.

We were so happy to have Dr. Paul S. Kennett preach for us the Sunday that Mr. Peeler was in Florida. Mr. Kennett has once been our pastor, but it was 21 years ago. We were so glad to see him again and we hope it wont be that long until he comes to visit us again. We were so glad that he brought his family with him. We were glad to have our Boy Scouts with us on that Sunday. Mr. Leander Nash and Mr. Willie Nash were the leaders of the Scouts. It was Boy Scout week and the different churches were so glad to have the boys present in a group with us.

We were very happy to go to the Kannapolis church on Sunday night and be with them on their Young People's day. Our folks put on the pageant for them.

Our Ladies' Aid is still very busy. Mrs. Peeler and Mrs. J. L. Sides have been working getting advertisements for our church bulletin. They had real good success.

Our Woman's Auxiliary will sponsor a fashion show in March.

We will start the month of March with as many members as will tithe and also will call the month of March visiting month. Each Sunday there will be names of the church members placed in the offering plates and we will take a name and visit that member during the week.

We were very happy to have Mr. Claude Eudy join our church family. We are so glad to see Mr. Willie Furr back at church; he can't play the organ yet as his ankle is still a little stiff but he can sing and it is so good to see him back.

We still have lots of sick folks. Mrs. Ruth Turner Knight has been seriously ill and in the hospital but is improving now. Mr. G. C. Honeycutt has been in the Duke hospital for treatment. Miss Helen Winsel is in the hospital, had an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Bertha Brown Teeter has been confined at her home for several weeks. Mr. T. C. Beddington and little Buddy Patterson are in the hospital. Our hearts were made sad with Mr. Grover Honeycutt when death claimed his mother last Sunday night. The sweetest thing that can be said is, she was a good woman and she has just gone into the other room of her Mansion to live.

BERTHA EARNHARDT, Reporter.

◆

Randolph Charge.—The church work on Randolph charge is going forward. Just after Christmas meetings were held at Shiloh, Bethel, and Gray's Chapel to make plans to raise the World Service budget in full. Shiloh church has already paid half of this budget. Bethel, Bethany and Shiloh have paid A. C. and delegates' expense in full. Gray's Chapel has paid delegates' expense and almost out on A. C. expense. Young People's services have been held at each churrh. Attendance and interest are good at all four churches.

Mrs. Clarence Baldwin and Mrs. Jack Pugh are in the hospital at Asheboro for treatment. Others are sick in their homes. We hope for all a speedy recovery.

We are grateful to Bro. C. C. Hemphill for one gallon of fine home-made sorghum, to Mrs. A. O. Adams for a jar of presserves and Mrs. Isley is grateful to Mrs. G. L. Whitaker for a cash donation.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Bethesda, North Davidson, O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Young People's day was observed at our church on the second Sunday in February. The Young People carried out the drama "Shrines" very nicely. Collection was $5.12.

Our Sunday school is off in attendance some; there has been right much sickness and whooping cough in the community. We hope this will soon be better.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. Phillip Lanier with Mesdames Harvey Latham, Girla Essick and Flora Berrier joint hostesses. The meeting was opened by singing, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us." The Guide book was used and study on Home Missions. Rev. Williams, pastor, gave a very interesting talk on this. Reading by Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Edna Craver; 79 visits to the sick were reported; one sent flowers and one tray. A song, "Follow the Gleam" was rendered by the girls. The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. R. E. Leonard.

It looks like all our boys are getting married: Mr. John Grubbs and Miss Mamie Lee Black of Holly Grove; Mr. James Grubb and Miss Arlene Black, also of Holly Grove; Mr. Otho Everhart and Miss Drucilla Mize, of Good Hope; Mr. Paul Brinkley and Miss Pearl Wood, of this community; Mr. John Everhart, Jr., and Miss Beatrice Shoaf. We wish them all much friendship and happiness.

MRS. J. O. EVERHART, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Thomasville, James T. Bowman, Pastor, Feb. 27.—Our work during this year has been going fine. The interest and the cooperation of the people have been unusually good. Attendance at all services has been splendid.

Sunday, February 26, was a good day for us. During the morning worship service quite a number of our people pledged themselves to tithe during the month of Macrh and to pay the income from the tithing on our World Service apportionment which we hope to pay in full by April 30.

Following the morning worship service the Sunday school met in regular session. We are glad Mr. Connell, our Sunday school superintendent, has recovered sufficiently to be with us in most of our services. The Sunday school is doing fine under his leadership.

We are proud of our young people and their Christian Endeavor societies. The Senior society is under the leadership of Finch Jackson and is going forward. The Junior society is doing good work under the direction of Mrs. Theron Everhart and Mrs. Carrie Westmoreland.

At the evening worship hour the Woman's Auxiliary held the February Thank Offering service. This program was under the direction of Mrs. S. R. Westmoreland, who is Thank Offering secretary. The splendid devotion was given by Mrs. W. A. Leonard, Mrs. J. A. Hedrick and Mrs. J. W. Baity. An interesting review of the study book, "Dinabandhu" was given by Mrs. James T. Bowman. Mrs. A. H. Ragan, president of the Auxiliary, gave a few remarks about the Thank Offering which amounted to $61.

JAMES T. BOWMAN.

◆

Asheboro, Central Church.—Dr. Paul S. Kennett, of High Point college, delivered the morning message at the local church Sunday morning, during the absence of Dr. Taylor, who was attending a meeting of Unionism. At the evening worship hour, Rev. Roscoe B. Fisher, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, of Asheboro, was guest speaker. Both services were attended by an appreciative congregation.

Miss Enolia Presnell, remains ill at her home at 1244 East Boulevard, Charlotte. Miss Presnell, who teaches in the Fayetteville primary school, has been ill since the Christmas holidays. Miss Esther Ross has recovered from many weeks' illness, and is teaching the Sunday school class at Central church of which Miss Presnell is regular teacher.

Mrs. S. L. Hayworth, who is receiving treatment is Memorial hospital, Winston-Salem, continues to improve. Mrs. J. R. Lutterloh has recovered from a prolonged illness with a throat infection.

The congregation extends sympathy to Mrs. S. W. Presnell, whose father, Martin Yow, died at his Seagrove home last week.

The entire church is profoundly grateful for the rug, shade and curtains which Mr. and Mrs. Jessee Councilman, prominent members of Central church, which they placed in the Friendly S. S. classroom during the past week. Mrs. D. D. Almont, sister of Mrs. Councilman, donated pictures and assisted with the placement of these valuable articles.

Miss Kate Hammer and Miss Virginia Lowe are home from an eight-day sojourn in New York city, where Miss Hammer selected spring merchandise for her millinery shoppe.

Students at the various colleges, who were at home for the week-end were: Martha Mendenhall, Helen Phillips, W. C. U. N. C.; Bill Bulla, State; and Jack Pugh, of High Point college.

The World Day of Prayer was observed at Central church on Friday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock, with Mrs. George Hasty as leader. Mrs. W. F. Redding, Jr. and Miss Esther Ross assisted with the program. The guest speaker was Mrs. J. B. Fulp, pastor of the Asheboro Holiness church, who brought an inspiring message on "Answered Prayer."

CLETA RICH.

◆

Hebron Church, Orange Charge, C. P. Morris, Pastor.—Since our last report to the Herald, our pastor has held his regular appointments. Sunday he brought us an interesting message, "Preparing the Way Through Repentence," after which the ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed.

The report of the church treasurer showed the finances of the church in good condition.

The stewards held their regular quarterly meeting February 22 at the home of Mr. A. K. McAdams.

The fourth Sunday in January Young People's day was observed by our church, pastor in charge, subject, "What the Methodist Protestant Church Has Meant to Me." A very impressive service was rendered by our young people.

The Woman's Auxiliary has held its regular meetings during the year. All members are urged to be present at our next meeting, as the election of officers for the coming year will be held. Date to be announced later.

The Auxiliary will have their Thank Offering service on Sunday, March 12, at 3 o'clock, at which time we will present a one-act religious drama, "A Parable of the Kingdom." The public is invited.

MRS. BEN F. WILSON, Reporter.

◆

Rankin Memorial, Edward Suits, Pastor.—Work is progressing nicely at Rankin Memorial. Our attendance has been good during the winter and the church attendance has increased quite a bit during the past few Sundays. Our pastor has been bringing some splendid msesages. On last Sunday morning he used for a text, "This do in remembrance of me." At the close of the service communion was observed. The evening message was "The Song of Moses and the Lamb." We have received two new members recently. They are Mrs. Frank Ring and Mrs. Hutchins.

Our Workers Council has been meeting in regular sessions to work out the problems of the Sunday school and church.

We have been doing some outside work at our church. A few weeks ago we planted some shrubbery in front of the church which has greatly added to its attractiveness. We also have water in the basement now. Both the material and labor for this worthwhile cause was donated by one of our members, Mr. Thomas Johnson.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will have charge of the Thank Offering service which will be held next Sunday evening, March 4 at 7:30. This service will be in the form of a candlelight service and there will be a guest speaker present.

There has been quite a bit of sickness in our church and community. One of our faithful members, Mrs. W. L. Hooper, has been quite sick for the past few days. We hope she will soon be well and able to be back with us.

REPORTER.

◆

Pine Bluff Church, C. G. Isley, Pastor.—We were glad to have with us our pastor again as he was in Florida on vacation last appointment, but I can speak in behalf of all who heard the man who spoke in Brother Isley's place, that we sure did enjoy listening and having with us one of our home preachers, Bro. L. E. Mabry and family, pastor of First church, Lexington.

At the present our members are undertaking a project which we hope will put a new floor in our church building. This project is to cut the timber which is on the church lot into cord wood and buy flooring to floor the church. We hope we can carry this project out.

We are making good headway at raising our amount for World Service, and by putting the job into the hands of the Ladies' Auxiliary we feel sure they can raise the balance of the amount.

CLIFFORD BARBEE, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Lexington, L. E. Mabry, Pastor.—The attendance at our Sunday school and worship service is holding up very well at this time. Our pastor has been peraching some interesting sermons. We had the pleasure last Sunday night of having Rev. Tom A. Sykes, personnel director for the Thomasville Chair company, and leader of many activities at Thomasville. Mr. Sykes gave a splendid talk for Thank Offering service to a very large congregation, every one enjoyed his talk very much. We hope to have him back with us in the near future.

Mrs. H. C. Koonts is ill at this time. She was unable to teach her class last Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. Mallard gave a valentine party at her home on Market street on Tuesday, February 14.

REPORTER.

◆

Glen Raven Charge, Joseph Coble, Pastor.—This charge has some of the hardest working Christians that the writer has ever come in contact with. This is evidenced by the way they carried on the program and work of the church during the illness and death of Mr. Troxler. The work that was carried on between the time of Mr. Troxler's passing and the end of the Conference year is a tribute to the fine work of one of the younger members of the Haw River church, Rev. Charles Coble.

Young People's day was observed at all three churches. The pageant "Shrines" was given at the Glen Raven and the Haw River churches. This pageant, under the direction of Miss Frances Pritchett of the Glen Raven church, has been the outstanding program of the year.

The Haw River church has started a campaign by which they hope to pay off all expenses for the Conference year by the last of April. No where have the people taken to the idea of Church Union any more strongly than have the M. P. church and the M. E. church, South, of Haw River. These two churches are uniting in a revival meeting the latter part of May with Dr. Paschall doing the preaching.

Perhaps the outstanding work on the charge is being done by Mr. J. L. Stanley, who is both Sunday school supreintendent and leader of the C. E. society of the Fairview church. He is a talented young man who is giving his best to the Master.

There are outstanding young people in all of these churches and these young people are going to lead these churches into new Christian experiences. The youth of these churches are marching on. They are ready to step in line and march forward with the Youth Crusade of the new Methodist church.

JOSEPH COBLE.

◆

Friendship Church, Chase City Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—It has been a long time since we have had a report from this church. But it wasn't because we haven't been working.

Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday, February 26, and brought us a very inspiring message. The Holy Communion was observed. We were glad to have our pastor with us during our Sunday school hour.

We have made a great improvement in our church in the last month. The church has been painted inside and a few other improvements were made. This is only a beginning of which we hope to get done this year.

Rev. D. D. Broome was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gurley Sunday.

Our Sunday school attendance is holding up very well for the winter months.

◆

GARDEN OF DEEDS

If your garden of deeds
Would have blossoms fair,
Then the beds of thought
Should be planted with care,
Should be moistened and tended,
And kept free of weeds—
To have flowers fragrant
In your garden of deeds.

—Anna E. Young.

◆

Lady: "Have you been offered work?"

Itinerant: "Only once, madam. Aside from that, I've had nothing but kindness."

Church and Sunday School Furniture
Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder
and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

McCager Charlie Cranford.

On arriving at Denton a little more than a year ago the writer a new pastor was not long in learning to know Brother Charlie Cranford. And to know him was to love him. This immediate and much appreciated acquaintance with this good man was because of the nice things others would have to say about him and then his fine pleasant disposition and his faithfulness at his church he so much loved. Brother Charlie was found to be one of our very best.

Because of the death of his beloved wife he lived in the family of his devoted son Brother Colon C. Cranford. When business circumstances made it necessary for the son to establish his home in High Point, N. C. the father while hesitating to leave home, community and church he so much loved, went to the city to live in the home of his son and family. He greatly loved the environments in which he had lived for so many years but with cheerfulness he happily adjusted himself to the new. The health of Brother Cranford had not been the best for a number of years but no one thought when he left our community that the end would come in a very few months.

Brother Cranford the son of the late Winburn W. Cranford and his late wife Margaret Kearns-Cranford, was born in Montgomery county August 26, 1872, and he died in Burrus hospital, High Point, N. C., December 12, 1938. At his death his age was 66 years 3 months and 16 days. A surviving sister, Mrs. W. E. Hill lives in Denton, N. C., Mrs. Julius Harrison, a sister, and Mrs. J. R. Harrison, preceded him in death a number of years ago.

On February 24, 1893, Brother Cranford was happily married to Miss Corina Morris, who preceded him in death about two years. The Cranford home was first established in Randolph county but later the home was established in Denton where he lived for 28 years. This home was blessed with three children one daughter, Mrs. D. R. Hedrick and a son Mr. Colon C. Cranford both live in High Point, N. C. A son John Winburn died in early childhood.

In early manhood Brother Cranford accepted Christ as his Savior and joined Silome Methodist Episcopal church South. After coming to Denton he joined the Denton Methodist Protestant church where he remained a consistent and faithful member, ready when God called him to join the Church Triumphant. He served as steward, treasurer and trustee and was ever ready to do anything to serve in the Kingdom.

He was a highly respected citizen. For a number of years he served on the board of town commissioners in Denton. He was for a number of years deputy sheriff in Davidson county. In these respective offices he performed his duties conscientiously and with efficiency.

Brother Cranford possessed most admirable characteristics. He was industrious and frugal. He was accommodating and ever ready to serve wherever service was needed. He was patient and lived one day like another. He stood for the right at whatever cost. As a citizen he was respected, as a neighbor he was appreciated, in the home and in the church he was loved. He had a heart of love for others and in turn others loved him.

The funeral was conducted in the Denton church on the afternoon of December 14, in the presence of a very large attendance. The pastor had charge of the funeral while Rev. Joel B. Trogdon, a former pastor delivered the eulogy. Rev. T. J. Bowman a former pastor and Rev. J. N. Bowman pastor of the daughter, Mrs. Hedrick, were present and took part in the service. By former neighbors the body was then laid to rest in the Denton cemetery beside the remains of the beloved wife.

Servant of God well done!
Rest from thy loved employ:
The battle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy.

The pains of death are past,
Labor and sorrow cease,
And life's long warfare closed at last,
Thy soul is found in peace.

The beautiful floral designs were numerous and lovely and bespoke the appreciation and love of the many friends of the deceased who had lived a beautiful and useful life and who still lives.

GEO. C. CURRY, Pastor.

◆

Mrs. Sarah Williams Foster

Mrs. Sarah Williams Foster, June 21, 1862, she passed away at the home of her son F. Kerr Foster, of near Winston-Salem January 5, 1939.

Mrs. Foster is survived by three daughters, Mrs. L. P. Cartner, Mocksville; Mrs. W. A. Wayatt of Winston-Salem and Mrs. S. J. Foster of Mocksville and three sons, W. H. and F. K. Foster of Winston-Salem and Chas. A. Foster of Mocksville. Thirteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren, and one half brother C. W. Williams of Cleveland.

Mrs. Foster has been a member of Bethel M. P. church for more than fifty years and was faithful until the end came. She was well beloved by a wide circle of friends and neighbors.

Funeral services were conducted at Bethel church January 7. The service was in charge of the writer assisted by Rev. June Carter and Rev. Mr. Cooper of the Presbyterian church, Mocksville. Interment was in the church cemetary.

K. G. HOLT.

◆

Coble

Guilford county was shocked to learn that on January 24, 1939, the soul of William C. Coble had returned to its Maker. The end came as the result of a heart attack after the usual activities at the office. He lived 61 years, 11 months, and nine days.

Mr. Coble spent most of his life in business in Greensboro. He served the last

For Speedy HEADACHE Relief
Snap Back with
STANBACK
10¢ & 25¢
DOES NOT LEAVE YOU UPSET

eleven years as the treasurer of Guilford county. Quiet, gentle, kind, and considerate in nature he was not satisfied to merely "live and let live" but it seemed his desire to "live and help live."

Besides his associates and a host of friends Mr. Coble leaves to mourn his passing his companion, Mrs. Epsie Davis Coble; one son, W. C., Jr., of Cumberland, Md.; one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Willis, of Greensboro; and one grandson, Bradley Willis. Also he leaves one sister, Mrs. J. E. Hanner and two brothers, E. T. and J. F. Coble, all of Greensboro, route 4.

He was a life-long member of Tabernacle Methodist Protestant church. After establishing his residence in Greensboro he attended regularly the First Reformed church but he continued his interest in and support of his old home church.

The funeral service was conducted at the First Reformed church on January 26, 1939, in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. L. Levens, assisted by Rev. Howard W. Cope and the writer. Interment followed in the Tabernacle cemetery in charge of the pastor.

God call our loved ones, but we lose not wholly
  What He has given;
They live on earth in thought and deed, as truly
  As in His Heaven.

EUGENE A. LAMB, Pastor.

* * *

Carrie Adlyne Davis-Sexton.

"There are three words that sweetly blend,
That on the heart are graven;
A precious soothing balm they lend—
They're Mother, Home, and Heaven!"

Among the good mothers who have made an impression lasting and favorable with those who knew her when in Denton, N. C., Mrs. Pegram Sexton. She was born in Davidson county, North Carolina, January 5, 1875, and died October 10, 1938. At her death her age was 63 years 9 months and 5 days.

Mrs. Sexton was twice married. The first marriage was to the late J. R. Murdock. This marriage was blessed with one child, a son, Mr. R. B. Murdock, who now lives in Asheboro, N. C. On February 28, 1909, she was married to H. P. Sexton, who survives. This marriage was blessed with two children, Miss Cora Pauline Sexton and Mr. James Clinard Sexton, both of Denton, N. C. There is one stepson, Mr. Irvin Sexton of Denton, N. C. and three step daughters, Mrs. E. R. Hedrick and Mrs. S. B. Wall, both of High Point, N. C. and Mrs. R. H. Hardy of Lexington, N. C. The two living sisters are Mrs. A. O. Cowan of Thomasville, N. C. and Mrs. Jenette Davis of Lexington, N. C. The one living brother is Mr. Daniel Davis of Rocky Mount, N. C.

In early life Mrs. Sexton became a Christian and joined Mt. Ebal Methodist Protestant church. After her first marriage she joined the Concord Methodist Episcopal church South with her husband. Here she remained a member until her death.

Mrs. Sexton was a good woman, a good wife, a good mother and a good neighbor. She was loved by those who knew her and will be missed in her home and in the community in which she lived. She never did see fit to join the church at Denton but when health permitted she worshipped with us and since her going we have missed her.

For a number of years she was in poor health and for a number of weeks her condition was serious. But through it all she was cheerful and patient. She wanted to live but she was resigned to the will of her Heavenly Father who saw fit to translate her to the Beyond.

"By thy hand the boon was given;
Thou hast taken but thine own:
Lord of earth, and God of Heaven,
Evermore, 'Thy will be done'."

On October 12, the funeral was conducted in Denton Methodist Protestant church in the presence of a large number of friends and those who loved. The funeral was conducted by the writer but the eulogy was delivered by Rev. Joel B. Trogdon a pastor who had known Mrs. Sexton for a number of years. Rev. J. T. Bowman a former pastor of Denton church and Rev. W. M. Rathburn a neighboring pastor were present and assisted.

The mortal remains were laid to rest in the Denton cemetery to await the resurrection. The floral contributions were beautiful and numerous and appropriately bespoke for a beautiful and lovable life who loved her flowers here and who has now gone to the land where flowers will never fade.

GEO. L. CURRY.

* * *

Mrs. Alice A. Foster

Mrs. Alice A. Leonard Foster, wife of S. A. Foster, was born in Davie county November 26, 1862, died January 19, 1939. Mrs. Foster joined Bethel M. P. church early in life and has been faithful and attended its services as long as health permitted her to do so.

Mrs. Foster was married to S. A. Foster in August 1884, to this union were born nine children. Surviving are her husband, S. A. Foster; two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Poole, and Mrs. W. G. Sain of Mocksville; six sons, W. B. and J. E. Foster of Winston-Salem; 14 grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. J. F. Sain of Oklahoma.

Funeral services were conducted at Bethel church by the writer, assisted by Rev. Avet of the local M. E. church, and Rev. Mr. Webber, of Winston-Salem. Interment was in the church cemetery.

K. G. HOLT.

* * *

Henry Luther Shoaf

Henry Luther Shoaf was born in Davidson county February 12, 1873, and died February 7, 1939, after an illness of 12 years. Mr. Shoaf was 66 years of age.

The deceased was married to Lizzie V. Snider of near Yadkin College and his wife and seven children survive him; there are also 19 grandchildren, four brothers and two sisters. The children are: Mrs. Golden Leonard, of Linwood, N. C.; Mrs. W. C. Conrad and Mrs. Jim Kepley, of Welcome; Mrs. Wade Walser, George and Frank Shoaf of route 3; and Garland Shoaf of the home.

He was converted at the age of 30 and united with Shiloh M. P. church where he remained a member until death. The funeral service was in charge of the writer, assisted by Rev. Geo. Cooper, of High Point. The service being held at Reeds Methodist church and burial took place in the cemetery there. The bereaved ones have our sympathy.

C. E. RIDGE.

* * *

Mrs. Susie Amick Pritchard

Mrs. Susie Amick Pritchard died at the home of a nephew, R. C. Causey, in Guilford county, December 30, 1938. She had been critically ill for three weeks following a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Pritchard was born November 10, 1862. In August 1901 she was married to Isiah F. Pritchard, with whom she lived until his death in 1913. She was the stepmother of Dr. J. E. Pritchard, president of the M. P. Annual Conference at the present time.

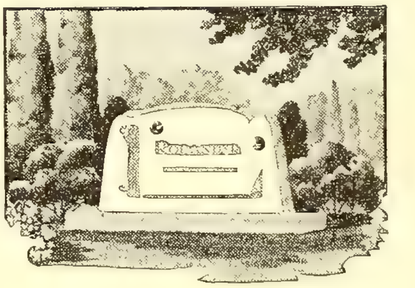
From the time she became a member of Mt. Pleasant Methodist Protestant church in her youth, Mrs. Pritchard was a well-known figure in its missionary circles and various church activities. She was intensely interested in character and education and throughout her active life gave unselfishly of her means and talents to the support of any worthy cause.

"Aunt Sue," as she was affectionately known to those who knew her and loved her

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE

25 CENTS IN COIN
ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, 8 never-fade Velox prints—only 25c.
Low prices on candid film.
Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN!
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO..
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.



The Monument
That Will Preserve
Your Cherished Memories.

Appropriate in design, beautiful in texture and finish, Stone Eternal Monuments are unaffected by the ravages of time. You can buy with this assurance.

Stone Eternal
Monuments

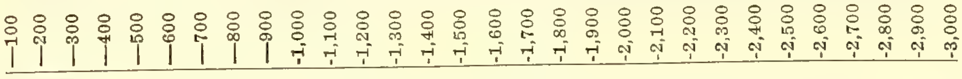
are unsurpassed in brilliance, freshness, beauty and durability. Cut from perfect granite, impervious to the elements, all Stone Eternal Monuments and Markers are trade-marked and guaranteed. For your assurance, this mark of quality is neatly cut on all Stone Eternal Monuments. Demand the genuine.

STONE ETERNAL

Write for booklet and name of authorized dealer in your community.

The Georgia Granite Corp.
Elberton, Ga.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers .... .76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	9	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	3	....
Asheboro	47	3	....
Asheville	13	5	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	24½	....
Concord	26	3½	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	8	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	4½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¼	....
Flat Rock	77	1½	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	4¾	....
Forsyth	46	6½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	4	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	1½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	2½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	4	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	9½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3½	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¾	....
Lexington, First	48	5	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	....	....
Littleton	46	3	....
Mebane	27	1½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	11½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	8½	....
Pensacola	5	....	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	6¾	....
Reidsville	13	5	....
Richland	35	8	....
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	3	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	6	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	8	....
Thomasville, Community	18	2½	....
Thomasville, First	25	8½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9	....
Whitakers	8	6	*2.50
Why Not	30	2	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTION

Mrs. C. C. Lemonds, West End church	$1.00
By Mrs. Stockard.
Miss Millie Moore, Rankin Memorial	.50
By Pastor Suits.
Mrs. M. M. Westmoreland, Anderson Ch.	1.00
N. G. McLimon, Anderson charge	1.00
By Miss Romaine Poole.
Mrs. John Penninger, Roberta	2.00
By Pastor Bell.
Mrs. W. M. Howard, Mocksville charge	1.00
Mrs. A. L. Lemons, Flat Rock charge	1.00
Mrs. E. M. Parrish, Flat Rock charge	.25
By Mrs. Parrish.
Club subscriptions, State St. Church	4.00
By Mrs. Fred Cox.
Mrs. Walter Dunn, Whitakers Chapel	1.00
Miss Wilma Dark, Siler City charge	1.00
C. M. Beavers, Siler City charge	1.00
By Miss Wilma Dark.
A. K. Pugh, Randolph charge	1.00
Mrs. A. O. Adams, Randolph charge	1.00
Mrs. W. M. Greeson, Randolph charge	1.00
By Mrs. C. F. Anderson.
Mrs. C. L. Grant, Richland charge	1.00
Mrs. June Sechrest, First church, Charlotte	1.00
D. M. Frink, 1st Ch., Charlotte	.50
By Mrs. J. H. McCall.
Mrs. H. C. Foster, 1st Ch., Burlington	1.00
J. W. Tarlton, Loves Grove-Friendship	2.00
By Pastor Cook.
Gettys Bingham, Fallston charge	2.00
Rev. O. L. Easter, Lebanon church, High Point	2.00
Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton	2.00
Mrs. J. Sam Nelson, Orange charge	1.00

Methodist Protestant Herald
Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Orange charge	1.00
By Mrs. A. K. McAdams.
R. J. Pendleton, Cleveland charge	2.00
Carl White, Cleveland charge	1.00
F. R. Turner, Cleveland charge	1.00
John Queen, Cleveland charge	.50
B. B. Towery, Cleveland charge	.50
By Pastor Madison.
Miss Mary Collins, Enfield	2.00
Mrs. Mary A. Barnhill, Enfield	2.00
Mrs. P. S. Belamy, Enfield	2.00
By Miss Mary Collins.

◆

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

(Continued from Page Fifteen)

most, was an earnest Christian woman. She made many friends in her charming way and made a definite place for herself among them with her excellent wit, her pleasing personality, and her eager friendliness. She was held in high esteem by all who knew her and her passing away brings deep regret to all of her many friends.

(D. L. B.)

Wheeler

Mrs. Ella Brown Wheeler, widow of Paul Wheeler and daughter of the late Isaac and Isabelle Brown, died Thursday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock, at home on the Guess road, Durham.

Mrs. Wheeler had lived in Durham for the past 18 years, coming from Randolph county. She was a member of the Brower's Chapel Methodist M. P. church. Her husband died a few years ago.

Surviving are three brothers, Elsie and J. R. Brown, of Asheboro and Fletcher Brown, of Raleigh; five sisters: Mrs. C. R. Winningham, Misses Effie, Sudie and Fleta Brown, all of Asheboro, and Mrs. J. M. Buffaloe, deceased, of Raleigh.

The funeral services were conducted at Browers' Chapel church by the writer, assisted by Rev. J. B. Trogdon. Burial was in the local cemetery. C. L. GRANT.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

Methodist Protest rald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 9, 1939 NUMBER 17

Rev H L Isley 23aug9
R 1

Things That Endure

Honor and truth and manhood—
These are the things that stand,
Though the sneer and jibe of the cynic tribe
Are loud through the width of the land.
The scoffer may lord it an hour on earth,
And a lie may live for a day;
But the truth and honor and manly worth
Are things that endure alway.

Courage and toil and service,
Old, yet forever new—
These are the rock that abide the shock
And holds through the storm, flint true.
Fad and folly, the whims of an hour,
May bicker and rant and shrill;
But the living granite of truth will tower
Long after their rage is still.

Labor and love and virtue—
Time does not dim their glow;
Though the smart may say, in their languid way,
"Oh, we've outgrown all that, you know!"
But a lie, whatever the guise it wears,
Is a lie as it was of yore;
And a truth that has lasted a million years
Is good for a million more!

—Ted Olson.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

April 24th Instead of April 30th

For some weeks we have been emphasizing the fact that the Appreciation Year money must be in by April 30th. That is true if we understand that it means that it must be in the office of Treasurer Staley at Baltimore. The General Conference year ends April 30th and it is doubtful if anything can be counted that is not in by that date. Since the money must go through the office of the Treasurer of the Annual Conference, Mr. J. H. Allen of Reidsville, N. C., it will be necessary to put this money in the mails not later than Monday, April 24th so that Mr. Allen can enter it and send it to Mr. Staley in time for it to reach him by the 30th. This will still give our churches four Sundays in April. Please bear this in mind and act accordingly.

A Sunday On the Forsyth Charge

Last Sunday was spent on Forsyth Charge, Rev. R. A. Hunter, pastor, with two services, Maple Springs at 11:00 o'clock and Mt. Carmel at night. I arrived at Maple Springs in time for most of the Sunday school and found considerable activity. There was also a good attendance at the morning church service and the people entered heartily into it. This church is located just outside the incorporate limits of Winston-Salem at the extreme end of Reynolda, one of the finest sections of the city. The city of Winston-Salem is growing to that extent that it is built up far beyond the church not only on the highway but on the cross roads and newly formed streets. Very few locations in our conference are more favorably situated than this one and I am of the opinion that the Methodist Church will concentrate on this location and erect a building adequate to the needs of the community and have the all time services of a pastor for this place. Brother Hunter now divides time with three other churches.

At Mt. Carmel Sunday evening there was another good congregation and it was a pleasure to be there. This church is some four or five miles from the center of the city but the community is building up until it is almost a city now. The church is located on the top of a high knoll with a fine view of the city. This is especially fine at night with the city brilliantly lighted. The building here consists of a splendid auditorium and a number of Sunday school rooms.

This is Brother Hunter's eighth year on this charge and he is still popular with the people. He is one of our best pastors and serves one of our best charges. I trust they may have the best year this year that they have yet had.

More Pastors' Reports

Gibsonville, Rev. Chas. E. Anderson, pastor.—Observed Young People's Day with reasonably good offering, increased attendance at church, Sunday school and Christian Endeavor, purchased new rug for parsonage.

Glen Raven, Rev. Joseph Coble, pastor.—Regular services held, much visiting done, increased attendance both at church and Sunday school. At the Haw River church pastor's salary is paid to date, campaign on to raise World Service by April 30th, Young People's Day observed. At the Glen Raven church pastor's salary paid to date, Sunday school interest much increased, a very strong Christian Endeavor society, Young People's Day to be observed. At Fairview pastor's salary is almost paid to date, good Sunday school and C. E. Young People's Day observed with reasonably good collection, all churches accepted budgets with good grace and have started out to raise everything.

Randleman charge, Rev. C. L. Spencer, pastor.—Building five Sunday school rooms at Mt. Lebanon church in Randleman with three of them already in use; making plans for Appreciation Year drive, will do the very best possible to raise this amount in full.

Asheville, Dr. N. G. Bethea, pastor.—People seem very much encouraged, congregations said to be the best here for several years, finances seem to be improving, had good Young People's Day service with offering considered real good, pastor has been shown every courtesy here by the other Methodist denominations.

Pinnacle-Mt. Zion, Rev. J. D. Morris, pastor.—Nearly all the money in hand to pay delegates' expenses to Uniting Conference, the entire charge is progressing normally and harmoniously. Finances some better than last year.

Reidsville, Rev. E. Lester Ballard, pastor.—Three members received, several other prospects, Appreciation Year apportionment accepted with nearly half paid, rest will be paid; two young people's choirs organized with about forty members and both robed. Both choirs sing every Sunday. Two new C. E. societies organized with about 35 members; large attendance at home prayer meeting each week—about 24, new dining room and bed room furniture for parsonage, spiritual condition and interest above the average.

North Davidson Charge, Rev. O. B. Williams, pastor.—Attendance at both Sunday school and church services good, A. C. and W. S. budgets accepted same as last year, Young people's Day services have been held at three churches, and offerings have been received; the parsonage has been furnished by the Ladies' Aid and Auxiliary. Each church had fine Christmas service. Pastors' salary about 75 per cent paid to date. A pastor's council has been organized and will meet monthly.

Fallston Charge, Rev. R. L. Hethcox, pastor.—Basement of Friendship church being completed, have installed new heating plant at the Laurel Hill church, are laying plans to build Sunday school rooms at Macedonia church, have received three new members, making drive for budgets in February, March and April, pastor's salary right much behind, Women's work is doing fine.

Appointments

Sunday, March 12th, 11 a. m. Albemarle; 2:30 p. m. Pine Bluff.

Sunday, March 19th, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Enfield.

Sunday, March 26th, Vance Charge, 11 a. m. Gillburg; 3:00 p. m. Harris Chapel.

J. E. Pritchard.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV — GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 9, 1939 — NUMBER 17

Brother W. N. Neese writes that Davidson charge paid the Annual conference claims January 25th. Good for Davidson.

Pleasant Grove Church has paid its World Service in full; good for Pleasant Grove and Pastor Love.

Brother Bates informs us that Fair Grove, Friendship and Mizpah Churches, Haw River charge, have raised their allotment for delegates expenses to the Uniting Conference, and that he is expecting Midway to pay out next Sunday. We are coming along, let others join the procession.

Brother Aubert Smith thinks that possibly Liberty was not the first church to raise the apportionment for World Service; we do not know as to that; it was the first church to report it to the editor of the Herald.

The Christian Sun, the official organ of the Congregational-Christian Church in this state, donned a new dress last week, lengthening its columns and beautifying its form; congratulations.

Brother G. F. Milloway remains in a very citical condition. We know the family appreciates the prayers of all his friends in these trying hours.

Pastor Bowman says that First Church, Thomasville, sent in its full allotment for the delegates expenses to the Uniting Conference many weeks ago. Sorry we did not get this information to pass on to other pastors and churches.

A Word of Caution

The Methodist Protestant Church is in, possibly, the most critical period of its history. Having voted to join the two Episcopal Methodisms in the formation of a new church, we are fast losing our denominational solidarity, and unless we are able to overcome it, we shall suffer greatly through the loss of interest in those enterprises of the church which must go on to make this union vitally effective. Heretofore, we have been able to rally our people to these enterprises and institutions by our appeal to their denomination loyalty, but to many this appeal is now no longer a challenge to dare and to do. Even our leaders are wondering what is going to happen and there is no one who speaks with an authority that satisfies their desire.

It is indeed a painful discovery to feel the effect of this prospective change. The Editor has not discussed Union because all the facts were not in, and it is never profitable to discuss with only a partial list of them in hand. He has been unable to say what will happen in any particular case where there will be any change and we are beginning to suspect that the silence on the part of those who were expected to speak with authority is hurting. Take the Herald, as an example, although the last annual conference voted to continue it through this year, many whose subscriptions are expiring are wanting to know what is going to happen to it this fall. The Editor has to say he does not know, and so each week we see a decrease in our income. The Herald is suffering because of this and the annual conference projects are likewise suffering. If the proposed change in our church contemplated a change of its doctrine, a disavowal of its ecleasiastical heritage as well as a change of its policy, there might be just cause for great unrest, even fear. But the local church is to remain in its present status except where and when its members shall decide to change, that is, to merge with another Methodist Church. So then, its gains, its property will be conserved and it may go on as heretofore. Likewise our institutions; whatever change is made in them must of necessity come slowly and with the consent of the members of the various boards who directed their activities. And if the Methodist Protestant Herald shall be needed to help conserve those interests which were ours, after the union is legally formed, those who want it enough to subscribe for it can have it. There will be no law against it. But if the next annual conference should vote to discontinue it, every subscriber will have his unexpired subscription taken care as is usually the case with extinct periodicals. But it would be useless to unite with any other church if we are to lose our interest in our projects because the name of the church is about to be changed. This proposed union should be an occasion for much prayer, patience and perserverance. It is certainly no time for any who are interested in the extension of Christ's kingdom to cease to labor, to believe and to trust.

To Our Herald Agents and Pastors

Every week we publish the Herald with the present income we are running deeper into "the red." As stated before, it takes upon an average of $80.00 a week to pay printer, mailing, and for bookkeeping. If you total our receipts of last week and this you will see how we are slipping. We are two hundred subscriptions behind our receipts of last year for the second week in March. We hope those who appreciate their church will not forsake its official organ in these trying times.

Notice to Correspondents

We seem to have to remind our correspondents that we go to press Thursday each week; if your communication is not mailed before Wednesday it most likely will reach us too late for publication that week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, March 12

Lesson Text—Acts 12:5-17.

Golden Text—Prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him.—Acts 12:5.

There are several very interesting angles to this lesson which shed light upon the life and struggles of the early Christians. First, when we find James being slain by Herod and Peter cast into prison we come to learn of the early persecutions against Christianity and the vital part they played in the spreading of the gospel.

To one of any degree of spiritual insight it is not surprising that persecution and violent opposition should come to those who preach the principles of Christ. Jesus fully expected His cross and tried to prepare His disciples for its coming. The cross is a true symbol of Christianity. It suggests the crossing of two lines which results in a conflict of lines. Christ came bringing a course of principle and action that was adverse to the course of principles and actions found in the world, and if He were to pursue His appointed course of action based on heavenly truths then He must expect a conflict where His course crosses that of the world. Christ said to His disciples that they need not fear when men in their sin persecuted or slew them, but rather they should consider it a blessed reality. Did Christ here suggest to them that they should go out and court persecution and martydom? Not at all, for He Himself side-stepped it several times. What He had in mind was that under the present sinful condition of the world it was a sure sign of their fidelity to His principles when such conflict was evident. Peter, no doubt, here in prison was not condemning himself for being under arrest but perhaps reproached himself for having escaped it so long. The reason that he escaped arrest there around the enemy fire was that he had compromised his stand for Christ and let himself run parallel with the opposing forces of sin, thus averting the conflict which resulted in the cross for his Master. A modern counterpart of Peter in prison is the imprisonment of Dr. Martin Niemoller, pastor of the Evangelical Church located in the suburb of Berlin. In obeying what he considered the commands of God rather than those of man he came into violent conflict with the will of the state and for being true to his conviction he has been kept in a concentration camp for over a year. One day a fellow minister of his church visiting him in his prison asked Niemoller why he was there. Niemoller turned the tables on him and asked him to explain why it was that he was not there. To take up His cross daily means purely and simply to take up the Commandments and the law of Christ daily in our lives and to march with them across the laws and commandments of the "world, the flesh, and the Devil." This of necessity creates a conflict, but Christ would have us forever know that:

> "We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts not breaths;
> In feelings, not figures on a dial. He most lives
> Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

Let us know with sure faith that whether we be set free from this earthly conflict like Peter by the Angel of Prayer or like James by the Angel of Death that we are free indeed and that our fidelity is fostering the progress of righteousness in the world.

The second angle that this incident brings to mind is the superior power of the early Christians over the power of pagan forces. Peter outlived Herod a great many years; during the first three centuries after Christ, the Christians suffered no less than ten fierce and bloody persecutions, sanctioned and carried on by the imperial authority of the mighty Roman empire, and yet as no other force Christianity conquered the Roman empire and has lived beyond it to conquer more worlds that she ever dreamed of to conquer. Proud emperors with power to sway sceptres over more people and more wealth than was ever had by any other of earth's rulers were rendered powerless against the chosen of God. So far as this writer can see the greatest factor of this power lay in the superiority of their weapon and their resource. Their weapon was prayer and their resources were spiritual powers reaching into heaven. History admits with the poet that > "More things are wrought by prayer

> Than this world dreams of."

Prayer is the means that God has of releasing his power into the world in his conflict with sin. He is saying to men everywhere that "If they will ask—He will do." When the Christian in his struggles with sin and its forces will give himself to prayer it offers to God a landing field for Him to send His expeditionary forces to our aid. Herod with his army and his prison walls were at a disadvantage in dealing with Peter for these could not prevent him from praying nor could they prevent the angel of that great prayer meeting from entering that prison and delivering Peter free — "if ye will ask then I can do," says God. To every Christian to whom this lesson shall be taught there should come one clarion call of its truth—that what the church of today needs more than anything else in its conflict with unholy powers is to pray. We have great preachers, great rulers, great freedom, but we are professly weak because we lack great prayers. Lord, teach us to pray, even as persecution taught the early church to pray and thus to win.

◆

With the failing strength and the disappointed hopes that belong to the encroachment of age men grow weary and despair. They mistake the evening of their own lives for the afternoon of the world. They seem to forget that God's hair has not yet turned white. He still has something to do with the world. The mistake all such make is to pine by the way side instead of getting a new grip on God who remains the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

THE DEATH OF THE HIRED MAN

By ROBERT FROST

The Death of the Hired Man is perhaps the finest piece of genre painting ever attempted in poetry. In the very simplicity of its homely unrimed free verse and in the dialogue by which he tells the story Robert Frost has created a piece as dramatic as an old folk ballad or a one-act tragedy. There is no description of Warren or Mary, but each is revealed more clearly by his or her actions and attitudes than by any descriptive passages the poet might have used. Silas, the old worn-out incompetent is not only a migratory hired man, drifting from farm to farm in New England, but Frost has made him the prototype for a character such that a reader in any part of the world might say of him, "I have known him."

The story opens with the simplicity of a one-act play:

"Mary sat musing on the lamp-flame at the table
Waiting for Warren. When she heard his step,
She ran on tip-toe down the darkened passage
To meet him in the doorway with the news
And put him on his guard. 'Silas is back.'
She pushed him outward with her through the door
And shut it after her. 'Be kind,' she said.
She took the market things from Warren's arms
And set them on the porch, then drew him down
To sit beside her on the wooden steps."

Since Warren has not seen Silas we more easily forgive his impatience, for he remembers that every year some one tolls Silas away during the busiest season with a promise of fixed wages, and every year he turns up with some new scheme to make himself useful. But Mary has seen the change in him; she knows that this time he is done for.

"I tried to make him talk about his travels.
Nothing would do: he just kept nodding off."

But when Warren insisted, Mary had to admit that he had come back with a plan for ditching the meadow:

"Surely you wouldn't grudge the poor old man
Some humble way to save his self-respect."

Silas kept running on about young Harold Wilson, the college boy who helped last haying season, and whose ability as a farmer he recognized, though he found him "daft on education," and he cannot comprehend

. . . "Harold's saying
He studied Latin like the violin
Because he liked it."

The climax of his scorn for all education revealed his folklore:

"He said he couldn't make the boy believe
He could find water with a hazel prong—
Which showed how much good school had ever done him."

One not an artist would not have chosen such seemingly unimportant details to show indecision:

"Warren leaned out and took a step or two,
Picked up a little stick, and brought it back
And broke it in his hand and tossed it by"

as he expressed his skeptical doubt as to why Silas should come to them rather than to go on "thirteen little miles" up the road to where his rich brother lived, a brother who is "a somebody—a director in the bank." But Mary understood, as practical, phlegmatic Warren could not:

. . . "I can tell you.
Silas is what he is—we wouldn't mind him—
But just the kind that kinsfolk can't abide."

Frost has been called epigrammatic and some of the short, terse statements in this poem seem to bear that out. The sentences are short, almost laconic, but they stir the imagination. "How some things linger!" Mary cries, and we think of many seemingly trivial, unimportant things that later return to awaken long, long thoughts. Or this:

. . . "I know just how it feels
To think of the right thing to say too late."

Could anything show Warren's stolid, unimaginative acceptance of the fact of home itself, and his inability to see into the deeper meaning behind the fact, more conclusively than this description of home:

"Home is the place where, when you have to go there,
They have to take you in."

Contrast this with Mary's appreciation of its deep, though inexpressible value:

"I should have called it
Something you somehow haven't to deserve."

Some have tried to say that Frost's poetry is prosaic, that he is never lyrical. Such an one cannot have read these lines:

"Part of a moon was falling down the west,
Dragging the whole sky with it to the hills.
Its light poured softly in her lap. She saw
And spread her apron to it. She put out her hand
Among the harp-like morning-glory strings,
Taut with the dew from garden bed to eaves,
As if she played unheard the tenderness
That wrought on him beside her in the night" or watched with Mary as she finally sent Warren to speak himself to Silas. This is not only great nature description; it is a masterpiece of lyric dramatic suspense:

"I'll sit and see if that small sailing cloud
Will hit or miss the moon."

. . . It hit the moon.
Then there were three there, making a dim row,
The room, the little silver cloud, and she."

The poem ends with dramatic suddenness and the high note of tragic simplicity that leaves no weakening of the effect by explanatory sentences. The play is ended: the curtain goes down: we accept the artistic inevitability of its close:

"Warren returned—too soon, it seemed to her.
Slipped to her side, caught up her hand and waited.
'Warren,' she questioned.
'Dead,' was all he answered."

◆

OUR CHURCH—HER PAST

By REV. J. ELWOOD CARROLL

(Continued from Last Week)

Our church solved the question of the power of the bishop and the General Conference by a threefold process: First, it refused to have a bishop. Secondly, it distributed the governing power of the Church over the three Conferences—General, Annual, and Quarterly; and finally, selected laymen in a great majority for membership in the Quarterly Conference, and in equal number with the ministers in the Annual and General Conferences.

5. Granting of Lay Representation in the Governing Bodies of the Church. Lay representation proved to be the main issue advocated by the Reformers, and some of our ardent unionists today would make you think it were the ONLY issue! Lay representation had been suggested as early as 1794, but became an issue only after 1822 when William S. Stockton said, "A legislative body when properly constituted is limited by the mutual consent of the constituents and the representatives. The constituent agrees to obey laws which do not abridge his inalienable rights, and the representative agrees to enact no laws which shall abridge those rights." (Wesleyan Repository, I, 369). By 1824 the Reformers had agreed that lay representation in the annual and General Conferences was the right which they should demand. The General Conference of that same year rejected the request of a petition that lay representation be granted.

Full lay representation was recognized in our First General Conference and is to be a basis factor in the Methodist Church. Our day has come and the words of Nicholas Snethen, of 1834, are realized: "The point of controversy is reduced to a unit—a pure, unmixed question of representation. If we are true to it, if we are not ashamed of it, if we glory in it, it must finally prevail, and proselyte every Methodist in the United States. They may, indeed remain Episcopal Methodists, but so sure as we are not moved away from our high calling, the whole lump will be leavened into Representation Methodists. . . . The doctrine of representation is just as true as the results of two and two. It will finally convince millions, as well as thousands; it wlil, indeed convince all the world." (Meth. Prot., 1.5).

We Are A Church

While, in a sense, biding our time for the full realization in American Methodism the ideals of the Reformers, we have grown into a fullfledged church and have prospered. One reason for voting for Methodist union is not that we are to be taken in from a storm, or from our own failures, but rather that we shall render a larger service to Christ and Christendom.

1. Our early growth was marked by the formation of more than 23 annual conferences during the twenty years following the first General Conference of 1834. "The spirit of progress," says Dr. Lyman E. Davis, "was so much abroad, indeed, and the polity adopted by the founded of our Church was so manifestly in harmony with the genius of America, that within the first twenty years of our history as a denomination some thirty annual conferences had already been organized, beginning with the North Carolina, December 19, 1828, followed at brief intervals by the Maryland, the Ohio, the New York, the Genesee, the Virginia, the Georgia, the West Virginia, the Tennessee, the Alabama, the South Carolina, the Mississippi, the New Jersey, the Pittsburgh, the Muckingum, the Indiana, the Michigan, the Illinois, the North Illinois, the Iowa, the South Illinois, the North Indiana, and others still toward the farther northwest and southwest." (PP. 62f).

2. Along with other rights, we are the first Methodists to recognize woman's right to the ministry. For on October 12, 1880, Anna Howard Shaw was ordained as an elder in our church. She was a fine teacher and an outstanding leader for woman's rights in political and professional life. Following close behind her in time were Rev. Dr. Lee Anna Starr, Rev, Eugenia St. John, and others.

3. Our Church was born amidst a flood of circulars and has grown by the use of invaluable periodicals. 1). Our great Methodist Protestant Recorder is the oldest American Methodist paper enjoying a continuous publication. It is today successor of several previous papers, the two greatest being The Methodist Protestant (January 7, 1831-1929) and The Methodist Recorder, 1854-1929. Back of the Methodist Protestant are the forerunners the Wesleyan Repository (April 12, 1821-1824) published by William S. Stockton, first in Trenton, N. J., then in Philadelphia; the Mutual Rights (August 1824-July 1828); and the Mutual Right and Christian Intelligencer (September 1828-January 1, 1831). Back of the Methodist Recorder, which was created by order of the General Conference of 1854, to serve the western section of our church, are the Methodist Protestant Letter-Press, Methodist Correspondent, and the Western Recorder, published originally near Zanesville, Ohio, by Rev. Cornelius Springer and later by Dr. Ancel H. Bassett. By order of the General Conference of 1928 these two great papers were combined into our present Methodist Protestant-Recorder.

2). Another national organ is the Missionary Record, in its earlier days called the Methodist Missionary and the Methodist Protestant Missionary, began under the auspices of the Foreign Missionary Society, and continues under the supervision of the women of our Church. For eighteen years this paper was edited by Mrs. J. F. McCulloch, a member of Grace Church, and published for more than ten years by Dr. J. F. McCulloch. (Davis, P. 95).

3). Within the N. C. Annual Conference we have that invaluable asset, the METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD, which has been published as a weekly since 1893. This excellent paper was founded, edited and published by the talented Dr. J. F. McCulloch, of Greensboro. Upon his death the paper was purchased in 1934 by the N. C. Annual Conference and since has been edited by Dr. J. E. Pritchard (1934-36) and Dr. R. M. Andrews (1937-).

4). We have a Sunday school literature adequate for our day. Our literature began as part of the two great papers previously mentioned, but in 1894 it became a separate literary department with Dr. John F. Cowan, as editor. He was succeeded by Dr. C. E. Wilbur, then Dr. C. S. Johnson.

4. We have a world church. Our total mission program is under the direction of the Board of Missions (since 1928) with work in America, Japan, China, and India. Our Board of Missions is the combined forces of the Board of Foreign Missions, created by the first General Conference of 1934; the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, organized in First Church, Pittsburgh, February 14, 1879; the Board of Home Missions, organized at Grafton, W. Va., July 24, 1888; and the Home Missionary Society.

5. We have educational institutions sufficient for our people. 1). Pine Ridge School is operated by the Board of Missions in the mountains of Kentucky and is rendering a real service to those children of Wolf County. 2). The Children's Home at High Point provides care under Christian environment for more than 115 children and is also under the supervision of the Board of Missions, though originated by women of our State and yet supported more than $11,000—about half of its annual budget—by the Sunday schools of North Carolina. 3). Two Homes for the Aged exist, one supported by the entire denomination at West Lafayette, Ohio, and the other by the Maryland Annual Conference at Westminster. 4). We have four colleges located at strategic points in our denomination: Westminster, at Tehuacana, Texas; Adrian, at Adrian, Michigan; Western Maryland, at Westminster, Maryland; and High Point, at High Point, North Carolina, each a story in itself. 5). And for the preparation of Methodist Protestant ministers for the Methodist Protestant Church, we have Westminster Theological Seminary, located at Westminster, Maryland, with Dr. C. E. Forlines, of Burlington, N. C., as president.

6. We are serving our young people with an attractive program. This program originated in earnest in 1908 with the establishment of the Board of Young People's Work with Dr. Charles H. Hubbell, secretary. Upon his death in 1914, Dr. Harlan L. Feeman served as secretary until 1917, when our own Dr. A. G. Dixon took up the work. Upon his election to the presidency of the N. C. Annual Conference, the work was performed by Dr. E. A. Sexsmith until he returned to the pastorate in the Maryland Conference, and Rev. Lawrence C. Little was called from the associate pastorate of Grace Church to fill the position. Since 1932 Rev. F. L. Gibbs, also of the N. C. Conference, has served as secretary in a most acceptable manner.

7. We are laboring to take care of our superannuated ministers. Many of the annual conferences have superannuate funds for annual distribution to retired ministers or their wives. In addition recently the general church has accumulated a fund of $100,000, interest from which is being distributed to these veterans of the cross.

8. Our Church has ever stood for cooperation and has on several occasions striven for various organic unions. We are participating member of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the American Bible Society, the International Council of Religious Education, and perhaps other international organizations. After the Civil War, during which we were split into north and south as a church, we reunited in 1877, thus putting our own house in order. We labored for a union of our church with the United Brethren Church but failed in the venture because of their bishops failing to call for the vote. We also voted union with the Wesleyan Methodist Church, but because of their lack of cooperation that venture also failed. We have voted union with the M. E. and the M. E. Church, South, and stand ready for a greater Church. We bring to this day a well rounded church, with full functions in every area of our life. We come to a new day in democratic Methodism and the full realization of our great cardinal principle—lay representation!

◆

LENTEN TOPICS

"Christ And the Way"

Of the Way—Acts 9:2.

Jesus made His decision and throughout His life steadfastly followed it. He chose the way of self-denial and self-giving, knowing full well what it would cost. Time and again His soul was tried to the breaking point but He did not waver or compromise. Witness the struggles on the Mount of Transfiguration, in Gethesemane and on Golgotha. There was always grace sufficient. It is entirely probable that He passed through similar trying experiences, less tense and more fleeting, it may be, but testing and tempting just the same. In some cases He was alone, at others friends were with Him. It is clear that solace and comfort came in the companionship of trusted disciples, even when they misunderstood or did not comprehend. In moments of great need He either took them with Him or sought their company. Like all of us, He too needed friends. The best should be our choice.

"Companions By the Way"

Jesus came and joined them. Luke 24:15.

Scripture: Luke 24:13-25.

Jesus invited certain apparently unpromising individuals to become His intimate companions and friends. What satisfaction could He find in men so rude, so illiterate, uncultured, poor and unimportant? Human wisdom would never have hazzarded any great enterprise on such uncertain material. Worshipping the god of "efficiency" they would have turned contemptuously away and looked for men of wealth, "brains," position and special training. They would want men of power!

Only God can look beneath the surface and into the depths of our souls. And only God can see the future as well as the present and know unerringly what promise there is in human personality. His judgment is true and righteous. In Peter, James, John and others Jesus saw hidden worth and marvelous possibilities. Here were men unfettered by prejudices, conceit or ambition, men who would respond to His teachings, grow in knowledge and grace, be spiritually quickened by His presence, refined by the trials experienced and ulitmately become effective leaders in building the Kingdom.

Equally important, they would become congenial and helpful associates. They needed Him, it is true, but He needed them also. He would find comfort, encouragement and strength in their companionship. He could face the task with greater confidence and peace. All of which meant He would be a blessing to them and they would be a help to Him.

In the life and work of the church we find a fellowship satisfyingly helpful. Fellowship with men and women of like experiences, interests, aspirations and purposes. A fellowship very dear to us in fact, because it gives us also the high privilege of intimate, personal refreshing communion with our living and ever present Lord. In service to others, in Christian associates, in varied experiences, and in the holy exercise of worship we know His presence and are endued with His power. He is indeed the best of all companions for the Way.

All praise to our redeeming Lord,
Who joins us by His grace,
And bids us, each to each restored,
Together seek His face.

And if our fellowship below
In Jesus be so sweet,
What heighth of rapture shall we know
When round His throne we meet.
—Charles Wesley.

Prayer: Father in Heaven. We thank Thee for Christian friends and the comfort and encouragement they bring. Especially do we thank Thee for the Church where "the fellowship of kindred minds is like to that above." In the service of the Church we experience the presence and power of Thy son, our Lord, to the salvation of our souls. Amen.

◆

WHY I GO TO CHURCH

Do you go to church? If so, why? Why not go for a joy ride in "God's great out-of-doors?" Why not stroll into the woods and fields and find God in nature? Why not stay at home and get a sermon over the radio?

These things in themselves are not bad, but they are no substitute for the church. Listen to Edgar A. Guest in the American Magazine as he tell why he goes to church.

"I go to church because I want my children to go to church. I want them to know something more of this life than business, sport and selfish amusement. I know only one institution that will teach them that they are divine. The church will interfere with their pleasures at times, but their mother and I sometimes have to do that, and we hope that they will love us none the less because of it. The church will mystify and puzzle them and seem irksome to them now and then. But all things worthwhile demand something of us in sacrifice. I believe that the church and the things it stands for are necessary to our well being."

◆

The preacher's task is to cry, as did John the Baptist, "Behold the Lamb of God," and not to attract attention to himself to gather a clique around himself.—Erling C. Olsen.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

For the next few weeks the Appreciation Year committee hopes to run under the above caption the name of the charges which report to the President of the Conference that they have gone "over the top" in the campaign. We want to give each week the most outstanding plans for raising this fund. If you have a plan which will be a thriller, please send it at once to the President of the conference who is also the chairman of the Appreciation Year committee.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.

By vote of the committee which met Monday of this week the outstanding plan of the week is that of Rev. D. I. Garner of Mebane who went and found fifty people who would give one dollar a week for eight weeks.

Now send in the name of your charge just as soon as you pay your apportionment and send any good plan you have worked as may be worked for raising this fund.

◆

ADDITIONAL YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY REPORTS

North Carolina Conference

Central M. P. Church, Asheboro, Dr. S. W. Taylor, pastor.—Excellent services. Offering $26.56.

Shiloh Charge, Rev. C. E. Ridge, pastor.—Enthusiastic service. Offering $103.00.

Rev. J. E. Garlington, pastor.—Spring Church, $6.00, Lebanon Church, $10.00; Pleasant Hill Church, $6.35; Total $22.35. All services were very good, with good attendance.

Liberty-Siler City, Rev. Aubert M. Smith, pastor.—The day was observed in three churches. Offering $83.00.

Richland Charge, Rev. C. L. Grant, pastor.—"Shrines" presented very effectively. Program was impressive in the church and Sunday school service. Offering $4.27.

Pleasant Grove Charge, Rev. F. R. Love, pastor. Offering $113.00

Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, pastor.—The day observed successfully in all six churches. Offering $37.16.

Glen Raven Charge, Rev. Joseph Coble, pastor.—Young People's Day materials were very helpful this year. Especially "Shrines—Our Religious Heritage in Chancel Drama." Successful service observed in the following churches, with offerings: Fair View, $9.00; Glen Raven, $9.25; Haw River, $3.60. Total $21.85.

F. L. GIBBS.

◆

Henry Ward Beecher once was asked how he managed to get through so much work in a day. He replied: "By never doing anything twice. I never anticipate my work and never worry about it. When the time comes to do a thing I do it, and that's the end of it."

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$848.06
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland	1.48
Oak Grove, Cleveland	1.15
Liberty	10.00
Gibsonville	5.00
Concord	17.50
Thomasville Community church	10.00
"Love Gift," Thomasville	11.60
Winston-Salem	5.00
Spring Valley, Vance	3.00
Calvary	15.00
Union Grove, Orange	1.00
Pinnacle	2.00
Thomasville Community, J. W. Boyles	5.00
Siler City	5.00
Welch Memorial	3.00
Shiloh Christian Endeavor	10.00
"Love Gift," Thomasville First	15.00
West End, Thomasville	5.00
"Love Gift," Chestnut Ridge, Orange	1.00
Hope	5.00
Total collected to date	$980.79

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch Women's Work.

THANK-OFFERINGS

Amount previously reported	$856.40
Reidsville	18.00
Jan. 31—Total November Thank-offering		$874.00
Hebron, Orange (Nov.)	$ 4.35
Flat Rock, Vance	3.80
Maple Springs	8.10
Winston-Salem	25.00
Union Grove, Orange	6.40
Whitakers	25.00
Mt. Lebanon, Randleman	20.00
Reidsville	6.92
Friendship, Shiloh	4.50
Thomasville, First church	61.00
Spring Church Circuit	10.00
Rehobeth, Granville	12.00
Mt. Hermon, M. H.	8.30
Canaan, Denton	8.00
Grace	30.53
Graham	20.00
Henderson	19.05
West End, Thomasville	4.00
High Point	28.17
February Thank-Offering received to date		305.12
Total Thank-Offering for year		$1,179.52

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch Women's Work.

NOTICE TO ALL AUXILIARIES

At the annual meeting to be held in First church, High Point, April 12-13, we hope to have an interesting and helpful exhibit. Since the state organization does not have a great deal of material to put on display, quite naturally the size and interest of this exhibit will depend upon the contributions made by the individual societies. We are asking every auxiliary, therefore, to bring some poster or other material which portrays some interesting phase of its own program, and which might be interesting and helpful to others. Any oriental costumes or similar materials privately owned would also be appreciated.

There will be plenty of room and we hope that every auxiliary will have some part in the exhibit.

If I could get hold of these materials, or at least know what to expect, a few days before the Branch meeting opens, I would appreciate it.

MRS. J. C. MADISON,
Secretary of Exhibits.

THANK-OFFERING SERVICES BEING OBSERVED IN MANY CHURCHES

While many of our churches and auxiliaries have observed thank-offering services, there are others which have been delayed from unavoidable causes. The amount raised to date for February thank-offering is $305.12; total amount for the year, $1,179.52. The goal for the year is $2,000. There is a balance yet to raise of $820.48.

If 20 churches or auxiliaries will raise $20.00 each, or if 30 auxiliaries or churches will raise $10.00 each, or if 40 auxiliaries or churches will raise $5.00 each, we can win the goal of $2,000; and this will not only be the means of North Carolina reaching its Branch apportionment, but each auxiliary and church will have credit on World Service during this Appreciation Year campaign. Literature may be secured by applying to me, and the assurance of your willingness to cooperate by sending a postal card will be appreciated. The women of our church are asked to participate in Appreciation Year, and this is an opportune time and way to do it. Women and preachers all, let us show our appreciation of what our beloved church has done during its 11 years' existence by "Giving for Gratitude" and in celebration of the beginning of the Women's Work sixty years ago.

MRS. WM. C. HAMMER,
Secretary Thank-Offering.

LOGS FOR FLOWER BOXES

One winter I went to our nearby woods and selected some hollow dogwood trees. Later I visited a neighbor whose husband is a blacksmith and had our ax sharpened. Then at one of the rare times I found my busy husband with nothing special to do, we went to the woods and cut the logs. He hewed out the side of each hollow log and plugged the ends with stones. We carried them to the house and he fastened two to the sides of the front porch and one across my back window.

Early in the spring I filled my log flower boxes with a mixture of chicken manure and garden dirt. I sowed petunias and enjoyed a profusion of bloom from spring until Thanksgiving. Water was all they needed. I cut off the seed pods and the plants kept blooming.

I was especially pleased with the flowers at my kitchen window which opens inward on hinges. With the window open there was, in addition to the multi-colored petunias, their reflection to double their beauty while I cooked and washed dishes. Seems to me the whole family fared better by having the simple litle box of petunias at the kitchen window. So I mean to have it every year. Do you have flowers outside your kitchen window for the humming bird to visit? Do. It's worth the trouble.

MRS. E. D. MILLAWAY.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Welch Memorial S. S., High Point	$ 8.23
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	2.66
Hope S. S., Siler City	1.00
Mt. Carmel S. S., Forsyth	8.37
Union Chapel, Granville	9.94
Canaan S. S., N. Davidson	3.50
Ebenezer S. S., Greenville	2.00
Mrs. H. L. Stone, Pinnacle	10.00
Hickory Grove S. S., Guilford	6.40
C. E. Society, Glen Raven, clothing child	5.00
N. C. Branch, Woman's Auxiliary, by the Treasurer	102.91
A Friend, Pfafftown	1.00
Central S. S., Asheboro	40.00
China Grove S. S.	3.00
Caroleen S. S.	3.36
Mt. Zion S. S., Pinnacle-Mt. Zion, Jan. and Feb.	7.00
Friendship, Fallston	6.00
Moriah S. S.	4.50
Kistler's Union, Cleveland	3.52
Ladies' Aid society, Elwood, Ind., feeding child	5.00
Pine Grove S. S., Siler City, first qtr.	2.00
Clark's Chapel S. S. Weaverville	1.00
Baraca class, Gibsonville, clothing child	5.00
Mitchell's Grove S. S., Guilford	9.82
Welch Memorial S. S., High Point	10.00
Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Smith, personal, Greensboro	5.00
Bellmont S. S., Mt. Hermon	7.79
Bethel, Alamance	6.20
Bess Chapel S. S.	2.16
Harmony S. S., Yarboroughs	2.00
Mr. John Thompson, personal, Graham	5.00
Graham S. S.	7.22
Harmony Grove, W. Forsyth	1.10
Rehobeth, Granville	10.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

A bundle of clothing from West End, Greensboro, one dress, skirt, a waist and coupons.

Our Annual March Letter

The following letter went out last week to pastors, Sunday school superintendents, and Children's Home secretaries. It is published here that others may join in the good work. Our list of secretaries was not revised at last conference, so if these letters did not go to the right ones in the local churches, please let us know, giving name and address of the proper one, and also name of the church.

The letter reads as follows:

Our Dear Friends:

You gave us the finest Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings this year that the Home has ever had, and with that we paid off the $3,800 deficit which we reported to conference. That, together with the regular offerings, enabled us to balance our budget as of January 1, 1939. But the regular offerings have been so low for January and February, so we are asking you to give us a special boost in your regular offerings for March and April.

A goodly number of Sunday schools and churches did not send us any offerings at all during the past two months, and you can readily see how that would decrease our income. So we are especially asking these to make that up during the next two months. We thank you.

The most of our very best offerings come from those Sunday schools which have set monthly goals, which they send us rain or shine. This helps wonderfully. We are glad to report that quite a number of Sunday schools have substantially increased their goals for this year. Can't you get your Sunday school to do likewise?

Appreciation Year is on, and we are hoping that every church in the conference will do well by that. Yes, so well that every dollar of the World Service budget will be raised by April 30. It ought to be done.

The Children's Home is one of our regulars, so we must not let the Home slip back into debt while we endeavor to lift other boards and institutions out of debt. We predict that those who do the best by the Appreciation budget will also do the best by the Children's Home.

This is not going to be an easy year to run the Children's Home because of the many other things which are pressing upon us for attention; but if every Sunday school in the conference will give us a good lift during March and April, we can easily have a balanced budget on May 1. We are anxious to go into Methodist Union free of debt, and it can be done if each Sunday school will help.

With 118 children to support, we are depending upon you to give us special help during March and April. We thank you.

Also, please plan with your women to take as many fruit jars as possible this summer, and let us know at an early date so that they may be delivered as there is passing. An early reply will save us anxiety and also save us gasoline. Thank you so much for your hearty cooperation.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

CHILDREN'S HOME HISTORY

We come to you again asking you to make another effort to sell the booklets you have. We appreciate so much the help you have given, and we were delighted when expenses were all paid, but unless we can collect on the rest, the Home will be the loser.

We hope, however, that the interest created by this work in this state and others, may mean more than we will ever know.

The articles Dr. Dixon gives me credit for were paid out of this fund. Besides the money turned in to Dr. Dixon, we have put two ironing boards, one tea kettle, one wall can opener, and nine pairs of curtains in the Home recently. Won't you help us do some more of these small things?

MABEL RUSSELL.
1915 N. Main St., High Point, N. C.

◆

Miami University medical authorities report a decrease of more than 50 per cent in the number, severity and duration of colds contracted by students as a result of cold vaccine injections.

◆

New Hampshire's largest inland body of salt water, Great Bay, will be the object of intensive research and writing by University of New Hampshire undergraduates this winter.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

I WOULD BE TRUE

Topic for March 19, 1939

Daily Bible Readings:

Monday, March 13—True to her duty. Esther 4:12-5:2.
Tuesday, March 14—Respect for parents. Eph. 6:1-3.
Wednesday, March 15—True friendship. John 12:1-8.
Thursday, March 16—Hearing and doing. Jas. 1:22-25.
Friday, March 17—Love and good works. Rom. 12:9-16.
Saturday, March 18—True to God's will. Acts 4:18-21.

The Text: Deut. 5:19, 20; I Sam. 18:1-4; Ruth 1:16-18.

One of the hymns that thrills youth today and leads to a richer, nobler Christian experience is that poem by Howard A. Walter:

I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for these are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

I would be friend of all, the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving, and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up, and laugh, and love, and lift.

Youth itself demands loyalty today and youth is living in an age that demands loyalty. Youth thinks and reads over and over again the two greatest love stories of history. The story of the devotion of Jonathan to his friend, David, even though he was aware of the fact that he might bring upon himself the wrath of his father, should lead any modern young man to desire such a friendship above all else in the world.

Ruth set an example that thrills the heart of every present-day young woman, when in her speech to her mother-in-law, Naomi, she said: "Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God; where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me, and more also, if aught but death part thee and me."

With such examples of loyalty before us we cannot do other than follow—than sing, and preach, and practice: "I would be true, for there are those who trust me."

We must be true to our inspirations—to our ideals. Any modern person can do this, but it is so much easier for the Christian. He has an example of honesty, loyalty, and devotion in his Master, Jesus.

The Christian must be loyal to Christ, and to His way of life. If we as young people today are loyal to Christ, we will strive to live the kind of life that He wants us to. We will tell others about Him and try to lead our friends to know this Master who lived and taught loyalty to the highest ideals that the world has ever known. If we follow Him we will be faithful not only to the big things that demand our attention, but to the little things as well—to those who hate us as well as our friends.

There is perhaps nothing that shows a man's character as much as his loyalty to his friends. Some of us just haven't learned to be true to our friends. Cervantes, in Don Quixote says: "An honest man's word is as good as his bond." How many of us can be trusted completely by our friends? Do they know that we will speak well of them in their absence? Can they confide in us their secrets and know that they will remain secret? Are we the person to whom they will come in time of trouble for encouragement and assistance? An unreserved confidence will be the fruit of our complete loyalty to friendship.

Our homes demand our loyalty. The best friends that we have in the world are within our homes, and they deserve our honesty and loyalty. There must be understanding and a willingness to help each other even though we must sacrifice other things, if there is to be true fellowship and a fulfillment of ideals in the home.

Then to ourselves we must be true, for unless we are true to ourselves we will not be true to any other loyalty in the world. Shakespeare has Polonius advise his son Laertes:

"This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

◆

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

Some time ago Mrs. Mabel Russell, who is very deeply interested in the welfare of the Home, and who has worked in the Home and for the Home, had an article in the Herald about building a gymnasium at the Home in memory of Mr. H. A. Garrett, which I think all right and proper for something to be done. Mr. Garrett did much for the Home in so many ways. Some of you may not know, as I do, of his faithful work. He did much to teach the children to economize. We all were told that we must save. Children and workers had to make good. If we left on lights not necessary or left them on nights through neglect, Mr. Garrett walked over the building often from cellar to attic to see what was going on. Yes, we need to appreciate his great work. He said we in the Home are spending other people's money, so we must be real careful and saving. He taught the children what they saved was what they made. Then Mrs. H. A. Garrett was one among the greatest women that has ever been at the Home. She and Mr. Garrett did much in the laying of a sure foundation of a great work. And Mrs. Fannie Page Luck and Miss Millie Bowman and others did much in the starting of the work. I wonder sometimes, had it not been for some teaching economy, and as it was taught in the beginning, would the Home ever have remained a place for orphan children. There never was anyone in the Home who taught economy more than Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, Miss Millie Bowman and Mrs. Fannie Page Luck, so we as a whole have much to be grateful for that we have had such good workers as they were and many others also who have been good.

Now back to the gymnasium. I may see things very different from many of you, but I feel the most needed thing at present is more help in the Home to teach and build Christian character. It seems to us we need more workers in the Home. Our Children's Home is home missionary work. We need women and girls who have had Christian experience and are ready and willing to work, regardless of prices. Then we feel we would be doing something worthwhile in the world. Why not start a fund separate and apart from all other collections to employ more workers, and that, it seems, would be much better than to build any kind of recreation building. I say this in all due respect to what has been said by Mrs. Russell, and hope we may pray over this and do the way we can do the most good. I would suggest we add one worker at first and as we would get the people interested and get sufficient funds, add more workers. We need workers like Miss Laura Braswell, and surely we can find good Christian people to work in the Home if we will support them.

Sincerely,
MARTHA PARSONS.

"US"

When we're feeling mean and ugly,
And we want to claw and fight,
When we blame the "other fellow,"
And it's "us" that's always right—
Then it's time for us to ponder,
Time to change our point of view,
"See ourselves as others see us,"
Stubborn—yes, and hateful, too!

If we want folks to be friendly,
We ourselves must friendly be;
Chances are that many others
Have more troubles than have we.
What's the use of sadly sighing,
Fretting, crying all the day?
Let us all be "up and doing,"
Driving all the gloom away!

This world may be full of trouble,
Most of us have had our share,
None of us are free from trials,
All have burdens we must bear.
But there is no use in grumbling,
Better far a crooked grin—
When we open up the windows
Of our hearts the sun shines in.

—Publisher Unknown.

DR. C. E. FORLINES TO VISIT SPRING CHURCH CHARGE

On Sunday, March 12, Rev. J. E. Garlington will have as his guest Dr. C. E. Forlines, president of Westminster Theological Seminary. Dr. Forlines will preach at all three churches. He will be at Spring Church for the morning service, at Lebanon in the afternoon, and at Pleasant Hill at night.

We feel we are indeed fortunate in having him in our homes and churches. We extend an invitation to all to attend these services and hear Dr. Forlines' messages.

MRS. R. M. ROBINSON.

◆

Washington and Lee University has a special student credit committee that can fine students or have them dismissed from school for pasing "rubber" checks.

REV. C. B. WAY

REV. C. B. WAY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF KERNERSVILLE MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION

(The following news article appeared in the Kernersville News, issue of February 15, 1939.)

The ministers of Kernersville and surrounding communities met at the Kernersville Methodist Episcopal church, South, Monday morning at 10 o'clock and formed an organization. The meeting was presided over by Rev. C. B. Way, of the Methodist Protestant church, who was made temporary chairman of the meeting. Rev. C. C. Herbert, Jr., of Walkertown, was chosen temporary secretary. Rev. Walser Allen, pastor of the Kernersville Moravian church, delivered an extemporaneous address to the gathering of ministers.

The question of forming an organization was discussed at length, each minister present taking part in the discussion. It was decided to organize and hold meetings quarterly. The following officers were elected: Rev. C. B. Way, president; Rev. Walser Allen, vice-president; Rev. C. C. Herbert, Jr., of Walkertown, secretary. The officers will constitute the executive committee, which will consider matters of importance during the period between the meetings.

Active pastors were present from Kernersville, Walkertown, Colfax, and Oak Ridge. Five different denominations were represented in the meeting. Decision was made to meet again May 9, 1939, at the Kernersville Methodist church. The purpose of the organization is for fellowship and for the consideration of questions affecting the morals of the people in the area represented by the ministers in the association.

◆

Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia, has accepted an invitation to lecture at the University of Chicago.

◆

Oregon State College has areas painted on its sidewalks to indicate where students may light cigarettes, where they may throw them away.

◆

A co-educational community college has been opened in Utica, N. Y.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR DECEASED MINISTERS

At the recent quarterly assembly held in Grace church it was recommended that memorial services be conducted at the graves of our deceased ministers each year at or near the national Memorial Day. The recommendation carried with it the suggestion that the pastors of churches where ministers are buried should see to it that such services be conducted; and in case there should be a grave of one of these ministers that does not have a marker, that some move be made to secure a suitable marker. A committee consisting of J. W. Braxton, Geo. L. Curry and R. A. Hunter was appointed to encourage the suggestion, and to do whatever is possible to create interest. As chairman of this committee, without consulting other members, I am venturing a few suggestions.

Since a great many of our churches have certain days set for memorial services, in case there is a grave of a minister at such church, let the pastor see to it that a floral wreath or some design be placed upon the grave. Special mention should be made of it from the pulpit, and following the service would be a good time to suggest that the people gather at such grave and that someone place the flowers. Should there be a minister present who was a special friend to the deceased, or was of the same age, it would be very appropriate that this brother be asked to place the floral design. A brief scripture and prayer or song would add to the service. All this can be worked out by the pastor.

On the regular national Memorial Day, May 30, a Christian or Conquest flag should be placed on each of these graves. As the flag of the Stars and Bars is placed upon the grave of the Confederate soldier, or the flag of the Stars and Stripes is placed upon the United States soldier's grave, let the Christian flag be placed upon the Soldier of the Cross. These flags cost very little, and it might be a move in the proper direction that a small fund be created to provide such flags in numbers, and let them be in the hands of someone to send out each year to certain ones designated to place them upon the graves of our deceased ministers. If some one who reads this should feel moved to make a contribution to such a fund and will send such contribution to the undersigned, it will be used for the purpose herein suggested. Who will be the first to respond?

Then if anyone knows of a minister's grave not marked, I would greatly appreciate it if the case be reported to me. Something must be done about it.

I appeal to our people to respond to this idea and let us see to it that every grave of our deceased ministers be properly decorated this year.

GEO. L. CURRY.

◆

Food statisticians have estimated that University of Minnesota freshmen, at their annual bean feed, will consume 95,000 beans, 900 frankfurters.

◆

Pennsylvania State College graduates of 1932 have given their alma mater $4,500 for murals for the college administration building.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Caroleen, Rev. Herbert D. Garmon, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointments here Sunday. He brought fine messages. At the evening service the message was "Life Met Death."

Our Sunday school attendance is still great, with several new members and visitors each Sunday. The young ladies are working hard; they have won the banner twice out of the past three Sundays, and tied the young men's class for it the other Sunday. This class has class meeting each Saturday night at the different homes of the members. They met at the home of their teacher, Ruth Reinhardt, last Saturday night for a social. Many interesting games were played and everyone present reported a fine time. Our pastor and superintendent were visitors at the social.

The C. E.'s are still doing good in both work and attendance. One of our former leaders, Mr. G. W. Wilson, who is leaving us, made a very interesting talk in our meeting Sunday. We are always proud to have our older members with us.

We want to continue in our work, and stand by our pastor.

LOIS HOLLIFIELD, Reporter.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Church, Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—On the first Sunday our attendance at Sunday school was 173, with 11 visitors. During the church hour Prof. T. E. Stough of Gibsonville brought us the morning message on Christian Stewardship, using as scripture reading Genesis 28:22 and Malachi 3:8-12. He told us some people feel like the church is so honored by their presence that they do not need to give of their money. Tithing is the way of graceful love, grateful love, friendly love and wholesome love. Rev. Mr. Braxton has been bringing us messages on tithing for several Sundays and Mr. Stough's message was very timely. We were glad to have Mrs. Stough and daughter worship with us.

The second quarterly conference met at Pleasant Union church Sunday afternoon, March 5. Mr. Everett Stafford and Mr. J. C. Causey were elected nominees for delegate to the annual conference.

Plans are under way for a water system to be installed at the parsonage.

Mrs. Mary Roberson entertained her Sunday school class at a Valentine party at the Alamance club house. The evening was spent playing Bingo and checkers in which Katrine Murray and James Linens were winners.

On Friday night, February 24, a Martha Washington party was held in the recreation rooms of the church. Games were enjoyed and Rev. Mr. Braxton read a paper on the life of George Washington. Several were dressed in Colonial costumes. Refreshments were served, an evening of good, clean fun was enjoyed by all.

The Business Girls' Circle met with Mrs. Carl Curtis on Saturday night, February 25. An interesting program was given by Mrs. Trixie Suits and Mrs. Carl Clapp. During the business session final plans were made for a chicken supper to be given at the church the second Saturday night in March.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held after the Sunday school on the fourth Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Garrett and Mr. J. T. Shoffner have returned home from Piedmont Memorial hospital.

The Helping Hand class, in cooperation with the Woman's Auxiliary, is sponsoring a chicken stew at the church on Saturday night, March 11.

Another body has been laid to rest at Mt. Pleasant. Oscar Eugene Bowman, 31 years old. He was a resident of High Point, but had been making his home with his sister, Mrs. G. O. Fogleman, Burlington R. 1, for some time. He is survived by his father, Madison Bowman, of High Point; one brother, Ervin Bowman, of High Point, and one sister, Mrs. Fogleman. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Braxton on Saturday, March 4.

MRS. CARL CURTIS, Reporter.

◆

Shady Grove Church, Connelly Springs Charge.—We are glad to say our church work is still progressing, with 128 scholars and 5 teachers present in Sunday school yesterday, March 5. We think this is fine for a little country church, and just thank the Lord for it all. Preaching followed Sunday school by the pastor, and one new member was received into the church.

The cottage prayer meetings are still good. Many souls have been saved in these meetings, and we trust there will be many more to take Jesus as their Savior in the near future.

The interest is still good in the Ladies' Aid society. We still want Mrs. J. L. Love to know that we appreciate what she did by organizing this little band of women several years ago, and feel sure the Lord is still blessing her for it.

We ask the prayers of the Christian people for all our work, and especially the Evangelistic Club, a number of men and boys who have recently banded themselves together for the purpose of winning souls for the Lord.

MRS. RUTH AIKEN.

◆

Asheville.—Our February thank-offering service was held last Sunday morning with Mrs. E. A. Bolick in charge. Dr. Bethea gave a brief historical sketch of a familiar missionary hymn, and Mrs. L. S. Neville, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, spoke on "India's Religion." Miss Frances Cunningham told something of the lives and works of Rev. and Mrs. Minnis in India, and described the new church at Dhulia and its dedication. Mrs. H. L. Hanner discussed the purpose and distribution of the offering for World Service, after which representatives from all the Sunday school classes and the auxiliary presented the offering from their groups. The beautiful music of the choir, with Miss Fannie Miller as soloist, added greatly to the service.

At the last auxiliary meeting, held at the home of Mrs. L. S. Neville, all the present officers were elected for the coming year. They are: Mrs. L. S. Neville, president; Mrs. J. S. Williams, vice-president; Mrs. H. L. Hanner, treasurer; and Mrs. E. A. Bolick, secretary. These ladies have all done splendid work during the past year, and we are glad to have them for our executives another year. At the auxiliary meeting we were glad to welcome Mrs. Lowe as a new member. The study book, "Star of India," was discussed by Miss Frances Cunningham. Mrs. G. P. Younginer conducted the devotional service of the meeting.

The Sunday school attendance is improving somewhat and all classes are working well. Valentine parties were recently enjoyed by the Young People's class at the church and the Baraca-Philathea class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Heller.

At the afternoon worship hour last Sunday Dr. Bethea gave the first of a series of sermons on the Cross. The message was most inspiring and we are looking forward to hearing the remainder of this series of helpful sermons.

FRANCES CUNNINGHAM, Reporter.

◆

Palestine, Flat Rock Charge.—Our pastor has filled all his appointments since my last report, each time with a new and more interesting message, so plain, so simple, that even the young children can understand and get a lasting joy out of it. If there are members that can and do not attend services they do not know what they are missing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tucker's children, Peggy and Gordon, have had measles, but are able to return to school. Little Miss Marion Tucker has had measles, but is also able to be back in school. Miss Attie Walker, who was so seriously sick with an operation in a Greensboro hospital, has gotten able to return to school. J. C. Tucker has been confined to his bed a week or more suffering with a rising on the tonsil. If there is other sickness I have not heard.

GRACE R. TUCKER, Reporter.

◆

Littleton and Chase City Charges.—"The harvest truly is great" on this charge. The work is moving along at an increasing rate. One must keep his head up and keep moving to keep in sight of the needs on this work.

When we came here there was one auxiliary on the two charges, namely, the one at College Street church in Littleton. This society is doing splendid work. There was a need and desire for two other organizations, and so two other organizations have been formed, one at Hawkins Chapel and the auxiliary at Weaver's Chapel. They are entering their work enthusiastically. Chase City is anxious for an auxiliary and we are hoping to form one there soon.

There are five Sunday schools on the two charges and all are doing good work with fair attendance.

There is much interest on the charges in regard to building and repairing. Hawkins Chapel has six Sunday school rooms ready for the roof to be put on. They are using the pay-as-you-go plan. We hope to have the roof on this week.

Vaughn has done quite a bit of repairing on their church and hope to do more.

Chase City has repaired and painted the inside of their church. Plans are being made to install new light fixtures and paint the outside of the church.

College Street church is improving the grounds and putting out shrubbery.

Corinth church is purchasing new lights for the church, and Weaver's Chapel is planning to show us something new in their church in the near future.

The attendance at church services has been good.

There is a flu epidemic among our people which has kept many of our regular attenders away from church recently. We hope for these a speedy recovery.

We are fortunate this year in not having lost any of our members. We are sorry to lose from the membership of Corinth Brother Ike Porter and his family. However, they are not lost from the charge, as they were transferred to Vaughn. We are fortunate in having one of our superannuated ministers, Rev. H. S. B. Thompson, and his family to move their membership also to Vaughn from Spring Church charge.

D. D. BROOME.

◆

Flag Spring Church, Why Not Charge, Rev. C. H. Hill, Pastor.—We are glad to report that our Sunday school and church work is moving along nicely. Our pastor has been able to fill all appointments this new year and has delivered some very fine sermons.

An Appreciation Year Rally was held at our church Sunday, March 5, at 2:30 p.m. for all the churches on this charge. Dr. S. W. Taylor and Mrs. W. C. Hammer of Asheboro were the main speakers. The service was well attended and every one seemed to enjoy it.

We are planning to give an Easter program. The time and place will be announced later.

The Ladies' Aid society met with Miss Olive Bailey at her home near Ulah on March 3 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Raeford Williams had charge of the devotions. Miss Verna Lee King read the scripture and Mrs. C. T. Luck led in prayer. Mrs. E. C. Cox presided over the business meeting. At the close of the meeting the society gave the president, Mrs. E. C. Cox, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Paul Cox, a linen shower in appreciation for the splendid year's work they have just completed. After the presents had been opened the hostess served refreshments to the ten members present. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clarence Cox on April 7th at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. M. P. Spincer is to conduct the devotion.

The women of our church and aid society have decided to bake cakes or cookies to send to the childrens home on March 19th to be used in packing the children's lunches for school.

MRS. CLARENCE COX asst. reporter.

◆

Lebanon Church, High Point, O. L. Easter, Pastor.—Our pastor continues to bring to us inspiring and uplifting messages which are very heart-searching to his listeners. Our services are well attended considering the number of our people who are on the sick list. Some have been quite sick but so far as I know all are better now, we are thankful to say.

Interest is being shown in all branches of the work. Mr. and Mrs. Easter sure have the church at heart and are continually availing themselves of every opportunity to make the work a success in every way. They have endeared themselves to the hearts and lives of both old and young as they go in and out among us.

We had a funeral service at our church week before last, a brother of one of our members, Mrs. E. B. Barnes. Our hearts go out in sympathy for her in her hour of sorrow. Young People's Day was observed on the fifth Sunday in January throughout the day in all the services with a very impressive program at the evening service. The Ladies' Aid continues on the job with many fine local projects under way. Just now they are having the altar furniture rebuilt for more beauty and comfort. The church is getting the new hymnals in the near future.

The Woman's Auxiliary held its thank-offering service on the fourth Sunday night in February. "The Lighted Highway" was presented very effectively. The service was presented in the form of a candle light service celebrating the 60th birthday of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. All the 60 candles on the cake were lighted with three extra candles indicating some amount of money given. This collection amounted to the sum of $56.76. As a whole it was a very beautiful and inspiirng program. We are looking forward to raising our Appreciation Year budget in full.

REPORTER.

◆

Roberta, Rev. H. W. Bell, Pastor, March 7, 1939.—Our attendance has been off some on account of bad weather, but you can tell who stands by the church and pastor.

Rev. Mr. Bell's wife has been in the Cabarrus hospital for treatment, but has returned home for a while to see if an operation is necessary, which we hope will come out for the best.

We have lots of sick folks that are improving—Mr. Starnes, J. R. Blackwelder, and more we don't know of.

Our pastor brought us a very interesting sermon Sunday morning, the subject being, "I have opened my mouth unto the Lord, and can't turn back."

The Pastors' Federation was very successful, and all enjoyed the day very much. The ladies served dinner at 12:30 o'clock.

REPORTER.

◆

Matthews Chapel, Greensville Charge, J. M. Morgan, Pastor, March 6.—Our church activities have been progressing successfully since our last report.

On the afternoon of March 5 Rev. J. M. Morgan filled his regular appointment; he preached an inspiring sermon to a large crowd.

Our Sunday school is moving along nicely, with a fairly good attendance; although there are many in the community whom we would be gald to have join us.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Saturday, March 11, at 2:30, in the church, with Mrs. William Clarke as leader. The Auxiliary is planning to have an entertainment at Powelton school Saturday night, March 11, for the benefit of the organization.

The Christian Endeavor will hold its regular meeting Sunday night, March 12, at 7:30 with Mrs. Lawrence Clary as leader. The topic for discussion will be "Joy and Thanksgiving." Everybody is invited to attend.

The last quarterly meeting was held at Matthews Chapel February 21. Further plans were made for the building of a new parsonage.

Several of our good members are kept from church at the present time because of sickness. We hope they will soon be better.

Our church feels very deeply the loss of a member, Mrs. J. W. Edwards, who died on the morning of February 11. Funeral services were conducted by the pastor on Sunday afternoon. Her body was laid to rest in the family cemetery. Our sympathy goes to her husband and other members of the family.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mr. Lonnie Edwards, who was found dead Sunday morning, March 5.

Our church asks the prayers of all, and our prayers are for all.

CAROLYN TAYLOR, Reporter.

◆

Canaan, North Davidson Charge, Rev. O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Here we come with a report from our Ladies' Aid. Since I did not report last month, I will try to give a brief summary of both.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Berrier. The March meeting was with Mrs. Robah Smith, having 18 members present. Mrs. J. D. Smith read a part of 119 Psalms, after which Mrs. Williams led in prayer. Mrs. Leroy Miller read meditation, followed by readigns from other members. There have been 232 sick calls and 32 flowers sent. It seems that we have had right much sickness hovering over us, but am glad to say that all are improving, with some back at usual health.

Our Ladies' Aid has got the quarter box rolling, as was suggested in our January meeting. We are still planning ways to raise funds. There were several plans presented at the meeting, but no definite action taken.

Young People's Day was observed at our church the fourth Sunday night in February, using the "Shrine" drama; collection being $5.13.

Our pastor, Rev. Mr. Williams, passed another milestone February 24th. Mrs. Williams gave him a bountiful dinner, having as her guests Rev. J. C. Auman and wife from Thomasville, and Rev. R. A. Hunter and wife from Winston-Salem, N. C.

Just a word about the thank-offering service. We are planning to have this the fourth Sunday night in this month. Everybody is invited to come worship with us.

May we still increase our knowledge and ability to know the better things of life and what it holds in stake for us. Let there be peace and love in our hearts.

MRS. CARL W. CLODFELTER.

◆

North Davidson Charge.—We have a Herald Reporter at each church; but some times I want to say a few things that they forget to say. Our church attendance at Sunday school and church services has been real good all the time since we have been here; we have had fine weather and our roads are good so it has been quite easy to get to all services. We have had fine Young Peoples Day Services at all the churches; and the special offerings that were recieved; sent to conference treasurer J. H. Allen. We are enjoying the work here, we are kept busy trying to find just where 636 members live, and to visit them in their homes; our sick list has been small considering such a large membership; all the sick are improving at this writing; Mrs. Bailey of Canaan church is in the City Memorial hospital Winston Salem, an operation is expected soon; please join us in prayer for her.

The people on this charge are exceedingly kind to their pastor and his family; each church on this charge has an entertaining committee, and by this arrangement we eat Sunday dinner every Sunday away from the parsonage; as well as other times by special invitation; we greatly appreciate this plan. The two auxiliaries and two Ladies' Aid societies are fine working organizations; these women are loyal to their church and conference.

A District Rally of the 10th District on Appreciation Year plans was held at Spring Hill church last Sunday afternoon; the speakers were Rev. J. C. Auman and Rev. C. E. Ridge. Rev. Fred Love, Rev. J. C. Bowman, and Rev. J. R. Hutton were present, as well as committees from their respective churches. It was a helpful meeting. The Women's Work was represented by Mrs. J. H. Ragan and Mrs. H. C. Nicholson.

North Davidson charge hopes to raise the World Service budget in full.

O. B. WILLIAMS.

◆

Mt. Hermon Church, Mt. Hermon Charge.—Our work at the present time is moving along nicely. Our pastor filled his appointment Sunday evening with a fairly good number present. Our next first Sunday evening service will be at 7:30 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock.

Our choir is still having its weekly practices and we think it is doing some good work.

The Auxiliary work is still progressing. The February thank-offering service was held the fourth Sunday morning. The offering amounted to $8.30.

Circle No. 1 is having a fish supper at Eureka schoolhouse Saturday night, March 11, at 6:00 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to come and enjoy the evening and help this work carry on.

MRS. PAGE JUSTICE, Reporter.

◆

Rockingham Charge, R. L. Vickery, Pastor.—Rev. Mr. Demmit, of the M. E. church at Rockingham, united in marriage our pastor, R. L. Vickery, to Miss Martha McCaskil, on Saturday, February 25. Mrs. Vickery is one of the most loyal and most spiritual young women in our church. We wish for them a long life of happiness together.

Our Sunday school attendance is not as good as we would like it to be. We have an average attendance of about 100. We hope our attendance will increase both in number and in spirituality.

The C. E. society and mid-week prayer meetings are attended very well. We want to see more people attend these services, nevertheless.

BABY CHICKS
You Take No Chance when you buy
LEONARD'S DEPENDABLE CHICKS
Always top quality—Blood-tested Parent Stock. Write for prices. 30,000 weekly.
Leonard's Hatchery
129 So. College St. Charlotte, N. C.

The Ladies' Aid held a weiner and hamburger supper at the pastor's home last Friday night. The ladies are to be commended for their loyalty to their society. We also wish to express our gratitude on the part of the public's cooperation toward the things that we have tried to do.

The official members, and others who wish to come, have begun to hold "fellowship" meetings the first Sunday evening of each month. We discuss ways of improving the conditions of the church, both financially and spiritually. These meetings have been very inspiring to us all.

Our revival meeting will soon begin. We desire your prayers that our meeting will be a success and that many lost souls will be born into the Kingdom of God.

REPORTER.

◆

Bethel Church, Flat Rock Charge, Rev. J. A. Burgess, Pastor.—The pastor filled his regular appointment last Sunday. We had a very good congregation, and the service was enjoyed by all present.

Our Sunday school is coming along very nicely. We have over a hundred on roll, and we are having very good attendance for the weather to be as rough as it has been. We hope to have better attendance later on.

The Ladies' Aid society is still working. Our society is about 2½ years old. During this time we have painted the church inside, benches and floor included, waxed the floor, got carpet for the aisles and pulpit, and painted and repaired the roof; all of which cost approximately $300. To make this money we have made quilts for sale, had lawn parties, gave programs, and various other things.. At the present time we are selling scouring pads. If the society from any other church knows of any better ways to make money, please pass it on to us.

There has been some sickness among the members of the church, but most of them are able to be out again, and we hope all will soon be well again.

MINNIE PEARMAN, Reporter.

◆

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, Dr. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—We were happy indeed to have Dr. Johnosn with us on last Sunday for his regular appointment. Our pastor was not able to be with us on his appointment prior to last Sunday. This was because of a brief illness.

Our pastor's text for Sunday morning was taken from Proverbs concerning "Wisdom." In this sermon Wisdom was connected with the liquor traffic. A striking sermon was delivered on this subject. It is up to the Christian people to try to do what they can against liquor and all that it stands for.

Preparations are being made for a Bible school class here. There will be two classes, one for the older people, dealing with the study of the writing of the Old Testament. This is to be taught by our pastor, Dr. Johnson. The other class, for the yonger people, is "The Stewardship of Life." Mrs. Bennett Wilson will conduct this class. These classes are to be held in March. They will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday following Sunday, March 19. The remaining two study periods will be held Monday and Tuesday following Sunday, March 26. We hope a large crowd will attend. We feel they will be heped by the study and discussion of these subjects.

The Willing Workers class will meet on March 7. All members are urged to attend and come with some plan or idea to help advance the class.

The Ladies' Aid society met for their monthly meeting last Sunday night. A number of members were present and Dr. Johnson helped discuss their subject used for this meeting.

The regular mid-week prayer meeting is still in progress. It is conducted every Wednesday night, at the church, by some member of this prayer band.

Mr. H. R. McClimon is on the sick list for this week. We are sorry to hear of his illenss and wish for him a speedy recuperation. If there are others who are ill at this time we have failed to mention, we hope they will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Compton and son, Billy Joe, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Compton, parents of Mr. Fred Compton.

As spring approaches may we find a new grasp on life. Let us make our lives count for all that is good and righteous. Let us ever look to Jesus and find in Him the strength we need to live for Him.

MRS. HORTENSE SMITH, Reporter.

◆

A classical museum—a valuable collection of antiquities—has been opened at Vassar College.

POCKET QUARTERLY FREE
Every verse explained. Practical Helps. Higley's Commentary, $1.00. Guaranteed the best. Big catalog FREE.
The Higley Press, Dept. J, Butler, Indiana

WINTER FARM RELIEF!

Here's farm relief no farmer can afford to be without—EN-AR-CO (Japanese style) OIL. Stimulates local circulation for the relief of pains of Neuralgia, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Fatigue and Exposure, also the discomfort of Head Colds and Bronchial Irritation. EN-AR-CO has been doing it for over 50 years. Best insurance against a crop of troubles. Get EN-AR-CO today and get your quick pain relief. All Druggists.
MADE IN U.S.A.
NATIONAL REMEDY CO. NEW YORK

EYE COMFORT

Relieve irritation due to overuse, exposure to Dust, Glare
JOHN R. DICKEY'S OLD RELIABLE EYE WASH
refreshes and brings comfort. Used 65 years. Genuine in red box. 25c and 50c at drug stores. Ask for large size with dropper.
DICKEY DRUG COMPANY, BRISTOL, VA.

MARBLE
$17.95
Big Tombstone
Genuine Marble and Granite Memorials of lasting beauty. Lettering FREE. Overall size, height 30 in., width 20 in., thk. 8 in. Footstone FREE. Freight paid. Satisfaction guaranteed. Free catalog. American Memorial Co., Dept C-19 Atlanta, Ga.

Church and Sunday School Furniture

Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

FOR 65 YEARS
We have built, rebuilt, repaired every make of organ. We can put yours in first class condition. Write us.
Hodgson Organ Company - - - Norfolk, Va.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Fesmire

Early Thursday morning, February 23, 1939, our Heavenly Father called from this life Mrs. Patty Fesmire, of near Mount Vernon Springs, N. C. Across the years of almost a century stretched the life and experience of this dear and sainted woman. She was born June 22, 1846 and at the time of her death was 92 years old.

Surviving Mrs. Patty Fesmire are two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Sumner of the home, Mrs. Rufus Moore of Bear Creek, Rt. 2; four grandchildren, and fourteen great-grandchildren.

Since early childhood she had been a member of the Hope Methodist Protestant church, Bonlee, N. C. The life of this stalwart character was strengthened by a rich knowledge of her Bible, an appreciation of her church, and a love for her family. Truly here was a heroic woman.

AUBERT M. SMITH, Pastor.

Cox

The funeral for Mr. Earl D. Cox, age 34 years, was held at Cedar Falls M. P. church on Sunday afternoon, February 26, the writer being in charge. He professed faith in Christ in early manhood and lived a Christian until death, his church affiliation being with the Methodist Protestant church. His wife, who before marriage was Miss Lucy Julian, survives—also a number of children.

May grace be multiplied to all who feel the loss most keenly, and may the Lord keep them for His own service.

H. L. ISLEY.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call to her heavenly home one of our beloved members, Mrs. James Walker, we, the members of Seagrove Methodist Protestant church wish to express our appreciation of her Christian life and influence in our church and community.

Therefore, be it resolved: First, that it is with deep sorrow that we record her passing. She will be greatly missed, not only by her devoted husband and children but by all of her relatives and friends. Her labors on earth are over but her influence will live on in her home and community.

WOMEN IN YOUR 40's
Need Not Lose Charm!

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

For free trial bottle tear this out and send with name and address to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., 827 Cleveland St., Lynn, Mass. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

Lydia E. Pinkham's
VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Second, That we wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family and pray that God's richest blessings be upon each member and bring comfort to them in their dark hours.

Third, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and a copy to be published in the Methodist Protestant Herald and also in the Asheboro Courier and the Randolp Tribune.

MRS. A. C. HARRIS,
MRS. W. E. TUCKER,
MRS. J. M. GREEN,
MRS. D. J. JOHNSON,
MRS. B. R. KING.

Presnell

Miss Louzena Presnell, age 66 years, passed away from this life to live in that mansion not made with hands, on February 6, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. John B. Presnell, Asheboro, route 3.

Miss Presnell had been in ill helath only a short while. Her death came so sudddenly that her many friends were shocked at her passing. Miss Presnell was a whole-hearted Christian woman. She was a member of New Hope M. P. church until about three years ago when she moved her membership to Flag Springs M. P. church, where she was an active member at the time of her death. She held three offices in the church.

She is survived by her brothers, Henry T. Presnell, of Asheboro, and D. E. Presnell, of Asheboro, route 1, and two sisters, Mrs. Herbert McGee, Greensboro, route 1, and Mrs. W. R. Wiillams, Asheboro, route 1.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, February 8, at 2:00 o'clock from the Cedar Falls M. P. church by her pastor, Rev. C. H. Hill, assisted by Rev. Joel B. Trogdon. Interment followed in the church cemetery.

MRS. H. L. RICHARDSON.

Jones

Mrs. Lucy Bell Jones passed away suddenly at her home near Climax on February 4, 1939, having reached the age of 64 years. Her husband, Mr. Thomas Jones, preceded her to the grave only about three weeks, making it very shocking to the 7 daughters and one son who survive. One sister and one brother also survive, Mrs. Marion Trogdon and Mr. Shelton Lineberry. For a long period of years Mrs. Jones was a member of Gray's Chapel M. P. church, where the funeral was conducted by the pastor and Rev. A. O. Lindley on Febraury 5, burial taking place in the church cemetery.

H. L. ISLEY.

Weaver

William Henry Weaver, son of the late Edward and Gillie Weaver, was born September 18, 1878, and died at his home near Winston-Salem, January 15, 1939, at the age of 60 years, three months and 28 days.

He was married to Della Blanche Shouse on April 14, 1907. This union was blessed with six children, three of whom preceded their father in death.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Virginia and Bettie Ann, of the homeplace, and one son, Spencer, of Winston-Salem; also one brother, John F. Weaver, Rural Hall, route 1, and one sister, Mrs. D. C. Slate, Rural Hall, route 1.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

Early in life Brother Weaver united with Hickory Ridge M. P. church, of which he remained a member until his death. When the summons came he was superintendent of the Sunday school and a member of the board of stewards. He supported the church with his time and with his money; thus the church sustained a great loss in his going.

Funeral services were conducted from the home and from Hickory Ridge church, by his pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Crews of the Baptist church, and interment was in the church graveyard. A large congregation attended the services and the floral offerings were large and beautiful.

REV. R. A. HUNTER, Pastor.

Fannie Louvester Tucker-Kearns

Fannie Louvester Tucker, the daughter of the late Jonathon Tucker and his wife Rinda Tucker, was born in Randolph county July 27, 1877 and died in Greensboro, N. C., November 4, 1938. At her death her age was 61 years, 3 months and 7 days.

On December 5, 1895, she was married to Early Gibson who preceded her in death a number of years ago. To this marriage was born one daughter, Mrs. G. W. Crouse of Greensboro, N. C.

Her second marriage was to Erastus Kearns who preceded her in death a number of years.

Besides the aged mother who survives, there are of the original family three sisters and two brothers who survive. The sisters are Mrs. Sanannah Sexton, Mrs. Lindlay Sikes and Mrs. Earl Varner all of Denton, N. C. The two brothers are Julius and Perry Tucker both of High Point, N. C. A sister and a brother died a number of years ago.

At an early age Mrs. Kearns accepted Christ as her savior and joined Mt. Ebal Methodist Protestant church where she remained a consistant member until she was called to the Better Land.

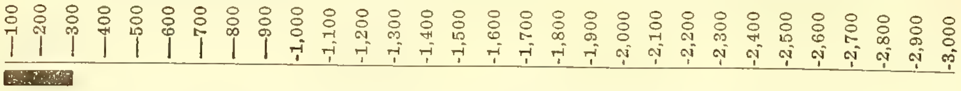
For a number of years Mrs. Kearns was in very poor health and could not be active in church work but she loved her church and her God and was patient through her years of afflictions. She was a good woman. While our Heavenly Father allows death to come into our midst and take from us our loved ones he also in his wise providence lifts up the souls of these loved ones from this world

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

Now Many Wear
FALSE TEETH
With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wabbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath.) Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	9	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	3	....
Asheboro	47	3	....
Asheville	13	5½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	1	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	24½	....
Concord	26	3½	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	8	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	4½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¼	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	4¾	....
Forsyth	46	6½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	5½	....
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	2½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	2½	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	5¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	9½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¾	....
Lexington, First	48	5	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	1½	....
Littleton	46	3½	....
Mebane	27	1½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	11½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	4½	....
Orange	77	9½	....
Pensacola	5	½	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	6¾	....
Reidsville	13	6	....
Richland	35	8	....
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	3½	....
Shiloh	65	5	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	6	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	8½	....
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9	....
Whitakers	8	6	*2.50
Why Not	30	2½	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

(Continued from Page Fifteen)

of sorrow, sickness and grief to the land where there is no sickness, no sorrow, no tear dimmed eyes and where we never grow old.

"I cannot think of them as dead
Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread
They have but gone before.

Their loves are made forever mine;
What they to me have been
Hath left henceforth its seal and sign
Engraven deep within."

On December 5, the funeral was conducted in the Denton Methodist Protestant church with large numbers attending. The pastor was assisted by Rev. Arthur C. Kennedy, a neighboring pastor. The body was then laid to rest in the Denton cemetery under a large number of floral contributions which were the tokens of love from many who had known and had learned to love.

GEO. L. CURRY, Pastor.

"Pedigreed Cotton and Corn"

Prize winners. White Gold-Strain 2, Cleveland Wilt-Resistant both 1 1-16" staple. Carolina Dell, 1" staple. Marett's Douthit and Yellow Chief Seed Corn. Plant-Breeders in Field Seed. Write for Catalog.

MARETT FARM & SEED COMPANY
Keels W. Marett, Directing Plant Breeder
and Manager
Westminster, S. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

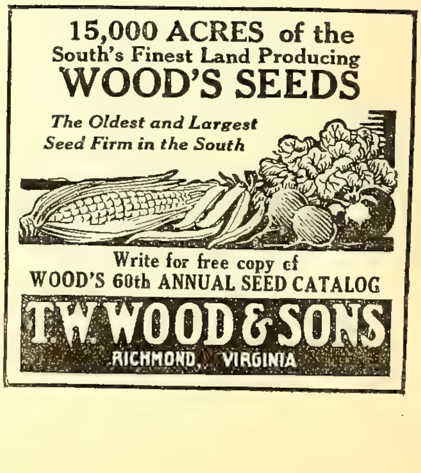
All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Miss Bronna Apple, Grace church	$2.00
Miss Alice Mae Whitby, Littleton ch'ge	1.00
By Pastor Broome.
Miss Annie C. Squires, Orange charge	2.00
Mrs. Emma Hensley, Pensacola charge	.50
Mrs. W. G. Blankenship, Pensacola ch'ge	.50
By Mrs. Blankenship.
Mrs. W. A. Leonard, First, Thomasville	2.00
C. E. Wilson, St. Paul church	1.00
By Pastor Shelton.
Miss Ola Whitely, Tabernacle charge	1.00
By Pastor Lamb.
W. L. Hopkins, Haw River charge	2.00
Mrs. E. O. Stanfield, Haw River charge	1.00
Mrs. Albert Rivers, Haw River charge	.50
By Pastor Bates.
Mrs. R. C. Lowman, Welch Memorial	.50
Mrs. H. C. Nicholson, Community ch'ch	1.00
Miss Grace Tucker, Flat Rock charge	1.00
Rev. M. C. Henderson, Saxapahaw chg.	1.00
J. L. Stanley, club subscriptions, Fairview church	1.25
Vernon Johnson, Glen Raven	2.00
By Pastor Coble.
A. R. Voncannon, Why Not charge	.50
Mrs. Fred E. Brown, Why Not charge	.50
By D. J. Boyles.
S. P. Gordon, Lincolnton	.50
D. B. Johnson, Lincolnton	.50
Miss Hattie Johnson, Lincolnton	1.00
Rev. W. L. Harkey, Lincolnton	1.00
By Pastor Harkey.
Mrs. M. C. Wilson, Asheville	1.00
By Miss Cunningham.
A. O. McCullom, Reidsville	2.00
By Pastor Ballard.
Subsidy
Brower's Chapel, Richland charge	1.60



15,000 ACRES of the
South's Finest Land Producing
WOOD'S SEEDS
The Oldest and Largest
Seed Firm in the South
Write for free copy of
WOOD'S 60th ANNUAL SEED CATALOG
T. W. WOOD & SONS
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 16, 1939 NUMBER 18

Rev H L Isley
R 1
23aug39

The Credentials of Discipleship

By Dr. Thomas Hamilton Lewis

"If ye abide in me and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you." There is the secret of power. We go limping on our way, not strong enough to fight, not strong enough to endure, not able even to run the race set before us, and we wonder at our limitations. Why should we expect to have power when we treat God's word as a closed book, or as a Sunday book? All power is of God, and all God's power for the disciple is in His word. The power of truth is there, for by abiding in it we come to know the truth. The power of faith is there, for "faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." The power of prayer is there, for "if My words abide in you, ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you." The power of the Holy Spirit is there, for "He shall take of the things of Mine and show them unto you."

And hear Him again, "if ye keep My commandments, ye shall abide in My love." There is the secret of the sweetness and joy of the spiritual life. We cheat ourselves out of these precious gifts of God with the idea that they are some form of mysterious blessing given on special occasions and to special saints. It is not so, "but whoso keepeth his word, in him verily hath the love of God been perfected." Oh, if we would only stop trying to lift ourselves into the rarified atmosphere of emotional fancies and plant our feet on the solid ground of God's blessed word, how much more swift and certain would be our progress in divine life. If we expect to fall in love with Jesus, or be caught up in ecstatic self-surrender to Jesus, we must first get acquainted with him, and there is but one way to do that. Hearing sermons won't do it. Hearing others tell about Jesus won't do it. We must hear Jesus ourselves, and to hear Him, we must abide in His word.

If we have no realization of the vitality and power and joy of the Scriptures, it can only be because we do not abide there. We visit them occasionally, but we do not live there. Preaching about the Bible, or worshipping the Bible, as a magical book, or buying it in costly bindings, or defying its enemies to take it away from us—oh, how many are our frenzied substitutes for the simple privilege and joy of just learning it by heart. Let me beseech you to try this way. If you want religion to be power to you and not simply creed or custom; if you want Jesus to be a real, actual Friend and Companion to you and not simply a Christmas or an Easter story; if you want discipleship to be righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost to you every day you live, try the plan of living in the word. Give it the place in your leisure now occupied by the newspaper or the novel. Study it as you study your cash account. Follow it as you follow your chosen leader. Abide in the word, and a great transformation will break over your experience and you will begin to bear such fruit as you have never dreamed of and cannot now even understand. "If ye abide in My word then shall ye be truly My disciples. And if ye be truly My disciples then shall ye know the truth. And if ye know the truth then ye shall be free."

—From The Divine Credentials of the Bible.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

New Ritual Being Prepared

There came into my hands last week a copy of the new ritual which will be submitted to the Uniting Conference for adoption as the official ritual for the Methodist Church. Those who are contemplating buying the new Methodist Hymnals will do well to wait until the new ritual is substituted for the ones now in use. In as much as the rituals of the three denominations are different it is not expected that either of these would be adopted for the new church but that a new one would be made embodying the best in the three now in use.

Delegates' Expenses Again

Attention is again called to the importance of raising delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference. Several charges have already raised this and others are making plans to do so. Please raise it as quickly as possible and send it to Treasurer Allen not later than April 10th. Not many of the delegates will feel that they are able to finance the trip to Kansas City without the help of the conference.

Pre-Easter Evangelism

While we people here in the South do not make as much of the pre-Easter season as they do in some sections, it is becoming a custom for churches to enter into this much more than formerly. Whether we have done this in the past or not it is a wonderful opportunity to deepen the devotional life of church members and to receive new people into the church and kingdom. I trust all of our pastors and churches will be busy trying to save the lost.

A Sunday Morning At Albemarle

Last Sunday morning was spent with the Albemarle church, Rev. C. G. Isley, pastor. This church is so well-known to a lot of our people that it is hardly worthwhile to describe it, in that two sessions of our Annual Conference have been held there, namely, 1930 and 1936. Our people there have a building which they can be proud of. While the debt has been somewhat of a burden to them, yet they are handling it splendidly and some of these times it will be paid for. There was a fine attendance in Sunday school last Sunday, three classes being present a hundred per cent. There was also a good congregation present for church services. A vested choir furnished good music and the congregation entered into the worship service as enthusiastically as any I have seen. Fortunately for this church they have not yet bought the new hymnals for when they do buy them they will get the official ritual of the new church. The pastor reports considerable progress along all lines.

A Sunday Afternoon At Pine Bluff

Last Sunday afternoon was spent with the Pine Bluff church, Rev. C. G. Isley, pastor. This church is a station within itself but is served by the pastor of the Albemarle church. It is something like a mile to the north of the Albemarle-Charlotte highway some twenty miles out from Albemarle. The church has the proper name for it is on a knoll and on the north side and at the west end a pine forest comes right up near the church. The wind singing through the pines makes sweet music. The building consists of an auditorium and two Sunday school rooms at the rear, these being built during the pastorate of Rev. J. H. Trollinger some five years ago. This is the home church of Rev. L. E. Mabry of our First church, Lexington and Mrs. D. I. Garner, the wife of our pastor at Mebane. It was a pleasure to be there and to hear of the good work being done. Brother Isley is a good worker and gets things done. His mother also gives herself without stint to the work.

Pastors' Reports

Davidson, Rev. W. H. Neese, pastor.—Met all appointments except one, received one member by letter, paid expenses of delegates in full, observed Young People's Day in four churches with offering taken, held two Christmas services, sent 12 subscriptions to HERALD (hurrah for Davidson, President).

First Church, Burlington, Dr. F. W. Paschall, pastor.—Three members received, attendance at church and Sunday school good, two very active C. E. societies, church budget paid to date. Best Young People's Day services and offering since began observing the day.

Haw River Charge, Dr. C. W. Bates, pastor.—Congregations the best during the present pastorate, making effort to raise all of A. C. Budget, Friendship church half way out, observing A. C. B. day at all the churches, Young People's Day being observed with sermon in the morning and pageant at night, total offerings a little better than last year, Sunday school attendance good, Woman's Auxiliary and circles making good progress, considering new church building at Friendship.

Denton Charge, Rev. G. L. Curry, pastor.—Fnances a little better than last year, planning to raise Appreciation Year Fund, had good Young People's Day services with offering better than last year; improvements made at parsonage.

Roberta, Rev. H. W. Bell, pastor.—Salary paid to date, part of World Service was accepted; all other budgets to be paid in full, $37.00 sent to Treasurer Allen, three members received, all services very well attended, good spirit among people, plans are underway to cover the church this spring; ladies have organized a Ladies' Aid Society and doing good work.

Shady Grove, Rev. Charles Sharpe, pastor.—Things running about as usual, nothing much to report, good or bad.

Chatham Charge, Rev. Charles Sharpe, pastor.—Sunday school rooms to be built at Hickory Grove and money being raised for that purpose.

Appointments

Sunday, March 19th, 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Enfield.

Sunday, March 19th, 3:00 p. m. Eden on the Halifax charge.

Sunday, March 26th, Vance charge, 11:00 a. m. Gillburgh; 3:00 p. m. Harris Chapel.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 16, 1939 NUMBER 18

Message In Verse

"Rise up, O man of God!
Have done with lesser things,
Give heart, and soul, and mind, and strength
To serve the King of Kings.

"Rise up, O man of God!
His kingdom tarries long,
Bring in the day of brotherhood
And end the night of wrong.

"Lift high the cross of Christ;
Tread where His feet have trod.
As brothers of the San of Man,
Rise up, O man of God!"
—William P. Merrill.

◆

Pastor Neese writes that Davidson has paid the A. C. expense budget in full. Brother Spencer, Herald Agent for First Church, High Point, tops the list this week with the largest amount on subscriptions. We appreciate this very much, W. J. A little more work like that by a few others and the Herald will be breaking even again.

Please, Please

We would greatly appreciate it if our correspondents would try to condense their reports and articles into smaller compass. We do not have the time to rewrite any articles sent us; but if the writers will put their thoughts in more condensed form what they write will more likely have a wider circle of readers, and there will be more space for other contributions. Our readers want the news from the churches, not a comment on the news. Most of us are now aware that all of our pastors preach "wonderful sermons" so that might be omitted. We believe most pastors would prefer that no attempt be made to give a synopsis of the sermons preached; this is rather a difficult task too. Just give the Herald in in spritely manner an account of those things which are vital to the progress of the cause of Christ, and leave it to the editor to do the rest.

Are We At War With China?

An American physician recently said, "The Chinese could save hteir country and their freedom if only against Japan, but it is very doubtful if they can against Japan and America." That may sound rather strange to some who do not know what America has been doing to China. It is stated that America has shipped $300,000,000 worth of war materials to the Japanese since the war began. The scrap iron is made into shrapnel to maim and to kill the Chinese. Hundred of airplanes made in this country carry the bombs which destroy women and children, even American property there. Poison gas made from American furnished chemicals snuff the life out of thousands of Chinese. Hundreds of automobiles and motor vehicles out-maneuver the Chinese in battle—the motor vehicles are made here and with all the rest of war materials furnished Japan we are building up a menace to our own safety and freedom because some business concerns over here made profit out of these transactions.

Character Counts

The most valuable crop any country produces comes out of its homes, not from the bowels of the earth or from the soil or factories. The character of a people must stand back of and underneath everything—the machine, the goods, the poem, the sermon; without character none of them are worth so much. And big business wants men of character, our government needs men of character, the church must have men of character to direct its affairs. The idols of the heart are seen in the conduct of the worshipper; the ideals of a people shine in the faces of the people who hold them, and the character of the workman is seen in the product of his hands. It is not a matter as to how much natural wealth a nation lives on the top of, nor does it matter so much as to how fast the breed increases; it does matter, though, as to what sort of men and women are there. Character counts.

Living With Oneself

The other day I saw a man with an empty sleeve and an artificial limb hobbling down the street talking to himself. I wondered what that poor fellow could tell himself that was new that day. For did he not have to live daily with that empty sleeve and be conscious of his dependence upon the artificial limb? Then I thought of another cripple who was trying to make his way on the sidewalk through the crowd, both legs off above his knees, with two blocks of wood in his hands he was moving slowly and painfully along, I thought of the trying experiences which were his living with that self, knowing that he could never overcome his handicap. Daily I see the dirty bum on the highway plodding along while the world rushes indifferently by him. He is going just to another place. But whether he thumbs a ride or wearily walks the road, he knows that he is classed as a nobody. The would has learned to do without him and his passing out of life will not cause a single tear to fall. Yes, he is living with a dirty, defeated self.

And there are tens of thousands upon whom the mark of Cain rests who dwell behind prison bars with a life sentence separating them from freedom and an opportunity to change their lives. Daily and nightly they must live with a self that the public fears, whose name just pronounced brings terror to helpless women and dependent children. These know that the door of hope is closed to them, that they are companionless and must live with a self no one else would risk himself with alone. Yes, the world has its millions who for some cause realize that they must live a lonely life with themselves.

And so the truth comes home with an ever increasing emphasis that all should so live each day that he is not ashamed of himself, does not loathe himself when he is alone to hear conscience speak without hesitation its judgment of him.

Then I thought of that great host whose daily lives are so clean, unselfish, noble, useful, upon whom the God of heaven smiles. They might live alone with themselves and be happy. They also know that they are not required to do this because there are others, loved ones, friends, just acquaintances who delight in their associations, whose joy it is to share their tasks, their sorrows and their sickness and defeats. It is a privilege so to live that one can live happily with the empty sleeve, the artificial limb, trudging along with the blocks of wood for feet. For such may be doing their best. But not so with the host of others in idleness and crime.

The Prospectus of the Discipline of the Methodist Church is in our hands. We have been eager to see it and to read it carefully. We have seen it, it contains 342 pages, but we have not yet read it. Of course, we know that this is as the name implies, a prospectus, it remains for the nine hundred delegates to the Uniting Conference to take the material in it and shape a Discipline of the new Church. And believe me, this will be a most difficult task. Glancing through the paragraphs we are aware of the intent of the formers of this prospectus that many of the proposed changes and the operation of much of the machinery herein described will hardly become effective before the first General Conference of the united church. There should, therefore, be ample time to prepare for such changes as the united church may require.

I'M DISAPPOINTED

Not the first time, of course. I learned a long time ago not to be too confident of getting every thing I wanted. But I did think the brethren would respond a little better to my appeal for Journal money. Those who did respond made it possible for me to send Brother Reiner $134.00. (I got another $100 from the Conference Treasurer, which made it $234.00). But thirty-two pastors haven't sent in their Journal money yet. That much more would have helped a lot. It's too late now to count on Brother Reiner's books for this year—February 28, was the last day for that. But I do want to close the account so far as our bill is concerned. So won't you send in your money? Thanks.

C. W. Bates, Secretary.

The exercise of patience involves a continual practice of the presence of God; for we may be come upon at any moment for an almost heroic display of good temper, and it is a short road to unselfishness, for nothing is left to self; all that seems to belong most intimately to self, to be self's private property, such as time, home, and rest, are invaded by these continual trials of patience. The family is full of such opportunities. —F. W. Faber.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER EXHORTS TO CHRISTIAN LIVING

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, March 19

Lesson Text—I Peter 3:8-18.

Golden Text—Like as he who called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of living. I Peter 1:15.

Persecution and conflict are falling heavy upon this little band of Christian soldiers. They are still a small group of foreign legionnaires who by all human calculations seem destined to be overwhelmed by the vast numbers of their pagan foes, and the writer of First Peter is sounding a desperate command for every soldier to be at his post to man the guns of God's army. He commands that they shall sanctify Christ in their hearts so as to be ready at all times to give answer to every man that asketh them the reason for the faith that is theirs. Peter is saying to the Church that if they are to have victory over these hostile forces they must use the weapons and the armor of Him who has met and conquered these same forces—"as he is holy, be ye also holy in all manner of living."

Christian strength and protection comes from within and not from without, and as long as we safeguard that inner fortitude nothing can defeat our cause. The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous in heart; who will harm you if ye be zealous of that which is good? The deep-sea diver can go to great depths in water which ordinarily is very hostile to the life and safety of man because he is protected by his diving suit and helmet. These serve to keep out the forces of the sea which would chock him and by his life-line from the boat above he breathes the air of his own realm of life. Peter is pleading with the Christians in Asia Minor to look well to this protective apparatus for in it is their safety and the churches chance of success.

If we would seek to know how these early Christian made such great progress against such terrific odds we find the answer in the fact of their Christian living. They practiced the virtues of love, honesty, humbleness brotherhood in a world that had grown weary of the results of the opposites of these virtues. They rendered instead of evil for evil good for evil and thus, as Christ has said, overcome evil with good. Nothing is so destructive to the power of sin as the power of righteousness and wherever a person chooses good in his heart evil is dislodged and righteousness is entrenched. Christ had possessed the lives of these early disciples and there was no stopping of their power so long as they remainded like Him. Look at the power of just one Christian like Peter. With his good conscience (when on day of Penticost he was spoken against) he was able to put to shame thousands of his enemies and led three thousand souls over to the Lord's side.

"See how far that little candle throws its light.
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Christian history has revealed, too, that its power to overcome evil by good has no earthly limitations so far as conditions like climate, race, language, geography are concerned. Paul went to Rome as a prisoner and because he was holy in all manner of living as Christ was holy it was not long until he was writing back to Philippi with these words:

"All the saints (at Rome) salute you. Chiefly they that are of Caesar's household." Philippians 4:22.

Just think of it, Paul in chains able to win Christian converts in the very household of Caesar. David Livingston went to the dark continent of Africa where all that the benighted savages knew of the white man was that he was a dangerous enemy that must be killed. He went there with no verbal language at first to make himself and his purpose understood, but he took with him the language of a life completely surrendered to the ways of Christ and soon he was acclaimed by these native as the Good Doctor.

Christianity is not only a world religion by proclamation but also by its very nature. Christ did issue the command to his followers to go into all the world and take this gospel but the greatest argument for its world program is in the fact that it works in all the world. The Hebrew had learned to look upon the Gentile as a sinner and an outcast from him because he did not have the eyes of Jehovah upon him. The publican within the Hebrew race was looked upon as a sinner not so much for his actual sins but because of the fact that his work and station in life did not allow him time to know the law; then if the law save him how could he be saved. But not so with the Christian faith; wherever men would receive the spirit of Jesus to be like-minded, compassionate, loving as brothers, tender-hearted, humble-minded, not rendering evil for evil they should receive the blessing of God whether they be Jew or Greek, bond or free.

"LOOSE THE GOSPEL UPON THE WORLD"

"I heard Woodrow Wilson," says Stanley Jones, "end a speech with this climactic sentence: 'We must loose American business upon the world.' I inwardly commented, 'We must loose the gospel upon the world.' But we shut it within our hearts, afraid. 'I was afraid, and went and hid my talent,' said the man in the parable. Fear had paralyzed him. He remained an undeveloped spiritual being because his spiritual life was unshared. Our churches are filled with spiritual dwarfs for the same reason. We call it reticence; its real name is barrenness. We need nothing so much as a passionate personal evangelism that will take men out from behind closed doors and impel "each one to reach one."

"Nothing will be more tragic to the church," Jones continues, "and to the world than for the church to close itself up, encase itself in its own inner activities, while the great stream of the world's life flows past it and the church is not at its center. Our one problem is to loose our gospel upon the world."

Sin is not a momentary retrogression to animalism. A decent animal would not do in the dark some things that degraded humans stoop to do.—Dr. Harry Rimmer.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

SPRING ECSTASY

By Lizette Woodworth Reese

And

LOVELIEST OF TREES

By A. E. Housman

When Poe wrote in his essay The Poetic Principle that a long poem does not exist and gave as his reason that a poem deserve its title only inasmuch as it excites, by elevating the soul, he went to the heart of the reason for the shortness of most poems that have sought to express in words the fleeting beauty of spring. Almost unawares we awake some morning to the rapturous discovery that spring is here; that golden daffodils are fluttering in the breeze on every side, that multicolored crocuses brighten the dull drabness of wintry yards, and that trees that only yesterday appeared lifeless and dead are visions of loveliness in the delicate pink and white of innumerable blossoms. Yet how quickly such beauty fades. Almost as we catch our breaths with the rapture of it the air becomes full of the snow of drifting petals, and in an unbelievably short time the edges of the daffodils begin to wither and turn brown, and before we know it the delicate, evanescent loveliness of spring has given place to the more voluptuous beauty of summer.

This ecstasy of soul awakened by spring becomes almost articulate in these two brief poems. Spring Ecstasy, written by Lizette Woodworth Reese, out of the breath-taking beauty of white clouds, white lilacs, and white thorn, as she saw them each spring in her native Maryland countryside, and Loveliest of Trees, the even more lyric expression of A. E. Housman, as he wandered through the lanes of his own beloved Shropshire in England, are much the same in spirit and mood simply because Maryland is very much like rural England, and the souls of these two poets respond alike to the beauty around them.

Miss Reese gave a subtle response to every kind of experience that came her way, and in a fresh, clear, pictorial lyricism that will make a small handful of her brief poems live on far beyond her day she made articulate the rapture of her soul, and sounds a note that has been dominant in all English pastoral poetry from Wordsworth to Housman.

"Oh, let me run and hide,
Let me run straight to God;
The weather is so mad with white
For sky down to the clod!

If but one thing were so,
Lilac, or thorn out there,
It would not be, indeed,
So hard to bear.

The weather has gone mad with white;
The cloud, the highway touch.
White lilac is enough;
White thorn is too much!"

While Miss Reese is the author of only a few poems that will live, A. E. Housman has written two volumes that contain some of the finest lyrics in English poetry. In their condensation, their poignancy, their skillful simplicity, his songs are incomparable. Though many of his poems sound a note of sadness, almost of pessimism, this mood becomes half-careless, half-heroic, and the provocative truth contained in them is so everlasting that they bear comparison more nearly with the songs of Heine than with those of any other poet. Therefore, in some of his lyrics so short as to be almost epigrammatic, he has created a set of almost flawless songs, as nearly approaching lyric perfection as any in the English language. Such a poem is Loveliest of Trees.

"Loveliest of trees, the cherry now
Is hung with bloom along the bough,
And stands about the woodland ride
Wearing white for Eastertide.

Now, of my threescore years and ten,
Twenty will not come again,
And take from seventy springs a score,
It only leaves me fifty more.

And since to look at things in bloom
Fifty springs are little room,
About the woodlands I will go
To see the cherry hung with snow."

"CHRIST AND THE WAY"

By F. W. STEVENSON, D.D.

Of the Way.—Acts 9:2.

Apparently risking the future of His movement upon an assortment of unimportant personalities, Jesus enters upon His ministry. If there was an uncertainty in His own mind because of the character of those invited to share in the undertaking, there is no evidence of it in anything He said or did. Without delay or hesitation He preaches doctrines hard to proclaim, namely, repentence, discipleship and the Kingdom. Instead of using the powers God had given for base and selfish purposes He used them to bring physical and spiritual health, happiness and peace to sorely affilicted mortals. Such courage and conviction, such loving kindness, such tenderness and sympathy were marvels the like of which men had never known. It is little wonder people were drawn to Him. Here was One who satisfied their deepest longings and who met their greatest needs. However, it must be remembered, that the Wilderness victory made all this possible.

"Adventures By The Way"

They dropped their nets.—Mark 1:18.

Scripture: Mark 4:17-25.

Jesus' ministry was indeed an adventure, involving as it did grave uncertainties and equally grave risks. It was almost as much so to these humble fishermen. He knew well what awaited Him, but they did not. But one experience was common to all. Each divorced himself from the world with all its allurements, vanities and empty promises. And so it is. Those who would follow the Way, live the kind of life God requires, and those who would be endued with the power He alone can give, must separate themselves from everything that would weaken, qualify or destroy. It is basic in the Kingdom that we can not serve two masters.

Preaching was Jesus' first adventure by the way. Preaching is always a great adventure. What shall we preach about? What doctrines shall we stress? What are the needs of those to whom we preach? What is our motive? Our purpose? Shall we indeed preach with an eye single to God's glory, or shall we preach as men pleasers? Shall we preach human theories or divine truth? Shall we consider personal consequences or the consequences in the lives of those who listen? To the true minister of Christ there is only one answer. We must obey God rather than men.

Always, always it must be remembered, that good sermons depend upon good men. The quality of the preaching depends very much upon the quality of the preacher. Men can not impart the knowledge of God to others, if they themselves do not have that knowledge. We can not give what we do not have.

Three mighty words flash from this passage of Scripture. "Teaching," "preaching" and "healing." Actually they mean but one thing, that Jesus, following His epochal decision in the Wilderness, went to work immediately. Mark's "straight-way" emphasize the urgency the Master felt. There was no time to be lost. The King's business demanded haste. Consideration of personal convenience or security were put aside. Truly, He was among men as one who served, not Himself but others. He might not be able to save Himself, but he did and does save others.

What greater service can He render sin enslaved humanity Physical, civic and mental freedom are important, but spiritual freedom is more important. To share in bringing this freedom to others is life's greatest adventure.

The voice of God is calling
Its summons unto men;
As once He spake in Zion,
So now He speaks again.
—J. H. Holmes.

Prayer: Dear Lord. Temptations daily entice us. The attractions of the world would wean us from Thy side. The call of selfish desire would silence Thy tender voice. In our extremity pour out Thy Spirit upon us that we may have grace in every time of need. Help us to walk humbly and faithfully in the Way, whatever the risk or dangers we may face. In Jesus' name we ask it. Amen.

MINISTERS MEET

The Piedmont Ministers will meet at Grace Church, Greensboro, on Monday, March 20, at 10:30 o'clock to hear Rev. J. Madison speak on "The Methodist Protestant Church Is Neither Dead nor Dying."

J. ELWOOD CARROLL, Secretary.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Two churches report that they are over the top this week in the Appreciation Year Campaign, namely, Mt. Pleasant on the Cleveland charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, pastor and Julian on the Tabernacle charge, Rev, Eugene A. Lamb, pastor. Both of these pastors say that the money is in hand and will be sent in right away. Good for these two churches and these two pastors! Now who will be next? Brother pastor, please write the president of the conference just as soon as your church goes over the top. Remember we are giving recognition to individual churches on circuits.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.

◆

UNITING CONFERENCE NEWS

Youth Day at Kansas City, April 29, 1939

One of the most enthusiastic days of the Uniting Conference will be Youth Day. Mr. Donald Barss of Coshocton, Ohio, will represent Methodist Protestant Youth on the program with an address, and Miss Marjory Wingett of Kansas City, Missouri, will preside a part of the time.

It is expected that thousands of young people from the Kansas City area and from distant points will attend the afternoon conferences and evening rally.

The program follows:

2:00 P. M.—Seminars for Youth and Youth leaders.
4:00 P. M.—Evangelistic Service—being planned in cooperation with the Commission on Evangelism.
7:30 P. M.—United Youth Rally in the Area.
Three youth chairmen — one from each church.
Three youth speakers—one from each church.
Address—Dr. Harold Case.
"Calling All Youth"—a dramatic presentation, by Harold Ehrensperger.
Special music.

The committee in charge:

Edward D. Staples, Chairman.
Carl C. Seitter.
F. L. Gibbs.
Walter Towner.
Harvey Brown.
Heil D. Bollinger.

—F. L. Gibbs.

◆

You do not need more of God so much as that God needs more of you. He would possess you so that you may possess your possessions.—Col. F. J. Miles, England.

DELEGATES EXPENSES AGAIN

Dr. Brown stated, through the Herald of last week, that he, Mr. M. A. Coble, and myself, had been appointed by President Pritchard to boost the raising of allotment for expenses incurred by delegates in attending the Uniting Conference. His appeal was to the point and forceful. As a member of this committee I most heartily second all that he said. Our 14 delegates will go to Kansas City on important business for the church. They should not be allow to do this at their own expense. And, of course, the church does not expect that they should. It is the purpose of every charge to raise the small allotment laid for this cause. The chief danger is that we will let April slip up on us before we get around to this. When the time comes these delegates will have to go, whether the money to defray their expenses is in hand or not. We certainly do not want to put them in the position of having to provide it themselves. The essential thing is to take time by the forelock, and raise this small amount now. Some charges have done that already. Different pastors have said to me that they are busy on their "allotment for delegates expense," and that part, or all, is paid already. It is hardly possible that the $3 per diem allowed our delegates by our conference, will take care of their expenses, even with the most economical living. The committee on entertainment stated to the Jackson meeting that a per diem of $4 would be necessary. But by conference action, $3 is the allowance for our delegates. Let us have every dollar of it in the hands of Brother Allen in time for distribution before our delegates leave for Kansas City. Asheboro will be in line with her $40. Let's make it 100 per cent, and just as soon as your charge pays, report it through the Herald. It will be stimulating to the rest of us. Let's get on the march, now, brethren, for every dollar of this expense allotment.

S. W. Taylor.

◆

COURAGE

Say not, the struggle naught availeth,
The labor and the wounds are vain;
The enemy faints not nor faileth,
And as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars;
It may be, in yon smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers,
And, but for you, possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful inch to gain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent, flooding in, the main.

And now by eastern winds only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light;
In front, the sun climbs slow, how slowly!
But westward, look, the land is bright!

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

◆

This age that does not want the blood of Calvary is an age of murderers above all other ages.—Dr. Will H. Houghton.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

"I WOULD BE PURE"

Topic for March 26, 1939

Daily Bible Readings:

Monday, March 20—Purity of God's law. Ps. 19:7-10.

Tuesday, March 21—Purified lips. Isa. 6:1-8.

Wednesday, March 22—Purity of thought. Phil. 4:8, 9.

Thursday, March 23—Purity in conversation and conduct. Eph. 4:17-29.

Friday, March 24—Purity in living. Tit. 1:15, 16.

Saturday, March 25—Purity as of Christ. 1 John 3:1-3.

The Text: Matt. 23:23-28; Dan. 1:8-16.

"I would be pure for there are those who care," should be of deepest concern to both the christian and the non-christian. Purity pays big dividends whether it be physical, mental, or spiritual purity. From our story of Daniel we get a true story of what obedience to God's laws and to the laws of health can lead too. Daniel and his friends proved that purity of body and mind makes its mark even in the material and physical world. Of course we must remember that Daniel obeyed certain laws, not for a physical reason, but because they were the laws of God.

The good Jew of the day of Jesus believed that one could be pure only by refusing to associate with certain things that were unclean. Jesus the perfect example of purity came into the world teaching that it is not that which a man comes in contact with on the outside that makes him unclean, but rather that which is on the inside of him. "Blessed are the pure in heart:" says Jesus, and thus not necessarily those who are ceremonially clean.

We must be pure in body, mind, and heart. Nothing else will suffice. There is a lot of argument about a double standard. Magazine articles have been written about what men or women think about this subject. There is no problem here at all. What will leave a woman unchaste and impure will leave a man unchaste and unclean. The trouble is that too often in our country—even in our churches—men and women alike do not live up to the standards of purity that Jesus expects of his followers. We continually do things that permanently injure our bodies, and often we exchange one hour of physical pleasure for a lifetime of physical suffering.

Doctors tell us that more people suffer from mental illness than from any physical disorder. Like the physical, most of this we bring upon ourselves. The literature we read, the pictures we see, the conversations we have, and the thoughts we think breed mental disorder. And yet it is hard to ever convince such persons that it is they themselves that have place them in such a situation. If we are suffering from some physical disease and the doctor recommends that we refrain from eating certain kinds of food, we usually obey orders. When we are mentally sick and the doctor or minister suggests what we change the kind of literature we read or the kind of conversations we participate in, we become insulted. One of the boys who was in college with the writer became physically ill. He suffered a great deal until he consulted a doctor who only suggested that he change some of his thoughts and some of his conversations. Pure thoughts govern a pure physical body: Impure thoughts lead to sickness and death.

Before we have the strength to live a physically clean life, or to clean up our dirty, warped, impure minds, we must have pure hearts. A pure heart can come only by following the example and living according to the teachings of the Master who taught that purity is one of the greatest assets of mankind. The wise men of the Old Testament set a precedent for this when they said: "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

Father, lead me day by day,
Ever in Thine own right way;
Teach me to be pure and true;
Show me what I ought to do.
When in danger, make me brave,
Make me know that Thou canst save;
Keep me safe by Thy dear side;
Let me in Thy love abide.
When I'm tempted to do wrong,
Make me steadfast, wise and strong;
And when all alone I stand,
Shield me with Thy mighty hand.

—JOHN P. HOPPS.

◆

THE CHILDREN'S HOME AND COUPONS FOR 1939

Dear Friends:

The Coupon Company makes us a new and unusual offer for the year 1939. They will give us a credit for three extra coupons for each coupon from Octagon Toilet Soap, Rumford Baking Powder, Luzianne Coffee, and Obelisk Flour, when the coupon from each of these articles is attached to a designated circular. Through this offer 1,000 coupons would be allowed for 250 coupons. Isn't that great?

We have the circulars, and to save mailing we will attached the coupons as you send them to us. So please work earnestly and send us all the coupons you can get. Clip this so as to be sure to remember the articles for which we get quadruple value.

And that is not all of the good news. Listen! Each coupon from Octagon Granulated Soap counts double during 1939. As individuals you cannot get these values, nor can you get cash for your coupons; but your Children's Home can. Then, too, the company tells us that only about 33% of the coupons are ever sent in. So there is a harvest of coupons right about you for us, if you will just help us to get them. Won't you help us in these two ways: first, send us your coupons; and second, get your neighbors and friends to let you have theirs and send them. Coupons from all other Octagon and Kirkman products count as usual.

The Sunday school children will gladly help gather the coupons if you will interest and encourage them.

The $5 prize for the Auxiliary sending in the largest number of coupons during the last half of 1938 went to the Haw River Circuit Auxiliary, N. C. Branch.

We thank you for your continued interest and help.

MRS. A. G. DIXON.

High Point, N. C.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Bethel S. S., Flat Rock	$ 1.94
Reidsville S. S.	10.00
First church S. S., Winston-Salem	7.00
Grace S. S., Greensboro	12.00
Flat Rock S. S., Flat Rock	2.00
Friendship S. S., Friendship-Love's G.	5.78
Baraca class, Mebane	1.72
Mt. Pleasant S. S., Mt. Pleasant	8.00
Whitaker's Chapel, Enfield, Dec.-March	20.00
Glen Raven S. S.	4.84
Glen Raven, additional T. O.	5.84
Concord S. S., Saxapahaw	3.65
Mt. Lebanon S. S., Randleman	5.79
State Street S. S., Lexington	3.48
Fairfield S. S., Guilford	3.00
Kannapolis S. S.	9.00
Baraca class, Community ch'ch, Thomasville, clothing boy	5.00
First church S. S., Lexington	3.30
Worthville S. S., Randleman	8.80
Level Cross S. S., Randleman	1.02
Matthews Chapel S. S., Greensville	1.50
Sapling Ridge S. S., Alamance	2.90
Denton S. S.	6.25
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	1.51
Concord S. S.	20.00
Mitchell's S. S., Guilford	4.37
Spring Hill S. S., N. Davidson	3.44
Bethel S. S., Randolph	5.40
Bethel S. S., Mocksville	3.00
Gideon's Grove, Flat Rock	3.00
Mr. C. C. Robbins, Spruce Pine, helping support child	25.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

Mrs. Mabel Russell, 9 pair window curtains, 2 scrubbing brooms, and help to make other window curtains.

West End Woman's Auxiliary, Greensboro, 6 new dresses for Easter.

Ever Disappointed?

Well, look at the above list following a first Sunday in March, and with several offerings already in for the second Sunday. The shortest list we have reported in a long time following a first Sunday, and showing that just a few gave heed to our urgent request to increase the regular offerings. For several weeks we have asked all our Sunday schools to double their regular offerings in March, and many have gladly done it. This time because of the many other calls, we only asked for an increase in the regular offerings during March and April. Please heed our request or the Children's Home will suffer.

It is going to take a strong, steady pull all together to carry the Children's Home through 1939 and come up to our very last annual conference free from debt. Please help us to do it. A regular monthly offering from every Sunday school in the conference, with a worthy monthly goal, will do it.

Almost any well organized church can take care of one orphan child in the Home, if it will. We have 118 chcildren, and according to our last Journal we have 224 churches.

We thank all of you who contributed to the above report, and especially those who either increased their offering, or paid up to date.

A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

MISS GRACE ARMSTRONG

Miss Grace Armstrong has been "accepted for consecration as a missionary by the regular authorities of the Woman's Missionary Council and Board of Missions of the M. E. Church, South. She has made a good record at Scarritt. Her appointment is to China. We presume that she was consecrated for that work at the Council meeting in Asheville, Sunday, March 12.

Knowing the unquenchable zeal of Miss Armstrong in the face of her disappointment when our own Board felt that it was not safe for her to go to China, we rejoice that the way seems to have been opened by God in answer to her prayer and persistent efforts. We are sure that such consistency of devotion will bring forth much fruit in the field to which God has called her. Her acceptance and the possibility of her going are other indications of the need of Methodist Union which will make possible work that could not be done with our limited resources.

◆

Dear Mrs. Andrews:

I really think when the books close all the Minnis Fund will be in.

Pleasant Grove has sent in $16.00 this week. Thanks to them and lets hear from more right away. I am hoping to hear from a large group for next weeks paper.

Mrs. H. C. N.—Minnis Fund Booster.

◆

GIVING FOR GRATITUDE

That is what we are emphasizing this year in our Thank-offering and it is a beautiful way to give.

Give your offering in honor of some one who has meant much to you. Pay a tribute in words of appreciation as you place your offering on the alter.

If you have not held your Thank-Offering Service, do it yet. Let's do our part to reach the goal for North Carolina's Appreciation Year. Remember that your Thank-Offering and your contribution to the Minnis' Salary are both credits on your quota for Appreciation Year.

The time is short, but we can if we will put our church on the Honor Roll, with the entire World Service Budget paid.

MRS. C. W. BATES,
Chairman of Districts.

◆

TO SECRETARIES OF BENEVOLENCES AND STEWARDSHIP

Dear Friends:

In your Auxiliary you have been given a report blank for the local work in the Department of Benevolences and Stewardship. Sometimes we do not get a report. I know of some mighty good work having been done, and I do urge you, please tell us about it on that blank. The basis of my own report to the Branch is taken from your local reports. Please answer each question fully.

Unless you report gifts made to our Home Mission causes; whether your church has raised her assessment for the Superannuate Fund and contributed to the American Bible Society; also what kind of program has been presented on Stewardship in your Auxiliary, I will have a most incomplete annual report. We shall greatly appreciate a report from each Auxiliary Secretary of Benevolences and Stewardship with the name of church and charge written somewhere on it.

Let's pass on the good news and thus encourage others.

MRS. J. M. STONE,
Sec. Benevolences and Stewardship.

◆

THANK-OFFERING

Amount previously reported—Fall		$ 874.00
Amt. previously reported for February	$ 305.12
Moriah	12.00
Hickory Ridge	10.43
Lebanon	54.55
Pleasant Grove, Davidson, Mrs. Neese	2.63
Pleasant Grove, Thos. Rt.	50.00
Enfield	15.00
Fountain Place	13.51
Rankin Memorial	15.00
Gillburg, Vance	3.50
Love Gift, Lineberry, Davidson charge	4.21
Denton	25.00
Total Feb. Thank-Offering		510.95
Total to date		$1,384.95

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer,
N. C. Branch Women's Work.
March 10, 1939.

◆

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$ 980.79
Mrs. E. L. Douglas, Louisville, Ky.	5.00
"Love Gift," Pleasant Grove, Davidson charge	3.00
Mt. Carmel, Forsyth	5.00
"Love Gift," Union Grove, U. G.	1.00
"Love Gift," Pleasant Grove, Thos.	16.00
"Love Gift," West End, Greensboro Philathea class	10.00
Rankin Memorial	5.00
Total collected to date	$1,025.79

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.
March 10, 1939.

◆

AUXILIARIES PLEASE NOTE

Last week I mailed two annual report blanks and an efficiency chart to each local auxiliary. Please fill out one report blank and the efficiency chart and return to me at first class postage rate. The other blank is to be kept in your Auxiliary for reference during the year.

Now on your efficiency chart and the blank you fill out and return to me be sure to write the name of your auxiliary, church and charge. Please see that these reports reach me before or by April 1st.

Won't you be responsible for seeing that your report is filled out and returned. Some were mailed to auxiliary presidents and some to corresponding secretaries. Inquire and see if your auxiliary has received a blank and if you have not, please notify me at once. I have a few more and will be glad to send them to you.

Let's have a report from every auxiliary in our branch. If you do not have an auxiliary and received a blank, won't you please send me a card stating that you do not have an auxiliary. This will help to keep records straight.

MRS. JAMES T. BOWMAN,
Corresponding Secretary, N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

◆

APPRECIATION YEAR

The last of our five A. Y. Rallies for the 8th district was held at Gray's Chapel last Sunday afternoon, at 3 P. M. Pastor Isley and Mrs. Isley got in just as we were closing. A funeral detained them. Considering the rainy weather, the rally was well attended. Our A. Y. Rallies for this district have been held in the following order: Randleman, Bowers, Fairgrove, Flag Springs, and Gray's Chapel. A leading layman remarked, as he left the rally at Randleman, "This will do good." I am sure that what he said of the rally there appplies in every case. Increased interest has been created, and good results are sure to follow. Pastor Isley is confident that his charge will pay their $470 budget in full. Shiloh lacks only $35 of being out. Gray's Chapel has $100 provided for, and plans are working to provide the balance. Bethany has paid some, and Bethel is expecting to pay in full. The womens' work has been well represented in each of these rallies. Mrs. D. A. Henley was with us last Sunday. Mrs. W. C. Hammer spoke in each of the other meetings. We are grateful for the assitance, too, of Dr. G. I. Humphreys, Dr. F. W. Stephenson, and Brothers Curry, Auman, and Harrison. And certainly the pastors in each case. Their full co-operation has been very helpful.

On last Tuesday night, March 7th, a most enthusiastic A. Y. meeting was held in Community church, Thomasville. Brother Auman, Chairman of the district, arranged for it. I believe that it was worth $500 to A. Y. But Brother Auman will no doubt, tell about it.

From the Grace church rally, Brother Gibbs and I went south to attend rallies in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. In each of these states we found a most pleasing attitude toward A. Y., and a most hopeful anticipation of results. The Georgia conference expects to pay in full. Their budget is $1,500. A leading layman of that conference, and a prominent busines man of Atlanta, remarked that he had never seen the Georgia conference so enthusiastic over any thing as they are over this program. Much will be done in Alabama too. That conference reduced its A. C. budget in favor of A. Y. Brother Eddins, the President, is requesting that A. Y. be given the right of way until after April 30. We were pleased with the good prospects in Alabama. We have a divided house in Mississippi, because of Union. However, we had a good rally at Clara, Mississippi, and there is purpose and hope on the part of different churches to raise the A. Y. budget. Brother Herrington, pastor at Clara, raised $50 in a very few minutes after the preaching service Sunday morning. There is every reason to justify the hope of worthwhile results in Mississippi.

Appreciation Year is definitely on the march in the Southeastern Area. And I want to pay tribute to our women. They are definitely with the movement every where, and are rendering invaluable service.

S. W. TAYLOR.

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

T. J. WHITEHEAD, President
Henderson, N. C.

EASTER OBSERVANCE FOR CHILDREN

Children's Division
Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll, Supt.

Several leaders in the field of religious education were asked what they considered the essential teachings of Easter. All of them mentioned the awakening life in the world about us and the belief in immortality. One quoted these words from the Gospel of John, "Let not your heart be troubled. . . . In my Father's house are many mansions. . . . I go to prepare a place for you. . . . Where I am there ye may be also," and called attention to the feeling of the presence of the living Christ that dominated the early church.

As these thoughts were discussed it was discovered that appreciation for the new life in spring helps build up an awareness of the orderliness in nature and gives a feeling of confidence and security, an assurance that God's care is "round about us" wherever we may be. With the idea of immortality they associated the ongoing quality of life and the feeling that those who earnestly seek to do the right gain a new sense of confidence and power from the realization of their fellowship with Jesus. The idea of immortality brings added confidence in God's care and a reserve strength growing out of the thought that his love will be about us and those we love even after death. All of these interpretations lead us to rejoice as those early followers did in the assurance that Jesus lives. But if, to us, Easter is only an emotional experience, we have not appreciated its full significance. On that first Easter day there was rejoicing; but those who rejoiced went forth in his strength to do his will. They forgot self and sought only to help others and to build the kingdom of God on earth. Those who wish truly to celebrate Easter will seek some part in making a better and happier world.

After having decided upon the religious significance of Easter for ourselves, we are ready to think of the children we teach and plan how to interpret to them the message of this great Christian festival. With all groups in the children's division the joy of Easter may be associated with God's care and with the beauty and wonder of the new life about us. Care should be taken to develop a feeling of security and confidence in God's love rather than to dwell on the details of the crucifixion and resurrection. The teacher's earnest prayer will be that the children's lives may be touched by the transforming power of the spirit of Christ, so that they will find new interest and joy in bringing happiness to others.

In the nursery group the attention will be given to the very present happenings, since the little child's memory is short. We cannot expect small children to remember how dead and lifeless the bulb was last fall or even to have a clear picture of how the twigs looked the last wintry day, but we can see that they have the joy of looking at new grass, smelling buds, tiny new leaves, and beautiful flowers. Perhaps the children may plant seeds and watch them grow. They may use some of the flowers in their room to make someone else happy. If there are signs of spring the children may be on a walk to discover some of them. As they examine a beautiful flower or watch a seed pushing its first leaves through the ground, someone may sing the "Wonder Song" or the "Glad Song," and in this way help little children associate wonder and beauty and care wtih God. As they help to plant seed and water and care for the growing plants and as they are kind to pets and friends, they will be given a basis in actual living for appreciating the loving care of God. Since the grown-ups in the family will be speaking of "Easter," the word may be given enriched meaning for the child by associating with it the happy experiences with spring and the joy of sharing something beautiful with others.

The beginners are more developed but they will also find their best interpretation of Easter through associating it with the awakening of life in spring. The beginner worker may plan for outdoor trips to look at new leaves and flowers and to enjoy the warm sunlight. Perhaps the children may plant some paper-white narcissus bulbs. Reliable florists now have these bulbs that have been especially prepared so that they will bloom at Easter if planted two weeks beforehand. The children may take home seed to plant, or they may be given a small plant to take home and care for. Many four- and five-year-old children will be given a young chicken or duck or rabbit at Easter. To help the child know how to treat his pet and to provide an actual experience in caring for it, the leader may bring to the department a young chicken or rabbit. Before the pet is brought in the children may plan what they will do for it, the leader guiding them to see that too much handling may make the animal sick. This is one way in which they may help God in caring for a pet. The joy that comes from looking for beautiful things out of doors or watching the rain fall or sharing flowers with friends or caring for a pet may be associated with God, as the leader sings, "O Who Can Make a Flower?" or "I Am Glad for Friends." Again and again there will be opportunity for the leader to repeat:

> "The winter is past:
> The flowers appear on the earth:
> The time of the singing of birds is come."

If the children mention the "Easter rabbit," the leader may help them think of this custom as a kind of make-believe that helps us in planning happy surprises for others. It but adds to the child's confusion to relate the Easter rabbit myth to real rabbits.

Perhaps the most worth-while climax to the Easter activities of beginner children is a short visit to the church auditorium during the church-school hour on Easter morning. In some places the children merely walk about in front of the altar and look at the flowers, and pause a few minutes to listen as the organist plays some joyous music suggestive of spring or to hear the leader sing "O Who Can Make a Flower?" The leader may take this opportunity when the group is still with wonder to offer a short prayer of thanks for flowers and the happy Easter day. The visit will mean even more if the children have brought flowers to help in making the church beautiful.

In the primary department Easter will be associated with happy trips to watch growing things out of doors, with sharing with others, and with many beautiful songs of gladness. Being more fully developed than the beginners, they may be caring for bulbs which they planted last fall. If so, the gift of one of their own flowers to someone else will be a most valuable experience in real consideration for others. Perhaps the most wonderful nature experience for this group is to watch a moth emerge from a cocoon. This will bring the children face to face with one of nature's greatest miracles. We would not expect children of this age to reason that the change in the moth is typical of the change that takes place at death; but an experience of this kind will cause them to wonder at the marvelous plans of God and grow in their confidence in his care. This appreciation of God's care will be deepened as they work with him in caring for flowers and as they help him by sharing some of their good gifts with others. They may take flowers to a shut-in and sing some of their Easter songs. One primary group planned a beautiful Easter worship service which they shared with an elderly couple near the church to whom they had brought some flowers.

The wise leader will plan carefully the stories of Easter to be used with primary children. Guide them in recalling the many kind and helpful things that Jesus did when on earth and tell of the joy the friends of Jesus felt as they discovered that Jesus' love was always with them and realized that he could help them as they tried to carry out his teachings.

Junior boys and girls will have a wider experience on which to base their understanding of Easter. They should have associated God's love and care with many mysteries in the world about them. These experiences may be enriched by fresh contacts with awakening life. They may also be led to see more clearly the orderliness and dependableness of God's plans. Music, pictures, and poems may give a fuller meaning to their experiences. The poem, "Talking in Their Sleep," from Course IV, Part 3 of the Closely Graded Courses, and the songs, "The World Itself Keeps Easter" and "Spring Has Now Unwrapped the Flowers," are especially suitable for use with juniors. These boys and girls will read the Easter story from the Bible. They may be led to see that the great historical fact about Easter is the way in which the friends of Jesus realized that he was helping them even though they could not see or hear him talk. It is important that they be helped to think of something to do to show their appreciation for Jesus. They may be guided in recalling some of his teachings and led to think of some person or group to whom they may bring happiness at Easter. They may select Bible passages, and songs which they may use to bring the Easter message to some shut-in, write an Easter litany, share in making the church beautiful, or

(Continued on Page Fourteen)

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Baltimore Church, West Forsyth Charge.—Our pastor, Rev. G. B. Ferree, preached a very good sermon last Sunday to a very attentive congregation. He chose for his text Phil. 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." His topic "The Life that knows no Defeat." A French warrior is credited with saying. "Impossible is not a French word." Ought it not to be true that the Christian should omit the word from his or her vocabulary? The Christian is assured the strength in proportion to his faith, and he is assured strength equal to the most difficult duties to which he is called. This strenght is in Christ who strengthens by the Spirit.

Do this and know that all things can be done through Christ who strengthens us.

Our hearts were saddened Monday February 6, when we heard of the death of Mr. T. L. Long, one of our faithful members. He had been critically ill for the past week. All was done that faithful physicians and loved ones could do, and many prayers were offered in his behalf, yet God knew best and called him home. There is a vacancy in our hearts, in our community, and in our church that never can be filled. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family, and may they be comforted by our Heavenly Father.

Our Sunday school seems to be increasing We are hoping with faith in God our church work not only ours but all others will be successful in the future.

The ladies Auxiliary held its last meeting with Mrs. J. W. Long, a very interesting program was held. The attendance was very good.

JOSEPHINE PHILLIPS, Reporter.

Midway Church, Paul Hamilton, Pastor.—This is the first report from our Sunday school and church for the new year, but we have definitely begun with a good start.

Our progress in our Sunday school is remarkable. Our record attendance was broken the second Sunday in February and since that time, the attendance has been steadly increasing. The children, as well as the adults are coming in droves to hear the teachings of God. May God bless us in the future as he has in the past.

May I say a word about our new pastor? He is a fine young man from High Point College and has made a very fine impression on the people of the church and community, through his fine sermons and contact with the people. Let a share of the attendance of the church be credited to him

There has been a marked attendance in our Christian Endeavor Society also. Mrs. Hubert Fruitt was elected again to serve as our president and she is a good one. Our meetings have been interesting and are looked forward to each week by the young people. The fellowship in our society has been entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Fruitt were host to the group early in the year and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Walters entertained in the hut last week.

A Junior C. E. Society was organized by the teachers of the respective classes last Sunday evening and we are praying that this work will be a success in as much as the children will be stronger workers for Christ.

Young People's Day was observed on Sunday night February 11th. It was one of the most beautiful and impressive services that our congregation has ever witnessed. This was accomplished through the leadership of Mrs. Everett Walters and the C. E. Society.

We wish to extend our heartiest welcome to our new members; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde York and Mrs. Daisy Hiatt and through their presence and leadership, may we grow.

Mrs. Bill Hiatt was hostess to the Ladies' Class and honored guests, the officers of the Sunday school and the pastor, at a dinner in the church hut last week. The Woman's Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Uke Anthony last Tuesday. Their Project for the month is to ceil the church hut.

Mrs. Everett, teacher of the Ladies' Class, has gone to New York City to receive professional training in Girl Scout work. She will be away for the entire month.

HUNT PINNIX, Reporter.

Glen Raven Church.—Our church is progressing this year in many ways. We have been rather negligent in our reports but the work has been going on.

We are indeed happy to have Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Coble as our leaders this year. They are doing a grand piece of work and we appreciate everything that they are doing.

Our Sunday school is increasing in attendance and much more interest is being shown. All the classes seem to be hard at work and much good is being done. The Sunday school is keeping up its monthly offering to the Childrens' Home.

The church services have been most inspirational. We have been having a short Junior church just before the regular church service and veen we older members have found these services to be very helpful.

The Christian Endeavor seems to be makservice and even we older members have about fifteen each Sunday night. We have decided to have charge of one night service each month and to have one Sunday night devoted to Bible study. We are hoping that this will help our meetings. We are still giving our support to "our girl" at the Childrens' Home. We held our regular business meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dean on Saturday night. We always enjoy being in their home so much. The social committee is planning a campfire breakfast for Easter Monday morning. The society has recently joined the Alamance County C. E. Union and we are thoroughly enjoying the meetings. The next meeting, which will be held in May, is to be at our church. We are looking forward to this with much anticipation.

The Young People's Day was obsreved on the third Sunday in February. Our morning service was dedicated to the Young People and the sermon was most beneficial to both young and old. In the evening the Young People presented the pageant, "Shrines."

The Ladies' Auxiliary is still doing the good work that it has always done. They are still paying on the furnace and I understand there is only a small balance due. Our hats go off to these women.

During the winter months we have been having our weekly prayer services in the different homes. We have enjoyed the fellowship this has brought.

So many in our community have been sick and quite a few are still sick. We are wishing them a speedy recovery.

REPORTER.

First M. P. Church, Danville, Va., Rev. G. L. Reynolds, Pastor.—We certainly were proud to hear 50 per cent of the 60 present 4 years ago, at our organization date, respond to the roll call last Sunday. There was one sad moment of the day—when our Sunday school superintendent asked us to bow in silence in memory of Mrs. R. L. Victory, who passed away last April. We are happy to know though that she is in a far better place now. Sunday was one of the most enjoyable days in the history of the church. Several charter members rendered musical selections including the Rice family, and Eutha Mae and Annabelle Searce. We were also glad to have Mr. Will Fort make a talk during the opening Sunday school exercises.

Sunday night the Ladies' Auxiliary presented a pageant, "If I Be His Disciple." Although it rained and rained and rained, we had almost a church full to witness the play. The Auxiliary is a small organization within the church, but the church would be more than crippled without this group of earnest workers. Before the play was over, we were wondering if Miss Electa Jarvis weren't really the missionary she pretended to be. Everyone did enjoy the play and also the other special features of the day. We couldn't wish for more on our 5th anniversary date than a new church in which to worship, and we look forward to the beginning of the new building after Easter with great anticipation.

The Christian Endeavor Society sponsored Youth Day throughout the service Sunday a week ago. One of the Endeavor representatives, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, took charge of the Sunday school devotional period; and had as her guest speaker, Mr. Oscar Guinn, Jr., a young leader of the Riverside Mission. Mr. Guinn gave a fine talk on "Youth in Gratitude," which offered a challenge to both young and old. In appreciation of all that adults have meant to us, the Christian Endeavor Society selected as a channel through which to express their thanks, Mr. G. H. Sides, associate C. E. member, choir member, Sunday school teacher, and our present school superintendent, and presented him with a small gift. The pageant, "Shrines," was presented at the evening service and an offering of $2.25 taken for World Service.

Evangelistic services are to begin Sunday, March 19, throughout the Danville churches in preparation of the approaching Easter season. We are very happy to have Rev. A. D. Shelton, of Greensboro, conduct services at our church, and to have him in the homes during his stay here. Let us be constantly reminded of the great pain Jesus bore for us on the cross some 1900 years ago, and pray that we may lead others to realize what Christ should mean to everyone, especially at this time, during the revival and the pre-Easter season.

What a pleasant surprise we received when Mrs. Georgia Turner, one of our most faithful members, walked in church last Sunday night. We have been missing her in the choir, at Sunday school, and in all the services since she moved to South Carolina, but we were certainly tickled to see her again, even though for so short a time. There were many visitors present during the day.

Besides celebrating the birthday of the church, we helped celebrate several other birthdays too. Little Curtis Levi Sides couldn't keep up with the church in years, but he did drop his first penny in the box. Mrs. Lillian Elliott, or Miss Virginia Fowler one, loaded the box down with a 50 years offering. Since both participants went up at the same time, we don't know which to put the age on, so we'll just have to split the difference.

We humbly ask an interest in your prayers as we start out with our new undertakings, even as you shall ever be remembered in ours.

ELEANOR TANNER, Reporter.

Mill Grove Church, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—Sunday was a small congregation. There was some sick and some out because of carelessness. Some did not want to come. We had a fine sermon, the subject was the sin against the Holy Ghost, he made the sinner very plain. We are in the midst of a perilious time. The people are more interested in other things rather than their souls.

I am very sorry that the young folk are so careless as to not see their folly of following the worldly lusts. We hope that something will come into their ivles to make them realize the importance of serving their Heavenly Father.

They will have to take over sooner or later if our places are filled.

We ask an interest in the prayers of all those who want to see the Lord's work prosper. We wish Brother Andrews and the Herald much success.

CHAS. W. MISENHEIMER, Reporter.

First Methodist Protestant Church, High Point, N. C.—Recently a Youth's Council, made up of the members of all the Young People's organizations in the church, was organized. The purpose is to unify the young people's work in the church to encourage more activity among them. Sunday night the Council sponsored the evening service, with approximately sixty young people participating. The subject was "The House of the Lord." Talks were made by Glenn Payne, Tressie Caudle, William Troxler, and Margaret Burnside. There were two choirs, one occupying the usual seats for the adult choir, and the other, the balcony. Edith Vance, president of the Council, presided, and the devotionals were conducted by Jack Lee. There was a large attendance and much interest is being manifest by both the young people and the adults.

The stewards are making a drive for the Building Fund and two Sundays ago over six hundred dollars was subscribed in a meeting at the end of the regular service. They are very optimistic about the response they seem to be getting.

Our pre-Easter services seem to be very worthwhile. Attendance seems to be growing at the regular prayer services at the church each Wednesday night. The Junior church conducts its own prayer services in the homes of the boys and girls each Monday evening at 5 o'clock. Their attendance is good. They also had a Visitation Week, as the seniors did, carrying their Self-Denial banks to present to the children they visited. We have every reason to be proud of the splendid work being done for the children and younger people of our church.

A city-wide Christian Endeavor banquet was held at the church last Friday night. Bill Wall acted as toastmaster and Mr. Luther Medlin, field-secretary, spoke. About one hundred persons enjoyed the affair.

Many readers of the Herald will regret hearing of the death of Mr. J. M. Sechrest. He was one of the oldest citizens of the town, being ninety years old at his death. Our deepest sympathy goes to his bereaved ones, particularly the three grandchildren who are members of our church, Mrs. T. R. Pollard, Mrs. Oliver Poindexter, and Mr. Darrell Bulla.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—We are indeed sorry to report that our good pastor could not be with us Sunday to fill his regular appointments on account of a relative of his dying in North Carolina.

We were indeed glad to see H. R. McClimon back at Sunday school Sunday after being ill for some time.

The Willing Workers class held their regular meeting at the home of Miss Elaine Harrison, Tuesday night, March 7. Several different plans were made for the class and each one reported a very nice time.

As we didn't have preaching Sunday our kind superintendent read scripture and made a very inspiring talk and had the congregation to sing "Uncloudy Day." We do appreciate Mr. Waddell for his work, kindness and loyalty toward our Sundy school and church work. He is always so faithful and willing to help at any time.

May the Lord open our eyes, cure our blindness, that we may see past the tall buildings of cities and perceive the souls thereof; past the dark material into luminous spiritual, past the hard things visible unto fluid eternal things invisible. Let us see beyond the quick satisfaction of hate to the long joy of forgiveness. Let us see beyond appetite to the pleasure of self-control. Let us see beyond greed to the luxury of giving, past gold to the treasures of contentment, and give us largeness of heart. Let us see past revenge unto the strength and wisdom of forgiveness. Let us see beyond blinding pride to sunny healthfulness of humility. Let us see past profiit to usefulness, past success to self-approval. Take our lives out of the narrow pit and set us upon a high mountain, so we may see and not forever be a prisoner of prejudice, a bat of blind custom, a mote of ignorance, a convict in the penitentiary of fear. Let us see beyond past the night to the dawning day: past gloom to glory; past death to eternal life; past the finite to the infinite; past men and things and events to God.

The Willing Worker class is still progressing in the contest they started in January. The Ford V-8 side is still in the lead. We ask the prayers of all for our class that we may accomplish lots in striving to win souls to come to Sunday school.

Our Gracious Father, grant to all the spirit that we may love others as Thou hast loved us. Keep our hearts today from all selfishness and pride, and enable us to comfort some broken heart and lead some lost soul into the light. In the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

MRS. JOHN D. McCLIMON, Reporter.

Cedar Cliff Church, Rev. J. R. Anderson, Pastor.—We were privileged to listen to one of the most beautiful sermons in years brought to us by our pastor Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. Our scripture lesson was taken from the Book of Ruth, the first chapter and 16th verse. We were very glad to learn that our pastor's health is very much improved. We thank God for our pastor, and for what his teaching and his life has meant to us during his years with us. May we all seek to cooperate with him in his work to help save a lost and dying world.

Mrs. Mary Rumley who recently underwent an operation at a Greensboro hospital is reported as doing nicely. Mrs. Rumley is a member of our church, and we wish for her a speedy recovery.

Now with spring coming on we hope to improve our church attendance very much. And we feel this can be done by constant united prayer and righteous living will God help us to work together in this move to improve our church.

Hawkins Chapel Church, Littleton Charge, Pastor, D. D. Broome. — Second Sunday morning, Brother Broome's sermon was highly praised. His text, Numbers 13:30, "And Caleb stilled the people before Moses and said, Let us go up at once and possess it, for we are well able to overcome it."

Our Sunday school has decreased some, on account of colds.

Ladies' Aids will meet Wednesday evening, March 15, with Mrs. Ambrose Pittard. They have started several projects of raising money.

Mr. Broome, and son, Mrs. M. J. Morris, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hawkins Sunday.

Our church paper brought us news. Our former pastor, Mr. Vickery is married. We wish for them a long and happy life.

MRS. CLAUDE HAWKINS, Reporter.

Davidson Charge, W. H. Neese, Pastor.—
The Lineberry Auxiliary met with Mesdames W. A. Frank and Garvin Elliott Saturday, March 11 at 2 p. m. There were eight members and 2 visitors present. The society was glad to have Mrs. B. K. Taylor as a new member. Mrs. Whitt Wood was program leader and the following ladies had part on the program: Mesdames Whitt Wood, W. A. Frank, W. H. Neese, Van B. Wood, Garvin Elliott, I. C. Taylor, Miss Pallie Brown Wood, a visitor rendered a piano solo and also a recitation. Officers for the New Year were elected as follows: President, Miss Bruce Smith, Vice-President, Mrs. Vernon Hall, Secretary, Mrs. Garvin Elliott, Treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Reporter, Mrs. W. H. Neese, Flower committee, Mesdames Whitt Wood, Van B. Wood, Vernon Hall and J. P. Elliott, Sick committee, Mrs. Marshall Skeen, Social committee, Mrs. Whitt Wood and Mrs. W. A. Frank, Spiritual Life Secretary, Mrs. B. K. Taylor. The other secretaries will be appointed later.

Delegates to branch meetings are Miss Bruce Smith, Mrs Garvin Elliott, Mrs. J. C. Taylor and Mrs. W. H. Neese. The society enjoyed the delicious refreshments served by the joint hostesses.

The society made a Love Gift at this time for Mr. Minnis. Thank Offering Services have been held at Lineberry, Pleasant Grove, Alleghany and Pine Hill churches with good results. Next Sunday Chapel Hill and Liberty churches will observe Thank Offering.

The following people have recently contributed to our comfort: Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. Witt Wood, Mrs. Van B. Wood, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Edward Harris, Mrs. Metta Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Frank, Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Curry, Mrs. Edd Morris. Mrs. P. C. Reid. Paul Reid and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Payne. To all we say thank you.

Quite a few of our members are sick. Mr. Nelson Smith of Lineberry church is seriously ill. We ask the prayers of Herald readers for his recovery also for all our sick.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

◆

Gray's Chapel, Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor.—Our church activities are moving along nicely. The attendance at Sunday school and church is fine despite much sickness and inclement weather.

We are well pleased with our pastor who is taking such a sincere interest in the church work. We enjoy so much his and Mrs. Isley's visits among the members, especially in time of sickness.

We had our Appreciation Year Rally at Gray's Chapel Sunday afternoon. There was a good attendance considering the weather. Much interest was shown in raising the full amount of our allotment. Dr. Taylor explained the Appreciation Year plan so plainly and enthusiastically that no one could help being interested. Mrs. Henley from Asheboro gave a short talk on "Thank-Offering."

We are still planning to build Sunday school rooms in the near future.

I am sorry to report that Mrs. Jack Pugh is in the hospital, but am glad that she is doing nicely.

MRS. BRUCE PUGH, Reporter.

◆

Union Ridge, Forsyth Charge, Rev. R. A. Hunter, Pastor.—Our pastor has filled all his regular appointments since my last report, each time with a new and more interesting message, so plain, so simple, that even the young children can understand and get a lasting joy out of it.

Miss Lea Joyner of High Point College spent the weekend with Miss Dorothy Miller. Held service Sunday night. All present enjoyed the service.

The Willing Workers class and the Christion Endeavor society of our church met at the home of Roy Cranford. The meeting was called to order by Miss Helen Willard, president of the C. E. A song was sung by the group after which S. E. Kinnamon led in prayer. A letter was read by Miss Ann Tesh from Miss Helen Bailey, missionary to China. The Auxiliary met with Mrs. W. E. Marby for the February meeting. Mrs. C. A. Willard, president, had charge of the program. The March meeting will be held with Mrs. C. A. Cranford.

We are having an epidemic of measles and flu at this time which is keeping many from church. Hope they will soon be back with us. We were glad to have back with us Mr. J. F. Snider, chairman of the board of stewards, who has been ill for some time. Mrs. W. G. White who has been ill for some time was back at church Sunday. We are sorry to report at this time that Mrs. S. L. Tesh, one of our faithful members, has been ill, but is improving now. We hope she soon will be back with us.

The second quarterly conference will be held at our church the fourth Sunday in March, at 2:30 o'clock. We hope to have a good attendance.

A good many of our young people attended the Christian Endeavor meeting at Thomasville Sunday. All enjoyed the meeting very much.

H. L. MILLER, Reporter.

◆

Haw River Circuit.—We are glad to report the charge out on Annual Conference Expense and United Conference Delegates' Expense. Midway finished paying out the latter item yesterday. We finished the other item some time ago.

From now until the last Sunday in April we shall major on the World Service "Appreciation Year." A considerable amount has already been turned in; but nothing to blow our horn about. We may do a bit of tooting later.

At long last—I believe that's the latest way to put it—we are about to get something started in the way of improvements at Friendship. A plan has been drawn for a Sunday school addition. It is proposed to move the present church building up the hill some 150 feet and add the Sunday school rooms, at the same time making some improvements in the present church auditorium. This will give us an adequate church plant, and with the building moved, give a splendid space for additional cemetery lots. A vote will be taken Sunday at Friendship to determine the wishes of the congregation with respect to these improvements.

Rev. W. F. Ashburn, a former pastor, preached at Friendship Sunday morning. A goodly number were out to hear him, and they were helped by his sermon. The preacher-pastor was at the other two appointments, holding his own services, so had to miss the opportunity of being with and hearing Brother Ashburn.

While the pastor has been preaching at his appointments, the good wife has been holding thank-offerings services in connection with the Sunday school services at the other churches. She has one more such service to hold—this coming Sunday at Fair Grove. She is delighted with the response thus far.

C. W. BATES, Pastor.

◆

West End, Greensboro, R. M. Anrdews, Pastor.—Spring itself was depicted in the playlet presented by the Beginners department Sunday morning at 10:30. "The Yellow Poppy" was the title and the dozen or more tots who took part wore costumes of bright crepe paper and charmed the audience with the portrayal of their parts.

The Philathea class met with Mrs. Lois Newman, Winston road, for their February business and social meeting. More than 20 were present and at the close of the business session a handkerchief shower was presented to Mrs. J. R. Holden, teacher, whose birthday comes in February.

The Woman's Auxiliary held the second thank-offering service for the year on Sunday evening, March 12. "If I Be His Disciple" was given by an able cast of characters and an appreciative audience enjoyed the presentation.

Circle meetings were held on last Monday and Tuesday evenings. Good attendance, high interest, and activity was noted in all in closing the year and looking forward to further achievement in the new missionary year.

The District meeting was held at West End on March 5th. Following the ministers' discussions, Mrs. Bates spoke to the group on "Appreciation Year," and Mrs. Trogdon, of Tabernacle church, reviewed the foreign study book in a very interesting and instructive manner. Reports were heard from all auxiliaries represented.

Sunday evening, March 19. Dr. Andrews is
Sunad yevening, March 19. Dr. Andrews is asking several former pastors to speak during this month. A full attendance of members is asked to as many of the church services as possible, during March, our Loyalty Campaign month.

MILDRED STAPLETON, Reporter.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Auxiliary, North Davidson Charge.—We have met twice since I last reported, both February and March.

The February meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Virgil Morris, and as usual our attendance was good. We also gained two new members at this time, Mrs. J. C. Plummer and Mrs. O. B. Williams. Mrs. Della Ball had charge of the devotionals, with various members taking a part. Mrs. Williams offered prayer. A special feature was a duet by Mrs. Alfred R. Craven and Mrs. Paul Green. Mr. Williams gave a splendid talk on Mr. Minnis and his work at this time. Several members subscribed for the Missionary Record during this meeting, so we could use them in our work more. Our members are very good to visit the sick and carry trays, each meeting showing a good report.

The social hour was in charge of Miss Dorothy Hilton. Mrs. Paul Green and Mrs. Della Ball were the winners.

The hostess served a delicious tray of refreshments, after which we adjourned to meet the first Thursday in March.

The March meeting was held in the home of Mrs. W. D. Payne, finding all members except three present. All members were thrilled this afternoon, since it snowed all that day and it was lots of fun going and coming in the beautiful snow.

Miss Treva Reid had charge of the devotionals at this time, with all members helping, since our scripture was the 119th Psalm and each member could read a portion. Mrs. O. B. Williams and Mrs. Paul Green very graciously sang "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." Then we were all thrilled and eager for each word and vision as Mr. Williams portrayed the life of Dr. Forlines from a small ad in the Belmont Mill up to the present time. We so much enjoy Mr. Williams' talk each month.

During the business session we voted to send $4 to the Minnises as a love gift, having already sent $1, which gives us $5 for them. Plans were also made for the young ladies' Sunday school class to sell crosses for the Auxiliary. The junior boys and girls are to sell some crosses and help with the foot of nickles. Mr. and Mrs. Williams had charge of the social hour. Mrs. Paul Green excelled.

The hostess served delicious ice cream and cake, also coffee for those that cared for it.

Our thank-offering program will be given Sunday evening, March 19, at the church, beginning at 7 o'clock. There will be a religious pageant presented at this time by various members of the Auxiliary and church. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Payne have the leading parts. It will be very good. The public is cordially invited.

Our Easter program will be given Easter Sunday night.

MRS. ALFRED R. CRAVEN, Cor. Sec.

◆

Rehoboth Church, Creswell Charge.—We are still moving on with the few we have. I really wish we had some children, but not a one; but the few grown folks enjoy being together and singing the good old hymns we used to sing. Then the lessons are so instructive, they never grow old or lose their interest, no matter how many times we review the same. We have not been having night services for some time, the weather has been bad so often; but Brother Wagoner has filled his morning services. We enjoy the services, and everyone does that hears him.

I read with interest Dr. Andrews' article in last week's paper, "A Word of Caution." I pray our people here may be more reconciled to the Union; for my part I am a Methodist, and don't ever expect to be anything else. Next month I shall renew my subscription to our church paper, not asking whether we will have the paper another year or not.

Mrs. Henry Swain has not been so well, but is some better; also Brother C. V. White is able to be out again. I was not at church Sunday; circumstances were so I could not get there.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Church, Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—An evening of good fellowship was enjoyed Saturday night, March 11, when the "Helping Hands" class and the Woman's Auxiliary sponsored a chicken stew at the church. A large crowd was present and enjoyed the program, which featured the Isley quartet under the direction of Miss Lulu Riddle.

Plans are under way for the play, "The Lost Church," to be given at Mt. Pleasant March 31. Plan to come and see this impressive play.

The installing of the water system in the parsonage is well under way.

Mrs. Albia Neese Reitzel was laid to rest at Pleasant Union church. She had been seriously ill for some time, and died at Wesley Long hospital at Greensboro. She was loved by all who knew her, and was known by many for her love of flowers. She made flowers her hobby, and the home and yard was a bass of lovely blooms.

She is survived by her husband, Neese Reitzel; two step-children, Ray Reitzel of Burlington, and Madia Reitzel of Florida; one brother, J. T. Neese of Pleasant Union community, and one niece and four nephews. Rosa Huffines, Thomas Neese and Homer Neese, all of Greensboro, and Ford and Otis Neese of the community.

Mr. J. T. Shoffner remains about the same at this writing. Miss Daisy Richardson, of Nathanael Greene school faculty, is ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Causey. There has been lots of sickness in our community.

Our delegates to branch meeting are Sallie and Lalah Amick and Nannie Lowdermilk. We were told Sunday that our budget lacked about $6 being paid for the year.

MRS. CARL CURTIS.

◆

Bellemont Church, Mt. Hermon Charge, Rev. J. R. Anderson, Pastor. — Our pastor continues to bring us inspiring and uplifting messages. At our last evening service he used as his subject "Decision." He was encouraged by the larger attendance at the evening service, which has been changed from 7 o'clock until 7:30 o'clock. A visiting men's chorus brought us several beautiful selections which everyone seemed to enjoy.

Every quarterly conference member on Mt. Hermon charge is urged to be present at its next meeting, which will be held at Bellemont church on Saturday evening before the first Sunday in April at 7:30 o'clock.

During the last few weeks mid-week prayer services have been held. The service this week will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowe on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Sidney Russell, our Auxiliary president, urged everyone to be present at the meeting to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of reorganization.

Mrs. Grady Fogleman and Mrs. John Sharpe entertained their Sunday school class Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Fogleman. A delightful time was enjoyed by all.

Rev. and Mrs. K. G. Holt and daughter, Mary, of Mocksville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clay W. Holt last Thursday.

REPORTER.

◆

Efland, Orange Charge, C. P. Morris, Pastor, March 13.—"Time to wake up" is a motto on a well known radio program, and it suits some Herald reporters mighty well too. Even though we haven't been heard from, we have been having good sermons and very good attendance at services. Special days have been observed and things in general are progressing.

The candlelight communion service on Young People's day was a very impressive service. Mr. Chang from Korea, now a student at Duke University, was our guest speaker for our February thank-offering service.

The Homer Casto circle of our Auxiliary has planted shrubbey around our church building and the church is endeavoring to purchase 100 new Methodist hymnals for use by Easter. These projects will add to the beauty and make our services more impressive. Quite a number of hymnals are being given in honor of or in memory of some friend and this adds much to the value of the gift.

Pastor Morris called a special meeting of the parsonage trustees last week. We have no report from this meeting, but from rumors we believe they have something on their minds. More about this later.

We are glad to report that M. Ivey Crutchfield who is at home taking a rest sure is improving. Quite a few others of our members are sick, but all so far as we know are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Crutchfield of Louisburg announce the birth of a son, Joseph Thomas, on Friday, March 10. Mr. Crutchfield is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Crutchfield of our church. Mrs. Crutchfield was the former Pauline Chappell of Creedmore.

PATTYE J. CRUTCHFIELD, Reporter.

◆

Albemarle, C. G. Isley, Pastor.—We were pleased to see 184 present at Sunday school Sunday. We are hoping to have 200 by next Sunday.

We were glad to have with us Sunday, March 12, Dr. J. E. Pritchard, for our morning worship service, who delivered a very inspiring sermon on the church. We are always glad to have our President.

The Workers' Council will meet at the church Thursday night, March 16. This council is doing some splendid work for the Sunday school and church services.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet at the church Monday night, March 10.

Since our last report we were glad to receive in our church William Helms, who is a very promising young man, and he is a member of our church choir.

Mrs. Mazie Simpson, was able to be back with us Sunday after being very sick for several days. She is one of our loyal members.

We are glad to have our pastor and his mother, Mrs. Hattie Isley, back with us after a most enjoyable trip to Florida. They visited Miami and other interesting places.

MRS. COLAN MAULDIN, Reporter.

◆

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

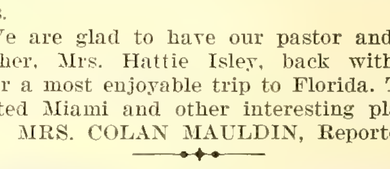
(Continued from Page Ten)

furnish flowers for some small church. In planning an enterprise of this kind the boys and girls may be led to refer to the teachings of Jesus to discover how he would want his followers to act. In this way his presence may become very real to them. so that they will experience the real joy of Easter.—Una R. Smith, in "The Elementary Teacher," March, 1939.

◆

1931 HERALDS WANTED

I need three copies of the 1931 Heralds for my files. Dates wanted, August 13, January 15 and 22. I shall be glad to pay for these copies. Mail to Earl A. Cook, Rt. 3, Albemarle, N. C. EARL A. COOK.



If the organ in your church is not performing properly, write us.
HODGSON ORGAN COMPANY
237 W. Bute St. Norfolk, Va.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Mrs. Queen Shoffner

Funeral service for Mrs. Queen Coble Shoffner, 80, who died at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 17, at Piedmont Memorial hospital, Greensboro, where she had been a patient about 10 days, were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon February 19, at the home of Burt S. Eldridge, superintendent of mails at the Greensboro postoffice, and Mrs Eldridge, 109 Wilson street.

Dr. R. M. Andrews, pastor of West End Methodist Protestant church, and Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, pastor of Grace Methodist Protestant church, of which she was a member, officiated. Interment was in Green Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Shoffner, daughter of the late Dr. W. A. and Martha Elizabeth Adams Coble, was born near Low's church in Guilford county. She was the wife of the late James O. Shoffner, who died in 1916.

She had been living with her daughter and son-in-law on Wilson street since 1903. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Huffman, of Burlington, and Mrs. Nanny Coletrane, of Morganton; a brother, C. M. Coble, of Elon College; two daughters, Mrs. Burt S. Eldridge, of Greensboro, and Mrs. C. R. Edwards, of Durham; three grandchildren, Burt S. Eldridge, Jr., of Greensboro, and Misses Dorothy and Frances Edwards, of Durham, and ond great-grandson, B. Stratton Eldridge, 3rd.

◆

A. M. Watson

God in His mighty power saw fit to take from this world on February 25, 1939, one of Yarborough's Chapel faithful members, Mr. A. M. Watson, to live with Him on high.

Mr. Watson was born and reared at Cross Anchor, was an active member of Yarborough's Chapel M. P. Church, lived near Cross Anchor all his life, until a few weeks ago he moved to Spartanburg.

While his physical body is gone from us his love, his devotion, and his spirit remain in the lives of those who knew him.

He was faithful to his church and a noble servant of the Great Master. His passing is a great loss to us, but a great gain to him. We sorrow because of the parting but rejoice in the hope of reunion of our loved ones when the great day of our Lord shall come. The Christian home will miss this Christian father, and so will the church of which he was a part.

May the merciful Father comfort those bereaved and sustain them in these hours of sorrow, is our prayer.

Funeral service was conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. C. B. Prince and Rev. T. H. Vickery, at Yarborough's Chapel Church.

Pallbearers were Porter, Leroy, and Ed Watson, Luther and Hugh Willard and Ed Hipp.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Hattie Elizabeth Watson; two sons, C. D. Watson of Spartanburg and the Rev. D. D. Watson of Spartanburg, Route 2; three daughters, Mrs. Walter Hyatt of Spartanburg, Route 1, Misses Mary Frances and Maureen Watson of Spartanburg, Route 2; one brother, C. D. Watson of Cross Anchor; one sister, Mrs. J. L. Poole of Columbia; and eight grandchildren.

LUCILLE GOSSETT, Reporter
of Yarborough's Chapel.

◆

Mrs. Henry W. Shoaf

Mrs. Ollie Lowe Shoaf Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James was born February 19, 1887; departed this life February 12, 1939; age 51 years 11 months and 20 days. She was married to Henry W. Shoaf February 7, 1904. To this union were born two sons and six daughters: Odessa Mae, died when she was three months old. She leaves to mourn their loss her father, her husband, two sons namely J. Willie, and Henry J.: Five daughters; Mrs. Ray Michael of Danville Va., Mrs. Henry Hartley, Lexington, Route 3; Mrs. Foy Shoaf of Route 3, Misses Addie and Paige Shoaf at home. There are also eleven grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. John Brown of Midway; Mrs. Jake Hill of Midway; Mrs. Artis Walser, Lexington, Route 4. She was converted when she was about 12 years of age, and united with Shiloh M. P. church. About 20 years ago she transferred her membership to Friendship M. P. church and has remained a faithful member until death.

She was a devoted mother, a faithful companion and a consecrated Christian. Mrs. Shoaf will be greatly missed in her church and her community, but she will be missed most in her home.

Her appreciation for the finest things in life, her winning personality and her cheerful smile which was so characteristic of her has won for her a place in the hearts of all of her many friends.

The funeral service was held at Friendship on Tuesday afternoon, February 14, by the writer, assisted by Dr. S. W. Taylor, Dr. O. B. Michael, and Mr. W. M. Byerly, and her body was laid to rest in the cemetery there beneath a blanket of beautiful flowers.

The bereaved ones have our symapthy.

C. E. RIDGE.

◆

Hughes

Mrs. Bertha Hughes, age 31, wife of Mr. Gurnie Hughes, departed this life February the 28th. The last rites were held from Pine Hill on the 29th. She leaves her husband and six children.

◆

Dorsett

In the quiet of the afternoon, on February 13, at 5:45 o'clock, God called Mrs. Elmira Dorsett to her eternal home. She suffered a stroke of paralysis early in the day and died in a local hospital. Her age was 44 years.

Mrs. Dorsett professed faith in Christ in early life and united with Flag Springs M. P. church, where she remained a faithful and active member until death. Her quiet Christian life won many friends who are deeply grieved to learn of her passing. Surviving are her father, D. E. Brown, Ulah; one sister, Mrs. Roscoe Coltrane, Ulah; four brothers, E. F. Brown, Asheboro, route 3; O. D. Brown, Climax; E. J. Brown, Seagrove, and G. P. Brown, Bynum, N. C.

Funeral services were conducted from Flag Springs M. P. church on Wednesday morning at 11:00 o'clock, February 15, by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Hill.

The body was laid to rest beside that of her husband in the church cemetery.

May God comfort the bereaved family.

MRS. H. L. RICHARDSON.

◆

Nance

Thomas Nance, age 78 years, passed on to his reward March the eighth. Mr. Nance was a long time member of Chapel Hill church, to which he was faithful until death. He leaves companion, four sons, five daughters and scores of other friends. A good man has gone on. Funeral service was held from Chapel Hill March the tenth.

Each of the foregoing services were held by the writer.

W. M. NEESE.

MARRIED

Shoaf-Everhart

Married at the North Davidson parsonage by the pastor, Rev. O. B. Williams, on February 18, Mr. John Oscar Everhart, Jr., of Lexington, Route 1; and Miss Mary Beatrice Shoaf of Lexington, Route 3. The witnesses to the happy event were: Mr. Garvey Everhart, Miss Lucile Crews; Mr. Noble Lohr and Miss Muriel Ragans.

Mrs. Everhart is the beautiful blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shoaf. Mr. Everhart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Everhart, Sr. We wish for these fine young people, good health, happiness and prosperity, throughout life; they are active members of Bethesda Methodist Protestant church. They are at home at Lexington, Route 1.

NEURITIS Relieve Pain In Few Minutes

To relieve the torturing pain of Neuritis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia or Lumbago in few minutes, get NURITO, the Doctor's formula. No opiates, no narcotics. Does the work quickly—must relieve cruel pain to your satisfaction in few minutes or money back at Druggist's. Don't suffer. Get trustworthy NURITO today on this guarantee.

Church and Sunday School Furniture

Write for Catalog

SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

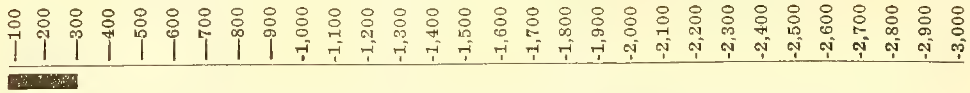
15,000 ACRES of the South's Finest Land Producing WOOD'S SEEDS

The Oldest and Largest Seed Firm in the South

Write for free copy of WOOD'S 60th ANNUAL SEED CATALOG

T. W. WOOD & SONS
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	11¾	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	3	....
Asheville	13	5½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	2½	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	24½	5.70
Concord	26	4	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	9	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	4½	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	5¾	....
Forsyth	46	6½	....
Gibsonville	24	....	....
Glen Raven	52	5½	...
Graham	30	7	...
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	3½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	3¾	....
Halifax	42	5½	....
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	10.00
High Point, First	75	15	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	6¾	....
Lexington, First	48	6	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	1½	5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3	....
Littleton	46	3½	...
Mebane	27	3½	...
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	12	...
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	....	....
North Davidson	36	5	....
Orange	77	10½	....
Pensacola	5	½	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	...
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	3	5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	7¾	....
Reidsville	13	6	....
Richland	35	8	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	4½	....
Shiloh	65	5	20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	6	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	9	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9½	....
Whitakers	8	6	2.50
Why Not	30	2½	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

R. E. Smith, Concord church	$1.00
By Pastor Peeler.
J W. Redding, Spencer	1.00
By Pastor Ridge.
C. L. Wagner, N. Davidson charge	1.00
By Mrs. C. M. Yokley.
Mrs. W. H. Neese, Davidson charge	1.00
C. L. Surratt, Davidson charge	1.00
By Pastor Neese.
Mrs. J. M. Thompson, Orange charge	1.00
By Mrs. A. K. McAdams.
Mrs. E. S. Taylor, Orange charge	1.00
S. N. Garmon, Friendship-Love's Grove	2.00
By Pastor Cook.
Ben H. Sain, Fallston charge	1.00
By Pastor Hethcox.
B. L. Heavner, Bess Chapel-Lincolnton	2.00
F. W. Baxter, Bess Chapel-Lincolnton	1.00
By Pastor Harkey.
Dr. W. A. Hornaday, Grace church	2.00
By Mrs. F. R. Stout.
Club subscriptions, First, Lexington	2.30
By E. M. Hamilton.
J. D. Payne, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
By Pastor Anderson.
Mrs. Robert P. Petree, W. Forsyth chg.	1.00
Mrs. T. U. Baxter, Chase City	1.00
By Miss Pauline Jarrell.
Ernest Kersey, Guilford charge	.50
Miss Ada Kersey, Guilford charge	1.00
Mrs. Norman Hedrick, Guilford charge	1.00
By Ernest Kersey.
J. F. Glenn, Alamance charge	.50
By Pastor Brown.
Rev. E. A. Lamb, Tabernacle charge	1.00
Mrs. C. R. Gordon, Haw River charge	2.00
P. M. Gordon, Haw River charge	2.00
By Pastor Bates.
Miss Ilene Thompson, Saxapahaw chg.	1.00
H. G. Paris, Saxapahaw charge	1.00
By Miss Thompson.
M. H. Woody, Alamance charge	1.00
Mrs. I. E. Self, Alamance charge	1.00
A. A. Self, Alamance charge	1.00
Mrs. T. M. Clark, Alamance charge	1.00
Mrs. J. L. Self, Alamance charge	1.00
By Mrs. J. L. Self.
J. A. Stout, Randolph charge	2.00
Mrs. J. M. Thompson, Saxapahaw	2.00
Mrs. F. S. Towney, Chase City	2.00
Miss Estelle Smith, Anderson charge	1.00
By Miss Romaine Poole.
G. W. Dodson, Mebane charge	1.00
C. F. Jobe, Mebane charge	1.00
A. C. Allen, Mebane charge	1.00
T. O. Pender, Mebane charge	1.00
By Mrs. D. A. Pender.
Mrs. R. L. Davis, First, High Point	1.00
Miss Wayne Curtis, First, High Point	1.00
J. A. Tussey, First, High Point	2.00
Mrs. J. H. Walker, First, High Point	2.00
J. R. Meredith, First, High Point	2.00
Earl Teague, First, High Point	1.00
W. J. Spencer, First, High Point	2.00
By W. J. Spencer.

Subsidy

Kistler's Union, Cleveland charge, by Mrs. O. V. Warlick	5.70
Tabernacle charge	2.10

More than 1,400 guests from nine states attended the recent Oberlin College high school day.

Methodist Protestant Herald
Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

BABY CHICKS
You Take No Chance when you buy
LEONARD'S DEPENDABLE CHICKS
Always top quality—Blood-tested Parent Stock. Write for prices. 30,000 weekly.
Leonard's Hatchery
129 So. College St. Charlotte, N. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIS ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 23, 1939 NUMBER 19

Rev H L Isley
R 1
23aug9

The Springtide of God

By John Henry Jowett, D.D.

The apostles found in the Resurrection vitality enough to quicken all the dead, whether the corruption be in body or in soul. "In Christ all shall be made alive." And surely we have a wonderful symbolism of all this in the mystic movement of the Springtime. If anyone would be besieged by suggestions of the Resurrection let him look about in garden and in field and he will see the quickening glory. Spring is ever a gracious time to me. Never do I so intensely feel the pressure of the quickening Spirit as when I see the black hedgerows bursting with their flooding life into green and tender leaf. Never do I so realize the surging, incompassing energy of God's Resurrecting Presence. I can pray with more intimate and eager communion when the dominion of winter is breaking and the time of the singing of birds is come. I would have the Resurrection power flow into my dead affections, and make them bud into tender sympathies and gentle courtesies and all of the exquisite graces of the heart of my Lord. And I would have the Resurrection power pervade my dead conscience and make it act with hallowed sensitiveness, with fine scrupulous feeling of the sacred and the profane. And I would have the Resurrection power possess my mind, and make it fertile in noble ideas, in wholy purpose and in chivalrous resolution. Wherever there is death where there ought to be life let there come an Easter dawning and the Springtide of our God. And that possibility is just the apostolic evangel, and it is born in the light and the joy of the resurrection of our Lord. Again and again I would say: "In Christ all shall be made alive!" "Verily, verily, I say unto you, the hour is coming and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live."

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

A Sunday With the Enfield Church

Last Sunday was spent with the Enfield Church, Rev. D. R. Williams, pastor, in two services, morning and evening. On arriving at Enfield I found that an epidemic of flu had had the school closed for ten days or more. The Sunday school attendance was cut tremendously and the church congregations were reduced considerably. At the evening hour the services at the M. E. Church, South, were called off and several of that congregation and the pastor, Rev. W. L. Loy attended our services. Our Enfield church has had a long and honorable record and while it is said that the congregation is considerable reduced from a good many years ago, even yet they occupy a very important place in our conference life. Brother Williams who has been ill at the home of his daughter in Burlington returned home on Thursday of last week. He attended the services yesterday but is unable to exercise himself much yet. I hope he may have a comeback as remarkable as the one of last year. He and his wife are held in high esteem by their people.

An Afternoon On Halifax

Last Sunday afternoon I ran out to Eden church on the Halifax charge, Rev. W. M. Howard, pastor. Here the congregation was small, partly on account of the large number of people who are sick. But those who came were interested listeners and it was a pleasure to preach to them. This section of the state is considerably depressed because of finances, due to short crops and poor prices. While money is scarce I trust they may finish up better than they now think they will.

More Pastors' Reports

Kernersville-South Winston, Rev. C. B. Way, pastor.—Increase in attendance at Kernersville, fair response in HERALD campaign, new carpet placed at Kernersville at cost of $200.00; financial condition fairly good at part of churches.

Halifax Charge, Rev. W. M. Howard, pastor.—All regular services held with good interest, plans and money in hand for improvements at Bethesda church.

First church, Lexington and Mt. Carmel, Rev. L. E. Mabry, pastor.—Mt. Carmel: Church building and grounds in extra good condition, best attendance and interest during present pastorate, church building has been painted on outside, money in hand to carpet pulpit and to buy pulpit chairs, altar railing will be installed soon, spiritual condition of church is good, will raise more for budgets, especially W. S. than any other year during present pastorate. First Church: All organizations functioning normally, C. E. taking on new life, church in only fair condition spiritually with many delinquent members, but some of most loyal members to be found anywhere, the attendance at the service gratifying, soon a carpet for the pulpit will be laid, as soon as new hymnals are ready for the new church will buy them.

Why Not Charge, Rev. C. H. Hill, pastor.—Attendance at services good, lost six members by death, parsonage will soon be completed, salary not paid to date, Delegates' Expenses and A. C. budget being raised, effort to be made to raise W. S.

Pensacola Charge, Rev. W. C. Clark, pastor.—On account of sickness and bad weather pastor not able to render much service—rather long, dangerous drive from parsonage; as weather gets better work will pick up. Hoping for a good year.

Concord, Rev. E. O. Peeler, pastor.—Good spirit in the church, attendance good, accepted all budgets and expect to pay in full, W. S. will be paid by April 30th, observed Young People's Day with fair offering, plans being worked for excellent Easter service, revival services to be held right after Easter, new members being received every few weeks, good many visitors in the services, children of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sides gave a set of chimes to church in memory of parents. Chimes are in church tower and have a lovely tone. All bills paid to date.

Moriah, Rev. Leo Pittard, pastor.—Church in better condition than usual, attendance good at all services, C. E. attendance about 30, members cooperate splendidly, all apportionments will be paid in full, $200.00 debt on parsonage paid in full.

Calvary Church, Rev. R. C. Stubbins, pastor.—Church and Sunday school in determined effort to pay World Service in full by April 30th, received eight new members, observed Young People's Day and Christian Endeavor Week; a pageant, Shrines was given with good effect, church honored in the election of one of its members, Burron Fleming as president of the Greensboro C. E. Union.

Orange Charge, Rev. C. P. Morris, pastor.—Charge accepted all of the W. S. apportionment and effort is being made to raise it by last of April. Appreciation Thermometer consisting of a large poster has been placed in each church to gauge Appreciation Year temperature; special days are being observed with special effort to get good offering. Efland has paid A. C. expenses and Delegates' expenses in full. Hebron has paid some on each of these items. Efland has paid pastor to date but other churches behind. Efland and Hebron churches buying new church hymnals—Efland 100 copies of the Methodist Hymnal and Hebron 100 copies of New Cokesbury hymnal. the auxiliaries have placed new washing machine in parsonage. Hebron has purchased new pulpit Bible, also is making some improvements on interior of auditorium. Also plan to improve church grounds in spring. All churches have Auxiliaries and Chestnut Ridge and Hebron have C. E. societies.

Weaverville Charge, Rev. W. C. Clark, pastor.—Have sold for cash the old parsonage property and soon will begin improvements on church building. Have launched the campaign to raise W. S. in full by April 30th. Sunday schools have increased their attendance. Finances are in very good shape.

Appointments

Sunday, March 26, Vance Charge, 11 a. m. Gillburg, 3 p. m. Harris Chapel; 7:30 p. m. Spring Valley.

Sunday, April 2, Saxapahaw Charge, 11 a. m. Concord; 2:30 p. m. Orange Chapel.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church
Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 23, 1939 NUMBER 19

A Message In Verse

In the still air the music lies unheard;
In the rough marble beauty lies unseen.
To wake the music and the beauty needs
The Master's touch, the sculptor's chisel keen.

Great Master, touch us with Thy skillful hand;
Let not the music that is in us die.
Great Sculptor, hew and polish us; nor let Hidden and lost Thy form within us lie.

—Horatius Bonar.

We Are Not a Free People

Did you know that the people in North Carolina do not have the right to vote on the sale of beer in their community? This is exhibit number one of what happens when a state is dominated by the liquor interests. Our state legislators decided that the people in a local community were not competent to decide this issue; they decide it for them. And yet we still believe we live in the "land of the free."

◆

The young man with Elisha was most likely a fine youngster—a good ministerial student. He had a good sense of danger; it was quite evident to him that all the routes to freedom for Elisha were cut off. It was therefore useless for them to try to save themselves from the chariots and horsemen of the king of Syria. But the prophet knew better. He saw beyond horsemen and chariots of the enemy the flaming messengers from the Lord. How easy it is for very good people to live all their lives with the consciousness of human limitations, with no knowledge of the divine aid which is between them and all danger. "A thousand shall fall at thy side and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nigh thee" is not yet a part of their creed.

◆

There are many church folk who need to have the housetop vision in order to convince them that God is no respecter of persons. Hitler is not the only one who is trying to dictate to the Almighty how He should remake the human race. Their form of race prejudice is, however, not so rantankerously cruel as Hitler's race purge. It is not easy for those with the superiority complex to learn that they are not special appointees to "lord it over" any one who has less self-confidence.

◆

Recently we heard a pastor remark that he had some members of the church who appeared to think the Sunday school which they attended regularly every Sunday was of far more importance than the church services which followed. These church members had pledged their loyalty to the church, to attend the worship services, to contribute to the benevolent enterprises, etc; they had made no pledge to attend the Sunday school class other than expressing their willingness to join it. They failed to do what they pledged themselves to do, and were faithful to that to which they had made no pledge. It does appear rather an unusual attitude, but it is quite common, we understand, in many churches. Even teachers of classes who are members of the church are leading the van in the exodus from the church when the Sunday school classes are dismissed.

The Power of a Great Purpose

We read how a youth unknown in a great city thousands of years ago arose to power and fame. He purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself. That was the power that lifted him. The time came to him when he must choose whether he would comform and live like the other youth in the king's palace; accept the food and the drink the king offered, for it was intended to make him both fair and wise. The plea was indeed a good one. The king wants you to be fit to stand in his presence, none except the finest specimen of young men can do this. The king offers you the same menu he feeds upon; therefore conform. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's food set before him. A great test, but his great purpose saved him.

Help! Please Help!!

Won't you help your neighbors in distress? True enough it is the boundary of our land hundreds of miles deep in the soil, that touches the bottom boundary of the land of India, but that makes them no less our neighbors. We are hiding our heads in the sand if we cannot see this. India is a land of depressed peoples.

The women of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work are in desperate need of $443.81 to complete the salary payment of the man who is preaching to, and showing our other-side-of-the-world-neighbors how to live.

Won't YOU help? Individuals, groups, churches, everybody? Help! Please Help!

But for misunderstanding surely the churches that are raising Appreciation Year funds would raise some of this amount toward payment of Mr. Minnis' salary. It counts just as much on World Service if designated for Minnis salary as if merely sent in for World Service undesignated.

In order for it to help the women finish their years' work right Minnis salary must be in the hands of Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C., by March 31.

Please don't be confused by the fact that it is not Mr. Allen to whom you send this fund. It counts just as much with Mr. Staley when received through Mrs. Kearns' hands as Mr. Allen's.

Mrs. R. M. Andrews, President of
N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PETER INTERPRETS CHRIST'S SUFFERING AND DEATH

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, March 26

By REV. O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text—1 Peter 1:17-23; 2:20-25.

Golden Text—Christ also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that He might bring us to God.—I Peter 3:18.

Peter here has made one great discovery concerning the unjust and cruel sufferings of his Master and that is vividly said in the words of our Golden Text; he submitted himself to these horrible sufferings of sin that He might bring us to God. Some perhaps were saying one thing and some another. Perhaps some were seeing in his death the cruelty and injustice of the bigoted Jews who put him to death and were using this as a weapon of rebuke and retaliation towards them. Others were saying that it was such a strange thing that this great prophet who was called the Son of God and who had truly done the things of such a person should have been vulnerable to such a death. But this Simon who has now so gloriously become Cephas is not halting in his interpretation of these matters. Once he too was baffled when Jesus refused to protect Himself from the on-coming cross, but not now. Peter is saying in eloquent words that Jesus suffered tremendously because of sins once, as the righteous for the unrighteous, but He did that in order that the supreme passion of His life might be fulfilled. And what was that ruling passion? The bringing of lost humanity back to God.

This is a timely message for us who would follow our Master through the coming Passion Week. It should be the burden of every lover of Christ to endeavor through every means possible to share with Him in His passion these days before Easter. Perhaps many of us have never quite gotten in our minds just what we mean when we seek to share in the followship of His suffering. Well, whatever else you attempt to effect by way of securing that fellowship do not miss this one central reason for Christ's strange suffering—that He might bring men to God. Let each heart do what it will to keep these lenten days and let him call them what he will, but let him keep them for the same reason that Christ endured them—to bring men to God. Let none suffer or bear hardship to be seen of men nor to merely ease your religious conscience, but rather let all be done that our sufferings be like unto His sufferings in that they serve to bring men to God the Father.

What a powerful message is preached by the stripes of Jesus whether seen upon His own physical back or upon the back of some lowly disciple in some far off dungeon of a sinful world. Recently a Catholic nun literally used Christian sufferings to bring a wayward girl from her sins to God. This girl had let loose her hold on self and was recklessly throwing herself away. Failing in verbal effort to save the precious soul from the damages of sin, this nun inflicted torture and suffering upon herself each day and let this girl know that while she was sinning her friend the nun was being tortured for those sins. The girl could not resist such a love as that. Every Christian who bears pain and suffering of physical affliction like a true soldier of the Cross is speaking volumes to those who visit them while on their beds of pain. There is in Christ a definite ministry for the sick but also there is in Christ a peace where the sick has a ministry for the well. Christ allowed Lazarus to taste of death and his sister to feel the bitter pains of sorrow in order that these should lead to the glory of God and the furtherance of winning men back to Him. This obsession of Christ to bring men to God took precedence over all else in His life. If you can know how much He loved Mary and Martha and how much it cost Him to see their sorrow then you can know something of how great was his passion for souls. Did He ever weep because of his own sufferings to bring us to Him? No, but when His beloved friends had to come in for a share in this process He wept warm tears of remorse.

"Oh, self-restraint, surpassing human thought,
To have all power, yet be as having none!
Oh, self-denying love that thought alone
For needs of others, never for its own!"

Thus we see that there is a vital work performed in Christ's suffering. In conclusion let it be said too that this pain had its anaesthetic. Christ easily forgot His bodily suffering when He saw that it was heailng men. On the cross those nails were forgotten when He heard the cry of that penitent thief and while hanging like a thief Christ talked like a God. Iet no one dare ask for a share in Christ's suffering without first sharing in His love for men. If you can love like Him then you can die like Him.

"For whether on the scaffold
Or in the battle's van,
The fittest place for man to die
Is where he dies for man."
M. F. BARRY.

◆

SILENT STEWARDSHIP PROMOTION

Any pastor, no matter how limited his resources, may now conduct a Five Weeks' Program of Tithing Education and Promotion without any interference with his other plans and activities.

The Layman Foundation, administered without profit by the Layman Company, has just received and recast a series of Sixteen Tithing Tabloids, attractively printed from new type.

A sample package of the sixteen titles together with suggestions for the Five Weeks' Program of Silent Stewardship Promotion, will be sent to any pastor for ten cents.

In writing please mention the METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD and address your order to

The Layman Company, 730 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

RENASCENCE

By Edna St. Vincent Millay

Edna St. Vincent Millay wrote Renascence as a girl of nineteen, and notwithstanding the fact that nearly a dozen volumes of poetry, three plays, and an opera, in the more than twenty-five years since this poem appeared, have lifted her into the foremost place among contemporary women poets and have placed her name among the half-dozen women of all time who are counted among the world's immortal poets, in nothing that she has written has she surpassed in lyric intensity and matchless beauty some of the passages of this poem. It is perhaps the most beautiful sky-poem of our generation and deserves comparison with the greatest of any age. Shelley's Ode to the West Wind does not reach greater lyric power than Miss Millay does in some of these lines. Louis Untermeyer says of it: "Beginning like a child's aimless rhyme, it proceeds with casual simplicity, to an amazing climax. It is as if a child had in a tone of unsuspected clairvoyance, uttered some elemental truth. The cumulative effect of this poem is surpassed only by its sense of revelation."

Simply enough it begins:

"All I could see from where I stood
Was three long mountains and a wood;
I turned and looked another way,
And saw three islands in a bay."

At first the author is overcome by the seeming smallness of everything and, as she imagines herself touching the sky, she

"Screamed, and—lo—Infinity Came down and settled over me";

and a tremendous revelation breaks upon her:

"Until it seemed I must behold
Immensity made manifold."

She hears

"The gossiping of friendly spheres,
The creaking of the tented sky,
The ticking of Eternity."

Not only do the great elemental forces of the universe reveal themselves thus to her, but the equally great incarnation of all experiences of life—the

"How and why of all things past,
And present,"
"All sin was of my sinning, all
Atoning mine, and mine the gall
Of all regret."

So she moves through all the evils of all human beings, "every greed, every lust," to a divine understanding and a Christ-like assumption of life's tragedies:

"A man was starving in Capri;
He moved his eyes and looked at me;
I felt his gaze, I heard his moan,
And knew his hunger as my own."

Not content with taking upon her soul the individual suffering of one person, she feels the terrible and manifold suffering of a thousand shipwrecked victims as they sink into a watery grave, and so with the realization of all suffering, an ineffable compassion overwhelms her:

"All suffering mine, and mine its rod;
Mine, pity like the pity of God."

Thereupon her human soul is pressed downward and downward with the unbearable torture of the sorrows of all people until she finds herself "full six feet under ground," and is "gladly dead."

One who is so vitally alive, however, could not be held by dead, and with the sound of the "pitying rain" as it reaches her in the quiet place of her grave, the desire for life lifts her again; and by her infinite soul-yearning for "spring-silver, autumn-gold" she is set free from the grave and driven by her spiritual intensity to the very heart of existence:

"And all at once the heavy night
Fell from my eyes and I could see,—
A drenched and dripping apple-tree,
A last long line of silver rain,
A sky grown clear and blue again."

Until with a Blake-like poignancy the whole mystery becomes articulate, and she attains to a full comprehension of the meaning of poetry:

"O God, I cried, no dark disguise
Can e'er hereafter hide from me
Thy radiant identity!
Thou canst not move across the grass
But my quick eyes will see Thee pass,
Nor speak, however silently,
But my hushed voice will answer Thee.
I know the path that tells Thy way
Through the cool eve of every day;
God, I can push the grass apart
And lay my finger on Thy heart."

It would be a magnificent accomplishment for a man or woman of experience and the wisdom that the years are supposed to bring—a St. John on the Isle of Patmos—to catch the vision of divine revelation with which Edna St. Vincent Millay ends her poem; but for a nineteen-year-old girl to realize the meaning of God to the world is nothing short of divine inspiration:

"The soul can split the sky in two,
And let the face of God shine through."

◆

REV. GEORGE F. MILLOWAY PASSES

Brother Milloway ended his long period of suffering Wednesday morning 8:30 at his home in Greensboro. Funeral services will be in charge of President Pritchard, assisted by Brothers Ashburn and Braxton at 3 p. m. in the Mt. Pleasant Church. A fuller account will appear in a later issue of the Herald.

PROGRAM OF ANNUAL MEETING

N. C. Branch of Women's Work

First M. P. Church, High Point, N. C.
April 12-13, 1939

Theme: "Looking Backward, Thinking Forward."

Wednesday A. M.—10 o'Clock

Call to Worship.
Worship service directed by Mrs. E. O. Peeler.
Meditation .... Mrs. Fred G. Holloway
Roll Call of Officers.
High Lights from the Year's Minutes .... Mrs. S. S. Holt
President's Message .... Mrs. R. M. Andrews
Special music.
Reports:
- President .... Mrs. R. M. Andrews
- Secretary of Missionary Education .. Mrs. J. E. Pritchard
- Secretary of Literature .... Mrs. T. L. Speas
- Secretary of Scholarships .... Mrs. R. C. Stubbins
- Secretary of Young People's Work .... Mrs. E. A. Lamb

Appointment of Committees.
Announcements.
Adjournment.

Lunch 12:30 o'Clock

Wednesday P. M.—1:30 o'Clock

Meditation .... Mrs. Fred G. Holloway
Reports:
- Corresponding Secretary .... Mrs. J. T. Bowman
- Treasurer .... Mrs. Coy L. Kearns
- Assistant Treasurer .... Mrs. P. S. Kennett
- Auditor .... Mrs. E. W. Teague
- Secretary Student Loan Fund, High Point College Mrs. J. M. Millikan
- Chairman of Districts .... Mrs. C. W. Bates

Roll Call of Auxiliaries.
Reports:
- Secretary of Benevolences and Christian Stewardship Mrs. J. M. Stone
- Children Home—Ten minutes .... Dr. A. G. Dixon
- Bethel Home—Ten minutes .... Rev. Homer Casto
- Secretary of Christian Education.. Mrs. George R. Brown
- High Point College—Ten minutes .. Dr. G. I. Humphreys

Benediction.

Wednesday P. M.—7:30 o'Clock
Miss Jane Gillie, Presiding

Meditation .... Mrs. Fred G. Holloway
Young People's Program under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Lamb, Secretary of Young People's Work.
A play on India, "Tara Finds the Door to Happiness," directed by Mrs. J. H. Hicks, Jr.
Benediction.

Thursday A. M.—9:30 o'Clock

Organ Prelude.
Minutes of Wednesday's meetings.
Meditation .... Mrs. Fred G. Holloway
Reports:
- Secretary of Spiritual Life .... Mrs. E. O. Peeler
- Secretary of Life, Memorial, Sustaining and Perpetual Members .... Mrs. R. A. Hunter
- Secretary of Thank Offering ...... Mrs. W. C. Hammer

Music.
Address .... Miss Louise Best, Returned Missionary from Brazil, M. E. Church, So.
Adjournment.

Lunch 12:30 o'Clock

Thursday P. M.—1:30 o'Clock

Meditation .... Mrs. Fred G. Holloway
Reports:
- Secretary of Temperance and Christian Citizenship Miss Pearl McCulloch
- Secretary of Exhibits .... Mrs. J. C. Madison
- Secretary of Pastor's Aid .... Mrs. E. L. Ballard
- Custodian of Records .... Mrs. C. W. Bates
- Resolutions Committee.
- Finance Committee.
- Nominating Committee.

Miscellaneous business.
Report of Committee on Credentials and Courtesies.
Minutes of the day's sessions.
Benediction.

◆

SOUTHERN METHODIST MISSIONARY COUNCIL

Perhaps no more inspiring gathering anywhere in Methodism, than the one just closed here in Asheville this week.

There were representatives from thirty-nine Conferences, several returned missionaries, field workers, deaconesses, all keenly alert to the needs of the fields that they represented at home and abroad.

Everything worked with the precision of a correct timepiece, no lagging of program, for everything was carried out on schedule time.

It was an inspiration to sit in and listen to their reports of the work being done as well as the work being planned. Seemed to a listener in, that every detail of the work was taken care of.

There were many helpful discussions, and if there were any feelings ruffled the wrong way there was no sign of it on the surface, for everything moved with such precision and with a high regard for everything spiritual, it was a delight to see such a body working so harmoniously. There may have been great problems, but if so they must have been settled with God in secret, for to one interested in getting the best out of the proceedings there was no sign of friction. Dr. Straughan referred to the fine spirit of the meeting and said; "I am anxious for the fine women of our church to get mixed up with you folks in this great work. You will find ours like yours, and I am sure that you will have a great time together, and the Kingdom will move on in a greater way as you unite your forces for its furtherance."

The devotionals conducted each morning by Dr. Straughan simply had the ear of these great leaders, as I am sure the ear of God was turned that way for hearing and answering, to make the thoughts he brought effective in an uplift of which the members of this great gathering were not unmindful.

Walking out of the church one morning with Dr. Straughan, we ran into a fine company of women from Georgia, and they said: "Dr. Straughan, we like the sample from the Methodist Protestant Church!" That too was just a sample of the many complimentary remarks that were made by the representatives there from every state.

We had the pleasure of having Miss Anne Parker, Belgian Congo missionary, from Africa speak to us on Sunday morning. She is one of the great missionaries and expressed her gratification that we were soon to be one. We had many visitors that morning from several different states. They know of Miss Parker's work so well that they were anxious to hear her. It was indeed an uplifting address.

Our own Mrs. Hammer was introduced to the Council and made, as she always does, some very appropriate remarks.

Dr. Straughan preached for us at five o'clock Sunday afternoon at our regular services. A very fine sermon. There were quite a number out to hear him and it was an uplifting service. We appreciate his services for us very much, and the comment on his Council sermon, Sunday morning, at Central Methodist church, to an overflowing congregation, was broadcast, and the favorable comment we have heard makes us few Methodist Protestants up here in the mountains glad that we have such a leader.

He also spoke to the Men's Federation of Bible Classes of the city Monday night and here he was at his best. Seemed to me with all the good things he had said in Asheville, that he reached a climax there.

I wish I had the time and the space to give names of all the interesting speakers and something of what they said, but such being the case, I am only giving this brief report as an encouragement to our women that they may look forward with bright anticipation to join forces with a great company of women that are interested in the advance of the Kingdom as was evidenced by the support that they gave in a financial way. They made an increase of over eighteen thousand dollars from last year, and they raised over eight hundred thousand dollars last year for the women's work in their church. Then they took one of our young ladies, Miss Grace Armstrong, as a Methodist Protestant to send to China, not asking her to change her church relationship, but sending her on to work for them as an M. P. Pardon this space taken, but thought you would like to look at the Council through M. P. eyes.

N. G. Bethea.

◆

Cheered by the presence of God, I will do at each moment, without anxiety, according to the strength which He shall give me, the work that His Providence assigns me. I will leave the rest without concern; it is not my affair. I ought to consider the duty to which I am called each day, as the work that God has given me to do, and to apply myself to it in a manner worthy of His glory, that is to say, with exactness and in peace. I must neglect nothing; I must be violent about nothing.—Francois de la Mothe Fenelon.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

No new charges have been reported as over the top this week, so we just have to run the same ones as of last week. But these who have occupied the place of honor of the past two weeks deserve to stay right there by themselves until some others are entitled to join the legion of honor. Now let all of our churches and pastors remember that we want to add the names of other churches to this list, so come on and put your church on the honor roll. Remember there is only one more month in which to do this. Just as soon as your charge raises its World Service in full please report the name of the church to the president of the conference and also tell him how you raised yours as we want to give the best plans used.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.

◆

LENTEN TOPICS

"Christ And the Way"

Of the Way.—Acts 9:2.

By Rev. F. W. Stephenson, D.D.

To succeed in making satisfying friendships is one of the greatest experiences of life. Indeed it is life's supreme adventure. True friendships endure. Testing times may come but they do not destroy.

Faith is fundamental to friendship and faith is the noblest expression of the soul. Our faith in human beings is sometimes misplaced, but never in God. When our confidence is placed in Him there is strength for every trial, every temptation, every transition, every task. Friends may fail us, through fear, weakness, ignorance or misunderstanding. They may not intend to, even as the disciples in Gethsemane, but they do and the experience at times is almost more than we can bear. Jesus knew the full meaning of all this but, even so, He found comfort in the fellowship of His friends and strength through prayerful communion with the Father.

"Strength For the Way"

He went away and prayed.—Mark 14:39.
Scripture: Mark 14:32-42.

Jesus was not sufficient unto Himself. He needed divine as well as human support. Like all of us, He craved the strength that comes from above and from human associates. Golgotha loomed threateningly before Him. Even yet He could avoid it. The cross was not inevitable. It was still a question whether He would follow His own will or that of the Father. Strange as it may seem, He could not complete His course without one more fatal struggle.

In company with His closest friends, He withdrew to a secluded place in Gethsemane, requesting Peter, James and John to wait and watch while he went a short distance to pray. And in the midst of His anguish and pleadings they slept! Incredible! How could they? Twice it happened, yet Jesus excused them and had only kind and sympathetic words for them. He understood. He always does.

So, agony was piled on agony. The terror of the cross, its bitterness, the sense of defeat, the loneliness, the apparent triumph of His enemies, the desertion of the disciples, and now, when He needed the strength of their presence and sympathetic understanding, they slept!

It is an experience filled to the brim with disappointment and tragedy. Yet, out of it all the Master comes with amazing strength and composure. From some source He has received grace and power to carry on to the end. Grace and strength to do God's will fully and completely. Was not prayer the secret?

Prayer is the key which unlocks the door to the treasure-house of God. What are those treasures? Hope, assurance, obedience, security, confidence, resignation, courage—yea, the grace of God. In other words, prayer provides strength for the Way.

I need Thy presence every passing hour,
What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who, like Thyself, my guide and stay can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, O abide with me.
—H. F. Lyte.

Dear Heavenly Father. Help us to recover our confidence in prayer. Restore unto us the joy of communion with Thee. Forbid that we should fail to seek Thy presence or lose our sense of our need of Thee. Increase our faith and grant unto us grace and strength for the way. We pray, in Jesus name. Amen.

WHEN FAITH BECOMES FATALISM

By Henry M. Gehr

Christian faith, according to some of its famous exponents, is an active affair. I think particularly of the Epistle of James, in which, though it is short, faith is mentioned ten times, and in each case it is connected with works. Indeed, James goes so far as to say that "faith by itself, if it has no good deeds to show, is dead. (Goodspeed). One understands, after that, why Luther rated James as a "straw-epistle." It was enough for Luther to believe in Christ Jesus apart from works, and because the Apostle James says that such faith is dead he naturally comes on Luther's Index Expurgatorius.

Luther might also have added the famous faith chapter from the Epistle to the Hebrews to his list. All those this writer includes—Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Joseph and many other Biblical worthies—showed their faith in what they did. An American Unitarian, James Freeman Clarke, brings the list somewhat nearer our own time. Said he: "All human action, all good endeavor, all the progress of civilization, is the work of faith. . . . By faith . . . the Jesuits went among the North American Indians, and Livingstone among the African barbarians, not counting their lives dear, so that they might finish their course with joy. . . . By faith Howard reformed the prisons; Wesley gave spiritual life to the lowest classes in England; Clarkson and Wilberforce abolished the slave trade; Garrison and Abraham Lincoln put an end to slavery in the United States. . . . By faith Channing, Bushnell, and Theodore Parker shook the pillars of irrational belief. . . . All human knowledge, human endeavor, earthly progress, depends on faith that beyond what we know there is a great world of truth and still to be discovered." Since that was written much has happened to make Americans believe even more in the power of faith. Rights for women, magnificent technical advances, new expressions of social justice, have come about in the last fifty years in a bewildering manner. They are the fruit of faith held by men and women like Robert Ingersoll, Joseph Pulitzer, Susan B. Anthony, John P. Altgeld, Jane Addams, Thomas A. Edison, the Wright Brothers, and a host of others. And the power of faith is still being used, I trust. Each of us may have part. Faith is not something given once and for all times to the saints, which our fathers knew but we cannot know; it is living now, created and sustained by us and creative of us. It is still "the substance of things hoped for the evidence of things not seen." And when our churches are discovering their power as co-workers with the divine will which makes for righteousness, they too are on the side of a living dynamic faith.

None of this is true of fatalism, the belief that what is was meant to be, that men are puppets in a cosmic Punch and Judy show, that God does not need man's partnership, or that man can get along without God. Yet fatalism occurs more frequently than is usually realized. Ironically, it often develops in what are known as the strongholds of faith. How often we hear devout church members say with sad relish, "It was meant to be." Or witness the churchly doctrine of Predestination. God, asserted John Calvin, has decided by an eternal decree "what he would have to become of every individual of mankind." He has once for all determined "whom He would admit to salvation and whom He would condemn to destruction."

Thus faith becomes fatalism. After all, fatalism is merely static or frozen faith—the refuge of those who no longer hope, a means of escape for the ones who no longer have energy to co-operate with God. This, no doubt, is why it is current particularly in times of great trouble and turmoil, such as our own. Men become worn out with the battle against odds and they turn with relief to a place they have constructed where things are settled.

There is grave danger that our civilization will turn from faith to fatalism. There are signs all around us that it is doing so. —The Christian Leader.

Enoch walked with God—he was not in a hurry. When our ancestors missed the stage coach they didn't worry, for they knew another would come along next month. Today when we miss one section of the revolving door we get mad. —Dr. William Ward Ayer.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

GUIDE BOOKS, 1939-1940

Mrs. T. L. Speas, 226 Sunset Drive, Winston-Salem, State Secretary of Literature, has received a large order of Guide Books for the year beginning April 1, 1939. "Thy Kingdom Come" is the theme. Every auxiliary should have several of these Guide Books, one for each member is the ideal way.

Please send your orders, cash with order, to Mrs. Speas, so that she may get the books to you for your April meeting. There will be no separate Guide Book for Young People this year, their programs are being printed in the Missionary Record each month.

THE MINNIS FUND

Last call to do just what you have been planning to do—send in your part and a little extra Love Gift for the Minnis Fund now. The year is about gone so far as the N. C. Branch year goes. What you do you must do now if you plan to help the N. C. Branch pay the salary of our own N. C. missionary in India. It will only take a little from several and the remaining $443.86 will be paid. All you send will count on your auxiliary budget and on your church budget for World Service and Appreciation Year. So please, as a church auxiliary, Sunday school class, or any other organization, send in some World Service designated as Minnis Fund. Do this now and be sure that everybody will be happy.

Bethesda on North Davidson is sending in some this week. We hope that a long list will go to Mrs. Kearns. Mr. Minnis reads these appeals and feels somewhat embarrassed. But I am not begging you to do your bit for this—I only have to remind you and when Branch meeting comes—will we have it?

MRS. H. C. NICHOLSON,
Booster for Minnis Fund.

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$1,025.79
Friendship, Shiloh, "Love Gift"	10.00
Seagrove, Love Joy	1.00
Whitakers, "Love Gift"	5.00
Union Ridge	5.00
Concord, Sax., "Love Gift"	3.00
Lineberry, Davidson charge, "Love Gift"	1.40
Chapel Hill, Davidson Charge, "Love Gift"	5.00
Total Minnis Fund	$1,056.19

Mrs. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch Women's Work.
March 20, 1939.

THANK - OFFERING SERVICES CONTINUING

Thank - offering services, commemorating the beginning of the Women's Work of the Methodist Protestant denomination, 60 years ago, are continuing, and churches which have never observed the anniversary are holding services. "Giving for Gratitude" is the slogan and coincides with the Appreciation Year program, and many of the ministers and congregations are realizing that thank-offering observance is a splendid way to complete the World Service budget of the local church. From reports, the goal is in sight, and by continuing the remainder of March, it is confidently believed that the goal of $2,000 for the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work will be reached. We were one of the few branches to go over the top last year. We must not fail this year. All money must reach Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, treasurer, Denton, before March 30.

With personal gratitude for the very splendid cooperation in reaching our "Giving, Gratitude, Goal," I am,

Very sincerely,
MRS. Wm. C. HAMMER,
Secretary Thank-Offering.

THANK-OFFERING

Amount previously reported, Fall		$ 874.00
Amount previously reported for February	$510.95
Asheboro	66.19
Tabernacle	25.00
Danville	3.50
Grace	6.35
Harmony	4.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	4.50
Mt. Carmel	10.00
Spring Church Circuit	10.00
Asheville	12.00
Lexington, First church	4.87
Chapel Hill, Davidson charge	4.34
Alleghany, Davidson charge	2.65
Pine Hill, Davidson charge	2.10
Liberty, Davidson charge	1.51
Total February Thank-Offering		675.96
Total to date		$1,549.96

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch, Women's Work.
March 20, 1939.

SUGGESTION TO AUXILIARIES

The Editor of Woman's Column is glad to have the following news items following a suggestion she made in the Herald some weeks ago; this starts the list off splendidly:

Two circles of First church, Thomasville, have made the Bowman twins, James Talton, Jr., and Edith Marie Bowman, Life Members of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work. Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Bowman have made their son, John Ashworth, who died in infancy, a Memorial member.

TO SECRETARIES OF MISSIONARY EDUCATION

By now the Secretary of Missionary Education in your local auxiliary has the blanks to make your annual report to your Branch Secretary. I want to urge you to give full information as to missionary materials used in your programs this year, and how and where it was used. Write on back of your report blank in what way you used the Missionary Record and materials sent you by our Branch Secretary of Literature. Did you use these in your circle or auxiliary meeting programs? Did you use mission study books, and state how these were given, whether by individuals, in circle or auxiliary, or used in combined groups, district meetings, etc. Whatever way you used these materials, please write it down.

I want to call your attention to items No. 2. 3 and 4 on your blank. These with the above information will be your honor roll. Then don't forget to sign your name and address, also your charge, name of your church; and be sure to write name of your new secretary for the new year. These are important.

Hope each one of you has had a good year and will have much to report.

MRS. J. E. PRITCHARD,
Secretary, Missionary Education.

NOTICE TO SECRETARIES OF MEMBERSHIP

Since this is Appreciation Year, I would suggest that you put forth a special effort to see to it that all deceased members of your auxiliary are made Memorial members in appreciation of their life and service. This will count on your World Service budget. Any other memberships that you may secure will also count on your budget and will help to raise your Appreciation Year quota.

MRS. R. A. HUNTER,
Secretary of Memberships.
R.F.D. 2, Winston-Salem, N. C.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Please send names of all delegates who expect to stay overnight at Annual Meeting in High Point, to Miss Myrtle Davis, First M. P. Church Secretary, corner N. Main and Richardson streets, High Point, N. C.

Also it will greatly aid me in naming committees if you will send me a list of delegates, giving name of church and charge.

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS,
President of N. C. Branch.

TENTH DISTRICT RALLIES FOR "APPRECIATION YEAR"

A rally of all the "Appreciation Year" committees of all the churches in the tenth district, with the exception of the churches on Mt. Zion charge, took place at Community church on Tuesday night the 7th. It was a "dutch supper" with every charge sharing, and such a supper it was! It was served hot by ladies representing the church as suggested above. Dr. S. W. Taylor brought the chief address of the evening. He gave a review of the progress of the "Appreciation Year" outside of the North Carolina Conference. His message was highly appreciated. Rev. Fred R. Love, pastor of the Pleasant Grove church, gave some figures, which sought to show what a small sum each member would have to pay in the district to raise the amount for the district. Rev. J. T. Bowman reviewed briefly some methods other churches had used successfully, and the chairman gave a brief review of the "why" and the "what" of the "Appreciation Year." Brother Clyde Payne, a layman from the Pleasant Grove church, called forth our commendation when he informed the group that Pleasant Grove had sent in the full amount of her "Appreciation Year" world service budget. And finally this most enthusiastic meeting did not come to a close before some person of each church represented assured the group that they would go back and make a sincere effort to raise the full amount of their "Appreciation Year" apportionment.

J. CLYDE AUMAN, Chairman.

◆

A plaque representing the ghost of Hamlet's father has been placed in the hallway of the University of Vermont museum.

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

T. J. WHITEHEAD, President
Henderson, N. C.

Children's Division

Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll, Supt.

USING THE BIBLE WITH CHILDREN

By MARY SKINNER

Understanding and appreciation of the Bible can have its beginning in childhood and, like a snowball, may continue to grow with every turn of the years. Much depends, however, upon the viewpoint, attitude, and practice of parents and teachers. Some try to roll the ball too fast. Others, who have a devout appreciation of the Bible for themselves, have given no thought to ways of using it most helpfully with children. The following simple suggestions are therefore offered with the hope that confusion may be avoided for the children and that they may be started on a path which will lead them into more and more enjoyment and understanding.

Associate Bible Passages With Present Experiences

Bible passages associated with the present experiences of the children have more meaning and, in turn, give a religious significance to the experience. Do we feel particularly happy about something that has happened? If so, "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad" (Ps. 126:3) has particular meaning.

Has a feeling of wonder, awe, and reverence welled up in us at the sight of the beauty and glory of the out-of-doors? If so, the following Bible verses have particular meaning:

"He hath made everything beautiful in his time." (Eccles. 3:11.)

"God giveth us richly all things to enjoy." (I Tim. 6:17.)

"Thou hast made summer and winter." (Ps. 74:17.)

"The earth is full of thy riches." (Ps. 104:24.)

Are we learning to work and play together in the family or in the church school group? If so, the following verses have particular meaning:

"This is my commandment: that ye love one another." (John 15:12.)

"You are all brothers." (Matt. 23:8.)

"Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other." (Eph. 4:32.)

"Let no man seek his own, but each his neighbor's good." (I Cor. 10:24.)

"Let every man tell the truth in dealing with his neighbor." (Zech. 8:16.)

Have we been led to think about God's love and care for all his children all the time? If so, the following verses have particular meaning:

"O Lord, thou art our Father." (Isa. 64:8.)

"He cares for you." (I Pet. 5:7.)

"What time I am afraid, I will put my trust in thee." (Ps. 56:3.)

Bible verses so used are not regarded as assigned memory work, but will help to lift the present experiences to the level of the religious.

Reading the Bible Together

After recalling several such passages related in meaning, it is easy and natural to say, "Would you like for us to find some of these verses in the Bible?" In the case of little children the adult will gather close around while it is read. If a child has a Bible of his own, he is always glad to have it used and to place a marker so that unaided he may turn again to a familiar verse. Marking familiar passages in the Bible is an interesting way of keeping a record of "verses we know." This can be done several years before a child is able to find references for himself.

There will be many occasions when a longer passage will be read aloud to the children. If it is well selected and well read, the children will often have a feeling of satisfaction without the need of discussion or explanation. If they are following the words in their own Bibles, they will want to read it again and again, and will join in choosing the verses we like best. A group reading the 147th Psalm decided they liked the first, eighth, ninth, fourteenth, and sixteenth to eighteenth verses, but best of all they liked the fourth verse, "He counteth the number of the stars; he calleth them all by name." This verse was recalled that evening as they sat on the grass in the front yard watching the stars come out. A feeling of wonder and awe came over them as they thought that the stars are a part of God's wonderful plan in creating the whole universe.

Using the whole Bible rather than an Old or a New Testament or a separate book of the Psalms will help children get the idea of the wholeness of the book, although we may not at first say much about the different parts of the Bible.

Learning to Use the Bible

If the size of type in an ordinary Bible is compared with the type of the children's schoolboks and storybooks, one can easily see the difficulty a child has in reading it, aside from the fact that the language and style are different from that which he ordinarily hears and reads. This makes it all the more important that care be exercised in selecting a Bible for children. Large, clear type, and Arabic instead of Roman numerals are among the characteristics to look for. Maps and teaching notes are unnecessary in a child's Bible, and pictures are usually too small, contain too many details, and often portray ideas far removed from his experience or understanding.

Children can easily learn to find the Psalms by their position in the Bible. A few experiences in the use of passages from the Gospels and the use of a marker will enable them to find any reference there. During the junior years (9, 10, and 11) they will have opportunity in the church school to learn how to find other references, and they will also learn something about how the Bible came to be and what it has meant to people down through the ages.

Remembering Verses We Know

If verses and passages are associated with experiences, used many times with joy and understanding, it is not surprising that even beginner children will sometimes spontaneously recall an appropriate verse when the experience occurs again. It helps also to recall the verses we know, to mark them in our Bibles, and sometimes to make booklets in which we print Bible verses we know.

There are many beautiful Psalms and other passages which children of primary and junior age will commit to memory and use frequently in the home, in the church school, or in an outdoor worship service. If parents and teachers are using over and over again some of these much loved passages, they will not find it necessary to say to children after a session of the church school, "What have you learned today?" but will join with them in using and remembering the passages which have meaning to them. (Besides, we hope the children are learning to worship God, to wait, to enter with others in planning something to do; therefore, they find it difficult to answer when asked, "What are you learning?") If the same passages are used in the same way in both church and home, children's understanding, enjoyment, and appreciation will be increased and their interest in remembering them will be assured.

Some Basic Viewpoints and Practices

1. Do not hurry. The best assurance of continued use and enjoyment of the Bible is found in being willing to go slowly and to use appropriate passages over and over again. If our purpose is the child's development, we will be willing to go slowly. Interest in biblical material is often dulled if children are introduced to it at a time when there can be no understanding or appreciation. It is not a question of how much children can learn or how fast they can go, but rather of using the Bible to bring thoughts of God into their present experiences.

2. Not all of the Bible is of equal value. The genealogies, the Levitical laws, the records of wars between tribes are of comparatively little value to adults in comparison with devotional passages in the Psalms, Proverbs, Job, and the record of the life and teachings of Jesus. How much more is this true for children!

We recognize the fact that there are people who have a genuine devotional experience in reading the Bible through from cover to cover, but we feel that it is more valuable for children to find and use passages that have real meaning than to grope through passages which the adults themselves often do not understand.

3. Look at the Old Testament in the light of the New Testament. In the Old Testament we find stories of courage, adventure, and heroism, but not all are models for Christian conduct. Our tone of voice, manner, and basic understanding should enable us frankly and fearlessly to help children realize that we find in the Old Testament some ideas about God which Jesus did not have, and we can reverently say, "Yes, that was what they thought about God then, but aren't you glad that Jesus helped us to know him better?"

Most of us, when considering ideas and suggestions like these, will feel our own inadequacy. Let us then become as children and start with them on a joyous path toward the use of the Bible. Using the few verses given above as a starting point, and the children's church school lesson material and teacher's books as a safe guide, let us be willing to use some passage over and over again. We will be surprised at the eagerness with which we ourselves look forward from time to time to the enjoyment of the Bible with children. The result of this open-minded, frank, intelligent, purposeful, reverent use of the Bible with children will do much for us adults but will do even more for them. For their sakes are we willing to sanctify ourselves anew?. (Reprinted from the Christian Home, April, 1937. Used by permission of the publishers.)

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Miss Frances Pritchett, Glen Raven	$ 2.00
Miss Frances Cunningham	1.00
Mrs. H. L. Hanner, Asheville	1.00
By Miss Cunningham.
Dr. A. H. Johnson, Grace Church	2.00
Mrs. Earl S. Cobb, Grace church	2.00
By Mrs. F. R. Stout.
Mrs. Mattie Cameron, Rankin Memorial	.50
By Pastor Suits.
Mrs. W. J. Talley, Forsyth Charge	2.00
By Pastor Hunter.
Mrs. W. C. Hammer, Asheboro	2.00
Mrs. Lollie Jones, Asheboro	2.00
By Mrs. John Taylor.
Mrs. W. A. Ferree, Richland Charge	1.00
Mrs. C. C. Burke, club subscriptions, Graham	10.00
Miss Fay Kennedy, Pleasant Grove	2.00
By Miss Hedrick.
Mrs. Z. B. Mitchell	1.00
Hester Richardson, Why Not Charge	1.00
By Mrs. C. T. Luck.
Mrs. C. C. McNeil, Asheville	1.00
By Miss Cunningham.
R. B. Hunter, Halifax Charge	1.00
Miss Charlie Hunter, Grace church	2.00
Mrs. A. C. Harris, Davidson Charge	1.00
Mrs. Lizzie Cranford, Davidson Charge	1.00
By Pastor Neese.
Mrs. Paul Braxton, Saxaphaw Charge	1.00
By Miss Edith Guthrie.
W. F. Wall, Denton	1.00
By Pastor Curry.
Mrs. J. L. Sides, Concord church	2.00
Mrs. E. F. Litaker, Concord church	2.00
By Mrs. L. H. Sides.
Eula Gaddis, Mt. Zion Charge	1.00
E. R. Hill, Why Not Charge	.50
Miss Alice Talley, Siler City Charge	2.00
By Miss Lucy M. Jones.
L. R. Pickard, First, Burlington	2.00
By Pastor Paschall.
R. L. White, Jr., Why Not Charge	.50
Mrs. Wade Hill, Why Not Charge	2.00
Mrs. Carl White, Why Not Charge	.50
By Pastor Hill.
Mrs. D. H. Thompson, Alamance Charge	2.00
By Pastor Brown.
R. M. Whitt, Kernersville	.50
Rev. C. B. Way, Kernersville Charge	.50
K. O. Boone, Kernersville	.50
By Pastor Way.
Mrs. G. R. Hemphill, Randolph Charge	1.00
Mrs. C. W. Robertson, Pensacola	1.00
By Mrs. Blankenship.
Miss Anne Cox, Forsyth Charge	1.00
By Mrs. R. A. Hunter.
C. L. Younger, Gibsonville	1.00
J. T. Rountree, Gibsonville	2.00
E. Ralph Allen, Gibsonville	1.00
By Pastor Anderson.
Jeff Fritzz, Shiloh Charge	2.00
By Ray Leatherman.

◆

Five continents, 32 foreign countries, two territories, 48 states and the District of Columbia are represetned in the Cornell University student body.

◆

Louisiana State University has received a gift of 5,000 French books from the French government.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

"I WOULD BE STRONG"

Topic for April 2, 1939

By JOSEPH COBLE

Daily Bible Readings:

Monday, March 27—Strength in God's presence. Ps. 46:1-7.

Tuesday, March 28—Strength in leadership. Josh. 1:2-9.

Wednesday, March 29—Strength in weakness. 2 Cor. 12:7-10.

Thursday, March 30—Strength in inner conflict. Rom. 8:12-18.

Friday, March 31—Strength in God's armor. Eph. 6:10-17.

Saturday, April 1—Strength of Christ in suffering. I Pet. 2:21-25.

The Text: II Cor. 11:21-31.

"I would be strong, for there is much to suffer," is one of the greatest challenges that comes to modern young people. Within our own lives and within the lives of those around us there is much suffering. Not only must we be strong to overcome the handicaps that are placed in our way to progress and happiness, but there are very few of us who do not have someone else looking to us for strength to help them solve some problem that confronts them.

In fact, if we could live entirely independent, most of us would rather suffer than to gain the strength to overcome. But we do not live to ourselves. I am more responsible when those who look to me for strength fal lthan they themselves are. There are not many of us who would not rather go through some trying experience than to have some loved one whom we think not as strong as we are go through that experience.

Paul glories in the fact that he has had the strength to suffer for his fellowmen. Paul says that he is no stronger than those who are depending upon him for strength, for "who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is offended, and I burn not?"

So you and I may think we are strong, but if we are not strong enough to help those who depend upon us over the difficult place without faltering, then we are not strong enough for our task. If we are to find such strength, we must turn to someone who has that strength to give. There is only one who has the strength to overcome every single problem and every force of evil, and that is our Master, Jesus Christ.

We must first realize that we have not followed the example nor the teachings of this Master of ours. We have sinned, and come short of the glory that should be ours We have not had the faith that we should have had in our Shepherd. We seldom forget to partake of the food that will strengthen our bodies but we often forget to commune with the source of our spiritual and moral strength. This is one of the greatest sins that we commit. If we have only to turn to our Master for strength, "why do we do ourselves or others the wrong, that we are not always strong?"

"Fight the good fight with all thy might,
Lay hold on life, and it shall be
Christ is thy strength, and Christ thy right,
Thy joy and crown eternally.

"Run the straight race through God's good grace,
Lift up thine eyes and seek His face;
Life with its ways before us lies,
Christ is the path, and Christ the prize.

"Cast care aside, lean on thy Guide,
His boundless mercy will provide;
Trust, and thy trusting soul shall prove
Christ is its life, and Christ its love.

"Faint not nor fear, His arms are near,
He changeth not and thou art dear;
Only believe, and thou shalt see
That Christ is all in all to thee.

—John S. B. Monsell.

◆

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME.

May I make a few remarks in reply to an article in March 9th issue by Miss Martha Parsons.

We know of no greater foundation for character building than body building. When our boys and girls start out to be athletes, they know they must abstain from all foods, drinks, habits, etc., that would injure their bodies if they are to play the game to win and he who fights for a perfect body will make a success in life. When a little fellow begin to talk you hear him say "Daddy, see my musser," and how proud he is when Daddy finds a knot almost as big as a hen egg in his little arm.

Mr. Garrett has passed on, he did a great work that will go on and on. I can think of no greater way to honor his memory than to build a house for body building, thereby laying a good foundation for the character building that is carried on daily in the home. It's a joy to see these children of ours as they engage in the devotional services in the home. There are few homes where the children get the Christian training they do in our home.

Workers, it's true there is much to do. I believe there are nine of our splendid boys and girls who are working in the home, kitchens, study halls and any where they are needed to look after the smaller ones, who are in college. If we put more workers in the home that would deprive them of an opportunity to prepare themselves better for life.

One of the barely teen age boys recently said, "I like the home, of course some of the boys don't but some people just don't know how to be happy any way.'

MABEL RUSSELL.

◆

Grandpappy Morgan, of the Ozarks, had wandered off into the woods and failed to return for supper, so young Tolliver was sent to look for him. He found the old man standing in the bushes.

"Gettin' dark, grandpap," the boy ventured.

"Yep."

"Airn't ye hungry?"

"Yep."

"Wal, air ye comin' home?"

"Nope."

"Why ain't ye?"

"Can't."

"Why can't ye?"

"Standin' in a b'ar trap."

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Bethesda, N. Davidson, Rev. O. B. Williams, Pastor.—The Ladies' Auxiliary met March 16 with Mrs. Everette Whitlow, with Mrs. C. M. Yokley joint hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. M. Yokley, using the guide book. Our pastor met with us and gave a very interesting talk on the life and work of Dr. C. E. Forlines. All reports were encouraging. Officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. D. D. Brinkley; vice-president, Mrs. C. M. Yokley; secretary, Mrs. Paul Brinkley; treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Wagner, with Mrs. J. O. Everhart; program leader, Miss Virginia Wagner. Other committees will be appointed by the president. Mrs. E. E. Wagner and Miss Virginia Wagner were elected delegates to Branch meeting. After business a short contest was held. Mrs. Collins won the prize. Refreshments were served to all present.

Sunday, March 19, we held our thank-offering service at 11 o'clock. We were very glad to have as our speakers Mrs. H. C. Nicholson and Mrs. Ragan of Thomasville. We enjoyed their talks very much and hope they will come again.

MRS. J. O. EVERHART, Reporter.

* * *

Moriah, Rev. J. Leo Pittard, Pastor.—Our pastor has filled all of his appointments since our last report. He has brought us some beautiful and inspiring sermons. Last Sunday his topic was "Behold Your King," and very fitting it was, now that we are in the midst of the Lenten season.

We are filled with sadness over losing one of our oldest and most beloved members, Mr. J. L. Plunkett. He has been a faithful member of our church for years and a noble servant of the Master at all times. Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock on March 12, conducted by our present pastor, Rev. J. Leo Pittard, and one of our past pastors, Rev. T. M. Johnson. The mass of flowers was proof of the esteem in which Brother Plunkett was held. May the merciful Father comfort those bereaved, is our prayer.

Our auxiliary held its monthly meeting the last Friday night in February, with Mrs. Mark Lewis. The president, Mrs. A. V. Kirkman, presided over the meeting. The election of officers for the coming year was held. The officers are: President, Mrs. W. Macon Moser; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Moser; treasurer, Mrs. George Glenn; and Miss Belle Lewis as secretary. After the meeting Mrs. Lewis served a delicious course of jello and cake.

On the second Sunday in February the ladies had their thank-offering program. Mr. John R. Hughes, prominent attorney of Greensboro, was the speaker. His topic was, "What Do You Desire Most in Life?" Those who heard this have commented highly on Mr. Hughes, and we think it was just grand. Ladies, let's have him again some time soon.

An Easter program is being planned. We are having a pageant this year, "The Festival of Life." Our committee has not decided just what time and date we will have it, but just see the Herald next week.

Our attendance is good. Now that we do not have to say Spring is just around the corner, but it's here, let's fill up those empty pews that are left and let Brother Pittard know we appreciate these good sermons he brings to us, for you can't go wrong on him; he always has an inspiring message and it is always that kind that you can think over the coming week, and feel that you have been lifted spiritually.

May I have a tiny space here to say how much I like the Herald? I enjoy it immensely and as I am a great lover of poetry, I think some of the poems they print are the most beautiful that I have read. Did you read "With the Poets" on page 5 in last week's issue? Folks, you're missing something if you didn't.

MRS. WILBUR A. SHERRILL, Reporter.

* * *

Concorn, Rev. E. O. Peeler, Pastor.—On Friday night the Women's Auxiliary sponsored a fashion show in the basement of the church. The stores were so nice to furnish the new spring clothes and some of the clerks and the managers were present to enjoy the program. We are sure every one enjoyed the show and the musical program. Mrs. E. O. Peeler made the address of welcome and Mrs. J. L. Sides and Mrs. E. F. Litaker were in charge. The B. and S. class sponsored a bingo party last Wednesday night. The Women's Auxiliary have nominated their new officers for the Branch year and they will be installed at the joint meeting. We will hold our thank-offering service next Sunday night. We feel sure this will be a real interesting meeting. Mr. Peeler will get the slides from Rev. Ballard. This will consist of an illustrated lecture of our home missions. Mrs. Fred Sides is our Thanksgiving secretary and we know the program will be good. Our choir and most of the young people are practicing for the Easter program. We are anxious to see and hear it for we know it will be real good. It will be "The Dawning." Mr. Peeler will start a series of services in April with Rev. Mr. Madison for pulpit help. We are enjoying this month very much as visiting and tithing month. We hope to learn each other better by this visiting. We should do more visiting any way as we are one big family.

BERTHA EARNHARDT, Reporter.

* * *

Randleman Charge.—As our reporters are taking a vacation, we will attempt to write.

We are very much alive on this work. Everything moving along very well at each church on the work. But we are not exceeding the speed limit at any place. The attendance at each church has been off a little for the past few Sundays on account of the many cases of flu in the community, but we are expecting the attendance to increase as the flu subsides.

I notice some of our pastors have been complaining about their car being messed up, but what they did to my dining room last week was plenty.

By the way, I had a birthday last week. I guess all of our preachers have had a few, some of us probably too many for this modern age.

On Sunday, March 12, we were invited to Mrs. Smith's for dinner; our birthday was on Tuesday, March 14, but we were given a surprise. When we entered the dining-room we noticed a birthday cake with five candles on it.

Well, I did not think it meant anything to me as it did not represent more than a fifth of my age. But we were seated at a certain place where there was a nice package neatly wrapped, and an envelope with five dollars in it which also represented less than one-fifth of our years. Well, I decided they guessed at my age and intended for the two fives to represent 55. Well, you can just guess what we did for that dinner, and birthday cake. But this was only the beginning, for on Monday night we received another great surprise. The members of Mt. Lebanon began to come in. At first we wondered what was taking place, but soon found that it was a Methodist pounding, and birthday party combined. Well, we just haven't space to name all the articles, and the donors, as some did not have any name; but we want to thank each and every one for this kind expression of appreciation, and we will try to show our appreciation in some way.

We have been receiving presents from the members of the other churches on the charge. This has made us glad that we have lived to see another birthday, and will also remind you that we expect to have another next year.

C. L. SPENCER, Pastor.

* * *

First Church, Henderson, Rev. T. J. Whitehead, Pastor.—It is a most happy experience, after having been away from home, Sunday school and church for several months, to return and have friends look into your eyes, hold your hand, and say, "We are so glad to have you with us again, we've missed you so much."

Your reporter has recently had that experience, and most sincerely thanks all who have sent her such beautiful cards, letters, and loving messages which cheered her so much while she was at the bedside of an ill brother. She realizes fully that it is indeed "Appreciation Year."

Our pastor gave us an excellent sermon Sunday morning, his subject being "Philosophies of Life in the parable of the Good Samaritan."

The congregation was invited to hear Dr. Clinton at 7:30 at the Congregational-Christian church.

The circles of the Woman's Auxiliary met Monday as follows: No. 1, Mrs. R. W. Dixon chairman, Mrs. J. B. Satterwhite hostess; No. 2, Mrs. Walter H. Grissom chairman, Mrs. Henry T. Powell hostess; No. 4, Mrs. D. T. Beckham hostess.

Tuesday evening the Philathea class was entertained in the home of Mrs. E. O. Falkner, with Mrs. W. T. Nuckles as associate hostess. The meeting was opened by singing the class song. Mrs. T. T. Powell conducted the devotionals.

The president, Mrs. J. L. Mundy, presided over the business session, at which time reports were heard. The class voted to accept the new by-laws. It was decided that all members submit names for the class.

Mrs. Clyde Finch gave a report of the Philathea-Baraca union meeting recently held at the First Baptist church. Mrs. W. T. Nuckles and Mrs. R. L. Oakley were appointed as the visiting committee for the month. The class teachers named for the next two months were Mrs. W. B. Hight and Mrs.

W. H. Grissom. Rev. T. J. Whitehead closed the meeting with prayer.

As this was the March meeeting of the class, Mrs. Garland Greenway, the program chairman, presented Mrs. J. M. Baity, who read a story about St. Patrick's day and a poem, "The Shamrock."

We are pleased to know that Mrs. Charles F. Tankersley, Sr., who has recently taken treatment at Watts hospital, is at home and gradually improving.

Mrs. J. H. Pyle, of Baltimore, Md., has been visiting her father, S. R. Harris, on the Oxford road.

Mrs. Clyde Fich was called to Farmville Sunday morning because of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Christman. We wish for Mrs. Christman a speedy recovery.

Mrs. O. O. Young and Miss Mary Young are expected to arrive Tuesday morning from Rio Grande. Ohio, where Miss Young is a member of the faculty of Rio Grande College.

Rev. Mr. Whitehead had for his Sunday morning sermon subject, "Why Was Jesus Killed?"

Rev. S. E. Madren, pastor of Liberty Congregational-Christian church, will preach at the evening service.

Miss Virginia Wilson became the bride of John E. Burton, of Washington, D. C., in a ceremony performed Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Methodist Protestant parsonage. Rev. T. J. Whitehead heard the vows.

Beginning next Sunday a preaching mission will be held at the First Methodist Protestant church. The speakers for each evening through the week will be announced Sunday morning.

ANNIE C. LASHLEY, Reporter.

◆

Denton-Canaan.—At our Young People's services on the fifth Sunday of January Dr. Pritchard was our speaker. His presence and fine messages meant much to the services at both churches. The offering at both churches was larger than last year.

The thank-offering service which was observed at both churches manifested much more interest than those of last year. The offerings were considerably larger than last year. Mrs. Henry Nicholson of Thomasville was the special speaker at Denton, and meant much to the service. There was much sickness in the community and the attendance was not so large, but the interest was good. We thank Mrs. Nicholson, and hope she can be with us at another time.

We have paid our Uniting Conference expense at both churches a number of weeks ago. We are now working on the Appreciation Year apportionment, and this work is meeting with encouragement, especially at Denton. Here the full amount has been apportioned to different classes of the Sunday school and other departments of the church. A large blackboard has been placed in the church containing all these assignments, with columns showing assignments and amounts paid to date. On last Sunday the Paid to Date column showed that some had overpaid and that all had paid something. The Denton people are now sure that the World Service will be paid in full by the required date in April.

Pre-Easter services are now being conducted in the Denton church, with sermons along this line being preached each Sunday night. Rev. W. H. Neese, pastor of Davidson charge, brought the message on last Sunday night. A good message was brought by a good man. We thank you, Brother Neese, and want you to come this way again.

GEO. L. CURRY, Pastor.

◆

Richland Circuit, C. L. Grant, Pastor.—Giles Chapel Auxiliary gave a splendid pageant for the thank-offering program. The collections were $20. Mrs. W. C. Hammer was present and gave a fine address. We wish to thank Mrs. J. B. Tragdon for her assistance in the program.

The second quarterly conference will be held March 31 at the parsonage. All officials are urged to be present.

I hear that other preachers are being pounded these days; well, this preacher has been afflicted. About 30 of the Brower's Chapel people came over to the parsonage, and what a good quantity of supplies these folks did bring! Too numerous to mention. Thanks to them all.

Just recently the Charlotte Auxiliary met at the parsonage. And they did something more than coming to the auxiliary. They brought with them a splendid quantity of pantry supplies. These people know how to pound a preacher; they make a good job of it. Thanks to them. I will not give the names of these donors; it would take too much space.

C. L. GRANT.

◆

Chapel Hill, Davidson Charge, Rev. W. H. Neese, Pastor, March 20.—This church is still on the active list. With the aid of our pastor and his good wife, we are climbing towards the top to reach the goal set for us by the conference.

The Sunday school is again active at this time. For a few Sundays there has been no Sunday school, there were so many of the people sick with flu, also unfavorable weather conditions. This Sunday school set a goal to meet for the Children's Home this year which has been met each month since conference.

Our pastor has filled all preaching services at this church, giving to us some interesting sermons from time to time. The attendance at the services is good for the winter months on this work; also the membreship is scattered over a large territory.

The Chapel Hill Auxiliary met with Mrs. A. C. Harris on March 14 at 7:45 p.m. There were nine members and two visitors. The society was glad to have Miss Doris Smith as a new member. Mrs. C. L. Surratt was program leader and the following ladies had parts on the program: Mesdames C. L. Surratt, A. C. Harris, Miss Sylvia Morris, and Rev. Mr. Neese. Officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Van Surratt; vice-president, Mrs. C. L. Surratt; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Wade Smith; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. C. Harris; secretary of missionary and Christian education, Mrs. W. H. Neese; secretary of spiritual life, Miss Sylvia Morris; secretary of literature, Mrs. Penn Russell; secretary of thank-offering, Miss Bruce Smith; secretary of temperance and Christian citizenship, Mrs. Edd Morris; secretary of pastor's aid, Mrs. Wade Surratt. The other committees will be appointed later.

Delegates to the Branch meeting are Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. C. L. Curratt, Mrs. Wade Smith, and Mrs. Van Surratt.

The thank-offering service was held at this church March 19 at 11 a.m. by the Ladies' Auxiliary with good results. The following ladies took part: Mesdames W. H. Neese, Van Surratt, C. L. Surratt, Penn Russell, Wade Smtih, and Miss Sylvia Morris, Miss Bruce Smith, and Rev. W. H. Neese. Four small girls rendered special music, with Miss Murphry as pianist. Acting as ushers for this service were Misses Mary Lanier and Lyde Coggins. This service was enjoyed by those present, as it was new for this work in the auxiliary and church. The offering came to $9.37.

We wish to thank those who made it possible for us to raise this money, that we as an auxiliary may help to further the Gospel of Christ to foreign fields.

We ask an interest in the prayers of the Christian people that this church may continue on the upward journey; also that our auxiliary may continue to be strengthened in its work.

MRS. VAN SURRATT, Ass't Reporter.

◆

Center, Alamance, Dr. Geo. R. Brown, Pastor—Our Sunday school is moving along nicely under the leadership of Professor Archie Braxton.

Our young people held their program the fifth Sunday in January and the collection amounted to seven dollars.

The Woman's Auxiliary is very active now, having raised our budget in full and $5.75 on Minnis salary. We voted to raise the amount for our budget in 1939-40. We are planning a thank-offering soon. Our pastor gave us a very interesting and helpful sermon today.

Some of our members have been absent from church because of sickness. I hope they will soon be back again.

We were glad to have Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Lindley and daughter, Sarah Lou, worship with us last Sunday. Also Professor and Mrs. Paul Braxton, of Siler City, N. C.

We hope to have an improvement in church attendance as the weather improves.

MRS. C. C. RICHARDSON, Reporter.

◆

Pleasant Grove.—There has been a very few reports from Pleasant Grove this year, but things are moving along just the same. I am sure there is more interest shown now than ever before in my pastorate here. The people have a real good cooperative spirit among them in carrying out the church and conference programs. It appears to me that all who are members of the church have taken a great interest in the Appreciation Year program. Our finances are in real good condition, having paid the World Service in full. One remarked that it was the easiest money we ever raised. Since this is out of the way we have turned our attention toward our Annual Conference Budgets. I am positive they will be paid as they come due in our program.

The congregations are very gratifying and uplifting. The Sunday school is progressing fine under the leadership of our most beloved superintendents, Clyde Payne. There is fine class work being done in our Sunday school. Plans are being made for a real good Easter service. The mid-week prayer meeting is proving a real blessing to the church and community. A few weeks ago I felt impressed to give an invitation at the close of our regular Sunday morning worship. The result was that nine knelt at the altar and gave their hearts to Christ, and seven joined the church. This was a great feasting time for all present. I am sure we ministers make a mistake by not giving more opportunities for the poor lost ones to find Christ.

We are observing every special day. Young People's Day was a real good service. The young people were recognized throughout the day. In the evening "Shrines" was beautifully presented, the Biblical costumes being very graciously supplied by the Woman's Auxiliary. Our offering for the day was $113. Our thank-offering was observed the fourth Sunday in February, with Mrs. J. E. Pritchard as our speaker. Her subject was "Grateful Appreciation." We enjoyed her message and welcome her back again at any time. Our offering was $50.00.

The present indications are that Pleasant Grove will have a most successful year in its various activities. Pray for us.

FRED R. LOVE, Pastor.

Roberta Charge, Rev. H. W. Bell, Pastor— The pastor preached a very inspiring sermon to the young people and observed Young People's day.

The church caught fire Sunday morning. By the skill of a young man, Dewitt Starnes, climbing a tree and crossing the top of the church and tore off burning shingles. As cold as it was the boy pulled off his shoes and crossed the roof. Little damage was done.

Mrs. Bell is home from the hospital and able to be up and around.

Prayer every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday night. Welcome to all.

Charlotte M. P. Church—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Charlotte M. P. Church, west Asheboro, met Friday night, March 10th, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Grant. During the evening songs were sung, scripture read and the business matters were brought to light by the auxiliary president, Mrs. Janet Gordon. New officers were also selected.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Grant. Following the meeting members of the church gave Rev. Mr. Grant and wife a surprise pounding. Many appropriate and useful gifts were received.

We have completed the Sunday school rooms of our church. They are now waiting to be filled. If you have no place to worship we invite you to be with us. You are always welcome.

EDITH HARPER.

Hollister Auxiliary.—The regular monthly meeting of the Hollister Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. R. L. Parker on Tuesday afternoon, March 14. In the absence of the president, the vice-president presided over the meeting. The devotional service was led by Mrs. C. R. Knight. The treasurer, Mrs. E. T. Ellington, gave a very interesting and encouraging report which revealed the fact that we had enough money in treasury to finish paying our budget and still have some in treasury. It was decided to increase our budget for next year. Besides paying our budget in full, we have clothed a child in the Children's Home and helped with the local expenses of the church. We have secured three new subscriptions to the Missionary Record this year. We are busy now getting names for our quilt. The following people were elected for officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Mae Alston; vice-president, Mrs. W. E. Knight; treasurer, Mrs. E. T. Ellington; recording secretary, Mrs. J. J. Williams; corresponding secretary, Miss Kathleen Shearin.

We held our spring thank-offering service on Sunday evening, March 12. We were delighted to have Mrs. J. H. Cutchin of Whitakers, N. C., to come and make a "talk" for us which was enjoyed by all. We were sorry more of our members were not present. They surely missed a good message. We hope we can have Mrs. Cutchin to come and speak to us again soon.

We are looking forward to the District Meeting which is to be held at Union Church on Halifax charge some time soon. I do not know the exact date of this meeting. Hope we can have a large representation from our auxiliary at this meeting.

KATHLEEN SHEARIN, Cor. Sec.

Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge, Joel B. Trogdon, Pastor.—We have not been idle, if we have not reported recently. Our pastor has filled his regular appointments, always with inspiring messages.

Our Sunday school is doing just fine. We have 117 on roll, and all seem very much interested. We send a regular monthly offering to the Children's Home, and try to make it as large as possible.

On the first and third Sundays we have prayer meeting just after Sunday school. Yesterday Mrs. Edgar Pitts was in charge, and her subject was "The Power of Prayer," which was very helpful to all present.

The committee to raise the World Service Budget has set the month of March to tithe and most everyone is co-operating nicely. We are hoping to have it raised in full soon.

One of our members, Mrs. Evans, who has been sick, is now able to be back with us, we are glad to say.

May God bless our editors and all Herald readers.

MRS. CLAUD TEDDER.

China Grove, Atlas Ridge, Pastor. — Our work for 1939 has started off in a fine way. The Sunday school and also church attendance are growing. We thank God for the interest that the people are taking by just coming out to our services.

We have had several new members to join lately. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Perice came to us from Stony Point M. E. church, Mr. and Mrs. John Pressley from South China Grove Baptist church, Mrs. Clyde Wright from Fallston M. P. church.

Our Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Titus Wright, of Landis. Delicious refreshments were served after the meeting. Our prayer meeting for the coming week will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Caldwell. We hope to have a large attendance. Pray for us that we may grow stronger in the Lord.

First M. P. Church, Thomasville, J. T. Bowman, Pastor.—On March 12 the C. E. society had a very interesting program put on by the young people of different churches. We had special message in songs by Miss Kathleen Hill and her trio from Fairgrove church. Louise Royals and Rev. J. T. Bowman, from our own church, made very interesting talks on America's frontier.

The Boy Scouts spent a week-end in a camp close to Denton. These camping trips prove to be very profitable to all that attend.

The Minnis circle had its last meeting of the year Tuesday the 14th. At this time the new officers were installed. Miss Nell Jarrett will be our new president for the coming year. Also many gifts were brought by the young people for the Children's Home. After the business meeting, the social hour was turned into the form of a Saint Patrick's party, which proved to be a great success.

Circle No. 2 met at the home of Mrs. B. Freedle Thursday evening. Mrs. T. Everhart, Mrs. Peacock and Mrs. G. Lyndon were hostesses. At refreshment a real chicken dinner was served.

Circle No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. A. H. Ragan. They had a very good meeting, and delicious refreshments were enjoyed.

All the circles including the children and adults went over the top in their financial budget for this year.

Circles Nos. 1 and 2 have voted for the twins of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bowman to become life members of the Woman's work of North Carolina.

Last Sunday Rev. J. T. Bowman made a special talk entitled "I Am the Light." We always enjoy the spiritual uplift that he brings in his discussions.

Rev. J. T. Bowman is now attending a Centennial celebration which is being held at Duke university.

AUDREY SULLIVAN, Reporter.

Shiloh, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor. —It has been quite a while since there has been a report from Shiloh, but we are still carrying on, we hope in a way pleasing to God.

Our attendance has not been quite so good as usual due to some flu and other sickness among the members. But warm weather is just around the corner and we are sure that some of the diseases will die down and thus the attendance will rise.

Sunday, March 19, Holy communion was observed, which was a very inspiring service.

Sunday night the auxiliary gave the thank offering pageant, "A Parable of the Kingdom," and a very good offering was realized.

The pastor announced to open the doors of the church the first Sunday in April, this being the last Sunday before Easter.

Community Church, Thomasville — The thank offering service was held last Sunday morning at the regular worship hour with Miss Sybil Bost and Tom L. Einstein in charge. A play was given, called "the Parable of the Kingdom," by members of the church. The message of the play was well received, and an offering of about $50 was received. Miss Bost and Mrs. Einstein, with other members of the church, worked hard and deserve much credit for the success of the play.

Community church is enjoying a new organ which the church has recently purchased. It is adding greatly to our worship services. If they have an opportunity we invite our friends to hear it. While the church has put several hundred dollars into an organ, I think, if I read the spirit of our people correctly, they intend to raise the full amount of their "Appreciation Year" apportionment by April 30th. In fact they are way over the half-way mark already.

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Daniel Henry Isley.

A member of Mt. Pleasant Sunday school where he was a boy died at his home in Richmond, Va., March 5, 1939. His funeral was in charge of the Masonic order and Woodmen of the World. He was a member of Highland Park Methodist church. He was a Christian man, his was a Christian home, and he was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

When his mother, Mrs. John Isley, died, he with brother and sister found work in Richmond, bought a place and made a home.

About 1924 he married Miss Minnie Coble, daughter of Augustus L. Coble, deceased. She was an Alamance county school teacher. Besides his wife he leaves a son, Daniel, Jr., and two daughters, Myrtle Lea and Malinda.

MRS. E. D. MILLOWAY.

◆

William N. Pegram

William N. Pegram was born near Bethel Methodist Protestant church in the northwestern part of Guilford County on Christmas day 1857 and departed this life at High Point, N. C., on February 22, 1939, his age being 81 years, 1 month and 27 days. In early life Brother Pegram took up residence in Winston-Salem where he lived for some years. While living there, February 23, 1882 he was united in marriage with Miss Dorothy Masten who measured up in every respect to the duties and responsibilities of a heal helpmeet. Some years after their marriage they removed to the farm where Brother Pegram had been brought up and continued to live there for several years and later returned to Winston-Salem where they continued to live until Mrs. Pegram's death in 1934. After this Brother Pegram moved to High Point where he spent the remainder of his life with his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Vance.

Brother Pegram first united with Bethel Church, later transferring to the First church, Winston-Salem and still later to the First church, High Point. He represented the First church in Winston-Salem in the Annual Conference a number of times. As a Christian he was devoted to his Lord and as a church member he was loyal as one could find anywhere. Whether as a Sunday school teacher, a steward, a class leader or in any other office given to him he gave his best to it, continuing on as the teacher of the older men and women until he had past his seventy-fifth year. He was an industrious man and made good use of his time. Even down to old age he was devoted to his garden both vegetable and flowers. He loved his home and his family and had the great joy on February 23, 1932 of celebrating with his wife their golden wedding. He was appreciative of the fine and the beautiful and had many friends. During the last two or three years of his life his vision failed considerably and he became resigned to remaining at home. But even then he found something to do to help pass away the time. His going away was as near perfect as was his life. On his last afternoon he went out for a walk, returned and had supper with the family and then retired never to arise again on earth for the next morning his loved ones found his body in perfect position but the spirit had quietly slipped away to be with his Lord. In his going there was no long drawn out sickness, not even a struggle but the gates of the unseen world simply opened and he entered into that city which hath foundations whose builder and maker is God.

The funeral was conducted from the home of Mrs. Vance on Montlieu Avenue on February 23 by his pastor, Rev. J. C. Madison and the writer and burial was beside his wife in the Waughtown cemetery in Winston-Salem. He is survived in addition to his daughter, Mrs. Vance by one sister, Mrs. N. W. Gordon of near Stokesdale and by several nieces and nephews. The world is better because he lived in it and heaven is richer because he is there.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

◆

A salesman was eloquent about the merits of a vacuum cleaner, but the Yorkshire woman told him to talk less and show her what the thing could do.

He took off his coat, fitted up the cleaner, thrust his arm up the chimney and brought down several handfuls of soot which he scattered over the drawing-room carpet. He then shoveled some ash from the grate and sprinkled the carpet with it, adding a shovelful of soil from the garden. Then he smiled and rubbed his hands.

"Now I'll show you what this vacuum cleaner can do. Where's the electric switch?"

"Switch?" echoed the woman. "Switch? We've nothing but gas."

15,000 ACRES of the
South's Finest Land Producing
WOOD'S SEEDS
The Oldest and Largest Seed Firm in the South
Write for free copy of
WOOD'S 60th ANNUAL SEED CATALOG
T. W. WOOD & SONS
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Do This If You're NERVOUS

Don't take chances on products you know nothing about or rely on temporary relief when there's need of a good general tonic like time-proven Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women from wholesome herbs and roots.

Let Pinkham's Compound help build up more physical resistance and thus aid in calming jangly nerves, lessen distress from female functional disorders and make life worth living.

For free trial bottle tear this out and send with name and address to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., 984 Cleveland St., Lynn, Mass.

Over 1,000,000 women have written in reporting glorious benefits—Pinkham's MUST BE GOOD!

Lydia E. Pinkham's
VEGETABLE COMPOUND

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Liberty Sunday School, Davidson	$ 1.60
Brown Summit S. S.	1.50
Brower's Shapel S. S., Richland	8.43
Center, Alamance	4.80
Chapel Hill S. S., Davidson	1.00
Giles Chapel S. S., Richland	5.11
Hickory Ridge, Forsyth	5.50
Macedonia, Seagrove-Love Joy	1.00
Beginners class, Harmony, Yarborough	2.00
Pleasant Hill S. S., Spring Church	2.15
Eden S. S., Halifax	5.00
Yarboroughs Chapel S. S.	1.29
Pleasant Union S. S., Mt. Pleasant	1.75
Bethany S. S., Randolph	6.60
Haw River S. S., Glen Raven	3.80
Shiloh S. S., Randolph	4.80
Baltimore S. S., W. Forsyth	5.00
First Church S. S. High Point, Jan-Feb.	30.00
Fountain Place S. S., Burlington	5.45
Corinth S. S., Littleton	3.00
Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Towery, Hopewell	1.00
Salem Union S.S., Cherry Tree, Pa,. C.O.	1.00
Mill Grove S. S., Midland	3.06
Liberty Hill S.S., Anderson	6.00
Chase City S. S.	2.00
Fair Grove S. S., Haw River	1.66
Salem S. S., Saxapahaw	5.36
First Church S. S., Charlotte	4.73
Flag Springs S. S., Why Not	2.50
Pleasant Grove S. S.	15.00
Community Church, Thomasville	10.52
Whitakers S. S.	5.00
Siler City S. S.	7.15
Bethesda S. S., N. Davidson	3.35
Ladies' Bible Class, R. I. Ave., Washington, D. C., Clothing Child	5.00
New Hope, Why Not	3.31
Henderson S. S.	10.00
Pleasant Hill S. S., W. Forsyth, for the quarter	6.00
Tabernacle S. S., Tabernacle	5.20
Calvary S. S., Greensboro	15.00
Rock Creek S. S., Alamance	1.50

This makes a little better showing than last week, and quite a few in this list increased their offerings for March. We thank you, and are asking for a boost in the regular offerings for April.

We are exceedingly anxious to have a balanced budget by May first. With your help we can.

There are quite a number of Sunday schools in the Conference from which we have not heard since Christmas. We know you have not quit the Children's Home; but please get into our list again soon. Thank you.

Clothing and Other Gifts.

Willing Worker's class and C. E. society, Union Ridge, Forsyth, one quilt.

Circle N. 1, Shiloh on Shiloh, 10 cans fruit jelly, 6 cakes, a bag of donuts, a box of cookies, 2 boxes of wafers and a package of oranges and apples for school lunches.

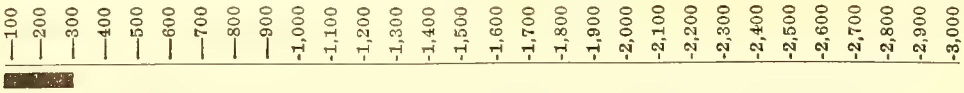
We thank you for these gifts, and may God bless all the givers.

The week goes on day by day, school is rapidly drawing to a close. We have five to graduate if they are all successful, so we need your monthly aid and your daily prayers.

We thank you for your continued interest.

A. G. DIXON, Supt.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	11¾	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	5
Asheville	13	7
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	2½	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	24½	5.70
Concord	26	6	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	5¾	....
Forsyth	46	8
Gibsonville	24	2
Glen Raven	52	6½
Graham	30	12
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	6½
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	3¾	....
Halifax	42	6
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	15	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2½
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	7½
Lexington, First	48	6	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	1½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3	....
Littleton	46	4
Mebane	27	3½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove Church	10	....	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	12	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	10¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	½	....
North Davidson	36	5	....
Orange	77	10½	....
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	8¼	....
Reidsville	13	6	....
Richland	35	9	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5	....
Shiloh	65	6	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	....	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	7	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	9	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9½	....
Whitakers	8	6	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

FROM PASTORS AND PEOPLE

(Continued from Page Fourteen)

The pastor and people are in the midst of a pre-Easter campaign for re-dedication of life and the saving of souls. Pray for us that we may have much success in our effort.

We have had many sick people in our church family. Ot this writing, Mrs. John R. Perry, Jesse Finch, Frank Gardner, are in the hospital. Mrs. Perry is in the hospital for treatment, Mr. Finch is recovering from an operation of appendicitis, and Brother Gardner will undergo an operation tomorrow morning. Mrs. Robert Myers, Brother Alfred Finch with many others have been sick but will soon be able to be out again.

J. CLYDE AUMAN.

Glen Raven Charge, Joseph Coble, Pastor.—The Appreciation Year program or spring seems to be putting new life into some of the people on this charge. On the second Sunday afternoon when I returned from a preaching appointment at Fairview church, I was informed that the Sunday school of Glen Raven had that morning raised in full the money to purchase a piano for the junior department. On last Sunday morning we started our new primary and junior program in the church basement, under the direction of Miss Frances Pritchett. You would have been thrilled to hear the singing and the new piano.

In Haw River, a Methodist young people's organization has been started with the young people from our church and from the M. E. Church, South, there. Interest and attendance are growing rapidly. These young people are preparing the Easter program for the church.

The Fairview church is making progress in interest and attendance. The plan that has been adopted to raise the World Service budget at this church before the last of April is advancing rapidly. We regret that the wife of Mr. J. L. Stanley is back in the Alamance hospital for treatment.

Liberty, Rev. Aubert M. Smith, Pastor—The a capella choir, of High Point college, under the direction of Miss Janet Russell, presented a program of sacred music at the 11 o'clock hour the second Sunday morning with a large congregation in attendance. The music was inspiring and their presence a benediction. Such programs help to deepen the devotional life and encourage the young people to go forward and work.

The Woman's Auxiliary was hostess to the choir and served dinner in the school cafeteria to members of the choir and the directors.

Mrs. J. N. Isley was hostess to Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Auxiliary Thursday, March 2. Mrs. Colon Brady, circle leader, presided at the meeting.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Wade Hardin, with "Home Missions" as subject for study.

Mrs. R. L. Elkins read the scripture lesson and Mrs. J. N. Isley led in prayer. Mrs. Hardin presented Mrs. J. E. B. Houser as guest speaker. She made a very impressive talk. Mrs. George R. Brown was guest of the circle.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Jean, served a delicious salad course.

Mrs. R. W. Ward is a patient in St. Leo's hospital and is improving satisfactorily.

BERTINE SHEPARD.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 30, 1939 NUMBER 20

The Secret of Certitude

By Rev. Jas. I. Vance, D.D.

Certitude is possible. You may have it if you want it. You can know what you worship. There are three steps.

The first is to know your Bible. Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished for every good work. Christianity is definitely revealed to us in the Bible. The word of God is the only rule given to direct us how we may glorify and enjoy God. The Bible teaches us what we are to believe concerning God, and what duty God requires of man. How, then, can we expect to know what we worship when we know nothing or next to nothing of what God would teach us in the Bible.

When one wants to know in religion, he must study the books that reveal it. The most amazing feature of the religious life of today is the ignorance of the Bible on the part of professing Christians. No wonder so many fall away, or are led about like silly sheep. If you want certainty in religion, get acquaned with the Bible. Ponder its pages, learn its profound truths.

The second thing is to do God's will—not to talk about it, not to indulge in discussions, but to do it. There are many orators. There is plenty to discuss. But certitude does not come that way. "If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak from myself." Religious knowledge is more than academic. "With the heart man believeth unto righteousness." This is Christ's challenge to doubt. "Do My will." As those cleansed lepers went, as they obeyed, they were healed.

We learn by doing. Truth proves itself. It does not need to be defended. It merely needs to be lived. Faith precedes knowledge, but faith without works is dead. The reason you lack certainty is because you are not doing the will of God.

Accept Christ, confess Him as your Saviour, follow Him, put Him first in your life, in your affections, in your offerings, and directly you will be saying with one who reached certainty that way, "I know whom I have believed."

The third secret is through an experience that comes from a life of fellowship and communion with Christ. He declared; "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." God becomes real to us as we live with Christ. This is the way the Apostle reached certitude. . . . In the same way certitude comes to you. Experimental knowledge is the highest kind of knowledge. That which we know by experience we know. Thus those who have experienced God are sure of His existence. They are surer of Him than they are of themselves.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Time Is Short

The time is short now for raising delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference and the World Service assessment. We are asking that the former by in by April 10th and the latter by April 24th. I know that it is a disadvantage to our people to have to raise World Service so early in the year. Usually we have until the Annual Conference to raise this fund but this year the situation is different. Dr. Straughan is of the opinion that a new set-up will be entered into after April 30th so that what we do for the Methodist Protestant Church will have to be done by that time. Of course the same does not hold good for the Annual Conference work as that will go on until the end of the Annual Conference years. So let every pastor and every church be busy in the next few weeks that we may all do our best.

A Sunday On the Vance Charge

Last Sunday was spent on the Vance charge, Rev. J. D. Cranford, pastor, on three appointments, Gillburg at 11 a. m., Harris Chapel at 3 p. m., and Spring Valley at 7:30 p. m. Considering the day as a whole it was one of the most satisfactory of any spent in this work. At Gillsburg there was a fine congregation—the house almost filled. This church seems to have had a remarkable comeback in recent years. The building is in good repair and work has recently been done on the church grounds. This church is some four or five miles from Henderson on the Louisburg highway. It is located in a thickly settled and growing community. I see no reason why this church should not continue to advance along all lines.

The congregation at the Harris Chapel church was good, not only for an afternoon appointment but for any hour of the day. This church is about six miles west or northwest of Henderson and is near the heart of the small town of Dabney. In the cemetery here rests the remains of Dr. S. Simpson who was president of Yadkin College from 1873 to 1883—a time when several of our leading ministers and laymen attended school there. Dr. Simpson went from there to teach in Western Maryland College and later was Superintendent of Schools of Carroll County, Maryland.

The service at Spring Valley was in the nature of an Appreciation Year rally and the people from all the churches on the charge had been invited. While the attendance from the other churches was not large there were some present. Spring Valley is one of the most energetic churches we have. The building has been greatly improved both within and without. Several Sunday school rooms have been built in recent years so that now the people have room to do things.

Brother Cranford is serving his fifth year on this charge and he and his good wife seem very popular with the people. They are comfortably housed in the parsonage at 727 N. Garnett street in Henderson and seem very happy in the work. There are two other churches on the charge, Flat Rock and New Hope which I have not been able to visit either last year or this, though I did hold the first quarterly conference last year at Spring Valley and came in contact with some of the fine people from these churches.

Rev. G. F. Millaway Passes

As was announced in the HERALD last week Rev. G. F. Millaway, one of the best known and best loved superannuate ministers in our conference passed away at his residence near Greensboro on Wednesday, March 22 after a long and severe illness. The funeral services were held at Mt. Pleasant church in southeastern Guilford Friday afternoon, March 24. The house would not hold all the people who came. From the time he was admitted into the conference in 1890 to the time he retired in 1931 he labored most acceptably. While we would not have him back in his sufferings yet some one made the remark that there were more tears shed at his funeral than they had seen in a long time. Everybody loved him and all of us will miss him. His wife and five sons have the sympathy of a large number of people.

More Pastors' Reports

Pleasant Grove, Rev. Fred R. Love, Pastor.—Seven members received, attendance at church and Sunday school good, Young People's Day observed with offering of $113.00. Thank Offering service brought in $50.00. Parsonage being repaired and repainted at cost of $60.00, pastor paid to date, World Service raised in full, Auxiliary, Ladies' Aid and Brotherhood all working splendidly.

Greensville Charge, Rev. J. M. Morgan, Pastor.—Raised part of budgets; a new parsonage is being built at Matthews Chapel church. Both parsonage and church will have electric current.

Spencer-China Grove Charge, Rev. A. Ridge, Pastor.—Both churches doing fine work. Spencer church debt is paid off and church will be dedicated in near future.

Grace Church, Greensboro, Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, Pastor.—Twenty-three new members received—expecting many more at Easter, repairing and repainting parsonage on Hendrix street, fine Christmas musical program with house well filled, Sunday school attendance ten per cent above year ago and nearly forty per cent over two years ago. Considerable increase in church attendance since January 1; finances in fair condition—about same as year ago.

Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—Plans underway to pay W. S. in full by last of April, tithing campaign to be put on for March and April, Campaign on to put running water in parsonage with two-thirds of money pledged, hoping to start work right away. Building program for Pleasant Union church and vote is to be taken soon.

Randolph Charge, Rev. H. L. Isley, Pastor. — Pastor's salary about paid to date, Bethel, Bethany and Shiloh have paid their part of A. C. expenses; nice sum paid on W. S., part of delegates' expenses raised, four communion services held, Young People's Day observed, interest and attendance good.

Community Church, Thomasville, Rev. J. Clyde Auman, Pastor.—All budgets accepted in full, offering for Young People's Day was $52.00, received one member, good ingath-

(Continued on Page Eight)

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 30, 1939 NUMBER 20

A Message In Verse

A PATRIOT

He who, amid dissent of many minds
Can still possess his soul in quietness,
And reach his final thought despite all stress;
Who lifts his eyes from broken hopes and finds
His visions waiting still; whose patience binds
His deeds into the ends he deems will bless;
Who keeps his faith in God, and none the less
His faith in men; whose rights are all mankind's;
Whose courage meets the dangers of great power
And wields it as a means entrusted him;
Who, rising, fronts the duty of the hour
Backed by its threatened consequences dim;
Lo, who can do these simple, hard, high things,
For him the cry of "Patriot! Patriot!" rings.

—Mary Stebbins Savage.

Miss Lelia Byerley reports that Friendship Church, Shiloh Charge, has paid World Service allotment in full, paid delegates expenses to Uniting Conference, three other items in the annual conference budget. Fine, she also promises more Herald subscriptions soon.

West End Church enjoyed visits from three former pastors at the evening services during March: Dr. P. E. Lindley, Dr. J. D. Williams, and Rev. E. Lester Ballard. We think it a fine thing for the former pastors to have the privilege of renewing old friendships by a visit to the church. All brought good messages and were given attentive hearing.

If any of our readers have any of the copies of the Herald called for by Brother E. A. Cooke in this week's Herald, please write him. He is also in need of some copies in 1925 and 1926. It will be quite an accommodation to him as he is preparing to have them bound.

Drs. Bates and Brown were in Baltimore last week attending a meeting of the Executive Committee. Dr. Bates has also been appointed to represent the Methodist Protestant Church at the Duke Centennial next month.

Pastor F. R. Love reports that Pleasant Grove Church has sent in its apportionment for delegates expenses to the Uniting Conference.

The Chinese Situation

There is no doubt about the condition of millions of the Chinese being deplorably. It is estimated that already a million have been slain and that hundreds of thousands of families have been deprived of their homes and of the opportunity to make a living. There has not been before the American people in many a year, if ever, a condition that ought to make a stronger appeal for help. We know that the people of this country have given liberally to these suffering men, women and helpless children. For say what we may as an excuse, this country is largely responsible for the Japanese successful invasion of China. Did we not ship to Japan hundreds of tons of scrap iron, airplanes, and chemicals for poison gas and then buy their goods to keep their mills running, there would be no Japanese soldiers in China today. The American people has the situation in its hands. Were our government to declare an economic boycott of Japanese goods and prohibit the shipment of war materials into Japan the war would soon come to a close and the Chinese would have an opportunity to restore the devastated urban and rural communities.

The Uniting Conference

Fourteen delegates of the North Carolina Conference will attend this conference which begins the 26th of April, just about four weeks off. These delegates were chosen by the last annual conference to go to Kansas City, a distance of more than a thousand miles, to remain three or four weeks, at a minimum cost per delegate of $125.00 for the minister, if he travels by train and $150.00 lay delegates who do not have clergy permits, making a total of $1,825.00.

The apportionment laid upon each pastoral charge is two per cent of the salary of the pastor received last year, and if every cent of this is paid it will just about cover this cost; what is not raised will have to be paid by the delegates themselves. Is it the will of the people of this annual conference burden of this task? There has not been in the history of our church a more important meeting since the one in Baltimore which established the Methodist Protestant Church. You should want your representatives to remain through the entire conference, to do all in their power to set up a Methodist Church of which the future generations shall be proud, but if they shall do this without bearing a part of the burden of the cost of their stay there, every pastoral charge must pay its allotment, and do it now.

The Herald

We receive many letters about the Herald; letters of appreciation from our subscribers. We would like to print them but for very good reasons do not. Each year we get the renewal of a faithful subscriber in eastern Carolina telling us how dear the Herald is to her. We know that it is a financial strain upon her income to send on the subscription, and just last week we received a similiar letter from a subscriber in the north central part of our state, a widow who has been receiving the Herald almost since its beginning; she too has a hard time raising the price of the subscription, but she declares that she cannot do without the ''Dear Herald.'' We received a letter and renewal recently from the southern part of the state, the writer saying he dreaded to think of what would happen to the Herald when union comes. It would take much space to quote the expressions of appreciation of many of our subscribers. And we greatly appreciate them although we realize that we have had but little part in keeping the Herald going; its founder, Dr. McCulloch gave most unselfishly of his means, time and strength to it for nearly forty years, while this is just the third year we have directed its course.

We heard recently that a report is being circulated in certain communities that the Herald is about to suspend, therefore—let all who are about to renew beware. We do not know who is responsible for such a report. It may be an assumption of some fearful soul after reading an appeal of the editor. We have stated that the paper is being published at a loss, but the annual conference voted to carry it on this year, and we shall do that and leave the rest to the conference.

But it does seem strange that people who waste in a day, often, more than enough money to pay a year's subscription to the Herald are afraid they might lose a few cents when the paper is suspended, if it should be next November. And we are painfully surprised at some of our pastors and Herald agents for ignoring this means of publicizing the activities of their church while straining at the task of keeping the program for the year moving.

LENTEN TOPICS

Christ and the Way

Of the Way.—Acts 9:2.

By F. W. Stephenson, D.D.

The disciples failed Jesus but God did not. The agony of Golgotha began in the garden of Gethsemane, and it was made more acute by the failure of friends upon whom He was depending. Like distressing experiences are hard enough to bear when trusted friends share sympathetically in the suffering, but they are infinitely worse when we have to bear them alone. Jesus never needed comfort and support more than He needed it in Gethsemane. But the strength necessary for the way came from the Father, the one who never overlooks, forgets or fails His earthly children. The experience in the Garden made the anguish of Golgotha more endurable. It was indeed a real victory, a victory over fear, the natural and understandable recoil from extreme physical and spiritual suffering. It came by the path of surrender, yielding His will to the Father's.

The Tragedy of the Way

"Why has Thou forsaken me?"—Matt. 27:46.

Scripture: Matt. 27:39-50.

Could any cry of anguish be more sincere, poignant, or heart-breaking? In that instant Jesus reached the nadir of bitter grief and soul shattering suffering. Nearly all His friends and disciples had forsaken Him. Enemies heaped scorn, indignities and punishment upon Him. The tender flesh was bruised, torn and pierced. Added to the physical suffering was that of His inmost soul, with its sense of loneliness, loss, defeat and disappointment. It is little wonder that He began to feel that even God had failed Him.

Indifference can be endured, neglect can be forgiven, weakness can be excused, ignorance understood, but to be deserted when help and support are needed, that is something else. If the disciples had stood by Him, if they had only remained near, if they had only shown some courage, sympathy and understanding, it would have been less difficult to bear and not so disappointing and tragic. They failed Him when He needed them the most.

Disloyalty is one of the gravest weaknesses in the church today. We take our sacred vows and Christian responsibilities too lightly. Regular attendance upon divine worship, constancy in prayer, generosity in our support of the church, reverence for the Bible, faithful efforts to win others to Christ, consistent Christian living, these and other duties and privileges are not observed with the zeal and devotion which should characterize true and sincere followers of Christ. Can our Lord contemplate such indifference and disloyalty without disappointment and grief?

Kingdom progress waits upon the loyalty of Christian people. If we fail the Kingdom fails. The spiritual power of the church is no greater than the spiritual power of her members. If the church is unable to measure up to the needs of the times, it is because the men and women who bear the name Christian are lacking in the essential spiritual quality of loyalty. The strength of our loyalty depends upon the strength of our love. When we recover our love for Christ there will be no lack of loyalty and the church will recover her power.

I've found a friend; O such a friend!
He bled, he died to save me;
And not alone the gift of love,
But his own self he gave me.
Naught that I have mine own I'll call,
I'll hold it for the giver;
My heart, my strength, my life, my all,
Are his, and his forever.

Prayer: Dear Father. Give us faithful hearts. In the trying experiences of life may we find our support in Thee and Thy word. Help us to be loyal to Thy Church, and ever mindful of the needs of those about us. With tenderness and sympathy may we gladly share the love we feel and Thou hast taught. Forgive our shortcomings and strengthen our devotion. We ask it, for Christ's sake. Amen.

SEVENTH DISTRICT MEETING

There will be a district meeting of the Seventh District of Woman's Work at Mt. Hermon Church at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, April 2. Will each president please see that her Auxiliary is represented and have a report.

Mrs. T. Worth Trogden will review "Moving Millions."

Mrs. Carl Curtis, District Chairman.

NOTICE!

The ladies of Shiloh Church, Randolph Charge, are planning to give a supper Saturday night, April 1st at Julian, in the old store building beside the barber shop. Come out and get your supper and bring a friend with you. The proceeds of this supper will be used toward raising the World Service debt of our church.

Mrs. Eugene Brown, Reporter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

SAUL BECOMES A NEW MAN

International Sunday School Lesson for April 2, 1939

Lesson Text—Act. 9:1-12, 17-19.

Golden Text—If any man is in Christ, he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new.—2 Corinthians 5:17.

We turn from our study of Simon Peter as an apostle to the life of another apostle who is named Saul and he is of Tarshish. Of course in this new series of lessons we shall continue to be tracing the progress and happenings of the early church, but it will be done mostly by way of reflections from the life of Saul after he becomes Paul on the road to Damascus. After all, the Kingdom of God has not come in any other real manner than through the life of men. Sometimes we make the mistake of judging our religious and spiritual progress by things such as budgets, buildings, programs, rituals. Jesus meant just what He said when He revealed to that woman at the well that the Kingdom of God comes not in Jerusalem's temple nor here nor there but that it would come within lives, even here. As we look back over the pages of Christian history we see that the church has many things in which she can take pride as being things of power and progress. The church came into her own as a state religion with the emperor Constantine and won thereby prestige and wealth, but all of us see that often in physical wealth and power the church has been the fartherest away from the power of the Kingdom of God.

Cornelius d Lapide beautifully relates how Thomas Aquinas came to Pope Innocent IV at Rome and was shown through all the sumptuously furnished rooms at the Papal Palace. He became almost as much fatigued and dazed as was the Queen of Sheba, when she had been dazzled with the riches of Solomon's kingdom. "See, Thomas," said the Pope, "see the church can no more say as it did in the first days, 'Silver and gold have I none,'" "True, holy father," replied Thomas Aquinas, "but the church of the present day can hardly say to a lame man what the church of the first day said, 'Arise and walk.'" So it is with the lives of such men as Peter and Paul that through them we come to know the true workings of the gospel. In the heart of Paul Christ found perhaps the greatest cathedral for His faith and religion. When Jesus found that the Jewish religionists had so founded temple worship that those lost sheep of the house of Israel were not found in the temple, He left them and walked the dusty roads from Dan to Beersheba that He might find human hearts in which to enshrine His religion. If Zacchaeus was in such a social predicament that he did not find it possible to go to the temple then Jesus took God with Him out of the temple and presented Him to Zacchaeus while perched absurdly in a tree

"As some rare perfume in a vase of clay
Pervades it with a fragrance not its own,
So when Christ dwelleth in a mortal soul,
All Heaven's own sweetness seems around it thrown."
—Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

The greatest fact in connection with the vital life of Paul is the fact of his conversion—that he became a new man. Christ had by those years of patient guidance led Simon the fisherman, to become Peter, the foundation stone of His Church, but now here is a new kind of problem. Christ had left this earthly task of developing apostles; now, who could He do with a man like Saul who was breathing out the very fire of hate against His cause. This was sort of a test case for Christianity. In the conversion of wild Saul into beloved Paul is found the crowning victory of Christianity. The kingdoms of this world admit that when a man opposes their law and fights against their name they are at a loss to save that life for the good of the kingdom and for his treason they have only the firing squad of justice. In the Kingdom of Christ, as now established, there is a power inherent within its realm which enables it not only to cope with this persecution and treason, but to also save the culprit's life for the good of the kingdom. "If a man is in Christ, he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold they are become new." In other words, Christ by this process can kill His enemies by making them into friends.

"The proudest heart that ever beat
Hath been subdued in me;
The wildest will that ever rose—
To scorn thy cause or aid thy foes—
Is quelled, my God, by Thee!"
—W. Howe.

Paul was like a great and powerful engine, on the wrong track, and going in the wrong direction. His conversion on the Damascus road simply placed him on the right track, and set him in motion in the right direction. To have received Paul into the church without this work of conversion would have been inviting trouble and death in the church, yet we of today are often doing just that when we minimize the necessity of true repentance and conversion and let down the true standards of Christian citizenship to receive them. Thereby the church is handicapped but worse than that is the fact that Saul does not become Paul in the process. For "The soul alone, like a neglected harp,

Grows out of tune and needs that hand divine.
Dwell thou within it; touch and tune the Cords,
Till every note and string shall answer—Thine."
— Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

Too many Christians are seeking an easy life. They want the gospel train to be streamlined and air-conditioned, and furnished with chairs.—Leland Wang, China.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

LINES WRITTEN IN EARLY SPRING

By William Wordsworth

These early spring days send us back again and again to the nature poets for the articulate expression of the deep feeling for beauty that seeks expression in our own words and does not find it. The little English daisy, "wee, modest, crimson-tipped flow'r," is made more appealing because Robert Burns has shown it to us; we see through the eyes of Edna St. Vincent Millay the pear tree standing apart and taking the sun in a squalid and dirty dooryard,

> "Like the waste-man's little daughter
> In her first communion dress"; and no one can be out-of-doors now without echoing Wordsworth's universally known lines regarding the daffodils:

> "A host of golden daffodils;
> Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
> Fluttering and dancing in the breeze," until we find our heart filling with pleasure and dancing with the daffodils.

Or perhaps in a more solemn and serious mood we stand gazing at thousands of tiny, starry little bluets, nodding in the spring breeze, and our hearts turn with wonder to the Creator of such perfection in so small a flower—the same Creator who in a more expansive mood formed great towering mountains and vast moving seas. Our souls seek to know God in this expression and our minds turn to Tennyson's search for a reply to the same question:

> "Flower in the crannied wall,
> I pluck you out of the crannies,
> I hold you here, root and all, in my hand,
> Little flower—but if I could understand
> What you are, root and all, and all in all,
> I should know what God and man is."

To no poet did nature carry a more appealing and all-embracing message than to William Wordsworth. While I Wandered Lonely As a Cloud is one of his most familiar poems about spring and flowers, he has written many others. Unlike Byron, Wordsworth could not describe the awful majesty of a storm in the Alps, but no poet has put more of England's wealth of wild flower in immortal lines. At times he is too insistent that we see more than the flower itself, quarreling as he does with Peter Bell because

> "A primrose by a river's brim
> A yellow primrose was to him,
> And it was nothing more."

Sometimes we want to be let alone to enjoy the beauty of the flowers without looking beyond it to find a lesson that it teaches. But to Wordsworth nature was the great teacher: he would have us all learn her lessons. Nature does not stand in the place of God to him, but through her God is made manifest. Nature was also the great healer, and when his faith and belief that the French Revolution would elevate the under-privileged man to the position that he felt man should attain was shattered by the September massacres of 1793, he finally found peace and "heard again the still sad music of humanity" through the gentle ministrations of nature until at last he could say,

> " . . . And I have felt
> A presence that disturbs me with the joy
> Of elevated thoughts";

So through most of the best that he has written he gives us in great simplicity and directness of description glimpses of the beauty of nature. His genius removes what Coleridge calls "the film of familiarity" and shows us in simple things the sublime and wonderful that was hitherto hidden. Nature to him is a sentient, conscious spirit which finds joy in its own manifestations. However, to him poetry is the record and analysis of the human spirit and his great desire is to bring out of the chaos of life order and beauty and all that makes for beauty. To him this beauty can be most often found when man is in close touch and in harmony with nature, and it is only what man has made of man that disappoints and grieves.

In this quiet poetic revery composed as he said, while he was sitting beside a brook near the village of Alford, and which bears the simple title, Lines Written in Early Spring, most of Wordsworth's ideas about nature can be found.

> "I heard a thousand blended notes
> While in a grove I sat reclined,
> In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts
> Bring sad thoughts to the mind.
>
> To her fair works did Nature link
> The human soul that through me ran;
> And much it grieved my heart to think
> What Man has made of Man.
>
> Through primrose tufts, in that sweet bower,
> The periwinkle trailed its wreaths;
> And 'tis my faith that every flower
> Enjoys the air it breathes.
>
> The birds around me hopped and played,
> Their thoughts I cannot measure,—
> But the least motion which they made
> It seemed a thrill of pleasure.
>
> The budding twigs spread out their fan
> To catch the breezy air;
> And I must think, do all I can,
> That there was pleasure there.
>
> If this belief from heaven be sent,
> If such be Nature's holy plan,
> Have I not reason to lament
> What Man has made of Man?"

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Well, well, we have the name of another church to join the list of the immortals this week, namely, Concord church on the Saxapahaw charge. The pastor, Rev. M. C. Henderson reports that this church has gone over the top in the Appreciation Year Campaign. Concord, take your place along with the other churches which are being honored and stay right there as an example to all the rest of the charges and churches.

Now let others make up their minds to follow the leadership of these churches and raise the World Service right away. Remember to report this to the president of the conference just as soon as the church goes over the top. We hereby extend our congratulations to Concord church and the pastor. Who will be next? We want a long list for next week.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.

◆

NOTICE, FIRST DISTRICT!

Meeting of the First District Auxiliaries on Tuesday, April 4, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, the women of this district will hold their annual spring meeting at Union Church, Halifax Charge. The usual place for lunch will be followed. A full attendance from every church in the district is urged.

The program is as follows:

Hymn: 192 M. P. Hymnal.
Devotionals: Mrs. R. M. Robinson.
Welcome: Mrs. Curtis Lewis.
Response: Mrs. J. J. Williams.
Business.
Special music.
Address: Rev. L. J. Whitehead.
Hymn: 11 M. P. Hymnal.
Benediction: Rev. Forest Wagoner.
Lunch.
Devotionals: Rev. D. D. Broome.
Roll Call of Auxiliaries.
Reports:
Auxiliary Presidents.
Nominating Committee.
Hymn: 33 M. P. Hymnal.
Benediction: Rev. J. M. Morgan.

BLANCHE HARDEE, Chairman.
MRS. ELI BELLAMY, Secretary.

◆

Fruit is never borne by doing; fruit is always borne by dying.—Bishop William Culbertson.

THE UNPAYABLE DEBT

By REV. W. A. LEDFORD

In the fifth position of the Lord's Prayer, Matthew has "Debts," Luke "sins," and the Common English Prayer Book, follows Tyndale's translation with "trespasses." Trespass implies a wilful violation of a known law. The choice of the evil rather than of the good. Sin literally means to miss the mark, or way, and thus come short of one's aim and ideal. "We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God." Debts is a more comprehensive term, and implies moral obligation, and includes both sins of ommission and sins of commission. Jesus look on neither lightly.

Some have called the Lord's Prayer the Christian's Prayer. Only those who have been born again, and have had the love of God shed abroad in their hearts by the Holy Spirit can acceptable pray this prayer. The fact of forgiveness is Christian, and the very opposite of that of the world. How could an unregenerated man, full of selfishness, malice and revenge pray this prayer of forgiveness? He just doesn't do it. Jesus saw that it would be so hard for Christians, that He reminded them of the urgent necessity of keeping it before them every time they prayed.

Again, the Lord's Prayer, shows that Jesus did not expect sinless perfection of His followers in this life. That is the goal, and sincere desire of all God's children. They patiently wait, and anxiously strive to become as perfect, as their Father in heaven is perfect. But when they compare their attainments with their ideals, they find themselves, like the publican, away off, and not so much as lifting their eyes to heaven, but smiting their breasts, and saying, "God, be merciful to me a sinner." The Bible saints were frequently sobbing over their sins. David said, "My sin is ever before me." Isaiah said, "All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way." Paul called himself the chief of sinners. John said, "If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and the truth is not in us." The closer to God the more unclean we appear.

The Lord's Prayer, pictures the Christian before God, with a debt he can not pay; an obligation he is unable to meet, and a debt he can not satisfy. The only course left for him, is to throw himself upon the mercy, and pity of God. Matthew illustrates this in the eighteenth chapter. There was an unmerciful servant, who caught one under him: choking him and throwing him in prison, because he was unable to pay a small debt. In these Recession days, when thousands have had their stocks and bonds depreciate, till they were no more than scraps of paper. Other thousands with depleted bank accounts and incomes have seen their personal properties go from them, and left them no alternative than to throw themselves upon the Government. We just never come to the place where we can omit the prayer for mercy. At best we are only sinners, saved by the grace of God.

Let us not become too discouraged. The case of the Christian is not wholly hopeless, as he stands embarrassed with debts before God. The facts are, that God is more willing to forgive our debts: cancel our obligations than we are for Him to do it. There is just one requirement from us, and one condition to be met: but this condition is as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians. Unless we forgive we can not be forgiven. The petition is, "Forgive us our debts, as we have also forgiven our debtors." I don't understand our forgiveness to be a measure of God's, nor our forgiving, putting God under any obligation to forgive us: but just lays down the condition whereby hard pressed souls may obtain forgiveness. God is more concerned about our reconciliation with our brother, and our forgiving our fellowmen, than He is in our Burnt-Offerings and Sacrifices.

Theoretically, forgiveness looks natural and easy, on our part. But practically, we find it different. It is easy for a child to forgive, because he is not conscious of being grievously sinned against. But take an older peprson, who has been administered a stunning blow, which he will never recover from in this life. Take a case where some one wilfully and deliberately brings shame and disgrace into the home of one of our loved ones. Those who have brought the injury, and disgrace upon us, continue to move among us: carrying themselves with the pride of a pea-fowl, and assuming "a grand eloquent and turkey gobbler strut," while their victims pine away. If Jesus had not thought it had to forgive such, He would not have urged, obligated us to pray this prayer, every time we pray.

But let us again not give up in despair. Perhaps, the things that look so big today may look smaller in the coming days. May be, they were not intended, as we took them. May be, God looks at them altogether different from the way we look at them. Besides the things that the good God has to tolerate, and forgive in our inconsistent, and snobbish lives are infinitely more than we are called upon to forgive in our fellowmen. It cost the Almighty God His only begotten Son to forgive our sins. Surely, we should meet God's condition for forgiveness speedily, and with shouts of Hallelulahs.

Laytonsville, Md.

◆

A little girl was trying to fit together the States of the United States in a puzzle game. She was distracted, for it was difficult to fit in the irregular boundary lines. As she was about to give it up in despair she noted that on the other side was the face of George Washington. It occurred to her that she could fit that face together, for she revered the father of her country. After she had lovingly fitted his face together she turned it over and lo, all the states now fitted in. We have been distracted trying to fit doctrine with doctrine, and denomination with denomination. There is only one place where we can be unified—around the Christ Person. When we realize our oneness here, we then realize that we are not so far away in other things. For Christ brings a sense both of reconciliation and of relevancy.—E. Stanley Jones in "The Christ of Every Road."

◆

Don't talk about the tragedy of the cross; that was God-planned. Talk about the tragedy of sin that caused the cross. —Dr. H. W. Bieber.

◆

Controversy makes the heart cold and the head hot.—Dr. O. Vansteenberghe, Belgium.

The President's Letter

(Continued from Page Two)

ering at Easter expected, using dollar investment plan to raise money on W. S. Church has purchased new electric organ at cost of $975.00. Women making plans for good Thank Offering. Thanksgiving offering for Children's home $51.25.

Albemarle, Rev. C. G. Isley, Pastor.—Raised $1,000.00 on church debt, three new members received, church attendance largest during present pastorate, charge will pay more on W. S. than last year. Pastor is paid to date.

Mill Grove, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—Full amount of World Service has been pledged. Plans are in effect to pay remainder of church debt by May 15th—$1,100.00, mostly pledged.

Friendship-Love's Grove, Rev. Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—Plans underway to remodel the interior of Love's Grove church and to build a tower. Friendship church has raised about $200.00 parsonage improvement. Both churches in good spiritual condition.

Lebanon Church, Rev. O. L. Easter, Pastor.—Attendance very encouraging. Evening attendance on the increase with good many visitors, expect to raise in full W. S. by April 30th. pastor's salary about paid to date. Young People's Day observed with good results considering the weather.

Rankin Memorial, High Point, Rev. Edward Suits, Pastor.—All appointments have been met, several small financial obligations taken care of, financial condition of church the best it has been at any time, attendance at church services little better than at this time last year, church grounds have been improved by setting out shrubbery. Three members have been received, pastor made 110 visits. A. C. expenses being raised.

Rockingham, Rev. R. L. Vickery, Pastor.—Have raised all of A. C. expenses, have had three professions, several new members expected soon, attendance is good and we are trying to raise W. S., also our HERALD quota. Attendance is good at Bethesda and a good spirit prevails there. Melton's Grove seems to be encouraged although we only have nine or ten members that we can locate there. Our attendance there is usually from 35 to 40.

Mecklenburg, Rev. Robert Short, Pastor.—Things going at about the usual pace, the spiritual aspect is right encouraging, attendance fairly good. Financial condition rather bad here. Fifty per cent paid to date on salary, Stallings has raised A. C. expense assessment and two other churches will soon have it raised. Anniversary services are being planned at each church in the hope of helping Appreciation Year Fund. Electric lines are being built by three churches and lights will be put in churches. Pastor thinks items in budget will be raised on time including delegates' expenses to Uniting Conference.

Henderson, Rev. T. J. Whitehead, Pastor.—Salary paid to date, observed Young People's Day and February Thank-offering, observed the 57th anniversary of the church on December 11th; paid HERALD subsidy in full, Woman's Auxiliary closing good year and hopes to pay budget in full. Sunday school attendance is gradually increasing. Expect to carry out well planned pre-Easter program. An outstanding District Rally was held in our church the fifth Sunday in January and a Youth Rally for Vance County was held that night.

Forsyth Charge, Rev. R. A. Hunter, Pastor.—Attendance at Union Ridge and Mt. Carmel Sunday schools best in history of churches during first part of quarter. Measles and flu hurt attendance recently. Other phases of work about normal.

Chase City, Rev. D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Sunday school attendance good, church attendance excellent with an encouraging interest in the progress of the church. Church building has been remodeled and painted on the inside. Plans being rushed to paint outside also. Salary paid up to date, A. C. budget and delegates' expenses raised.

Littleton Charge, Rev. D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Sunday school at all churches except one; attendance very good for winter. Church attendance good and growing. Two Auxiliaries have been organized. Now have three on the charge. Vaughn church roof has been repaired at a cost of $31.00. Hawkins Chapel has six Sunday school rooms almost completed. Plans are being made to repair parsonage. Littleton church grounds being beautified. All churches have raised some on budget.

Mocksville, Rev. K. G. Holt, Pastor.—All budgets have been accepted in full. A. C. expenses raised at Elbaville. Pastor's salary paid to date at Elbaville. More people are attending Sunday school and church. More shrubbery has been planted at Elbaville. Young People's Day was observed at Bethel. Spiritual condition of churches a little above par. All four of the churches are sending offerings to the Children's Home monthly. Plans underway for improving building and grounds at Bethel.

Fountain Place, Burlington, Rev. R. E. L. Moser, Pastor. —All special days observed, attendance holding up well. Hope to raise as much as possible on W. S. in near future.

Democrat Charge, Rev. W. C. Clark, pastor.— Lord's Acre plan worked out and ready to be put in operation. Will resume work of rebuilding Mountain Valley church as soon as winter weather is over.

Midway Church, Rev. Paul Hamilton, pastor.—Young People's Day was observed with good offering. Expenses of delegates to Uniting Conference sent in. Five new members received.

Brown Summit, Paul Hamilton, pastor.—Church building has a new roof, two new Sunday school rooms have been built in the front of the auditorium of the church, interior of building has been painted, a new flue has been built and a double door now takes the place of the two doors which were in front of church.

Vance Charge, Rev. J. D. Cranford, Pastor.—Organized financial committees at each church and they are working splendidly. Money raised to repair roof on parsonage. Have raised money also to paint Spring Valley church.

Lincolnton, Bess Chapel, Rev. W. L. Harkey, Pastor.— Spiritual condition of church very good. Held one revival with good results. Four new members received. A new furnace has been put in the Lincolnton church at a cost of $350.00. Paying off $1,000.00 debt on Lincolnton church. Four Sunday school rooms completed at Bess Chapel church. Salary paid in full to date at Lincolnton but not at Bess Chapel and Fairfield.

Draper, Rev. J. L. Love, Pastor.—General condition of church the best during present pastorate. Seven new members received. Church has bought a bus in which to transport people to church—church building is on outer edge of city.

Union Grove, Rev. E. A. Bingham, Pastor.—Considerable improvements made on parsonage. A barn has been built, and most of improvements have been paid for. Salary not paid in full to date. Part of budget has been raised. Christmas services and Young People's Day held with offering taken for World Service.

Welch Memorial, Dr. J. D. Williams, Pastor.—Church has finished paying for hut and has purchased one hundred new Methodist Hymnals.

Liberty, Rev. Aubert Smith, Pastor.—Appreciation Year apportionment paid in full, delegates' expenses raised, subsidy paid in full, Junior church organized, pastor paid to date, regular offerings sent to Children's Home, Young People's Day offering $40.00.

West Forsyth, Rev. G. B. Ferree, Pastor.—Delegates' expenses to Uniting Conference raised, more W. S. will be raised this year than in previous years.

Appointments

Sunday, April 2, Saxapahaw Charge, Concord at 11 a. m. and Orange Chapel at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, April 9th, Halifax Charge, Bethesda at 11 a. m., Ringwood at 3 p. m. and Hollister at 7:30 p. m.

J. E. Pritchard.

METHODIST COOPERATION IN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN WEST VIRGINIA

At the last annual conferences of the three churches in West Virginia a plan was worked out whereby there could be promoted in West Virginia one program of Christian Education for all of the Methodists in that state. An office was set up with an executive secretary and a staff to carry out this program. A board was created, composed of representatives from all three of the Methodist churches uniting.

On March 24, a committee representing the three national boards met with the West Virginia Board at Charleston, West Virginia. This committee presented a paper setting forth an understanding with respect to how the cooperative work in West Virginia might be administered.

We found the work in West Virginia well underway and moving rapidly toward the merged program for the new church. At every point the national committee and the West Virginia committee were in hearty agreement. It is the opinion of the writer that the program in West Virginia is moving in the right direction, and from this experiment will come information and data which will be of assistance to other conferences when they begin in earnest to merge their work.

F. L. Gibbs, Chairman, Joint Committee.

OUR STORY PAGE

SCARS

"I don't see why we can't go," snapped Estherella crossly. "Why should we have to stay at home, when Madge lives only a few blocks away?"

"Because," said Millicent gently, "in the first place it's Sunday, Estherella, and we ought to stay at home and be quiet and read our books; and in the second place, because mother said so."

"Yes, that's just it," pouted Estherella. "Why did she say it? And what did she have to go away for, anyway, to stay all afternoon?"

"You know very well why," answered Millicent in her quiet voice. "Grandma's sick, and needs her. And you remember the last thing she said before she drove off—'I trust you girls.' "

"Well," said Estherella, with an ugly look on her face, "she trusted me too soon; I'm going."

Millicent said anxiously, "Oh, Estherella, don't!" But that young lady already had her raincoat and one rubber on; and soon the door slammed and she was hurrying down the street, holding her umbrella high above her head.

"Oh!" sighed Millicent, "I wish she wouldn't; but what can I do?"

Mother came home earlier than she had expected to, for grandma was better; and the first thing she said was, "Where is Estherella?"

"She went to see Madge, mother," said Millicent. "I tried to stop her; but you know how she is, when she makes up her mind to do anything."

"To see Madge!" cried mother, with a frightened look in her eyes.

"Yes, I know, it's too bad," nodded Millicent. "Why when Madge first moved in, you told us to stay away from her, you know, 'cause she says such bad words, and—"

"My dear," said mother excitedly, turning to father, "we must do something at once! Madge's little brother has smallpox!"

They called the doctor quickly and asked him what to do. And then poor Estherella's troubles began. That very evening, they moved her into a little room far away from everyone else in the house, and left her there all alone. The next day mother brought her breakfast, and dinner, and supper. Poor Millicent felt so lonely and so sorry for her sister; and mother looked very sober, and said she hoped Estherella's punishment wouldn't be worse than this before she was through with it.

But it was—oh, ever so much worse! For the time came when Estherella lay tossing on her bed, burning up with fever, so sick that she did not even know the gentle nurse and the kind old doctor, who were the only ones allowed near her. Night after night she tossed from side to side of her little white bed, and said queer wild things; and the nurse cried softly, and the doctor shook his head; and Millicent, alone in her little room, sobbed herself to sleep. "Dear God," she would whisper into the darkness, "don't punish her any more. Oh, please don't let her die!"

Mother was very pale and quiet these days. She often took Millicent in her arms and held her for a long time without saying a word. Millicent would stroke her cheek and say, "Poor mother!" because she did not know what else to say.

But even the most dreadful things must end; and after a long time—years, it seemed to Millicent—Estherella was moved back into their own little room. How happy she was to have her sister back again! But the sick child lay very quiet with her eyes closed, most of the time.

One day Millicent, watching the thin little white face, saw two tears roll down on to the pillow.

"Don't cry, dear!" she said softly, stroking the shining hair.

Just then Aunt Esther and Aunt Ella—the two for whom the little girl was named—came in. They brought flowers and fruit and a new book, and tried to act very bright and happy.

"Why the tears?" cried Auntie Esther gaily—she was hardly more than a girl herself. "We must be happy today, little girl, because you'll soon be well again!"

"I'm so sorry I did it," sobbed Estherella, "but I've asked God to forgive me a thousand times. I think He did, but—but"

"But what?" asked Aunt Ella, gently.

"I asked mother for the mirror this morning," sobbed the little girl, "and oh, the dreadful s-s-scars! And they'll last forever 'n' ever."

"Hush, dear!" said Aunt Ella, "we won't think of that —we're so glad to have our little girl back again."

Then Aunt Ella suddenly bent over and kissed her, her own eyes filled with tears. "Poor little lamb!" she said softly. "It's a hard lesson to learn, but the earlier learned, the better. We may ask mother and God to forgive us—and they will, if we are truly sorry, but that doesn't take away the scars!"—Burning Bush.

◆

WETS KILL TENNESSEE DRY LAW REPUDIATE REFERENDUM PLEDGE

Chicago, Special.—Organized wet interests in Tennessee, wielding powerful political pressure, amply supplied with liquor money, yesterday, (Thursday, March 2) defied overwhelming but unorganized state-wide dry sentiment, ignored their solemn pre-election promise to the people of a referendum, and over-riding the Governor's veto, jammed through both houses of the legislature a bill repealing the state prohibition law, escaping defeat in the Senate by the slender margin of a single vote, 17 to 16.

◆

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear
Ceaseless burdens of homely care,
With patient grace and daily prayer.
—Allerton.

◆

Jesus did His most effective work not with multitudes, but with individuals.—Erling C. Olsen.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

TIME EXTENDED

Thank-Offering — Minnis Fund

The Branch Finance Committee has decided that inasmuch as there has been so much sickness, preventing the holding of thank-offering services, we will include Sunday, April 2, in our year 1938-1939, and the treasurer will credit any thank-offering or Minnis Fund money that is mailed to her on Monday, April 3, on completing these budgets. The committee considered these matters seriously and decided that since our thank-offering goal lacks only $206.17 and Minnis salary only $387.93 of being paid in full, we would include Sunday, April 2, in the hope of reaching our Branch apportionment of $6,000 for World Service in full. We lack only $530.45 of being paid in full on World Service.

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, President,
MRS. COY L. KEARNS, Treasurer,
MRS. S. W. TAYLOR,
MRS. C. W. BATES.

◆

LAST CALL FOR THANK-OFFERING EFFORTS TO COMPLETE BUDGET

Information has come that numerous auxiliaries and churches have been prevented from observing thank-offering services on account of epidemics of flu, and that if permissible next Sunday could be used for thank-offering giving. When no services have been planned, will not all gatherings and individuals join in reaching the goal, thereby assisting the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work, and by assisting the local church in World Service and Appreciation Year.

Thanking each of you, individually and as organizations, for cooperation, I am,

Very truly,
MRS. WM. C. HAMMER,
Secretary Thank-Offering, N.C. Branch.

◆

AS TO CREDITS ON WORLD SERVICE AND MINNIS SALARY

Each auxiliary was given four items in its budget,—a definite amount each for N. C., College, World Service, and Minnis.

In order that an auxiliary may pay its budgets in full it must send to the Branch Treasurer the amounts of each of these items in full, designated at the time of sending. For instance, Good Will Auxiliary is given a budget: N. C., $30; College, $10; W. S., $60; Minnis, $10. The Good Will Auxiliary must during the year send a total of $30 which she must tell the treasurer is for N. C., a total of $10 which she must tell the treasurer is for College, a total of $60 which she must tell the treasurer is for W. S., and a total of $10 which she must tell the treasurer is for Minnis. If she makes 12 payments she must say how much she wishes to pay on N. C., College, etc, each time, so the treasurer may keep her books correctly.

If we want to pay Minnis salary with our money we must send it to the treasurer as Minnis salary, but we should not expect our Minnis salary to be added to the amount given us for undesignated World Service, which is used by the General Conference treasurer on the basis of 67% to Board of Foreign Mission and 33% to Board of Christian Education.

The church gets credit for Minnis salary paid by its auxiliary, on its World Service budget; but this is because the N. C. Conference as such makes no designations of its World Service funds.

This has been written by request to clear up questions that have arisen. I am sorry the request came too late to be of much good in the year just closing.

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS.

◆

LAST CALL FOR MINNIS FUND

If any church, Sunday school, other organization, or individual, would like to help the N. C. Branch pay Mr. Minnis' salary in full, come on now; the fund lacks only $387.93 of full payment. The Treasurer will give your church credit for any amount on Minnis salary, if you get it in the mail by April 3. We are very anxious to reach the goal, since we are so near it.

With sincere thanks to all who have and will help with this salary, I am,

Yours very truly,
MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, President,
N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

◆

NOTICE TO AUXILIARIES

Just another reminder that we are to have an exhibit at the Branch Meeting. This is not my exhibit but yours, and I am expecting something from every auxiliary in the state representative of the work being done by the local organization. By this method we may share our worth-while plans and methods and let others know what we are doing.

Please send me anything you have for the exhibit before April 12, or bring it with you when you come to the meeting.

Please call your auxiliary president's attention to this notice in order to be sure that she doesn't overlook it.

MRS. J. C. MADISON,
Secretary of Exhibits.
628 Colonial Drive, High Point, N. C.

◆

BELATED THANKS.

Now that our column is not so crowded I should like to take this opportunity to thank all who were responsible for sending me gifts when I was ill and unable to attend the third quarterly Branch meeting. The gifts were greatly appreciated.

I should like also to thank, through this column, all the Auxiliaries and individuals who so kindly sent cards of cheer.

Yours very sincerely,
MRS. R. M. ANDREWS.

◆

TO THE MEMBERS OF N. C. BRANCH OF THE M. P. CHURCH.

The snapdragons you sent me have certainly been beautiful and I've enjoyed them so much. I surely do appreciate your thinking of me and "saying it with flowers."

At last I'm able to be up and the flowers helped a lot.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,
ROSALIE ANDREWS.
January 17, 1939.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Midway S. S., Greensboro road	$10.00
Lebanon S. S., High Point	8.28
Mebane S. S.	6.35
Alton Auxiliary, Lake Creek, Texas, for shoes	2.00
Canaan, Denton	1.00
Chapel Hill S. S., Davidson	1.00
Shiloh S. S., Shiloh	10.00
Friendship S. S., Mt. Hermon, Jan. to April, with double for March	25.00
Mr. Hermon Isley and family, Friendship, Mt. Hermon	1.00
Mt. Zion S. S., Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	3.50
Julian S. S., Tabernacle, Jan., Feb. and March	3.00
Men's Bible class, Mt. Carmel, Forsyth, clothing boy	9.25
First Church S. S., Burlington	35.00
Hebron S. S., Orange	1.75
Saxapahaw Union S. S., Saxapahaw	4.00
Love Joy S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy	4.00
A friend, Denton	15.00
Circle No. 2, Denton, clothing boy	3.00
Mt. Carmel S. S., Forsyth	4.32
Union Ridge S. S., Forsyth	10.00
A friend, Asheboro, R.F.D., clothing child	5.00
Cedar Falls S. S., Richland	11.94
Friendship S. S., Haw River	5.00
Mt. Hermon S. S., Mt. Hermon	3.74
Putnam Chapel Primary class, Mansfield, Ohio, C. O.	1.00
Enfield S. S.	5.00
Maple Springs S. S., Forsyth	5.00
Liberty S. S.	5.00
The Circuit Auxiliary, Haw River	5.00
Guilford, Hickory Grove S. S.	5.11

Clothing and Other Gifts

The Woman's Auxiliary, Flag Springs, Why Not, a nice lot of cakes and cookies for school lunches. These were delivered by the pastor and he suggested that other friends of Flag Springs helped. We appreciate these gifts very greatly.

We are also thankful for the money gifts reported above.

April Just Ahead.

Next Sunday will be the first Sunday in April. Fifty per cent, or more of our Sunday schools take their offering for the Home that day, and all of you will take your offering on some Sunday during April. Please give us a boost on your regular Sunday. If every Sunday school in the Conference will do that you will help us to catch up again. We thank you.

Come to See Us

The North Carolina Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary is meeting in First Church, High Point, on April 12 and 13. We welcome you to our city and to our church. You will wish to visit the Children's Home, and we want you to come. We take it that the afternoon session on April 12 will adjourn by 4 o'clock. So we are asking all of you, delegates, ministers and friends to visit the Home from 4:30 to 5:30 that day. We will keep open house for you during that hour, and longer if you like. In fact we shall be glad to have you come at any time,

◆

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

"I WOULD BE STRONG"

Topic for April 2, 1939

By Rev. Raymond W. White

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, March 27—Strength in God's presence. Ps. 46:1-7.

Tuesday, March 28—Strength in leadership. Josh. 1:2-9.

Wednesday, March 29—Strength in weakness. 2 Cor. 12:7-10.

Thursday, March 30—Strength in inner conflict. Rom. 8:12-18.

Friday, March 31 — Strength in God's armor. Eph. 6:10-17.

Saturday, April 1—Strength of Christ in suffering. 1 Pet. 2:21-25.

The Text: II Cor. 11:21-31.

To the Leader

This topic, the last of a series of three topics, suggests the importance of courage and determination. "I would be strong for there is much to suffer" is the entire phrase in Howard Arnold Walter's hymn. The second clause is the reason for the first. Your group should know that in these days Christians in many places are persecuted and forced to suffer. Not a few modern Christians are showing courage and endurance which should characterize all Christians at all times. Paul, the greatest missionary of all times, is a good example and his life makes an excellent illustration for this topic. At the close of your meeting summarize the series emphasizing "I would be true," "I would be pure," and "I would be strong." Try to stimulate a determination to make these phrases a rule in life with the guidance and help of the Master.

Questions for the Open Forum

1.—When is a Christian strong?

2.—What is a Christian expected to endure in these days?

3.—What forces attack the Church and Christians today?

4.—How are we to meet the enemy?

5.—What is involved in strength of Character? How acquire strength?

6.—What is moral courage? Do we have it? How get it?

7.—What is the value of strong determination? How guide it properly?

8.—What is a conviction? What convictions should Christians cultivate?

9.—What is the cost of being Christian? God's cost? Our cost?

10.—What is the Christian's source of wisdom? Power?

11.—Do you think the true Christian is fully assured of victory? Reasons.

12.—What things in life are worthy of support of Christian strength?

The Poet

Fight the good fight with all thy might,
Lay hold on life, and it shall be
Christ is thy strength, and Christ thy right;
Thy joy and crown eternally.

Run the straight race through God's good
grace,
Lift up thine eyes and seek His face;
Life with its ways before us lies,
Christ is the path, and Christ the prize.

Cast care aside, lean on thy Guide
His boundless mercy will provide;
Trust, and thy trusting soul shall prove
Christ is its life, and Christ its love.

Faint not nor fear, His arms are near,
He changeth not and thou art dear;
Only believe, and thou shalt see
That Christ is all in all to thee.

—John S. B. Monsell.

Little Gems

Your weakness is no excuse: "He giveth power to the faint."

Strength is needed for endurance as well as for achievement; for endurance is achievement.

Strength is born in the deep silence of long-suffering hearts; not amidst joy.—Hemans.

Strength alone knows conflict; weakness is below even defeat, and is born vanquished.—Swetchine.

So let it be in God's own might
We gird us for the coming fight,
And, strong in Him whose cause is ours
In conflict with unholy powers,
We grasp the weapons He has given,
The Light, the Truth, and Love of Heaven.

—Whittier.

Topic Hints

I Would Be Strong: The true Christian is a strong instrument in God's hand. Man can never measure the strength of a Christian whose life is guided and motivated by super-human wisdom and power. The secret of a Christian's strength is in the fact that God supplies him with Power. Said Jesus, "Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." This promise came true on the day of Pentecost and this truth has been confirmed in the lives of the saints since that memorable day. Men who have known how to suffer and endure for a worthy cause have been men who were given Power by the ministry of the Holy Ghost. Would we be strong? If so, let us entertain the presence of the third Person in the Trinity, the Holy Ghost. His presence is Power. His Power is our strength.

Strength for Suffering: This life is full of sorrow and suffering. Trouble is a universal baptism. But sorrow and suffering are not the end of life for the Christian. If these were the end, we would have no hope and life would be miserable. But He that said "Let not your heart be troubled" has overcome the world and will make the penitent heart victor in any life situation. No circumstance in life could overwhelm Jesus. No evil force could overpower Him. He knew how to make sorrow and suffering a means to a glorious end. The pages of sacred history are spread with the story of suffering saints who followed in His train. All of them, like their Master, were victors. They sought not a way to escape suffering nor the means of removing suffering, but they were moved by a Power that used suffering as a refining agent and their lives were radiant. And we must do some suffering if we stand firmly for God in our day. But if we suffer in the name and in the strength of our Lord, our faces will be radiant and our lives will be victorious.

We Must Be Strong: These days demand men of strong bodies. These bodies are the temples in which dwell the Spirit of God. They should be kept clean. These bodies are the instruments which God's Spirit uses to touch the world and all of the foes of righteousness. They must be kept strong. The enemies of God's Spirit seek to destroy the body in which the Spirit moves. We must be strong as well as brave. These days require men of strong minds. Satan matches the intellects of his followers against the intellects of God's children. He is bold enough to enter the House of God and proclaim his false arguments in the presence of eternal truth. He whispers falsehood in the ears of the saints with the subtlety of the serpent. We must have strong intellects and keen judgments if we would recognize his presence, refute his argument, and put to rout his army.

Strong Convictions: The Christian must have some very strong convictions if he would be strong enough to suffer and serve for Christ's sake. Yes, he must have some rock-ribbed convictions and they must be based on what God says in His Book, the Bible. He must believe in the deity of Christ, in the saving efficacy of His Blood, and in the power of God's grace to save and keep the world. He must have a true conception of man's sinful nature. He must heartily subscribe to the doctrine of the divine inspiration of the Bible. The Christian must have a deep conviction of the binding obligation of Christ's commands to go into all the world to win men. He should cherish in his expectant soul the glorious promise of the Lord's return. He must be convinced of the doctrine of the Holy Spirit and that in His power alone can he hope to win. The strength of human mind, will, and body will fail. Let us "be strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might," and we shall never fail.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Mt. Lebanon, Randleman Charge. — Our Woman's Auxiliary met March 21, with Mrs. J. L. Hall, ten members were present. On account of sickness some of our members were absent. Mrs. D. L. Brady led the devotional, using the Guide Book theme.

This being our first year we feel we have made some progress. We have doubled our membership since we organized, and everyone seems willing to do their part. We have paid $40 over our pledge, sent gift of clothing to Pine Ridge, and bought new song books for our church. We had 12 Auxiliary meetings and two Thank-Offering services. Mrs. D. C. Hardin was elected delegate to the Branch meeting.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. C. L. Spencer, president; Mrs. J. L. Hall, vice-president; Miss Rozelle Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. O. R. Trogdon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. R. Hughes, treasurer; Mrs. D. L. Brady, secretary of missionary and Christian education; Mrs. J. L. Hall, secretary of Benevolences and Stewardship; Mrs. A. J. Daniels, secretary of Spiritual Life; Miss Rozelle Smith, secretary of literature; Mrs. D. C. Harden, secretary of Thank-Offering; Miss Rozelle Smith and Mrs. O. R. Trogdon, secretaries of Young People's Work; Mrs. J. L. Hall, secretary of Temperance and Christian Citizenship and Pastor's Aid.

After the meeting fruits were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. D. C. Hardin.

MRS. O. R. TROGDON, Cor. Sec.

* * *

Welch Memorial Church. — Though this writer has been unduly inactive during the past two months, this inactivity has not been reflected in the progress of the church work. Our revival is scheduled to begin the week of March 26, and every church member seems to be taking a sincere interest in this coming event, especially since this will be the last Methodist Protestant revival held in our church.

Sunday night, March 19, the women of our church were in charge of the evening service. The highlight of the program was a short play, and this presentation was considered very effective by those present.

The Senior class of our Sunday School sponsored a drive to raise funds with which to purchase new hymnals for our church, and this drive was quite successful. Our new song books have been received, and two nights a week have been set aside for choir practice, thus giving the members of the choir a chance to become better acquainted with the splendid new books. The Senior class is to be commended for their fine work in procuring these hymnals for us.

Renewed interest has been taken in our Christian Endeavor programs recently. More interesting and didactic programs are being presented each Sunday evening, and every member seems to really enjoy the opportunity he has of meeting with other young people every week. The first Sunday of each month, our president, Mr. Roscoe Briley, plans to have a consecration meeting, with each member renewing his personal covenant and vows. This plan was inaugurated the first Sunday in March, and the program was one of the most impressive of its kind ever presented at our church. In addition to our own members, we had three visiting societies with us that night, and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the program.

Plans are being made for an Easter pageant to be presented Easter Sunday, and a more detailed description of this will be submitted in my next report.

MILDRED SOUTHERN, Reporter.

* * *

Kannapolis, D. T. Huss, Pastor.—The regular stewards meeting was held last Saturday night and was well attended. The members decided to start a campaign to get all members of the church to be present on Easter Sunday for a Booster day. After the stewards meeting we were served a chicken supper, the money going to the Building fund.

The men of the church also reorganized the men's fellowship with a good number present. A talk by Mr. Rabb was enjoyed by all present, and the present objective of our group is to raise funds for the expenses of the delegate to the Uniting Conference.

Our pastor is sick at this writing and requests the prayers of his people. Also one of our member is very ill at the present time.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Methodist Protestant church entertained the members of the church and other friends with an "Irish Gathering" on Saturday evening, March 18.

As the guests arrived they were given pieces of crepe paper and pins, and were requested to make a hat of any shape. Miss Beatrice Cartner, president of the Christian Endeavor, was in charge of the games, contests, and group singing; Miss Ollie Sloop, and Hazel Abernathy, gave humorous readings. The Assembly room of the church, where 60 old and young people met, was decorated with shamrock leaves, and green, gold and white paper, carrying out the colors for St. Patrick's day.

While the refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cakes, pickles and tea were being served, Misses Ollie Sloop, Janet Sills, Inell Sills, and Mrs. Edward Sides, accompanied by Miss Elva Sides at the piano, rendered several beautiful old Irish melodies.

At the end of the gathering everyone joined hands and sang, "Blest Be the Tie," after which Mr. Kiser dismissed with prayer.

EDWARD SIDES, Reporter.

* * *

State Street, O. C. Loy, Pastor.—We are still working but do not say very much about it. Our attendance is better since the influenza and chicken pox epidemic abated.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held its March meeting in the home of Mrs. J. B. Leonard. The devotionals were led by Mrs. C. H. Forcum. Mrs. Hackey, president, presided, and a good program was enjoyed. After the business was transacted, the election of officers for the coming missionary year was discussed and same elected.

The Philathea class met in the home of Mrs. L. C. Jenkins with good attendance. Mrs. Garner called the meeting to order in the absence of the president. Mrs. S. E. Brandon led the devotional with a beautiful but touching Easter story.

Plans were made for the annual chicken pie supper that was put across last Saturday night and around $33 collected.

The Mission Band and Sunshine Circle under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Cox and Mrs. W. T. Neal had complete charge of the spring thank-offering service Sunday morning, the 19th. A large offering was realized and we were more than fortunate to have Mrs. J. Clyde Auman of Thomasville to speak for us. She is a returned missionary and can explain the real facts in an interesting way. We feel deeply grateful to her for the wonderful message.

Our pastor has been ill for the past week. We all wish for him a speedy recovery and ask the Christian people to pray that his health be restored so he can carry on his good work.

MRS. W. T. NEAL, Reporter.

* * *

First Church, Burlington, Dr. F. W. Paschall, Pastor.—It has been quite a while since we have had a report in the paper but trust that you will forgive the writer. There has been so much sickness in our church family recently but we are thankful for God's goodness, the majority of them are improving.

All organizations seem to be running along smoothly. The Ladies' Auxiliary is closing its missionary year the end of this month. It has been a successful and progressive year under the presidency of Miss Swannie Coble. Much has been accomplished through her leadership and we feel it is the best year w've ever had and we commend her highly in this splendid work. There is not a break in the organizations for young people. There is an organization for young people ranging from Precious Jewels on up to the Auxiliary circles. This trains youth in the church so that there will not be a break in their young life. The opportunity is there if they will just accept it and in time to come they can step in and fill the places of us older ones as we pass on. This church expects to have great leaders in the future.

Some of our activities for the young people are as follows: Precious Jewels for little tots in their infancy and also in Beginners' department under the direction of Mrs. Ollie Moser who so faithfully clings to this task. Mrs. Moser is due a lot of credit. No one will ever know how many miles she walks a day visiting and getting new members for her Precious Jewels also the Home Circle an organization for those women who cannot meet with the regular circles. We greatly appreciate her work.

Sunshine Circle for the primary groups and C. E. societies for all ages under the direction of Misses Glenna Teer and Mildred McPherson. These two young Christian girls are doing a splendid piece of work. They continually give of their time and talent to these organizations and we need more young people just like them.

Mission Band for Junior girls under the direction of Mrs. Curry Hargrove who has so kindly consented to take this group and is just getting off to a good start. Much interest is shown among this group and we feel confident that Mrs. Hargrove is a very capable Christian young woman and will make them a good leader.

Young Woman's Circle ranging from ages 14 to 20, Mrs. A. M. Wagoner, counselor. This circle is just getting organized this week and we feel very proud of the fact that there is so much interest shown among these ages and Mrs. Wagoner is just the person to help put it across. We appreciate very much her keen interest and her willingness in accepting this group. It shows a fine Christian spirit.

We also have a Junior choir, which has been organized now for a few months under the direction of Miss Eva Wiseman, a member of the local school faculty. She is making splendid progress and we feel very grateful to her. This choir and all expenses attached is sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of our church. They have just recently furnished them with new vestments which are to be the property of the church. The Junior choir furnishes music for Sunday services once a month.

A Thank-Offering program was held in the church Sunday evening, March 19, Miss Swannie Coble and Mrs. J. B. Cheek, leaders. The Junior choir rendered a musical program. Offering amounted to $62.83.

For the past few Sundays Dr. Paschall has been preaching on "The Appreciation of Our Church." He has been bringing us some heart stirring messages, the one Sunday, March 19, especially, "Appreciating Our Heritage." It was so forceful and uplifting. We are working and praying for a great ingathering of souls at Easter time. Easter morning Dr. Paschall will receive into our church membership all who wish to join on confession of faith or by church letter. He is also holding one meeting each week from now until Easter for those who want to accept Christ. Are you trying to win someone? Let's make Easter Sunday a great day.

REPORTER.

◆

Grace Church, Greensboro, Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, Pastor.—On March 20 the Auxiliary of Grace church had an all-day meeting with Mrs. T. D. Sharpe, at her country home, south of Greensboro. In the morning Mrs. R. M. Andrews conducted the devotional, and Mrs. Mary Gerringer talked on stewardship and benevolence. The afternoon program consisted of a review of the mission study book, "Moving Millions," by Mrs. Worth Trogdon, and the installation of officers for the new year. The following officers were installed by Mrs. W. K. Hartsell, retiring president: President, Mrs. J. R. Dodson; first vice-president, Mrs. W. K. Hartsell; second vice-president, Mrs. W. C. Ogburn; recording secretary, Mrs. F. R. Stout; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jack Sutton; treasurer, Mrs. Willis Booth; auditor, Miss Brona Apple.

Cause secretaries, Mrs. J. F. Dozier, missionary education; Christian education, Mrs. E. S. Wills; benevolence and stewardship, Mrs. M. D. Stout; spiritual life, Mrs. W. S. Jones; literature, Mrs. Ralph Stout; thank-offering, Mrs. Ernest Teague; young people's work, Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll; scholarships and workers, Mrs. J. E. Dillon; life, memorial and perpetual memberships: Mrs. F. R. Brittain; temperance, Mrs. W. G. Starr; pastor's aid, Mrs. W. A. Hornaday.

The Mothers' Club has been functioning again this year. At the March meeting, Miss Lucy Pell, director of religious education at the First Presbyterian church, spoke to the mothers on "Thinking About the Problem of Death With Children" and "Guiding Children in Social Relationships." These meetings are proving most helpful.

Sunday school attendance has kept up remarkably well, despite much illness among members. The Workers' Council met in a regular monthly supper meeting on March 13, with approximately 35 officers and teachers in attendance. Two inspiring talks were given by Mrs. Edgar Allred, director of religious education at the Church of the Covenant; and by Rev. Mr. Cope, pastor of Asheboro Street Friends church.

Among our sick, we note that Mr. Ralph Stout and son are ill at home with flu; Miss Agnes Louise Wilcox is in Wesley Long hospital with flu; Mrs. J. R. Dodson, Mrs. F. R. Stout, Mrs. Lila Wilcox and Mrs. Fairy M. Coble are all recuperating from recent illnesses.

Infants will be baptized and new members received on Palm Sunday. Due to the continued illness of the pastor, who has been suffering for more than a month with infection in his ears, only one service will be held during Holy Week—a communion service on Thursday evening. The choir under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Morrissett is planning special music for both Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday.

E. C.

◆

Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge, J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—Since our last report, our spring Thank-Offering service has been held. At this service the playlet, "Not Exempted" was used, bringing out some very helpful thought on tithing. Atendance was not so good; offering amounted to $5.55.

On the second Sunday night in March, we had wtih us Dr. C. E. Forines, who brought us a very splendid sermon.

Second Quarterly Conference was held at Spring Church on March 25th. We have raised our Uniting Conference expense, and with the exception of pastor's salary, are fairly well up to date with the other finances.

On the third Sunday night a musical program was given in connection with the regular prayer service, by the Horne brothers and Miss Rachel Philips of Roaonoke Rapids.

The C. E. Society is putting on a special campaign to increase membership and attendance. We are hoping it will bring results, as the attendance has not been so good during the winter months.

Our Easter program will be presented on Sunday night, April 9th, using the pageant, "The Awakening."

We are delighted to report that Mrs. L. C. Daughtry, who has been critically ill at Roanoke Rapids Hospital, is somewhat improved.

REPORTER.

◆

Gibsonville, Rev. C. E. Anderson, Pastor.—Since our reporter's mother is ill and has been for some time, I shall take the liberty to send in the news since our last report.

We held our annual banquet February 25 which was sponsored by the Young Women's Bible Class. Rev. Mr. Anderson was toastmaster. Rev. Mr. Stubbins was guest speaker, using as his theme, Fellowship. Several duets and solos were rendered during the evening.

The first Sunday in March the thank-offering service was observed. The play, "If I Be His Disciple," was presented and well received by a goodly attendance. The offering was $25.00.

The second Sunday the Gibsonville Girl Scout Troup No. 32 attended the service. This was the 27th anniversary of this movement. Pastor Anderson's subject was "Love and Obedience." The Scout quartet composed of Agnes Adkins and Betty Jane Owen from our church, Doris Henry from M. E. church, and Ruby Boone from Lutheran church, sang one number.

The church services as well as Sunday school and Christian Endeavor are continuing in interest and attendance.

A MEMBER.

◆

Pleasant Grove, Rev. F. R. Love, Pastor.—The interest seems to be increasing in our Sunday school. We had 209 present last Sunday. The preaching service was also well attended. Mr. Love delivered a very interesting message and the young people's choir furnished the music for the service.

The Brotherhood met Saturday night, March 25, at the parsonage. The meeting was a very interesting one. Each one present took into consideration the activities of the church. They also appropriated $5.00 toward getting a new pulpit Bible.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Friday night at the home of Misses YeSabel and Hazel Hedrick.

Miss Fay Kennedy will have charge of the mid-week prayer meeting this week. We have been having some wonderful prayer meetings.

Our Pre-Easter Revival begins next Sunday evening and will continue throughout the week, our pastor doing the preaching. We are expecting great interest to be shown in this meeting and we need your prayers.

YESABLE HEDRICK, Reporter.

◆

Mt. Lebanon Church, Randleman, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Mt. Lebanon church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hall for its final meeting of the year, with Mrs. C. L. Spencer in the chair. A highlight was the election of new officers, as follows: Mrs. C. L. Spencer, president; Mrs. J. L. Hall, vice-president: Mrs. L. R. Hughes, treasurer; Miss Rozelle Smith, secretary; Mrs. O. R. Trogdon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. L. Brady, secretary of Christian education: Mrs. J. L. Hall, secretary of benevolence and stewardship; Mrs. A. J. Daniels, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. D. C. Hardin, secretary of thank-offering; Mrs. Hall, secretary of temperance and Christian citizenship.

Following the transaction of routine business the officers were installed. The hostess served fruits to 10 members present.

For Speedy HEADACHE Relief Snap Back with
STANBACK 10¢ & 25¢
DOES NOT LEAVE YOU UPSET

BABY CHICKS
You Take No Chance when you buy
LEONARD'S DEPENDABLE CHICKS
Always top quality—Blood-tested Parent Stock. Write for prices. 30,000 weekly.
Leonard's Hatchery
129 So. College St. Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. D. C. Hardin was elected as a delegate to the zone meeting.

There was an old-fashioned class meeting held at our church Sunday afternoon, March 26. The leader was Mr. L. R. Hughes. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. J. L. Hall, who read the 1st Psalm. Mr. C. L. Spencer led the prayer, after which each one present gave in an experience, which was very good and uplifting. As this was the last Methodist Protestant class meeting to be held, since our next week we will all be Methodists. Mrs. A. J. Daniels also prayed, after which meeting was adjourned by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Spencer.

There will be a sunrise service at the church Easter morning; a very interesting program is being planned.

The mid-week prayer service is proving a real blessing to the church and the ones who attend. We hope to have an increase in our crowds at the services. Mr. Spencer conducts the prayer meeting.

An Easter program is being planned. We are having a pageant this year, "The Festival of Life," Sunday night, April 9, at 7:30.

Our attendance is very good, now that spring is here. Let's fill up those empty pews and let Brother Spencer know we do appreciate these good sermons he brings to us. He always has an inspiring sermon for us. The members who stay away surely miss a spiritually filled message.

MISS ROZELLE SMITH, Reporter.

* * *

College St., Little Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor. — Our pastor filled his regular appointment the third Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. There was rather a large crowd present than usual. We had the pleasure of having Mrs. Rebie Silvery, husband and daughter, with us who was one of our devoted members before moving her membership some years ago.

The Auxiliary met at the last meeting with one of our oldest members of the church, Mrs. Alice Glasglow, who is now staying at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Myrick. There were not as many members present as we had hoped for, but this was due to the fact that some were sick with flu, while others were kept away on other reasons. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Curtis Porter.

Mrs. Walter Perkinson has been sick with flu, but has gotten well again, we are glad to say, and also Mrs. J. W. Warren.

Mr. Tasker Williams is visiting Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Trolinger of Seagrove, N. C.

We are looking forward to preparing an Easter program for the second Sunday night. Everyone is invited to come.

Choir practice is to be on Thursday night of each week from now till Easter.

Mrs. Alice Glasglow bought some beautiful evergreens, and presented them to the church grounds on March 20. We all appreciate her gift very much. We also appreciate the lovely flower basket Mr. Edward Jenkins gave the church.

ANNIE PERKINSON, Reporter.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Henry M. Sechrest.

On Thursday, March 9, Uncle Henry Sechrest, the oldest native-born citizen of High Point, passed away. Brother Sechrest's death was more like the passing of an ancient landmark than the passing of a man. When he was born a little more than 90 years ago, High Point was only a village with less than 200 people. When the war between the states was fought he was an interested onlooker though a little too young to participate. When the First M. P. church here was organized, of which he became a member, he was almost 50 years of age. Now some of his grandchildren are among its most active members. The progress of High Point, its civic improvements, the growth of its educational and religious institutions have all taken place within the life time of this one man. Though he probably was never an outstanding leader, yet, even as many of the houses here were built of the brick he helped to make—he at one time owned a brick kiln—so most of the institutions of this city must have felt the influence of the life of this, its oldest native-born citizen.

By age Brother Sechrest has been disabled for several years, for the last few years unable to look after his garden which he loved to do so well. But with increasing age and the weakening of body his faith seemed to grow stronger. The last word I ever heard him say was a word of prayer.

At Brother Sechrest's funeral Rev. J. M. Hilliard, almost as old, and a close friend of the deceased, gave a fitting tribute. His words were the expression of the wisdom and experience of almost a century spoken in honor of Christian character and testifying to the joy of life in Christ.

The body of the deceased was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery of which Brother Sechrest was keeper for over 40 years.

J. C. MADISON.

* * *

Mrs. N. W. Warren.

Mrs. Mattie Laremore Warren, wife of Newton W. Warren, passed from earth to her heavenly reward at 4:30 p. m., Sunday, March 12, 1939, following an illness of 18 days. The funeral service was held at Pine Grove Methodist Protestant church, near Kernersville, Tuesday, March 14, 1939. at 3 p.m. The writer was assisted in the service by Walser Allen, pastor of the Kernersville Moravian church; Rev. H. L. Isley, pastor of the Randolph charge, and Rev. R. B. Nelson, Baptist minister, of Summerville, W. Va. 8he body was tenderly placed in the cemetery of Pine Grove church.

Mrs. Warren united with Pine Grove Methodist Protestant church in 1921 during the pastorate of Rev. H. L. Isley. She was very active in church and Sunday school work prior to her transfer from the church militant to the church triumphant. She was a teacher in the Sunday school and an officer in the Ladies' Aid Society of Pine Grove church. The writer will always have a pleasant memory of her loyalty to the church, as she was always in the services when not hindered by sickness, and was a good listener.

She is survived by her husband, Newton W. Warren, who is a faithful member of Pine Grove church, one daughter, ten sons, three sisters and two brothers, all of Forsyth county.

The funeral service was attended by the largest congregation the writer has witnessed at a funeral service in recent years. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, coming from various groups and individuals.

The husband, daughter, sons, brothers and sisters, and all other relatives have the sincere sympathy of Pine Grove church and Sunday school and all friends and neighbors.

C. B. WAY.

* * *

Junius J. Frazier.

Junius J. Frazier, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Frazier, passed away at his home in the Sandy Ridge M. P. church community Monday, March 6, 1937, after an illness of one week, and declining health extending over a period of years. He was a native of Guilford county, and had engaged in farming during his entire life. A member of Sandy Ridge Methodist Protestant church, he was faithful in attendance until his health became feeble. He attended the services frequently during the past year.

Funeral services were held at the home and Sandy Ridge M. P. church Wednesday, March 8, 1939, at 3 p. m. Rev. C. M. Oates. Baptist minister, of Greensboro; Rev. R. O. Knuckles, Baptist minister of the community, and Rev. Ben Farrington, also of Sandy Ridge community, assisted the writer in the services. Burial was in the church cemetery beside the grave of Mrs. Frazier, who

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

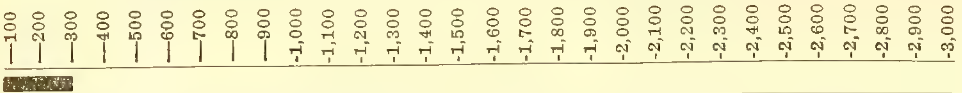
FOR 65 YEARS
We have built, rebuilt, repaired every make of organ. We can put yours in first class condition. Write us.
Hodgson Organ Company - - - Norfolk, Va.

1931 HERALDS WANTED

I need three copies of the 1931 Heralds for my files. Dates wanted, August 13, January 15 and 22. I shall be glad to pay for these copies. Mail to Earl A. Cook, Rt. 3, Albemarle, N. C. EARL A. COOK.

DON'T BLAME THE MOTHS
USE
LARVEX
This year do your mothproofing right . . . use LARVEX to keep your woolen clothes, furniture and rugs safe from moths. LARVEX is simple to use, odorless, requires no wrapping or putting things away. When bought by the gallon, LARVEX is so cheap that a man's 3-piece suit can be mothproofed for less than 25¢.
QUICK . . . SURE . . . ECONOMICAL

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 76%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	12¾	....
Albemarle	20	4¼	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	5	....
Asheville	13	7	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	24½	5.70
Concord	26	6	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship-Love's Grove	38	5¾	....
Forsyth	46	8	....
Gibsonville	24	2	....
Glen Raven	52	6½	....
Graham	30	12	....
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	6½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	4¼	....
Halifax	42	6	....
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	15	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2½	..
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	7½	....
Lexington, First	48	6	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	2½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3½	..
Littleton	46	4	...
Mebane	27	3½	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove church	10	1	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	12	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	11¾	.
Mt. Zion	16	½	...
North Davidson	36	5	....
Orange	77	12	....
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	8¼	....
Reidsville	13	6	....
Richland	35	10	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5	....
Shiloh	65	6	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	7½	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	8½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	9½	....
Whitakers	8	6	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

(Continued from Page Fifteen)

passed to her reward in September, 1937. A large congregation attended the services.

Surviving are four sons, C. L., J. O., and J. W. Frazier, of Sandy Ridge; C. B. Frazier, of Greensboro; three daughters, Mrs. H. C. Shields, Mrs. L. G. Wood and Mrs. D. R. Robinson, of Sandy Ridge; 31 grandchildren, 55 great-grandchildren; one brother, S. J. Frazier, of the Sedge Garden community of Forsyth county, and many other relatives.

The sons and daughters and other relatives may have the assurance that their loved one has entered into that rest "prepared for the people of God," for he stated before he departed that he was ready to go to meet the judgment. May the bereaved be comforted, and made conscious of the sympathy of their friends and neighbors.

C. B. WAY.

Callicutt

Funeral service for Lillie Elizabeth Callicutt, age one year, was held from Chapel Hill Church February the 21st. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Callicutt of Kannapolis.

◆

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERVICE

An Interdenominational Young People's Easter sunrise service is to be held Easter morning, April 9, at 6 o'clock, at First Presbyterian church, Greensboro; Rev. W. P. Jones will be speaker, Special music will be furnished,

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

Contributing Editors
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

Price—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the Herald should be addressed to M. P. Herald, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Miss Belle Causey, Tabernacle charge By Pastor Lamb.	$2.00
Mrs. Oder Bivins, Orange charge	2.00
W. M. Hanner, Liberty	2.00
Mrs. J. M. Leonard, Guilford charge Sent by Ernest Kersey.	1.00
C. E. McCulloch, Tabernacle charge	2.00
Miss Blanche Houser, Lincolnton charge	1.00
John Little, Friendship-Love's Grove By Pastor Cook.	2.00
Miss Nora Jones, Guilford charge	1.00
William Wright, Siler City charge By Miss Sallie Smith.	1.00
Mrs. W. L. Spoon, Alamance charge By Pastor Brown.	2.00
Mrs. Richard Shoffner, Mt. Pleasant chg.	1.00
Club subscriptions, Mt. Pleasant church By Pastor Braxton.	2.00
Miss Daisy Jobe, Orange charge By Mrs. A. K. McAdams.	1.00
Miss Florence Baldwin, Richland charge	2.00
Mrs. L. T. Wilson, Chase City By Pauline Jarrell.	.50

◆

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

(Continued from Page Eleven)

but it will be helpful to us if you can plan to come on Wednesday afternoon, April 12, between 4 and 6 o'clock. We shall be glad to have you come, and will be looking for you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

Gray's Ointment

USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

Dear Christian Friend:

Please buy my easy threading needles, 25c a package. I fell when a boy, have been down on my back 43 years, and I am now very sick and in awful need. My mother just died and left me, and the only way I have to live is by selling needles. Please send me an order and God bless you.

Your brother in distress,
JOE MORPHEW,
Hilliard, Florida.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST A THREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 6, 1939 NUMBER 21

THAT "PROSPECTUS"

Some of our readers have been wondering why the delegates to the Uniting Conference have been silent about the contents of the Prospectus of the Discipline of the Methodist Church now in their hands. We presume the other delegates are like the Editor, fully aware of the nature of the Prospectus; it is as the name implies, a tentative plan for setting up the Methodist Church. But that large Prospectus has yet to be approved by the body whose approval shall make it a law of the Church.

That there will be differences of opinion on matters of detail, of statement of form, of technique, is to be expected. No Church has yet been so organized and conducted that it met the unanimous approval of all its adherents. We have often heard criticism of our own Church. Certain officers either had too little or too much "power." There was expressed dissatisfaction with the ritual, or of some law, etc., until the story of them all would run into a lengthy recital. And if the Uniting Conference shall set up a Church which in form and operation shall silence all critics, confound all fault-finders, please all the "sermon tasters" abroad, bring all the rank fundamentalistic and ultra modernistic members into one group with the spirit of cooperation, that Church will surely be such a success that it will sweep into its membership all who are religiously inclined throughout the world.

But these days of waiting call for patience and faith. Trust your representatives who are soon to be at Kansas City. They are members in good standing in your Church; they know its weakness and its strength; they love it, not only love its name and the memory of its founders, but they have a due sense of appreciation of the heritage which has come down to them as members of the Church; and we believe they know the doctrine and the spirit of Methodism. So, this is really no time to anticipate the actions of the Uniting Conference and to mistrust those into whose hands such a responsible task has been committed.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Much Remains To Be Done

It is hardly necessary for me to remind anybody that these are busy days and that much must be done quickly if it is done at all. My own schedule is so full for the next two months that I hardly know where to turn. But what is true of myself is true of many ministers in our conference. There is that important matter called delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference. My interest in how much had been sent in was so intense that I called up Treasurer Allen on Saturday afternoon. You can imagine about how I felt when he told me that only about $400.00 had been sent in and we have about one more week to go before the time when it is to be in. Of course I know that many of the charges will wait until this week or the first of next to send in the amount but while this is true the matter is so urgent that we can but have concern about it. But almost all of the ministers in their quarterly reports seemed to think their charges would pay this fund. So, without fail please get this money to the Treasurer of the Annual Conference by April 10th if possible. It must be entered on the books and then distributed and each delegate must make provision for his ticket to Kansas City. These things must be done before the last minute.

Then there is the matter of World Service. We are calling this fund the Appreciation Year fund but it is a Debt Paying fund. It is to pay the debts on our boards of Missions and Education. These are honest debts and they must be paid by somebody. How much better it will be for us to pay our own debts than to have somebody pay them for us. We need to raise this fund in full in order to give us more confidence for the tasks ahead of us in the new church. Let every church do its best for the next two weeks. Remember this fund should be in the mails not later than Monday, April 24th.

A Sunday On the Saxapahaw Charge

Last Sunday was spent with two churches on the Saxapahaw charge, Rev. M. C. Henderson, pastor. The eleven o'clock service was at Concord church and the afternoon appointment was at Orange Chapel.

It was a pleasure to go back to Concord church where on the second Sunday in March, 1905, I preached my first Sunday. Rev. W. W. Amick now of sainted memory was then the pastor of this church and he was ill at that time and I was asked to go and supply for him. Since that day some improvements have been made on the building in the form of wings that have been extended on either side of the building at the rear. While the building is not large it is ample for any ordinary occasion. The Sunday school was in session when I arrived and there was a good attendance. Only two classes now use the church auditorium since the church has purchased a school building on the adjoining lot for an educational building. At the morning church services the house was well filled with interested people. The pastor had prepared bulletins for the two services and everything seemed well planned. Coming down out of the pulpit at the close of the service the ministers led the way out to the educational building for the dedicatory services of that property. This building was formerly used as a public school building but in the process of consolidation it was abandoned and the church bought it. Recently the remainder of the money was raised and the building has been paid for. It consists of several rooms well lighted. With some rather inexpensive repairs it can be put in good condition. I think this addition will prove to be very serviceable. The Concord church is in the immediate vicinity of the Eli Whitney graded school. This seems to be a good community and I was pleased with what I saw of it.

For the afternoon appointment we journeyed eastward across Haw River some five miles to Orange Chapel. Here we found another interesting place. The church at this place is in good repair and presents a neat appearance. The house was well filled with intelligent looking people and it was really a pleasure to preach to them. One personality that I missed there was that of Mrs. J. J. Crawford who has moved into Chapel Hill. Mrs. Crawford has attended so many of our Leadership Schools and missionary conferences that she is well-known by a large number of our people. But a letter from her some time ago informed me that while she was not able to go back to Orange Chapel very often she is enjoying going to church near her home in Chapel Hill. This is also the home community of Mrs. J. D. Williams, the wife of the pastor of our Welch Memorial church in High Point and several of her relatives worship there. I am always glad to get in the communities where any of our leaders formerly lived.

This is Brother Henderson's first year on this charge but the people speak highly of him. He seems to have the work well in hand and everything points to a good year.

On the way home last Sunday afternoon I purposely came by two old and well established churches which I had never seen before, namely, Cane Creek Friends Church and Pleasant Hill Christian Church. As I rode past these places and remembered what they had meant to this state I felt like lifting my hat. I understand that the Pleasant Hill church has the oldest Temperance organization in this state. Who can estimate the power and influence of churches like these? The whole state is better for their having existed.

Pray For the Uniting Conference

The Uniting Conference, the most momentous gathering of the kind in this generation, is only a few weeks off. I am calling on all of our people to be much in prayer that we may be lead by the Holy Spirit in all of the deliberations.

Pastors' Reports (Continued)

Piney Grove Church: Appreciation Year apportionment paid, pastor paid to date, A. C. expenses paid, regular offerings sent to Home, Young People's Day offering $10.00.

Granville, Rev. J. P. Pegg, Pastor.—Congregations have held up well considering sickness and rain. Offerings to the Children's Home about $150.00 Thanksgiving offering

(Continued on Page Six)

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 6, 1939 NUMBER 21

A Message In Verse

HE LIVES

I have made a carven altar of my heart,
I have hung the pictured Christ above it there,
And in that quietness, alone, apart,
I kneel in prayer.
Sometimes His white compassion is a flame
That burns about me like a living fire;
And my desire
Is granted me. . . . But oh, last Friday night
I saw them raise my Christ upon a cross.
He hung there stark against the sunset light,
And my great loss
Fell on my heart and weighted it like a stone.
And then today as dawnlight swept the land
There in a garden's shadow all alone
I saw Him stand.
The weight upon my heart was rolled aside,
The candle flame leapt up that had grown dim—
"He is Living, Living," joyfully cried,
And ran to Him.

—Grace Noll Crowell in Christian Herald.

West End Church, Greensboro, raised $545.00 on the building fund. The goal this year is $1,500.00. The people seem to think they will reach the goal all right. President Pritchard is to represent Western Maryland College at the Duke Centennial April 21st, and is to preach the sermon at the Durham District Conference meeting with Oak Grove Church April 20th.

Pastor Aubert M. Smith reports that Hope Church, Siler City Charge, has raised its part of the World Service quota of the charge, so all the churches are now out on that charge. Also Siler City Church has sent in its allotment for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference.

Pastor Grant reports that Richland Charge has raised its allotment for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference.

Pastor Madison reports that Lawndale Church has raised its part of the World Service budget for the Cleveland Charge.

The Risen Christ

Christ risen is the hope of the world. His resurrection gives us assurance of immortality; it authenticates the gospel preached by the Apostles and is the basis of our belief that God dwelt among men, that the glory of the only begotten Son of God was beheld by human eyes. No one need say today there is no resurrection of the dead. But before Jesus Christ came to earth and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel the doctrine of the resurrection was strongly contradicted by the Sadducees, and they represented an influential school of thought among the Jews of that day. And now the debated question, the disputed claim of the resurrection of the dead has become the chief article in the creed of millions on earth because Jesus lives.

And let us remember that had Jesus not arisen from the dead the Christian Church would have been interred in Joseph's new tomb and the hope of life beyond the grave would have perished from the thoughts of men. The lily would never have prefigured a resurrected life and Golgotha would tower as the Mount of Terror to the soul as it faced suffering and death. But to us, because Jesus is risen from the dead, the tomb has become the gateway to life eternal, death is robbed of its sting and the grave of its victory. For as the Apostle Paul said, "And if Christ be not risen then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain . . . ye are yet in your sins. . . . If in this life only we have hope in Christ we are of all men most miserable. . . . But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. . . . For when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, 'Death is swallowed up in victory.' "

Who Goes There?

Conference Treasurer reports this week that just $404.93 has been raised on delegates' expenses. The total for the entire annual conference is $1,800. Some distance to go yet. It certainly would not look good for the 30,000 members of the Methodist Protestant Church to be without representatives at the Uniting Conference. And it would be pretty hard on the thirteen men and one woman to be compelled to "thumb their way" to Kansas City. If they must, it might be well that they begin to practice catching a ride right away.

Who Goes There? Those whom the church sends, and since they are being sent to help set up a Church for future generations, as well as for the present, no local Church should fail to raise its allotment for this cause. And it ought to be sent in by the middle of April; our delegation will need to start around the 23rd of April.

I love the man who dares to face defeat
And risk a conflict with heroic heart;
I love the man who bravely does his part
When Right and Wrong in bloody battle meet.

—Azora S. David.

The world is grasping after a cheap Christ, for ours is a cheap world, and a cheap Christ does not condemn its sinfulness and superficiality.—Dr. William Ward Ayer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PAUL PREACHES THE RISEN CHRIST

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, April 9
By REV. O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text—Acts 13:16, 23-31, 38, 39; I Corinthians 15:19-22.

Golden Text—"But now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep." I Corinthians 15:20.

The major theme in the heart and mind of Christianity this week is the risen Lord. Of all the varied emphasis of the Christian message none is so vital nor so motivating as these startling words "He is risen." With this great fact lies the conquering power of the Christian movement. If the forces that feared and fought this Jesus of Nazareth could have found a successful way to have killed this one major fact, than all other efforts would never have been needed. That crime on the cross could have been a "perfect crime" if sin had not allowed this one clue to remain. Paul, who is Christianity's most important spokesman, admitted this when he said to the Corinthians that if Christians had only a hope in Christ without this knowledge of His being risen then they of all men and movements would be most pitiable and defeated. If those few soldiers at the tomb could have done their job in keeping that stone in place they would have had the honor of stopping what all the combined powers of their whole Roman empire found it impossible to do later. The officials did all to conceal it that could be done. They fixed up the very believable story that His body had been stolen; and with all human experience to say that this was more rational than to believe Him risen; beyond a doubt, if it were not so true it would have served to have ended the whole case. Since time and experience have, to so many, proven His resurrection to be a fact, now their vain efforts seem childish. When they argued with Paul after his experience on the Damascus road that Christ was not risen, it was as if they were saying to him that because they had seen the sun go down the evening before they were still saying that although it was light the sun was not risen. The futility and failure of their tactics recalls to mind this old legend concerning the strife between God and Satan.

The legend has it that when God was creating the earth Satan, His declared enemy, saw His work and sought some way of upsetting it. Now when God had completed the earth He desired that there be some vegetation and beauty therein. He sowed or broadcast various seeds over the land, and as they lay on the earth Satan appeared. He set upon this plan to destroy; he says I will bury all these seeds in the ground and let them decay. This he did, but to his own defeat there sprang up over all the earth vegetation and beauty according to the purpose of God. In spite of all the efforts of soldier, scholar, tyrant, traitor or demon "now hath Christ been raised from the dead; the first fruits of them that are asleep."

Paul is perhaps the strongest evidence we have to offer to an unbelieving world that Christ is risen; for here he is preaching a risen Christ and he had had nothing to do with Him before His death. He was not swayed by the personality of this Jesus to the point that he saw hallucinations in his grief, as they had accused his former disciples. Paul was thoroughly convicted against these men and women who had been with this Jesus and only through contact with the same life could he have been so radically changed to believe as they believed. Only his knowledge beyond a doubt could have turned Paul to renounce all his former conclusions and security to take upon himself the affliction and the struggle of preach a risen Christ. Paul could have fooled everyone else in this matter sooner than he could have fooled himself. If Christ's appearances were "fixed" stories what would have prompted Paul to have been a party to them? He had not been with Jesus as a disciple, and he therefore needed not this explanation to hide any feeling of defeat in the death of the Master. Unless Paul was thoroughly convinced that Jesus was not dead and that He was the Saviour so long looked for by Israel, the rest of His life just would not make sense. When he renounces his religious office and prestige to follow after Christ's teaching, when he is beaten with many stripes and imprisoned, when he is facing physical death in Rome, the only thing that can explain his side of the phenomenon is his passionate conviction that "to live is Christ and to die is gain."

> "Your Christ is dead, the Romans said;
> Into the land of Galilee, His frightened, pail
> Disciples fled.
> But Caesar's guard was sleeping hard.
> Again along the Syrian Sea,
> The Risen Christ His followers led."
>
> —H. W.Farrington.

◆

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE FOR KERNERSVILLE-SOUTH WINSTON CHARGE

The second quarterly conference for the Kernersville-South Winston charge will convene in the Kernersville church Saturday, April 15, 1939, at 2:30 p. m. Important business will be transacted, including the selection of nominees for delegate to the next annual conference. We trust that every official member will be present, and hope that many of the members from the different churches will attend.

C. B. WAY, Pastor.

◆

TREASURER REPORTS

Below is the amount received on each item as of April 1st:
World Service, $2,089.71.
Delegates' expenses, $404.93.

Very sincerely,
J. H. ALLEN.

UNITING CONFERENCE NEWS

Local Church Night at Kansas City
Wednesday, May 3, 1939

Among the outstanding things to be enjoyed in Kansas City will be Local Church Night, Wednesday, May 3. There will be an outstanding speaker for each of the three churches. The nationally known Fisk Jubilee Singers of Fisk University, Nashville, Tennessee, will be another feature of the program. The program, subject to minor changes, follows:

Worship: Led by William F. Quillian, General Secretary, General Board of Christian Education, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Prayer: Harry Wright McPherson, General Secretary, Board of Education, Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Fisk Singers: Messages in Song.

Addresses: (1) "We Need God," J. Leas Green, pastor Salisbury Methodist Protestant Church.

(2) "We Can Discover God," Arlo Ayres Brown, President Drew University, Madison, N. J.

(3) "We Can Make God Real in These Times!," Paul Quillian, pastor First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Houston, Texas.

The Fisk Singers: "Lord I Want To Be A Christian In My Heart," etc.

Benediction: F. L. Gibbs, Executive Secretary, Department of Religious Education, Board of Christian Education, Methodist Protestant Church.

Sub-Committee Arranging Program:
J. Q. Schisler,
N. F. Forsyth,
F. L. Gibbs.

"THE METHODISTS ARE ONE PEOPLE"

This is the title of a book written by Dr. Paul N. Garber of the faculty of the School of Religion of Duke University. (It is printed by the Cokesbury Press and may be bought from our Book Concern in Baltimore at a dollar a copy). It is not a large book as books go, having only 144 pages.

But for those who want to know something of the long movement toward the unification of Methodism, it is the most valuable book I know of. Here is the history of the causes of division and of the efforts toward reunion which bring us to the Uniting Conference.

As a Methodist Protestant I am especially grateful to Dr. Garber for his fine presentation of the past our church has played in unification. Dr. Garber pays repeated tribute to the contribution our leaders, especially Dr. Lewis and Dr. Straughan, have made.

As soon as I had read the book, I wrote Dr. Garber a letter thanking him for it, and expressing my personal appreciation of the place he had given our Church and its leaders in bringing union about. He has this to say in his reply:

"My research and writing of this book was very thrilling and one thing that I am grateful for is that my investigation gave me a new viewpoint on the Methodist Protestant Church. Your branch of Methodism is certainly to be congratulated for its work toward Unification and its sacrificial spirit in the consummation of it."

I commend this book to any who are in doubt about the issues involved; and, who, perhaps, are still a bit prejudiced in their attitude toward the union of Methodism. It will answer many of your questions, and throw new light on many phases of the subject.

I think I ought to say that I am writing this commendation of Dr. Garber's book voluntarily; that is to say, he did not send me the book for review. I bought a copy because I wanted to know all I could find out about this whole movement. And he has not asked me to review the book or to write a commendation of it. I am doing that because I think every Methodist Protestant ought to read it.

C. W. Bates.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF ANNUAL CONFERENCE COUNCILS OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

At this time of the year much attention is given toward the work of annual conference councils of Religious Education, due to the fact that much preparation is being made for the summer series of schools. Each council has its own plan of financial support. Some have appropriations from annual conference budgets; others depend on free-will offerings from local church organizations; while still others levy an assessment on each Christian Endeavor society, Church, or Sunday school. Some conferences have a special day set aside for boosting the work of their council and, at the same time, encouraging giving for work being undertaken.

One of the most significant plans is the one sponsored by the Indiana conference known as Indiana School of Methods Day. This day will be celebrated Sunday, May 7th, or nearest Sunday thereto. Suitable worship programs have been arranged for each church and also a short Bible drama entitled, "Peter Meets the Stranger." These are suggested for the morning and evening services and can be used by any church or young people's group. Special envelopes are available for your offering. Our slogan—"Each church in Indiana observing the day in some manner and taking an offering for camp activities." All offerings to be sent to Mr. James Keith, 1600 South 1 St., Elwood, Ind., not later than June 1st.

There are now 26 councils organized throughout the Methodist Protestant Church. We urge that financial support be given them especially at this time of the year since they are undertaking, with our Board of Christian Education, the largest series of summer conference schools ever conducted, during the summer of 1939.

F. L. Gibbs, Executive Secretary.

"No one could tell me where my soul might be,
I searched for God, but God eluded me,
I sought my brother, and I found all three."

Don't talk about minor members in your church, God's children are all of major importance.—Col. F. J. Miles, England.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

A BALLAD OF THE TREES AND THE MASTER

By SIDNEY LANIER

Easter is at one and the same time the most solemn and most joyous season in the whole church calendar. Christmas is a happy time; we hear the glad songs of the angels as they joyfully announce the birth of the Infant Jesus, the Saviour of the world. But at Easter time we remember the shameful crucifixion and death of this same Saviour; then our grief is turned into joy on the glad Easter morning as we celebrate His resurrection. The Christian church, founded on the principles and ideals which Christ came to establish in the world could not have existed had not Christ been born a child and lived among men; but that same church would have been lost and destroyed forever if the divine plan of Christ's cruel death for his ideals and the glorious fact of the risen Lord had not been accomplished on that Easter morning so long ago. The church was founded on the cross, but it has survived because of the empty tomb.

Though the definition holds true, in the main, that poetry is the overflow of powerful feelings, it is also a significant fact that many of the great mystic forces which are of greatest import in our lives are generally the most inarticulate. Words are things of power, but often they stand in the way of the expression of the deepest emotions of our souls. That, I think, is what Edgar Lee Masters meant in his poem, Silence, when he said, ''we are voiceless in the presence of realities.'' Therefore, it is true that we find comparatively few matchless poems on these great subjects that are most mystic in meaning.

Though Sidney Lanier is not one of the world's greatest poets, nevertheless, as Percy Boynton has said, he is not out of place in such company as Bryant and Lowell and Morris and Arnold. He, no doubt, will finally be best remembered for a scant half a dozen poems, those which show his deepest spiritual faith and the vastness of Nature that drew him to a trust in the Infinite above us. Such poems as The Marshes of Glynn and Sunrise, and yet the finest expression, perhaps, of his poetic ability lies in the two or three ballads which he wrote. Most loved of these is A Ballad of the Trees and the Master, written during the very last months of his life, when the poet himself was nearing the end of life from a dread disease which he had fought unsuccessfully for years. This poem reflects simply but with an unusual height of artistic ability his reverent discipleship of his Master, and catches in great solemnity the very spirit and quiet of the groves of gnarled olive trees on the Judean hillsides where Christ was accustomed to withdraw for prayer and meditation. The power of the poem lies in more than description; it is in the deep, sacred feeling inspired by the solemnity of the occasion and the dignity and brooding quiet of the woods themselves.

Bryant has said, ''The groves were God's first temples.'' The Christian is wont to withdraw into man-built temples for comfort and solace when the great sorrows and tragedies of life overwhelm him. To many the solemnity of quiet groves gives a consolation that is not found elsewhere. In this poem Lanier has shown us Christ, in the most tragic moments of His life withdrawing thus, and from the hours of communion with His Father in the peace and quiet of the centuries-old olive groves he goes out content to bear the shame and ignominious death on the cross in order to carry out the divine purpose for which He came into the world—to die on a cross made from the wood of the very trees that had offered Him refuge.

This poem gives only the tragedy of the cross, but it prepares the way for the joyful ''Hallejuhs'' of Easter morning when Christ broke the bonds of death asunder and emerged the triumphant Lord who lives forever, and gives to the world the priceless hope of immortality.

''Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forspent, forspent.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forspent with love and shame.
But the olives they were not blind to Him;
The little gray leaves were kind to Him:
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content.
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last,
From under the trees they drew Him last:
'Twas on a tree they slew Him—last
When out of the woods He came.''

The President's Letter

(Continued from Page Two)

for Home was $125.00. Auxiliaries making fine progress on their budgets. Some payments have been made on A. C. budget. Hope to raise delegates' expenses during this month. Have lost three members by death.

Bonlee Church: Appreciation Year apportionment three-fourths raised, pastor paid to date, regular offering sent to Home, new stoves for two Sunday school rooms, large picture of Jesus and the disciples placed back of pulpit.

Spiritual as well as physical interest increasing at each church.

Appointments

Sunday, April 9, Halifax Charge, 11 a. m. Bethesda; 3 p. m. Ringwood; 7:30 p. m. Hollister.

Sunday, April 16, 11 a. m. Grace Church; 7:30 p. m. Calvary.

Sunday, April 23, 11 a. m. Welch Memorial—after that the Uniting Conference.

A joyous and blessed Easter to all.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Well, they are both at it again! At what? Why, this business of raising World Service in full. This week two of the boys who had sent in the names of churches which had gone over the top in the Appreciation Year campaign sent in the name of additional churches as follows: Rev. Aubert Smith says the last church on the Siler City charge, Hope Church at Bonlee has finished raising World Service. In the same mail came a card from Rev. T. G. Madison of the Cleveland charge saying that the Lawndale church had finished its quota of World Service. This gives Cleveland charge two churches which are over the top. Congratulations to these churches and these two energetic young pastors! Now, Mr. Makeup Man, put these two churches in the column of honor following those that occupied that place of distinction last week. Let the Hope Church, Siler City charge and the Lawndale Church, Cleveland charge be an inspiration to other churches to go over the top also.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.

PERILS OF THE LUKEWARM CHURCH

An enthusiastic people make an influential church. But too often the church members rely for enthusiasm on their minister. A pastorless church says to itself: "We want to find a man whose enthusiasm and power will not only stir us up to enjoyment and influence, but give us credit in the community." In a word, the pastor is to carry the congregation on one shoulder and the community on the other. On these terms it is clear that neither church nor pastor will make any definite and effective impression. The pastor who has his own church to carry, will have time and strength for little else. The chances are that he will exhaust himself in doing what is, after all, no part of his legitimate work, and at last withdraw disheartened, to leave another vacancy, from the midst of which a voice cries, "Give us a drawing preacher."

How much more according to the mind of Christ is an organizing Church—a church that can not be killed or discouraged because it is too busy about its Master's affairs to recognize death or discouragement, a church which works with its pastor and does not lean upon him. "You cannot make the church over," said an older man to a younger. "It has so much of the Lord's work to do, and is so busy doing it, that it will assimilate you and use you and make you over in its own image." Who would not prefer to be the pastor of a church like this, rather than of the richest and most self-contented idle congregation on the main street of Laodicea?

The peril of the lukewarm church is unfruitfulness. And in our changing world the certain end of barrenness is death. To die out in the midst of the press of living souls and vital questions—to merely go to extinction of dry rot, like a tree that has fallen—worst of all, to go down to an ignominious decrepitude while self-satisfaction is whispering lies about a false prosperity—this it is which makes even the patient God impatient. "I know thy works, that thou are neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth."—Congregationalist.

"THE LAST ROUND-UP"

For the last time I am appealing to the members of our church through the pastors to pay the assessment for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference not later than April 10. Unless this is done some of our delegates may be compelled to remain at home.

This conference will be the most important ever held by Methodists in the United States, for it will celebrate the birth of a new and better and more thoroughly consecrated organization dedicated to the solemn task of saving humanity from sin and death.

To have a part in making such an organization possible is an honor and a privilege that all Methodist Protestants ought to hail with a joy that ought to be unspeakable and full of glory. It will not be possible for all of us to be present at this great conference in person; but it will be possible for us all to be there representatively.

So, at the request of the President of our Conference, I am making this last appeal to our churches to meet this apportionment in full. Brothers M. A. Coble and Dr. S. W. Taylor, members of the committee, join me in this urgent request.

Sincerely yours,
Geo. R. Brown, Chairman.

P. S. Send the money to Mr. J. H. Allen, Treasurer, Reidsville, N. C.

NOTICE!

The Second Quarterly Conference of Randleman Charge will meet at Worthville Church next Saturday, April 8th, at 2:30 p. m.

There will be a Sunrise Service at Mt. Lebanon Church, Randleman, next Sunday at 4:45 a. m. Rev. Jas. E. Swinson who is the pastor of Trinity Baptist Church will be the principal speaker. There will be special music also.

Easter program at Mt. Lebanon at 7:30 p. m.

C. L. Spencer.

◆

There is a church that is as beautiful as a cathedral,
But harmless and quiet as a tomb;
But there is a church that is as ugly as a hovel,
But a dynamo of social energy and moral power.
—Ralph G. Saxe.

THE RAINBOW

A shower of rain—a shining sun—a bridge of many colors that arches the sky yet seems firmly anchored to the earth appears. Who built the bridge? What is the reason for the rainbow? Early recorded history, the very first book of the Bible (Genesis 9:13) establishes this unusaul natural phenomenon as a beautiful bond between God and man, between heaven and earth—"I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth."

The cause of the rainbow is the reflection and refraction of the sun's rays as they fall on the glistening drops of rain. All of us know what a reflection is. Our likenesses are reflected in mirrors; trees and water plants are reflected in the crystal clear surfaces of lakes and rivers; refraction means literally "a bending back," and that is exactly what happens in the formation of a rainbow. When the ray of sunlight passes into the drop of rain, the raindrop acts like a prism and the ray is bent back, scattered in different colors whose reflection we see in the sky. The sun is shining at our backs; the rain is coming down in front of us; and the sun and shower—the rays of the sun penetrating the continuous drops of rain—build the bridge between earth and sky.

There are seven colors in each rainbow—violet, indigo, blue, green, yellow, orange, red. These colors are formed by the sun's rays that reach the human eye at a certain angle: the angle for a particular color never varies. The casual glance of the naked eye rarely would distinguish more than four or five colors. But the seven are there, each with its own particular wave-length, the size of the band it makes depending on the size of the raindrop the ray of the sun is penetrating.

A complete rainbow is made up of two sets of concentric bands of colors. One is known as the primary bow, the other the secondary bow. The primary bow is the inner, more brilliant bow. Here the red is on the outside, the violet on the inside. The colors of the primary bow pass the eye in this manner: the sun's rays are refracted in penetrating each raindrop, reflected from the inner surface, and refracted again as they come out of the drop. In the secondary bow the colors are reversed, and there are two internal reflections to each drop of rain, fainter, less distinct than those of the primary bow. In this secondary bow the red is on the inside edge. Sunlight itself when analyzed is formed of the seven colors of the rainbow. When the sun is high in the sky, the rainbow is lower. No bow is seen if the sun is higher than forty degrees.

"The rainbow comes and goes
And lovely is the rose."

So sang the poet Wordsworth centuries after the Old Testament writer of Genesis established it as a covenant between God and man. Peoples of all nations, both Christian and pagan, pause in reverence before the rainbow. The rainbow to man has always been a source of hope and happy adventure. How often romance and legend fire the imagination with fanciful tales of the hidden pots of pure gold waiting at the end of the rainbow for the seekers of treasures.—Jennette Edwards, in The Ambassador.

CHRIST'S TOUCH

Christ has come down to us and taken all our nature upon Himself. If there is an outcast and abandoned soul on earth which may not feel that Jesus had laid a loving and healing touch on him, Jesus is not the Saviour for the world. He shrinks from none, He unites Himself with all; therefore He is able to save to the uttermost all who come unto God by Him.

His conduct is the pattern and the law for us. A church is a poor affair if it be not a body of people whose experience of Christ's pity and gratitude, which has become theirs through His wondrous making Himself one with them, compels them to do the like in their degree for the sinful and the outcast.

The sins of professing Christian countries are largely to be laid at the door of the church. We are idle when we ought to be at work. We pass by on the other side when bleeding brethren lie with wounds gaping to be bound up by us. And even when we are moved to service by Christ's love, and try to do something for them and for our fellows, our work is often tainted by a sense of our own superiority, and we patronize when we should sympathize, and lecture when we should beseech.

We must be content to take lepers by the hand, if we would lead them to purity, and let every outcast feel the warmth of our pitying, loving grasp, if we would draw them into the forsaken Father's House. Lay your hands on the sinful as Christ did, and they shall recover. All your holiness and hope come from Christ's laying hold of you. Keep hold of Him, and make His great pity and loving identification of Himself with the world of sinners and sufferers your pattern as well as your hope, and your touch, too, will have virtue. Keeping hold of Him who has taken hold of us, you, too, may be able to say, "Ephphatha, be opened," or to lay your hand on the leper and he shall be cleansed.—From sermon by Alexander Maclaren, D.D.

◆

He is dead who sees nothing to change,
No wrong to make right;
Who travels no new way or strange
In search of the light.
Who never sets out for a goal
That he sees from afar,
But contents his indifferent soul
With things as they are.—Selected.

◆

Man is larger and stronger than his environment. No burden was ever heavy enough to crush manhood out. No sorrow was ever greater than the heart can bear. God never made a coward, nor has He anywhere held up as a model a nature that would break under sorrow. The whole Book of Job centers around this single test: that no affliction or evil could crush him. Man is not a worm to be trodden down, but a child of God. He is made to have dominion, to put all things under his feet. The agonies of Gethsemane may fall with frightful weight, but they cannot crush him. The cross will hurt, but cannot harm.—D. O. Mears.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

By REV. JOSEPH COBLE

THE GREATEST VICTORY OF ALL TIME

April 9, 1939

By REV. RAYMOND W. WHITE

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, April 3—Victorious in temptation. Matt. 4:1-11.

Tuesday, April 4 — Victorious in testing. Matt. 22:41-46.

Wednesday, April 5—Victorious over demons. Luke 4:31-37.

Thursday, April 6 — Victorious over Nature's fury. Mark 4:35-41.

Friday, April 7—Victorious over persecution. Luke 4:28-30.

Saturday, April 8 — Victorious over another's death. John 11:38-44.

The Text: I Cor. 15:1-20. (Easter).

To the Leader

Here is our Easter topic. It is a glorious topic. Jesus did live a victorious life from start to finish. His greatest victory over death. Our great encouragement is the fact that we can be victors through Him, the greatest of victors. We can be victors in all of life's conflicts and in the end, through Christ, be victors over death. His victory is the victory of every true believer. This topic affords the opportunity to exalt Jesus, the victorious One, and to point out the stupendous victory He won on the first Resurrection Day. It gives the chance to testify to His victory in our lives and our victory in every day living. This topic will be discussed on Easter Day, the greatest day in the church calendar year for introducing our relatives and friends to the Victorious Christ and the Victorious Church. Exalt His Name, be a living witness of His redeeming grace, and earnestly labor in His kingdom of love.

Questions for the Open Forum

1.—In what ways was Jesus the greatest victor of all time?

2.—What was the secret of Jesus' victory?

3.—What do you think was Jesus' greatest victory? Reasons.

4.—What is the real meaning of Easter?

5.—How may the victories of Jesus be the victories of men?

6.—What victories in life does Jesus help us win?

7.—What victories does Christ expect us to win for Him today?

8.—What preparations do we need to assure us victory in life? In death?

9.—What is the secret of a victorious life?

10.—Is a victorious life always victorious? Explain.

11.—How may one build up inner strength for inner and outer conflicts?

12.—What word can you offer to the discouraged? What help can you give?

The Poet

Of wounds and sore defeat
I made my battle stay.
Winged sandals for my feet
I wove of my delay.
Of weariness and fear
I made a shouting spear.
Of loss and doubt and dread
And swift oncoming doom
I made a helmet for my head,
And a waving plume.

From the shutting mists of death.
From the failure of the breath,
I made a battle horn, to blow
Across the vales of overthrow.

—Arthur Unknown.

Little Gems

The smile of God is of victory.—Whittier.

Victory, with advantage, is rather robbed than purchased.—Sir P. Sidney.

A victory won over self, is the only victory acceptable to God.—Chas. Noel Doublas.

Victories that are cheap are cheap. Those only are worth having which come as a result of hard fighting.—Beecher.

The victorious life is not optional for the Christian. Anything less is not normal.—New Testament Christianity.

Topic Hints

The Victor: Jesus Christ was the greatest victor of all time. His victory over death was His greatest victory won. Christ was Victor in every conflict encountered. Not once in His life was He defeated. He was victorious over temptation and sin; He was victorious over those who tried to trap Him intellectually and theologically; He was victorious over the schemes of His enemies and over the denial of His friends; He was victorious over the death of others and the death of Himself. Jesus was victorious over the grave. Thank God, Jesus lives.

The Victors: Because Jesus was Victor, we shall be victors. Our Master's repeated victories is God's evidence that men in the flesh and in the world can win victories. His life in the flesh is an example of the possibilities of men in the flesh. He was a perfect example of "what life in the long run does to us depends on what life finds in us." God was in Christ. He would not be defeated. Satanic forces crushed the Truth, but He arose. God was in Him. His reliance on the Father and His oneness with the Father are examples which have charmed and charged the victors who have successfully marched onward under His guidance and leadership. Standing next to Jesus, the saints have been the greatest victors of all time.

Victory in Defeat: The great, radiant souls of earth—the Davids, the Shakespeares, the Lincolns—knew grief and affliction as well as joy and triumph. But adversity to them was never defeat. In the crucible of character their suffering is transmuted into song.

Defeat may serve as well as victory
When the great oak is straining in the wind,
The boughs drink in new beauty, and the trunk
Sends down a deeper root on the windward side.
Only the soul that knows the mighty grief
Can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come
To stretch out spaces in the heart for joy.

—Edward Markham.

Victory in Failure: To fail is not a disgrace; the disgrace lies in not trying. In his old age Sir Walter Scott found that a publishing firm he was connected with was heavily in debt. He refused to take advantage of the bankruptcy law, and sat down with his pen to make good the deficit. Though he wore out his life in the struggle and did not live to see the debt entirely liquidated, he died an honored and honorable man.

I call no fight a losing fight
If, fgthing, I have gained some straight new strength;
If, fighting, I turned ever toward the light,
All unallied with forces of the night;
If, beaten, quivering, I could say at length:
"I did not deed that needs to be unnamed;
I fought—and lost—and I am unashamed."

—Miriam Teichner.

Victory in Conflict: Fortunate is the man who has struggled through the doubt and despair of life into the calm, untroubled sea of unchanging peace. Fifty years after the death of his friend, Alfred Tennyson wrote what was the supreme expression of the peace that came to him through tumult, the matchless poem, "Crossing the Bar." His son said to him, "That is the crown of your life-work." The poet agreed and later said to the son, "Mind you put 'Crossing the Bar' at the end of my poems. This is the farewell message of the man who, after struggling for more than half a century to know the victory of peace, at length came to know repose through confident trust in his Pilot, Jesus Christ. He was victor. Christ was his Pilot in life and in death."

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

—Alfred Tennyson.

◆

TWO IMPORTANT MATTERS

First: Appreciation Year. Post card information from Brothers Surratt, O. B. Williams, and C. E. Ridge are encouraging. Brother Williams thinks chances for full pay are good on North Davidson. Brother Ridge reports that Friendship has sent in W. S. in full this week. Two of the churches on his charge are out now. We are also encouraged by reports from Brother Pritchard regarding some of our eastern churches. We are sure that A. Y. is being pushed throughout the conference and that a great deal of money will be in the count when the program ends April 30th. But we must not forget that time passes rapidly. The time now is short, and what we do must be done under pressure. But much can be done in a little while when we give ourselves to it. We do earnestly hope that no charge will let up until the last possible dollar has been raised.

Second: Delegates' Expenses. Brother Grant called me yesterday (Sunday) to say that Richland charge has just finished raising this allotment. Asheboro will send in the full $40 this week. Brother Henderson told me just recently that Saxapahaw had paid in full. Many other charges, no doubt, have done the same. Brother Pritchard has charged me, along with Dr. Brown and Brother M. A. Coble, with the responsibility of urging the payment of this allotment. Hence this appeal. Please let no charge fail in this. We must not let our delegates bear their expenses in attending the Uniting Conference, as they will have to do unless the small allotment given to each charge is paid in full. And again the time is short. Brethren, let's have this money in the hands of Treasurer Allen at the very earliest possible date.

Easter blessings on everybody.

S. W. TAYLOR.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$1,056.19
Shoals, Pinnacle	2.00
Gray's Chapel	2.00
Reidsville	6.25
Calvary	15.00
Graham "Love Gift"	15.00
Welch Memorial	5.00
Salem, Sax.	2.00
Enfield	10.00
Friendship, Mt. Herman "Love Gift"	5.00
Mrs. Humphreys, Bethany, Flat Rock, "Love Gift"	1.00
Kistler's Union "Love Gift"	5.63
Miss Martha Parson and Sister "Love Gift"	2.00
Flat Rock, F. R.	3.00
Grace, Sutton Phila. Class "Love Gift"	[illegible]
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Coble, Bellmont, N. H.	5.00
Bethesda, N. D. "Love Gift"	8.00
Asheboro "Love Gift"	5.00
Sapling Ridge	5.00
Sapling Ridge "Love Gift"	3.10
Lincolnton "Love Gift"	2.00
Children's Circle, Maple Springs, "Love Gift"	2.00
Kannapolis	5.00
Mt. Pleasant, N. D. "Love Gift"	4.00
Fountain Place Church "Love Gift"	4.50
Fountain Place Young People's "Love Gift"	6.31
Lexington State St. Sunshine and Mission Band	5.00
Thomasville 1st Church "Love Gift"	50.00
Rehobeth, Granville	4.50
Oak Grove, Lawndale	.75
Mount Pleasant, Cleveland	.52
Moriah, Cleveland	2.49
Haw River Circuit	7.50
Creswell "Love Gift"	1.00
Pine Bluff	1.00
Total Minnis Fund	$1,257.74

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer
N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

THANK OFFERING

Amount previously reported—Fall	$ 874.40
Amount previously reported for February	675.96
Shoals, Pinnacle	10.00
Lexington, State Street	9.15
Mebane	14.00
Hebron, Orange	7.80
Bethel, Alamance	15.00
Hollister	3.74
Shiloh, Shiloh	12.60
Giles Chapel, Richland	20.00
West End, Greensboro	12.00
Calvary	50.00
Gibsonville	17.14
Welch Memorial	14.00
Mt. Carmel, Lex. 1st.	4.00
St. Paul, Greensboro	2.20
Burlington	63.00
Concord, 1st.	32.58
Union Chapel, Granville	8.26
Eden	4.00
Pleasant Hill, W. For.	7.40
Bethesda, N. C.	10.00
Brower's Chapel, Rich.	14.53
Sapling Ridge	8.50
Haw River Circuit	25.05
Spring Hill, N. D.	2.00
Lawndale	6.75
Lawndale (Fall)	10.29
Laurel Hill	1.00
Love Joy Church	5.00
Baltimore, W. For.	1.15
Oak Grove, Lawndale	9.00
Mount Pleasant, Cleveland	8.85
Moriah, Cleveland	5.00
Total February Thank Offering	$1,089.95
Total Thank Offering to date	$1,964.35

In making list of March 20th I failed to list Seagrove, Love Joy, $8.00 However, this item was included in the total. The item listed Seagrove, Love Joy should have been Love's Grove.

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer
N. C. Branch of Women's Work.

NOTICE TO DISTRICT CHAIRMEN

Please report to me the important happenings in your districts since last Branch meeting. If you do not mail it by next Monday, bring or send it to Branch meeting at High Point next Wednesday. I had hoped to get out a letter to each District Chairman but have been so busy I could not get to it. I am asking that you take this as a personal request, and do your best to help give a complete picture of all that has happened worthwhile throughout the Branch.

MRS. C. W. BATES, Chairman of Districts, Brown Summit, N. C

MRS J. CICERO STOCKARD WILL SOON HAVE BIRTHDAY

On Friday of next week, April 14th, Mrs. Stockard will reach her 72nd birthday.

During the early part of last September she suffered a paralytic stroke. Having lost all use of the left side of her body, she has been in bed since that time.

Mrs. Stockard has a clear mind and reads each copy of the M. P. Herald. More than a month ago she had a severe attack of influenza. It seems that her usual strength cannot be regained. Her condition is not now regarded as critical, however, she is apparently growing weaker. Mrs. Stockard is not able to be taken out of bed as formerly.

For nearly forty years Mrs. Stockard has been a faithful member of Mt. Hermon Church on Mt. Hermon Charge in Alamance County. She lives at the old Stockard homestead formerly owned by her father-in-law, the late Capt. John Richard Stockard. The residence is 5 miles southeast of Graham.

Quite often Mrs. Stockard speaks of her former pastors now living namely: Revs. W. F. Ashburn, A. O. Lindley, J. A. Burgess, J. Elwood Carroll, L. E. Mabry, and T. J. Whitehead. Each of these ministers will recall her loyalty to her church during their pastorates; also a number of other ministers in our conference will remember having been entertained in her home during revival meetings at Mt. Hermon Church.

A friend of Mrs. Stockard wrote us about her birthday next week. We hope that her former pastors and other acquaintances in this state will send cards and greetings to reach her by April 14th. Her complete address is Mrs. J. Cicero Stockard, Graham, N. C., R. F. D. 1, Box 256.

Certainly any remembrance will be deeply appreciated and bring a lot of cheer in her declining days.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Ai, Kernersville, for two quarters	$ 3.47
Mrs. Mary K. Horner, Siler City, personal	1.00
Greer's Chapel S. S., Shiloh	1.12
Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	1.66
Clark's Chapel S. S., Weaverville	1.00
Midway S. S., Haw River	4.38
Rockingham S. S.	2.00
Bess Chapel S. S.	4.11
Harmony S. S., Yarboroughs	1.00
China Grove S. S.	2.50
Baraca Class, Mebane	2.46
Canaan S. S., Davidson, double for March	7.00
Union Chapel, Granville	14.50
Caroleen S. S.	3.35
Bellmont S. S., Mt. Hermon	7.36
Kistler's Union S. S., Cleveland	3.07
Stallings S. S., Mecklenburg	2.00
Woman's Auxiliary, Arlington, Va., Easter clothing for a girl	9.00
Woman's Aux., R. I. Ave., Washington, D. C., for shoes	4.00
Circle No. 4, Burlington, for shoes	4.00
Circle No. 5, Burlington, for shoes	3.00
Hope S. S., Siler City	1.00
New Salem S. S., Randleman	2.50
Ladies' Aid Soc., Progue, Okla.	2.50
Glen Raven C. E. Soc., clothing child	5.00
Glen Raven C. E. Soc., extra for shoes	3.00
Inwood, L. I., Easter clothing for child	8.00
The Ethel Hempstead Circle, Inwood, L. I., feeding child	5.00
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	3.34
Moriah S. S.	4.50
The McCulloch Bible Class, Grace Church, dress or shoes	4.00
Missionary Society, Mason, Mich, for shoes	1.50
Woman's Aux., Cambridge, Ohio, for shoes	2.50
Circle, Burlington, for shoes	3.00
Glen Raven C. E. Soc., clothing child and extra for shoes	8.00
Girl's Club, Wakeford, Chicago, for shoes	3.00
Woman's Aux., Priston, Mo., for clothing	.50
The Ethel Hempstead Circle, Inwood, L. I., feeding child	5.00
Rehoboth S. S., Creswell	5.00
Ladies' Aid Society, Elwood, Ind., feeding child	5.00
Creswell S. S., six months	12.00
The Philathea Class, Henderson, for shoes	2.50
Spring Church, Spring Church, Jan., Feb., and March	4.13
Rehoboth, Granville	10.00
Central S. S., Asheboro, March	40.00
Central S. S., Asheboro, April	40.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

Individual boxes of clothing for Easter outfits are beginning to come in. These are answered direct by mail. These packages greatly aid us in getting our children ready for spring.

First Church, Thomasville, a package of towels, wash cloths, soap and coupons.

Spring Hill, North Davidson, cakes for school lunches.

(Continued on Page Fourteen)

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Mt. Carmel Church, Rev. L. E. Mabry, Pastor. — The Woman's Auxiliary held its March meeting with Mrs. J. T. Swicegood. At that time new officers were elected. Miss Zula Swicegood is to represent the Auxiliary at the branch meeting which meets in April.

The Y. G. A. circle is lined up to do some good work. They have elected officers for the following year. This group of young girls are very active and sincere.

The children are giving an Easter program Easter Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Miss Virginia Helmstetler and Mr. Oscar Kennedy were married Saturday, April 1, by Rev. L. E. Mabry, the bride's pastor. After a brief trip they will be at home on Lexington, N. C., Route 5.

The past week Mrs. Julia Waitman passed away. She was the wife of the late Obediah Waitman. Mrs. Waitman was one of the oldest members of Mt. Carmel, she being 86 years old. Funeral services were conducted from Shiloh Church Wednesday.

BEAUTUS WAITMAN.

◆

Whitaker's Church, Rev. W. L. Loy, Pastor.—We are still living as a church; our organizations all doing fairly good work. Our pastor has filled all of his regular appointments, giving us good spiritual sermons; visiting the sick and others. He, with the Baptist pastor, has conducted a religious survey of the town and surrounding community, and we are hoping for an increase in interest and attendance as the spring advances. There has been some sickness among our members but hope they will all soon be able to be out again. Our hearts go out in sympahty for one of our faithful members, Mrs. R. A. Bradley, in the loss of her husband. We commend her to the God of Peace for comfort and consolation in her time of sorrow. We have held our quarterly meeting since my last report. Success to the Herald.

REPORTER.

◆

Lawndale, Cleveland Charge, Rev. T. G. Madison, Pastor.—Since our last report we had our annual union revival, with some wonderful spiritual food. Rev. J. W. Grace of Hight Point was secured to do the preaching, but could be with us from Sunday until Wednesday, when he was stricken with influenza, and had to go home. But we were indeed fortunate in secure Rev. W. L. Harkey from Lincolnton, N. C., who brought some wonderful messages. Christians were strengthened and backsliders reclaimed. A man around 35 was gloriously saved. His wife has a much brighter look. We were all made to rejoice with her and his aged mother who is an invalid. He really is enjoying his salvation and lined up with the Evangelistic Club which means much to the church and community. He also is joining up with the M. P. branch.

Last night Rev. F. G. Madison preached a very interesting sermon. His text being from II Peter, first chapter, and ninth verse.

On Tuesday night, March 21, the Woman's Auxiliary met at the parsonage with Mrs. T. G. Madison as hostess.

There was not so many present, but part of the Oak Grove Auxiliary were visitors. Mrs. Madison, the president, presided and Mrs. Eskridge in her usual way conducted the devotional part of the program, which is always very impressive. During the business session new officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. T. G. Madison; vice-president, Mrs. Fred Richards; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Mamie Neal; devotional leader, Mrs. Grover Eskridge.

Mrs. Madison was elected delegate to the branch meeting.

We are very sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Mae Williams' sister who is in the Shelby Hospital. May we sincerely pray for her to be sent home to her children if it be God's will.

REPORTER.

◆

Chestnut Ridge, Orange Charge, Rev. C. P. Morris, Pastor.—Our church is still on the active list. With the aid of our pastor and his good wife we hope to climb and reach our goal set for us by the conference. It appears that our members are taking an interest in the Appreciation Year program.

The congregations are very gratifying and uplifting. There is some fine class work in our Sunday school classes under the leadership of our superintendent, Mr. John Hobbs. Plans are being made for an Easter service and we hope to have some of our empty pews filled to show how much we appreciate Rev. Mr. Morris' sermans. We can't go wrong on him; he always has an inspiring message and it is always that kind that we can think over during the coming week, and feel that we have been lifted spiritually.

We plan to open the doors of our church on Easter Sunday morning and we hope to have some active members come to us.

The Ladies' Auxiliary conducted our spring Thank Offering service on Sunday, March 12. The play, "The Parable of His Kingdom," was presented by members of the church. The message of the play was well explained and an offering of about eleven dollars was received. Mrs. O. F. Jones, with other members of the church, worked hard and deserve much of the credit for the success of the play.

ANNIE RUTH PENDER, Reporter.

◆

Eden, Halifax Charge.—The winter months have not interrupted our regular church service and Sunday school. Attendance has been unusually good for the winter season

A pageant, Shrines, was given in the church on the first Sunday night in February. The participants enacted their roles well and it was very impressive.

Work on the improvement of the church ground has been started. The ground has been broken and fertilizer worked in. A few evergreens and flowering shrubs have been put in. We hope to plant others later.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has held all regular meetings with good attendance.

We have been made sad by two visits of the Grim Reaper. In January, Dr. F. M. Parker was claimed by death. Dr. Parker was of another denomination and was highly esteemed by us and all others who knew him. We sincerely mourn his passing. Our hearts are profoundly moved with sympathy for Mrs. Parker.

In February Mrs. A. M. Neville was called home. "Miss Cad," as she was lovingly known to her many friends, was the oldest member of our church. She united with Eden Church in her girlhood and continued to be a faitful member through many years. She had reached her eighty-fourth year. She will be greatly missed and we will cherish her memory.

Ralph Hardee Rives is recovering from a fall in which he sustained a serious fracture of the shoulder. He was confined to a hospital bed for several weeks but is at home now. He is wearing a cast which will be removed soon. Ralph Hardee is the eight year old grandson of Mr. J. W. Hardee. Mr. Hardee has been very ill for about ten days. We hope he will recover soon. There are quite a number of people on the sick list just now. We wish for all a speedy recovery. Influenza has been prevalent several weeks. However, it is on the wane now and spring is here again and we hope for greater activity in all phases of our church work.

REPORTER.

◆

Bethany Church, Randolph Charge.—Our Sunday school is moving along nicely. We had 132 present for Sunday school Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society presented a play entitled, "Lydia, A Seller of Purple" the third Sunday night in March. A nice sum of money was realized for the World Service budget. We hope to have it raised in full soon.

The Christian Endeavor met Sunday night with Lura Johnson as program leader. Swana Baldwin will be the leader next Sunday night.

Mrs. Clarence Baldwin is improving after a recent illness. Miss Frances Ellis is sick at this writing. We hope they will soon be back at church.

The doors of the church will be opened the third Sunday morning.

DORIS WOOD, Reporter.

◆

Corinth, Littleton Charge. — Our pastor, Rev. Broome, filled his regular appointment at this church Sunday at 11 o'clock. He brought us a very inspiring message. We were very glad to have Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morris of Richmond, Va. worship with us Sunday.

The Second Quarterly Conference will be held at Littleton College St. church Saturday, April 15th at 2 o'clock. Please all official members be present.

Glad to report that our choir leader, Henry Morris, is geting on nicely. He had the misfortune to cut his thumb off about two weeks ago.

We are asking all the members of this church and anyone else who is interested to meet at the church on Easter Monday morning to help clean the church yard and cemetery. On Monday afternoon the Sunday school will give an egg hunt.

MRS. B. F. MORRIS, Reporter.

◆

Grace Church, Greensboro, J. Elwood Carroll, Pastor.—Palm Sunday was an impressive day in our church. The worship service was unusually inspiring with the floral decorations and palms and cut flowers, the anthem and quartet by the members of the choir, and the sermon by the pastor. At the conclusion of the sermon new members were received and babies baptized.

Our choir is doing excellent work these days under the leadership of Mrs. R. E. Morrissett as organist and director. On Palm Sunday the choir sang, "Ride On, Ride On"

(Scott), and a quartet composed of Mrs. Paul W. Hall, Mrs. W. A. Hornaday, C. P. Bull, Jr., and LeGrand Kidd, rendered "All Glory, Laud, and Honor" (Teschner). Special music wil be provided for the communion service on Thursday evening and also for Easter Sunday.

Five members were received into the church Palm Sunday: Mrs. C. B. Huffines and two sons, Charles, Jr., and Jimmy, Mrs. James E. Coltrane, and Miss Lelia Patterson. Following the reception of members the five following babies were baptized: William Henry, III, son of William and Frances Hunter; Carl, Jr., son of Carl and Mary Tate; Louola Marie, daughter of Warren and Bertha McCulloch, and Billie Anne and Mary Ben, twin daughters of William and Mary Williams.

Caroleen, Rev. H. D. Garman, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointments Sunday. Both services were attended by a fine crowd. Our Sunday school attendance has been much better for the past few Sundays.

There is a movement among the young people to supply our church with new hymnals. We are proud of the cooperation of our members in helping to send a coop of chickens to the Children's Home for Easter.

We are also proud that many that have been on the sick list are improving. We hope for the others a speedy recovery.

LOIS HOLLIFIELD, Reporter.

First Methodist Protestant Church, High Point, N. C.—Our pre-Easter Sunday services were both well attended. At the morning service little William Darrell Bulla, Jr., was christened. The children's service was held at the evening service and eleven children joined the church. Prior to this service Mr. Madison had been training the children for church membership. Special music was furnished by the Junior church choir and the ushers were from the Junior church.

Our missionary year has begun again, with a successful years behind us. The new Auxiliary officers are: President, Mrs. J. H. Walker; 1st vice-president, Mrs. G. T. Humphreys; 2st vice-president, Mrs. Lewis E. Teague; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Garland; corresponding secretary, Miss Myrtle Davis; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Koonce. The circle chairmen are: Mrs. Percy Payne, Mrs. Hobart Ferree, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. Worth Ivy and Miss Georgina Dosch. Projects have been eliminated this year and we are hoping to fulfill our obligations with pledges.

The Auxiliary is busy making plans for the Branch meeting, which convenes next Wednesday and Thursday at our church. Miss Myrtle Davis, church secretary has asked that all who want reservations for the night to please notify her at once.

This week there will be services at the church each night. Monday night Mr. Madison was the speaker, Tuesday night Dr. J. E. Pritchard preached, Wednesday night Dr. G. I. Humphreys spoke, on Thursday night we will observe Holy Communion, and on Friday night a children's pageant, "Out of the Easter Garden," will be given.

The annual three-hour Good Friday service sponsored by the churches of the city will be held at our church Friday, beginning at 12 o'clock noon. The service will be presided over by Rev. A. Lincoln Fulk, pastor of the N. Main Baptist Church and president of the local Ministerial Association. Various pastors will speak during the three hours.

We regret to report that Mrs. J. A. Lee, a faithful teacher in our Sunday school is very ill. We hope her condition will be much improved by the time we make another report.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

North Davidson Charge, Rev. O. B. Williams, Pastor.—Sunday was another good day with us. We had a goodly number in Sunday school. With interest good and attendance growing with the beautiful spring weather. We are striving for a greater Sunday school and praying that those of us who attend may let our light shine out that we may draw more people to Sunday school and to Christ. Our church attendance is also growing. Rev. Mr. Williams brought us a wonderful heart-stirring message Sunday on "Witnessing For Christ." He asked us to witnes for Christ in our every day life. We feel that some times we fail to do our duty as His witnesses but we hope to do more for His cause as Christians. Mr. Williams is working hard in our community for the upbuilding of the church and the cause of Christ. May God help us to do great things at Canaan this year.

ARLENE BERRIER, Reporter.

Pensacola, Rev. W. C. Clark, Pastor. — Quarterly Conference was held at our church on March 26.

Miss Kathleen Hensley, teacher of the Junior class in Sunday school, awarded attendance prizes to Betty Wilson, June Wilson, Pearl May Galloway and Lawrence Calloway recently.

Mrs. C. W. Robertson renewed her subscription to the Herald.

MRS. W. G. BLANKENSHIP.

Worthvile Church, Rev. C. L. Spencer, Pastor.—Because there has been no report from this church lately doesn't mean we have been sitting on the "Stool of Do Nothing."

First I will say that our faithful pastor has filled each of his 2nd Sunday morning and 4th Sunday night appointments at our church and those that are absent at these services are the losers, for he preaches Bible doctrine. We do feel that every church member should hear their preacher every service that's possible. He needs us as listeners, and we need what he has to say. Its strengthening to each other to worship together as a whole.

The "flu" has been prevalent in our village during the last two months. Quite a number were disabled for work or church going. But now that the flu has almost subsided and spring has come our attendance is increasing and we hope it continues to increase until we are 100 per cent present at all the church services.

On the first Sunday night in March Mrs. W. C. Hammer brought an interesting message on the "Missionary Work of the M. P. Church.'

Last week Mrs. Spencer organized an auxiliary at Worthville. This is the first in a number of years here. Although we are few in number we trust much good may be accomplished. Mrs. Spencer was elected president, Mrs. W. H. Trogdon vice-president, Mrs. D. J. Allred recording secretary, Mrs. C. O. Byrd corresponding secretary and treasurer.

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Primary and Intermediate classes of the Sunday school gave an Easter program using the pageant, "The Festival of Life.' The children did well considering the short time used in training.

We were glad to have Mr. Spencer on our program at this time. We were also glad to have a number from Randleman church as visitors. We welcome all visitors.

I am especially pleased to report the $10.00 collection at the Easter service and our 1st Sunday collection at Sunday school for Children's Home, was $10.00. The annual conference expense of $15.00 has been paid, also the Uniting Conference Welegates' expense of $6.00 for our church was sent in last week. May we ever press onward.

The Second Quarterly Conference will be held at Worthville Saturday, April 8th at 2:30 o'clock. Let every church on the charge be represented.

MRS. C. O. BYRD, Reporter.

Granville Charge, J. P. Pegg, Pastor.—The Second Quarterly Conference convened at the parsonage April 1. All churches were well represented. After the business session, dinner was served by the ladies of the churches. Rev. J. D. Cranford, and his wife and son were present with us for the conference. Mr. Ralph Finch of Mt. Carmel, and Mr. James Cozart, Jr., of Rehoboth were selected as nominees for delegate to the coming Annual Conference. Mr. H. B. Hicks was not able to come to the conference. He was greatly missed. We hope his health will be improved in the near future.

The Auxiliaries have had a very successful year. All are excellent workers at each of the three churches. The following are expected to attend as delegates to the Branch meeting. Union Chapel: Doris White and Leslie Woodlief. From Mt. Carmel: Mrs. E. F. Smith and Mrs. C. B. Finch. From Rehoboth: Virginia Rogers and Virginia Kittrell.

Mrs. Thurman Stone and Mrs. Sam White are at their homes after having spent several days in the hospital in Henderson.

Mrs. Lucy Woodlief passed away recently. She was in her 87th year. She was known and loved as the oldest member of Union Chapel. She reared a large and useful family. Her influence will live on in the Kittrell community. Her life was a testimony of her faith in Jesus Christ. We extend our prayers and sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Lee T. Mitchell is back at church again after being in ill health for some time. We are glad she is so much improved in health.

J. P. PEGG.

Liberty, Aubert M. Smith, Pastor.—The Womans' Auxiliary met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. B. J. Gregson, president of the Auxiliary as hostess.

Mrs. R. L. Elkins was program leader and gave a very interesting reading on the life of Charles Edward Forlines, from his humble birth and boyhood struggles to the presidency of Westminster Theological seminary.

Mrs. George R. Brown conducted the devotional.

New officers were elected as follows: Mrs. J. E. Cox, president; Mrs. C. L. Highfill, secretary-treasurer. The Auxiliary was divided into three circles.

The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious salad course by Mrs. Dwight Gregson and Miss Anna Lee Gregson.

The society gave Mrs. Gregson a rising vote of thanks for her untiring efforts and the many things she has done for the Auxiliary the past year.

The following delegates were elected to attend the State Branch Auxiliary meeting to be held in High Point in April. Mesdames J. E. Cox, C. L. Highfill, R. L. Elkins, and A. J. Brower.

Pollyannas were revealed and presents exchanged.

William L. Hardin, a member of the board of stewards entertained other members of the board at his home Friday night at a church business meeting. After the business was transacted the host was assisted by his mother, Mrs. Wade Hardin, in serving a salad course.

An Easter program is being prepared by Mrs. Margaret Shepard Martin and others.

Mrs. F. A. Shepard and brother, Dr. J. F. Amick, motored to Princeton, Va., to visit their uncle, Mr. "Billy" Amick and Mrs. Amick over the week-end.

Our Young People's Day offering amounted to $40.00.

The mid-week prayer services, a union of all the churches in town are well attended and much interest manifested. "What a privilege to carry everything to the Lord in prayer."

The Christian Endeavor topic for Sunday evening was: "I Would Be Strong." The secret of a Christian's strength is in the fact that God supplies him with power. "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

BERTINE SHEPARD, Reporter.

◆

COMMUNITY METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH OF THOMASVILLE

The Community Methodist Protestant Church of Thomasville is beginning a series of meetings to last through the week proceeding Easter. The theme of this meeting will be Christ and the Way. A different topic will be discussed each night.

These are:

"The Tragedy of the Way."
"The Urgency of the Way."
"No Other Way.'
"False Ways."
"Closed Doors in the Way."
"Entrance in the Way."
"The Victory of the Way."

There were meetings at the different homes in the city in preparation for this meeting. The speakers at these were Rev. Johnson, Mrs. J. Clyde Auman, Mr. C. L. Berrier and Mr. J. W. Boyles. Each gave a short inspirational talk to the appreciative groups. With an interesting subject for the revival and the enthusiasm created by these short "Get-to-gethers" it is expected to be one of the best meetings the church has had in some time.

Mrs. C. F. Finch is to have charge of the music and has planned for singing that everyone will want to hear and will also want to sing.

Big Tombstone
MARBLE 17.95
Genuine Marble and Granite Memorials of lasting beauty Lettering FREE Overall size, height 30 in., width 20 in., thk 8 in Footstone FREE Freight paid Satisfaction guaranteed Free catalog
American Memorial Co., Dept C-19 Atlanta, Ga.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Mrs. Sarah Jane Pritchett.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Pritchett was born June 19, 1850, and departed this life February 25, 1939, reaching the age of 88 years, 8 months and 6 days. In early life she took Christ as her Savior and united with Friendship Methodist Protestant church of which she was a member until death. She was loved by all who knew her, and she was ever ready to help any one in need or trouble.

She was married to Isaac Pritchett June 27, 1869. To this union ten children were born. Three children preceded her in death some years ago. Her husband also departed this life in 1932. The following children survive to mourn their loss: J. Tom and D. L. Pritchett, Mrs. Fannie Zimmerman, Mrs. Emeline Busick, Mrs. Sallie Cole, Mrs. Myrtle Apple and Mrs. Bessie Cook. She is survived also by 49 grandchildren and 47 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Pritchett was laid to rest in the cemetery of Apple's Chapel Christian-Congregational church on Sunday afternoon, February 26, 1939, the service in the church being conducted by Rev. C. W. Bates, pastor of Friendship church assisted by the pastor of Apple's Chapel, Rev. Mr. Moody.

C. W. B.

◆

In Memory of Mrs. Mary F. Shoffner.

A month ago there was need in heaven of another angel, and so on the first day of February when the evening shadows had covered the earth God said, "Come Mary, it is enough."

For over a year mama had suffered. On January 26, 1938, when she was recuperating from a three months' illness she walked out on the lawn and fell and injured her hip. She walked but little afterwards, with the aid of crutches. Local doctors and Duke hospital specialists did their best for her. Prayers ascended to heaven daily for her from rich, poor, black and white; among these were those of a devoted Sunday school teacher and class, a faithful pastor, and a host of friends of all ages, including tiny tots who called her "Aunt."

Mama, when a small girl of four, her dying daddy called her to his bedside and placing has hand on her head said, "Mary I am going to leave you today, to live with Jesus and I want you to be a good little girl and meet me in heaven. These words sank deep into her heart and at the age of 12 she gave her heart to Jesus and joined the church. From that day until her death she lived a beautiful life. A life so celan, so faithful, so true that others could see and feel that she had been with Jesus. Winning souls for God was her greatest joy.

She loved Bellmont church and was never satisfied unless she was doing something for it. She served as class leader for ten or twelve years and did it well. For many years she conducted mid-week prayer service and in the later years the Sunday night prayer service. But it is the Philathea class that is going to miss her most, for she lived for this class. Acting as treasurer for a number of years and then president for many more years, she won the love and admiration of all the members. Although she was unable to attend church for over a year she was still counted as president—no one felt capable of taking her place. She lived so close to God that her prayers lifted others to Him.

People say of her, "She will never die, her influence lives on in the hearts of all who knew her."

She was more than a mother to me, my father having died before I was born made us very near to each other; she was mother, father, sister, brother, and "best pal" to me. Both of her sisters died, one leaving a baby, Freddie, aged four, and a boy, Walter, aged six; both of these children were taken into our home. Another sister (many years before her death) sent her little girl, Lelea, to live with us. All three children became as sisters and brother to me, and mama never allowed selfishness to make any difference among us.

So close was her life to God's that He gave her a glimpse of heaven before death. She saw Jesus and three angels dressed in beautiful white robes and wearing bright shining crowns and she heard the sweetest music of heavenly voices singing, Then Jesus stretched forth his arms and spoke these words: 'Mary, come this way."

I love to think of her last days as being with an angel. She was so good, so humble, so submissive to God's will.

Yes, the golden gates were opened,
  A gentle voice said, "Come."
Calmly mama entered in
  And there awaits for each of us.

Her Daughter, ROMAH.

◆

Mrs. Mary F. Shoffner

Mrs. Mary F. Shoffner, wife of the late Thomas C. Shoffner, was born in Alamance County, N. C., March 27, 1879, passed away at her residence near Burlington, N. C., February 1, 1939. Aged 59 years, 10 months, and 4 days. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Ramah Shoffnes of the home, and several nieces and nephews.

For more than a year Mrs. Shoffner had been a great sufferer. Everything that medical science, loving hearts, and tender hands could do was done, but to no avail.

Her first strong impression of God and Heaven was made at the age of four as she stood at the bedside of her dying father when he placed his hand on her head and said, "Mary be a good girl and meet me in Heaven." At the age of 12 she was converted at a revival meeting at Friendship

Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE

Now Many Wear
FALSE TEETH
With Little Worry
Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wabbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath.) Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

M. P. church. She later joined the church at the Belmont M. P. church near her home. In this church she spent her life in beautiful Christian service. She loved her church and was never happier than when doing something for the church and the kingdom of God. Because of her strong belief in prayer she was often called upon to pray for those who were sick or in distress. She often led the mid-week and Sunday night prayer meeting at the church. She held for years the office of class leader in her church and was very faithful to the duties of that office.

The last days of her illness were days of intense suffering, but she bore it with patience and evidenced a strong faith in God to the end. She will be missed in the com munity, church and Sunday school. Her pastor will miss the inspiration her presence at the church afforded, an inspiration which every pastor who served this work felt and depended upon. The funeral service was conducted by the writer assisted by Revs. L. E. Mabry and T. J. Whitehead. The enterment was at the cemetery in the Belmont church yard.

May God in His infinite goodness comfort the loved ones.

J. P. ANDERSON.

Lois Anderson

Lois Esther Anderson, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Anderson passed from earth to rest safe in the arms of Jesus, Thursday morning, March 30, 1939, following a three week illness of pneumonia. The funeral service was held at Bethel Methodist Protestant Church, Friday, March 31, 1939, at 3 p. m. Rev. H. L. Isley, pastor, conducted the service. The body was tenderly placed in the cemetery of Bethel Church.

Lois was from a fine Christian home and possessed every trait of a child of God. When she was just a very small child she went in the Sunday school class and took as much a part in the stories, Bible verses and singing as the larger children. Lois was really a 'little sunbeam" in her class. Her sweet disposition won the hearts of all who knew her.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Anderson, a sister. Delette, a brother, Steve, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Whitley, all of Climax.

The parents, grandparents and all other relatives have the sincere sympathy of Bethel church and Sunday school.

MARY L. KIRKMAN.

Robert Adrian Bradley

On February ninth our little town was shocked at the sudden passing of Robert Adrian Bradley. He had recently passed his sixty-fifth mile post. "Bob," as he was familiarly known was quiet and unassuming in his manner but lived the principles that go in the making of a noble Christian citizen.

He was a regular attendant at the church services when his health would permit, and was interested in the things that stand for the betterment of humanity in state and civic affairs. He was a true husband, a loving and indulgent father, a kind neighbor, and a good friend.

WINTER FARM RELIEF!
Here's farm relief no farmer can afford to be without—EN-AR-CO (Japanese style) OIL. Stimulates local circulation for the relief of pains of Neuralgia, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Fatigue and Exposure, also the discomfort of Head Colds and Bronchial Irritation. EN-AR-CO has been doing it for over 50 years. Best insurance against a crop of troubles. Get EN-AR-CO today and get your quick pain relief. All Druggists.
MADE IN U.S.A.
NATIONAL REMEDY CO. NEW YORK

He leaves to mourn their loss his companion, the former Miss Lena Cutchin, two daughters, Mrs. Tom Cockey of Baltimore, Mrs. O. K. Dozier of Rocky Mount, three sons, R. R. and R. A. and Wiley of Whitakers and nine grandchildren. The burial service was conducted by Rev. W. L. Loy, pastor of the Methodist Church and interment followed in the local cemetery by the side of his little girl that preceded him a number of years ago. His grave was banked with beautiful floral designs, a token of esteem. May the God of Mercy minister to his dear ones as only He can in their time of sorrow and grief.

A FRIEND.

John Nelson Smith

John Nelson Smith, aged fifty-three years, departed this life on Sunday, March 26th. Three weeks prior to his death, Mr. Smith was apparently in good health, and working hard every day, After three weeks of intense suffering, he passed on. The wife, four sons, and two daughter are the immediate survivors.

The deceased was a loyal member of Lineberry church. He was also a hard worker, providing well for his household. He was particularly interested in the higher education of his children .

The funeral service was conducted from Lineberry church, March 27th. The writer was assisted by two former pastors, Rev. C. E. Ridge, and Rev. C. L. Grant.

WM. H. NEESE.

Mrs. Margaret E. Moore

Mrs. Margaret E. Moore of Bonlee, N. C. departed this life March 21, 1939. While Mrs. Moore had been in bed for several months suffering from a broken hip yet she was not seriously ill before her death but just a few days. At her death she was eighty-seven years old.

In early life she had been a member of the old Spring Field Methodist Protestant church but later became a member of Hope Church in Bonlee. She was a widow of Rev. R. R. Moore who was a local preacher of the Baptist church. One brother-in-law, Mr. E. M. Edwards and a number of nephews and nieces are her only immediate surviving relatives.

The children of the Methodist Protestant Children's Home and her church were dear to her. Of her means she contributed freely to these institutions. Of the many beautiful qualities describing her life patience and kindness stand out supreme.

AUBERT M. SMITH, Pastor.

Stone

Weatherly Stone, only son of Mrs. R. W. H. Stone, of Grace Church, died suddenly in Toledo, Ohio, February 24, at the young age of 31 years. He was an alumnus of High Point College.

Weatherly was a young man of adventurous spirit. After completing the secondary schools of Guilford County, he attended for two years High Point College and was a leader of his class. The quiet and shielded side of life had little appeal to him, therefore he traveled extensively for about ten years. Following 1934 he work on electrical construction jobs for about three years then again turned to the road of adventure.

His body was brought home Saturday and the following day funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, a college classmate, who has for more than five years been his pastor, and by Dr. S. K. Spahr, of Grace Church. Interment was in Green Hill Cemetery.

Weatherly was a clean young man of adventurous spirit. He loved the out-of-doors and thrilled at the challenge of realms unexplored.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

(Continued from Page Ten)

We sincerely thank all of you for these gifts and continued interest. Please help us up with the regular monthly offerings.

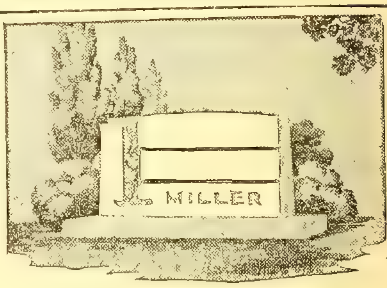
Branch Meeting

Delegates and visitors to the Branch meeting April 12th and 13th please remember that you are invited to visit the Children's home on the afternoon of the 12th from 4:30 to 5:30. Come at that time if you possibly can. We will arrange to be at home to you from 4:00 to 6:00 that evening, and will be looking for you.

A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

Our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually. It can be saved only by becoming permeated with the spirit of Christ and being made free and happy by the practices which spring out of that spirit. Only thus can discontent be driven out and all the shadows lifted from the road ahead.—Woodrow Wilson.



"For A Memorial Unto the Children of Israel Forever."

These were the words of Joshua when he built a lasting monument to commemorate the passing over Jordan.

So when we honor with a Memorial the one who has passed over Jordan, let us select a genuine and lasting Stone Eternal Monument fitting and expressive of his virtues and accomplishments.

Stone Eternal Monuments

are cut from perfect granite impervious to the elements. The beautiful tone and texture, freshness and brilliance of these monuments are unaffected by the ravages of time.

Stone Eternal Monuments and Markers are guaranteed and trade-marked. For your assurance, this mark of quality appears neatly cut on all Stone Eternal Monuments.

STONE ETERNAL

Write for booklet and name of authorized dealer in your community.

The Georgia Granite Corp.
Elberton, Ga.

DUKE EASTER CYCLE

Three major religious musical works are to be heard, in whole or in part, during the centennial cycle of Easter celebrations at Duke University, beginning Thursday evening through Sunday afternoon. They are: Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ," a traditional Easter oratorio; Bach's cantata titled "Christ lag in Todesbanden"; and a new cantata by Edward Hall Broadhead, university organist, "Now Cometh Thy Light."

The new work by the Duke organist is to be given its first complete rendition during the centennial celebration April 21-23.

Dubois' oratorio is well known to churchgoers. Many churches present it annually. It was last given at Duke in 1937. The Bach cantata, while not as widely known, is also often used to commemorate the Saviour's death and resurrection.

At 8 o'clock, Friday evening the Dubois oratorio is to be presented by the university choir, directed by J. Foster Barnes, with Mr. Broadhead at the organ. In addition to the usual music, there will be lighting effects and a continuity of descriptive reading, undertaking to set forth the proper moods for each of the seven last words.

The annual Easter sunrise service, a joint undertaking of the university and churches of Durham, is to begin at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Music will be furnished by the university choir, supplemented by voices from city choirs, a children's chorus, and a brass choir. The Easter meditation is to be given by President W. P. Few, and the oldest known Easter drama is to be presented as a part of the service.

At 11 o'clock Easter morning, Dean Elbert Russell of the school of religion is to deliver the sermon at the worship service in the university chapel.

The centennial cycle of Easter celebrations is to be concluded at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with the Vespers service centering around the Bach cantata. This is to be rendered by a small choir directed by Mr. Broadhead: and Dean Russell is to lead in the Vespers meditation.

◆

"EMPTY" SPACE NOT EMPTY; IS FILLED WITH MANY THINGS

"Empty" space, out between the stars, is anything but empty. Research by astronomers of the Carnegie Institution of Washington shows that all sorts of things are rattling around in it. Although it is much closer to a perfect vacuum than anything human means can produce in a laboratory, an average cubic yard of it is stocked with:

Twenty million free electrons.

Twenty million hydrogen atoms.

Five sodium atoms.

One potassium atom.

Four hundred thousand photons, or "light-darts."

In addition, there is one calcium atom for every ten cubic yards of inter-stellar space, and one titanium atom for several hundreds or thousands of cubic yards.

Large units of matter, averaging perhaps the size of a smoke particle, also float about, as ocsmic dust. One such grain might be filtered out of each 1,000,000,000,000,000,000 cubic yards of interstellar space.—Science News Letter, December 25, 1937.

◆

Our Lord has written the promise of the resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in springtime.—Luther.

MARRIED

Kennedy-Helstetler

On April 1, 2 p. m. at the parsonage of the bride's pastor, Mr. Robert Oscar Kennedy and Miss Virginia Caroline Helmstetler were united in holy matrimony.

The bride is the attracive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd and Sarah Helmstetler of Lexington, R. F. D. 5. The bride is also a very faithful members of Mt. Carmel Methodist Protestant Church.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kennedy of Lexington R. F. D. 6. He is employed by the Linwood Manufacturing Company of Linwood, N. C.

They will make their home with the mother of the bride on R. F. D. 5, Lexington. We wish for them a most happy and prosperous journey through life. May their home be a devoted home to the Church and the Kingdom of our Lord.

L. E. MABRY.

◆

Younts-Barnes

Mr. Howard Walser Younts and Miss Ila Barnes were united in marriage on March 11 by the writer at the parsonage.

Mr. Younts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Younts of Yadkin College, N. C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnes of Mocksville, N. C., R. F. D. 3

Our best wishes for them and a happy Christian home.

L. E. MABRY.

FACTS ABOUT WASHINGTON

John Wanamaker listed the following features in the life of George Washington, the first Presidnet of the United States:

He was born on Pope's Creek, Westmoreland county, Virginia, February 22, 1732, a descendant from an old, titled English family.

At the age of 14 he started to become a seaman, but gave it up in obedience to his mother.

At 17 he was a surveyor and was studying the Indians on their warpaths.

At 19 he was Adjutant General of the Militia.

At 20, by the death of his half-brother Lawrence, July, 1752, he became heir to Mt. Vernon, valued at $200,000.

He was married at 27, and was a farmer until 1774.

In January, 1775, he was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army.

He died December 14, 1799.

His last words were. "It is well."

Such are some of the facts that boys and girls should know and remember about the "Father of His Country."

These are the bare facts. About him, as about all men who did great things, there are many good books and biographies.

I think it is proper to say that from youth I have been greatly benefited by reading the biographies of men who did something.—Selected.

◆

Husbands are advised never to get angry at the same time their wives do. Gosh, daren't we ever get mad?

SUMMER SCHOOL

JUNE 12
to
AUGUST 11

Teachers may enroll for six weeks in courses carrying college credit.

ALL WORK FULLY ACCREDITED

Expenses

Matriculation fee	$5.00
Tuition (per semester hour)	$3.00
ROOM AND BOARD
Full session	$48.00
Six weeks	$35.00

- Courses for high school graduates, college students, teachers, and supervisors.
- Demonstration school for teachers.
- Excellent recreational facilities.
- Music instruction—class and private.
- Regular faculty and visiting instructors.
- Special Artist Course numbers.

For further information and catalog, address

MOWAT G. FRASER, DEAN OF THE COLLEGE, Director

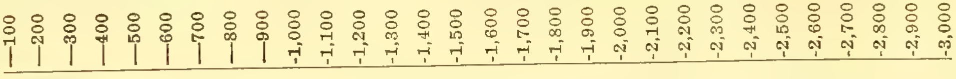
WINTHROP COLLEGE

SHELTON PHELPS, President ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 93%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	13¾	....
Albemarle	20	4¾	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	5	....
Asheville	13	7	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	2½	....
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	25	5.70
Concord	26	6	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship - Love's Grove	38	6¼	....
Forsyth	46	8	....
Gibsonville	24	2	....
Glen Raven	52	8½	....
Graham	30	12	....
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	6½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	4¼	....
Halifax	42	6	....
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	15	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2½	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	7½	....
Lexington, First	48	6	....
Lexington, State Street	28	3	....
Liberty	13	2½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3½	....
Littleton	46	4½	...
Mebane	27	4	...
Mecklenburg	35	2	...
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove church	10	1	...
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	12½	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	11¾	...
Mt. Zion	16	½	...
North Davidson	36	6	..
Orange	77	13	....
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	....	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	8¼	....
Reidsville	13	6	....
Richland	35	10	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5	....
Shiloh	65	6	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	8	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	9½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	10½	...
Whitakers	8	7½	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

IS IT POSSIBLE?

Is it possible that Methodism will ultimately destroy itself? To some this may seem a foolish question, but listen to what John Wesley once said. The author of "The Leaven of the Saducees" quotes Mr. Wesley as follows: "I am not afraid the people called Methodist should ever cease to exist in Europe or America, but I am afraid lest they should exist as a dead sect, having the form of religion without power. If Methodism is ever overthrown it will be at the hands of her scholars who neither believe her doctrines, nor practice her polity! These are the men from whom it must purge itself, or fall by its own weight." Was John Wesley correct in his views or was he just another old foggy? Is anything that miminizes sin and destroys the spiritual life in our young people right or wrong? Should money or spiritual life come first?

Has Methodism any right to do this or that just because the world does it? Did Christ get His standard of morals from the world? In II Thes. 2:3, Paul says: "For that day shall not come, except there came a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition." Dr. Clark says the Apostasy referred to here is world-wide apostasy of the church, and that in that day the world will have succeeded in eliminating from our churches everything that can save a sinner. G. L. REYNOLDS.

◆

Members of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Brown University chartered a plane to fly to the Dartmouth-Brown game.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

O. V. Warlick, Cleveland Charge	$1.00
By Pastor Madison.
J. H. Hatley, Friendship-Love's Grove Charge	1.00
By Pastor Cook.
Mrs. R. G. Payne, Whitakers,	1.00
Mrs. Minnie Gorham, Whitakers	1.00
Mrs. Frank Nunnery, Whitakers	1.00
By Miss Mollie Wheless.
W. H. Paschall, Vance Charge	2.00
By Pastor Cranford.
Arthur Richardson, Alamance Charge	2.00
By Pastor Brown.
Mrs. J. H. Kinley, Orange Charge	1.00
By Mrs. A. K. McAdams.
E. H. Coggins, Davidson Charge	1.00
By Pastor Neese.
T. S. Coble, Club subscriptions, Haw River Church	3.03
W. D. Payne, Mt. Pleasant Church, N. Davidson Charge	2.00
By J. R. Payne.
Rev. J. R. Anderson, Mt. Hermon Charge	1.00
Mrs. M. J. Morris, Littleton Charge	1.00
Miss Mary Jobe, Mebane Church	1.00
By Mrs. D. A. Pender.
Mrs. J. G. Sykes, Orange Charge	1.00
By Mrs. O. F. Jones.
Mrs. Emma B. Siler, Siler City	1.00
By Pastor Smith.
A. A. Doub, W. Forsyth Charge	2.00
By Pastor Ferree.
A. F. Berrier, N. Davidson Charge	2.00
Rev. Herman Yokely, Club subscriptions, Connely Springs	2.00
C. L. Taylor, Albemarle	1.00
By Mrs. C. S. Moton.
Mrs. J. R. Stuwart, Haw River Church	1.00
By T. S. Coble.

HIGLEY'S S. S. QUARTERLY FREE

Also ask for catalog of the finest line of Christian Worker's Supplies in this country. Agents wanted. Write Dept. J.
The Higley Press, Butler, Ind.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 13, 1939 NUMBER 22

Rev H L Isley R 1

The Uniting Conference of the Methodist Church Will Meet April 26 In Kansas City's Great Auditorium

Above—Night view of the Municipal Auditorium, where the Uniting Conference will be held. The lighted marquees indicate the front (north) side of the building.

To the right—View of the main arena of the Municipal Auditorium, set up for a band concert. For the Uniting Conference, the platform will be moved to the far end of the lower floor, and the floor will be filled with seats and desks for the 900 delegates. The arena comfortably holds 11,000 persons. With the lower floor devoted to desks for delegates it will hold approximately 10,000.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Obituary Committee for Rev. G. F. Millaway

I am appointing as the ministerial members of the obituary committee for Rev. G. F. Millaway, Rev. A. D. Shelton, Rev. W. F. Ashburn and Rev. J. W. Braxton. The laymen on the committee will be named before the next session of conference.

An Omission

Last week, in writing about Orange Chapel church on the Saxapahaw charge I might have said that this is the home church of Mrs. H. L. Isley, wife of the pastor of the Randolph charge.

Many Churches Raise Delegates' Expenses

For the past several weeks I have had cards and letters from a number of our pastors saying they had raised delegates' expenses in full. I have not tried to run the names of these churches for various reasons. Inasmuch as the amount asked for is comparatively small it is to be expected that the most of the charges will raise this and the list will be long. Then too, it was assigned to me to boost the raising of the World Service by keeping the names of all churches before the people which reach the quota and it did not seem wise for me to take two pages in addition to this one. But this work of raising delegates' expenses is important and all of us appreciate the work done by pastors and people.

A Sunday On Halifax Charge

Easter Sunday was spent on the Halifax charge, Rev. W. M. Howard, Jr., pastor. The appointments were at Bethesda at 11, Ringwood at 3 p. m. and Hollister at 7:30 p. m. My visit to Halifax charge is always attended by tender memories as this was my first charge. It was in Bethesda church where I preached my first sermon as a pastor. And it was in the village of Brinkleyville that we set up housekeeping. Here we received favors and were shown kindness which we shall never forget. The Bethesda church is one of our old organizations and has been a tower of strength to our cause in the days gone by. This was the home church of the Rev. W. H. Wills, D.D., one of the pioneers in the Methodist Protestant church. He is buried in the cemetery there. Several years ago a number of his descendents were active in the church, however, the most of them have either passed to their reward or have moved to other sections of the state. The church building has undergone some repairs recently which will add considerably to its appearance when finished. The family of Brother N. M. Harrison, father of Rev. N. M. Harrison of High Point College, has placed memorial windows in the pulpit in memory of Brother Harrison who for a long period of years was one of the leaders of this church. The windows consist of a larger one in the center and two smaller ones, one on either side. This will not only be beautiful and appropriate to his memory but it will furnish some ventilation to the minister which will be most acceptable in hot weather. Other repairs are to be made on the inside and the building is being painted on the outside. All of the members of Brother Harrison's large family have gone out from the community except Mrs. Harrison and two daughters, Mrs. H. W. Mitchell and Miss Ethel, however, they keep the home open and the Methodist Protestant ministers who pass that way may still drop in and find as genuine southern hospitality as is to be found anywhere. Congregations in the Bethesda church are not large any more, however, on last Sunday morning we had a goodly number of interested persons out for the services.

At Ringwood where the service was held in the afternoon the membership is very small as it has always been but in it are some very loyal people. The congregation there Sunday afternoon was considered good for that place. While there are a few people in the church who were there in my first days in the pastorate yet largely a new generation has grown up. Several people who are members of other churches attend our services there and help to make the congregations larger.

There was a splendid congregation present at Hollister on Sunday evening. This church has the best building on the charge. When the town of Hollister sprang up something like a mile from the former Lee's Chapel church about twenty-five years ago it was decided to move to a new location in the town. Consequently a new building with several Sunday school rooms was erected and the old building was disposed of. While Hollister did not develop as a city as some people thought it would, due to the principal industry being removed from there, yet it is the logical place for the church. A few of the ones who were active in Lee's Chapel church are still in the new church and in addition many new ones have either grown up or moved in so that now there is a splendid group.

This is Brother Howard's fourth year on this charge and he is very popular with the people. He is one of our best young preachers and is doing a good work. The financial situation in all of our eastern territory is much more difficult than it is in the central and western but he is carrying on any way. While the charge will not be able to meet all of its assessments yet I trust it may make a good showing. The people I talked with seem to be much in favor of Methodist Union and I think the situation will work out very satisfactorily in this section.

The Final Effort For World Service

Now that the time for raising delegates' expenses has officially closed I trust our churches will make the best possible use of the remaining two Sundays in raising World Service in full. The General church needs this money badly and we need to have the blessed experience of raising it.

The Meeting of the N. C. Branch

This Wednesday and Thursday many of the women of our church will be meeting here in High Point in the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work. I trust they may have a profitable meeting.

Pastors' Reports (Continued)

West End. Dr. R. M. Andrews, Pastor.—Church has decided to pay $1,500.00 on church debt this year. $550.00 has

(Continued on Page Seven)

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV — GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 13, 1939 — NUMBER 22

$646.00 Per Family

In North Carolina the taxes paid annually amount to $646.00 per family, or a total of $400,000,000. While no good citizen in any country is unwilling to pay for good government, one often wonders whether we get our money's worth. The constantly rising cost of living tends to lower the level of living; a thing which no government can afford to do for its citizens.

◆

A Good Suggestion

President Straughn has suggested that April 23rd be observed throughout the three Methodist Churches entering into union as a day of communion and prayer. All pastors are urged to make much of it; that it be a day of intelligent meditation upon the deep meaning of this great Christian movement. That the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper be observed and that prayers be offered that a new spiritual life shall come into American Methodism.

◆

The Uniting Conference

Here is a sketchy list of some of the happenings scheduled other than the regular duties outlined for the delegates:

Tuesday night, April 25th. A reception to all delegates.

Morning watch services each day at 7:30; meeting for prayer testimony, singing and a brief address by some outstanding speaker.

4 p. m. each day preaching services.

May 6th. Handel's Messiah will be given by 500 voices.

May 6th. All women delegates will be entertained at tea 2:30-5:30.

Each Saturday the National Broadcasting System presents "Religion in the News."

Sunday, April 23rd. The Columbia Broadcasting System presents a congratulatory program from England 5 to 5:15 E. S. T. The King of England is to speak.

April 25th. The Mutual Broadcasting System presents a world review of Methodism from 11:30 to 12 p. m.

◆

Pastor H. L. Isley reports that Shiloh, Randolph Charge, has paid the World Service budget in full.

Dr. Paschall reports that First Church, Burlington, has sent in its quota of delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference.

Pastor J. H. Trolinger reports that Seagrove-Love Joy Charge has paid its allotment on delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference.

Community Church, Thomasville, has this week sent in their apportionment in full for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference.

Christianity A Religion of Impartiality

In the very best of people is sometimes found the mercenary touch—the commercial attitude, the expectation of rewards for service. They set the level of their righteousness by their expectation of recognition instead of by their desire to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly before the Lord. Peter said, "Master we have left all"—what shall we receive? Satan accused the Partiarch Job of serving God for profit. "Does Job serve God for naught?" All who knew Job recognized his uprightness, but they also recognized his ability to get on in the world—he was a successful business man. And so Satan insinuates that that was the source of his devotion to the Lord. But Job's integrity was fully established in the subsequent trials he passed through making him a model for righteous living for all time, showing that the hour and wage question is not to be injected; there is no "Union-scale" of wages, no official Time Keeper's record preserved for the last day. Self-salvation is a vain, empty thing, with the Christian; for if man could save himself by his works then Christ need not to have died, and heaven would be filled with so much "high hatting" there would be no pleasure for the lowly saint.

Neither does the color of the skin count with God. The white race has a superiority complex, a feeling of greater importance in the world of affairs than other races, and yet the color of the skin will have neither merit nor demerit in the Great Day of Judgment when the secret of all hearts shall be disclosed. And then may be recognized those whose sighs and cries because of the sins of earth have daily risen to heaven, whose hungering and thirsting for righteousness have kept them busily engaged in seeking it instead the place of honor for unusual service and gifts may the "Come ye blessed of My Father inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

◆

Pastor O. B. Williams reports that North Davidson Charge has paid in full the apportionment for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference. Also that Canaan and Bethesda church have in hand or in pledges their full amount of the World Service budget.

How our delegates may go to the Conference: Dr. Forlines by train from Westminster, Maryland; Brother J. B. Hicks, by train from Henderson; Dr. Pritchard and A. J. Koonce by train from High Point; Mrs. Hammer, Dr. Taylor, W. F. Redding, Jr., and Mr. J. N. Norman Wills in Brother Redding's automobile; Drs. Paschall, Andrews, and M. A. Coble in automobile; we are not sure whether Drs. Brown and Bates and Brother L. L. Wren will go by train or automobile.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PAUL ESTABLISHES CHURCHES

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, April 16

By REV. O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text—Acts 14:1-7, 19-23.

Golden Text—As a wise master builder I laid a foundation: and another buildeth thereon. I Corinthians 3:10.

Paul and Barnabas are in Iconium laying the foundation for the building of Christianity and it is not surprising that they encounter hardship and opposition. The builder always finds the laying of the foundation rugged work, for he must clear away so much foreign material from the site in order to get a true foundation for placing the building. All Christianity is deeply endebted to St. Paul that he so courageously built this foundation as a wise master builder, for we who are now building thereon are building sure because of this good work. Starting with Jesus and following through with all the pioneers like Paul and Barnabas, we are forever blessed that they hewed true through rocky opposition, with sacrificial labor until a level was struck for the foundation of a building that would have been a wreck on any other level.

We are told that as they preached in the synagogue a multitude of both Greeks and Jews believed, but that the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles and made their minds evil affected against them. To some it is the savor of life and to others the savor of death according as men receive it. Just as the same sun melts wax and hardens the clay, or as the sun and rain, which make the living plants grow and bear fruit, are the instruments of decay to those which are dead. And those who believe against Christianity are just as missionary as the Christian and often more zealous than some, and they find it easy to turn the mind of the multitude against Christ. It seems that there is nothing which the world resents so much as an attempt to carry out a better measure than existed before. Beethen says that the world never let a man bless it but it first fought him; it never let him give it a boon without first giving him a buffet. If with one effort you should raise a tree twenty feet high, so as to make it forty feet high, you would not do more violence to its roots than you do to society, when you attempt suddenly to elevate it above its former level. If there were a hundred violins together, all playing below pitch, and one musician should take a master violin and bring it up to the true key it would cause all the others to sound horribly discordant and it would bring down wrath upon the true violinst. So with any reformer who tries to sound a true note in a discordant world. Thus Paul and Barnabas had to flee Iconium to avoid the assault of this reaction. Rather than compromise their preaching they fled to another city hoping to find a location that would yield to their gospel.

At Lystra quite a new problem faced them that proved just as dangerous and even more perplexing. On healing the impotent man the people rose up and tried to make Paul and Barnabas out as gods. It is a significant incident in Christianity. How were these men going to behave when success and acclaim came to them? We remember here that before the resurrection of Jesus the disciples were very anxious to be "first" in Christ's new kingdom. Now here is Paul, with Christ seemingly out of the way, being acclaimed as a god himself. What a temptation! Does it bring him joy or satisfaction? Of all the fear and misery Paul ever exhibited he expressed it on this occasion. In the prison houses with burning stripes on his back Paul was found serene and happy; at Lystra with oxen and garlands at the gate for his worship Paul is seen renting his garments and crying in fear that he was being defeated. These people had missed Paul's whole message, for they had failed to see Paul's beloved Master in it all. This shows the deep devotion that was from the first in the hearts of the Christians for Jesus who was the author and finisher of their faith. When Napoleon was on St. Helena, he once said to Count Montholon, "Can you tell me who Jesus Christ was?" And when the Count declined to answer, he said: "Well, then, I will tell you. Alexander, Caesar, Charlemagne and I have founded great empires; but upon what did these creations depend? Force. Jesus has founded His empire upon love, and to this very day millions would die for Him. . . . I think I understand something of human nature and I tell you all these were men as I am man. No one else is like Him. Jesus Christ is more than a man. . . . I have inspired multitudes with such devotion that they would have died for me . . . but to do this it was necessary that I should be present with my books or my words or my voice. . . . I have often thought of this. This it is which proves to me the divinity of Jesus Christ."—From History of Napoleon.

Thus Paul, believing in a Risen Lord felt that physical factors play no such part in his loyalty to Jesus Christ, for he ever lives and reigns supreme.

◆

CHILDREN'S HOME

The Home is needing a large, heavy roaster for each kitchen. Dr. Dixon has ask that the booklet fund pay for these. We can easily do this if you, the friends of the Home, will send in money for the histories you have. Let's do this at once.

MABEL RUSSELL,
1915 N. Main St.,
High Point, N. C.

◆

West End Church at its second quarterly conference chose Brothers L. M. Foust and C. S. Routh as nominees for the delegates to the annual conference, this fall.

◆

Pastor Strickland, First Church, Charlotte, went forth hunting for HERALD subscriptions last week and as a result secured the quota for his church. Brother Strickland writes that if a pastor goes after the HERALD subscriptions strong enough he will get them. That's true. Thank you, "Tommie."

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

LILACS

By Amy Lowell

Amy Lowell, born in Brookline, Massachusetts, in 1874, of a long line of publicists and poets, is one of the best and most versatile of our modern American writers. Very early she made up her mind to be a poet, and for a number of years she studied definitely for that profession, reading the classics of all schools, studying the technique of verse, writing much, but never attempting to publish anything. Since her first volume of poetry, published in 1912, she has produced many other volumes of verse, critical essays, and a monumental biography of John Keats. She died in 1925, and her posthumous volume, What's o'Clock won the Pulitzer Prize for that year.

It is in the brilliant colors with which her works are studded that she excels. Marguerite Wilkinson says of her: "The colors, scents, textures, and outlines of life are the materials Miss Lowell uses in her poetry." Another characteristic quality is the flashing, startling motion she imparts to her verse. She has been called the poet of the external and often in her poetry motion takes the place of emotion.

Lilacs illustrates as well as anything she has written most of her outstanding characteristics. It is written in free, unrimed verse combining in cadenced measures long and short lines that catch the sway and swing of the lilac bushes. The fresh, elusive fragrance of the lilacs brings the spirit of spring as completely as any flower that blooms, and Miss Lowell has caught all of this.

The poem opens with simple, descriptive words that describe the colors of the flowers:

"Lilacs,
False blue,
White,
Purple,
Color of Lilac."

Then we are led to deserted farmhouses or sites of old houses that all of us have known, where year after year lilac bushes have continued to grow, neglected and uncared for, but leaning forward as if they were seeking to find again the sights and sounds that long ago had been the life of the household:

"Lilacs watching a deserted house
Settling sideways into the grass of an old road;
Lilacs, wind-beaten, staggering under a lopsided shock of bloom
Above a cellar dug into a hill."

No other flower is more friendly, more of an inspiration to so many people, for few other flowers are found so nearly everywhere:

"You tapped the window when the preacher preached his sermon,
And ran along the road beside the boy going to school.
You stood by pasture-bars to give cows good milking,
You persuaded the housewife that her dishpan was of silver
And her husband an image of pure gold."

From the very earliest times poets have realized and expressed the romantic longings of people in the springtime to leave their prosaic occupations indoors and find release in the beauty of a blossoming springtime world. So the "quill-driving clerks" are tempted:

"You called to them: 'Goose-quill men, goose-quill men,
May is a month for flitting'.
Until they writhed on their high stools
And wrote poetry on their letter-sheets behind the propped-up ledgers."

Apropos of these very clerks we can almost see the smile of the author as she pokes gentle fun at the Puritanic characteristics that keep them

"Writing inventories in ledgers, reading the 'Song of Solomon' at night,
So many verses before bedtime,
Because it was the Bible."

She takes us back with something akin to wistful nostalgia to the haunting memories of days long gone by:

"You are of elm-shaded streets with little shops where they sell kites and marbles," but in the next line removes us in mood from childhood and transports us to the philosophic musings of maturity:

"You are of great parks where everyone walks and nobody is at home."

With a geographic description not unlike Walt Whitman Miss Lowell traces the presence of the lilacs throughout New England, and more than that, she pictures them as the very breath, color, fragrance, and spirit of New England in the springtime. She sums it up thus:

"May is lilac here in New England,"

and

"May is a full light wind of lilac
From Canada to Narragansett Bay."

So she comes, in the last stanza, to identify herself and her native New England with the lilac, as all of us, at one time or another, are led to identify the best of ourselves with some loved manifestation of nature:

"Heartleaves of lilacs all over New England,
Roots of lilac under all the soil of New England,
Lilac in me because I am New England,
Because my roots are in it,
Because my leaves are of it,
Because my flowers are for it,
Because it is my country
And I speak to it of itself
And sing of it with my own voice
Since certainly it is mine."

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is a rather solemn reminder that two weeks from now the Uniting Conference will be in session. I am constantly under a sense of burdensome responsibility which grows with the proximity of the meeting. In no sense at all do I feel alone in this. Nine hundred of us will get under this burden. Perhaps I sense the magnitude of the affair because I have been so close to it and realize just what must be done and what are the possible consequences.

Anyhow, all of us will go up to this place with the further feeling that we are about our Father's business and that if honestly and earnestly we seek His leading none of us need be afraid.

Registration card credentials have been mailed out to all delegates and alternate delegataes. Where the regular delegate cannot attend please advise your conference president at once so that he may notify the alternates in order. The president of the conference will notify me immediately of any change—his authority for the change is important.

Delegates will report to the Auditorium as soon after reaching Kansas City as possible; find the Registration Booth, present the credentials and get whatever information as may be necessary.

Day of Prayer for Methodist Union

Sunday, April 23, 1939, is the last Sabbath day prior to the assembly of the Uniting Conference. All Methodist churches are being requested to make this a day of prayer for this great gathering. It is in God's name we meet; it is His church going through the rebirth and renewal; we are but His servants. I do most earnestly urge all our pastors to bear this in mind. Prepare for it; speak concerning it. Bring your people to the altars and tarry there.

The Daily Advocate

A daily paper, ably edited by representative persons from all three churches, will be published in which detailed verbatim reports of everything said and done will be given. It will be a most valuable medium of keeping informed. Reports and speeches in their entirety will be printed. No newspaper, however full of information can approximate what will be found in this issue. It will cost $1.50 for the entire conference and will be mailed anywhere in the United States at that price. Send your name, address and money either to Mr. Chas. Reiner, 516 N. Charles Street, Baltimore, Md., or to Miss Edith Beck, 613 W. Diamond St., N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Prospectus, giving in full the reports of the eight great subcommittees on the principal subjects to be worked out, Missions, Education, Ministry, Publications, Pensions, Rituals, Conferences, Ministry,—also may be had for $1.00 at either of the above addresses. This is also a most valuable possession for any who care to follow the great debates and decisions. Copies have already been mailed to the delegates.

April 30—April 30—April 30

This is the end of the story as a financial record for the Methodist Protestant Church. Beloved, oh, my beloved, pastors and people—the time draws so very near. This is the last chance to put your church on the Honor Roll as having met your World Service payments in full. Do not wait. Whatever monies you have in hand send it to your conference treasurer at once. If the full amount is not in hand, well—get it somehow. And the Lord bless you.

The Appreciation Year Poster

There are a few of these lovely posters left although at one time it seemed we would not have enough. I have had many requests for them and at the time had to say "no." Now. First come, first served. Send fifteen (15) cents in stamps and they are your's while they last.

And now, my love to you all.

Jas. H. Straughn, President.

◆

THIS PLEASES

Curry: "I think we will have all the World Service on time." Braxton: "Delegates' expenses will be sent to Treasurer Allen, Monday the 10th, and W. S. Budget, Monday the 17th." This is in full for Mt. Pleasant charge. Auman, by phone today (10th): "Community Church will pay W. S. in full. All churches on North Davidson charge planning to do the same. Understand that First Church, Thomasville, plans to pay W. S. in full." (Brother Auman is chairman of that district). Madison: "Mt. Pleasant and Lawndale have paid W. S. in full. Hope to raise it at other churches soon. All churches will pay Delegates' expenses in full. Some have done so already." Surratt: "Expect to send in full payment this week for W. S. and Delegates' expenses."

I am sure that this can be many times duplicated, if I had reports from other pastors. I hope to have many more by next week.

Brother Irwin, the President of the Florida conference, writes that he thinks they are about two-thirds out on their entire allotment. Brother Clowers, a pastor of the Virginia conference, writes that his four churches have paid in full, and that he helped to raise the allotment at another church—his home church. All of this is encouraging. I hope to have a good word from some other conferences by next week.

Much can be done in these remaining weeks. May there be no let up on any charge until the day arrives when we must write finis to this undertaking.

April 10. S. W. Taylor.

P. S. Certificates are ready for all churches paying W. S. Budget in full. Please give me name of churches doing this and I will send certificates on to President Pritchard for his signature. He will then forward certificates to churches that are to receive them.

S. W. T.

◆

MINISTERS MEET

Dr. J. E. Pritchard will speak on the "Coming Uniting Conference" at the Piedmont Ministers Meeting, Monday, April 17, at 10:30 o'clock at Grace Church, Greensboro.

◆

With the Uniting Conference just two weeks off, as we write, we are becoming aware of the need of haste on the part of all pastors and people in raising the apportionment for delegates' expenses that they may send it in in time for the conference treasurer to disburse it before, or by April 22.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Well, here comes a new church this week ready to take its place with the others who have gone over the top in raising World Service in full. This church is Hickory Grove on the Guilford charge, Rev. J. B. Trogdon, pastor. A letter from Brother Trogdon last week brought this good news and he said that Fairfield church expected to go over the top this past Sunday. I hope they did and if they did I want to put the name of this church right up in this column. Now Mr. Make-Up Man, add the name of Hickory Grove church on the Guilford charge to the list of churches run last week and let them look down on us from that exalted position. Remember all you have to do to get in this column of honor is to raise your World Service in full and write the president of the Annual Conference about it and your church's name will go right up there. Now we want a long list for next week. Who will be next?

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.
Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge.

◆

The President's Letter

(Continued from Page Two)

already been subscribed by Sunday school classes and part has been paid in. Congregations have been good, Men's chorus has been organized, five members received into church, Woman's Auxiliary very active, Young People's offering between five and six dollars.

Saxapahaw Charge, Rev. M. C. Henderson, Pastor.—Sunday school rooms at Concord church have been paid for and will be dedicated the first Sunday in April. This church also hopes to raise World Service in full.

Siler City Charge, Rev. Aubert Smith, Pastor.—Siler City Church: Appreciation Year Apportionment paid in full, delegates' expenses paid, subsidy paid in full, pastor paid to date, A. C. expenses paid, regular offerings taken for Children's Home, Young People's Day offering $32.50.

Whitakers, Rev. W. L. Loy, Pastor (M. E. South Pastor serving our church)—The congregation of the Methodist Protestant Church at Whitakers gave an excellent financial report of their work at the first quarterly conference held February 19th.

Flat Rock, Rev. J. A. Burgess, Pastor.—Women have planted shrubbery around Flat Rock church; making special effort to raise W. S. by April 30th.

Tabernacle Charge, Rev. Eugene A. Lamb, Pastor.—Heating system installed at Tabernacle, Julian has raised World Service in full, best Thankoffering services during pastorate, Young People's Day services held at both churches with good results. February Thankoffering services held.

First Church, Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor.—Congregations at all services good, pledged $100.00—in full of General Conference claims, Young People's Day services held with fine results.

Shelby-Caroleen, Rev. H. D. Garmon, Pastor.—All appointments filled with increasing attendance, seven professions, one addition, plans being made for spring revivals, pastor's salary almost paid to date, effort being made to raise budgets, fine spirit of cooperation.

Rev. Fred R. Love Bereaved

On returning home last night I learned of the bereavement that has come to Rev. Fred R. Love, pastor of the Pleasant Grove charge in the accidental death of his brother near Savannah, Georgia. I am sure a large number sympathize with the family.

Appointments

Sunday, April 16, 11 a. m. Grace Church; 7:30 p. m. Calvary.

Sunday, April 23, 11 a. m. Welch Memorial.

J. E. Pritchard.

◆

CHRISTIAN COURAGE

Chrysostom before the Roman Emperor was a beautiful example of Christian courage. The emperor threatened him with banishment if he still remained a Christian. Chrysostom replied, "Thou canst not, for the world is my Father's house; thou canst not banish me." "But I will slay thee," said the emperor. "Nay, but thou canst not," said the noble champion of the faith again, "for my life is hid with Christ in God." "I will take away thy treasures." "Nay, but thou canst not," was the retort; "for, in the first place, I have none that thou knowest of. My treasure is in heaven, and my heart is there." "But I will drive thee away from man, and thou shalt have no friend left." "Nay, and that thou canst not," once more said the faithful witness; "for I have a Friend in heaven, from whom thou canst not separate me. I defy thee; there is nothing thou canst do to hurt me."

◆

Our Children's Home is to have an exhibit at Kansas City, showing pictures of all the buildings, grounds, and the children. Arrangements are made for all philanthropic institutions of the three uniting denominations to have their work presented there throughout the conference, and on May 14th, an afternoon will be devoted to this phase of the work of the Churches at the conference.

◆

We have the promise of several Herald agents and pastors that there will soon be sent in subscriptions and the Herald subsidy from the churches. Next week will be our last week to direct the affairs of the Herald in person until the Uniting Conference is over. Our arrangements have not yet been completed for our absence, but we hope will be made in a few days. But we sure would appreciate.

HABITS MAKE AND BREAK US

By NATHAN HOWARD GIST

What we are is largely determined by habits which we formed in the past. Human behavior follows a certain routine. We are creatures of our thinking, which develops into certain trends. As a man thinks, so is he. "Sow a thought and reap a habit" is a true proverb.

Much of our life is in the conscious mind. We realize what we are doing. We direct our own lives. But much of our life is in the subconscious mind, and we act involuntarily because we have established a habit. Reflexes, concepts, intuitions have been created, and we obey them without knowing it.

At first we are master of the habit because the conscious mind is the supreme boss. What it says goes. But after a time that boss steps aside, and the subconscious mind has the right of way. By long practice, by constant usage, by the frequency of repetition the thought that has been sowed is reaped, and a habit is the harvest.

Then we become the slaves of our habits. We do without thinking. We act without motive. We have allowed certain thoughts, good or evil, to burrow so deeply into our consciousness that they have complete control of our destinies. Most of this is accomplished in the first ten or fifteen years of our lives, and by 25 our fate is largely sealed. We don't change many of our habits, or our ways of thinking and general ways of living after that time. Our habits hold the balance of power, and we do their bidding.

But even after 25 habits are formed, and they continue to make or break us. If life is one long battle, it is not a battle against poverty, against outside enemies, against diseases as much as it is, or should be, a battle with ourselves, with our complexes, against pernicious habits which are ever striving for mastery.

Habits can be conquered, broken, nullified, or amended, but not without continuous struggle, a fight that must never end.

The one who is lonely needs to study himself. The one who is afraid of imaginary troubles must multiply inner reinforcements. The one who doesn't know how to say "No" must learn how. The one who is shiftless must revise his program by first making himself over. He who minimizes his own ability must emulate the one who is achieving by sheer will power. He who is his own worst enemy because loose habits control him must attack his antagonists on a hundred battle-fronts.

He who procrastinates, who always feels that tomorrow will afford a better time for his good intentions must place on the walls of his home and the walls of his mind the motto, "Do it now." The one with the ungovernable temper must find strength and poise and reserve power in a placid and calm frame of mind. He who is geared up to a high pitch and living on his nerve rather than on an even keel of common sense and sober judgment must learn to relax.

Habits may make or break us, and it is just as true that we can make or break our habits. It behooves us, therefore, to remain masters.

THE INCOMPARABLE CHRIST

More than nineteen hundred years ago there was a Man born contrary to the laws of life. This Man lived in poverty and was reared in obscurity. He did not travel extensively. Only once did He cross the boundary of the country in which He lived; that was during His exile in childhood.

He possessed neither wealth nor influence. His relatives were inconspicuous, uninfluential, and had neither training nor education.

In infancy He startled a King; in childhood He puzzled doctors; in manhood He ruled the course of nature, walked upon the billows as if pavements, and hushed the sea to sleep.

He healed the multitudes without medicine and made no charge for His service.

He never wrote a book, and yet all the libraries of the country could not hold the books that have been written about Him.

He never wrote a song, and yet He has furnished the theme for more songs than all the songwriters combined.

He never founded a college, but all the schools put together cannot boast of having as many students.

He never marshalled an army, nor drafted a soldier, nor fired a gun; and yet no leader ever had more volunteers who have, under His orders, made more rebels stack arms and surrender without a shot fired.

He never practiced medicine, and yet He has healed more broken hearts than all the doctors far and near.

Every seventh day the wheels of commerce cease their turning and multitudes wend their way to worshipping assemblies to pay homage and respect to Him.

The names of the past proud statesmen of Greece and Rome have come and gone. The names of the past scientists, philosophers, and theologians have come and gone; but the name of this Man abounds more and more. Though time has spread nineteen hundred years between the people of this generation and the scene of His crucifixion, yet He still lives. Herod could not destroy Him, and the grave could not hold Him.

He stands forth upon the highest pinnacle of heavenly glory, proclaimed of God, acknowledged by angels, adored by saints, and feared by devils, as the Living, Personal Christ, our LORD and SAVIOUR.—The Roadside Beacon.

◆

I do not know anything that gives more discouragement than the Lord's work if it is done in the wrong way.—Jock Troup, Scotland.

◆

The North Carolina Branch of Woman's Work, is meeting in First Church, High Point, this week. The attendance is large.

◆

We appreciate the courtesy of the North Carolina Christian Advocate in allowing us to use the cuts on the front page of the HERALD this week. Our readers can get some idea of the size and arrangement of the auditorium. The North Carolina delegates of our Church will be quartered in the Robert E. Lee hotel just across the street from this building.

THE HEAVENLY PARADISE

By Rev. W. A. Ledford

Heaven early becomes instilled, in the minds of most children, in Christian lands. Their first Prayer partly accounts for it. "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep; if I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take." The Lord's Prayer accounts for more of it. "Our Father who art in heaven. Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it it done in heaven." Its blessed that such first impressions are most often lasting.

The different words, and figures used in the Scriptures, to describe heaven, have been fascinating and alluring to me. The home of many mansions, the holy city, the New Jerusalem, the Promised Land, the glory world and Paradise are among the most familiar, and most gripping ones. Scholars speak of Paradise, as a garden, park, and the abode of the sanctified souls after death. To me, the most beautiful part of any city are the gardens, and the parks. The thought expressed in Paradise, is that of regaining through Christ, the Garden of Eden lost through the fall of man.

We find the word "Paradise," three times in our Bibles, Jesus uttered it from the Cross; answering the prayer of the penitent thief. The penitent thief addressed Him as a King, and with such authority he was answered. The unselfish prayer, which did not ask for pardon, reward, honor, or any personal advantage received a most gracious answer. Bossuet calls attention to the promptness, company and repose in it, "Today with Me in Paradise." There was no annoying delay. It was just like God to give him more than he asked. The request was as pleasing, as that of Solomon's and equally rewarded.

Paul writing to the Corinthians, rather reluctantly and apologetically; speaking of visions and revelations, confirms the fact that he was caught up into Paradise. We do not understand that Paul was ashamed of the experience, but regarded it as a sacred secret for his own faith and consolations. Let him tell it. "I know a man in Christ Jesus, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; God knoweth), such as one caught up even to the third heaven. And I know such a man . . . how that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. On behalf of such an one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, save in my weakness."

In Christ's letter to the church at Ephesus (Rev. 2:7), the word Paradise occurs again. "To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the Paradise (marginal reading, Garden) of God." Comparing this last garden with the first one in Eden, we find that the occupants of this last one have more privileges, and liberties than the first ones enjoyed. In Eden they were forbidden to eat the fruit of the tree of life, while no such a prohibition is made in this last one. The only requirement to eat of the tree of life was to be an overcomer.

The three passages of Scripture where we find the word Paradise, all record an experience. They have this in common. Through the grace of God, and the forgiving prayer of Jesus, a dying robber was saved. Scholars differ as to where Paul had his Paradise experience. Some thing it was in Damascus: others think it was on some of his missionary journeys. Perhaps, he saw the Christian's inheritance, which is incorruptable and unfading. It was the day of final victory for the overcomers at Ephesus. We are indeed thankful that Paradise is associated with experience, not theory.

There are many unanswered questions concerning our heavenly Paradise. No matter what heights we may reach, still there is a veil intervening. We have not had the curtain of time lifted for us, as it was for Paul when he was caught up into Paradise; or John on the Isle of Patmos. The questions will remain unanswered, so long as we know in part, and see through a mirror, darkly. But our limited knowledge does inform us, who the Heavenly Paradise is for. It is for those hungering and thirsting after righteousness. It is for those, willing to be strangers and pilgrims on the earth, and wait for the promises of God to be fulfilled, in the heavenly world. In the midst of a crumbling, passing habitation, they have a building in the heavenlies.

Another thing we can be assured of; namely, that we, like Daniel, should face Jerusalem, our New Jerusalem, our heavenly Paradise more, and be unlike Demas, love the things of this present world less. I am not ignoring the unfortunate on the Jerico road, nor such hymns, as "Rescue the Perishing"; "Help Somebody Today." I am pleading for a renewed sense of heaven, when we delight in such hymns, as "The Sweet Bye and Bye," "The Home of the Soul," and "We Are Bound For the Promised Land." On the modest tomb stone of the world famous Dwight L. Moody, I read, "He that doeth the will of God, abideth forever." Better times will come, when more turn their faces to God; and pray not for their wills ,but that the will of God be done. God saw Daniel and Saul of Tarsus praying, and He sees us.

Laytonsville, Md.

◆

A church is not made by those afraid
Lest some one else gets ahead;
When every one works and nobody shirks,
You can raise your church from the dead.
And if you work for the Lord—not praise,
Your brother will help you, that's true;
Your church then will be what you want it to be,
For it's never your church—it's you.

—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

◆

PRAYER

May we therefore never affect the spirit of self-distrust in order to escape a duty that is difficult, nor under-estimate the effective power of Thy cooperating spirit in a willing man's heart. With great causes halting the spiritual movements faltering, wilt Thou reinforce with Thine own power the hearts and minds of our leaders in church and state. Bring together in fruitful mutuality men and women of varying gifts that in their cooperation they may serve more effectively. —W. C. Covert.

◆

The palace of joy is occupied by the sons of God.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Osborne

Mrs. Adelaide Kivett Osborne passed away at her home in Worthville on March 7, having reached the age of 76 years. For many years she was a very active member of Bethany church. When the infirmities of age prevented her attending church, she gave liberally of her means for the support of the gospel ministry. One daughter and four sons survive.

The funeral service was held at Bethany on March 8 by the pastor and Rev. Ben Millican. Burial took place in the church cemetery.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Davenport

The Bethany community was saddened on March 10 when it was learned that Miss Jane Davenport had closed her eyes to the scenes of this world. For many years she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Gaster, Mrs. Gaster being her sister. She had reached the age of 86 years. In her passing Bethany church has lost one of her faithful members. The home in which she lived has for many years been the home of the pastor. May the Lord comfort Brother and Sister Gaster and the other relatives.

The funeral was conducted by the writer on Sunday afternoon, March 12, burial taking place in the nearby cemetery.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Anderson

Little Lois Esther Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Anderson, budded on earth September 16, 1935, and blossomed in heaven March 30, 1939. All that medical skill could do was done to save her life, but for reasons unknown to us the Lord saw fit to take Lois to Himself. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Anderson, are leading members of Bethel church. Heaven will seem nearer to them now that Lois is there. Besides the parents, one little brother and sister survive, Steve and Delette. May the Lord bless and keep for His own service the parents and grandparents of this child.

Funeral service was conducted by the writer at Bethel on March 31, and burial took place in the church cemetery, the grave being completely covered with beautiful flowers.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Mrs. John B. Ogburn

At Flat Rock Methodist Protestant church, near Summerfield, on April 4 at 3 o'clock, was held the funeral service for Mrs. Laura Davidson Ogburn, 73, wife of the late John B. Ogburn. Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. Russell Blackburn of High Point; two grandchildren, Russell Blackburn, Jr., of High Point, and Anne Ogburn, of Marion Junction, Md.; two brothers, G. C. Davidson, of Fayetteville, and Dwight M. Davidson, of Gibsonville; and a number of nieces and nephews, including Dr. H. H. Ogburn and Miss Hilda Ogburn, of Greensboro.

She was an earnest Christian and loyal member of Flat Rock M. P. church. She was intensely interested in everything that concerned Flat Rock church and the upbuilding of the Kingdom of Christ. Her means, her thought and her heart were placed at the command of the church and the Kingdom. Her life was rich and beautiful and strong and inspiring to others. Her place in the heart of the church was large. The church will feel keenly its loss in her passing. Her memory in this church will be fresh as long as the present membership lasts. Her service was faithful, her reward is glorious.

The writer was assisted in the service by Rev. W. F. Ashburn of Greensboro and Rev. J. R. Hutton of High Point, and her body was laid to rest in Flat Rock cemetery.

J. A. BURGESS.

◆

Garner

James Monroe Garner was born March 3, 1850, and passed away in Randleman on March 24, 1939, making his earthly sojourn 89 years. His entire life was spent in Randolph county. Those who knew him well said he was a fine Christian gentleman, his church affiliation being at Bethel church, Randolph charge. He was a great uncle of Rev. D. I. Garner, pastor of our church in Mebane.

The following children survive: Mrs. Loula V. Cox, Mrs. J. L. Hinshaw, John, James, Robert, and William Garner.

Last rites were held at Bethel on Sunday, March 26, by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Ashburn, and Dr. J. D. Andrew. His body was buried in the church cemetery.

May the Lord bless and comfort the bereaved.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

CAMP MEETIN'S COMIN'

Bring out dat olde religion,
An' air it out today;
Camp meetin' time is comin',
And it ain't far away.
Ole Satan's had you cornered,
And workin' in his fold;
An' dat is jes de reason
Dat you is been so cold.

He sho' is got de big head,
'Cause you is slidin' back,
And done got off de main line,
And quit de gospel track.
De way you used to hollah,
And shout and sing and pray,
You'd think de ole religion
Had got in you to stay.

It grieves de good Lawd, brother,
How you is gone astray,
And leavin' dat religion
In such a shameful way.
So fetch it out dis mornin':
It means so much to you:
And dust and scrub and polish,
Until it looks like new.

Den take it to de front porch,
And hang it up so high,
Dat every one will see it
When dey is passin' by.
And if de moths has gnawed it,
Jes use de gospel spray;
Camp meetin' time is comin',
An' it ain't far away.

LEFT WITH THE CAT

Our beautiful black and white cat, "Boots," is now about thirteen months old. He had never been separated from either my wife or me until recently, when my wife went to visit her relatives for two weeks.

Though very affectionate, Boots had never been a "lap" pet; he preferred to lie at our feet. But the evening of my first "batching" day all this changed. I had hardly sat down to read, when the cat jumped into my lap. He looked intently into my face, then snuggled down, purring.

Every night of my wife's absence it was that way. Invariably, in the morning Boots looked the house over carefully, in the hope that his mistress had returned—then offered me every consolation at his command.

Whereas, formerly, he had stayed out frequently until bedtime, he was now with me every minute. As an experiment, I put him out; he wouldn't leave the porch, and insisted on coming back in.

He had been trained to stay off my desk. But during that two weeks I never sat down to write that he didn't get on the desk and lie near my elbow. When I used the typewriter I had to push him off my lap repeatedly.

Naturally, I wondered what would happen when Mrs. Eubanks returned, whether he would continue this new system of special attention to me. He did not; after his first joyful greeting of his mistress, he reverted exactly to his former habits. He couldn't have told me more plainly in words that I now had other company and could do without the extra loving.

Ordinarily, this cat is the most playful I have ever seen, but during my wife's absence he never played. Several times I tried the little games he had always enjoyed, but all he wanted to do was to lie in my lap.

And then some people say that cats are dumb!

L. E. Eubanks.

◆

THERE ARE HOMES

So long as there are homes to which men turn
At the close of day;
So long as there are homes where children are,
Where women stay—
If love and loyalty and faith be found
Across those sills—
A stricken nation can recover from
Its gravest ills.

So long as there are homes where fires burn
And there is bread;
So long as there are homes where lamps are lit
And prayers are said;
Although a people falter through the dark—
And nations grope—
With God himself back of these little homes—
We have sure hope.

—Grace Noll Crowell.

◆

Our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually. It can be saved only by becoming permeated with the spirit of Christ and being made free and happy by the practices which spring out of that spirit. Only thus can discontent be driven out and all the shadows lifted from the road ahead.—Woodrow Wilson.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

"WHAT SHOULD A CHURCH MEMBER BELIEVE?"

Topic for April 16, 1939

By REV. RAYMOND W. WHITE

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, April 10—Brotherly Love. I John 4:20, 21.

Tuesday, April 11—Prayer to a Common Father, Matt. 6:9-13.

Wednesday, April 12—Power of God's Word, Heb. 4:12, 13.

Thursday, April 13—Mystery of Godliness, I Tim. 3:16.

Friday, April 14—Jesus Christ, the Foundation, Matt. 16:15-18; I Cor. 3:11.

Sunday, April 15—World Evangelism, Mark 16:15-20.

The Text—Ex. 20:13-17; Matt. 5:1-12.

To the Leader

This is the first of a series of three topics calling attention to certain important elements in church membership. After the great ingathering at Easter, it is very appropriate to consider the essential elements of church membership approved unto God. Protestants are often accused of being careless in the matter of preparing their candidates for church membership and preparing their members for the duties which fall upon them individually in this new relationship. This may explain why many churches lose so many members.

In this first topic we are to consider certain religious beliefs. Space will not permit us to mention all of the religious beliefs entertained by Christians. Time will not permit you to discuss but a few of them. Unless you do some well-directed reading and much careful preparing, you may prove to be an empty bucket for the thirsty travelers in your group. You will note the topic reads "what should," and not "what does," a church member believe. Your pastor can and will cheerfully help you. Take advantage of his systematic training and be guided in the proper channels of thought.

Question for the Open Forum

1. What are the marks of a Christian? A Christian church-member?
2. What have we been taught to believe?
3. What do we believe of what we have been taught to believe?
4. What are we taught in our Apostles' Creed?
5. What is the relationship, if any, between reason and faith?
6. To what extent should a church-member accept church work assigned him?
7. What should be the place of the Bible in a church member's life?
9. What should be the attitude of a church member toward the mid-week service?
10. What is meant by "For me to live is Christ?"
11. What should a church member believe?
12. What helps a church member to discover what he should believe?

The Poet

There is a destiny that makes us brothers:
None goes his way alone:
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own.

I care not what his temples or his creeds,
One thing holds firm and fast—
That into his fateful heap of days and deeds
The soul of a man is cast.
—Edwin Markham.

Little Gems

He that will believe only what he can fully comprehend must have a very long head or a very short creed.—Colton.

Call your opinions your creed, and you will change it every week. Make your creed simply and broadly out of the revelation of God, and you may keep it to the end.—Phillips Brooks.

I take a whole Christ for my Saviour; I take the whole Bible for my staff; I take the whole church for my fellowship; and I take the whole world for my parish.—St. Augustine.

Belief consists in accepting the affirmations of the soul; unbelief, in denying them. —Emerson.

Topic Hints

Religious Belief.—There is power in religious belief. The attitude of indifference towards religious beliefs results in a lack of religious interest. We have often heard these words from some of the more educated and liberal-minded Christians: "Oh, well, what difference does it make, anyhow, what you believe? It is what you do that counts, not what you believe." The only way to account for such a statement is extreme ignorance or positive indifference to matters of religion. It is upon our real and vital beliefs that we act. Because actions count, beliefs are important. Religious belief is necessary to religious action.

The Bible: "The Bible is the great source book of Christian teaching." It is a record of man's experience with God. These men had a religious experience, acted on that experience, and recorded their movements under the guidance of divine wisdom. Growing out of their experience were instructions and exhortations for succeeding generations. The church member should believe that the Bible is a revelation of God and that the climax of that revelation is in Jesus Christ, God's Son. He should believe that the Bible is divinely inspired and divinely preserved to the end that the yearning soul might be nourished and eternally preserved by it.

The Apostles' Creed: Very early in the Christian Church there was a well-defined "form of doctrine." We find it in the Epistles of Paul and in the works of venerable figures like Ignatius and Polycarp, whose lives overlapped the lives of the Apostles. Their apparent knowledge of fixed form of words would be called a creed today. As time passed by the creed was created and expanded. The Apostles'Creed in its present form first appeared in the writings of a certain Pirminius about the year 730 A.D. It is regarded apostolic in its content rather than in its form. It, like the Christian creed of all varieties, goes back in origin to the very ministry of Jesus. The early creed was most intimately associated with the struggle against heresy which troubled the early Church for several centuries. The Apostles' Creed should claim the attention of church members and its content should become their belief.

Belief in God: "I believe in God" is the first statement found in our church members' creed. No effort is made to prove the existence of God. It is no declaration of opinions, but a statement of vital religious convictions. As the Bible writers were moved to record their religious experiences, so the authors of the creed were urged to write their convictions. It was a statement, not of what men thought, but of what God revealed to them. This first part of the creed states three very definite things about God. First, it declares a belief in the Fatherhood of God. Second, it declares a belief in the almightiness of God. Third, it declares a belief that God is the "maker of heaven and earth."

Belief in Jesus Christ: This second part of the creed contains almost twice as many words as all the rest of the Creed combined. It declares a belief in His being the Son of God, in His divine conception, in His virgin birth, in His suffering, crucifixion, death, and burial. It declares a belief in His resurrection, in His being at the right hand of God, in His coming to judge the quick and the dead. This declaration meant more to the early Christians than a confidence in the veracity of the history and prophecy stated in their creed. Their experience with Christ moved their hearts and pens to state their convictions. The church member should, like the early Christians, believe in the declaration set forth in this section.

Belief in the Holy Spirit: The third section of the Apostles' Creed deals with the Holy Spirit. "God the Father originated the plan of salvation; Jesus Christ the Son executed it; the Holy Spirit administers it." It declares a belief in the Church as a creation of the Holy Spirit and as the organism through which the Holy Spirit operates. It declares a belief in the forgiveness of sins which is the real work of the Holy Spirit in the Church. One can see that the forgiveness of sins is indeed the great issue with which the whole Creed deals. It declares a belief in the resurrection of the body and life everlasting. Our creed begins with the declaration, "I believe in God the Father Almighty." It ends with the glorious affirmation that we shall one day share the divine life. The church member should believe in these declarations which are based on God's word, the bread of life.

◆

A REPLY.

By less than any word you speak
To trouble selfhood at the root
I am aware that what I seek
Is doubtful and imperfect fruit.
And this small reed—How shall I draw
Its slender wisdom to the sea,
Who still must fashion in the low
That marks my own identity?
I am aware how great below,
How vast above the heavens are;
The purged humility I know
Who ride the pinpoint of a star.
But though blood brother to the sod,
I find the worth no less in me:
All dust is avenue to God,
And winged is all mortality.
—Carl Edwin Burklund, in the Lyric.

◆

Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Morris of Efland announce the birth of a son, Jerome Philip, on Wednesday, April 5, at Watts hospital, Durham. Mrs. Morris was the former Myra Vaden, of Danville, Virginia.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, Editor
607 Guilford Avenue
Greensboro, N. C.

THANK-OFFERING

Amount previously reported—Fall		$ 874.40
Amount previously reported for February	$1,089.95
Thomasville, Community	10.00
Creswell	2.00
Center, Alamance	7.75
Rock Creek	5.00
Union Ridge	4.00
High Point, additional	.50
Asheboro, Mrs. Hammer	7.00
Total Feb. Thank-Offering		1,126.20
Total to date		$2,000.60

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer,
N. C. Branch, Women's Work.
March 31, 1939.

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$1,257.74
Flat Rock, Vance	1.00
Junior and Senior Philathea classes, "Love Gift"	35.00
Pleasant Grove, Davidson charge, additional "Love Gift"	2.00
Lebanon, "Love Gift"	2.00
Dr. and Mrs. Andrews, West End, Greensboro	2.00
Charlotte, Richland	2.00
Miss Mary Wills, Grace, "Love Gift"	1.06
Bethesda, N. D., "Love Gift"	6.85
Canaan, N. D., "Love Gift"	5.00
Harmony	2.00
Thomasville, Community	50.00
Hope Church	49.34
Bethany, Randolph	1.00
Bethesda	2.15
Flat Rock	1.08
Total Minnis Salary	$1,420.16

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treasurer.
N. C. Branch Women's Work.
March 31, 1939.

ENFIELD AUXILIARY REPORT

During the Auxiliary year of 1938-39, the Auxiliary has held its 12 regular meetings, including two inspirational thank-offerings.

All regular meeetings have been conducted after the plans of the guide book, and the thank-offering services were held in accordance with the program outlined in the Missionary Record with an average attendance of 20.

Two new members were enrolled, but death claimed our greatly beloved and oldest member, Mrs. W. D. Bustin, which leaves an enrollment of 42 — one membership larger than last year.

With the cooperation of this group, we have kept the parsonage in repair, clothed Lessie Price, sent delegates to Branch and District meetings, sent two girls to Leadership Training School, showered one bride, remembered in a special way our pastor and two elderly members on their birthdays, made contributions to the Children's Home on home-coming day, accumulated Octagon coupons for the Children's Home, held study class meetings, observed bundle day for Pine Ridge, and observed World Day of Prayer.

Our social service has been thoughtful of humanity's needs through 800 visits, 127 trays, 236 flowers, 20 funeral flowers, 367 cards, 246 telephone calls, 10 baskets of groceries, 12 Christmas baskets to shut-ins, 36 quarts of milk, and 25 nights of nursing.

Through various means of securing money, we have met all pledges and all requirements of the Efficiency Chart, enabling us, we hope, to maintain our usual standard—an Honor Auxiliary.

But in reflecting over the year's work, the close marks a distinction from previous years, inasmuch as we are perhaps closing the last full year as a Methodist Protestant Auxiliary. And just as we have been loyal, may we as individuals and a group see the broader field ahead and pledge ourselves to increased loyalty in the Women's Work of New Methodism.

MRS. MYRA F. MANN.

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Rev. C. G. Isley, Porter church	$3.50
Mrs. J. A. Gunn, Reidsville	2.00
By Pastor Ballard
D. R. Isley, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
Mrs. Graham Isley, Mt. Hermon charge	2.00
Mrs. Clifton Sharpe, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
Mrs. George Holt, Mt. Hermon charge	1.00
Mrs. Robert Overman, Mt. Hermon chg.	.50
By Mrs. Washington Johnson.
Miss Kathleen Shearin, Halifax charge	1.00
Mrs. E. T. Ellington, Halifax charge	1.00
O. B. Furr, Mill Grove church	2.00
J. F. Furr, Mill Grove church	1.00
L. W. McCoy, Mill Grove church	1.00
By Pastor Cook.
Mrs. W. R. Carter, Littleton charge	1.00
Rev. D. D. Broome, Littleton charge	1.00
Miss May Shearin, Littleton charge	.50
By Pastor Broome.
Claud D. Tedder, Guilford charge	1.00
Mrs. Aurie Kirkman, Mt. Pleasant chg.	2.00
Mrs. Elmer Smith, Mt. Pleasant charge	1.00
By Pastor Braxton.
Rev. T. E. Strickland, First, Charlotte	1.00
Mrs. C. E. Dewese, First, Charlotte	1.00
Mrs. M. W. Hinson, First, Charlotte	1.00
Mrs. W. A. McCall, First, Charlotte	2.00
Mrs. B. W. Little, First, Charlotte	2.00
Mrs. Leon Blake, First, Charlotte	2.00
Mrs. J. M. Fowler, First, Charlotte	1.00
Mrs. J. M. Muse, First, Charlotte	1.00
By Pastor Strickland.
Mrs. R. L. Cagle, Asheboro	1.00
By Pastor Taylor.
R. E. Brinkley, West End, Thomasville	.50
Mrs. L. C. Sadbey, W. End, Thomasville	.50
By L. Binkley.
C. C. Hemphill, Randolph charge	1.00
By Pastor Isley.
R. M. Cox, Forsyth charge	2.00
Misses Johnsie and Dorothy Davis, Richland charge	2.00
By Pastor Grant.
Miss Sallie Barrow, Kernersville charge	1.50
Mrs. J. W. Frazier, Kernersville charge	1.00
Mrs. George Higgins, Kernersville chg.	.50
Sent by Pastor Way.
Mrs. J. A. Cooper, Siler City	1.00
Mrs. D. L. Johnson, Siler City	1.00
Mrs. C. E. Brady, Siler City	1.00
Evans Stone, Siler City	1.00
Miss Sallie Smith, Siler City	1.00
Sent by Miss Smith.
J. H. Allen, on Annual Conference Subsidy	100.00

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Woman's Aux., Foss, Okla., for shoes	$ 2.00
The Ladies, Fordland, Mo., for shoes	.50
Mrs. Lane, Winston-Salem, for shoes	3.00
Whitakers Chapel, Enfield	5.00
Kannapolis S. S.	7.40
The Ladies class, Kannapolis S. S.	5.00
First church S. S., Winston-Salem	12.00
Graham S. S.	11.85
Cedar Cliff S. S., Mt. Hermon	1.48
Mt. Pleasant S. S., Mt. Pleasant	9.50
Concord S. S., Saxapahaw	3.92
State St. S. S., Lexington	3.83
Mrs. Williams, Concord, for her children	6.00
Fairfield S. S., Guilford	3.00
Siler City S. S.	5.00
First Church S. S., Lexington	5.00
Denton S. S.	6.20
Sapling Ridge S. S., Alamance	3.26
Bessemer City S. S.	1.00
Pleasant Hill S. S., Spring Church	2.02
Mill Grove S. S., Midland	3.00
Level Cross S. S., Lebanon	1.93
Worthville S. S., Randleman	10.00
Mt. Moriah S. S., Cleveland	1.00
Grace S. S., Greensboro	15.00
Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Smith, Greensboro, personal	5.00
Woman's Aux., Monett, Mo., for shoes	.50
New Zion, Why Not	4.00
Mt. Lebanon S. S., Randleman	7.05
The Ladies, Dimondale, Mich., for shoes	2.25
Mrs. Ida M. Reibold, Baltimore, Md., for shoes	3.00
Mr. H. L. Horton, Pittsburgh, personal	6.00
New Hope, Vance	2.00
Friendship, Friendship-Love's Grove	7.28
Miss Ethel Brown, Neoga, Ill., personal	5.03
One of the Circles, Burlington, First church, for shoes	3.00
Woman's Aux., Enfield, for shoes	2.50
The Ladies, Opelika, Ala., for shoes	2.00
The Ladies, Bolivia, Mo., for shoes	.50
Young Ladies, Victory Memorial, Indianapolis, Ind., for shoes	1.50
Tabernacle, West Forsyth	2.00
The Ladies, Harger Memorial, Detroit, for shoes	3.00
The Ladies, Muncie, Ind., for shoes	2.50
St. Paul S. S., Greensboro, March and April	12.00
Woman's Aux., Denton, for shoes	2.00
Liberty S. S., Davidson	1.00
Yarborough's Chapel S. S.	1.49
Community S. S., Thomasville	10.00
Community Baraca class, clothing child	5.00
Flag Springs S. S., Why Not	2.00
Concord S. S.	20.00
N. C. Branch, by the Treasurer	191.40
Duke Endowment for 1938	2,230.56

Clothing and Other Gifts

Julian, 40 half-fallon cans of fruit and vegetables.

Caroleen, 17 chickens and 1 duck for Easter Sunday dinner: a number of packages of clothing for individual children for Easter.

We are profoundly thankful to all who contrbuted in any may to help make the above report possible. We had a happy lot

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Hawkins Chapel Church, Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Fourth Sunday evening Brother Broome brought a message from Hebrews 11:23-25.

First Sunday morning, in the absence of our class leader, Mr. C. F. Hawkins, Mr. W. B. Allsbrook of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., brought to us a speech, his subject, "Life." This message will surely be a guide to those who sit under the sound of his voice in helping to write a book of life.

Second Sunday morning we had an Easter program which was very good. Leader, Mrs Baldy Greene, assistants, Mrs. Willie Grey Mitchell, Mrs. Philip Hawkins, and Miss Eunice Greene. After the program. Brother Broome made a short speech and the offering was taken.

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Ambrose Pittard March 15. Mrs. Claude Hawkins had charge of the program. Miss Virginia Hawkins read the scripture. The Lord's Prayer was led by Mrs. Broome, a paper read by Mrs. Claude Hawkins, "Two Types of Ladies' Aid Members." Business was discussed and refreshments served. We will meet with Miss Esther Hawkins Thursday evening. April 20. Miss Grace Pittard has charge of the program.

Glad Mr. Willis Hawkins, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, was able to be back at church Sunday. Sorry to note Mr. Fitzhugh Hawkins has been in the Roanoke Rapids hospital for some time; however, he returned home last week, which was good news to his many friends. But we learned Sunday he would have to return Monday for examination; the doctors said they might find it necessary for him to remain again. We hope for him a speedy and complete recovery.

Pink Pepper (a nickname) as most people know him, was in a car accident and is in the Roanoke Rapids hospital. We hope for him to return home soon.

MRS. CLAUDE HAWKINS, Reporter.

◆

Liberty Hill, Anderson Charge, Rev. T. M. Johnson, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointments Sunday morning, bringing a very helpful and inspiring message.

We were indeed glad to have Rev. Palmer Leonard of Greer, S. C., who is pastor of the Burnsview Baptist church, to be with us Sunday morning. He taught the young ladies' class, bringing a wonderful talk. The young men's class joined the young ladies' class to hear Mr. Leonard bring the Sunday school lesson. We welcome Mr. Leonard back any time.

The Easter program was rendered Sunday night with a splendid program. It just thrilled us so much to hear the small children saying their poems and singing. We appreciate the work and kindness of the leaders and all who took part in any way in the Easter program.

The regular prayer meeting will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Palmer Leonard promised to be there and conduct the prayer service.

We were proud to get the April Bulletin from our pastor. These Bulletins are very helpful to us and this one is about Easter, showing on it pictures and the Cross, a symbol of sacrificial service, and the lily, a symbol of life and purity. There were five paragraphs telling the meaning, Two Great Events, The Four Gospels, Nature's Setting for Jesus' Resurrection, and the Angel said: "He is risen; He is not here; behold the place where they laid Him."

The quarterly conference was held Saturday p.m. at Liberty Hill, with many discussions and plans made.

We were indeed glad to have Arthur Nalley and sister Lavenia, from Fairview church in our community for the week-end. Mr. Nalley has returned home from the Panama Canal where he has been for some time.

Our Sunday school, by the help of our kind and faithful superintendent, is still progressing. The total attendance Sunday morning was 139. The average of attendance for the last three months was 110. We hope the average will be lots higher the next three months as the weather is getting prettier, and we trust the Sunday school will grow more and more.

The Ganus Brothers quartet, of Georgia rendered a program of gospel and sacred music Sunday afternoon, which was very good. They are planning to be here again Saturday night, starting a music school for our church and community. They teach voice and all kinds of instruments. We do hope that there will be a large number to take the course, as we feel this is a great opportunity for the young people, as well as the older ones, for the upbuilding of our singing and music for the church. We welcome each and every one. The Ganus Brothers quartet is heard every Tuesday p.m. at 12:35 o'clock over W. S. P. A., Spartanburg, S. C. We were glad to have the Jones Sisters also, of Greenville, S. C., to render several songs for us. We appreciated the offering of $4.00 from the Sunday school to go to the Children's Home at High Point.

The Beginners and Juniors Sunday school class and the Junior Christian Endeavor society had an egg hunt at the church grounds Saturday afternoon. Miss Anita McClimon, finding the most eggs, received a gift from the leaders.

The picture of our church was taken by Mrs. Hooper, of Spartanburg, S. C., who helped plan the setting and planting of the shrubbery and flowers on the church ground last spring, and she had it put in the Spartanburg Herald. We are proud of our church and its loyal members who worked so faithfully in helping beautify the church and its grounds. Everything is looking beautiful now, as it is budding and putting forth green leaves and blooms.

MRS. JOHN D. McCLIMON, Reporter.

◆

Yarborough's Chapel, T. H. Vickery, Pastor, April 7.—There has not been a report from our church for quite a while, but we have been working and praying during this time.

There has been so much sickness in our church, it has kept us busy visiting them and trying to help them in our feeble way. We have been greatly saddened since our last report by the death of one of our members, Mr. A. M. Watson, and the father of some of our members, Mr. Edward Crook. Our hearts go out in deep sympathy for their families.

We have had some little work done on our church for the last few weeks, and are planning to recover it in the near future.

Our young people's meeting is moving along nicely. When we organized we had an enrollment of only 16; that was December 18, 1938. Now we have 33 members, all of whom seem to become more interested from Sunday to Sunday.

We gave the children an egg hunt on the church grounds Thursday afternoon, which they enjoyed very much.

Now that spring is here, let us all set out with new vigor and try to attend service every Sunday, and do our best to accomplish more for our Master than ever before.

LUCILLE GOSSETT, Reporter.

◆

Seagrove, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge.—Our pastor, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, filled his regular appointment Sunday at 11 a.m. He delivered a splendid message on the Resurrection. An Easter program was rendered Sunday night.

Sunday school is growing steadily. There were 95 present last Sunday.

The March meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. Trolinger. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. C. Harris; vice-presidents, Mrs. D. J. Johnson and Mrs. J. M. Greene; secretary, Mrs. W. C. Auman; program committee, Mrs. J. M. Greene, Mrs. S. G. Richardson, and Mrs. D. J. Johnson; reporter, Mrs. Noah Williams; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. C. H. Russell; secretary of missionary education, Mrs. L. A. King; secretary of Christian education, Mrs. J. M. Greene; secretary of stewardship and benevolences, Mrs. C. E. King; secretary of temperance and Christian citizenship, Mrs. S. G. Richardson; secretary of thank-offering, Mrs. D. J. Johnson; secretary of literature, Mrs. Noah Williams; pastor's aid secretary, Mrs. Nettie Allen; secretary of young people's work, Miss Vera Williams.

Last Monday afternoon a weiner roast was served to the Sunday school members on the church lawn.

Mr. Tasker Williams, of Littleton, is spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Trolinger.

MRS. NOAH WILLIAMS, Reporter.

◆

Central Church, Asheboro, Dr. S. W. Taylor, Pastor.—The Woman's Auxiliary brought to a grand climax their year's work by giving the men and boys of the church a Father and Son banquet, March 30. Mr. Robert W. Wood acted as toastmaster and a program of music and short talks by local people was interesting. Rev. N. M. Harrison brought to a close the delightful evening by showing pictures of Florida, Cuba, and High Point College.

The past four weeks were known as a tithing period in an effort to raise the balance of our $940 for Appreciation Year. The committee in charge hopes to report at an early date this amount paid in full.

Much interest was manifested in Loyalty and Dedication weeks running through March and including Easter Sunday. The sermons by the pastor, the Holy Week services led up to Easter, and it was a beautiful sight to see 12 persons kneeling at the chancel dedicating themselves in church membership. They were: Mrs. C. C. Newman, Vance Newman, Therell Brown, William Gray Lloyd, Maxton Elliott, Tyrus Whitley, Anna Jean Bulla, Leland Jane Thomas, Joseph Redding Bulla, Juanita Lassiter, Julian Huntley, and Charles Hector Rich.

The Denomination Program, with a number of children participating, was given at the Sunday school hour. The offering amounted to $27.77. The beauty of the church added to the sacredness of the day. A large rugged cross was in the background and the altar was banked with Easter lilies. After the services these flowers were carried to sick and shut-ins of the community. A large and worshipful congregation heard the pastor's hope-filled message on "Easter Weeping and Easter Rejoicing."

At 7:30 o'clock our young people's choir, under the direction of Mrs. Robert W. Wood, delighted us with the following program:

Prelude.
Hymn No. 220—"Majestic Sweetness Sits Enthroned" (Stennett).
Scripture Lesson—Mark 16:9-20.
Offertory, "May Nights" (Palmgren), Lacy Lewis, Jr.
"The Lord Is Risen Today" (Vail), "Behold How He Loves Us" (Chandler), the Choir.
Violin Solo: "Salute d'Amour" (E. Edgar), James Hendrix.
"Low in the Grave" (Lowry), "My Friend of Calvary" (Lorenz), "Hark the Bells" (Truselle), the Choir.
Piano Solo: "Moonlight Sonata," (Beethoven), S. W. Taylor, Jr.
"Lift Up Your Heads" (Fearis), "Rejoice, the Lord Is Risen" (Coerne), the Choir.
Soloists—Edna Mae Winningham; S. W. Taylor, Jr.
Hymn No. 479: "Jesus Shall Reign" (Watts).
Benediction.
Postlude.

Mrs. S. L. Hayworth continues a patient in Memorial hospital, Winston-Salem. Mrs. J. F. Lamb is a patient in a local hospital, and Rev. W. F. McDowell is ill at his home here. We hope for them all a speedy recovery.

MISS ESTHER ROSS.

◆

West End, Greensboro, Dr. R. M. Andrews, Pastor.—On Sunday evening, April 9, "The Song of Triumph," Easter Cantata, was presented to an appreciative audience. The choir of 25 voices was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Virginia Hadley and directed by M. H. Waynick, Jr.

Circles met Monday, April 4—No. 1 with Mrs. W. V. Routh, Randleman road, with attendance of 21; No. 2 with Mrs. Paul A. Burns, Monday evening, having 15 present. Much interest was shown in planning the new year's work, spiritually and materially.

Following morning worship Sunday, April 3, the new officers for the Women's Auxiliary were installed in an inspiring and effective manner by Mrs. R. M. Andrews and Mrs. C. C. Lemonds, retiring president.

Recognition was made of all church members who made 100 points in the "Loyalty Campaign" during the month of March by the pastor, Dr. Andrews.

The Women's Auxiliary met Monday evening at the church, with Mrs. Jack Newman, new president, in the chair. Mrs. Jack Kimrey used "Prayer" as her devotional topic.

Delegates going to High Point for the annual meeting of the women's work of the North Carolina conference are Mrs. C. O. Love and Mrs. S. H. Stapleton. A number of others are going over for the two-day session, headed by Mrs. R. M. Andrews.

Dr. Andrews has planned a "Church Members' Visitation" for next week. The circle chairmen are cooperating with him, and all those visiting as well as those visited will, we are sure, be greatly benefited.

We extend sympathy to one of our members, Mrs. L. A. Michael, in the loss of her husband the past week, and to those of our number who are sick we hope for speedy recovery.

MILDRED STAPLETON, Reporter.

◆

Pine Bluff Church, Rev. C. G. Isley, Pastor.—Our Easter sunrise service held at the church Easter morning was a great surprise, as there were more people than we were expecting. I feel sure that all who attended earned something he or she did not know about the meaning of Easter.

We as a church are proud to say that our amount for World Service is now paid in full, and we can go into the new union with this deft off our hands; and as for the ones who raised this amount, we want to thank the Ladies' Auxiliary for their splendid piece of work.

CLIFFORD BARBEE, Reporter.

◆

Ringwood, Halifax Charge, W. M. Howard, Jr., Pastor.—We had our regular service Sunday p.m., April 9, with President J. E. Pritchard in charge. We were very glad to have Dr. Pritchard with us for our Easter service. He brought us a wonderful message. It was nice for those who knew him and hadn't seen him for years to meet with him again, and for those that didn't know him to meet him. We hope that he will make a visit to our church again soon. We were also glad to have visitors from Bethesda church. Come again.

Mr. Howard was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Neville Sunday. We would like to have had Dr. Pritchard also.

The Episcopal church had weekly Lenten service during Lent. Mr. Howard was the speaker on Friday night, March 24. He gave the congregation an interesting talk. We were glad to have him visit our church. He was the guest of Misses Williams at supper that night.

MRS. E. V. NEVILLE.

◆

Concord, Rev. E. O. Peeler, Pastor.—Since our last report we are so glad to welcome some new brothers and sisters into our church family. On Sunday, March 26, Mr. Dudley Beverley joined with us and last Sunday Sybil and Christine Winecoff and Mr. Leon Ketner joined with us. Sunday morning we enjoyed our beautiful sunrise service. The church was decorated so very pretty, and the singing was the sweetest I think I have ever heard, and the program was entitled "Thomas and the Risen Lord." Then at our morning service our hearts were made so happy when our pastor presented to the church a beautiful pulpit Bible given by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ketner. Our thank-offering service was held on Sunday night of the 26th of March. This was a very helpful service. We all enjoyed the picture very much that Mr. Peeler borrowed from Rev. Mr. Ballard.

Our quarterly conference will be held on next Sunday afternoon. A series of services will start next Sunday at our church.

Our hearts were made sad last Saturday with Mrs. Lottie Brown Litaker when death came and took her mother almost suddenly. They will miss her presence, but what a comforting thought to know she was such a good woman and a wonderful mother. Death also claimed one of our Baraca men suddenly, Mr. Will Cox. Our love and sympathy go out to these dear families. Several of our women will attend the Branch meeting of the Women's Work at High Point.

BERTHA EARNHARDT, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Danville, Va., Rev. G. L. Reynolds, Pastor.—Welcome to our church, Mr. Willie Bass, Earl Sides, and George Sides, Jr.! We certainly were glad to see these young boys join the church and take the stand for Christ in their early youth. We enjoyed hearing Mr. A. D. Shelton, of Greensboro, during the 10 days revival, and also having him and our pastor in the homes for meals. We hope Mr. Shelton will come back often, and that he will always feel at home in Danville, where a cordial welcome awaits him at all times. We also appreciate Mrs. Alma Booth helping with our revival music.

The Christian Endeavor society is beginning plans for entertaining mothers on the Saturday night prior to Mother's Day. This will be a different form of honoring the mothers from any that we have used so far, so you mothers who want to have a good time are extended an invitation to be with the Christian Endeavor society Saturday night, May 13, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. Ryland Stephens on Keen street. The 13th may be an unlucky day, but we'll promise you won't be sorry you came.

Congratulations and best wishes for happiness and success to Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Jackson, who were married last Saturday

For Speedy HEADACHE Relief
Snap Back with
STANBACK
10¢ & 25¢
DOES NOT LEAVE YOU UPSET

IF YOU FEEL SUNK
Read this and cheer up

Are you so blue that life is no longer worth living? Do you cry easily? Do you feel low, mean, depressed—just absolutely SUNK?

Then here's good news for you in case you need a good general tonic—Just take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and tone up your system, so that it can more easily throw off the "blues" and give more energy to enjoy life.

MILLIONS of women have depended upon this Compound and have passed the word along to friends and neighbors, and to their children.

For free trial bottle tear this out and send with name and address to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., 985 Cleveland St., Lynn, Mass.

Why not take Pinkham's Compound and go "smiling thru"?

Lydia E. Pinkham's
VEGETABLE COMPOUND

night, April 8. Mrs. Jackson was formerly Miss Virginia Fowler, pianist for the church. Easter not only brought eggs and rabbits for the children, but it brought brides, grooms, and visitors to church. Mr. and Mrs. William Green, and Mr. Pat Saunders, of Lynchburg, Va., worshiped with us at the Sunday school hour, and we were so happy to have them join with us in the adoration of our risen Lord.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has purchased a silver-plated baptismal bowl to present to the church. They have worked hard saving pennies, nickels and dimes for some time, and the church as a whole wishes to thank them for this beautiful bowl.

ELEANOR TANNER, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Lexington, L. E. Mabry, Pastor.—We held our Easter pageant last Sunday morning entitled "The Festival of Life." There was a very large congregation at this ~~service. Everyone seemed to enjoy~~ this impressive program very much. At the night service Rev. Mr. Mabry gave a talk on the famous picture of "The Last Supper," by Leonardo da Vinci. This picture was placed before the congregation and a talk was given about each of the disciples, our Lord, and the artist of the picture.

A play is to be given at our church Saturday, April 15, at 7:30 o'clock, entitled "The Old-Fashioned Mother." Our pastor has directed this play in several high schools and stated that this is one of the best plays he has seen. The play is to be given by the Second Presbyterian church of Lexington.

The two men's classes of our Sunday school have united into one class beginning last Sunday morning. Mr. Phonse Bean will be the teacher and Mr. Cicero Hedrick will be the assistant teacher.

We are very sorry to report that some of our members have lost loved ones during the past two weeks. Mr. Cicero Hedrick's mother died here at her daughter's home two weeks ago. Mrs. Waitman was buried at the Shiloh cemetery.

Mr. William McBride and Mrs. W. L. Aaron's father, Mr. J. M. McBride, died last Tuesday at his home near Churchland. He was buried at Churchland Missionary Baptist church cemetery. Rev. Mr. Mabry assisted in both of the funeral services.

◆

Haw River Circuit.—You who may have read my last letter are perhaps wondering what happened to the Friendship building project. There seemed to be so little interest in the project as it was presented that we have adandoned it. However, we have discovered what the folks don't want, and in discovering that have found out what they do want. The upshot of that is: a committee has been appointed to undertake an entirely new building project; no addition to an old building, moved to a new site; but a new building on a new site. We expect to get busy on plans, costs, and the raising of the money, as soon as the Uniting Conference is over. I am personally very happy that the folks have made this decision, even though they arrived at it by a process of elimination.

Ordinarily the early appointment — 10:00 o'clock—at the churches on this charge is not as well attended as the later, 11:30, one. But last Sunday, at Friendship, and yesterday, at Midway, the attendance was extra large. I do not know what the attendance was at the Sunday school sessions following the preaching appointment at Friendship, but there were 108 present yesterday at Midway, which is something of a record.

An interesting feature of the Sunday school session at Midway yesterday was the gift of eggs to the children of the Children's Home by the children of the Sunday school. I do not know just how many there are in a basket—a large one—but it's pretty well filled. And maybe the children over at the Home will be filled when they eat them.

Fair Grove and Midway Sunday schools held Easter exercises yesterday. Fair Grove at the preaching hour, in the morning, and Midway at night. The offering at Fair Grove was a little less than last year. The offering at Midway almost doubled that of last year. I have not heard from the other two churches and so cannot report what they did, although I am hoping they did as well as Midway.

Several of the women folks plan to attend the Branch meeting at High Point this week. The Auxiliary made a fine record. The apportionment was $100, but $172 was raised. Included in this is $56 for the Minnis Salary fund, for which Mrs. Bates made herself responsible. (Perhaps I should say, she made herself responsible for $25 and raised $56.) While the year has been successful financially, it has been worth much to the women in the fellowshsip and inspiration they have gotten out of the meetings.

C. W. BATES, Pastor.

◆

DAILY PRAYER

If I can do some good to-day,
If I can serve along life's way,
If I can something helpful say,
Lord, show me how.
If I can right a human wrong,
If I can help to make one strong,
If I can cheer with smile or song,
Lord, show me how.
If I can aid one in distress,
If I can make a burden less,
If I can spread more happiness,
Lord, show me how.
If I can do a kindly deed,
If I can help someone in need,
If I can sow a fruitful seed,
Lord, show me how.
If I can feed a hungry heart,
If I can give a better start,
If I can fill a nobler part,
Lord, show me how.

—Grenville Kleiser.

◆

THANKFULNESS

I'm thankful for the dawn of day,
For useful work and buoyant play;
I'm thankful for the faith of friends,
For humble heart that condescends.

I'm thankful for the trees and flowers,
For sapphire seas and cooling showers,
I'm thankful for the world of books,
For chanting birds and purling brooks.

I'm thankful for the sun at noon,
For silent stars and crescent moon;
I'm thankful for the gift of prayer,
For blessings I can freely share.

I'm thankful for the right to live,
For daily chance to serve and give;
I'm thankful most to God above
For His protecting, perfect love.

Grenville Kleiser.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.
Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

Tips on Tires Useful To Average Motorist

Here are some important tips on tires recommended at the meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers for use by operators of large fleets of buses and trucks, whose yearly investment in tires outranks that of the average motorist a thousand to one. They apply also to passenger cars.

1. If you wish to increase the nonskid life of your tires from 15 to 30 per cent, keep them at the proper inflation by weekly checkups. Running even four pounds below proper pressure on the tires of a passenger car may mean as much as 16 per cent loss in tread-wear.

2. When the tread wears smooth get a complete retread job. By this you can obtain from 70 to 80 per cent of the original mileage, said J. E. Hale of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. For a tire with a tread life of 20,000 mile retreading should bring the total mileage up near 35,000. Taxicab companies do this regularly and expect their tire casing to be retreaded at least two or three times. The cost of a good retread job is about half the cost of the original tire.

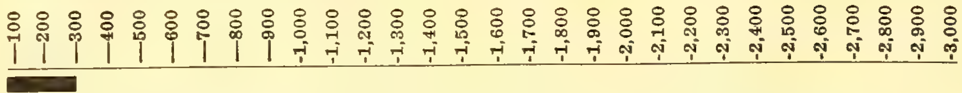
3. Realize that high speed driving cuts tire mileage. Rubber is much less resistant to wear when warm than when cold. A 4-ply tire on a medium priced motor car has the air temperature in the tube increased by something over 70 degrees when traveling 65 miles an hour, due to the heat generated by the continual and rapid flexing of the tire. In terms of pressure this temperature rise means an increase of 5 pounds per square inch.—Science News Letter.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

EYE COMFORT
Relieve irritation due to overuse, exposure to Dust, Glare
JOHN R. DICKEY'S OLD RELIABLE EYE WASH
refreshes and brings comfort. Used 65 years. Genuine in red box. 25c and 50c at drug stores. Ask for large size with dropper.
DICKEY DRUG COMPANY, BRISTOL, VA.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers	93%
First Church, Charlotte	80%

◆

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	13¾	....
Albemarle	20	4¾	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	5½	....
Asheville	13	7	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	6¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	....	....
Charlotte	10	8	....
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	25	5.70
Concord	26	6	....
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship - Love's Grove	38	6¼	....
Forsyth	46	9	....
Gibsonville	24	2	....
Glen Raven	52	8½	....
Graham	30	12	....
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	3¾	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	6½	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13¼	7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	4¾	....
Halifax	42	7	....
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	10.00
High Point, First	75	15	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2½	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	3¾	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	9	....
Lexington, First	48	6	....
Lexington, State St.	28	3½	....
Liberty	13	2½	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3½	....
Littleton	46	5¾	....
Mebane	27	4	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	½	....
Mill Grove church	10	3	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	15	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	13¼	....
Mt. Zion	16	½	....
North Davidson	36	6	....
Orange	77	13	....
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	1¾	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	8¾	....
Reidsville	13	7	....
Richland	35	11	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5	....
Shiloh	65	6	20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	10½	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	5	....
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	9½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	10½	....
Whitakers	8	7½	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

I want to say something more in regard to having more helpers in the Home. I think we should have more experienced helpers. It is all right to have the older children to be helpers, provided there are enough of older helpers to teach them how to do the work, and also teach them how to save to make the most of what they have. I found that it is a most difficult thing in Children's Homes to get them to realize and appreciate the good things that are sent in to them. So many of us, when things come easy, it seems to be perfectly natural that we do not realize the self-denial of some who have made it possible for us to have so many nice things. So in a Home where so many different homes go to make up the Children's Home, it takes precept upon precept and line upon line to remind children of their dependence and appreciation of others. We must teach and train them. They must be brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord to build Christian character. I do not think recreation will build Christian character, but I do know that Daniel purposed in his heart not to defile himself with the things that would not strengthen his body; and that was the secret of his wisdom and Christian character; not recreation but pure, holy living. Daniel denied himself and all you Bible readers know what happened to him in only ten days time.

Then again I feel there is too much stress put on recreation. Some of us older people had enough recreation when we went to school and walked three and four miles and did the work that was ours in the home morning and evening. I do think if we can not have more help in the Home, we should not have so many in our care. It is not enough to put food and clothe children, but the child's soul is the most important thing. The question is, can we provide for all that we have in our care, and have we lifted the responsibility off some ones and are responsible for accepting more than we can, and are providing for; in other words, have we bit off more than we can chew? We find in I Timothy 5:8, "But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel."

So in closing, let us try to do what we know is the most needed at the present, which I think must be to build Christian character, which I feel would be much honor if we have a fund in honor of Mr. H. A. Garrett and could be called the Garrett fund separate and apart from all other collections.

MARTHA PARSONS.

◆

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

(Continued from Page Twelve)

of children on Easter; for nearly all of them had something new to wear, and they looked well in their Easter attire. All of them join in this expression of appreciation for your care of them.

The Duke Endowment gift this year is $1,062 short of last year's gift, but it is about the usual annual gift. This will enable us to balance our budget as of April 1st, and then we must depend upon your gifts for the next seven months.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

If the organ in your church is not performing properly, write us.
HODGSON ORGAN COMPANY
237 W. Bute St. Norfolk, Va.

NEURITIS Relieve Pain In Few Minutes

To relieve the torturing pain of Neuritis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia or Lumbago in few minutes, get NURITO, the Doctor's formula. No opiates, no narcotics. Does the work quickly—must relieve cruel pain to your satisfaction in few minutes or money back at Druggist's. Don't suffer. Get trustworthy NURITO today on this guarantee.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 20, 1939 NUMBER 23

Rev H L Isley
R 1 2aug9

Still the Pioneers

(The Old Frontier's Word to the Uniting Methodists)

By Dorothy Brown Thompson

Here where the voice of power was mighty in the land,
Where bison hooves beat thunder as hunted herds were thinned,
The smokes of council signals moved ever back and back,
As prairies took the white-man's brand-a wavered wagon track.

They ploughed the long grass under; they fenced each man his field;
They suffered flood and dust storm, and neither made them yield;
They knew guerilla raidings and dread of border wars,
An grimly took their losses, and did not count the scars.

Abreast of every danger and stern frontier released,
In every group a leader, came preacher and came priest,
Who rode their threatened circuits, who broke the stubborn sod,
And held their flocks through hazard, to decency and God.

Now do their children's children—so is the dream fulfilled—
Live in the strong assurance their father's faith had willed;
Their homes spread wide to plenty, their city's towers rear
A prosperous dismissal to yesterday's frontier.

Yet judge you not too swiftly the pioneer is gone,
His dreams live in his children, and still their word is "On"
Where teacher followed trapper, where hard-won missions stood,
They still are pioneering for larger brotherhood.

In reaches of the spirit they stake out God's own claims
Against the pull of habits, the tyranny of names;
And staunch to a disordered world, is worthily begun
Their long-due answer to that prayer—"that these may be one."

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Brother L. L. Wren Ill

Brother L. L. Wren of Siler City, one of our lay delegates to the Uniting Conference is ill and will not be able to attend the conference. This, of course comes as a great disappointment to Brother Wren who for a long period of years has been very active in the affairs of the church. Inasmuch as Brother Wren cannot attend Brother J. H. Allen of Reidsville, the first alternate, has been called to go in place of Brother Wren. In addition to the illness of Brother Wren sorrow has come to the family in the passing of Mrs. Wren's father, Mr. Marcel Folley, aged 93 years, on Monday night of this week.

Continue to Raise Delegates' Expenses

Since the entire amount asked for delegates' expenses to the Uniting Conference evidently has not yet been raised I am urging churches which have not raised this fund yet to continue to put forth the effort. It will be better to get this fund in to Treasurer Allen somewhat later than not to send it in at all. So, pastors and churches, do not fail us at this time.

Time Growing Short For Raising World Service

Again I am reminding our churches that the time is growing short in which to complete raising World Service. To make certain that this fund gets to the General Conference Treasurer by April 30th, the end of the General Conference year, it will be necessary to put this money in the mails by next Monday, April 24th. This money must go first to Mr. J. H. Allen, the Treasurer of our Annual Conference and he will send it to headquarters. Now that Mr. Allen is going to the Uniting Conference I am presuming that he is making all necessary arrangements for this fund to be handled in his absence.

Appreciation Year Certificates

Dr. Taylor who is chairman of the Southeastern Area of the Appreciation Year Campaign tells me that the certificates are ready for the churches which have raised the fund in full. As Dr. Taylor and I will be away attending the Uniting Conference for the next few weeks I suggest that the matter of mailing out the certificate wait until we return.

A Sunday Morning At Grace Church

Last Sunday morning was spent with Grace Church in Greensboro, Rev. J. Elwood Carroll, pastor. This has been one of our most important churches for a long period of years. This church originally was in South Greensboro but later was moved more nearly to the center. Still later it was changed to the present location some few blocks to the northwest of the business part of the city. The building is one of the most expensive and beautiful in the conference. But this is somewhat offset by the heavy debt which the congregation is trying to handle. The fact of the heavy indebtedness has kept the church from taking the lead in financial matters concerning the Conference and the General Church in recent years. Brother Carroll has done fine work in helping the people to solve their problems. He is very popular not only with his own church but with the people of Greensboro generally. There was a fine congregation present last Sunday morning and it was an inspiration to preach to them. I trust they may continue to find joy in carrying forward the work of the Kingdom that has been committed to their hands.

A Sunday Evening At Calvary

Last Sunday evening was spent with the Calvary church in Greensboro, Rev. R. C. Stubbins, pastor. This church will be fifteen years old the last of this month. A large number of the charter members came from Grace Church when that church moved to its new location. It was thought then that a church should be established in South Greensboro. So a new congregation was formed and a new building was erected. While this church has not grown as rapidly as some of us thought it would yet it is one of our best and most progressive churches. While the building did not cost as much as the one at Grace yet the debt was once quite a load, however, it has been reduced from time to time and soon it will be paid in full. The regular payments twice each year on the principal remain the same but the interest charges have been greatly lessened. If my memory serves me correctly in 1941 the payments are to end. This will be a glad day for this church. Then they can go ahead and build more Sunday school rooms which are badly needed. This church now has its fourth pastor, the date Dr. Gerringer having served this church for three years, Dr. Bates six, the writer four and Brother Stubbins is serving his second. A splendid congregation assembled last Sunday evening and it was a pleasure to be present and to preach to them. Brother Stubbins is popular with his people as he always is and things seem to be moving nicely. I trust they may continue to have good success.

The Uniting Conference

On Wednesday morning of next week the Uniting Conference which is to merge our Church and the M. E. Church and M. E. South into one large denomination will meet in Kansas City, Missouri. Our fourteen delegates are to be housed in the Robert E. Lee Hotel right near the auditorium where the meeting will be held. Any one wishing to communicate with any one of our delegates can do so by addressing that person in care of the Robert E. Lee Hotel, Kansas City, Missouri. Please remember that this conference is meeting in Kansas City, Missouri, and not in Kansas City, Kansas. At this conference great issues are to be decided. It is true that the plan of Union adopted by the three denominations guarantees the general principles to be incorporated into the new church but many details must be worked out and much machinery must be set up to enable it to operate.

Sunday, April 23 To Be A Day of Prayer

Dr. Straughn, the President of our General Conference is calling on all of our churches everywhere to make next Sunday, April 23, a day of prayer for the Uniting Conference. I trust our people may fall in line and use the day for this purpose.

Announcements

Sunday, April 23, 11 a. m. Welch Memorial.

Sunday, April 23, 9:41 p. m. Starting to the Uniting Conference.

J. E. Pritchard.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 20, 1939 NUMBER 23

West End, Greensboro, sent in delegates' expenses in full.

Concord Church, Concord, reports all finances up for the year.

Reidsville reports full quota of $500.00 paid on W. S. and delegates' expenses paid in full, Pastor Ballard reporting.

Pastor T. G. Mdison reports Pleasant Hill Church, Cleveland Charge paid W. S. in full; all churches paid delegates' expenses.

To all our pastors, Herald agents and reporters; while the editor is way at Kansas City, Mrs. Andrews will look after all correspondence, credit subscriptions paid to the Herald. Continue to send all mail to Box 2017.

The editor will supply by airmail reports from the Uniting Conference each week. Brothers Carroll and Braxton will assist in keeping the Herald giong out on time until we return.

Brother C. P. Morris reports that both Mrs. Morris and the boy are at home in Efland, doing nicely and wishes to acknowledge the many flowers and cards from friends, and regret the necessity of our starting on Sunday.

All our delegates-elect except Brother Wren are expecting to start for Kansas City Sunday; we regret the illness of Brother Wren which prevents his attendance upon the conference.

◆

The Uniting Conference

Now that the time approaches when your delegates shall go to this, the greatest Conference of Methodism of a hundred years, if not for all time; you would like to know all we can tell you about it. First, let me tell you just where your delegates will be seated in that vast auditorium. You remember that it can seat ten thousand people. There are four tiers of seats extending from end to end. Two central tiers each tier with twelve seats and there are twenty-two rows. The tiers on the side each ten seats with nineteen rows. The North Carolina delegates are seated in tier B, row 2, and 3. That is very close up to the front. Your delegation surely has drawn a desirable position.

The Uniting Conference edition of the Christian Advocate is on my desk. It is named the New Pioneer and it is just full of facts about the conference. It gives us the programs for the evening sessions, which we pass on to you. Two Methodist Protestant ministers appear on this program. Following this interesting bit of news we are publishing "Methodism Working Forces" by Dr. Thomas Potter. It reached us too late for publication last week. But before we released the aforementioned contributions we must tell you about "The Diary and Daily Meditations" issued by our Board of Publications. It is beautifully done, handsomely bound and is just chuck full of valuable information, and besides the meditations written by our own men there are blank pages upon which the delegates may jot down the thoughts which visit them on the wings of inspiration and might otherwise escape them. Well done, Brother Perkins. And now here are the evening programs, and other interesting facts.

Programs For The Evenings

Tuesday, April 25, 8 P. M.—Reception under the direction of the local committees in Kansas City.

Wednesday, April 26, 8 P. M.—The opening night. The President of the United States or his representative.

Thursday, April 27, 8 P. M.—The president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Dr. George A. Buttrick.

Friday, April 28, 8 P. M.—Foreign Missions night with addresses by Dr. John R. Mott and Bishop Arthur J. Moore.

Saturday, April 29, 8 P. M.—Youth night, with the address by Dr. Harold Case.

Sunday, April 30, 8 P. M.—Worship service, the preacher being Dr. J. N. R. Score, of the First Methodist Church at Ft. Worth, Texas.

Monday, May 1, 8 P. M.—British night, with addresses by the Rev. Robert Bond and the Hon. Isaac Foot.

Tuesday, May 2, 8 P. M.—Pageant presented by the Publishing Agents.

Wednesday, May 3, 8 P. M.—The program arranged by the Departments of the Local Church of the Boards of Education.

Thursday, May 4, 8 P. M.—Home Missions night, with addresses by Dr. J. W. Hawley, Bishop A. Frank Smith and Bishop E. G. Richardson.

Friday, May 5, 8 P. M.—Laymen's night, with addresses by Hon. Alf Landon and Governor Hoey of North Carolina.

Saturday, May 6, 8 P. M.—Oratario, The Messiah, presented by local groups in Kansas City, under the direction of Powell Weaver.

Sunday, May 7, 8 P. M.—Worship service, the preacher being Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill.

Monday, May 8, 8 P. M.—Addresses by Dr. Albert W. Palmer, president of Chicago Theological Seminary, and Dr. Ralph W. Sockman.

Tuesday, May 9, 8 P. M.—The Ecumenical Church, with addresses by Bishop Parsons of California and Professor E. E. Aubrey of the University of Chicago.

Wednesday, May 10, 8 P. M.—Education night, under the Departments of Schools and Colleges, with addresses by Dean Lynn Harold Hough and Dr. Umphrey Lee.

Thursday, May 11, 8 P. M.—Women's night, with address by Dr. Georgia Harkness.

Friday, May 12, 8 P. M. — The Declaration of Union Service.

Saturday, May 13, 8 P. M.—The Negro in Methodism, with addresses by President Matthew W. Davage and President Henry N. Snyder.

Sunday, May 14, 8 P. M.—Worship service, the preacher being Dr. J. C. Broomfield, of Fairmont, W. Va.

Women's Activities

Women's Night at the Uniting Conference, May 11, will present as principal speaker one of the outstanding women of Methodism, Miss Georgia Harkness, professor of religion at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., the nation's leading woman theologian and a persistent spokesman for those who believe that women should be given greater recognition in the governing councils of the Methodist Church.

In charge of that program will be the presidents of Methodism's four leading women's organizations: Mrs. J. W. Shell, Uniontown, Pa., of the Women's Auxiliary of the Methodist Protestant Church; Mrs. J. W. Perry, Abingdon, Va., of the Southern Church's Woman's Missionary Council; Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, Mount Vernon, Iowa, of The Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Methodist Episcopal Church, and Mrs. W. H. C. Goode, Sidney, Ohio, of The Woman's Home Missionary Society, Methodist Episcopal Church.

Women attending the Conference as delegates or delegates' wives will be guests at a tea given at the Newbern Hotel, May 6, by the Kansas City committee on women's activities, Mrs. Fred Lamb, chairman.

The Kansas City women's committee will also sponsor a number of tours throughout the city for women attending the Conference. The tours, to be held after 4 P. M. each day, will be as follows: April 27, Goodwill Industries; April 29, William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art; May 1, Institutional Methodist Episcopal Church, South; May 3, Kansas City National Training School for Deaconesses and Missionaries; May 5, Shawnee Mission; May 8, Spofford Home and Interdenominational Home for Girls; May 9, Bethany Hospital.

About Foreign Missions

The foreign missions interests of Methodism will have their day at the Uniting Conference Friday, April 28. John R. Mott, a Methodist Episcopalian and one of the world's greatest authorities on foreign missions, and Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Episcopal supervisor of Southern Methodism's work in foreign fields, will be the principal speakers at the evening program. Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions, will preside. The Rev. J. W. Hawley, president of the Methodist Protestant Board of Missions, will offer prayer. Mr. J. K. Li, a Chinese, and Madame Saito, a Japanese, will sing. Their appearance on this program while their nations are at war will be a peculiar testimony to the spirit of brotherhood engendered by Christianity. The Rev. Ralph E. Diffendorfer and Miss Sallie Lou MacKinnon will introduce missionaries for the Methodist Episcopal and Southern Methodist Churches.

Youth Rally

The first national rally of young people of all three Methodist churches will be held in Kansas City during the Uniting Conference on Saturday, April 29. Ten thousand or more young people, many of them from other denominations, are expected to come to the Conference that day by train and automobile, singly and in caravans, from as far away as three hundred miles.

The group will be addressed at a rally in the evening by the Rev. Harold Case, Scranton, Pa., on the subject, "The Challenge to Youth." Miss Marjory Wingett, a Methodist Protestant; James Farmer, a Methodist Episcopalian, and Miss Cletus Baker, a Southern Methodist, will be the co-chairmen at the Rally. The three youth speakers will be Miss Harriet Lewis, Methodist Episcopalian, "What Youth May Expect in the Methodist Church"; Donald Barss, Methodist Protestant, "What Youth Will Give to the New Church," and George Wesley Jones, Southern Methodist, "The Challenge of Tomorrow." A dramatic cavalcade, "Calling All Youth," by Harold Ehrensperger, will be presented.

In the afternoon, 1:45 to 3:45 P. M., these young people will meet in seminar groups.

The general committee for Youth Day is composed of the Revs. Edward D. Staples, F. L. Gibbs, Carl C. Seitter, Walter Towner, Harvey C. Brown, and Hiel D. Bollinger; and Thomas R. Pendell. The Kansas City committee is composed of the Revs. Carl Webb, O. W. Prince, and Lee Soxman; and William Gregg, Miss Pearl Chapin, Miss Connie Burns, Donald Taylor, Miss Marjory Wingett, Miss Alice Mae Ecker, Horace Kimbrell, Miss Marie Nipps, Verle Buffington, and Miss Cletus Baker.

"The Most Acute Problem"

Bishop Paul B. Kern discussed last week in Zion's Herald three problems of unification in a most interesting way, but the most acute he said was what is to happen in that period between the close of the Uniting Conference and the meeting of the General and Jurisdictional Conferences. To quote him:

"There are two ideas, rather divergent, before us. One plan, slated to be recommended, calls for the making immediately effective of new Conference boundaries and organizations just as soon as the old Conferences can disolve. In the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that would mean next fall. The new discipline and pattern of board organizations would go into effect at once. Since no new general-board personnel can be chosen until the Jurisdictional Conference, the old board will be authority to continue, but they will administer the new Discipline until the new boards shall come into actual being. These old boards shall operate in their old churches and seek some adjustment of responsibility in border communities where each church is represented. The Annual Conferences shall be authorized to create ad interim conference boards or committees until after the General Conference, when the new regular boards can be elected. Each of the three churches would continue its financial plan in order to maintain its organizational life. It has been suggested, as an alternate detail of this plan, that the territory might be divided roughly between the two major denominational groups, and the Southern boards administer in the Southeast and South Central areas, and the Northern boards in all the rest, pending the beginning of the new board regime.

The other plan is much simpler. The Uniting Conference should set the date when the present general and Conference organization and boundaries should cease and the new order begin. This date should coincide approximately with the date of the Jurisdictional Conferences after the General Conference. The new Conference boundaries should be determined by the Uniting Conference, but the present Conferences would be given time to liquidate their program, adjust their financial and educational interests, and go out of existence coincidental with the coming into operation of the new organization and boundaries. All present general boards would continue until their successors could legally function, and they would administer the program with which they are familiar and for which they have trained personnel. In every overlapping situation, agreements of ad interim cooperation could be made effective. The financial plan of each church should continue until the new financial program can be staffed and made effective by the General Conference. To care for a legal situation, the Uniting Conference would authorize the new Annual Conferences, upon call of the bishops, to meet within twelve months or less of the first General Conference to sit as Conferences in the new church operating in the new boundaries for the purpose of electing clerical and lay delegates to the General and Jurisdictional Conferences. In most cases this would be a very simple procedure, and it would not be difficult in those areas where boundaries are radically changed.

I strongly favor the second of these plans for the following reasons: (1) It gives the Conferences time to get adjusted to the new relationships and the new program. And time is of the essence of success and harmony in this matter. (2) It gives continuity of administration and program. The present boards and officials were not chosen to administer the new program. They are not familiar with it, they have no literature or Conference organization with which to promote it, and, being only temporarily in office, they would naturally do little more than mark time. The life of our program would remain in suspended vitality for a long period of transition; confusion and criticism would be rife in the local churches and Conferences. But on the slower process the present administrators can keep a program going and set the house in order for their successors. (3) Our life will be tragically disrupted by a sudden abolition of all present Conference boundaries. I realize that in many instances lines will not be redrawn, but in many others from Baltimore to San Francisco they will. What, for instance, will happen to the Conference pledges given to the Woman's Missionary Council by Conferences like Baltimore, Holston, Missouri, Oklahoma, Virginia? Chaos is in the offing there. (4) The slower program of liquidation is the only one that will safeguard our financial structure. Our connectional claims are none too popular anyway. If the impression goes out over the church that for two years the people are being asked to support boards that have only temporary life and that cannot administer effectively a program all connection with which will soon terminate, I greatly fear its effect upon the morale of our benevolences and our financial safety. No temporary board could borrow money to carry its program should financial returns be disappointing.

It all comes down at last to this: Either we must have a very early General Conference, or we must make sensible and adequate provision for carrying on our life and activities until the new church can actually function following a General Conference in 1941 or 1943. The church must not be left in a state of suspended animation after the tumult and the shouting dies away at Kansas City.

As we understand it there are possibly more of our people interested in the right solution of this problem than most any other problem about which there is likely to be much difference of opinion. Each plan carries with it some difficult situations. However, we are hoping that a satisfactory solution may be discovered before the adjournment of the Uniting Conference.

METHODISM'S WORKING FORCES

A Stastistical Study of the New Church

By Thomas P. Potter

With the coming union of the Methodist Episcopal, the Methodist Episcopal, South, and the Methodist Protestant Churches, it is well to take inventory of the forces of the new Methodist Church and the investments that will be available in this group for bringing the kingdom of God to men.

This study is not made for the purpose of giving emphasis to the size of the new church, but that we may measure our responsibilities to the world in the joining of forces. With the elimination of overlapping agencies, a greater and more effective working force of the church should be the result.

Since the methods of reporting differ in the three churches —not all reporting on the same items——this study is not complete in all details. However, it gives a challenge to the new church for a consecration that will build, upon the foundations laid by our fathers, a structure that will worthily represent the Kingdom of God among men.

First in importance, of course, in the resources of the new church, is the personal power as represented in the ministry and membership of the church. In the United States, as of December 31, 1937, there were fifty effective and retired bishops, 24,900 ministers, members of conferences, 13,100 local preachers, and 900 deaconesses.

The work was carried on in nearly 700 districts, with 43,100 preaching places, grouped in 21,100 pastoral charges served by 17,800 members of conferences and 4,300 supply pastors. Those who served in special appointments numbered 1,250; 450 attended school and 60 were on leave of absence for travel and study.

During 1937, 120,000 children and 110,000 adults were baptized, 250,000 were received on confession of faith, and there were 7,386,000 full members. In the young people's societies there were 800,000 members and the 40,000 Sunday schools reported 550,000 officers and teachers and 5,600,000 members.

Churches numbered 42,700, parsonages 20,700, and these, with other properties used by the local congregations, had a reported value of $725,000,000. This sum was invested in 43,000 communities for carrying on the work of the Kingdom.

During 1937, for ministerial support, for buildings and current expenses, a total of $63,878,000 was paid, or $8.65 per member. For church benevolences a total of $11,324,000 was paid, or $1.53 per member. Total cash payments amounted to $75,202,000, or $10.18 per member.

In addition to the work of the pastoral charge, under the auspices of the Methodist Church, there will be 140 schools and colleges with 6,000 professors, 105,000 students, and property and endowments valued at $308,000,000.

Eighty-two hospitals are under the auspices of the new church, with 5,300 nurses and nurses in training, caring for 263,000 patients during 1937, with property and endowment valued at $73,250,000. There are 133 homes with 10,500 inmates, and 225 superannuate homes with a total value of $30,150,000. Forty-six deaconess homes are valued at $5,430,000.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society owns property valued at $9,390,000, and supports 600 workers. Good Will Industries number 50, and are valued at $3,000,000. The Publishing Interests represent an investment of nearly $10,000,000. This shows an investment in co-ordinating agencies of $437,220,000, making a total investment in the United States of over $1,162,230,000.

The new church will have work in thirty foreign countries, besides aiding the work in the autonomous Methodist churches of Brazil, Japan, Korea, and Mexico.

In these thirty countries there are 2,500 ministers, 3,900 local preachers, and 1,400 deaconesses. Thirteen bishops, together with supervision by bishops resident in the United States, have oversight of the work in 2,760 charges in 193 districts, served by 1,625 members of Conferences and 1,135 supply pastors. Two hundred men were in special appointments, sixty were in school, and forty on leave of absence.

During the year 19,400 children and 12,900 adults were baptized, 12,750 were received on confession of faith, and 355,300 full members were reported. There were 63,700 members of young people's societies and 16,400 officers and teachers and 315,900 were enrolled in 6,360 Sunday schools.

In Africa 27,800 members were reported, 67,800 in China, 67,000 in Europe, 97,500 in India, 62,100 in Malaya and the Philippines and 13,100 in Latin-America besides 5,500 in China and Japan that are counted in American Conferences.

The 2,835 churches, 2,060 parsonages and other local properties had a value of $29,865,000.

There was contributed by the charges $900,000 for ministerial support, $1,221,000 for local expenses, and $31,600 for benevolences, a total of $2,152,600 or $6.06 per member.

Under the parent Boards of Foreign Missions and the women's work there are 1,275 missionaries not including the wives of missionaries, 2,100 native members of Conferences, 16,500 other native workers in the mission fields.

Ninety-five hospitals, 65 homes, 42 deaconess homes, and 2,700 schools of various grades with 180,000 students are under Methodist supervision. In addition to the churches and parsonages there was reported a property valuation of $30,027,000, making a reported investment of $59,982,000 in the foreign field.

In the world-wide work of the Methodist Church, based on the reports for 1937, there were sixty-five effective and retired bishops, 27,400 members of Conferences, 17,000 local preachers, 2,300 deaconesses.

The work of the church was carried on in 900 districts with 24,860 charges served by 19,425 members of Conferences and 5,435 supply pastors. Men numbering 1,450 served in special appointments, 510 were in school and 100 on leave for study and travel.

During 1937, 139,400 children and 122,900 adults were baptized, 262,750 were received on confession of faith and there were 7,741,300 members and 400,000 preparatory members on roll. There were 863,700 members of young people's societies in the world church and 566,400 officers and teachers and 5,915,900 members enrolled in 46,360 Sunday schools.

The 45,535 churches and 22,760 parsonages with other properties used by the local churches had a reported valuation of $754,865,000.

The charges contributed $36,285,000 for ministerial support, $29,714,000 for buildings and current expenses and $11,355,600 for benevolences. This is a total of $77,354,600 or $10 per member. Special gifts for college and hospital buildings and endowments are not included in this total, among which there were three gifts in 1937 for hospital buildings totalling $9,500,000.

As a part of its work in building the Kingdom, the Methodist Churches had 2,890 schools and colleges with 285,000 students, 177 hospitals, 133 old people's and children's homes, 225 homes for superannuates, 88 deaconess homes, 50 Goodwill Industries, and their publishing interests. The total reported value of these properties is $467,247,000, making the estimated investments the sum of $1,222,112,000 for the work of the Kingdom.

If, according to the words in Deuteronomy, "one chose a thousand and two shall put ten thousand to flight," then our 27,400 members of Conferences, 17,000 local preachers, enforced by a property investment of almost one and a quarter billion dollars, and a budget of $77,000,000, should be "steadfast and unmovable," and "abounding in the work of the Lord." With nearly six million enrolled in our Sunday schools and seven and three-quarter million members, and with the Spirit of God directing the energies of the new church, we shall be able to go forward to be a very vital power in redeeming the world.

It is not by numbers and values that we shall win; but if these numbers and values are dominated and controlled by the Spirit of God, nothing shall be able to keep us from fulfilling Christ's great commission.

◆

NOTICE! FIRST DISTRICT

The Fifth Sunday Rally for the First District will be held at the Methodist Protestant Church in Enfield on the fifth Sunday in April or April 30. The meeting will begin at eleven o'clock and the usual plan of everybody bringing lunch and spreading it together will be followed.

Thank you very much,

W. M. HOWARD, JR., Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. O. L. Easter

PAUL WINS RECOGNITION FOR GENTILE CHRISTIANS

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, April 23

By REV. O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text—Acts 15:23-29; Galatians 2:1, 2, 9, 10.

Golden Text—A man is not justified by the words of the law, but through faith in Jesus Christ. Galatians 2:16.

The controversy which arose between the Jewish Christians and the Gentile Christians is truly a natural one and within itself is not a dark spot upon either group. The argument was purely that of the human mind. God in bringing salvation to men chose, for His own divine reasons, to bring it through human instrument; and as we know, humanity is of necessity a faulty and imperfect tool. Hence as we look from the Jewish point of view we can understand their side of the contention and see it not entirely bad but rather as a fault of vision; a fault which God encountered in using them as His instrument to bring the Messiah. Mrs. Gatty, in her Parables From Nature, gives a beautiful illustration of God's use, and our use of imperfect instruments in doing His work—imperfect apostles, imperfect churches, imperfect Christians, and yet really good work is done. She relates the story of a young minister, who insisted that everything must be squared according to his ideas of perfect right. On one occasion he undertook to tune the church organ in an emergency. He took the scale of notes and tuned it perfectly according to that. Then he struck the notes of Hayden's Mass in five flats, and was astonished at the terrible discords he made. An organ-tuner explained afterwards to him that his scale was right, his system was right, but if you stick too close to it, it sets you wrong. Most fifths, he said, must be left flat, some few made sharps, the octaves alone tune in unison, because the organ is an imperfect instrument. By making proper allowance for this imperfection, wonderful and harmonious music may be produced by it. We see in Paul's great contribution to this controversy God's wise and patient maneuver to make such allowances and adjustments in the Jewish church.

It had pleased God in the primitive times to choose the Jewish race from among the nations and make it the vessel of salvation; and, till the advent of Christ, those from other nations who wished to become partakers of the true religion had to seek entrance as proselytes within the sacred borders of Israel. In making them guardians of revelation God had to separate them very completely at this stage from all other aims which might have distracted their attention from the sacred trust. With the coming of Jesus this condition was forever changed; Judaism was a worthy shell that had been needed to incase the germ of God, but having now been shattered to release that revelation, was to be fundamentally discarded. It was the great task of St. Paul to show to these Jews that they could keep this sacred shell for a national relic but not as a universal capsule in which to imprison Christianity. He did not oppose circumcision for the Jews if they took the right attitude for it, but if they made that as a basis for salvation Paul approved it. To him the justification of all men was not by the law now, but by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. To Paul that was going to be burden enough for men in an unbelieving world without adding nonessentials to it.

So the discussion and debate took place and from its struggle came broader Jewish Christians and a Christian faith that is adequate in interpretation to save to the uttermost the lowest savage or the most cultured world citizen. Let us never forget to be grateful for the fact that this early church faced with human limitations believed and practiced the liberty of face discussion. This is not only right but it is the only safe way to find and know God's will for His world. Powder burned loose on the rock in open air makes a great blaze and smoke, but does little harm. That same powder confined in a rock produces an earthquake, or shatters a mountain. The nation or the church that tries to stifle face thought and free discussion is confining the powers of God's truth and sooner or later the eruption will come. Emerson has stated this process thus: "When the Master of the universe has points to carry in His government He impresses His will in the structure of minds." Thus Paul's mind afforded a landing field for God's greater will for the Jews and for His world gospel as brought by Christ. Had God allowed narrow Judaism to have won out in this controversy, both it and Christianity would have withered away into the past with other such national religions. The peach seed falling into the ground springs up into a sprout but left alone it has not the natural qualities within it to produce a fruitful tree; if it is grafted, however, it grows into a wonderful fruit bearing tree. So with Judaism; at first it sprouted the Kingdom of God on earth, but with the grafting of the body of Christ came its true fruitfulness in the world of men.

◆

TO THE OFFICIAL MEMBERS OF FLAT ROCK CHARGE

The Second Quarterly Conference will be held at Palestine Church on Saturday at 2 o'clock before the 5th Sunday in April.

J. A. BURGESS.

◆

AUDITOR'S REPORT

This is to certify the books of Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, State Treasurer of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work, and the Assistant Treasurer of Student Loan Fund, Mrs. P. S. Kennett, have been audited and found correct.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. E. W. TEAGUE, Auditor.

◆

There is always room at the top.—Daniel Webster.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Well, here we have another list of churches to be added to the list run in this column last week as those who have reached the goal by raising World Service in full. The names to be added this week are: Friendship and Shiloh on the Shiloh Charge, Mebane Church, Pine Bluff Church and the Mt. Pleasant Charge—all churches on the charge. What a fine list this is! How this column is lengthening! Now, Mr. Makeup Man, put these churches right in the column following the ones of last week and let us see how beautiful they do look.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.
Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge.
Friendship, Shiloh Charge.
Shiloh, Shiloh Charge.
Mebane.
Pine Bluff.
Mt. Pleasant Charge.

Now if there are some other churches which have raised World Service in full please let the pastor or somebody write the president of the conference about it at once. Remember that this list should go to the president of the conference and not to the editor of the Herald. And as it is to be expected that names will continue to come in for at least two more weeks just send them to the president of the conference at 909 West College Drive, High Point, N. C. and this will be taken care of in his absence.

WHY IS THE DRINKING DRIVER DANGEROUS?

Professor Walter R. Miles, at one time Professor of Psychology at Yale University and who was Research Psychologist for eight years in the Nutrition Laboratory of the Carnegie Institute, outlines the following results on human behaviour from the ingestion of very moderate doses of alcohol:

1. Reaction time decreases 5 to 10 per cent.
2. Less uniformity in response; general effect is to produce clumsiness.
3. Power of attention is lowered and the field of attention is narrowed.
4. The subject gains a self-assurance which is deleterious to safe driving.
5. Other emotional changes may vary with different individuals.

It is estimated that alcohol figures in from seven to ten times as many accidents as is made apparent by obvious drunkenness.

The listing below of driving errors shows the characteristic behavior of drivers involved in accidents and is directly in line with psychological attitude produced by alcohol:

Exceeding speed limit.
On wrong side of road.
Did not have right-of-way.
Cutting in.
Passing standing street car.
Passing on curve or hill.
Passing on wrong side.
Failed to signal and improper signaling.
Car ran away—no driver.
Drove off roadway.
Reckless driving.

The undrunken drinking driver suffers from inflated ego and in consequence he exceeds the speed limit and is contentious for the right-of-way. His sense of responsibility is partially narcotized so he drives on the wrong side of the road, passes standing street cars, takes chances on a curve or at the top of a hill. Drink makes accidents.

WHEN A FELLER HAS THE BLUES

When a feller has the blues,
'Taint no use to ask his views
'Bout the country—how it goes—
Ef it hails or ef it snows—
Cotton up, or cotton down—
Worl' stopped still, or whirlin' 'roun'—
Never keers for any news—
That 'ere feller with the blues!

Sun may do his best to shine—
Blossoms purple on the vine;
Win's may sing in music sweet,
Rivers ripple at his feet;
An' the birds the boughs along
Jest may split their throats with song—
But he's lonesome as you choose—
That 'ere feller with the blues!

Where'd they come from? Day by day,
You kin see 'em on the way,
Jest a'trudgin' up the slope—
Drownin' all the bells of Hope!
Comin' in the door to chide you—
Drawin' up a chair beside you,
Sayin', "Hello! What's the news?"—
Them exasperatin' blues!

Then it is we know we're human—
Then it is the smile of woman
Is the only welcome light
That comes twinkling through the night!
Ef that smile o' hers has bound you,
Ef you feel her arms around you,
Be as happy as you choose,
With "Good mornin' " to the blues!

—Atlanta Constitution.

Conduct is three-fourths of life.—Matthew Arnold.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

WHAT SHOULD A CHURCH MEMBER DO?

Topic for April 23, 1939

By Rev. Raymond W. White

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, April 17—Leave the past behind. Phil. 3:12-14.

Tuesday, April 18—Live in the Spirit. Gal. 5:22-26.

Wednesday, April 19 — Love his church. Psalm 122.

Thursday, April 20 — Labor whole-heartedly. Col. 3:23-24.

Friday, April 21—Line-up against the devil. I. Pet. 5:8-11.

Saturday, April 22—Look unto Jesus. Heb. 12:1-2.

The Text: Rom. 12:1-21.

To the Leader

This topic being the second of a series of three on the subject "The Christian and His Church," should be connected with the previous topic and end in a way that the following topic can be connected to it. Not a few people feel when they have acepted Christ and united with His church their work is done and they are prepared for heavenly safety. This is a false conception of Christianity and Church-life. A decision for Christ and His Church are the first two steps of an upward trail that ends in the likeness of Christ. One must keep stepping and in step with the Master. There are no elevators or escalators for the spiritually helpless in the Christian flight for there is no need for being spiritually helpless. In your discussion point out the importance of church-members using their spiritual heritage as a means of Christian growth. You will find much help in the booklet, "The Church We Love" by Lovejoy, published by the Abingdon Press, New York. The booklet contains 39 pages packed with rich material and sells for 25 cents.

Questions for the Open Forum

1. Is church-work essential? If so, why?
2. What Church-work should Church-members undertake?
3. How, if at all, does Church-work help the Church-member?
4. What opportunities does the Church offer her members for work?
5. What are the objectives of the true Christian Church?
6. How can these objectives be reached in our local Church?
7. To what extent should Church-members be engaged in world-wide moral issues?
8. To what extent should Church-members be trained to work?
9. Do you agree that the first requisite of a Church-worker is spiritual? Explain.
10. Can a spiritually minded Church-member do effective work without being trained? Explain.
11. In what way, if any, is our local church using her Church-membership?
12. Is our Church-work for the sake of Church-work or Church-workers? Explain.

The Poet

Let me but do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at the desk or loom,
In roaring market-place or tranquil room;
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."
Then shall I see it not too great, nor small,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers
Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Little Gems

Christianity is the spirit of Jesus Christ at work in the world.

The business of the Church is to produce Christ-like characters and equip them for Christ-like service.

The church is a workshop, not a dormitory and every Christian man and woman is bound to help in the common sense.—Alexander Maclaren.

Some Christians are like canned fruit—sealed tight to keep from working.

The modern church has never asked too much of men. It has always asked too little.

Topic Hints

An Eternal Objective: The eternal objective of the Church is to grow people into the likeness of Christ. We must not overlook this truth; we must not neglect it. The Church was made for people; not people for the Church. When the Church appeals for the services of her members, the appeal is in the interest of the spiritual growth of her members. Not a few people feel that the Church's claim on their services is merely to get Church-work done. This is a very limited view. It is true that Church-work must be done but the greatest need is found in the hearts of persons who ought to be at work for Christ and His Church. The Church suffers from the lack of Church-workers but the greatest sufferer is the Church-member who fails to work.

The First Essential: The first essential after conversion and admission into Church-memberhip is worship. R. C. Cabot was correct in saying, "Worship renews the spirit as sleep renews the body." Spiritual weariness is relieved in worship. No greater calamity can fall on a Christian than the loss of worship. Yet this essential is neglected by so many Church-members. The irregularity in Church-member's worship is the heartache of every earnest pastor. "If absence makes the heart grow fonder then a lot of people sure do love the church" is about all the consolation he gets except on occasion like weddings, funerals, and depression. The most demanding calls the Christian pastor gets is from people who have neglected this first essential. Church-members should go to Church.

Financial Support: "To contribute as God gives him the ability" is a pledge taken by every person when uniting with the Church. Many times official boards have hesitated to say much about Church-finances for the fear of embarrassing the poor. This editor's experience in almost twenty years in the ministry proves that the poor are seldom embarrassed by such appeals and often make the greatest sacrifices. Such an argument has often retarded the work of the Church and excused the financially able who spend huge sums of money on worthless and selfish enterprises. The Church has never asked her members to contribute beyond their ability. But many member have let their Church down by contributing less than their aility or nothing at all. A man's purity of heart is questioned when he refuses to contribute as God gives him the ability. It is just as spiritual to pay as it is to pray. We should contribute to the Church.

Talented Service: Every Church is in need of talented service. Every Church-member owes to Christ and His Church such service. His growing soul demands that a man use his talents in Christian service. For a long time the Church has been praying for the coming of the Kingdom on God on earth. For this we continue to pray. If we do not wish for His kingdom, we ought not to pray for it. But if we do wish for it, we must do more than pray for it we must work for it. This coming of the kingdom demands talented service. It is not hard for us to agree with this fact. The real difficulty arises when one is called upon for the use of talents. Often we have heard the excuse "I'm not talented." There is no living person who is not talented for something. Every person in the Church has a talent but too many wrap theirs in a napkin and hide it behind an excuse when the oportunity comes to use it. We should use our talents in the Church and in the world to the end that Christ's kingdom may come and that His will may be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

◆

SPECIAL APPRECIATION YEAR NOTICE FOR MINISTERS IN THE SOUTHEAST AREA CONFERENCES

Your Appreciation Year committee has prepared an attractive "Appreciation and Honor Roll Certificate" suitable for framing for those churches which raise their World Service apportionment in full. Recognition can also be given on the same certificate for the annual conference budget. When any church in the conference listed below reaches its goal, please notify Dr. S. W. Taylor, Chairman, Asheboro, North Carolina. He will see to it that you receive your certificate signed by the General and Annual Conference presidents, etc.

Alabama, Alabama Colored, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Colored, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Mississippi, South Carolina, South Carolina Colored, Tennessee, Virginia.

We are urgently requestiong that your Appreciation Year money be sent to your conferencetreasurer in time to be forwarded to the office of the general conference treasurer by April 30. This fiscal year closes on that date.

F. L. GIBBS, Secretary
Southeast Area.

◆

Our Lord has written the promise of the resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in springtime.—Luther.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL, Editor
222 N. Edgeworth St.
Greensboro, N. C.

NOTICE!

Your Missionary Editor would greatly appreciate it, if contributors to this column would send material to me on or before Tuesday of each week. It will be a great help and convenience to me if you will do this.

Thank you.

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL,
222 N. Edgeworth Street,
Greensboro, N. C.

◆

REPORT OF THE TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

N. C. Branch of Women's Work

APRIL 12, 1939

The Tenth Annual Meeting of the North Carolina Branch of Women's Work of the Methodist Protestant Church met in regular session at the First M. P. Church, High Point, N. C. on April 12, 1939, at 10 a. m., Mrs. R. M. Andrews, President, presided. Muted organ music prepared the hearts and minds of the audience, as did the stately hymn and the Scripture lesson from Luke, for the earnest and inspiritng meditation brought by Mrs. Fred G. Holloway, who used as her general thought, the conference theme, "Looking Backward, Thinking Forward."

Seven officers, eleven departmental secretaries, and four district chairmen responded to the roll call.

The Recording Secretary briefly summarized the year's minutes and was called to the chair while the President gave her annual message and report. The thoughtful and purposeful message gave a resume of the women's work in the M. P. church, going back in its history to its organization and touching on the mile stones in its growth and development down to this, the sixtieth anniversary, which brings up to another milestone, the great task and great privilege of union.

The routine of business was broken at this point by Mrs. J. H. Allred's beautiful solo

Mrs. Andrews' report, which followed, gave a revealing glance at the multiplicity of duties, well-performed, and the interests which pertain to the office of president. It showed that she is on duty constantly as she gives so generously of her time and energy to the work. The report closed with the following recommendations:

1. In view of the process of church union in which we shall soon be involved, I recommend that the Branch shall consider sending one or more representatives to the next council meeting of the M .E. Church, South, or its successor, and such other meetings as seem advisable.

2. That we begin at once to make payments on the Minnis salary so that our Treasurer may send monthly payments of one twelfth of the total salary, if possible.

The report and the recommendations were accepted with a rising vote of thanks.

Mrs. Andrews also gave a very excellent report of her work as Missionary Editor of the HERALD. This was accepted .

The reports of the Secretaries of Missionary Education, Literature, and scholarships, and that of the Corresponding Secretary were read and accepted. Mrs. Pritchard stressed the increased interest in Missionary Education and Mrs. Speas showed a remarkably active year with an unusually large amount of literature distributed.

The joyous note which rang through the opening paragraphs of Mrs. Bowman's report presaged a most successful year. She was pleased to report success in the Thank Offering, increase in giving, interest in Appreciation Year, and the fact that the Spiritual Life is being emphasized by the auxiliaries. She read a list of ten honor and twenty standard auxiliaries and reported four new auxiliaries and two new children's organizations.

The following committees were appointed:

Resolutions: Mrs. H. C. Nicholson, Mrs. R. G. Willey, Mrs. Fred Cox.

Finance: Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Mrs. S. W. Taylor, Mrs. C. W. Bates.

Courtesies: Mrs. E. L. Ballard, Mrs. J. H. Cutchin, Mrs. H. A. Garrett.

Credentials: Mrs. J H.. Walker, Jr., Mrs. B. J. Gregson, Mrs. Sam Pierson.

Awards: Mrs. George R. Brown, Mrs. A. H. Ragan, Mrs. E. A. Lamb.

Following prayer by Rev. J. C. Madison, recess was taken until 1:30 p. m.

Wednesday P. M. 1:30 o'Clock

Music from the organ called the delegates to the afternoon session. Congregational singing filled the spacious auditorium and Mrs. Fred G. Holloway, pursuing the theme of the morning meditation, read from the sixth chapter of Micah, connecting very skilfully our looking backward and thinking forward to our ideas of God.

The report of the Secretary of Young People's Work, Mrs. E. A. Lamb, was read by the recording secretary and was accepted.

The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, was again accepted with a rising vote of thanks. Her carefully kept accounts showed receipts of $10,561.67 and a balance of $297.49.

The Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. P. S. Kennett, reported paying to High Point College for students, $2,328.00, and the refusal of many applications because of lack of funds.

The Auditor's report was deferred as Mrs. E. W. Teague had not received the books. This report will appear in the HERALD.

Mrs. C. W. Bates suggested that, since the books had not been audited, the Minnis salary be completed. Mrs. W. C. Hammer moved that the Branch ask Mrs. Kearns to open the books for this purpose and that we make an effort to complete this fund. Mrs. George R. Brown offered an amendment to the effect that the money be raised today. Motion carried. An offering, totaling $36.86, was taken immediately after the vote. Mrs. Kearns stated that other funds had been turned in to her, leaving a deficit of eleven dollars. It was suggested that another offering be taken at the evening session.

The report of the Secretary of Student Loan Fund, High Point College, was read by Mrs. J. M. Millikan and was accepted by common consent. She told of granting twenty-two applications and denying seven others for lack of funds.

Mrs. C. W. Bates, Chairman of Districts, read her report, asking the District Chairmen to come forward and assist her. Four chairmen were present. Mrs. Bates suggested a chairmen' school to stimulate interest in this work.

A roll call of auxiliaries followed, the delegates standing in response.

Mrs. J. M. Stone, Secretary of Benevolences and Stewardship, gave a brief account of a very busy year, cutting short her report to introduce Dr. A. G. Dixon and Rev. Homer Casto.

Dr. Dixon gave facts concerning the Children's Home, a work which began in 1910, and which at present cares for one hundred and eighteen children at a cost of two hundred and ten dollars per child per year. The finances are in good condition, the budget practically balanced. As to the future, Dr. Dixon expects better days, but urged continued suport from local churches until the machinery of union is put in motion and adjustments are made.

Mr. Casto spoke briefly of Bethel Home and expressed his deep gratitude to the Branch for its loyal support.

Mrs. Hammer, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Bethel Home, was recognized at this time. She explained that due to the establishment of state and county institutions for the tubercular, the usefulness of the privately owned or charitable institution was waning. She spoke of the interest of the Branch in the splendid work done at this home and offered the following resolutions which had been previously approved by the Executive Committee:

1. That the Trustees of Bethel Home deed the Bethel Home property back to Mr. Casto.

2. That the same appropriation be made this year as heretofore.

3. That we continue our support as long as necessary.

Mrs. H. C .Nicholson asked the privilege of seconding Mrs. Hammer's motion for the adoption of these resolutions. Mrs. Andrews asked for a rising vote and received a unanimous affirmative. Mr. Casto thanked the Branch for this action.

Mrs. George R. Brown, Secretary of Christian Education, gave her report and told a story illustrating the value of Christian Education.

Rev. Homer Casto dismissed the session with prayer.

Wednesday P. M. 7:30 o'Clock

At the evening session Mrs. Fred G. Holloway continued her development of the theme, "Looking Backward, Thinking Forward," showing us God's perfect revelation of himself in Christ. An offering was taken for the Minnis Fund.

The evening was featured by a play on India, "Tara Finds the Door to Happiness." This was produced by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hicks, Jr., the parts being played by a group of young people of the local church, under the general direction of Mrs. E. A. Lamb, Secretary of Young People's Work. The play was well done and taught its lesson most effectively.

Thursday A. M. 9:30 o'Clock

The Thursday morning session was opened with congregational singing and a Scripture lesson by the Secretary of Spiritual Life, who introduced Mrs. Fred G. Holloway. Continuing her study of the conference theme, Mrs.

Holloway again held the undivided attention of her audience as she guided their thoughts to the topic, "Looking Backward and Thinking Forward to Our Ideas About His Church."

Mrs. Kearns stated that the offering at the evening session completed the Minnis Fund, bringing the previous day's offering to a total of $48.45.

Mrs. Andrews asked Mrs. H. C. Nicholson to come forward and read a letter from Mr. Minnis, which brought his greeting to the Branch and told in detail of the work he is doing and of the blessings the Lord has sent to this mission field. He thanked the Branch for the support and cooperation of the year and asked for prayer for the success of his efforts.

Dr. Bates also read a portion of a letter showing the extent of Methodist missions in India and the prospects of continuing our work there. Mrs. Andrews asked Dr. Bates to lead the prayer.

The minutes of the previous session were read and corrected.

Mrs. E. O. Peeler, Secretary of Spiritual Life, read a most satisfactory report which was accepted.

Mrs. R. A. Hunter, Secretary of Life, Memorial, Perpetual, and Sustaining Members, reported a total of thirty-six new members. The audience stood as the roll of Memorial members was read. Mrs. Andrews asked those present who had been made Life Members to come forward as their names were called. She greeted James Talton Bowman and Edith Marie Bowman, twins, children of Rev. and Mrs. James T. Bowman as the youngest Life Members ever enrolled. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Hunter for the most excellent report ever presented by a membership secretary.

A rising vote was also given Mrs. Hammer after she read her report as Thank Offering Secretary, for the Thank Offering had reached the goal.

Mrs. Andrews then introduced Miss Louise Best, returned missionary from Brazil, M. E. Church, South.

Miss Best brought greetings from the Western N. C. Conference of Women's Work, whose sessions she had been attending in Lenoir, and from Brazil. She told many interesting facts about Brazil's physical geography, products, climate, language, and the customs. She discussed the accomplishments of Methodism in Brazil, emphasizing the educational phase, its privileges and opportunities. Her entire address stressed the need of the work.

Mrs. Andrews thanked Miss Best in well chosen words for her most worthwhile contribution to our program.

The reports of the secretaries of Temperance and Christian Citizenship and of Pastor's Aid were read and accepted. Mrs. E. L. Ballard's report gave evidence of unremitting activity on her part and that of the 72 auxiliaries reporting to her.

Dr. Paschal of Burlington dismissed the session with prayer.

Thursday Afternoon 1:30

Business was resumed in the afternoon following a beautiful worship period in which Rev. E. L. Ballard led the group in singing. Mrs. Fred G. Holloway concluded her uplifting meditations, using the theme "Looking Backward and Thinking Forward to Our Ideas About His World." This series of inspirational talks has been one of the outstanding features of the convention and we are deeply indebted to Mrs. Holloway.

Dr. G. I. Humphreys of High Point College spoke of the growing institution which he represents. He showed its growth in physical equipment and increase in enrollment and stated that the ideal which motivated the administration is that spiritual growth shall keep pace with material growth. Pride in the past of the college and optimism as to the future pervaded his remarks.

Mrs. George R. Brown read a letter from Dr. Forlines which listed the needs of the Theological Seminary.

Mrs. C. W. Bates, Custodian of Records, asked that records of recording secretaries and treasurers which had not been placed in her keeping should be given her promptly. She also offered histories of the Women's Missionary Work at fifty cents each.

Mrs. J. C. Madison, Secretary of Exhibits, called attention to the display in an adjoining classroom and asked for more effective cooperation in the future.

Mrs. H. C. Nicholson, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, presented her report which was adopted. The resolutions follow:

In compliance with the recommendations of the president that we send a representative to meetings of the united church, which vitally concern our work, we recommend

1. That the President of the Branch attend these meetings or appoint some one to represent us.
2. That the $1,500.00 be raised for the Minnis Salary and that we begin now to work it and send it in monthly, if possible.

· Mrs. A. H. Ragan read the report of the Nominating Committee and moved the adoption of the report. Motion prevailed. The report follows:

OFFICERS

President—Mrs. R. M. Andrews, 607 Guilford Ave., Greensboro, N. C.

First Vice-President—Mrs. D. S. Coltrane, 120 Hillcrest Road, Raleigh, N. C.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. W. F. Redding, Jr., Asheboro, N. C.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. S. S. Holt, Graham, N. C.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. T. Bowman, Thomasville, N. C.

Treasurer—Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Denton, N. C.

Assistant Treasurer—Mrs. J. H. Allred.

Auditor—Mrs. E. W. Teague, Greensboro, N. C., R. F. D.

Chairman of Districts—Mrs. C. W. Bates, Brown Summit, N. C.

DEPARTMENTAL SECRETARIES

Exhibits—Mrs. J. Clay Madison, Colonial Drive, High Point, N. C.

Pastors' Aid — Mrs. E. Lester Ballard, Reidsville, N. C.

Christian Education—Mrs. George R. Brown, Liberty, N. C.

Thank Offering—Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer, Asheboro, N. C.

Life, Memorial, Perpetual, and Sustaining Membership—Mrs. R. A. Hunter, Winston-Salem, N. C., R. F. D. 1.

Student Loan Fund of High Point College—Mrs. J. M. Millikan, High Point College, High Point, N. C.

Missionary Education—Mrs. J. E. Pritchard, 909 W. College Drive, High Point, N. C.

Spiritual Life—Mrs. E. O. Peeler, Anne St., Concord, N. C.

Young People's Work—Mrs. E. A. Lamb, Greensboro, N. C., R. F. D. 1.

Literature—Mrs. T. L. Speas, 226 Sunset Drive, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Benevolence—Mrs. J. M. Stone, 514 Fifth Ave., Greensboro, N. C.

Scholarships and Native Workers—Mrs. W. H. Neece.

Temperance and Christian Citizenship—Miss Pearl McCulloch, 1011 Martin Street, Greensboro, N. C.

Custodian of Records—Mrs. C. W. Bates, Brown Summit, N. C.

Delegates to Convention:
President.
Corresponding Secretary.
Mrs. George C. Haltom.
Mrs. J. M. Millikan.

Alternates:
Mrs. Carl Curtis.
Mrs. George R. Brown.
Mrs. E. O. Peeler.
Mrs. J. H. Cutchin.

Mrs. Coy L. Kearns, Chairman of the Finance Committee, distributed copies of recommendations from her committee, with auxiliary apportionments and information as to credits on World Service and Minnis Salary.

While these were being distributed, Dr. R. M. Andrews spoke in regard to the Herald.

Mrs. Kearns read the recommendations which were adopted. They follow:

Recommendations of the Finance Committee

1. That the budget for this year be, $6,000 for World Service, which shall include Minnis Salary and Thank Offering; $3,000 for N. C. Interests (The Children's Home, Bethel Home, Student Loan Fund for High Point College, and Branch Contingent Fund which includes our promotional work); and $1,000 for High Point College.
2. That the percentage for the N. C. Budget be, 50 per cent to the Children's Home, 20 per cent to Bethel Home, 20 per cent to the Student Loan Fund for High Point College, and 10 per cent to the Branch Contingent Fund.
3. That we pay $100 to the Editor of the Methodist Protestant Herald for space in the Herald.
4. That the Auxiliaries send their funds to the Treasurer promptly each month, and that no Auxiliary reduce its budget until it has tried faithfully for 12 months to raise the amount apportioned.
5. That the Treasurer print in the Herald once each quarter a summary of the work of the quarter, such as money received, new auxiliaries sending in funds, and any other items of interest.
6. That the Branch authorize the sale of the remaining Histories of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society for 50 cents each.
7. That the Auxiliary apportionments for the year 1939-1940 be as follows:

Auxiliary Apportionments for 1939-40

	N. C.	College	W. S.	Minnis
Asheboro	$170.00	$50.00	$280.00	$100.00
Asheville	30.00	10.00	40.00	5.00
Albemarle	3.00	2.00	10.00	10.00
Baltimore, W. Forsyth	10.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Bess Chapel	15.00	5.00	20.00	5.00
Bethel, Ala.	35.00	10.00	85.00	10.00

Bethesda, N. Davidson	20.00	10.00	55.00	5.00
Bethesda, Hali.	10.00	5.00	15.00	3.00
Burlington	215.00	40.00	450.00	30.00
Bellmont, Mt. Hermon	10.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Bowers Chapel, Richland	5.00	2.00	5.00	5.00
Bethany, Randolph	1.00	1.00	2.00	1.00
Calvary	75.00	27.00	193.00	25.00
Canaan, Denton	4.00	2.00	6.00	3.00
Charlotte	10.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Charlotte, Richland	6.00	4.00	10.00	5.00
Chestnut Ridge, Orange	10.00	10.00	10.00	5.00
Concord, First	70.00	10.00	145.00	25.00
Concord, Saxapahaw	10.00	5.00	25.00	10.00
Canaan, North Davidson	3.00	2.00	5.00	5.00
Center, Ala.	5.00	5.00	15.00	2.00
Creswell	2.00	1.00	2.00	1.00
Chapel Hill, Davidson Cg.	3.00	1.00	4.00	2.00
Denton	15.00	10.00	20.00	10.00
Danville	10.00	5.00	5.00	5.00
Eden	30.00	5.00	40.00	15.00
Enfield	25.00	15.00	40.00	10.00
Efland, Orange	25.00	15.00	30.00	10.00
Fair Grove, Why Not	1.00	1.00	1.00	2.00
Flat Rock, Vance	20.00	5.00	20.00	5.00
Fountain Place	20.00	5.00	40.00	10.00
Friendship, Mt. Herman	60.00	15.00	90.00	5.00
Friendship, Shiloh	10.00	5.00	20.00	5.00
Fallston Circuit	20.00	10.00	30.00	10.00
Friendship, Friendship	2.00	5.00	5.00	3.00
Fairview, Anderson Cg.	3.00	2.00	4.00	2.00
Fairview, Glen Raven	1.00	1.00	2.00	1.00
Gibsonville	50.00	10.00	75.00	10.00
Graham	30.00	10.00	70.00	20.00
Grace	117.00	35.00	148.00	50.00
Gray's Chapel	2.00	2.00	4.00	2.00
Gillburg, Vance Charge	7.00	5.00	12.00	2.00
Giles Chapel, Richland Charge	3.00	2.00	3.00	3.00
Harmony	10.00	5.00	20.00	5.00
Haw River	15.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Haw River Circuit	20.00	10.00	70.00	- - -
Hawkins Chapel, Littleton	3.00	2.00	7.00	3.00
Henderson	100.00	25.00	190.00	10.00
High Point	215.00	50.00	275.00	50.00
Hickory Ridge	20.00	10.00	35.00	7.50
Hebron, Orange	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Hope	5.00	5.00	5.00	5.00
Hollister	10.00	5.00	10.00	7.50
Julian	10.00	10.00	10.00	5.00
Kannapolis	15.00	10.00	15.00	5.00
Kistlers Union	10.00	10.00	15.00	5.00
Kernersville	2.00	2.00	5.00	1.00
Lebanon, High Point	80.00	10.00	120.00	- - -
Lexington, First	10.00	5.00	10.00	7.50
Lexington, State Street	10.00	5.00	15.00	- -
Lineberry, Davidson	2.00	2.00	3.00	3.00
Liberty	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Lawndale, Cleveland Cg.	3.00	5.00	10.00	12.00
Love's Grove, Friendship	5.00	5.00	5.00	5.00
Lincolnton	2.00	1.00	4.00	3.00
Littleton	3.00	1.00	4.00	2.00
Maple Springs	35.00	10.00	45.00	10.00
Matthews Chapel, Greenville	5.00	5.00	5.00	5.00
Mebane	130.00	10.00	130.00	10.00
Midway, Shady Grove	3.00	2.00	3.00	2.00
Mitchell Grove, Guilford Cg.	2.00	2.00	4.00	2.00
Moriah	30.00	10.00	35.00	10.00
Mt. Carmel, Granville	10.00	5.00	25.00	5.00
Mt. Carmel, Lexington-First Ch.	4.00	2.00	2.00	5.00
Mt. Carmel, Forsyth	5.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Mt. Herman, Mt. Herman Charge	30.00	15.00	55.00	10.00
Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Pleasant	75.00	15.00	125.00	10.00
Mt. Pleasant, N. Davidson	5.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Cg.	2.00	1.00	2.00	2.00
Mt. Lebanon, Randleman	2.00	3.00	30.00	20.00
Mt. Moriah, Cleveland Cg.	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Mt. Zion, Pinnacle Charge	7.00	5.00	10.00	3.00
New Hope, Why Not	5.00	2.00	5.00	3.00
Oak Grove, Cleveland	10.00	10.00	15.00	5.00
Pleasant Hill, W. Forsyth	25.00	10.00	30.00	10.00
Pleasant Union, Mt. Pleasant	5.00	2.00	5.00	3.00
Pleasant Grove	10.00	5.00	25.00	10.00
Pinnacle, Pinnacle	5.00	5.00	8.00	2.00
Pine Bluff	2.00	1.00	2.00	1.00
Porter	2.00	1.00	2.00	1.00
Rehobeth, Granville	35.00	10.00	50.00	10.00
Reidsville	80.00	10.00	120.00	20.00
Rock Creek, Alamance	15.00	5.00	15.00	5.00
Rankin Memorial	3.00	2.00	10.00	5.00
Sapling Ridge, Alamance	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Salem, Saxapahaw	5.00	5.00	10.00	2.00
Shiloh, Shiloh	25.00	10.00	40.00	25.00
Siler City	30.00	10.00	35.00	5.00
Spencer	3.00	3.00	5.00	2.00
Seagrove, Love Joy	3.00	3.00	5.00	5.00
Spring Valley, Vance	15.00	10.00	20.00	3.00
Spring Church Circuit	20.00	15.00	40.00	10.00
Spring Hill	3.00	2.00	5.00	3.00
St. Paul, Greensboro	10.00	5.00	10.00	1.00
Shoals, Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Saxapahaw Church, Sax. Charge	3.00	1.00	4.00	2.00
Tabernacle	90.00	15.00	150.00	20.00
Thomasville, First	40.00	10.00	70.00	5.00
Thomasville, Community	50.00	25.00	150.00	10.00
Union, Halifax	7.00	5.00	10.00	2.00
Union Chapel, Granville	50.00	15.00	70.00	5.00
Union Grove, Union Grove	3.00	2.00	3.00	5.00
Union Grove, Orange	10.00	5.00	10.00	5.00
Union Ridge	8.00	6.00	10.00	6.00
Vickery, Guilford Charge	2.00	2.00	3.00	3.00
Weaverville	20.00	5.00	25.00	5.00
Welch Memorial	25.00	10.00	40.00	5.00
West End, Greensboro	32.00	18.00	45.00	5.00
West End, Thomasville	2.00	2.00	3.00	1.00
Whitakers	35.00	15.00	110.00	10.00
Winston-Salem	100.00	25.00	100.00	5.00

* * *

Mrs. J. T. Bowman made explanation concerning the Contingent Fund.

Mrs. C. W. Bates, Chairman of Districts, presented nominations for District Chairmen. These were elected

DISTRICT CHAIRMEN

District 1—Miss Blanche Hardee, Enfield, N. C.

District 2—Mrs. P. T. Hester, Henderson, N. C.

District 3—Miss Bessie Holmes, Graham, N. C.

District 4—.

District 5 Mrs. Howard R. Neece, 1502 Asheboro St., Greensboro, N. C.

District 6 —.

District 7—Mrs. Carl Curtis, Burlington, N. C., R. F. D. 13.

District 8—Mrs. Earl Vestal, Asheboro, N. C.

District 9—Mrs. W. L. Edwards, 915 S. Main St., High Point, N. C.

District 10 –Mrs. A. H. Ragan, Thomasville, N. C.

District 11 Mrs. Fred Cox.

District 12—Miss Marjorie Cranford, Denton, N. C.

District 13 — Miss Anna Cox, Winston-Salem, N. C.

District 14 — Mrs. B. L. Heavner, Vale, N. C.

District 15—Mrs. W. L. Little, Concord, N. C., R. F. D. 1.

District 17 Miss Montez Henderson, Easley, S. C., R. F. D. 4.

District 18—Miss Irene Holcomb, Weaverville, N. C.

Mrs. J. H. Walker, Jr. was presented as president of the local auxiliary. She read the report of the Credentials Committee which stated that 39 churches were represented with 128 delegates. Her report was accepted.

* * *

(Continued on Page Fifteen)

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

First Methodist Protestant Church, Charlotte, Rev. T. E. Strickland, Pastor.—Charlotte Church has been wonderfully blessed during the Lenten Season with several beautiful services. Friday night in the Tabernacle of the Church, the moving picture, "From the Manger to the Cross" was presented. This is a wonderful picture and I am sure that everyone present received a great benefit from this picture. The service Sunday morning was also very good. The Church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, and many lovely cut flowers. The spirit throughout the whole dale was radiant and the music furnished by the choir was very good and everyone enjoyed it immensely. Rev. Odell Brown, of Duke University, delivered the morning sermon which was very impressive as an Easter message. We enjoyed having Rev. Brown very much in our midst during the week-end and feel sure that when he returns to hold the revival meeting, that we will be wonderfully blessed.

We were very glad to have Mrs. W. A. McCall join with our church Sunday morning, and we trust that she will enjoy our fellowship and that we will be a great help to her. We were also glad to have the large number out for the services Sunday morning and evening.

The young people of the church presented the drama, "The Unlighted Cross," at the evening service. This was very impressive and I am sure everyone benefited from this drama. Lloyd McCall, Jr., gave a special number on the accordion. The spirit in this service was very good. The church was filled to overflowing.

We have been successful in meeting our quota in obtaining subscriptions for the Herald. We have also pledged the full amount of our World Service budget, to be paid next Sunday.

The workers' council met last Monday evening with Mrs. E. H. Stone, at her home on Park road. We are having a contest in our Sunday school with two sides, the Red and the Blue. At present the Red team is winning. We are taking a trip from New York to San Francisco to the World's Fair. This has helped the attendance both at Sunday school and church, as points are given to each individual who stays for service in the church.

Enthusiasm has been bubbling over in the Charlotte church during the Lenten season and we trust that it will continue to accomplish great things.

HELEN McCALL, Reporter.

* * *

Union Chapel Church, Mocksville, Rev. K. G. Holt, Pastor.—Rev. Mr. Holt delivered an interesting sermon to us Easter Sunday night on the subject of "Easter." On account of illness and a death, Easter passed off very quietly in our community.

Mr. R. L. Baker is able to be with us again after being confined to his room, we are glad to state. Little Frances Hutchens does not seem to be inmproving much. She has been confined to her room ever since Christmas. We hope the spring days will restore her health again.

On April 4 our hearts were filled with sadness when we learned that Charlie Holman, 17, was dead. His death resulted from an appendicitis operation. He was a regular member of our Sunday school and will be missed greatly by all: he was interested in all the church activities and helped in every way he could. Burial services were held at Union Chapel, April 5, with Rev. K. G. Holt and Rev. W. S. J. Walker in charge. The body was laid to rest in the church cemetery.

He leaves behind, his father, two sisters, three brothers, and a host of relatives and friends.

The following poem has been written in remembrance of him by a group of his friends:

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, kind and true;
So sad, so hard, was the call.
His death was such a shock to all.

He attended Sunday school:
To be there regular was his rule.
He worked very hard at home.
Was not the kind of boy who liked to roam.

We feel that Charlie is safe in the arms of Jesus.
There never to depart again:
We feel he was free from sin,
And we know he was at peace with all men.

His cheery ways, his smiling face to recall.
Yet again we hope to meet thee when the days of life have fled,
When in heaven with joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tears are shed.

This is the first member of our Sunday school to die in several years.

* * *

Lincolnton, W. L. Harkey, Pastor.—A report from our church has not appeared in the Herald for quite a while, but we have not been idle. We have been bettering ourselves spiritually as well as financially.

Rev. Mr. Harkey has been bringing us messages filled with the Spirit of God. He spent two weeks in Lakeland, Florida, at a camp meeting a month or so ago, and since then he has been doing some wonderful preaching.

We are getting along very well financially. The expense for the delegate to the Uniting Conference has been raised. We have paid off a one hundred dollar debt of the church and are working hard on the larger debt.

There are two and three cottage prayer meetings being held each week in our church community and there are wonderful results. Many souls have been saved this way. We hope that more interest will be shown and these meetings will be kept going.

The Woman's Auxiliary held its meeting last Saturday in the home of Mrs. Eva Little. Officers for the coming year were elected. Mrs. W. L. Harkey was elected president, Mrs. Ted Eurey vice-president and secretary, and Mrs. Cass Leonard treasurer. The organization paid for the new song books which have been purchased for our church.

A wedding which was of great interest and surprise occurred Easter Sunday when Miss Margaret Harkey and Mr. Robert Beal were married. Mrs. Beal is the oldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Harkey, and Mr. Beal is the son of Mr. Ed Beal and the late Mrs. Beal. Everyone wishes the couple much success and happiness in their life's journey together.

MRS. TED EUREY, Reporter.

* * *

Seagrove, Seagrove-Love Joy Charge.—Our pastor, Rev. J. H. Trolinger, preached Sunday at 11 a.m., filling his regular appointment. He gave us an interesting message.

Our Sunday school is growing steadily, with an enrollment of 114. There were 92 present last Sunday.

Mrs. L. A. King, one of our members and teacher of the primary class is in Pinehurst hospital recovering from an operation. Several from here visited her last Sunday.

Mis Nova Yow, a faithful Sunday school worker and secretary of the adult class, is in bed taking a rest treatment for heart trouble. Prayers were offered Sunday in behalf of these good ladies, and we are hoping and praying they will both soon be restored to their accustomed places in church and Sunday school.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met Friday night, April 14, with Mrs. Noah Williams. A goodly number were present. Installation of the new officers featured the program at this meeting. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Friday night after the third Sunday in May, with the secretary, Mrs. W. C. Auman.

Mrs. D. J. Johnson, Mrs. Nettie Allen, Mrs. W. C. Auman, Mrs. Clyde Rusell, Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mrs. Charlie Russell, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Trolinger, and Noah Williams attended the Branch meeting at High Point Wednesday. Rev. and Mrs. Trolinger and Mrs. Johnson stayed over for Thursday's meeting also.

MRS. NOAH WILLIAMS, Reporter.

* * *

Kernersville-South Winston, April 17.—The work on this charge has been going along at a normal speed. Attendance at Sunday school and church services at all the churches has been fairly good for the past few weeks.

The funeral service for R. C. Hunter, a member of the Kernersville church, was held at the Kernersville church April 7, 1939, at 2 p.m., conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. J. S. Cook, Presbyterian minister of Spray. Interment was in the Kernersville cemetery. An obituary will appear in the Herald at a later date.

This pastor was called to Flat Rock church on Flat Rock charge Tuesday of last week to conduct the funeral service of Paschal Wray, whose death occurred near Summerfield early Monday morning. The deceased attended services at Flat Rock church while he resided in that community. The wife and several sons and daughters survive, besides J. H. and J. M. Wray, brothers, who are members of Flat Rock church, and Miss Ida Wray, Mrs. Sam Troxler, Mrs. Cora Lester, and Mrs. Sarah Harrell, sisters, all members of Flat Rock church.

The second quarterly conference for the Kernersville-South Winston charge was held at the Kernersville church last Saturday afternoon with the usual attendance of officials. The regular routine of reports and incidental business was followed. Nominees for delegate to the next annual conference were selected. Paul Butner, of the Kernersville church, and Glenn Ingram, of Pine Grove church, were chosen.

The pastor and family are appreciative of numerous gifts from different members and friends since our last report. We thank each one for the gifts, which were appreciated. Mrs. Way has been the recipient of a number of gifts, among which was a beautiful hand-made quilt given by Miss Ellen Sharpe, member of Bethany church on Flat Rock charge. She also desires to mention two other gifts, a beautiful new dress given by Mrs. Clay Parrish, of Kernersville, and a beautiful hand-made rug given by Mr. and Mrs. Clay Pender, of Sandy Ridge church. All of these gifts are highly appreciated.

Since the reporter for the Kernersville church did not report the Easter program rendered at that church Easter Sunday night, I will mention it and make a brief comment. It was a very impressive service, "The Festival of Life," consisting of Easter music, recitations and exercises by the children, and a pageant by the young people. The offering, which was $4.00, has been forwarded to the conference treasurer.

Plans have been made to have a special service at the Kernersville church the first Sunday night in May for the Kernersville Post of the American Legion. Members of that organization will attend the service, and the writer, who is an ex-service man, will deliver a special sermon. Special music will be arranged for the service, which will be at 7:45 p.m.

The community of the Kernersville church was made sad early Monday morning when the news of the death of Mr. Leach Linville was heard. Mr. Linville and family were neighbors of their pastor and family, and they attended services at the Kernersville church occasionally. Funeral services are to be held Tuesday afternoon.

C. B. WAY, Pastor.

* * *

Love Joy Church, Seagrove - Love Joy Charge, J. H. Trolinger, Pastor.—We have been enjoying some fine messages delivered by our pastor, who has filled each appointment during the past month. A thank-offering service was held the fourth Sunday in March. A thank-offering was taken at the close of the service.

The junior, intermediate, and young people's department of the Sunday school gave a short, but interesting Easter program which took the place of the Sunday school Easter Sunday morning.

Our Sunday school has held its attendance well during the winter months. Now that spring has opened up, we hope to have an increase in attendance. We appreciate the cooperative spirit in our Sunday school work. We are proud of our record. Three ministers of the gospel have gone out from our school in the past few years: Rev. Paul Hamilton, Rev. Colon Reynolds, and Rev. Dallas Saunders. Our prayer is that more may be called into the Lord's service in the future years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Russell and Mrs. Arthur Atkins attended the tenth annual meeting of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work at the First M. P. church in High Point last Thursday.

The Friendship Circle met in the home of Mrs. Frank Manness Tuesday night, April 4. There were 22 members present. At the conclusion of the program delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Lonnie Russell invited the circle for the May meeting.

Since this will be the first meeting of our new year auxiliary work, we hope to make a good start. We want to meet all our apportionments for the next year, and we are going to work toward that goal.

REPORTER.

* * *

Shilch, Shiloh Charge, C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—The second quarterly conference of Shiloh charge will meet Saturday, April 22, at Greer's Chapel. All members are urged to be present.

The C. E. society will conduct the monthly prayer service next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

The committee for the annual home-coming and memorial day, which is always held on the third Sunday in May, is busy preparing a program. We hope that many are planning to be with us on that day.

This Sabbath day our pastor brought us a very inspiring message on the subject, "The Value of Time." The scripture lesson was Matt. 25:1-14, the Parable of the Ten Virgins. He pointed out to us that time is short and there is none to be wasted with careless living. May we all strive to use our time in serving the purpose God has for each of us so that our capacity for heaven may be enlarged each day we are privileged to live.

MRS. KYLE SINK, Reporter.

* * *

Mebane Church.—Since there has been no report from this church for quite a while, it does not mean the church is dead or inactive: the church is still moving forward.

Easter was a good day for us. At the morning service we received four new members by profession. At the evening service we had an Easter cantata given by the combined choirs of Mebane and Hebron churches under the direction of our choir leader, Mr. T. O. Pender.

The finances of the church are coming along very well. We have paid our World Service in full, also delegates' expense and annual conference expense. The church has been repaired and painted on the outside.

We were glad to have our annual conference president visit our church and preach for us on Sunday morning, January 15. The pastor and church appreciated his visit very much. The various organizations of our church are carrying on their work very successfully, and we are hopeful of this being the best year yet.

D. I. GARNER, Pastor.

* * *

Harmony Church, Yarborough Charge, Rev. J. F. Furr, Pastor.—Our pastor has filled all his appointments since the last report, each time with a new and more interesting message. Our Sunday school is progressing very nicely under the leadership of our new superintendent, Ralph Hughes. There has been a great increase in attendance in the last two months, and we hope the coming months will bring a still better attendance.

The Woman's Auxiliary met with Miss Edna Hughes, March 25 at 3:30 p.m., with 10 members present. Mrs. W. H. Balentine was the program leader, and the following had part on the program: Misses Julia Medlock, Sudie Medlock, Edna Hughes, Marguerite Knight, Eleanor Knight, and Mrs. Henry Balentine. The auxiliary kept its same officers for the new year. They are as follows: President, Miss Kate Medlock; vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Balentine; secretary-treasurer, Miss Edna Hughes. During the social hour delicious refreshments were served, after which we adjourned.

Last Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock an Easter program was presented to a very large congregation by some of the young people of our church. The beauty of the church added to the sacredness of the program. The offering amounted to $8.15, which will go for the World Service.

Congratulations and best wishes for happiness and success to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Simmons, who were married April 2. Mrs. Simmons was before her marriage Miss Sarah Simpson.

ELEANOR KNIGHT, Reporter.

* * *

Spencer - China Grove Charge, A. Ridge, Pastor.—We are indeed glad to say we are still living with a greater determination than ever to press onward and upward for God's cause and Kingdom. Our church work is going on rapidly. Sunday school has fallen off some for the last while, but we have been having sickness for quite a while; but are still praying they will all get well and be back with us again.

Our Ladies' Aid is still working for a higher goal and we need the prayers of all Christian people.

We have organized a Christian Endeavor society and are praying that it will be a great blessing to all, especially to the young people, that it may lead them more closely to God each day.

Our pastor has been faithful. He has filled every appointment so far, and he and his family just seem like three of our family. We pray God's richest blessing upon them, as we all love our Heavenly Father for His many blessings. May God bless you all, every one.

MRS. TITUS WRIGHT, Ass't Reporter.

* * *

Love's Grove, Friendship - Love's Grove Charge, Earl A. Cook, Pastor.—There has not been a report from Love's Grove church in quite a while, but the church has been wide awake, even if its reporter has been negligent.

Our pastor has been filling his appointments regularly with very interesting messages, one of which was on Easter morning following the Easter program by the children and young people.

On Easter Sunday night there was a pageant given under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Little and Mrs. H. M. Tarleton. This was a very impressive program and was attended by a large crowd.

I can faithfully say that I have never seen more interest taken in attending church at Love's Grove, especially the Sunday school. In recent months our attendance has been almost double the attendance over a year ago, and is still on the climb.

Last Sunday we had 151 in Sunday school, with several visitors; this is the largest attendance of the year, and we are striving to do a great work for the Master in days to come.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is having its regular meetings and are doing a great work.

Plans are under way for an addition to the church, of a new pulpit, altar rail, and choir loft. The committees are working faithfully and we hope that each member of the church will cooperate so that we may have this improvement in the near future.

CLAUDE WHITLEY, Reporter.

Friendship Church, Fallston Charge.—Sunday school and church services were attended by a large crowd last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Hethcox delivered a most helpful message concerning Stephen, the great steward.

Much work is being done to prepare a list as accurately as possible of the money, labor, timber, etc., given by each person helping with the building of our church. This information is to be written on paper and placed in the cornerstone of the church. The basement has not been finished as yet, but we are hoping to have the job completed soon.

Next third Sunday the annual memorial services will be held at this church. Preaching services to be in the morning at 11 o'clock and lunch on the grounds. The pastor appointed a branch committee, consisting of Cletus Wright, Fields Toney, and Mrs. Clem Martin, to plan a program for the afternoon.

The church will be dedicated on the third Sunday in June. Dr. Pritchard will preach at 11 o'clock, and Bishop Purcell, of the M. E. Church, South, will preach in the afternoon, followed by the dedication services.

REPORTER.

◆

CALLING ALL YOUNG PEOPLE!

Youth Day, April 29, 1939

Kansas City, Uniting Conference

Saturday, April 29, is Youth Day at the Uniting Conference. The following program hase been prepared by representatives of the the uniting churches. Ten thousand young people are expected to attend.

SCHEDULE

1:45-3:45 P. M.

SEMINARS for youth and youth leaders. There will be thirty or more discussion groups on youth problems.

4:00 P. M.

VESPER SERVICE. In co-operation with the Commission on Evangelism.

8:00 P. M.

UNITED YOUTH RALLY.

Chairmen:

Marjory Wingett, Methodist Protestant.

Roosevelt Crockett, Methodist Episcopal.

Cletus Baker, Methodist Episcopal, South.

Youth Speakers:

What Youth May Expect in the Methodist Church, Harriet Lewis, Methodist Episcopal.

What Youth Will Give To the New Church, Donald Barss, Methodist Protestant.

The Challenge of Tomorrow, George Wesley Jones, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Address: "The Challenge to Youth," Dr. Harold Case, Scranton, Pa.

Dramatic Cavalcade: "Calling All Youth," directed by Harold Ehrensperger.

Entertainment:

Night accommodations can be had in tourist camps and private homes as well as in hotels. For information about private homes write Rev. Carl Webb, Grand Ave. Temple Office Bldg., Grand Ave. at Ninth St., Kansas City, Missouri. There are good restaurants near the auditorium.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Bethesda, N. Davidson	$ 4.36
Haw River S. S., Glen Raven	2.85
Matthews Chapel S. S., Greensville	1.00
Center S. S., Alamance	6.55
Hickory Ridge, Forsyth	5.50
Enfield S. S.	5.00
Shoals S. S., Pinnacle-Mt. Zion, March and April	4.14
Canaan S. S., Denton	1.00
Reidsville S. S.	10.54
Woman's Aux., Flint, Mich., for shoes	3.00
Eden Aux., Halifax, for shoes	4.06
Kernersville (church not given)	4.45
Whitakers S. S.	5.00
Glen Raven S. S.	10.00
Lebanon S. S., High Point	8.55
Shiloh S. S., Randolph	2.50
Pleasant Union S. S., Mt. Pleasant	3.00
First church S. S., Burlington	35.00
Woman's Aux., Gibsonville, shoes and clothing	4.00
Woman's Aux., Montgomery, Ala., for shoes	3.00
Churches of Saginaw District, Michigan	3.00
Harris Chapel S.S., Vance, March-April	5.00
Woman's Aux., Denton, for shoes	2.00
Woman's Aux., Kansas City, Kansas, for shoes	3.00
Mr. H. L. Horton, Wilkinsburg, Pa., personal	5.00
Harmony Grove S. S., W. Forsyth	2.28
Mrs. C. W. Mengel, Greensboro, personal	1.00
First church S. S., Charlotte	6.14
Woman's Aux., Graham, for shoes	3.00
Calvary S. S., Greensboro	15.00
Friendship S. S., Shiloh	5.00
Friendship S. S., Shiloh	3.50
Giles Chapel S. S., Richland	3.50
Fountain Place S. S., Burlington	6.55
First church S. S., High Point, March and April	30.00
Woman's Aux., Rogersville, Mo., for shoes	1.00
Liberty S. S., regular and Easter	10.72
Baltimore S. S., W. Forsyth	3.00
Mitchell's Grove S. S., Guilford	5.00
Bethany S. S., Randolph	8.15
Mebane S. S.	6.75
Henderson S. S.	10.00
Chase City S. S.	3.07
Woman's Aux., Aurora, Mo., for shoes	.50
Welch Memorial S. S., High Point	12.00

Clothing and Other Gifts

Philathea class, Rankin Memorial, High Point, a bundle of clothing for a boy.

The Easter outfits are all in and our girls were well cared for. A discerning man at First church, High Point, said they looked "beautiful." Others expressed delight at the way our girls were clad. We are thankful to the many groups of women who made, or purchased, the outfits and sent them in. A few outfits were sent in for the boys, and we did the best we could for the rest.

Extra Offerings

A few of our Sunday schools and churches have increased their offerings during either March or April, and we greatly appreciate their help. Note above two offerings from Friendship on Shiloh. Also note that because Liberty had paid out ahead of time on World Service, they could send us a bit more than double their regular monthly offering at Easter. We appreciate this. And we greatly appreciate all gifts of money and substance from whatever source they may come.

Home-Coming Day

The annual home-coming day will be held in June or early July. Please be planning for it. We are hoping to have Dr. J. H. Straughn as one of the speakers, so are waiting for him to give us a date on which he can come.

May the dear Lord bless each of you abundantly.

Yours in His service.
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

◆

WE'RE ALL CHISELERS

Life's stone wall of resistance seems
To face all—weak and strong.
We're given tools to hew a trail,
And wend our way along.

With thoughts and deeds, we chisel bits
From this huge mass of rock.
Each one can serve us as a step,
Or be a stumbling block.

No one can carve your path for you.
You must do this alone!
Will your thoughts form rough stumbling blocks,
Or—each a stepping stone?

—Lyla Myers.

◆

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT

(Continued from Page Twelve)

Mrs. George R. Brown, Chairman of the Committee on Awards, presented cups for the highest percentage of efficiency in the four divisions of Young People's work as follows:

Precious Jewels, First Church, Burlington.

Sunshine Circle, State St., Lexington.

Mission Club, Concord.

Young People's Circle, First Church, Thomasville.

The report included two recommendations:

1. That posters be used by the groups, other than Precious Jewels, for keeping records.
2. That a chart be prepared to give as the basis of awards to Precious Jewels a basis more comprehensive than membership, dues, and public meetings, including, perhaps, activities of various kinds. The report and recommendations were adopted.

Mrs. E. L. Ballard read a most appreciative report from the Courtesy Committee.

Dr. S. W. Taylor asked the privilege of the floor to thank the Branch for its aid in raising the Appreciation Year allotment and to express the hope that the ladies would return home and redouble their efforts for this cause.

Dr. J. E. Pritchard, President of the Conference, was presented. Dr. Pritchard spoke briefly of the work of the Branch and conducted a brief but impressive installation service as the newly elected officers gathered at the chancel. Following the prayer at the close of the installation, the tenth annual meeting of the North Carolina Branch was adjourned.

MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, President.
MRS. S. S. HOLT, Recording Secretary.

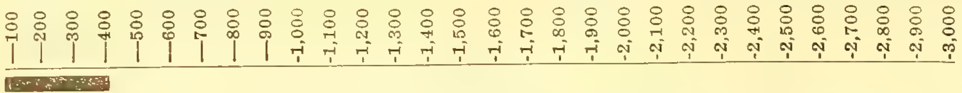
HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Liberty	123%
First Church, Charlotte	100%
Whitakers	93%

◆

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	13¾	...
Alamance	56	14¾
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	6½	..
Asheville	13	7	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	7¼	.
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	½	.
CHARLOTTE	10	10	. .
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	25	5.70
Concord	26	6	*7.50
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	½	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship - Love's Grove	38	8¾
Forsyth	46	9	.
Gibsonville	24	2	...
Glen Raven	52	8½	...
Graham	30	12	....
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	4¼
Greensboro, Grace	36	7
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	..
Greensboro, West End	25	13½	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	5¼
Halifax	42	7½
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	16½
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2¾
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	4½
Kannapolis	21	5	...
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	9
Lexington, First	48	7¼
Lexington, State St.	28	5½
LIBERTY	13	16	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3¼	..
Littleton	46	5¾
Mebane	27	4	.
Mecklenburg	35	2	.
Midway	8	1
Mill Grove church	10	3
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5	....
Mt. Ebal	4	...	....
Mt. Hermon	99	15
Mt. Pleasant	62	13¼
Mt. Zion	16	½	...
North Davidson	36	7	.
Orange	77	13	. .
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	5	.
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	1¾	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	10¼	...
Reidsville	13	7	...
Richland	35	11	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5½	..
Shiloh	65	11	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2	....
Siler City	22	11	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	6	...
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	9½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	10½	. .
Whitakers	8	7½	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	2	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

Miss Verla Mae Leonard, West End	$ .50
By Mrs. F. S. Stockard.
Mrs. J. W. Wright, Fountain Place	1.00
Dougon Kirkman, Randolph charge	1.00
By Mrs. C. F. Anderson.
Mrs. Ethel Suits, Guilford charge	1.00
By S. E. Farlow.
Mrs. R. R. Brewer, Siler City charge	1.00
By Miss Lucy Jones.
W. F. Redding, Jr., Asheboro	2.00
Mrs. F. T. Cox, State St., Lexington, club subscriptions	4.00
A. A. Hill, First, High Point	1.00
Dr. G. I. Humphries, First, High Point	2.00
Mrs. I. B. Ridge, Welch Memorial	1.00
Mrs. J .W. Grenway, Welch Memorial	.50
By Pastor Williams.
Mrs. Jesse Smith, Saxapahaw	1.00
Mrs. M. D. Stout, Grace church	1.00
By Mrs. F. R. Stout.
Bascom Frazier, Midway church	1.00
Miss A. N. Lineback, Rankin Memorial	.50
Mrs. W. W. Grant, Spring Church charge	1.00
J. C. Cooke, Spring Church charge	1.00
Sent by Mrs. Cooke.
R. E. Leonard, North Davidson charge	1.00
By Mrs. C. M. Yokely.
W. W. Oaks, Calvary church	1.00
By Pastor Stubbins.
O. N. Hornaday, Alamance charge	2.00
Mrs. E. B. Stone, First church, Charlotte	1.00
L W. Garmon, First church, Charlotte	1.00
Edward Gibson, First church, Charlotte	2.00
By Pastor Strickland.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

Miss Mae Hatley, Friendship-Love's G.	.50
Club subscriptions, by O. L. Hatley, Friendship-Love's Grove	4.50
Mrs. Paul Shoaf, Friendship, Shiloh	2.00
Alvin Walser, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Grady Walser, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Mrs. W. C. Lanier, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Mrs. Ethel Myers, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Mrs. Bessie Wood, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Mrs. Amos Snyder, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Lloyd Walser, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00
Emery Walser, Friendship, Shiloh	1.00

Sent by Miss Lelia Byerly. Three of these are gift subscriptions by Brother J. W. Walser. Thank you, Miss Lelia and Brother Walser. Such interest encourages us.

Mrs. Emma R. Siler, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. V. H. Dameron, Liberty	2.00
Mr. Optis P. Brower, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. Mamie Smith, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. Colon Brady, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. F. A. Shepard, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. R. W. Ward, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. J. B. York, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. J. G. Swaim, Liberty	2.00
Mrs. B. J. Gregson, Liberty	2.00
Mr. J. F. Deaton, Liberty	1.00
Mr. R. L. Elkins, Liberty	1.00
Mr. Will Smith, Liberty	1.00
Mr. A. J. Brower, Liberty	1.00
Mr. J. E. Cox, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. W. C. Jones, Liberty	2.00
Mrs. Wade Hardin, Liberty	1.00
Mr. A. A. Coble, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. J. A. Clapp, Liberty	1.00
Miss Bertine Shepard, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. S. M. Smith, Liberty	1.00
Mrs. Runa Curtis, Liberty	2.00
By Mrs. B. J. Gregson.

The Editor is most grateful to Mrs. Gregson and the other friends of the Herald at Liberty for this splendid expression of their appreciation of our conference organ.

Mrs. W. T. Smith, Halifax charge	1.00
E. M. Hamilton, club subscription, First church, Lexington	2.20
Mrs. Fred Spoon, First, Burlington	2.00
Mrs. D. E. Hilton, N. Davidson charge	1.00
By Pastor Williams.

Subsidy

First church, Concord	7.50
By R. O. Waddell.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 27, 1939 NUMBER 24

Rev H L Isley Zaug9
R 1

WHAT KIND OF CHURCH?

By William F. Anderson

Helen Barrett Montgomery, in her superb Centenary Translation of the New Testament from the original Greek, suggests that the Acts of the Apostles might well be called "The Acts of the Holy Spirit." The very mood of the chief human actors compels a distinct and positive divine leadership. God in the person of the Holy Spirit takes charge of the enterprise. "We should obey God rather than men," said Peter.

The term "Holy Spirit" is used only three times in the Old Testament, but in the New it is used scores of times, and with an entirely new significance. It now takes to itself a tender, personal, persuasive, intimate relationship hitherto unknown and difficult to describe. The incarnation of God in man comes to its full flower and meaning. The chasm between God and man has been bridged over, and henceforth they live one and the same life. This is especially realized in the conquest of the world by the divine and human agencies working together, the Holy Spirit leading, in the building of the kingdom of God on earth. The confidence and commitment of the early church for this purpose is absolute to the point of death. Hitherto their conception has been "God for us." Now it becomes "God in us," and therefore God for us in a new and deeper sense.

Someone has said that the difference between the Holy Spirit and the Spirit of God, as we use that term, is that the former designation is the Spirit of God plus His experiences in the human as attained in the person of Jesus and in the person of His true believers. Pentecost is not a revelation apart from and different from the revelation in Christ, but the revelation of Christ in its fulness and completeness. The Holy Spirit is Christ in His ultimate intimate humanness. Did not Jesus promise, "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth"? Here we have set in the very heart of redeemed persons the principle of progressive revelation.

In the findings of the Madras conference is this sentence: "The Christian church today is called to live and to give life in a world shaken to its foundations." This is a desperate call from the representatives of the seventy-two nations constituting that great gathering. But what kind of church can meet such a situation? It is a tragic moment in world history. So far as the past is concerned, there is world-wide consensus of opinion to the effect that we are at the end of an era; that we face a new order. Now, who is to be the chief agent in this new and higher revelation for the world's spiritual needs? Clearly, it is the Holy Spirit. It could not in the very nature of the case be any other.

Our historic heritage as regards the trustworthiness of Scripture truth is priceless. Thanks to the science of Biblical critical study, we now have an historic basis never before known for Old Testament and New Testament teaching. This is cause for real thanksgiving. But we have not proceeded upon this fully guaranteed and advantageous position. To use a figure of Ernest Renan, the church has lived all too long as if on the perfume of a broken vase. We have failed to apply fully the progressive feature of the Christian revelation.

God gave Himself once and fully to men in the now historic incarnation of Himself in Christ. The point that needs emphasis for present world conditions is that God is forever renewing this gift of Himself to His followers in the dispensation of His Holy Spirit. Even firmly established historic truth held smugly will not suffice in a day like this. There must be added a new and larger element of divine participation in human affairs. This can come only by a fuller realization of God's actual presence. The church needs a new baptism of God-consciousness as an indwelling presence. This alone will afford aggressive, all-conquering power. This hour calls for a Christianity vitalized, magnetized, electrified—the objective of it all being personal and social righteousness.

The union of our divided Methodisms at Kansas City will be a tremendous event. Already there are indications that other denominations feel the impact of our union. We can rejoice that in the good providence of God we seem to be placed as in a sense the pioneers in a great onward movement for a united Christendom. But new and stronger emphasis of our dependence upon the divine leadership is needed in all our striving for a better world.

Let the Uniting Conference lead the entire church in the realization that we are dependent, in our desperate helplessness, upon the Acts of the Holy Spirit wrought in us and through us for world redemption. The impact of our valiant youth upon this ideal is most heartening. The whole church should give itself in this eventful hour to the development of an obsession for nothing less than world redemption. Our God demands it; our bewildered and bewildering world pleads for it; our own hearts and consciences approve and compel it.

Let us hope that, from beginning to end, the Conference shall so live and work in the open vision of the great God, that, in days to come, its proceedings may be regarded as "The Acts of the Holy Spirit."—Zions Herald.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Day Is At Hand

For the past three years we have been talking about and planning for the Uniting Conference. Now that great day is near at hand. Already some of the delegates are on the way and within a few more hours the rest of us will be on the way. A hundred and eleven years ago our fathers organized themselves into what was then known as the Associated Methodist Churches. One hundred and nine years ago they adopted the name "Methodist Protestant Church." Many of us have never known anything but to belong to this church. We were born in Methodist Protestant families and began to attend church in Methodist Protestant Churches. It has been our church home all of our lives so far. Soon we are to pass into a larger fellowship. We are not joining any other church and the other two are not joining us. We are taking the best of all three and are making a new church to be known as the Methodist Church. This event is a mile stone in the history of the Christian Church. It is the most outstanding example of union on record. It will be somewhat difficult for some of us to adjust ourselves to the new order of things, however, I trust it is for the common good. Let our people everywhere be much in prayer that our representatives may be guided by the Holy Spirit in the choices which are to be made.

Where Mail Is To Be Sent

Those who find it necessary to write me in order to get the name of their church in the Appreciation Year Highlights will please address me at the usual address in High Point. Evidently there has been some misunderstanding about who to notify in order to get the name of the church in that column. Some have written me, some have written the editor of the Herald and others have written Dr. Taylor. But if your church goes over the top and you are entitled to be in the place of honor then address the President of the Conference at 909 West College Drive, High Point and Mrs. Pritchard will see to it that this matter is looked after. Those who wish to write me about any engagement after the Uniting Conference may address me at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, Kansas City, Missouri.

After The Uniting Conference, What?

Several people have asked me, some by letter and some over the telephone about the status of certain phases of our work after the Uniting Conference. This is something that I cannot answer now, however, it is reasonably certain that our Annual Conference work will go on for the remainder of this conference year just as in the past. Those who are anxious to know about certain things will just have to wait until the Uniting Conference speaks its mind on the subject.

Two Outstanding Events

During the past week it has been my good fortune to attend two events which I consider outstanding. The one was the Durham District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, on Thursday, held at Oak Grove church near Roxboro. I had been asked to preach the sermon at 12:25 p. m. Here I was treated with every courtesy. The auditorium was of fairly good size but several people had to stand during the three hours of the morning service. But to see those people stand in order that they might be in the conference was thrilling indeed. Somehow this great church has learned how to make much of the District Conference. A good many people were there from seventy-five to eighty miles away but they were there anyway. The meeting ran on scheduled time so that each speaker knew just how much time he had.

The other great event was the Duke University Centennial which was held on Friday. I confess that to be able to march in the Academic procession with the four hundred representatives of colleges and universities from several nations gave one a thrill that one does not often have. The addresses were of a high order and it was a great pleasure to have fellowship with so many people who are rendering outstanding service to this generation. It was my good fortune to be asked to represent Western Maryland College on this great occasion.

A Sunday Morning At Welch Memorial

Last Sunday morning was spent with the Welch Memorial Church in High Point, Dr. J. D. Williams, pastor. The Sunday school was in session when I arrived. There were 249 present as compared to 245 a year ago. A fairly good sized congregation was present for the morning service although the auditorium was not full by a great deal. This was my first Sunday morning visit to this church although I did preach for them one Sunday evening last year. For a number of years this church has occupied a rather prominent place in our denomination in High Point. It is located in the southeastern part of the city rather far removed from any of our other churches there. Being so far removed from the others has enabled it to serve a rather large section of the city without crowding any other one of our churches. The church seems to be well organized and seems to be functioning in a normal way. Dr. Williams, the pastor, is now serving his eighth years as pastor. Mrs. Williams has not been in good health for the past several months and in order for her to be with her daughter, Mrs. Hill, the parsonage has been rented and Dr. and Mrs. Williams and their son-in-law, Dr. Hill and Mrs. Hill have taken a house out near High Point College. The plan seems to be working well. The fact that the church was having a business meeting to look after some of its local problems made it impossible for me to come in contact with many of the people, however, it was a pleasure to be present and to preach to this congregation. It was also a pleasure to have in the congregation Rev. J. R. Hutton who is one of our honored superannuates and who lives in High Point.

For The Next Few Weeks

Since I expect to be attending the Uniting Conference for the next few weeks it will be impossible for me to visit any of the churches. So my letteers will be about the Uniting Conference. I am sure that there will be plenty for both the editor and me to write about without getting in each other's way.

J. E. Pritchard.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., APRIL 27, 1939 NUMBER 24

A Message In Verse

BUILDERS

Surely some workman has builded the pillar as well as the spire;
The cross that the painter has gilded was fashioned in somebody's fire.
Surely some men dug in the ditches preparing a place for the well—
And some one has made with her stitches the flag that shall fly over all.

Some one has blended the plaster; and some one has carried the stone;
Neither the man nor the master ever has builded alone.
Making a roof from the weather, building a house for the King,
Only by working together, men have accomplished a thing.

All have a share in the beauty; all have a part in the plan;
What does it matter what duty falls to the lot of a man?
Each has a hand in the building; no one has builded alone
Whether a cross he was gilding; whether he carried the stone
—Author Unknown.

Get Acquainted With These Quintuplets

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, and doing well whatever you do, without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

It is not a question of what a man knows, but what use he can make of what he knows.—J. G. Holland.

Seest thou a diligent man in business he shall stand before kings.—Solomon.

A profound conviction raises a man above the feeling of ridicule. —John Stuart Mill.

A healthful hunger for a great idea is the beauty and blessedness of life.—Jean Inglow.

Pension Responsibility

One of the problems which shall require much consideration and possibly concession is the adjustment of the basis and responsibility of the annuity which the superannuate preacher shall receive, as the Uniting Conference gets down to business. Heretofore with us, if a minister should transfer his membership from one conference together after superannuation he would receive his stipulated annuity from the Superannuate Fund of the Conference where he last served. But there are those who want to change this plan so that he would draw upon the fund from both conferences instead of one. For instance, the conference where he first served, say for twenty or thirty years, would be expected to pay him annually out of its fund for those years, and the Conference in which he superannuates, shall pay him only for the years he served as a member of this conference. Of course, nothing is yet settled, but this change is in the air.

Methodist Home Missions

The fields served by the uniting conferences are 48 states in U. S., Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Dominican Republic. There are 4,114 workers receiving home missionary support. 291 of these workers serve foreign language groups; five in Latin mission in Florida; 33 in Texas Mexican Canferences; and a number in French work. There are 30 pastoral charges in Indian fields. Nearly 1,000 churches are now being aided through the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, totaling loans of more than $4,200,000.

The "Hot Spot In Unification"

But it is generally agreed that the "hot spots" in our deliberations is, how shall we set up the Board of Missions? Shall we have one board or three boards? Our Church is few years ago adopted the plan of one general Board of Missions, under which the affairs of our homeland and foreign fields are directed. Likewise the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal, South, consolidated their three boards into one; this was done before we unified our Boards of Missions. But it seems there are many in the Methodist Episcopal Church, may be some in the other two Churches, working hard to have a board of foreign missions, a board of home missions and a woman's board of missions set up. So we repeat here is one very hot spot and it may require quite a lot of time for it to cool enough to form into an acceptable, working plan.

After Kansas City What?

Nine hundred delegates from three Methodist denominations representing possibly eighty per cent of the Methodist people in the United States are now assembled in one of the largest auditoriums in America, for the avowed purpose of making these three great bodies one.

We are engaged in a tremendous task trying to build up an organization through which eight million members may express their longings, and endeavor to bring the kingdom of God more fully upon the earth. We have in our hands material enough to make a Discipline which ought to satisfy all the Methodists who are alive and who shall ever be born; but we doubtless are short on wisdom to do that thing. It is a gigantic task; a task that is challenging the wisdom of the wisest, the patience of the meekest, and the endurance of the strongest in this great body.

But as we look forward to the time when the last word shall be said, when the final paragraph of the plan is approved and these delegates shall scatter to the four corners of Methodism; we are wondering what then? Shall this organization be vitalized with divine energy, approved of God and ordained of Him as a means of grace and redemption of men? There are dangers ahead which every true servant of Christ in the Methodist Church must guard against.

That many may be tempted to boast and to trust in the organization, the wealth, and numbers of such a Church is not unreasonable to believe. Eight million people in one denomination is an immense host. One hundred forty schools, colleges, and seminaries, can train and fit for life, tens of thousands of youth. Missionaries in twenty or more countries giving their best to the cause of Christ in the far flung lines of Christian service, is nothing to be ashamed of; and an investment of over a billion dollars in hospitals, churches, parsonages and schools is enough to make one proud. But shall we let these things please us so well that we forget they are only means? For without the Spirit of God in those who direct them and the blessings of heaven upon their efforts, these all may be no more than a mighty gesture; fruitless of spiritual progress and a disappointment to our leaders. For the people of old who trusted in chariots, in arms, in numbers, and in wealth instead of in God, found to their sorrow and humilation that they were unable to stand before their foes. Therefore we should remember that "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

What we hope and really expect is, just as soon as our delegates return to their homes and our leaders in the local churches shall know what is expected of them, we shall experience no difficulty in putting those plans into operation. And while time and experience both shall be needed to adapt and to coordinate the machinery set up in Kansas City, a great majority of our people will gladly enter upon the task and will with prayer and patience see it through. So mote it be.

◆

PASTOR'S SUMMER CONFERENCE

Preparations are going forward for the Pastor's Summer Conference and Seminary Extension School. Two meetings of the directors have been held and plans have been completed as to certain phases of the school.

An important change has been made as to time of school this year. By unanimous judgment of the directors the time has been reduced to one week. The dates fixed are June 5-10—Monday noon to Saturday noon. We trust that this will be approved by our pastors. Arrangements will be made with the college by which pastor's wives will be entertained as was done last year. Further announcements will be made about that a little later.

Two courses will be given by the Seminary. Dr. Link will teach a course on "The Conduct of Public Worship," and Dr. Shroyer will give a course on "Jewish History and Literature Between the Testaments." Each of these instructors will be present for the full week.

In addition to this, a course is being arranged on the Discipline of the new church—the Methodist Church. Also lectures on other vital and timely subjects. A full statement of courses will be given through the HERALD just as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Dr. W. A. Parsons, of the M. E. Church and Dr. L. B. Hayes, of the M. E. Church, South, have been added to the Board of Directors.

We do trust that all of our pastors will be looking forward to the school and that they will make arrangements to be present June 5-10, with their wives.

S. W. TAYLOR.

PROGRAM
FIFTEENTH DISTRICT RALLY OF THE METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH
To Be Held At
ROBERTA METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH
Concord, North Carolina
April 30, 1939

Afternoon 3:30

Subject—Thy Kingdom Through Youth Growing.

Devotion .... Rev. H. W. Bell

Fifteen minutes program by the children from each Church in the District, as follows:

Albemarle.
Quartet .... From Albemarle Church
Concord.
Solo .... Margie Pittman, Concord Church
Friendship.
Kannapolis.
Love's Grove.
Mill Grove.
Pine Bluff.
Porter.
Roberta.
Hymn .... Congregation
Benediction .... Rev. D. T. Huss

Dinner Spread on the Grounds, 6:00

Evening 7:30

Mrs W. L. Little, District Chairman Ladies' Auxiliary In Charge

Devotion .... Miss Annie Margaret Tarleton
Hymn .... Roberta Choir
A Talk .... Mrs. J. S. Nesbitt, Reurn Missionary from Korea.
Report from Branch Meeting of Woman's Work .... Mrs. E. O. Peeler
Quartet .... Albemarle Church
Report from Auxiliaries
Hymn .... Congregation
Benediction .... Earl A. Cook

◆

When we cannot see our way,
Let us trust and still obey;
He who bids us forward go,
Cannot fail the way to show.
Though the sea be deep and wide,
Though a passage seem denied;
Fearless let us still proceed,
Since the Lord vouchsafes to lead.
—Anon.

◆

Brother O. B. Williams reports that North Davidson charge has paid its World Service "Appreciation Year" budget in full.

◆

Brother Surratt reports that Graham has paid its World Service for Appreciation Year, and also Delegates' Expenses to the Uniting Conference, in full.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. W. H. YOKELEY

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

International Sunday School Lesson for April 30

Lesson Text—Act. 15:36, 16:4-15.

Golden Text—When he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia.

One of the most comforting and strengthening beliefs of the Christian is the indwelling presence of the third person of the Holy Trinity; the Holy Spirit. I can easily believe that the old hymn of the church:

"Holy Spirit faithful guide,
Ever near the Christians side.—"

There to give Divine guidance in every walk of life from the smallest to the greatest. Our whole life calls for guidance and left alone we grope as a blind man or blunder as a mayope and finally end life hopelessly against a solid wall of hopelessness and failure. Let us learn this lesson well. Let us not make claims for our religion or ourselves that we cannot substantiate in our personal lives.

Our lesson tells how the Gospel was first sent to Europe, and I believe the message is always sent by God, not that man makes plans but that God's plans are made and must be carried out. His plan of Salvation was FINISHED at Calvary. He has never done anything without organization. His Universe is perfectly organized, so I say His plan of spreading the Gospel and not our plan must be carried out. That is why the word "forbidden" and "the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not" is used. Paul's plans were good, the harvest was white, there were souls to save in Asia and Bithynia but the Spirit directed a left face and a march toward Troas; then the cry of all Europe, yes, and my cry and your cry "come over and help us" for our forefathers brought the same message across the Atlantic that Paul carried across the Mediterranean.

How thankful I am that this lesson comes at this time . . . we are completing the Union of the three great branches of Methodism. We believe when the Spirit directed the Apostle toward Europe that was a crucial time in the history of the Christian Church, others have followed and today we feel that another crucial time is here.

In the past Spirit led men have walked in the front lifting high the cross as a symbol of their faith, so today men filled with the Spirit, led by the Spirit dare a great undertaking for God and His Kingdom. And at home our hearts swell with prayers of joy, thanksgiving and praise because we feel it is all in God's plan and we too are going into an Extended Land. Let us pray for those who labor these days for the furtherance of the coming Kingdom, for the new Church.

Paul could not make a Christian Macedonia with all his eloquence and zeal. Again the Spirit led but not by a vision but by an inward urge down by the river where prayers were wont to be made and spoke to the people there about Christ. There was a woman prepared by the Spirit for the message who heard and she and her house were baptized. I remember one time Jesus had to turn aside on His journeyings (John 4:4) and another woman was saved and she too called others. In all the examples we have of saved men and women of the Bible all became workers in the Kingdom, for there was always something to do.

Not always does the Spirit speak to us in a vision but to those who are faithful in their calling the Spirit leads. Perhaps by the teaching of the word, seeing the need and the inward urge that you are fitted and sent for the work and God's directing hand in our outward circumstances. But always there is something for us to do. And more than in any other day since our Lord was here we need to feel the presence of the Spirit. "And straightway we sought to go forth into—" our world to live, to serve, and to be . . . that we might know and obey the laws of the Spirit, that the Spirit might know and lead us. Again we must say; the great men of our Church cannot make it what it should be unless you and I serve in our place and ours too must be a life of positive conviction and effort. It must be Spiritual. Straightway we must find our place and go to work, wherever our place is in the work of the vineyard. Lydia began work at once and gave aid and comfort to the messengers of Christ, keeping them in her home and from that day forth she was doing all she could do to prosper the work to all the ends of Europe. Perhaps I am indebted to this Godly mother more than I know. I wonder if any boy or girl, man or woman, Japanese, Chinese, or American can place their hand on your shoulder that day and say "He did it unto me." Are you doing what you can? Can you on this Lord's day sing: "I'll go where you want me to go, I'll do what you want me to do."

If not in person—a gift given in the spirit carries the giver.

PROPORTIONAL GIVING

By FRANKLIN J. KENNEDY

One of the war-time posters sticks in my memory. It read, "What good is your money anyway, if we lose this war?" That question may be asked again when we consider our giving to the church. Suppose we withhold our money, and the church and Christian religion go down for want of our support. What good will that do us? What rewards of security, culture, and liberty shall we then spend our money for?

Where religion fails, the government steps in with heavy taxation. Part of the confusion of our day is due to the fact that government is trying to achieve what religion ought long ago to have accomplished.

One has to be unselfish to give in the right spirit, but, if one were very selfish and very intelligent at the same time, one would give generously. Perhaps one can't be selfish and intelligent at the same time, but it still follows that good sense supports the giving of a consecrated portion of the work of Christ.—In Zion's Herald.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

LUCINDA MATLOCK

By Edgar Lee Masters

In the years from 1912 to 1914 a great renascence of poetry swept over America. In 1912 Harriet Monroe began to publish the magazine, Poetry, established for the purpose of encouraging new poets. It was in 1914 that Robert Frost's North of Boston went through five editions after having been hailed as a new and masterly achievement when it was produced early in the same year in England. Amy Lowell, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Vachel Lindsay, and Carl Sandburg were among those who published their first volumes of verse in this same year—verse, that was most of it new in form and different in subject matter.

Before this time Edgar Lee Masters had composed a great quantity of verse in the traditional forms, but it was in 1914, after having come under the influence of The Greek Anthology, that he published Spoon River Anthology, his most famous book and one that is still a landmark in American writing. This book contained over two hundred epitaphs in which the dead of a small midwestern town are supposed to have written the truth about themselves. The poems, which are all short, are written in free verse that is often metrical and frequently rhythmical, and that depict the men and women of a typical community; thus expressing life as it is everywhere. There is no doubt that this book paved the way for much of the realistic exposition of community life that has developed into one of the most widely exploited themes of American writing. Louis Untermeyer says of Spoon River Anthology: "The book ascends to a definite exaltation and ends on a plane of half-victorious idealism. Native to its roots, it is stark, unflinching, unforgettable."

The epitaph from which Masters re-created Lucinda Matlock records the passing of a woman ninety-six years old. There may have been nearby the graves of her eight children, who, according to the dates, died before the mother was sixty years old. According to the convention often governing old gravestones this one may have given the place as well as the date of her birth; it records that she was the wife of Davis; and again following the custom, there may have been some adaptation of the classic "requiescat in pace." That, doubtless, was all. But from these meager facts Masters in a few lines of real poetry has sketched the long life of such a woman, spent among the surroundings of such a small town in America in the early days of last century.

In two lines he suggests the normal life of any attractive young girl growing up in a small town. Upon what seemingly small incidents the great issues of life hang! Because of a youthful prank of changing partners on the return from a moonlight picnic Lucinda married Davis, lived with him seventy years, bore twelve children, and attained the fulfillment of a long life filled with all the varying experiences that make life rich. The joys and sorrows, the toils and pleasures, the simple recreations and moments of exultation and exaltation which are woven into the fabric of life are gathered into eight or nine lines and made vivid by means of a dozen suggestive verbs. Then briefly Masters writes of her placid acceptance of death as a transition made welcome by so many years of living—"a sweet repose."

The philosophy of life in the closing lines of the poem is that of one who has transcended all the hardships and, looking back, is enabled to see that it is only insofar as we accept life in all of its different guises that we are able to rejoice in it. No weaknesses, no weariness, no anger nor discontent, no whining against circumstances can lead to a complete enjoyment of one's destiny:

I went to the dances at Chandlerville,
And played snap-out at Winchester.
One time we changed partners,
Driving home in the moonlight of middle June,
And then I found Davis.
We were married and lived together for seventy years,
Enjoying, working, raising the twelve children,
Eight of whom we lost
Ere I had reached the age of sixty.
I spun, I wove, I kept the house, I nursed the sick,
I made the garden, and for holiday
Rambled over the fields where sang the larks,
And by Spoon River gathering many a shell,
And many a flower and medicinal weed—
Shouting to the wooded hills, singing to the green valleys.
At ninety-six I have lived enough, that is all,
And passed to a sweet repose.
What is this I hear of sorrow and weariness,
Anger, discontent, and drooping hopes?
Degenerate sons and daughters,
Life is too strong for you—
It takes life to love Life.

◆

REV. J. F. MINNIS WRITES

In a personal letter from Brother Minnis he has this to say about conditions in India:

Things look very bright in the work right now. We have never been so happy about the work. It now looks like we might get a break and have some new additions. We could baptize 50 or 75 right now but I believe in much preparation before hand so that they will be ready when they are finally baptized. It is true that we are all wondering what the next day will bring forth. There is a great awakening in the land and we fear that if the National Congress gets full power it will be very hard on mission work. But so far we see no hope of that happening. The National Congress is growing by leaps and bounds but they are more or less divided so we think that possibly nothing will be done for some time yet. They have not won sufficient districts to give them full power.

We, like you, wonder what will happen in Europe any moment. We read the dailies and are able to keep up with the times just as you at home. It is true that when I am away from home I may not see the paper for a week but when at Dhulia I have the Times of India printed in Bombay which gives all the world news.

We are now preparing for Easter. In former years I called the preachers and made a program and each took turns in the services during Easter week. But this year I shall take all the services except Palm Sunday and Easter. Our church will be lighted by then and we shall have services each evening. We do not have evening services so have not had the lights connected to save expenses.

I am happy that unlike conditions of which you wrote we in Dhulia are working harder to bring our best into the Union. The Bombay annual conference will meet with us next fall even though we are not entirely merged. We have decided to get acquainted and be ready to work together when the time finally does come. Union will not make much difference with us so I think except help us in exchange of men.

Our work being very small we always have the same faces with us and after union we hope that we may have a change once in a while. With the new church we have a new home for the pastor and as a whole we are proud of what we have to offer to the sister church. It is true that while we have almost nothing compared with them, yet as far as we go we have no apologies to make for it. I personally think that great days are ahead for the Christian Church in this land. Just imagine an annual increase of more than 50,000 with hopes of moving the wheels a bit faster. We are now praying and hoping to get mass movement started in this side. I feel like the day of reaping draws near. Never in the history of the mission have we received so many invitations to visit and give services. It is true that we are still very fearful lest there be a hitch and something come in the way. Do not let me leave the impression that we have smooth sailing. My, how we are praying and working to save trouble in the future and Satan is just as busy as ever. The forces of evil and darkness are busy and we are having a steady fight within and without. We need your prayers. I beg of you and your members to pray as never before for our work. It appears to be harvest time but we are not sure that we shall be able to reap as well as we hope. So call upon our people to pray that darkened minds may be lighted and men may come to know and understand and accept salvation. I am greatly enjoying the work and regret that the hot season is here and after 3 weeks I must get out of it for a spell to get a rest and gain new strength for hard work ahead.

Kindly give our regards to your family and best wishes and prayers for a good year at West End.

Sincerely,

J. F. Minnis.

◆

Rev. E. A. Lamb reports that Tabernacle Charge has sent its Appreciation Year World Service in full to Treasurer Allen.

◆

Rev. C. L. Grant reports that Brower's Chapel, Richland Circuit, has raised World Service apportionment in full.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

In each issue of the Herald including that of May 11 we will run the names of the Churches which have raised World Service in full, adding the names from week to week which are sent in to the President of the Conference who has been conducting this column for these past few weeks. Inasmuch as the names of churches have gone to about three different sources we are not certain that the list is correct or that all have gotten into this column that belong there. But remember that this is the column of honor and that the printers of the Herald will save this type each week and for the next three issues will add the names that are sent in from the office of the President of the Conference. The fact that he will be away attending the Uniting Conference makes no difference for Mrs. Pritchard will open the mail and will send in such names as are sent to the President of the Conference. Now here is the list with the names of the churches and charges which have gone over the top. Look at them and take off your hat to them.

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.
Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge.
Friendship, Shiloh Charge.
Shiloh, Shiloh Charge.
Mebane.
Pine Bluff.
Mt. Pleasant Charge.
Burlington First.
Asheboro.
Friendship and Loves Grove.
Pleasant Hill on Cleveland.
First Church, Charlotte.
First Church, Thomasville.
First Church, Concord.
Flat Rock and Spring Valley on Vance.
Reidsville.
Who will be next?
Shiloh Church, Randolph Charge.
Fairfiield Church, Guilford Charge.

J. E. Pritchard.

◆

Rev. G. L. Curry reports that Denton and Canaan churches have raised delegates' expenses and World Service apportionment in full.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL, Editor
222 N. Edgeworth St.
Greensboro, N. C.

TO THE WOMEN OF THE NORTH CAROLINA BRANCH

In Session at High Point, N. C.

Dear Friends:

Greetings. Be assured that though thousands of miles separate us, yet we meet with you in this your possibly last meeting as a separate branch of the Methodist Protestant Church. What a great pleasure it would be for us to quietly slip in and sit with you for the two days you will be together at High Point. No, indeed we do not want to come home. We have just arrived and gotten the work started. So we only desire a short visit and time to enjoy a bit of fellowship with you. It is your fellowship that we miss most while away from you. We are happy in the work and are so busy that we never have time to be homesick. But it would be an inspiration to sit with you and listen to your speeches and reports and plans for the future. And we would enjoy speaking to you about the work here. The Lord has wonderfully worked for us since returning. The new church, the picture of which you have doubtless seen, was a wonder to us. It has been little less than a miracle in the building and in the way the Lord provided the funds. Though we had but about $1,000 when the work was begun, yet we never had to stop the work for lack of funds. When funds gave out there was a way opened and so it has continued all the way. Now we are so happy about the way the Lord has provided that I fear that we are almost proud. No, I dare say, you wouldn't think it a beautiful church, but we do, and we think that we made $3,000 go a long way. The graceful arches on the inside make it worshipful and, I hope that you will pardon me for saying, makes it very attractive. We all wish that you could see it and sit with us on the new rugs and worship with us.

In quite another way the Lord has blessed us in the building of a home for the pastor and a hall for the smaller children. Our Sunday school is graded so now we have this nice hall, 15 by 40 feet for the children who are too small to go to the other school. Mrs. Minnis tells me that there are about 40 children in the hall. This house is just across a side street from the church. So it is convenient for junior church. Years ago on this lot we had a house but it fell down the last year we were here. When I went to the city authorities to ask for permission to rebuild they informed me that in the city planning scheme there was a road to be built right through this lot. This then left no room for a house. But after much prayer and not a little persuasion they removed the road and gave us permission to build. But with the new church we could not ask the Board of Missions for extra funds for the addition we needed. So we used some of the money in a retiring fund of the preachers. It was not bringing them much interest in the bank so the Mission offered to give them the rent until such time as the fund could be repaid. So we now have a nice home for the pastor and a good hall for all meetings for which we do not care to use the church. And the beauty of the house of which I write is its size, good workmanship, and cheapness. It actually cost $475.00 to erect this house of the best of stone. We haven't made a picture of it yet. You will see it later.

The hot weather is beginning and we have just returned from our annual cool season tour. We have enjoyed a most excellent hearing this season. We spent much of our time with the poorer people, which are the untouchables, sometimes called outcaste. You doubtless will ask how many became Christians this year? I must disappoint you again by saying that not a soul has been baptized. But we have more hopes today than ever before. We have some what appears to be sincere enquirers. I pray that we may not be disappointed in them. I want to ask you to pray also with us that they may have the courage to take the second step and leave the old world behind. It indeed is a new world for them in every respect. There are two different groups who seem interested and if only we can once get a start then we hope that a mass movement might break out here. The people are thinking as never before but it is hard to persuade them to make the start. Now you may be surprised to learn that we are not centering our efforts on the individual man. Our hope is on the family which means the caste. In all active mass movements the work has been done almost entirely within the family. When a group in one village decided to become Christians, then they went to see their relatives in another village, almost always working within the same caste. In this way the advance is made by the new converts while the preachers came after, teaching and preparing them for baptism and church membership. There is such a group right now of about twelve or fifteen families which is showing a lot of interest. It is our hope that they will ask for instruction at an early date. I am expecting a delegation from another village today. But this delegation is of an entirely different family. They are not of the out-caste group but they are called backward groups and are becoming Christians in large numbers in another state about 200 miles from here.

So you see that we really do need your prayers that we may have knowledge from the Lord to properly direct these early stages so that they will mean bringing more with them. We hope that you will be able to find a few moments in this meeting to pray for those who seem interested, for the preachers who will teach them and for those of us are to direct the work. These are great days in India. They are trying days, in that we do not know what the day may bring forth. We are not worried greatly about the state of affairs, for we believe that the peoples of India are trying to find their feet. We just pray that nothing will happen within the land which will be an hinderance to the progress of the Lord's work.

This being the beginning of the hot season, I am alone, Mrs. Minnis and James have gone to the Hill Station where Jess, Jr. and Betty Jean are in school. James will begin school now and will study there until we return at the beginning of the rains. After that he will study at home. He is too little to leave 1,200 miles away from home. I will not go for another month. I have a lot of work about the compound to do before Easter. Right now I am having a well dug. The boys and I will do all the work. We began yesterday morning and have gone about 10 feet already. We hope to finish within a week. Besides this there are tiles to be relaid before the rains and a new water pipe line relaid. While the weather is so hot I cannot get out much after the early hours of the morning. We put up a tent top over the well we are digging. You would laugh were you to see it but you should also appreciate a bit of shade if you had a minute in this sunshine. The sun from ten until about four is just like a great ball of fire. So you understand why we all grow lazy—you would too.

We all continue well and so far have been able to keep on the go. Mrs. Minnis just last week took Jess, Jr. to the hospital for the removal of his tonsils. He has gotten along well, so I hear.

When you read this in High Point I too will be leaving Dhulia for cooler air. But I assure you that we shall be thinking of and praying with you during the time of your meeting.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your sincere efforts this year in our interest. May God richly repay you for all your efforts. We are grateful.

The Lord bless you and keep you, is our prayer for everyone of you.

Sincerely,

J. F. MINNIS.

NOTICE TO AUXILIARY TREASURERS

We have two obligations of importance just now. One is the payment of $125 of Mr. Minnis' salary each month. That means that either a few auxiliaries whose apportionments to Minnis salary is large must pay that part of their budget, or a good many must send in small amounts each month. We are calling attention to this now in order that there shall be no last minute collections and no month for our missionary to go without the payment of the salary we have promised. Please do something about this now.

The other obligation is to High Point College. Let us not lose sight of the fact that the college needs its share of our budget by June. We have been urging payment of High Point College apportionment by April for several years, but due to the urgency of Appreciation Year World Service, we granted to all churches desiring it the privilege of postponing payment to High Point College until May or June. Please keep this in mind.

Yours very sincerely,
MRS. R. M. ANDREWS, President.
MRS. COY L. KEARNS, Treasurer.

SEVENTH DISTRICT MEETING OF WOMAN'S WORK

The spring meeting of Women's Work of the 7th district was held at Mt. Hermon church on Sunday afternoon, April 2.

Mrs. Carl Curtis, district chairman, presided and conducted the devotions. Special music was furnished by members of the local church.

At roll call it was found five auxiliaries in the district and two others were represented. Belmont auxiliary has recently been reorganized and is planning more active work. All other auxiliaries reported satisfactory work and budgets paid in full.

Mrs. Worth Trogdon of Tabernacle church reviewed the study book "Moving Millions." Her presentations showed much study and understanding and made the story very interesting and instructive.

The old officers reelected for another year are: Mrs. Carl Curtis, district chairman; Mr. H. A. Garrett, secretary.

The next meeting is to be held with the Siler City auxiliary.

MRS. H. A. GARRETT, Secretary

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Tenth Annual Meeting of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work

By MRS. R. M. ANDREWS

Two little girls in a foreign land; the tender sympathetic heart of a Christian woman; receptive minds in the home-land, influenced by divine compassion; such were the forces that brought into being the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant Church.

Through a succession of events that the world may call chance, but which we believe were directed by Providence, the door was opened for the women of our church to enter Japan. The inspiration came from God and His hand prepared the way that our church might have a closer fellowship and a more diligent co-operation with Him in the great task of saving the world.

Those of you who are familiar with the history of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society by Mrs. E. C. Chandler, have recognized the opening sentences of this message as the opening sentences of that volume.

Since the W. F. M. S. was the first church-wide organization for the women of our church it seems fitting that looking backward in women's work should begin at this point. Regrettable though it is, the W. F. M. S. never reached its hope of becoming truly church-wide. But it should be said here, as an everlasting tribute to the zeal of this first organization of the womanhood of our church, that its N. C. Branch with 49 auxiliaries raised for foreign missions alone in 1928, the year preceding the merging of all Women's work in our church. $6,054.80. As we compare these figures with the $6,352.41 raised by the combined forces of all our auxiliary women in North Carolina this year for World Service, which means Foreign Missions, Minnis Salary, Home Missions, Educational Institutions, and Religious Education, we can see very clearly that there is no occasion for us to feel puffed up now.

Since the organization of the W. F. M. S. in 1879 of the Women of the M. P. church have sent out and maintained forty-one missionaries on the foreign fields: Japan, China, and India. We entered Japan in 1879, China in 1909, and India in 1922. Our work in foreign lands is educational as well as evangelistic.

Our Denominational Woman's Home Missionary Society was organized in 1893. This organization's first mission was to foreigners in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa. Later, attempts at Americanization and Christianization of foreigners, were made at Empire and Dillonvale, Ohio. Operations at all these places have been discontinued. Alvan Drew Industrial School at Pine Ridge, Ky., ministers to the boys and girl of a section of the Cumberland mountains. North Carolina has a bit of missionary work unique in the history of the Methodist Protestant church, in its Bethel Home, at Weaverville, N. C. This is a low-cost Christian home for tubercular patients. It was begun in June, 1919, and has been operated on faith, by the Rev. Homer Casto. The Woman's Home Missionary Society of North Carolina and later the Women's work has contributed regularly to the support of this home for several years.

The Children's Home, at High Point, established through the faith and works of a small group of women of the N. C. Branch of the W. H. M. S. has challenged the support of the Methodist Protestant Church in N. C. as no other single enterprise of the church has ever done.

The first auxiliaries of the N. C. Branch of the W. F. M. S. were organized by Miss Annie L. Forrest December, 1899. They were: Lebanon, High Point, Randleman, Asheboro, Liberty, Greensboro, Burlington and Tabernacle.

The first meeting of the N. C. Branch of the W. F. M. S. was held at Greensboro, N. C., March, 1900. Five of the eight auxiliaries were represented.

At the suggestion of Mrs. J. F. McCulloch, of sainted memory, Miss Frances Sutton, now Mrs. Bibb Mills, organized a group of thirty women of Grace Church, Greensboro, into a W. H. M. S. in the spring of 1908. Ten other auxiliaries were organized by Miss Sutton before the meeting of the North Carolina Annual Conference that year. The N. C. Branch of the W. H. M. S. was organized in 1908 at the Liberty Annual Conference, with eleven auxiliaries.

We shall glance at only a few milestones along the way since 1879. At the fourth meeting of the Executive Board of the W. F. M. S. the secretary made a statement, rare in the history of missions: "The receipts of our Treasury, thus far, have been greater than the demands upon it—and the question arises, "Does not this surplus indicate for us a wider field?' "

At the 15th Executive Board meeting of the W. F. M. S. which took place in 1894, advice excellent for today was given thus: "There is so much in present day literature pertaining to missions, that no meeting need be dull. Don't ask anyone in this busy age to come to a poor missionary meeting."

The Woman's Missionary Record was the official organ of the W. F. M. S. from 1885 'til the merger in 1928, when its name was changed to The Missionary Record, and it became the official organ of the Board of Missions of the M. P. Church. As the Woman's Missionary Record, it was edited by Mrs. J. F. McCulloch of Greensboro, president of the N. C. Branch of W. F. M. S. from 1903 to 1920. During the greater part of the editorship of Mrs. McCulloch, the magazine was published by her husband, Dr. J. F. McCulloch. The W. H. M. S. had a small share of space in this magazine—during part of its history.

Grace Church, Greensboro, paid the salary of Dr. Roberta Freagle, the first M. P. medical missionary to foreign lands, from the time she went to China in 1920 until she returned seven years later.

In connection with the 25th or silver jubilee year of the W. F. M. S. the financial goal was set for $10,000 throughout all the branches. This goal was exceeded by $3,467.00.

In 1919 every branch of the W. F. M. S. more than met its apportionment. A great cause for thanksgiving and praise was the payment of all indebtedness on our mission properties both in Japan and China at that time.

Several of our missionaries have been recognized for their outstanding contributions to the uplift of their chosen fields, by the governments of the countries in which they have labored. The N. C. Branch of Women's Work, under its various names has been honored in having several of its members serve on the Board of Missions. We also furnished the Convention its President for one four year term. Two of our officers are at present officers of Convention.

The works that have been wrought by all who have labored for God, in our beloved Zion, will be revealed only at the last day, when the great book of records shall be opened.

We celebrate this year the 60th anniversary of the establishment of woman's work of our church. The Methodist Episcopal Chuch W. F. M. S. is celebrating its 70th year, its W. H. M. S. its 59th year, and the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, its 61st year.

As we enter a union with these women, one group of whom have work in nine foreign countries, and the other in nineteen; whose missionaries are numbered by thousands, whose home mission activities embrace work for orphans, for the needy, sick, Indians, mountaineers, Negroes, Italians and Mexicans, besides Deaconess work, and educational institutions, we have a great task and a great privilege as we become a part of a new church whose women are united for service, with the great purpose of knowing Christ and making Him known.

And now as we think forward we may well consider a dream of John Wesley's.

Once in a crisis of the night, Wesley found himself, as he thought, at the gates of Hell. He knocked and asked who were within. "Are there any Protestants here?" he asked. "Yes," was the answer, "a great many." "Any Roman Catholics?" "Yes, a great many." "Any Church of England men?" "Yes, a great many." "Any Presbyterians?" "Yes, a great many." "Any Wesleyans?" "Yes, a great many."

Dissappointed and discouraged, especially at the last reply, he traced his steps upwards, and found himself at the gates of Paradise, and he repeated the same questions. "Any Wesleyans here?" "No." "Any Presbyterians?" "No." Any Church of England men?" "No." "Any Roman Catholics?" "No." "Whom have you, then, here?" he asked in astonishment. "We know nothing here," was the reply, "of any of the names you have mentioned. The only names of which we know anything here is 'Christians,' We are all Christians here, and of those we have a great multitude, which no man can number, of all nations, and kindreds, and peoples, and tongues."

Sensing an undercurrent of feeling in North Carolina, that our church is about to be taken away from us, I began to think about my message for today, and there came into my mind a circumstance that happened toward the end of the earthly life of Jesus, in which His last recorded question has great prominence. It was one of the most penetrating questions He ever asked; "Simon, Son of Jonas, Lovest thou Me more than these?" Simon answered, "Yea, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee." Jesus replied, "Feed My lambs." Jesus then asked the question again, "Simon, Son of Jonas, lovest thou Me?" Simon said again, "Yea, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee." Jesus' reply this time was "Feed My sheep." Then Jesus asked the same question the third time, "Simon, Son of Jonas, lovest thou Me?" Peter was grieved because He said unto him the third time, "Lovest thou Me?" And he said unto Him, "Lord, Thou knowest all things, Thou knowest that I love Thee." Jesus said "Feed My sheep."

We need in these days of preparation for church union to think very earnestly of these questions of Jesus. Verily they are of more importance to us than Methodist Union, however important that is. There are lambs in the Kingdom of God that need feeding and care, lambs that are going to grow up and after a while be the sheep. They need very careful tending. They must be taught to follow the Great Leader Jesus Christ, who said, "If ye love Me keep My commandments."

We have long been, like Peter, looking around to see what was going to become of somebody else. But when Peter asked, "What about this other man?" our Lord said to him "Follow thou Me!"

We need to follow Jesus more closely and church union will be consummated much more easily than if we try to look after somebody else's affairs.

Jesus didn't say "Do this, or that of the other thing," but simply, "Follow Me."

If I follow Him, will I be content to do no more for Him next year than I did last year? Industry and commerce are constantly changing and expanding to bigger things. Few of us want to read the same books or magazines we read last year. We want a better dress than the one we wore last year, we don't want the same things for dinner today that we had yesterday. Something bigger and better in almost every sphere of life appeals to us. We want to climb a higher mountain tomorrow than we climbed today. But what of our love for God? Is it leading us to take more stock in the big business Jesus established, the enormous task of teaching all nations to observe His way and be obedient to Him?

Jesus gave as the first and greatest commandment "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself." Here is love for our neighbor next to loving God. The two are bound so closely together that each of us may well ask ourselves as did Jesus of Peter again and again and again, "Do I love my Lord? If I love Him how much am I proving it by my dealings with my neighbor?" After all, do we love our neighbors as we do ourselves? We build churches for ourselves, what about our neighbors? A ministers who once asked a wealthy landowner for some money for foreign missions. The man said, "I don't believe in foreign missions, I won't give anything except for home missions. I want to give to benefit my neighbors." "Well," said the minister, "How much land do you own?" "About five hundred acres," was the reply. "How far down do you own it?" the minister asked. "Why I never thought of it before, but I suppose my land goes half through the earth." "Exactly," said the minister, "and I'm asking help for your needy neighbor whose land joins yours at the bottom."

Since the earth is a sphere, each man's property joins each other man's property at the center of that sphere. And certainly to a believer in Christ all men are neighbors. A true Christian must not only realize that all men are his neighbors, but he must love them as he loves himself, Jesus went about doing good, not to the people of his own social set, but to the lost sheep.

(Continued Next Week)

◆

FOURTEENTH DISTRICT RALLY

Bess Chapel Church, Sunday, April 30, 1939
10:45 o'Clock

Hymn—Congregation.
Devotional—Rev. Mr. Garmon.
Special Music.
Welcome—Miss Blanche Houser.
Response and Introduction of Speaker—Rev. T. G. Madison.
Address—Rev. D. M. Nifong.
Special Music.
Remarks—Rev. W. L. Harkey.
Lunch

1:30 O'CLOCK

Hymn—Congregation.
Devotional—Rev. R. L. Hethcox.
Greetings—Rev. T. G. Madison.
Music and Songs by Wofford College Glee Club.
Business Session.
Benediction.

◆

No man nor any body of men is good enough or wise enough to dispense with the tonic of criticism.—Huxley.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Asheville S. S., Feb., March and April	$10.61
Mt. Carmel S. S., Forsyth	3.40
Mrs. John Yarborough, Cross Anchor, S. C.	5.00
Shiloh S. S., Shiloh	10.00
Shady Grove S. S., Connelly Springs, March and April	2.00
Liberty Hill, Anderson, regular and Easter offering	6.00
Ladies' Bible Class, R. I. Ave., Washington, D. C., clothing child	5.00
Saxapahaw S. S., Saxapahaw	3.10
Liberty Grove S. S., Mt. Pleasant, regular and Easter offering	2.00
Saxapahaw, Orange Chapel, S. S.	1.00
Chapel Hill, Davidson	2.10
Brower's Chapel S. S., Richland	7.70
Bethel S. S., Flat Rock	1.88
Men's Bible Class, First church, Thomasville	15.89
Rock Creek S. S., Alamanco	1.15
Mt. Hermon S. S., Mt. Hermon	3.76
Baraca Class, Mebane	5.00
Friendship S. S., Haw River	5.00
Maple Springs S. S., Forsyth	5.00
Charlotte S. S., Richland, March and April	10.68
Danville S. S.	3.39
Brown Summit S. S.	1.50
Mr. H. L. Horton, Knoxville, Pa., personal	3.00
Bethel S. S., Alamance	4.65
Fair Grove S. S., Haw River	1.04
Pleasant Grove, Thomasville	18.00

We thank you for these offerings with which to keep carrying on the work which you have committed to our hands.

Our Graduating Class

This year we have four girls and one boy to graduate from the Jamestown High School. They are: Mildred Lanier, from Chapel Hill church on Davidson; Ruby Walker, from Weaverville; Natalie Cashatt, from High Point; and Margaret Robbins, from First church, Lexington. The one boy is Roland C. Garmon from our First church, Charlotte. They graduate on Monday, May 8th. Only the boy is at this time planning to enter college. One of the girls wishes to enter a school for beauty culture, and another one wishes to take training in some hospital. Pray for them as they seek to find their places in life.

Children's Home Day

Just before starting to the Uniting Conference, Dr. J. H. Straughn, president of the General Conference, wrote us: "Providence permitting, and also counting the uncertainties of my life after the Uniting Conference, we'll make it Thursday, June 22nd, and pray nothing may interfere." So we can now work definitely toward Thursday, June 22nd, for Children's Home Day and Home-Coming Day here on the Children's Home grounds. We want you to come. Yes, we are hoping for a good delegation from every charge in the conference. Let's greet President Straughn with the largest gathering of Meth-

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

Christian Endeavor Topic

HOW SHOULD A CHURCH MEMBER GIVE?

Topic for April 30, 1939

By Rev. Raymond W. White

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, April 24—Give as Abram gave. Gen. 4:18-20.

Tuesday, April 25—Give his talents. Matt. 25:14-23.

Wednesday, April 26—Give his time. Eph. 5:14-17.

Thursday, April 27—Give cheerfully. II Cor. 9:6, 7.

Friday, April 28—Give proportionately. I Cor. 16:1, 2.

Saturday, April 29—Give his all. Mark 10:23-30.

The Text—Mal. 3:8-10; Mark 12:41-44.

To the Leader

Note that this is the third of a series of subjects dealing with "The Christian and His Church." Connect this topic with "What Should a Church Member Believe" so that you may work from a spiritual basis. This topic has been selected to deal primarily with financial giving to the church. Consider tithing and setting aside "the Lord's portion" from one's income. Giving time and talent may be considered and the spirit of giving may be discussed, but give most of your time in considering the "giving of money."

Questions for the Open Forum

1. What is the difference between giving and sharing?
2. Which word would you prefer in dealing with church finances? Why?
3. What should be the spirit in giving to the church?
4. What do we have to offer the church?
5. What reasons can you offer for tithing?
6. What systematic method of giving to the church can you suggest?
7. Is the church entitled to a share of our income? Reasons.
8. What should be the attitude of the poor toward the church?
9. What should be the attitude of the church toward its unfortunate members?
10. How may one determine how much of his income he should give to the church?
11. What does the church do with the money given by its members?
12. What would be your advice to a new member asking how much he should give?

Little Verses

"Go break to the needy sweet charity's bread;
For giving is living," the angel said.
"And must I be giving again and again?"
My peevish and pitiless answer ran.
"Oh, no," said the angel, piercing me through,
"Just give till the Master stops giving to you."

Over against the treasury
He sits who gave Himself for me.
He sees the coppers that I give
Who gave His life that I might live,
He sees the silver I withhold
Who left for me His throne of gold.

For the heart grows rich in giving;
All its wealth is golden grain;
Seeds which mildew in the garner,
Scattered, fill with gold the plain.

For thou must share, if they wouldst keep
That good thing from above;
Ceasing to share, you cease to have;
Such is the law of love.

Give strength, give thought, give deeds, give wealth;
Give love, give tears, and give thyself.
Give, give be always giving.
Who gives not is not living;
The more you give, the more you live.

He dropped a nickel in the plate,
Then meekly raised his eyes;
Glad that his weekly rent was paid
For a mansion in the skies.

Topic Hints

Facing Facts: Church finance is a perennial neglect of many church-members. Not a few would like the question of money never to be raised in the church. They feel that talking about money for the Lord is not spiritual and speaking with a man about his income is personal. Some sincere and liberal church-members hesitate to mention the financial needs of the church in a public way for fear of embarrassing the poor. Jesus did not feel that way about money. It was not an accident that seventeen of the thirty-six parables of our Lord had to do with property and stewardship. He seemed to think that a spiritual man made spiritual everything he touched. Why is the church compelled to appeal for money? It is because of the selfishness of her membership. One need not defend the poor, for among the poor we find the most liberal contributors.

Our Debt: Every man is indebted to the Lord but church-members, who have been redeemed by the precious blood of Jesus Christ, should feel their obligations to the point of sacrifice. Is it not strange folk can fill up on ice cream, buy a new car, give about ten cents to missions, and too often nothing, and feel sure of glory? How can one sing heartily, "I surrender all," and keep his money for selfish purposes! The church is the Bride of Christ. Giving to the church is serving the Lord; it should not be left to impulse any more than breathing or prayer is left to impulse. Five dollars for gasoline and five cents for the Lord is not a very good evidence of our love for love is not present where giving is not generous. It is impossible to love without giving. Christ loved us and gave Himself for us. Even sacrificial generosity can never pay the debt one owes. Why should one be satisfied with giving less?

The Amount: Many church-members would like to know how much they should give to the church. Every pastor is acquainted with this question, "How much are the rest giving?" But Christianity is not based on others making decision for us. If it were it would be altogether too easy. Every church-member must decide how much he will contribute to the church. This decision is not reached without standards and these standards must be taken from the Word of God. When we united with the Christian church, we promised to contribute as God gave us the ability. This does not mean that church-members should spend their money for personal desires and give God what was left. It means that God should be considered first and our own affairs governed accordingly. "Christians are never stingy," said Bishop Joseph F. Berry. It is not how much of my money shall I give to God, but how much of God's money shall I keep for myself that concerns many church-members. Any church-treasurer's record will prove this fact. This is not Christian.

Systematic Giving: Our giving to the church should be systematic. Keeping a record of what one gives to the church is the very best evidence of what one does. Many records would show that we give a dollar a week for the support of the church and spend five dollars a week for candies, tobacco and shows, then we consider ourselves good Christians. Can a good church-member, a Christian, think God will tolerate such mockery? If we love the Lord we will invest in His business and we will do it systematically. The financial problems of the church would be solved if all of her members were tithers. Not a few claim this is impossible because of their honest obligations. If we put God in our budget when we are young, before honest obligations have been made, tithing will not be a problem. Here is where our systematic giving to the church should begin. What obligations has any man in life that are more honest than his obligations to Christ and the church? He has more. No, there is no excuse that justifies a man in failing to give God the money that is due Him. God will not be mocked.

◆

NOTICE!

Your Missionary Editor would greatly appreciate it, if contributors to this column would send material to me on or before Tuesday of each week. It will be a great help and convenience to me if you will do this.

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL,
222 N. Edgeworth Street,
Greensboro, N. C.

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

T. J. WHITEHEAD, President
Henderson, N. C.

CHILDREN'S DIVISION

Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll, Superintendent

MAY DAYS

From sources outside of the church the month of May will bring emphases closely related to abundant life for children. Children's workers will therefore have brought to their attention occasions which do not call for special observation in the church school, but which will broaden their interest in the total life of children and in community plans for them.

The first day of May has for a number of years been referred to as Child Health Day. Some State Boards of Health will at this time issue special free or inexpensive bulletins, some of which may be of sufficient value to secure in qualities and to be used with discrimination by nursery workers in visits or meetings with parents. An evaluation of this material or a report of city or county programs for child health would be an interesting feature of any workers' meeting held during the month of May. Often it is possible for church school workers to win confidence and make more effective the available county or city services related to the physical wellbeing of children.

May 18 will be observed in many schools as Goodwill Day. It was first suggested in the year 1899 in commemoration of the first Peace Conference which opened at the Hague on May 18 of that year. Peace organizations, the World Federation of Education Associations, and the National Council for the Prevention of War are among the organizations which have kept alive this goodwill emphasis from year to year. The fact that international relations have many times approached the breaking point during recent months increases the need for helping our boys and girls develop and maintain a spirit of goodwill toward every person. Junior workers particularly will profit by attending a Goodwill Day program if one is to be held in the public school. There may also be opportunity to share with the public schools some of the materials which juniors have used in their church school world friendship units. The maps, posters, or booklets made in connection with the study on Brazil in January would be of interest to fourth, fifth, and sixth grades in the public school.

The world friendship emphasis will permeate much of the church school lesson material during the month of May. This emphasis in the regular lesson material is taking the place of a second special world friendship unit for this church school year. There are two new pieces of source material available for enriching the teaching units and for frequent use throughout the year.

"Our Church at Work With Children," (price, 10 cents) is a 24-page illustrated booklet giving specific information about phases of our missionary enterprises around the world which directly touch the lives of children. School, nurseries, kindergartens, homes for children, social centers, hospitals and clinics, churches and church schools, the Bible and Christian literature, playgrounds, are described in detail. Every worker reading this booklet will have a better idea about the work of our church for children around the world and will be more enthusiastic about helping the children give regularly and intelligently to missions every fourth Sunday.

"Around the World Source Book," (price, 25 cents) is valuable for primary and junior teachers. It provides specific information about homes, games, recipes, costumes, stories, and poems that will frequently be drawn upon throughout the year. It is in no sense a unit, but it will be valuable in connection with the closely graded lesson material, especially the junior units. Using this booklet in this way is recommended in lieu of another special missionary unit in booklet form for the church school year.

Miss Noreen Dunn, Secretary of Children's Work for the Board of Missions, has prepared these two booklets. They may be secured at the prices indicated from the nearest branch of the Methodist Publishing House.

Mother's Day on May 14 will be the occasion for a variety of helpful activities on the part of children, workers, and parents. Nursery workers particularly will have an opportunity to cooperate with the pastor if the baptism of young children is to be made a part of the church's celebration of Mother's Day. Many pastors refer to this service as "vows of parenthood," which makes it a significant occasion for parents. The visit of the nursery worker to the homes of Methodist parents may be an occasion for reminding them of the meaning and value of this service. Helping to secure the needed information for the pastor, particularly in the service itself, delivering a special letter from the pastor to the parents, and keeping a record of the names of the children will indicate specific things that can be done by nursery workers.

A helpful trend in connection with Mother's Day is making of it in reality a "parent education day" when the church magnifies Christian home-making and focuses the attention of parents upon their present-day relation to children rather than upon memories of their own childhood.—Mary Skinner, in "Elementary Teacher" for May, 1939.

◆

"WESTWARD HO!" BUT NOT FOR GOLD

After a very profitable Easter service in our church at Asheville, and then Sunday night an interested congregation, we were unusually busy on Monday getting everything ready for our California trip.

We finally arranged with a number of brethren to preach for us, and all very satisfactory help indeed. These announcements were arranged for in the daily papers of the city, and we are hoping that everything will work out as scheduled.

Our traveling companions, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Koontz of Lexington, came in Monday afternoon after Easter, both full of enthusiasm about the trip, and after a good night's rest we left Asheville Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock for the long journey west.

Our first night out was spent in Montgomery, Alabama, after a delightful trip through the mountains of Western North Carolina, taking in Waynesville, Franklin, and the other small towns along the way.

The first place to interest us more than the ordinary was Tululla Falls, Georgia. Great improvements are being made there, that great gorge below the dam that has been built is a wonder and worth any one's time to stop long enough to see it.

We never had anything of interest besides this for the first day. Atlanta having been seen in other days, and with the goal ahead of us of seeing two of our boys who are in California, we are not spending any time with anything that we have seen before.

A splendid night's rest at Montgomery, after making 400 miles the first day. We are trying to maintain that as a minimum each day, and at this writing, at Houston, Texas, we have made that for three days now.

There were many interesting things along the way that made it worth while. The most beautiful scenery of any so far was the 45-mile drive along the Gulf from Mobile, Biloxi, Gulfport, etc. The flowers, the full grown leaves on the trees, made such a change for us coming out of the mountains where the marks of spring had hardly made their appearance.

There were many points of interest in New Orleans, some of which were visited. Here we enjoyed the quaint buildings of the old city. It is interesting also to see the many French people that you find in the old section of the city. We were all waiting for the lights to change at a street crossing and I said, "Mrs. Koontz, do you see that trolley there that says six Frenchmen? That is as many as they will take on that car of that nationality." She said she was about to take it literally when she caught on that I was trying to pull a joke on her.

Passing through the French Quarter and seeing a street with a French name, Toulouse, named for a city in France, it reminded me of a riddle that I heard when I was a boy: "If you see a man whose pants were not fitting him right, what two cities in France would you mention?" The answer: "Toulon and Toulouse."

It was here that Andrew Jackson won a great battle over General Packenham, when he told his soldiers not to fire till they could see the whites of the British soldiers' eyes. The fire was so deadly that it proved a complete route for the Packenham army. Possibly this brought Jackson before the American people more than anything else he did to gain public favor, which led to the presidency.

We have had rain two days of the three, mostly in the afternoon. This has hindered but little, as it came while we were on our way.

Nice places to stay at night have made the trip very enjoyable so far, and we are hoping to get in some more interesting accounts of the way over.

Tonight finds us at Houston in the Lone Star State. Will be seeing you next week with some of our experiences as we go farther west. We have very agreeable traveling companions and the Studebaker is giving very satisfactory performance, all of which adds enjoyment to the long miles across the continent. Pray for us that we may have a safe and profitable journey and be able to bring to our work more efficient service as a result of this experience.

N. G. BETHEA.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Spring Church, Spring Church Charge.— Our pastor, Rev. J. E. Garlington, has delivered two fine messages since our last report. In fact, each time we hear him we think that sermon was a little better than the previous one. We rejoice that he will soon be with us all the time, as his college closes the last of this month.

Everyone enjoyed having Dr. Forlines in our homes a few weeks ago, also were greatly helped by the fine sermons he preached for us.

We regret very much to hear that two of our most faithful members have moved their membership to Culver City, California. Mr. and Mrs. Demick moved to Culver City last September. We have certainly missed them in our church and community. We wish for them the best of luck, health and happiness.

Our hearts were made very sad Easter morning to learn that Mr. T. W. Massey, our oldest member, had passed away very suddenly. Mr. Massey was 84 years old and had been in very good health lately. The funeral service was held on Monday at Spring church. His body was laid to rest in the family burying ground near here beneath a heavy blanket of flowers.

As Mr. Garlington is preaching the commencement sermon at Gaston school on the fourth Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, there will only be Sunday school at Spring church, which will begin at 9:45 o'clock. We hope our entire congregation will go to Gaston school to hear Mr. Garlington.

Miss Vista Robinson, of Westhampton College, Richmond, Va., and Miss Mabel Massey of Woman's College, Greensboro, have returned to college after spending the spring vacation with their families. We are always glad to have our young people come back to church and Sunday school.

On April 1, Mr. J. H. Ryles of Emporia, claimed as his bride Miss Marjorie Robinson, one of Spring church's most active young people. They were married in Greensboro at the home of Miss Robinson's uncle, by Rev. W. F. Ashburn, one of Spring Church charge's former pastors. Mr. and Mrs. Ryles are making their home in Emporia. We wish for them much happiness and success.

MRS. R. M. ROBINSON, Reporter.

◆

Bethesda, North Davidson.—We were very glad indeed to hear the report from the Appreciation Year committee that we have gone over the top.

Our Sunday school is moving along nicely. Attendance is not as large as we would like, but hope to grow. Most all stay for church services.

A short Easter service was given, after which Communion service was held.

We miss our pastor's wife, Mrs. O. B. Williams, very much; she is visiting her daughter in Washington, D. C., for a few weeks.

We were glad to have Mrs. Ed. Tatum of Virginia worship with us Sunday.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met with Mrs. E. E. Wagner, with Mrs. C. L. Wagner and Mrs. J. L. Grubb joint hostesses. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. D. D. Brinkley, using the guide book. Scripture by Miss Bessie Grubb. Prayer and reading by Mrs. C. M. Yokley. This being the first meeting for our new officers, there was no special program prepared. Plans were made to have a chicken pie supper on Saturday night. After the business and reports of committees, delicious refreshments were served.

Wedding bells have been ringing again. Miss Virginia Wagner and Mr. Kenneth Tussey were married over the holidays. We wish for them much happiness.

MRS. J. O. EVERHART, Reporter.

◆

Chapel Hill Church, Davidson Charge, Rev. W. H. Neese, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday morning, bringing a very helpful and inspiring message. The Holy Communion service was held, with a good number present taking part in this service.

The Sunday school is moving along very well now since the people who have been sick during the winter months have recovered to health again and can attend services. In summer months the attendance is much higher at this church, yet the interest holds up well with those who attend.

Chapel Hill Ladies' Auxiliary met Tuesday night, April 11, with Mrs. W. H. Neese. Ten members were present. The regular program from the guide book was used. Mrs. Edd Morris was program leader. Those taking part were Mesdames Edd Morris, W. H. Neese, A. C. Harris, Miss Sylvia Morris. At the conclusion of the program the president, Mrs. Van Surratt, took charge and the usual business was transacted. The local committees were appointed by the president at this meeting, as follows: Get Well Cards, Mrs. A. C. Harris and Mrs. Wade Smith; flowers, Mrs. Edd Morris, Mrs. C. L. Surratt, Miss Sylvia Morris, and Mrs. Van Surratt; social, Misses Doris Smith, Sylvia Morris, Mrs. Penn Russell; sick visits, each member. Then at each meeting each member reports to the sick visits committee, Mrs. Wade Surratt, the number of calls made that month, and Mrs. Surratt gives this report at the meetings. The auxiliary members revealed heart sisters, and drew names for another three months.

After adjourning, the members were invited into the parsonage kitchen to see some improvements the pastor has made, with the aid of Lineberry auxiliary, which adds much to the working arrangement of the kitchen. The Chapel Hill auxiliary has consented to aid and finance some cabinet building for the parsonage kitchen.

To the surprise of Mrs. Neese when entering the kitchen, the auxiliary had given her and the pastor a pounding, which adds many useful things to the pantry.

The delegates attending the N. C. Branch convention in High Point April 12 and 13 were Mrs. C. L. Surratt and Mrs. A. C. Harris, accompanied by Mr. C. L. Surratt. Other members were Mrs. W. H. Neese and Miss Bruce Smith, from Chapel Hill auxiliary.

The May auxiliary meeting will be held with Mr. Wade Surratt as hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Neese were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Van Surratt and Mr. Surratt's mother, Mrs. Flora Surratt, Sunday.

May this church continue to be a guiding light to the unsaved of this community, and help to strengthen the weak to live a better life. Pray for us that this may be our high aim for the Master.

MRS. VAN SURRATT, Ass't Reporter.

◆

First Church, Henderson, Rev. T. J. Whitehead, Pastor, April 17.—Our Sunday school superintendent, Mr. Clyde L. Finch, has given us several pleasant surprises recently which were very much appreciated and enjoyed. A few Sundays ago Misses Maria and Catherine Legg from the First Baptist Sunday school sang a beautiful duet, and Rev. J. Everette Neese, of the Congregational-Christian church, made an interesting talk. On Easter Sunday during the Sunday school hour, Robert Stubbs Hight gave a piano solo, and Mary Gene Falkner read a poem.

At the 11 o'clock service Nancy Jean and Robert Stubbs Hight united with the church. After the class period yesterday Mrs. McFarland's Sunday school class of teen age girls presented a very pleasing program. Where there is a group of Christian young people one will find them doing fine and inspirational things.

Rev. W. M. Howard, of Enfield, one of our young ministers, was the guest speaker during the preaching mission.

The Woman's Auxiliary held its final meeting for the missionary year with Mrs. W. W. Parker, Jr., with a large attendance. The officers were reelected. Mrs. Roy W. Dixon, who has served as chairman of Circle No. 1, having resigned, Mrs. Glenn Satterwhite was appointed to fill her place. We extend to Mrs. Dixon our deepest appreciation for her faithful and efficient services for several years, and we are delighted to have Mrs. Satterwhite as our chairman.

It is a great pleasure to report that the auxiliary met its budget in full for last year, and with renewed faith and devotion to our Lord, we pledge our loyalty to the advancement of righteousness.

The Philathea class met recently at the church, with Mesdames H. C. Raynor, G. D. Greenway, and J. L. Mundy as hostesses. A committee reported the Easter box sent to the Children's Home at High Point. It was voted to send a delegate to the national Baraca-Philathea convention to be held in Richmond. Miss Lucy Taylor will represent the class at the state convention in Goldsboro this month.

Mr. Jasper B. Hicks, Henderson attorney, who is recognized as one of the leading laymen of the Methodist Protestant church in North Carolina, has been elected as delegate from the M. P. church to the Uniting Conference in Kansas City, which convenes the last week in this month.

A sunrise service was held at the King's Daughters park Easter Sunday. Rev. Mr. Whitehead, with other ministers, had parts on the program.

A number of our young people were at home for the Easter holidays. Misses Margaret Hight, who teaches in a junior college in Maryland; Eleanor Young, from Belmont, and her house guest, Miss West from Raleigh, Nancy Parham, Mary Mitchell Baity, Nellie Kittrell from High Point College, and Lucille Finch from Shenandoah College in Dayton, Virginia.

Friends of Miss Lucy Hayes are glad to know she has returned home much improved after undergoing an operation at Watts hospital, in Durham. We are also glad to hear that Mrs. T. J. Whitehead's brother is much better.

Rev. Mr. Whitehead had for his sermon subject yesterday, "After Easter—What?"

Mrs. L. R. Gooch was called to Ansonville recently on acount of the illness of her brother-in-law, Mr. Dunlap. We trust he may soon be well.

ANNIE C. LASHLEY, Reporter.

◆

Moriah, Rev. J. Leo Pittard, Pastor.—The Easter pageant was a success. We had a good crowd and the children did fine, as well as the grown-ups that took part.

The Woman's Auxiliary met with Mrs. J. L. Lewis the last Friday night in March. The devotional was very impressive, as this was the time for the installation of new officers. The service was in charge of Mrs. George L. Glenn.

It won't be long before our pastor will be out of school down at Duke. Usually it's the scholar that can't wait for the school bell to fall the last time until the next year, but this time it's our congregation that will be glad because we can have him and his charming wife with us more. No foolin': we love these two young people and admire them so much.

Quite a number of our ladies attended the state meeting at High Point. This reporter, having been a delegate, along with Mrs. W. A. Moser, can say we had a most enjoyable time; and too, we learned so much we didn't know before of what our church women are doing. At this meeting we saw Dr. T. M. Johnson, whom we all admire. (He used to be our pastor) and Mr. J. L. Trollinger, of Winston, that we have had in some of our special meetings.

The Senior Bible class met with Mr. and Mrs. Kellam on Easter Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Kellam are new additions to this class, and we are glad to have them.

We are proud of the grass that grows so green and neatly cut in our cemetery, and we are planning to keep it just as nice this year as it was last.

The Junior Bible class met with Miss Virginia Meachem on the first Wednesday night in April; an enjoyable time was reported by all present.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Agnes Curtis on April 28 at 7:30. All members are urged to be present.

MRS. WILBUR A. SHERRILL, Reporter.

◆

First Church, Burlington, Dr. Fred W. Paschal, Pastor.—Easter Sunday was a great day in our church, with all services well attended.

At the eleven o'clock service Dr. Paschal brought to us a heart-stirring message in keeping with the day. At the close of the service an invitation was given to those who wished to accept Christ. On confession of faith several came after which the doors of the church were opened and ten new members were received. Rev. Charles Coble of Haw River brought the evening message.

Since writing the last, the N. C. Branch Meeting has met at High Point, and was truly a big event in the lives of all Methodist Protestant women. Delegates from our church were Mesdames Edwin Moore, Hobart Patterson, Walter Williamson, Miss Mildred McPherson and Miss Glenna Teer. There were many more who attended. Some of these delegates were present for every session, and gave a splendid report at the auxiliary meeting Monday night.

I am sure all are delighted with the growth and rapid advancement the N. C. branch has made, and it was an inspiration to listen to the splendid reports.

We are very happy to be among the honor auxiliaries, our president has done a splendid piece of work, and we are proud of her, as well as the co-operation from the various other officials: we realize that their faithfulness enables us to be an honor auxiliary.

Congratulations to Miss Ollie Moser for bringing back the loving cup for her untiring work with the Precious Jewels.

It also made our hearts glad to hear Burlington mentioned along with others in the organization of the young groups. Miss Mildred McPherson and Glenna Teer, who were our delegates as already mentioned are doing a great piece of work with the young folks. This is splendid for it won't be many years before they will be our leaders.

The Board of Stewards met for their monthly business meeting on Tuesday evening, April 17, with all reports very encouraging. Our pastor expressed his appreciation to this board for their splendid co-operation during this new church year.

There was a good Sunday school attendance the past Sunday, with Mrs. Paschal's class of young ladies in charge. Special music was furnished by a large choir of junior girls.

The Baraca class has on a contest of blues and reds, with the blues ahead so far, but several more Sundays yet to go.

The Philathea class is planning a rally day on the second Sunday in May, at which time they will also observe Mothers' Day.

At the eleven o'clock service communion was observed. Dr. Paschal pointed out that it was not possible for any human to put into a message the power and meaning as that of the Lord's Supper if taken in the spirit of Chirst. Immediately after the service our pastor and our delegate, Mr. M. A. Coble, left by motor for Kansas City, Mo., and the Uniting Conference which convenes Wednesday.

The continued prayers of the church are asked for this conference, in doing the Master's will. We all can't be there in person, but we can pray for the Union of these two great denominations, that all things done may be in accord with His will, for a blessing to mankind and to bring lost souls to the Lamb of God. After all is this not the church's highest calling and privilege?

MRS WALTER WILLIAMSON, Reporter.

◆

First Church, High Point.—Because we haven't written the Herald since the week before Easter, we feel our Easter services certainly should be mentioned. Several consider this year's pre-Easter program the best in our history. Holy Week was observed with services each night. On Friday night a pageant, "Out of the Easter Garden," was presented, with approximately 80 children participating. Our Easter Sunday services were both well attended, and the following united with our church: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Marlette, Mr. A. A. Everhart, Mrs. O. R. York, Jr., Miss Catherine Peace, Mrs. C. E. Stroupe, Mrs. D. W. Stroupe, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Stroupe. Our Easter offering amounted to $110.00 The junior church turned in $27.60 of this amount. Through their Self-Denial boxes they raised $13.60, and the offering at their pageant amounted to $14.00.

We enjoyed entertaining the delegates to

FOR 65 YEARS

We have built, rebuilt, repaired every make of organ. We can put yours in first class condition. Write us.

Hodgson Organ Company - - - Norfolk, Va.

DON'T BLAME THE MOTHS

USE

LARVEX

This year do your mothproofing right . . . use LARVEX to keep your woolen clothes, furniture and rugs safe from moths. LARVEX is simple to use, odorless, requires no wrapping or putting things away. When bought by the gallon, LARVEX is so cheap that a man's 3-piece suit can be mothproofed for less than 25¢.

QUICK . . . SURE . . . ECONOMICAL

LET US TRAIN YOU FOR BUSINESS

A field affording clean, dignified employment. Opportunities are never greater than preparation.

Keep cool and go to school in glorious mountains this summer. Boarding facilities reasonable. Summer term June 5th. Send for beautiful catalogue.

Cecil's Business Colleges

Asheville, N. C. - Spartanburg, S. C.

WOMEN IN YOUR 40's

Need Not Lose Charm!

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

For free trial bottle tear this out and send with name and address to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., 986Cleveland St., Lynn, Mass. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

Lydia E. Pinkham's

VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Branch meeting last week. The attendance seemed very good, and we hope those present enjoyed themselves, as we did. The programs were very worth-while, and we feel we must mention the play given Wednesday night by talent from the local church, and directed by two of our own members, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hicks. It was certainly well presented, and we extend our congratulations to the directors and the following young people who participated: Edith Vance, Willie Edwards, Gene Rankin, Stanwood Kennett, Gilbert Gray, Billy White, Esther Marie Ferree, Betty Hill Ellison, Betty Auman, and Lyna Jane Davis.

On Wednesday evening of this week the board of stewards, in cooperation with the Workers' Council, is planning a church meeting. This is not a meeting to raise money, but to bring before the members the items of interest about the church program, and to spend the rest of the time in fellowship with each other. It is their wish that a large crowd be present for this occasion.

Mr. A. J. Koonce leaves Sunday night for Kansas City for the Uniting Conference. Mr. Koonce is a delegate from our conference.

Our church was well represented at the State Baraca-Philathea convention held at Goldsboro this past week-end. Our delegates were Misses Annabelle Thompson, Gladys Kivett, who is state secretary, Lea Joyner, Myrtle Davis, and Mrs. Mary Ballard.

MRS. ROBERT DAVIS, Reporter.

◆

State Street, Lexington, Rev. O. C. Loy, Pastor.—This is our first letter since Easter so we will give recognition to the Easter program given by the children directed by Mrs. Joe Everhart.

The children gave an interesting program in a talented way all in keeping with the Easter season. The church was neatly decorated in white and green with a tall, white, lighted cross in the background forming a perfect scene for the play.

State Street was well-represented at the Branch Meeting of the Women's Work, held in First church, High Point, this month.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Loy, Mrs. F. J. Cox, Mrs. V. M. Garner and Mrs. W. T. Neal all reported a good meeting with Mrs. Cox being elected district chairman.

The Sunshine Circle directed by Mrs. F. J. Cox won the silver cup for a report of 100 per cent throughout the year which makes them very happy and they plan to work just as hard this year.

The Women's Auxiliary held their monthly meeting with Mrs. J. Bax Leonard last Tuesday night the first for the new auxiliary year. The new officers having been installed on Sunday night, April 16, took their respective places and all enjoyed Mrs. Leonard's hospitality as she served delicious refreshments during the social hour.

Mrs. O. C. Loy and Mrs. Joe Everhart were joint hostesses to the Philathea class last Friday night. The devotional was led by Mrs. J. H. Streetman. After the meeting closed with prayer, ice cream and cake were served to the large number present.

Mr. Loyd Leonard and family have returned to their home in Asheville after a vacation with Mr. Leonard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leonard.

We are glad to report that little O. Max Loy is recovering from a severe cold and chicken pox. Mr. Bob Redwine is gradually improving. We hope that when the spring weather is settled that our attendance will go to normal again.

MRS. W. T. NEAL, Reporter.

◆

Hebron, Orange Charge, Rev. C. P. Morris, Pastor.—Since our last report to the Herald the attendance at Sunday school and church has been very good, our pastor bringing us some very timely and helpful message.

We were glad to have Mr. Chang, a student at Duke university and a friend of Mr. Morris, to address the Sunday school on the second Sunday afternoon. Mr. Chang is a native Korean and spoke on the customs of his country which was enjoyed by all.

At the regular preaching hour we were favored with an Easter cantata given by the choirs of Mebalne and Hebron churches under the direction of Mr. T. O. Pender.

Circle No. I of the Woman's Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. L. A. Dixon on April 11. After the usual business was transacted the hostes served light refreshments.

Miss Margaret McAdams, Mrs. Clayton Dixon and Mrs. Ben Wilson attnded the tenth annual meeting of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work at the First M. P. Church in High Point on April 12. Miss McAdams stayed over for the remaining sessions of the conference.

The stewards held their regular quarterly meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Hall McAdams, the usual business was transacted.

On the fourth Sunday the treasurer gave the church a financial report covering the first six months of our year. It showed most items paid up to date although we were a little behind the same period of last year. Our pastor gave us a very inspiring sermon, his subject being "Divided and Unified Life."

We have been missing Mrs. Morris for the last few Sundays, we are looking forward to seeing her and the little boy soon.

MRS. BEN WILSON, Reporter.

◆

WISHES

"If wishes were horses—"
  Why, bless you, they are!
No wagon's too clumsy
  To hitch to a star;
The cloud's silver lining
  Grows brighter each day,
And castles most airy
  Need not fade away.
Yes, wishes are horses,
  Mount, ride, fast and free;
The ships you sent sailing
  Come home from the sea.
The foot of the rainbow
  Oft leads you to gold,
And the heart that rides wishes
  Will never grow old.

—B. J. K., Indiana.

FREE TO EVERY MAN OR WOMAN

JUST SEND US YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS. We will mail you this beautiful GENUINE 14-KARAT GOLD FINISH CROSS with CLASP PIN attached ABSOLUTELY FREE. Also FREE catalog showing many VALUABLE GIFTS—GIVEN FREE—and how to receive them. Enclose ten cents in Stamp or Coin for mailing and packing Free Cross and Catalog.

NATIONAL PRODUCTS CO., Dept. 63
333 S. Market St. Chicago, Ill.

SUMMER SCHOOL

JUNE 12
to
AUGUST 11

Teachers may enroll for six weeks in courses carrying college credit.

ALL WORK FULLY ACCREDITED

Expenses

Matriculation fee $5.00
Tuition (per semester hour) $3.00
ROOM AND BOARD
Full session .. $48.00
Six weeks ... $35.00

- Courses for high school graduates, college students, teachers, and supervisors.
- Demonstration school for teachers.
- Excellent recreational facilities.
- Music instruction—class and private.
- Regular faculty and visiting instructors.
- Special Artist Course numbers.

For further information and catalog, address

MOWAT G. FRASER, DEAN OF THE COLLEGE, Director

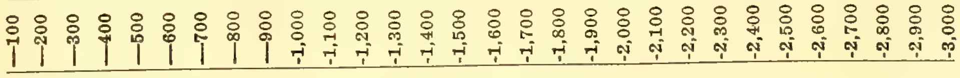
WINTHROP COLLEGE

SHELTON PHELPS, President ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 93%

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	13¾	....
Alamance	56	14¾	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	6½	....
Asheville	13	8	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	7¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	½	....
CHARLOTTE	10	10	....
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	25	5.70
Concord	26	7	*7.50
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	3	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship - Love's Grove	38	8¾	....
Forsyth	46	9	....
Gibsonville	24	2	....
Glen Raven	52	8½	....
Graham	30	12	....
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	4¼	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	7	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13½	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	5¼	...
Halifax	42	7½	...
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	10.00
High Point, First	75	16½	...
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2¾	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	4½	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	9	....
Lexington, First	48	7¼	...
Lexington, State St.	28	5½	....
LIBERTY	13	16	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3½	....
Littleton	46	5¾	...
Mebane	27	4	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	1	....
Mill Grove church	10	3	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Moriah	17	5¼	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	15	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	14	....
Mt. Zion	16	½	....
North Davidson	36	7	.
Orange	77	15	....
Pensacola	5	1	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	6	...
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	1¾	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	10¼	....
Reidsville	13	7	....
Richland	35	11	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	5½	....
Shiloh	65	11	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	...	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2½	....
Siler City	22	11	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	6	....
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	9½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	10½	....
Whitakers	8	7½	*2.50
Why Not	30	4¼	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	1¼	....
Yarborough	9	3	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

HERALD SUBSCRIPTION RECEIPTS

H. N. Blackwood, Orange charge	$ 2.00
By C. L. Smith.
Mrs. J. T. Ramsey, club subscriptions Shelby charge	1.00
Mrs. G. L. Davenport, Creswell charge	2.00
G. J. Cherry, Creswell charge	2.00
Cicero Jones, Orange charge	2.00
L. S. Neville, Asheville	1.00
By Miss Cunningham.
Mrs. Malisa Davenport, Creswell	1.00
By Pastor Wagoner.
E. M. Hipp, Yarboroughs	1.00
J. E. Bobo, Yarboroughs	1.00
By Pastor Vickery.
Mrs. Koontz, Asheville	.50
W. S. Bethea, Asheville	.50
By Pastor Bethea.
Club Subscriptions, Mt. Pleasant charge	1.00
Miss Blanche Bowman, Mt. Pleasant	.50
By Pastor Braxton.
Mrs. J. W. Moore, Moriah	.50
By Pastor Pittard.
Mrs. E. L. Helderman, Concord	2.00
By Pastor Peeler.
Mrs. C. W. Harvey, Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	2.00
By Pastor J. D. Morris.

Gray's Ointment
USED SINCE 1820 FOR----
BOILS SUPERFICIAL CUTS AND BURNS AND MINOR BRUISES
25c at your drug store.
FOR COLDS — Use our Gray's (Nothol) Nose Drops. Small size 25c, large size 50c at your druggist.

Methodist Protestant Herald
Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.
R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor
PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.
Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.
In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.
All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.
Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.
Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

A. L. Plunkett

A good man's life speaks for itself.

In memory of a man who lived for 83 years among Methodist Protestants and members of other denominations, as well as non-church members, and died a friend of all. Whose deep concern was centered on others rather than on himself. He departed this life on March 10, 1939, to join his beloved wife, Mrs. Plunkett, who preceded him to the grave a number of years. Interment was in the Moriah church cemetery, where he was a member, on Sunday morning, March 11.

He lived to die: died to live.

◆

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

(Continued from Page Ten)

odist Protestants and friends that has ever gathered at the Home.

Jot June 22 down now for a visit to the Children's Home. There will be one other speaker for us on that day, but we will wait until after the Uniting Conference to announce that speaker.

Rejoice With Us

On April 19th, the Board of Education of the North Carolina Conference, Inc. deeded back to the Methodist Protestant Children's Home, Inc. all its property. We greatly appreciate this, and have been rejoicing over it, and bid you rejoice with us. "The Lord hath done great things for us, of which we are glad."

Yours in His blessed service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

For Speedy HEADACHE Relief
Snap Back with
STANBACK 10¢ & 25¢
DOES NOT LEAVE YOU UPSET

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MAY 4, 1939 NUMBER 25

Rev H L Isley 2aug9
R 1

PREAMBLE TO THE EPISCOPAL ADDRESS TO THE UNITING CONFERENCE

Assembled in Kansas City, Mo., April 26, 1939

Members of the Uniting Conference:

Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

We salute you in the Lord and in the fellowship of the hosts of God's people.

Eight million Methodist communicants and a constituency of 20,000,000 adherents stand at attention today as this Uniting Conference throws wide the gates to a new era in American Church life. The entire Protestantism of the nation turns eager eyes toward this city. No more notable and responsible Christian body has ever assembled on this continent than this Uniting Conference. The authority of the Churches that you represent has bestowed upon you by legal and constitutional procedure and action the great and grave responsibility of building the governmental structure of the New Methodist Church out of the elements of polity and practice that inhere in the three uniting Churches. You are to set the course for a powerful ecclesiastical organization upon its high and holy mission. God only in His wisdom, might, and love, can make you equal to this task and this obligation.

Methodism in America proclaims to the world today, with great joy, the culmination of one of the most outstanding and far-reaching union movements which the Church of Christ has ever witnessed. Christendom for a quarter of a century has deplored its divisions and bewailed its rivalries, and has cried aloud for peace and a new Christian and ecclesiastical unity. Great Ecumenical Councils have sounded loudly the call to Christian forces to close their ranks and present a solid front to a wretched and wayward world. Our three Churches have heard that cry, and have answered by consolidating their forces, unifying their divisions, and moving majestically to a more responsible place in Christian adventure. The process and spirit that have wrought this achievement are prophetic of other Methodist unions and of speedy correlations that will give this country a Methodism of coordinated oneness and of mobilized evangelical power.

(Signed by the Bishops and Dr.
J. H. Straughn).
From The Daily Christian Advocate.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The Uniting Conference of Methodism, Kansas City, Mo., May 1, 1939.

In place of my usual letter this week I shall use my page in saying some things about the Uniting Conference.

The Auditorium

This auditorium is so large it is difficult to describe it. Ordinarily it has a seating capacity of fourteen thousand. But for this conference the seats have been rearranged so as to make it seat only ten thousand. The main arena where the delegates are seated normally seats five thousand and now seats only the nine hundred delegates. This change was made necessary in order that each delegate might have a table thirty inches square. Surrounding the arena there are seats a few feet higher than those in the arena where those who have special tickets may be seated. Above these seats of honor is the front of the balconies which rise higher and higher toward the ceiling until one seated in the arena has a feeling that one is in the midst of a valley surrounded on all sides by mountains. In addition to the large arena and balconies there are thirty-five additional rooms with a seating capacity ranging from fifty to twenty-five hundred. While the number of people in the main arena remains practically the same at all times the number of those in the balconies changes from time to time.

The Magnitude of the Conference

When one considers the magnitude of this conference it is impossible to describe it. In addition to the nine hundred delegates there are thousands of visitors. In fact the throngs are so great that four of our young ministers from North Carolina were here two full days before I ever saw one of them. It is true they could look down from the balconies on the North Carolina delegates for these are seated in a particular place in the auditorium but we of the main arena cannot recognize people in the balconies because of the great distance. Not only are there great throngs of people but the issues involved are so great. Three denominations are merged bringing together three denominations into one denomination numbering eight millions. Not only are the three denominations in the United States being merged but the ramifications of these churches in the uttermost parts of the earth are involved. There are bishops and native workers and missionaries from almost every corner of the globe here to represent the church to which they belong. For instance, at the noon hour today a bishop from Brazil was called upon to give the benediction. He gave it but in a language entirely foreign to us.

The Spirit of the Conference

While there are diverse opinions in some cases about methods of doing things there is general agreement on one thing, namely, we are one in spirit. This is a select group, made up for the most part of skilled parliamentarians, men who know all the schemes for either blocking or formating certain things but fortunately the various opinions do not follow denominational lines. In fact there is no north nor south nor east nor west. Even the former denominational affiliations are largely forgotten. Even in our own North Carolina delegates half may vote for and the other half against a proposition.

What Has Been Accomplished

As in most deliberative bodies a great deal of the grand work is done by committees. So far we have elected two bishops, Drs. Straughn and Broomfield. The time has been fixed for the first General Conference which will begin the last Wednesday in April of next year. Tonight the delegates from the various jurisdictions will determine how many Annual Conferences there will be in each state. Many committees will be ready to report within the next few days and so the work moves along. More next week.

J. E. Pritchard.

THE GREAT EXPERIENCE

"I think it was about five this morning that I opened my Testament on those words: 'There are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises, even that ye should be partakers of the divine nature.' (2 Peter 1:4). Just as I went out I opened it again on these words: 'Thou art not far from the kingdom of God.' In the afternoon I was asked to go to St. Paul's The anthem was, 'Out of the deep have I called thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.'

"In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate Street, where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone, for salvation; and an assurance was given me, that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death.

"I began to pray with all my might for those who had in a more especial manner despitefully used me and persecuted me. I then testified openly to all there what I now first felt in my heart."

—John Wesley: "Journal," Wednesday, May 24, 1738.

◆

"The Methodists have pointed the way to union. May God prosper the work and hasten the day when Christians of all confessions shall present a united front to combat the forces of strife that threatens our heritage of religion."—From President Roosevelt's message to the Uniting Conference.

◆

Brother T. G. Madison reports that Kistler's Union and Mt. Moriah churches on Cleveland Charge have paid W. S. budget in full.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MAY 4, 1939 NUMBER 25

The Uniting Conference In Action

Editorial Correspondence

Kansas City.—It is very difficult to describe such a gathering. The numbers attending, the countries of the world represented, the spirit of the body, are not to be compared with any other Christian conference in modern times. And the place of meeting, the tremendous building, its seating capacity, its rooms for committees to meet in; the cordiality which is seen and felt wherever a wearer of the badge appears. There are many other matters not on the conference program that must be appraised before one passes judgment upon this great gathering.

The delegates, visitors and citizens elbowed in a good-natured manner their way in the receiving line Tuesday night when the bishops received us. But the line had to be broken at last in order that the speaking begin from the rostrum, so long had it become. Then and there we were assured in graceful and eloquent language of our welcome to the city of the great West.

Wednesday morning the delegates attended a communion service at Grace and Holy Trinity P. E. Church. The Boston University singers led the processional singing "The Church: One Foundation." The services was of course conducted by the bishops. The ritual of the Methodist Episcopal Church was used most impressively. The effect of such a service in which were representatives from a score of foreign countries and many of the leaders of three great religious bodies, can not be described by the writer. He felt that never before in a thousand years, if ever, had such a scene been witnessed. But that may be said of many other services which are daily being held. But as the last phrase of the recessional "Lead On, O King Eternal, we follow not with fear" died away in the distance a new sense of assurance gripped my heart. I felt that this meeting was truly prophetic of a new day when righteousness would cover the earth as water covers the sea.

The Uniting Conference began at 10 a. m. with Bishop Hughes presiding, Dr. J. C. Broomfield voiced the invocation and Bishop John M. Moore delivered the address of the bishops to the Uniting Conference and the Methodist Church. It was very comprehensive and certainly a most stimulating message. It would not be wise to attempt to give here any excerpts as our space would not permit but we hope to do this in the near future. In the organization of the conference Dr. C. W. Bates was chosen assistant secretary, so we hear his voice occasionally.

The afternoon was given over to committee meetings, as is the afternoon of every day except Sunday.

The night service was presided over by Dr. J. H. Straughn. R. M. Andrews conducted the devotions. It was the time to hear the fraternal messages from English Methodism. The speakers, Dr. Robert Bond and Hon. Isaac Foote captured the vast audience with their fine spirit, their rare will, and sober speech.

Thursday was another busy day. A message from the President of the United States was read and the conference begaun to become routine minded. Matters of detail were disposed of and the way is open for committees to act.

Thursday night those representing the M. P. Church met and elected two bishops. Dr. Jas. H. Straughn was elected on the first ballot. Dr. Broomfield was chosen on the third ballot, others receiving more than ten votes on the last ballot were Drs. Humphries, 22, and Hawley, 19.

Great sorrow has come to many of us in the death of Mrs. J. W. Hawley. She was stricken Thursday afternoon, and died Friday afternoon. Great sympathy was expressed for Dr. Hawley.

Friday both Drs. Straughn and Broomfield were presented to the conference as bishops-elect and Dr. Straughn presided over the morning session. Friday was a day full of parliamentary tangles which surely tested the skill of the bishop-elect to steer the conference to the port of safety at noon. Friday night the rostrum was filled with missionaries of the three churches. It was a thrilling sight, more than a hundred men and women, some of whom have served fifty years in the foreign field. The addresses were made by Dr. John R. Mott and Bishop Arthur J. Moore. One of the features of the meeting was the singing of Madame Yeolieka Saito of Tokyo, Japan, and Mr. J. K. Li, University of Nanking, China. Their singing together, "Saviour, like a shepherd lead us" was most impressive.

Saturday morning began with the routine of Friday and while there were many motions, amendments and substitutes for the whole we were able to adjourn half an hour before the time scheduled. The afternoon was given over to committee meetings of delegates and to a great Youth Rally in the auditorium. Thousands of young people from many states participated in the varied program of song, address and panel discussion.

The night program included songs by a choir of five hundred from Baker University and some splendid addresses by youth leaders. Among the leaders we noticed Secretary Gibbs, President Forlines and Rev. Roy I. Farmer.

Sunday afternoon will remain a memorable day in the memory of all former members of the Methodist Protestant Church, it was then Drs. Straughn and Broomfield were consecrated to the office of bishop. The officiating bishops were Edwin H. Hughes, John M. Moore, A. W. Leonard, H. L. Smith and Paul B. Kern. "How Firm a Foundation"

(Continued on Page Five)

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.
Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge.
Friendship, Shiloh Charge.
Shiloh, Shiloh Charge.
Mebane.
Pine Bluff.
Mt. Pleasant Charge.
Burlington First.
Asheboro.
Friendship and Loves Grove.
Pleasant Hill on Cleveland.
First Church, Charlotte.
First Church, Thomasville.
First Church, Concord.
Flat Rock and Spring Valley on Vance.
Reidsville.
Shiloh Church, Randolph Charge.
Fairfiield Church, Guilford Charge.
Maple Springs, Forsyth Charge.
Mt. Carmel, Forsyth Charge.
Graham.
Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge.
Haw River, Glen Raven Charge.
Tabernacle, Tabernacle Charge.
Brower's, Richland Charge.
Denton and Canaan, Denton Charge.
Lebanon, High Point.
Grays Chapel, Randolph Charge.
Kistler's and Mt. Moriah, Cleveland Charge.
Fairview, Haw River Charge.
Glen Raven, Glen Raven Charge.
Who will be next?

J. E. Pritchard.

"A solution of the problems that ever more darkly overshadow the world today is impossible without recourse to the forces of religion. By this, I mean recognition by men and nations of the spiritual power beyond ourselves which makes for righteousness, which transcends the order of mundane culture and enters the penumbra of divine mystery."—From President Roosevelt's message to the Uniting Conference.

Brother J. M. Morgan has moved to the new parsonage. His address now is Brunswick, Va.

WHY? HOW? WHAT?

By Christian F. Reisner

Pastor of Broadway Temple, New York City

Make some suggestions concerning tithing in a church. I have frequently heard of churches where laymen lift the financial burden from the minister. Unfortunately, I have not personally met such a church. Tithing has been neglected in recent years. "The Layman's Association" in Chicago furnishes splendid tracts in this field. I am buying them and inserting them in our church paper every Sunday, so that the people receive information regularly. I still find use for the "Victory of Mary Christopher." It can be bought in paper binding for 15 cents and I sell it for 10 cents, so that I can distribute it widely. It is profitable to print lists of the members who tithe. The preacher may well present the subject on two or three occasions. Stinginess shrivels the soul; giving must be lifted to a high plane. I always raise money on the basis of partnership. I visited a distinguished banker some years ago and told him, "I am no more called to preach than you are called to be a banker. When we are through, our Heavenly Father will not know the distinction, but will on recognize us as His sons working together to make the world better." He liked that statement. Then I added, "It is my business to make church plans and it is your business, as a partner, to furnish the money." He gave me $5,000 that day. He has since given me money, when I reminded him of that statement. I make that suggestion to all the people from whom I raise money. I once conducted an Epworth League Institute consecration meeting. We had young people about the altar who were to be deaconesses, ministers, and foreign missionaries. I saw scores of young business men in the audience. I asked, "How many of you folk will come to the altar and pledge yourselves to live on as little as these folk will in active Christian service and give the rest to God?" Thirty-two came forward.

"How can we encourage Bible reading?" I once preached a sermon on Bible reading and then took pledges from the people to read at least some part of the Bible every day. I had a splendid response and several people said afterward that they found new and unexpected interest in the Book. We have recently tried a week-day Bible Class for women which has been surprisingly successful. We are often too much afraid to offer such courses. The mid-week service is a problem these days. I have been told by my officials that, if a formal and specific Bible class were organized every Wednesday night, they would attend. I mean to present the life of Jesus from the four gospels in mimeograph outline and make a real test of this plan. We may well offer such books as Abingdon Bible Commentary as helps. The Home Department of the Sunday school can be helpfully employed for creating an interest in Bible study. We ought to keep a supply of Bibles on hand so that people can easily purchase them for gifts and their own use. We frequently distribute small copies of the Gospel. The American Bible Society charges only one cent each for them.—In The Pastor's Journal.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. W. H. YOKELEY

PAUL WORKS A HARD FIELD

International Sunday School Lesson for May 7

By Rev. W. H. Yokeley

Lesson Text—Acts 18:1, 4-11. I Cor. 2:1-5.

Golden Text—I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. Philippians 4:13.

Our text today is a hard one for the easy street Christian (if you know any) to believe. It is much the same as the passage of Scripture that tells us if we have faith we can move mountains, but when we come along that way we excuse ourselves and leave the job for someone else. Shoving the job onto others seems to have become a pastime for many church members these days. Sometimes we are made to wonder if modern men and women are made of the same stuff as Paul and some of the other Saints of old, so different are their reactions to the call of Christ and His Church; they will not work the easy field next door or at home so we cannot send the call for them to labor in the harder fields. Many of our Christians today think it too hard to get up on Sunday morning and go to church, and if they get that far they cannot endure sitting on the hard benches after having suffered one hour or less in the school session. It is not surprising then that the Christian religion is referred to often as a religion for "sissies" and soft people. Too many professed believers are afraid of the hard places in life, and merely use religion as a side step from their own ills. In reality the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ calls for all the red blooded strength and courage of the finest of manhood and womanhood; that is what a real Christian is, the finest, strongest, most courageous and cleanest manhood and womanhood to be found. No faint-heart or "softie" can have a part in our text. It is a glorious battle we fight, but God can only use the strong, the brave and the true in this great army of the Cross.

The newspapers are telling us that this new church is the largest religious body (except Catholic) in the United States. This can mean much or it can mean little. I know of one time God was forced to reduce his army drastically to fight a very important battle. Today too many have been wanting to fall behind and not press onward toward that high calling. Paul was in the front ranks. From the city of Philosophers we find him going on to the city of sin. To be called a "Corinthian" was to be called anything ungodly, drunken, or free-thinker. It was this impossible city Paul came with the word of the Spirit. One of the hardest trials a Christian minister has ever faced, he faced there; he was forced to leave them in their sins. To read about it we cannot see how hard that task must have been for Paul . . . after all these were men he knew . . . his people . . . from henceforth I will go . . . but he didn't go far, just next door where God added a spark to the dying flame in his heart, by giving a very important convert.

As Paul came and went he would learn some of the plans to destroy him. By the look, or the whispered word he knew there was danger for him in that place. Paul was a believer and he believed God, though he must struggle with the heartbreak of an overwhelming task he stayed at his post. God never tries His creatures beyond their endurance . . . He wants them to fight but He is ever by their side. The hour of man's extremity is God's opportunity. So at this hour Paul received from God a vision . . . of safety and fellowship, and almost immediately a fresh burst of persecution broke against him. Had God made false assurance? no, not at all. . . . Let us learn this lesson here. God promised care but He did not promise that trouble would not come. We too have the assurance of God's protecting care but we do not expect to escape the sorrows and trials of life, but we do know that He will be with us and keep us in the midst of them.

Paul in looking back writes the wonderful secret of his success in the work at Corinth. It was not in eloquence, self confidence or his wisdom highly as we esteem these qualifications but he preached "Jesus Christ and Him crucified."

If we would look at our world today we mould name it "Corinth." In looking back over the years of our service can we say with Paul that we have been determined that our church, our Sunday school, and our lives shall not make known "anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified"?

And looking at the "hard places" we have endured for Christ and the gospel, how glorious. There is no joy in doing the easy job, but "to do the will of Him" always brings joy. Not only does it take us to the wedding feast, but out into this worldly wilderness and on the rocky mountain side looking for lost sheep, in the garden of long and agonizing prayer for some lost soul, to the judgment seat by some evil wagging tongue spreading falsehood but looking back . . . what glory! What joy!

◆

The Uniting Conference In Action

(Continued from Page Three)

was sung by the Boston University singers when something like fifty bishops, active and retired, marched down to the rostrum. This service was witnessed by at least ten thousand people. Drs. G. R. Brown of North Carolina, and E. A. Sexsmith of Maryland assisted in the ordination, representing the Methodist Protestant Church.

Already the question is asked, When can we complete the work and return to our homes? That the question is born in the desire to return is not to be denied, but the feeling comes out of the desire of the delegates to get back home and begin the task of uniting the three churches.

One is made to marvel as he realizes what Kansas City has done and is doing to make this conference a reality. No want of the delegates has been overlooked by the host committee. The North Carolina delegation is comfortably situated at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, just across the street from the Auditorium.

R. M. ANDREWS.

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

NANCY HANKS

By Stephen Vincent Benet

No character who has lived in America, and it may almost be said, in the whole world, has so attracted the pens of historians, biographers, and poets, as has Abraham Lincoln. There is no need to review here the fascinating romance of his ancestry and life—it is well-known to all. The story of the marriage of Thomas Lincoln, somewhat shiftless, roving father of the boy, to Nancy Hanks, who died when Abraham Lincoln was only nine years old, is history known to every schoolboy and girl.

Stephen Vincent Benet was early interested in the history and lengendry of America as it was preserved in native balladry. So it was not strange that he should be inspired to put into poetry the dramatic years of the struggle between the North and the South, and when, in 1928, he wrote his American epic poem, John Brown's Body, the book that won for him the Pulitzer Prize and made him famous, he made wise use of the form as well as the material of the ballad.

Then in 1933 Benet collaborated with his wife, Rosemary Carr Benet, to produce A Book of Americans, containing pen portraits of noteworthy Americans ranging from native Indians of early colonial days to a portrayal of Woodrow Wilson of our own times. This volume was dedicated to the poets' own children and written in simple rimed stanzas to appeal particularly to them, but, as is so often true of literature written with children in mind as readers, many of the poems are more universal in their appeal to adults than to children themselves.

Of course Abraham Lincoln was included; no gallery of American portraits could be complete without him. But this is not Lincoln the man whom we know from history. Indeed it is not Lincoln at all, but his mother, Nancy Hanks, who, if she came back a ghost from beyond the grace would first of all seek news of her little son Abe. His loneliness with only his father, "Who's a rolling stone," the poverty of his boyhood in the prairie frontier home where hunger and cold frequently assailed him, and his sorrow for his dead mother still cling to her ghostly memory:

"I remember still
How hard he cried."

The whole poem becomes more poignant because we know the answers to her questions; we know the glory that the years have brought, and our hearts ache because his mother could not have stayed to know it too.

But in the last stanza, each line of which is a question, the whole of the man that he become—his physical stature, his never-failing sense of humor, his progress from small town to the capital of the nation, and even the fame and renown that he won—all are made more vivid by the interrogations than would have been true had the poet specified his actual achievements in rimed lines. The final question, "Did he get on?" grips us by its very naivete and its simple native idiom.

The entire poem follows:

"If Nancy Hanks
Came back as a ghost,
Seeking news
Of what she loved most,
She'd ask first
'Where's my son?
What's happened to Abe?
What's he done?

'Poor little Abe,
Left all alone
Except for Tom,
Who's a rolling stone;
He was only nine
The year I died;
I remember still
How hard he cried.

'Scraping along
In a little shack,
With hardly a shirt
To cover his back,
And a prairie wind
To blow him down,
Or pinching times
If he went to town.

'You wouldn't know
About my son?
Did he grow tall?
Did he have fun?
Did he learn to read?
Did he get to town?
Do you know his name?
Did he get on?' "

THE TITHING BULLETIN

The Tithing Bulletin, as prepared by The Layman Company, offers every church the most effective of tithing education plus relief from half the expense and worries of the ordinary church bulletin. It combines simplicity, effectiveness and economy. The Bulletin consists of four pages. Pages 1 and 4 are for the use of the local church. Pages 2 and 3 carry any one of thirty-two of the famous Layman tithing messages. This affords a quiet but effective course in Stewardship education.

Sample set of 32 different tithing bulletins will be sent to any address for 20 cents.

Please mention the Methodist Protestant Herald, also give your denomination.

The Layman Company,
730 Rush Street,
Chicago, Ill.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL, Editor
222 N. Edgeworth St.
Greensboro, N. C.

MINNIS FUND

Amount previously reported	$1,420.16
Fairview and Liberty Hill churches	15.00
Salem church	10.00
Mrs. J. W. Hulin, Love Joy church	3.00
Miscellaneous, Mr. Bates	1.00
State Street, Lexington	5.00
Special collection, Branch Meeting, High Point	48.45
Total Minnis Salary for Aux. year	$1,502.61

MRS. C. L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch, Women's Work.

◆

REPORT OF TREASURER, N. C. BRANCH WOMEN'S WORK

For Year Ending March 31, 1939

RECEIPTS:

Balance April 1, 1938	$ 70.10
Received from Mrs. Speas, Sec. of Literature	144.40
Collection at Branch Meeting, Burlington, for Rev. and Mrs. Horace Williams but turned over to the Branch Treasurer	27.91
Difference in collections and expenses of Rev. and Mrs. Horace Williams from Weston, W. Va., to North Carolina and return to Columbus, Ohio	29.09
Mrs. S. W. Taylor, Treas., final dividend from Security Nat'l Bank	2.40
Interest on Perpetual Memberships	42.00
Funds received for:
College	926.48
World Service	3,240.93
North Carolina Budget	2,750.80
Minnis Fund	1,499.38
Thank-offering	2,001.52
Total Receipts	$10,735.04

DISBURSEMENTS:

Rev. Homer Casto, expenses to Branch meeting, Burlington	$ 10.00
Trollinger Florist, corsage for Mrs. Williams	1.50
Expenses of delegates to Tiffin, Ohio	54.65
M. P. Herald, space for one year	100.00
McCulloch & Swain, printing for year	12.00
Expenses of President for year	11.94
Expenses, Cor. Sec. for year	17.28
Board of Missions, for Missionary Records	6.39
Board of Missions, literature 4-1-38 to 12-28-38	94.00
600 Postal Cards for use of Treasurer	6.00
Mrs. Lamb, Sec. of Young People, expenses for first and second quarters	2.29
Mrs. Brown, mailing calendars	1.25
Dalton Florist, flowers for Auman funeral	5.15
Expenses of Rev. and Mrs. Stewart, speakers at Annual Conference, Women's Night	14.35
High Point College, mimeographing and postage	.85
125 stamped envelopes for use of Finance Com.	4.06
High Point College	926.48
Mrs. Kennett, Student Loan Fund	412.61
Rev. Homer Casto, Bethel Home	550.08
Dr. A. G. Dixon, Children's Home	1,375.50
H. C. Staley, Treas. World Service:
Undesignated	2,847.66
Thank-Offering	2,001.52
Minnis	1,502.61
Life Memberships	175.00
Memorial Memberships	150.00
Perpetual Memberships	30.00
Scholarships to India	35.00
Work in China	24.00
Medical Work in India	5.38
Native preacher in India (Supported by Mr. Lon McPherson)	60.00
Total Disbursements		10,437.55
Bank Balance		$ 297.49

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. COY L. KEARNS, Treas.,
N. C. Branch, Women's Work.

◆

PLEASE NOTE — YOUNG PEOPLE'S SECRETARIES

A letter from Miss Bettie S. Brittingham informs us that printing of materials for our work this year is being purposely held up until after the Uniting Conference. She states that if they decide to print new posters for the Young People's work, they will be ready for the convention June 7.

Realizing that we must not lose these three months before the convention results and findings will be handed down to us, I believe it will be quite all right for us to use the goals on the young people's poster last year. Should new posters be printed, I do not believe there will be much, if any, variatoin in the goals for these groups.

Therefore, I am suggesting that we do use the goals of last year in beginning our work with the children and young people's groups this year. As to materials, of course we must wait and see what the convention recommends but in the meantime, I feel sure there is plenty of the material which the groups did not use last year that can be used most beneficially these months.

For the children's groups, if you do not already have it, you should secure the book, "Missionary Stories to Tell," which can be ordered from the Board of Missions, 516 N. Charles St., Baltimore, Md., for 50 cents. It does contain such splendid missionary stories for children of primary and junior age.

A splendid suggestion for Precious Jewels comes from Mrs. S. W. Taylor of Asheboro. They give little banks secured from our publishing house in Baltimore to the Precious Jewels at the beginning of the year, and ask for a penny a week, and where the child is old enough, let him put the penny into the bank and explain what it is for. At the end of the year they have a party for the Precious Jewels and their mothers, at which time the banks are opened. Doesn't that sound interesting?

Should you desire a copy of this poster giving the goals, please write me. I shall be glad to give whatever other help and information I can also. You will hear from me as soon as I can secure the suggestions for materials in this department.

I trust that you may have a splendid year in this phase of our church work, and if I can be of assistance to you in any way, please feel free to write me.

MRS. EUGENE A. LAMB, Secretary,
Young People's Department.
Route 4, Greensboro, N. C.

◆

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Tenth Annual Meeting of the N. C. Branch of Women's Work

By MRS. R. M. ANDREWS

(Continued from Last Week)

Robert Louis Stevenson in his poem, "Celestial Surgeon" prays that if he has lacked spiritual appreciation, the Lord would stab his spirit broad awake.

> "Or Lord, if too obdurate I,
> Choose thou, before that spirit die,
> A piercing pain, a killing sin,
> And to my dead heart run them in."

We have been so imbued with the thought that God can do anything, and all things are possible to Him, that we are almost shocked by the suggestion that we, little and powerless as we think we are, can actually limit His work in and through us by our attitude of mind and heart, as we say to ourselves concerning some man or woman we don't know, "I don't like that person." When in reality the only reason we don't like him or her is because we don't know them and don't want to love them. We can of our own choice let God's power flow through us, or we can by our very selfishness, bar the door to it. Just as your city water supply is there for you to turn the faucet and get water, even so God's power is everlasting, but it can only use us as channels when we in submission to His will remember to love our neighbors.

The founding of the Forsyth Dental Clinic for the city of Boston is a very real illustration of loving your neighbor as you love yourself. The story of the establishment of this free clinic, as I heard Dr. Harvey Wiley tell it, was that one of the Forsyth brothers, a wealthy man, was disturbed one night by hearing a child, with, to him, no language but a cry, moaning and crying as if in pain. Early the next morning he made inquiry, and found that the child had been suffering with toothache. He resolved then and there that he would make it possible for the children of Boston to have a free Dental clinic. Although Dr. Forsyth died before he could put his resolution into effect, and left no will, his brothers knew of this resolution, for the carrying out of which some plans has been made; and they established the clinic as a memorial to their brother. Since that night of the crying child, thousands of children have been saved from toothache, because one man loved his neighbor as himself, and remembered the Master's "Feed my lambs."

Last week, Miss Olive I. Hodges, who has been our missionary to Japan for thirty-seven years, made a brief visit to friends in North Carolina. It was my privilege to hear her speak at Thomasville Community Church. She told of walking down the street, with a fur coat on, one cold morning soon after she first went to Japan. She saw a little boy standing just inside a gateway, and was amazed to hear him call loudly "Mother, come quick, here comes a foreigner," and as she came nearer to him, he called again, "Mother, hurry, it's got hair all over it." Miss Hodges said that was the first time she had thought of herself as a foreigner. Then pretty soon one day she heard a lot of children in the school building seeming to be having a lot of fun, laughing and talking together, and she said to Miss Williams, "Who is that?" Miss Williams said, " Oh they are the girls." Miss Hodges said "What girls?" "Why they're our school girls" Miss Williams said, and then for the first time Miss Hodges said she realized that Japanese children laughing sounded exactly like American children laughing. And then the thought came to her that people everywhere are all alike if they only understood each other.

Through the money that some Americans invested in the cause of missions a good many years, a young student went to a mission in Japan. That student became a christian and allowed God to use him. Today, as he has grown to manhood, Toyohiko Kagawa has become one of the mightiest forces for Christianity in the Orient, if not in the world. Wouldn't it thrill you to know that money you had sent to Japan, or China or India, would mean as much for Christ in the next half century as has that invested in the mission through which Kagawa found Jesus?

We have heard a great deal about setting our church in order. Have we considered that selfishness and lack of loving kindness among us as individuals has caused God to blow upon us so that the heaven's have held back their dew and the earth is stayed from her fruit so far as the church is concerned, even as in the days of Haggai because every household was intent upon its own affairs instead of God's house. We have tried to make ourselves believe we have been interested in paying a missionary's salary so that he could do our share of teaching the people of India about God's love, but we had to be reminded, not just three times, as Jesus spoke to Peter about loving Him, but many times. If we had multiplied the salary of our missionary many times and paid it all and he had been able to employ many native helpers, we would have made little enough progress. We have not seemed to realize that one-fifth of the world's people are Indians, and that the population of India increases much more rapidly than Christianity increases. The Directory of Missions for India reports 600,000 villages without a single resident Christian. Nowhere in the world are conditions so favorable for whole multitudes to accept Christ, as in India, if consecrated leaders can be provided. And yet we favored-of-God-North Carolinians have found it difficult to pay the salary of one consecrated leader.

I recently heard a missionary who had spent forty years in India say that the Mass Movement to Christianity is a wonderful thing, but that she was almost afraid to think about what the Christians of the world are going to do to meet their share of the responsibility. Responsibility, you know is our response to God's ability.

Our responsibility for Japan, China and India should be thought of in terms of millions of people who have never heard of Jesus. These are our neighbors and He said "Love thy neighbor as thyself" second only to loving God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength.

There is something radically wrong with a church of one hundred thousand people, that gives $20,000 a year to a home for 115 children in America, and only $32,000 a year to the spread of the gospel in Japan, China and India where we are directly responsible for the salvation of millions of souls. Please don't get the idea that I think we give the Children's Home too much, we give it far too little, but when we compare our gifts here to those of our mission field we can see that with the earth as a big neighborhood our giving is not strictly scriptural; we are not loving our neighbor as ourselves.

Jesus said "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself." He did not come to make life easy. He came to make men and women instruments of power, to change pigmies into giants. His will with Paul was not simply to stop Paul from persecuting the church, but to help him to become a great missionary and an unceasing upbuilder of Christianity.

When God needed someone to deliver Israel from Egyptian bondage, he called Moses from the simple task of tending flocks. Moses had been faithful in his care of the flocks or God would never have called him to this enormous task. It isn't strange tha Moses was slow to undertake the task. Who was he, untrained in public speech, that he should dare venture into the presence of Pharaoh and plead for the release of the people of Israel. He knew that he was utterly inadequate to deal with the situation. What would you have done if you had been called from tending flocks to what seemed an impossible task? Moses tried to get out of it, but he became convinced that God would be his helper and so he undertook it. With each new step he faced new problems, but he didn't quit, he kept right on and was able to overcome each obstacle as he came to it. It looked one time as if he got into a terribly tight place, with the sea in front of him, and the Egyptians ready to fall upon him in the rear, but Moses never thought of failure, he knew that God was with him, and advanced into the very seas. Those seas opened and made a path for him only as he ventured in. The man who had been timid had become the man of skill and force through the power of God.

As we enter upon a union with new forces and great responsibilities, requiring keen understanding and cooperation, we would do well to pray often the prayer of Moses "Lord if thy presence go not with us, carry us not up hence."

I wonder if the reason we have failed in reaching our goal of an auxiliary in every church isn't simply that we have not used the power that God has put within our reach. If the women in all our churches had only ventured, in their timidity, we might have reached our objective. This is proved in more than one instance where women's work has been organized in recent years. Jesus asked this question three times, "Simon, lovest thou me?" Oh how we need to think and think and re-think this question. To think earnestly of our love for Him brings us inevitably to the consideration of others, their needs and their comfort. Such a consideration takes a woman out of her little self and gives her a wider horizon. It makes her wish to be an informed woman, so that she may have the wisdom necessary for helping others. "He that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?" asks the Psalmist. We have not all availed ourselves of the knowledge and methods, or the fields of our effort. These would have enriched our abilities. Without them how could we carry on the work acceptably? Our Board of Missions pays the salary of an Editor of the Missionary Record, but what does that avail us, if we do not consider that we need it enough to pay 75 cents a year for eleven issues of it? We ask someone to edit a column in our own Methodist Protestant Herald, but comparatively few read it.

To any mother it would bring many tears and pains of real heartache to have a child born blind and without the full use of all its limbs. And yet we have leaders in our church who are helping to bring into being organizations with vision so short that they cannot see beyond themselves, and with arms that are incapable of being stretched out and extended in deeds of loving kindness to their neighbors.

Women's auxiliaries were established eleven years ago by the General Conference, to embrace all the work of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, The Women's Home Misionary Society and the Ladies' Aid Society, and although few auxiliaries have reached the state of perfection, a properly functioning one has eyes to see the needs of the world, and a strong right arm that reaches out and helps its neighbor even to the uttermost parts of the earth as well as strength to take care of home needs.

"I choose the vale, the teeming grass, the pool, the calm," said Lot—
"And I the rock, the toil," said Abraham—
" 'Tis waste of life," said Lot, " 'tis sin the precipice to scale:"
"Why nay," said Abraham, "they also win, who nobly fail."

O, that we may all soon come to see things in the right proportion, and realize that things, such as furniture, carpets, refrigerators and stoves endure for only a limited time, while effort expended in service for the Kingdom, for the salvation of the world grows into ever-widening circles on into eternity, "and of His Kingdom there shall be NO end."

In Paul's letter to the Colossians he tells them to set their affections on things above, not on things of this earth.

Measured by earthly standards Jesus was a failure, his earthly life ended in crucifixion. But the tomb could not hold him, no life has ever been truly such a success as his. He dared to live the noble life; He went about doing good.

Mary of Bethany could pour her box of costly ointment on the feet of Jesus, those feet no longer walk the earth, except as they carry the needy of all lands. What will you do with your box of ointment?

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

BEING CHRISTIAN IN MY LIFE WORK

Topic for May 7, 1939

By REV. RAYMOND W. WHITE

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, May 1—Loyalty to Jehovah rewarded. Gen 41:34-44.

Tuesday, May 2—Faithful in service. Eph. 6:5-8.

Wednesday, May 3—A good rule to follow. Matt. 7:12.

Thursday, May 4—Three Christian tentmakers. Acts 18:1-4.

Friday, May 5—Greatness is service. Matt. 20.25-28.

Sunday, May 6—Soul above material gain. Mark 8:34-38.

(Vocations Day.)

The Text: Deut. 10:12-14; I Tim. 6:6-12.

To the Leader

In these days of economic uncertainty, a discussion of "My Life Work" is very appropriate. Survey the many lines of occupation for men and women, with special attention to those that pertain to religion and the program of the church. Describe the ways in which the Christian Gospel challenges young men and women to apply its principles to every and any worthy vocation. Show that vocations which are essential and uplifting to humanity may be made Christian, rather than a few should be Christian and the rest secular or unchristian. Point out that a vocation must make a life as well as afford the opportunity for making a living.

Questions for the Open Forum

1.—What are some of the vocations to which one may dedicate himself in full-time religious work?

2.—What do we mean by "a call" to Christian service?

3.—What preparations should one make for full-time Christian service?

4.—In what sense is every man created fit for a particular place in life?

5.—How do you account for so many "misfits" in the world?

6.—How may one know the place he is created to fill?

7.—To what extent does every church-member owe part-time service to the Church?

8.—Is part-time service merely for the sake of getting things done or for the purpose of spiritually growing the one who serves? Explain.

9.—Do you think that every man has an urge to do certain things in life? Explain.

10.—How can doctors, lawyers, teachers, nurses, farmers, mechanics, merchants, engineers, public officials, domestic, clerks, and followers of other callings do their work in such a way as to glorify God and serve humanity?

11.—What must be one's attitude toward a job if he is going to do the best work?

12.—How can one one really enjoy everything he has to-do?

Topic Hints

God's Plan: God has a plan by which He made the universe and He has a plan by which the universe revolves. He has a plan for man, for his earthly journey and his eternal destination. If man would follow God's plan, man's highest happiness would be achieved on earth and his eternal happiness would be assured throughout eternity. God made the world to accommodate men who are living in His image. He has planned a place for every man and He has planned every man for a place. Most of our difficulties are with ourselves. We fail to find our places. It has been commonly believed that only ministers were called by God and commissioned to do a particular piece of work. So, they say, the minister is where God put him. The time has come when it should be commonly believed that every man seeking any vocation in life should feel the call of God and be willing to go where God has planned for him to go and do what God has planned for him to do.

Early Call: Early in life one should endeavor to hear the call of God and prepare himself for his life's work. God's work in his preparation is just as important as God's voice in the invitation. A man-made man will not fit into a God-made plan. There are many square pegs in round holes praying for God to stop the leaks. Any one can see that such misfits for such purposes are contrary to the geometrical laws of God. The only remedy is to make the pegs round and the right size to fit the holes snugly. Youth is the shaping period in life. Early discipline is difficult but it is necessary if one hopes to succeed in finding and filling a vocation in the building of a new world. It has been said that a baby is pure because it has recently come from heaven. Let us hear the the call before we have drifted too far away from childhood and prepare to answer that call before we have gone too far into adulthood.

Step by Step: It has been said that life work is just the expression of one's life purpose. It follows that the best occupation for one is that in which he can best carry out his life purpose. The first step in finding out one's occupation is to "pray without ceasing." The second step is to put ourselves in the way of God's answer to our prayer. So "we must know something of the various occupations, their characteristics, and the qualities they require in those who follow them. Then we must discover just where we fit into the scheme of things. Finally, we must discover where the need is the greatest if we would carry out the purpose of our lives." We must find both the right vocation and the right location. The last step is to act when all the necessary information is at hand.

Underlying Principles: Three principles were under the Master's choice in His life work. They have been the underlying principles of the choices made by all great men. The first principle is this: The choice of a life work should follow the purpose of God. The consciousness of God is the first great fundamental. The second principle is this: The choice of a life work should meet the need of mankind. A consciousness of the need of man is the second great fundamental. The third principle is this: The choice of a life work should conserve the value of self. Occupations should permit self-development and give opportunity for increasing the number of talents.

Investigation: Selecting a vocation requires careful investigation. The question one must answer is this: For what occupations do my qualifications and training fit me? This involves an investigation of one's qualifications. In making this investigation the following questions may be asked. What qualifications does it demand? How do these campare with my abilities, my training, and my interests? Of what importance is the occupation? Does it meet a real need of man? Can I, throught it, help to meet the great need of mankind? What opportunities does the vocation offer? Does it offer opportunity for self development? Where is the place of greatest need for the occupation? If I make this my choice, where can I be of most service?

The All-important: The church is the power-house of God and prayer is our communicating system. As every young person should make a place in his budget for church-finance so every young person should plan a place in his life-program for church attendance and church work. Whatever the vocation might be, its interests and demands should never be permitted to crowd the church out of a person's life. This editor has made many intimate contacts in his active ministry. Many professional men have excused themselves from church and her activities with the argument that their profession keeps them too busy. But we have been acquainted with other men of the same profession and with a greater degree of success and they have been regular in church attendance and active in church-work. Many reasons given by men smack like excuses in the sight of God. Active church membership is a primary obligation, no matter what calling a person chooses to follow. So it is: The busiest man needs God and his church most.

MRS. J. CICERO STOCKARD'S BIRTHDAY

An article about her birthday appeared in this paper the week preceding the 14th of April, on which date Mrs. Stockard had a birthday.

A daughter of Mrs. Stockard down in Alamance county writes us that her mother was certainly showered with birthday greetings; she also received a large number of useful, appropriate gifts. Her pastor, Rev. J. R. Anderson, and about 50 other people called to see her during her birthday week.

The family want to express their appreciation for every remembrance shown Mrs. Stockard. This note of thanks is two weeks late, says the daughter.

We learn that Mrs. Stockard has been in bed nearly eight months as a result of a stroke; she has other serious complications, but now shows a little improvement for the first time in the past two months.

She enjoys company. We ask that any friends within reach of Mrs. Stockard visit her occasionally. Also she likes to receive mail. She may be addressed: Mrs. J. Cicero Stockard, Graham, N. C., R. F. D. 1. Any cheer sent her will certainly brighten her life now.

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

T. J. WHITEHEAD, President
Henderson, N. C.

PLAN NOW FOR YOUR VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL!

Schools are beginning to close and children are asking "are we going to have a Vacation Church school this summer?" Don't disappoint them!

The purpose of the Vacation Church school, as someone has put it, is to provide more time for those very things which the church school is seeking at every session to accomplish for every child: a growing consciousness of God in the world about him, and intimate personal realization of God in his own life, and the habit of working with others for the advancement of his Kingdom; an increasing loyalty and devotion to the personality and teachings of Jesus, and the desire to have a part in carrying to the whole world the good news of the love of God and in bringing about Christian relationships among all people.

The Vacation Church school has proved that it has a place in the church program. No other agency in use at the present time has the advantages of the long daily sessions and the consecutive work which the Vacation school offers. These two factors make possible the organization of the school and the planning of the work in such a way as to secure the best possible results in the development of character.

What an opportunity our churches are missing! Let us plan to give our children more advantage and opportunity for Christian training and make of them better leaders for the new church.

And remember early planning is the surest guarantee of a successful school!

Below is a list of material, any of which the Conference Council of the North Carolina Conference will be glad to lend to your Vacation Church school this summer:

Beginner

Our Happy World—Esther Freivogel
Let's Go Out of Doors—Jennie Lou Milton

Primary

Learning About Our Church—Ellen E. Fraser
Exploring God's Out-of-Doors — Rebecca Rice
Bible Homes and Homes Today—Elizabeth Leggett Reed

Junior

Friends at Work—Elsie Ball
Living in Our Community—Florence Martin
Learning About War and Peace—Imogene McPherson

Intermediate

Discovering God in the Beautiful—Nathana L. Clyde
We All Need Each Other—Mary Jenness
Our Living Church—Lucille Desjardins

MRS. EUGENE A. LAMB, Director
Vacation Church School Department

BABSON WARNS LIQUOR TRAFFIC MUST BE "CRUSHED" TO SAVE DEMOCRACY

In a statement made by Roger W. Babson, economist, in Boston, Massachusetts Tuesday evening, April 25, at a dinner celebrating the seventieth anniversary of the formation of the National Prohibition party, he arraigned the "commercialized liquor traffic" as menacing "our entire political structure" and as threatening the destruction of "our freedom as termites destroy a well-built house."

In his discussion of what he regards as an outstandingly serious situation facing the American people today, Mr. Babson said, reports the American Business Men's Research Foundation:

"But only since the repeal of prohibition, however, have I realized the terrific dangers of the commercialized liquor traffic.

After most careful study, I am convinced that only by crushing the liquor traffic can democracy be saved.

The American people are now fast approaching the time when the liquor interests will be running the United States government. If our constitution is thrown over for fascism, it will be due primarily to the liquor traffic which has never known when to stop in its nefarious and underground campaigns. The great danger of such a development cannot be over-emphasized. Even today, the liquor interests claim that they elected President Roosevelt and that it is up to him to protect them.

As a statistician, I am especially disturbed by the arguments which the liquor interests use in connection with taxation. They claim that because liquor is contributing about $500,600,000 a year to Federal and State treasuries, they are entitled to special consideration. Let me tell you, however, that they are telling you only one half of the story. The other half is that liquor, on which they pay this tax, has so wrecked the character of thousands that our Federal and State governments are now required to pay out more than $500,000,000 a year for relief! This relief expense the country never had before the repeal of prohibition.

Newspapers and magazines might temporarily suffer until legitimate advertising should increase sufficiently to make up the slack. If, however, we have learned something from the mistakes made under prohibition, we will not allow these newspapers and magazines to suffer. We will see that the government carries on an education paid-advertising campaign to develop the character, health and efficiency of the American people. This will more than offset any losses due to suppressed liquor advertising. England and other countries are already meeting the problem in this way.

Notwithstanding the above, the liquer gang will claim that to take the profits out of liquor would hurt real estate values. Statistics show that this is an outright falsehood spread about to fool the voters of the United States. The liquor traffic has done real estate far more harm than good. This can be proven in almost every community.

Statistics show that the liquor traffic is also a great contributing cause to unemployment. But look about your own community. You will find that for every five homes fully employed, no liquor will be purchased by four of these homes. On the other hand, for every five homes on relief, you will find that liquor is being purchased by four of these homes. I am not a fanatic on liquor. Things cannot continue to go wrong as they are now going wtihout a spiritual, social and financial collapse."

The anniversary dinner in Boston is one of seventy being held in every section of the country. It was held in the First Methodist Church of Boston, and, besides Mr. Babson, the speakers included Dr. Leigh Colvin, Ph.D., of New York City, and Edward E. Blake of Chicago, National Chairman.—American Business Men's Research Foundation.

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Hickory Grove S .S., Guilford	$ 6.51
Caroleen S. S.	3.98
Hope S. S., Siler City	1.00
Oak Grove S. S., Cleveland	3.15
Friendship S. S., Fallston, March-April	9.60
Dulins S. S., Mocksville, March-April	1.25
Seagrove S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy	5.00
China Grove S. S.	3.51
Clark's Chapel S. S., Weaverville	1.40
Moriah S. S.	4.50
Union Chapel, Granville	12.32
Canaan S. S., N. Davidson	3.50
Mt. Zion S. S., Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	3.50
Union Ridge S. S., Forsyth	5.00
Belmont S. S., Mt. Hermon	10.26
New Salem S. S., Randleman	3.90
Bess Chapel S. S.	2.53
Love Joy S. S., Seagrove-Love Joy, double	4.00
Rockingham S. S.	2.00
Mt. Pleasant S. S., N. Davidson	1.78
Ladies Aid society, Elwood, Ind., feeding child	5.00
Union Chapel S. S., Mocksville	2.32
N. C. Branch, by the Treasurer	7.15
Ethel Hempstead Circle, St. Paul's, L. I., feeding child	5.00
Harmony S. S., Yarboroughs	2.00
Woman's Auxiliary, Hollister, Halifax, for shoes	2.00

A Pleasant Visit

Sunday morning, April 29, we had a very pleasant visit with our church people in Asheboro. Dr. S. W. Taylor, the pastor, being away attending the Uniting Conference. We went down to conduct the morning worship service in his stead. The people were very kind. We had a good service together, and came back home refreshed from the short time away from home.

We thank all of you for your care of us here in this home. The children appreciate your kindness and so do we.

Remember June 22nd, and plan to come to see us that day. Thank you and God bless you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

◆

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Hamilton of Troy, N. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janie Gatha Hamilton, to Rev. Otho Jennings of Marthaville, Louisiana. The wedding will take place in the near future.

"WESTWARD HO!" BUT NOT FOR GOLD

To describe a trip across the United States, the way we came, or any other way, I guess, would be a task that belongs to the professionals in the literary world. But I shall undertake to give some impressions by the way.

We left Houston, Texas, on time and then began the varied sights that one sees on this trail westward. The levees on the Mississippi River were interesting to one who had never seen them. Between New Orleans and Houston we travelled for many miles along the river. For thirty miles we could look upon the Father of Waters. These levees looked so big to us we stopped and climbed them to gaze upon the river.

We travelled for three days in Texas. In fact Texas is so big that some one said that these who live in El Paso called the folks from Texarkana Yankees. Well, they are farther from each other than the Yankees are from us when we are at home.

After leaving San Antonio we turned our faces toward the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. Here a great company of people had assembled to be guided through this wonderful place. The writer did not take the trip through but the rest of the company did. Pictures to be taken from the outside engaged my attention as I want to give my folks something of the trip through the movie projector, and then having been through three of the world renowned caverns, I considered it a loss of time as well as the unnecessary expenditure of money. Our company were delighted with the trip underground. Some twenty-five states were represented in their company.

The desert country through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California took up a lot of our time. But the way it varied from low plains to high mountain peaks kept one interested most of the time. It is an interesting sight to be down on the plain where citrus fruits grow and look up and see the snow capped mountains.

We spent our first Sunday out in El Paso, Texas. After a refreshing night's rest we went over into Mexico for a walk Jaurez, (pronounced Waurez) is the border town just over the Rio Grande, and we saw many interesting sights there. We went to church in El Paso, M. E. South, and heard Dr. Wm. E. Brown, Presiding Elder of the El Paso district preach a very fine sermon on "The Dormant Hour." It was good to stop over and rest and worship as we did there. Monday morning found us on our way to the Grand Canyons and here we see something of the hand of the Great Artist. Any one who could look at that and not see the power of God displayed would be dumb indeed. One could but stand and gaze. We spent several hours there, and came away wishing we had days to spend. Here is a poem that gives a better idea of this wonder piece of creation than anything I have at present:

The Grand Canyon

No brush can paint, nor pencil trace,
The charm and beauty of this place;
Wonders that in this Canyon dwell,
No tongue of man can ever tell.

Assembled in this chasm deep,
Where lengthened shadows ever creep;
Are mountains, hills, majestic, grand,
Carved out by the Almighty's Hand.

Ten thousand landscapes merged in one,
Reflect the glories of the sun;
And colors in their brilliancy,
Surpass the glow of sunset sea.

Spellbound! one views the depths below,
Where tides of grandeur ebb and flow;
In reverence and in silent awe,
One worships God as ne'er before.

The author of this poem must have spent days looking on, for there is so much that cannot be taken in by one who has only a few hours to spend.

From here we began to think of Hollywood, our destination, though there were many things to attract attention along the way before reaching here. We saw the Coolidge Dam and then the Boulder Dam. Whether the difference in the size of these two great government enterprises represents something of the difference of the two men in their character and intellect, I am not able to say. But while the Coolidge is smaller and does not impress you as the other, the fact that it supplies the dry thirsty land in the valley below, shows that while power is necessary, which the Roosevelt (Teddy) Dam supplies, that which sustains life seems to be of greater importance. Each of these must be seen to be appreciated.

It is a great thing to have men in the lead who can look above the selfishness of the money-getter and bring into being through the great powers that are going to waste, that which will give comfort, and life sustaining blessings to those in need. Each one of these lakes is giving to others that which is necessary.

We arrived in Hollywood at the home of our eldest son, or child, ahead of scheduled time. We are enjoying the freedom that is to be found here for the time as we needed to stop from the grind of travel. We have driven nearly thirty-three hundred miles, in order to take in the sights that were either on the road or near enough to invite us to go out of the way. Our son who has recently been transferred to Stockton, California, will spend Saturday night and Sunday with us, thus giving us in part a family reunion.

We hope to give you some impressions of Hollywood in our next letter. There is so much to see that it is hard to give anything like a connected story of the trip that will be interesting. Perhaps I should have waited until reaching home, but as Brother Andrews has to be away attending the Uniting Conference, he has invited me to write on any topic that I thought might be interesting. I am giving you therefore what is interesting me most for the moment.

We expect to visit the World's Fair in San Francisco, possibly next week, and being rested I may be able to give you a more interesting account of the remainder of the trip.

N. G. BETHEA.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

Mary Fields

The subject of this sketch passed away at her home, near Julian, on Saturday evening, April 1, being 69 years of age. Surviving are a son, Luther Fields, and a half brother, W. D. Fields. She possessed two characteristics worthy of emulation. One was that it was her custom to go to church every Sunday. Since the writer has been serving Randolph charge she attended every preaching service at Shiloh except one—then she was at the point of death. The other was her close attention as the pastor tried to deliver the gospel message.

Final rites were conducted at Randolph Methodist church on Monday, April 3, by the writer and Rev. J. E. B. Hauser. Burial was in the church cemetery.

H. L. ISLEY.

GREENSBORO METHODIST YOUTH BANQUET

The various committees met Monday evening at Calvary Methodist Protestant Church on Asheboro Street, to make their reports concerning the arrangements for the Methodist Young People's Banquet which will be held at the Masonic Temple May 5th, beginning at 7:00 p. m. Jimmy Strunks presided over the executive meeting.

Rev. J. W. Braxton, pastor of Mount Pleasant Methodist Protestant Church, will deliver the principle address of the evening. Bowman Stafford of Guilford College will be toastmaster for the occasion. Eddie Robbins of this city, will direct the group singing, and will also render two solos.

Program committee is namely, Mack Kernodle, Miss Nellie Routh, Robert Fleming, Mrs. Carl Willard, Miss Margaret Grantham, Mrs. Douglas Fuqua, Taylor G. Owens, Wayne Kernodle, Floyd Reynolds, Jimmy Strunks and Rev. Kenneth Goodson.

T. G. Owens, chairman ticket sales committee. Miss Verla Mae Leonard, chairman decoration committee and Miss Louise Bowman, chairman of favors committee.

The banquet is being planned in the celebration of the uniting of the Methodist Episcopal churches and the Methodist Protestant. A general conference of the two denominations is being held in Kansas City for the purpose of making the new laws and other plans for the denomination. This unification will be one of the largest denominations in the world.

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Lineberry Auxiliary, Davidson Charge.—Mrs. J. C. Taylor was hostess to the Lineberry auxiliary April 8 at 2 p.m. There were ten members present. Mrs. W. H. Neese was in charge of the program, using the installation service. Those taking part were Mesdames J. P. Elliott, Claud Elliott, Garvin Elliott, W. C. Wood, Van B. Wood, B. K. Taylor, J. C. Taylor, Glenn Doby, Alice Loflin, W. A. Frank, B. E. Lanier, W. H. Neese, and Miss Bruce Smith. At the conclusion of the program the president, Miss Bruce Smith, presided.

During the social hour a "tax party" was enjoyed. Each person was taxed according to the jewelry, silk, and out-of-date clothing worn. Mrs. Glenn Doby of High Point paid the highest tax.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Verona Elliott, and Miss Blanch Lanier, served delicious refreshments.

The following attended the Branch meeting in High Point from Davidson charge: Mesdames Garvin Elliott, J. C. Taylor, C. L. Surratt, A. C. Harris, and Miss Bruce Smith and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Neese.

Recently two new members have been added to this charge: Mrs. Mary J. Taylor joined Allegheny church, coming by letter from Archdale M. E. church, South; and Mr. Arlie Surratt joined Pleasant Grove church on profession of faith. We gladly welcome these good people into our fellowship.

The parsonage family are indebted to the following men from Pleasant Grove church for sawing up the preacher's wood pile: Rob, Paul and Evans Loflin and Theodore Smith. Others remembering us recently are Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. Van Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Frank, Misses Nelia and Della Taylor, Mrs. J. V. Cook, Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. Lee Ward, Mrs. Penn Russel, Mrs. Van B. Wood, Mrs. J. C. Smith and Mrs. W. C. Wood.

On Easter Sunday night at 7:30 the children and young people of Allegheny church presented an interesting program. Mrs. L. A. Fine was in charge of the program, with Miss Genora Loflin at the piano.

MRS. W. H. NEESE.

* * *

Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge, Rev. J. E. Garlington, Pastor.—On the second Sunday night in April an Easter program was given in the church auditorium. This service was fairly well attended.

During the Lenten season each church member was asked to contribute three cents a day toward the Easter offering. The outcome was $31.25. This, combined with the pledges and other special offerings, will put our World Service assessment of $102 over with a good margin. We feel that our pastor and our Sunday school superintendent, Mr. J. W. Medlin, with the cooperation of other people, deserve much credit for raising this assessment.

At our last prayer service we had with us Mr. Allsbrook, of Roanoke Rapids, who gave us a splendid talk.

Our C. E. membership and attendance contest ended on Friday night before Easter. We celebrated with an Easter egg hunt on the following Monday. A new contest was begun at our last meeting, with Miss Brownie Coker and Miss Aubrey Crew as leaders. This contest will continue until the end of the quarter. Our membership has slightly increased.

We were glad to have several of our younger people from other places, in the community and at our church services during the holidays: Mrs. Wiley Connell (nee Erlene Barnes) and baby, of Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. L. H. Merriman (nee Georgie Mae Shaw) of Hopewell; Cullen Barnes of Richmond, and Guy Crew of Norfolk.

Mrs. Virginia Magee and Mrs. Rose Crew are able to attend church services again after several months of absence on account of sickness.

Mrs. L. C. Daughtry still continues ill, although she has returned from the hospital.

REPORTER.

* * *

Littleton Charge, Vaughan Church, Rev. D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Our pastor filled his regular fourth Sunday afternoon appointment at 3:30 o'clock with good attendance.

Wo are glad to say that we have a Sunday school organized at our church. It started last Sunday with an enrollment of 30 and had an increase of ten new members this Sunday.

We have organized a Worker's Council meeting also. We meet once a month with real good attendance. The next meeting will be Tuesday night, May 16 at 7:30. We will be glad for everyone who can to come and join with us.

There was a memorial service held in honor of Rev. D. A. Fishel at the Littleton cemetery after the preaching service.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Duncan announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Rebecca to Rev. Joseph Wilbur Riggan on April 8, in Boydton, Va. They are making their home near Vaughan. They were honored with a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. W. C. Porter's Friday night, April 21. Members of both Baptist and Methodist church presented lots of nice and useful gifts.

DAISY PORTER, Ass't. Reporter.

* * *

Union Chapel, Granville, Rev. J. P. Pegg, Pastor.—Even though we haven't reported for quite a long while that doesn't mean we haven't been doing anything, for the work of the church and Sunday school is progressing all the time.

Rev. Mr. Pegg has filled all of his regular appointments with splendid attendance and fine messages. While Mr. R. M. Edawrds has improved Sunday school attendance and interest greatly.

On Thursday of this week the members gathered and cleaned off the cemetery and church grounds which added to their beauty and attractiveness.

The parsonage aid will meet at the parsonage on Friday afternoon after the first Sunday in May. A good crowd is expected.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary met on Thursday night of this week with Mrs. B. B. Wright and Mrs. Edwin Wells as an assistant hostess.

We are looking forward to a good memorial service on the fourth Sunday in May. All interested visitors, former pastors and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend this service.

MRS. E. C. HUFF, Reporter.

* * *

Pinnacle- Mt. Zion Charge, Mt. Zion Church, J. D. Morris, Pastor.—We are treading along toward our church each Sunday, trying for the upbuilding of God's kingdom. Thanking Him for these beautiful spring days He is sending us.

Our Sunday school celebrated Easter by having a program at our church Sunday night, April 16. It was carried our well.

Our attendance for Sunday school Sunday was 84, collection $3.57. At the eleven o'clock hour our pastor delivered a very interesting sermon taking his texts from Mark 16:3-4 and John 1:13. It was announced that we would observe our annual home-coming day on May 21. The program committee was as follows: Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. W. B. Lane, Mr. F. G. Fowler, Mr. M. H. Needham, and Mr. O. W. Barber. Other announcements were: that the Missionary society would meet at the home of Mrs. W. E. Jones on Tuesday night. Young People's Day will be observed here Sunday, May 14, after Sunday school. We are preparing the program now.

Our pastor has called in his sermon with us next Sunday night, because he is called to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Shoals school next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Among our many vistors Sunday for the preaching services were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stone, of Winston-Salem; Miss Clatie Tussy, of Lexington; Miss Sarah Flinchum ef Danbury, and Mrs. Ira Denny of Pinnacle.

We are very proud of our new song books which arrived last week.

Mrs. A. L. Hunter who has been on the sick list for sometime is improving greatly, friends and relatives will be glad to know.

We are asking you to come and join us in our worship at anytime you can. We welcome you.

REPORTER.

* * *

Rockingham Charge, Rev. R. L. Vickery, Pastor.—Our revival meeting, which began March 26 and lasted two weeks, was a great success. Rev. C. G. Isley of Albemarle church did the preaching. Mr. Isley delivered some wonderful messages. As a result of the meeting there were 36 conversions and 40 new members added to the church. Everyone present at these services received a great blessing. We continue to thank our Heavenly Father for answering our prayers.

We were glad to welcome as special visitors our former pastors and their wives: Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Bell, of Concord, and Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Trolinger of Seagrove. Another visitor from Seagrove was Mr. Tasker Williams.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely both spiritually and financially. Our superintendent, Mr. Ivans Dunn, is a man of God. His Christian influence has been a blessing to many.

The Wednesday night prayer meeting and the C. E. society are doing fine. Our prayer meeting service is one of the most wonderful services of the church. It makes our hearts rejoice to see the young converts telling of God's goodness to them. The C. E.

society is very inspiring to the young and old alike. The society enjoyed a picnic several weeks ago. Mr. Arthur Hale is president of the society.

We want all the churches to continue to pray for us that we may ever do our Master's will. MRS. EUGENE BULLARD,
Reporter.

◆

Hollister, Halifax Charge, W. M. Howard, Jr., Pastor, May 1.—Our pastor filled the regular appointment here on the fourth Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, to a large and appreciative congregation. He delivered a splendid message, basing his remarks on a part of the 24th chapter of St. Luke. Mr. Howard has been attending the Uniting Conference in Kansas City last week and this week. We are glad he had the opportunity to attend the conference.

We were indeed glad to have Dr. J. E. Pritchard, president of the annual conference, to make his official visit to this charge on Easter Sunday. We enjoyed his message, and we are always glad to have him, as he is one of our former pastors.

The baccalaureate sermon of the Hollister school was delivered by Rev. J. N. Evans, Jr., pastor of the Enfield Baptist church, on Sunday afternoon, April 30. Just prior to the sermon, the anthem, "Bless the Lord," by McPhail, was sung by the choir, accompanied at the piano by Miss Sue House.

The regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the home of the writer on Tuesday afternoon, May 16. Mrs. J. J. Williams will conduct the devotional service.

KATHLEEN SHEARIN, Reporter.

◆

Central Church, Asheboro, Dr. S. W. Taylor, Pastor.—Dr. Taylor, Mrs. W. C. Hammer, W. F. Redding, Jr., of Central church; Dr. Howard P. Powell, pastor of the Asheboro M. E. church, South, and Mrs. N. M. Cranford left Sunday for Kansas City to attend the conference in which three branches of Methodism will be united.

In the absence of Dr. Taylor, Rev. A. G. Dixon and Rev. J. H. Trolinger will supply at Central church.

Mother's Day will be observed by the Sunday school on May 14.

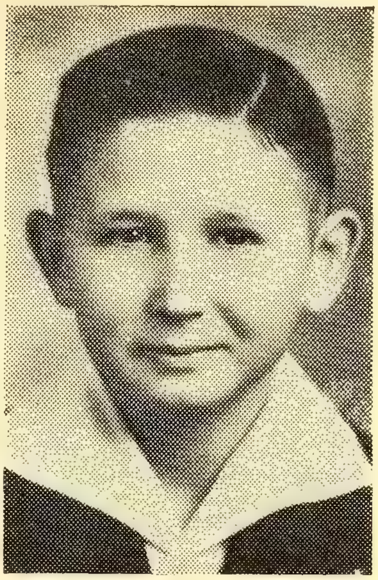
The church trustees are securing plans and estimates of cost for a building project at Central church.

Four new members of the Precious Jewels are: Eric Forrest Deaton, young son of the Forrest Deatons; Neal Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henley; Sara Louise, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lowdermilk; and Mary Clyde, daughter of the Clyde Chisholms.

Miss Maud Potter, of Bethel Home, is expected to arrive this week for a visit with Mis Esther Ross.

Mrs. John R. Brown and Mrs. A. B. Cox entertained the Woman's Bible class of Central church Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Brown on Worth street. Mrs. S. W. Presnell is teacher of this class which numbers 35.

James Lowdermilk, church treasurer, received a silver cup for entering the best collection of woodwork in the Rotary club Hobby show during the past week. Joe Ross, Jr., was first winner of collections (shaving mugs). Other entries receiving mention were the bottles and buttons of Miss Esther Ross. Dr. Taylor had an assortment of canes which he had carved.



Pictured above is C. B. Way, Jr., 12-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Way, of Kernersville, who represented the Kernersville Junior High School is the State Music Contest at Greensboro, April 21, 1939. He won second place in the honor rating as a soloist in class B-C of the boys' unchanged voice contest. There were twelve contestants in the group of boy soloists.

Sam Taylor, Jr., baritone, was the representative of Asheboro high school at the state music contest in Greensboro during the past week.

Carmen Parks, scoutmaster at Central church and members of the troop, attended the Annual County Camporee at Coleridge over the week-end.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Councilman and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Councilman, prominent in the local church, are congratulating them on the opening of their modern retail furniture establishment.

Mrs. E. G. Lowdermilk has recovered from a tonsilectomy; Mrs. S. L. Hayworth remains ill in City Memorial hospital, Winston-Salem; Miss Enolia Presnell is il alt the home of Mrs. J. S. Lewis.

The tulip garden of the Lacy Lewises on Sunset avenue is one place of beauty in Asheboro. There are about 15 varieties of tulips in colors ranging from black and white to almost purple-red. These are mostly the Darwin tulips, and a specialty of Mr. Lewis.

CLETA RICH.

◆

Shelby Church, Shelby-Caroleen Charge, Rev. H. D. Garmon, Pastor.—There has not been a report from our church for sometime, however we have been carrying on in the Master's name. Our pastor has filled his regular appointments from time to time bringing messages to fill the spiritual needs of our church. We are glad to report an increase in attendance both in Sunday school and church services.

Our second quarterly coneference was held last Sunday afternoon at Caroleen, N. C. with good reports from most of the churches. Plans were made for our spring revival services. Our pastor is beginning a 15-day meeting at the Bessemer City church and request the prayers of all the Christians, that God will bless mightily in the services with the saving of souls and upbuilding of the Kingdom of God.

There has been much sickness among our members, and we are glad to report the improvement in Mrs. J. T. Ramsey's health since she has returned home from the hospital. Mrs. Lionel Crawford has been in the hospital undergoing an operation, but is now at home and getting along just fine. Miss Verda Ramsey was in the hospital for a few days but is now able to be back at her work. Our incere prayers go up for Mr. Arthur Knoblett, our Sunday school treasurer, whose wife passed on to be with the Lord just a few days ago. May the comforting hand of God rest upon his home.

The various organizations of the church are carrying on the work just splendidly and we are looking forward to this being the best year we've ever had at Shelby.

MRS. J. T. RAMSEY, Reporter.

◆

Randolph Charge, H. L. Isley, Pastor.—Church work is moving on in a very satisfactory way. The attendance and interest are encouraging at all four churches. Recently the pastor of Randolph charge preached to the Boy Scouts of Worthville at Bethany church. It was a very impressive scene as the young boys marched into the church dressed in their uniforms. A number of our Bethany boys belong to this organization.

We are pleased to report that this charge is doing splendidly in a financial way. Shiloh and Gray's Chapel have paid the World Service budget in full. Bethany and Bethel will, we believe, pay this soon.

Our second quarterly conference elected Brothers Rezzie Underwood and John Julian as nominees for delegate to the next annual conference. These are both fine Christian gentlemen.

The people have our thanks for the many expressions of gratitude for the service we are trying to render.

H. L. ISLEY.

◆

Mt. Pleasant Church, Mt. Pleasant Charge, Rev. J. W. Braxton, Pastor.—Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Braxton announce the birth of a son on Sunday, April 23.

Since my last report Rev. G. F. Milloway has passed away and been laid to rest at Mt. Pleasant. We loved this good man and his family, and felt like they were our best friends. Mt. Pleasant church and community have lost a person that we always looked forward to seeing at special services when his health permittted. Our sympathy goes to his loved ones who feel their loss most keenly.

The Business Girls circle met at the home of Miss Florine Shoffner with Miss Callene Phillips as joint hostess on Saturday night, April 22.

The topic for discussion was "What Prayer Means to Me as an Individual." Very impressive talks were made by Trixsie Suits, Mary Roberson, Edith Causey and Virgie Amick. After the business session ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

The Woman's Auxiliary held its regular meeting after the Sunday school hour, April 23. The new president, Mrs. Carl Clapp, presided. Mrs. Grace Stafford had charge of the devotionals after which a report from Branch Meeting was made by Mrs. J. E. Stafford and Mrs. Carl Curtis. New secretaries and committees for the new year were appointed.

We wish to remember our sick and hope for them a speedy recovery. Miss Johnsie Smith, Mr. Judge Euliss, Mrs. Florence Sheppard, Mrs. Luke Holt and Mrs. J. T. Shoffner.

Mrs. Underwood, the mother of Mrs. R. C. Causey, is soon to have the cast removed from her limb. We hope she will soon be able to walk.

I had the pleasure of attending an auxiliary meeting of Rock Creek church at the home of Mrs. Royzelle Hornaday. They have the new guide books and are planning their programs around the theme of "Praying Hands." MRS. CARL CURTIS.

◆

Concord, Saxapahaw Charge, Rev. M. C. Henderson, Pastor.—Although there has not been a report for some time from this reporter, that does not mean that this church has been standing still, for we have not. Many things have taken place.

On the first Sunday in April at the 11 o'clock hour, Dr. Pritchard, president of the annual conference, was with us and brought to us a very helpful message which we appreciated very much. After the morning service Dr. Pritchard dedicated the Sunday school room, payment for which had been completed. Plans are under way now to paint and fix up the grounds around these rooms.

We are proud of the Women's Auxiliary. They finished their year and sent in good financial reports; paid their budget up in full and $3.00 more than they had pledged to the Minnis fund. Also have paid $25 on World Service budget for the year.

An Easter program was given at the church Easter Sunday at the 11 o'clock hour by the children.

Each Sunday the Methodist Protestant Herald is being distributed among the members who do not take the Herald. We are hoping this will bring our quota up in full.

Our attendance in Sunday school is off right much now, due to an epidemic of measles among the children. Almost every family in the community has some cases. There has been right much sickness in the community besides measles. We are hoping that these people will soon be better.

Rev. Murray Johnson of Guilford College delivered the commencement sermon at the Eli Whitney High School Sunday afternoon. The Community choir did the singing for the service.

Rev. Mr. Henderson has met all of his regular appointments with us and has been getting along very successfully with the people here. REPORTER.

◆

Welch Memorial Church, Dr. J. D. Williams, Pastor.—Beginning Sunday, March 26, our church held its regular revival meeting, and our pastor had as his helper Rev. O. L. Easter, pastor of Lebanon church in High Point. Rev. Mr. Easter brought us some exceptionally stirring messages, and the good attendance throughout the meeting was ample proof that our people really enjoyed his services. He usually began his program with a short message to the children—one that they could easily understand—and these messages were always featured by an object lesson. It seems that the adult members of the church appreciated these lessons quite as much as the children.

A good deal of interest has been created recently in our Christian Endeavor society. The first and second vice-presidents of the society have divided the society members betwen them, and are endeavoring to ascertain which side can present the most interesting programs for a period of three months. The contest has stimulated much interest among the young people, and as a result we have had the privilege of welcoming into our society several new members recently. The society is planning several outings for the coming summer season, and this also has put new life and zest into our Christian Endeavor meetings.

For the past two Sundays our church has had the rare privilege of having visiting ministers bring us a message during our Sunday morning worship. On April 16, Rev. J. R. Hutton preached to us, and we can sincerely say that we enjoyed his sermon to the utmost. On April 23, Dr. J. E. Pritchard, our conference president, was our visitor, and the message he brought us was excellent. Our church members were very happy to welcome these visitors, and we are anxious for them to be with us as often as possible.

MILDRED SOUTHERN, Reporter.

◆

Concord, Rev. E. O. Peeler, Pastor, May 1.—Our revival meeting closed last Wednesday night. We were so happy to have Rev. Mr. T. G. Madison for our pulpit help, and we are sure that everyone that heard each message got a great blessing. Maybe some may feel there were not such great results, but sometimes we don't see great things happen; but, as Mr. Madison said, if only one soul is saved during a meeting it is worth all the prayers and the work, and we know there were some souls saved and some reconsecrated. One night our hearts were made so happy when one of our young men that we had all been interested in and been praying for so much, came to church and gave his heart to Jesus. We were so happy to have Mr. C. G. Green join our church family; also Mr. Dudley Burley. We are so glad to see Mr. and Mrs. William Newton taking such an interest in the church. William is the young man that gave his heart to Jesus. We all enjoyed the meeting and we know that our church has been blessed by the meeting. Mr. Madion made many friends here and we hope he comes to us again some time.

Sunday morning we were very happy to have the A Capella Choir of High Point College with us. It really was a great treat and we would have been glad to listen to them all day.

Our auxiliary circles have been furnishing flowers for the church in honor of some member for several Sundays. One Sunday Circle No. 1 gave them in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Blackwelder, and the next Sunday Circle No. 2 honored Mrs. W. H. Scarboro. We have not heard the report from our delegate to the Branch meeting yet, but we know it will be good.

Our Ladies' Aid is planning a flower show and supper for the 12th of May.

We miss some of our number who are sick. These are Mrs. Lillie Beaver, Mrs. Grace Haines, and Mrs. George Holland. We hope they will soon be able to be back.

BERTHA EARNHARDT, Reporter.

◆

Calvary Church, R. C. Stubbins, Pastor.—There have been a number of activities in Calvary church since the last report. The first I will mention is the Easter cantata, splendidly presented by our choir, and an Easter program by the children of the Sunday school on Easter Sunday night.

Two of our members who have had accidents are out again. Ernest Curtis, Jr., student at State College, who had a broken leg and severe cuts and bruises in an automobile accident some time ago, and Mr. E. P. Sharpe who lost two fingers in a planing mill.

The Auxiliary is beginning the work of a new year with enthusiasm. It was decided to have meetings quarterly instead of monthly, and to have one of the circles as hostess and program leader each time. The Business Women's Circle had charge of the April meeting, which was largely attended. At this time reports of the Branch meeting were given.

The April meeting of the Friendly Sunday school class was visiting day, with a covered dish dinner with the president, Mrs. C. F.

VAPOR STORAGE
For
Furs and Fur Trimmed Garments

The new process that kills all moth life before the fur is stored.

Recommended by U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and used by the Field Museum of Chicago to protect its priceless treasures.

Our vaults are on our own premises.

All garments fully protected against fire—theft and moths.

3% of valuation—fur coats minimum $3.00—fur trimmed coats $2.00.

Charlotte Laundry, Inc.
Charlotte, N. C.

PEABODY
CONSERVATORY
Otto Ortmann, Director
Baltimore

The leading endowed Musical Conservatory of the Country

SUMMER SESSION
June 26 to August 5

Credits may be offered toward both the Peabody Teacher's Certificate and the B. Mus. Degree.

By special arrangement with the Johns Hopkins University, credits in certain branches may be offered toward its B.S. Degree.

All major branches of music study. Tuition $20 to $35. Practice pianos and organs available. Circulars mailed on request.

Frederick R. Huber, Manager

Garrett. Many visits were made to the class members who could not be present, to the sick, and to prospective members.

Last Sunday the Anna Starr Sunday school class honored the oldest member, Mrs. J. E. Herndon, who had a birthday, by presenting her with a beautiful birthday cake.

At the morning church service the following boys and girls united with the church: Bobby Jean Shaw, Naida and Leone Lyons, Ted Petree, Jack Nugent, Frank Current, J. D. Boyd, Jr., Clyde and Jimmie Barham. These children had been meeting with the pastor for some time and studying the meaning of church membership, and it was very impressive to see with what intelligence they took the church vows.

April is tithing month in Calvary church, and a nice amount is usually realized, which is applied on the church debt.

Wednesday night, May 3, a membership dinner in celebration of the 15th anniversary of the church will be held in the church hut. At this time the charter members will receive some recognition. Sunday morning, May 7, the anniversary memorial service will be held in connection with the morning service.

REPORTER.

◆

College St., Littleton Charge, D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Our pastor brought us a much appreciated sermon the third Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The beautiful weather helped us to enjoy the service greatly. We were also grateful for the presence of a large number of Methodist Episcopalians at our service. We appreciate their interest in us and welcome them whole-heartedly.

Our first Sunday night services have been good, Mr. Broome is taking up a series of Bible characters every first Sunday night. We all want to come back again and again to learn more of these wonderful characters.

On Easter Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock we had a program, consisting of recitations, songs and a duet, "Christ Arose." We were also favored with an offertory solo, "Above the Hills of Time," sung by Mrs. Bobbie Newsom. At the close of the program we had the pleasure of having Rev. Mr. Philpps from the local M. E. church speak to us. We all enjoyed his Easter message.

The third Sunday morning pictures were taken of the church, the Sunday school and some of the church members. We had hoped that everyone would be present for this but lots of them were unable to be there.

The last meeting of the Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Sallie Williams, our president. Mrs. Bud Perry had charge of the program, after which the election of officers took place. The officers were as follows: Mrs. Sallie Williams, President; Miss Annie Perkinson, vice-president; Mrs. Bud Perry, secretary; Mrs. Frank King, treasurer; Mrs. Gurda Morris, auditor; Mrs. W. L. Perkinson, secretary of Spiritual Life; Mesdames Morris and Perry, program committee, and Mrs. Sallie Williams, pastor's aid.

On April the 4, a group from our auxiliary and Weaver's Chapel attended the District Auxiliary meeting at Union Chapel on the Halifax charge. Those going from our Auxiliary were Mesdames King, Williams, Perry, Morris, and Mr. Broom and Miss Anne Perkinson.

The day was enjoyed by all there and we appreciated the hospitality of the Auxiliary and friends. I congratulate the Union Chapel Auxiliary on how splendidly everything was carried out for the benefit and comfort of those present.

We are indeed glad to have Mr. Tasker Williams back with us again from a long visit with Mr. and Mrs. Trolinger of Seagrove and friends of High Point.

The second quarterly conference was held on Saturday evening at 2:30 at the College Street church. The attendance was small but we are going to look forward to having more next time. We want the prayers of all those who are interested in us.

ANNIE PERKINSON, Reporter.

◆

Shiloh C. E. Society, Shiloh Church, Rev. C. E. Ridge, Pastor.—The C. E. society of Shiloh church holds its regular meeting every Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A very interesting program was given Sunday evening, April 23, with Miss Emma Berrier as leader. Officers of the church were special speakers on the subject, "What Should a Church Member Do?" They were as follows: H. A. Leonard, Sunday school superintendent; J. L. Evans, church treasurer; R. B. Sink, steward; Coley Scott, choir leader; Mabel Berrier, pianist; Mrs. Kyle Sink, church reporter; Homer Sink, usher; and Mrs. Floyd Leatheman, president of the Woman's Missionary society. After the discussion of the lesson, Mrs. Ray Leatherman and Miss Beatrice Sink sang "Take My Life and Let It Be."

Another interesting program was given on Sunday evening, April 30, with Miss Mabel Berrier serving as leader. A special quiz program had been arranged, but the leader thought it unfair to the special singers to go through with it, so decided to give it next Sunday night.

The meeting was opened with a song by all, scripture and prayer by the president. Miss Merril Ragan sang a solo, "No Longer Lonely," then the meeting was in charge of Miss Berrier. After Bible verses were quoted and questions about the Bible were discussed, the congregation sang "Revive Us Again." Miss Berrier made remarks about the "Eternal Life Insurance Company," followed with a song, "I've Changed My Mind," by the Ragan family quartet. Miss Berrier then made remarks on "The Ladder of Success." This interested me so much I've decided to pass it on to others:

THE LADDER OF SUCCESS

100 per cent—I did
90 per cent—I will 80 per cent—I can
70 per cent—I think I can
60 per cent—I might
50 per cent—I think I might
40 per cent—I wish I could
30 per cent—I wish I could
20 per cent—I don't know how
10 per cent—I can't
0 per cent—I won't

The Ragan quartet sang, "He Knows" and "Did You Ever Go Sailing?" The Berrier quartet sang, "In My Dream Boat"; a duet by Mrs. Paul Leonard and Beatrice Sink; the congregation sang "There Is a Fountain," and the meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mr. Protos Koontz.

The society has planned to take at least a few hours one Sunday evening out of each month to visit and hold service with the aged, the sick, or any who desire to have them come. By doing this we hope to scatter a little sunshine, lighten the load, and renew the courage of those we love and care for.

MRS. WILLIE KEPLEY, Reporter.

◆

The University of Alabama has a tree whose ancestry can be traced back 175,000,000 years.

DO FALSE TEETH
Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Church and Sunday School Furniture
Write for Catalog
SOUTHERN DESK CO., HICKORY, N. C.

Church Furniture
Work of the Highest Quality
At Reasonable Prices
Write for Catalogue
BUDDE & WEIS MFG. CO.
JACKSON, TENNESSEE

LET US TRAIN YOU FOR BUSINESS

A field affording clean, dignified employment. Opportunities are never greater than preparation.

Keep cool and go to school in glorious mountains this summer. Boarding facilities reasonable. Summer term June 5th. Send for beautiful catalogue.

Cecil's Business Colleges
Asheville, N. C. - Spartanburg, S. C.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE

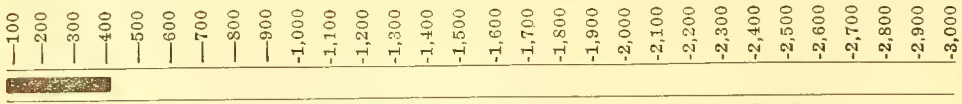
Quarterlies and Papers
Following the
Int. Uniform Lesson Topics

A free sample pack with catalogue sent on request to any Sunday School Official.

Address

Union Gospel Press
Box 6059 Cleveland, Ohio

HERALD CAMPAIGN FOR 3,000 SUBSCRIBERS



This line indicates the number of yearly subscriptions received since Conference.

Your Co-operation Is Needed to Increase the Length of This Black Line

Whitakers 93%

◆

Charge	Quota	Rec'd	Sbsdy.
Alamance	56	13¾	....
Alamance	56	14¾	....
Anderson	32	3½	....
Asheboro	47	6½	....
Asheville	13	8½	....
Bessemer City	13	....	....
Brown Summit	7	½	....
Burlington, First	80	7¼	....
Burlington, Ft. Pl.	13	½	....
CHARLOTTE	10	10	....
Chase City	10	2¾	....
Chatham	10	....	....
Cleveland	63	25	5.70
Concord	26	7	*7.50
Connelly Springs	19	1	....
Creswell	29	3	....
Danville	9	1½	....
Davidson	56	10½	....
Democrat	12	....	....
Denton	37	5	....
Draper	8	....	....
Enfield	16	3½	....
Fallston	90	6¾	....
Flat Rock	77	2	....
Friendship - Love's Grove	38	8¾	....
Forsyth	46	9	....
Gibsonville	24	2	....
Glen Raven	52	9¾
Graham	30	18½
Granville	58	3	....
Greensboro, Calvary	34	4¼	....
Greensboro, Grace	36	7	....
Greensboro, St. Paul	17	3½	....
Greensboro, West End	25	13½	*7.50
Greensville	55	5	....
Guilford	37	5¾
Halifax	42	7½	....
Haw River	48	7¾	....
Henderson	35	7¼	*10.00
High Point, First	75	16½	....
High Point, Lebanon	31	2	....
High Point, Rankin Mem.	14	2¾	....
High Point, Welch Mem.	22	1½	....
Kannapolis	21	5	....
Kernersville-So. Winston	32	9	....
Lexington, First	48	7¼	....
Lexington, State St.	28	5½	....
LIBERTY	13	16	*5.00
Lincolnton-Bess Chapel	49	3½	....
Littleton	46	5¾	....
Mebane	27	4	....
Mecklenburg	35	2	....
Midway	8	1	....
Mill Grove church	10	3	....
Mocksville	39	2½	....
Meriah	17	5¼	....
Mt. Ebal	4	....	....
Mt. Hermon	99	15	....
Mt. Pleasant	62	14	....
Mt. Zion	16	½	....
North Davidson	36	7	....
Orange	77	15	....
Pensacola	5	1½	....
Pinnacle-Mt. Zion	52	6	....
Pine Bluff Church	11	....	....
Pleasant Grove	17	6	*5.00
Porter	7	1¾	....
Randleman	45	5¼	....
Randolph	78	10¼	....
Reidsville	13	7	....
Richland	35	11	1.60
Roberta	29	7	....
Rockingham	21	1	....
Roseneath	3	....	....
Saxapahaw	58	6	....
Shiloh	65	11	*20.00
Seagrove-Love Joy	36	2½	....
Shady Grove	2	....	....
Shelby-Caroleen	18	2½	....
Siler City	22	11	2.50
Spencer-China Grove	7	2½	....
Spring Church	35	6	....
Tabernacle	40	11	2.10
Thomasville, Community	18	3	....
Thomasville, First	25	9½	*5.00
Union Grove Church	10	....	....
Vance	53	9½	....
Weaverville	20	3¼	....
West Forsyth	68	10½	....
Whitakers	8	7½	*2.50
Why Not	30	5¾	....
Winston-Salem, First	27	2¼	....
Yarborough	9	3½	1.25
Miscellaneous	—	5¾	....

◆

RECEIVED ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

B. K. Millaway, Winston-Salem	$2.00
By Pastor Trollinger.
Elmer Rich, Asheboro	1.00
Mrs. C. C. Burke, Graham	13.44
Malcolm Staley, Why Not	.50
W. E. Graves, Why Not	.50
Mrs. Homer Plummer, Why Not	.50
Mrs. Aster King, Why Not	.50
Mrs. Luna Auman, Why Not	.50
O. R. Cox, Why Not	.50
By W. E. Graves.
Mrs. H. C. Quakenbush, Saxapahaw	1.00
Mrs. C. C. Gilbreath, Guilford charge	1.00
By Mrs. S. E. Farlow.
Rev. Ben Lee Ray, Pensacola	.50
A. G. Wilson, Pensacola	.50
By Mrs. W. G. Blankenship.
Rev. T. H. Vickery, Yarborough charge	1.00
P. E. Bingham	1.00
Fairview, Glen Raven charge, club subs.	2.50
By Pastor Coble.

◆

CANAAN CHURCH, DENTON CHARGE, NOTICE

Because of the absence of the pastor who is attending the Uniting Conference, the date of the home-coming at Canaan has been changed from the second Sunday to the fourth Sunday in May. This is to give notice to the many friends of Canaan who are accustomed to attend on this annual gathering and whom we are hoping will be with us on the date given.

GEO. L. CURRY, Pastor.

Methodist Protestant Herald

Published weekly (except one week each in the months of Dec. and Aug.) as the official organ of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

R. M. ANDREWS, D.D.
Editor and Business Manager

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Rev. J. E. Carroll
Rev. F. W. Paschall, D.D.
Rev. T. G. Madison
Rev. E. L. Ballard
Mr. J. H. Allen
Rev. J. W. Braxton, Book Editor

PRICE—$2.00 a year, payable in advance. Subscribers are urged to renew their subscription promptly.

Superannuated ministers and the widows of Superannuated ministers of the N. C. Annual Conference are not charged for the paper.

In directing change of address, give the old as well as the new. In renewing, please give the same initials as before.

All remittances, business letters and communications for the HERALD should be addressed to M. P. HERALD, P. O. Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Your paper will be discontinued upon date of expiration unless the Business Manager is notified to continue it.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Greensboro, N. C.

MARRIED

Simpson-Simmons

A wedding of beauty and interest was that of Miss Sarah Frances Simpson, of Ware Shoals, S. C., to Hubert L. Simmons, of Jasper, Ga., which took place April 2 at 12:00 o'clock at Harmony M. P. church, with Rev. J. F. Farr, pastor of the bride, officiating. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The church was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, making a lovely setting for the wedding.

Miss Nancy Simpson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in an outfit of gray with navy accessories. The groom had as his best man Lucius Grant, cousin of the bride.

Prior to the ceremony Ralph Hughes sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied at the piano by Miss Edna Hughes. The bridal party entered to the strains of the Wedding March from "Lohengrin." "I Love You Truly" was played softly during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional.

For the wedding the bride was becomingly dressed in light blue with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Kate Simpson. She is a member of Harmony church and takes great interest in church activities. The groom is the son of Mrs. J. W. Simmons of Jasper, Ga. He is a member of the First Baptist church of Jasper.

At present the young couple are making their home at St. Simon's Island.

◆

Were I so tall to reach the pole,
  Or grasp the ocean with my span,
I must be measured by my soul:
  The mind's the standard of the man.
—Selected.

EYE COMFORT
Relieve irritation due to overuse, exposure to Dust, Glare
JOHN R. DICKEY'S OLD RELIABLE EYE WASH
refreshes and brings comfort. Used 65 years. Genuine in red box. 25c and 50c at drug stores. Ask for large size with dropper.
DICKEY DRUG COMPANY, BRISTOL, VA.

Methodist Protestant Herald.

ONE IS YOUR MASTER EVEN CHRIST AND ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MAY 11, 1939 NUMBER 26

Rev H L Isley 2aug9
R 1

A Prayer for the Festival of the Christian Home

(Mother's Day, May 14)

O God, who hast set Thy children in families, and art the Head of all the families of the earth, we Thy children come to worship Thee in reverent love. The joy and brightness of life are from Thee, and in the dark places Thou art not far from any one of us. The strength of fathers and the tenderness of mothers are in Thee. The ministries of fatherhood and motherhood are a part of Thy care for us, and Thy goodness is revealed in the lives of children. We rejoice in the fellowship which our homes offer, and in the growth and strength which we have in one another and in Thee.

Help us to look upon parenthood with reverence and upon childhood with awe. Help us so to teach and influence the children whom Thou givest and so to live together that Thy kingdom may be carried forward in our homes.

Help all parents who are worried or bowed down with heavy burdens to find strength in Thee. Give us repentance for the unconcern which allows mothers to suffer or to die in needless ways, and fathers to feel the stab of anguish because they cannot do for their own as love would prompt them. As we commend the mothers of the race to Thy protection we pray that we also may sustain them in their travail of body and of soul by all the resources of skilled and loving care.

Forgive us that we send mothers in grim necessity to anxious toil outside their homes while little children are deprived of care. Forgive us that we use wealth recklessly while families are hungry and in want. Save us from the folly of building institutions in such a way as to allow any families to be oppressed.

On this day of remembrance of motherhood and of fatherhood as we call Thee our Father, we pray that Thou wilt turn our feet into the ways of brotherhood so that the Christ who moved amid the homes of long ago may dwell in our homes through love.

Grant that mothers and fathers may see of the travail of their souls and be satisfied by love returned, by lives lifted to Thee, and by Thy sway extended in the world. And when evening comes may the light of the Eternal shine around them through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

—Federal Council Bulletin.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

More About The Uniting Conference

Last week it was my privilege to write about the Uniting Conference with especial reference to my impressions of the first few days. Now that another week has gone by I might add a few things to what I said last week. It is now Monday afternoon, May 8th, and the conference is scheduled to close Wednesday night, May 10th. If the Conference were to close without additional legislation I should still feel that this has been an especial period in the life of Methodism of the world. As I sense the feeling of those who are here I conclude that from this conference there will go forth a spirit and a power that Methodism in this country has not known before. The representatives of other denominations who have spoken here almost invariably refer to this meeting as being one of the most outstanding in modern times.

Additional Accomplishments

Last week I mentioned some things accomplished up to that time. Not having seen a copy of the HERALD since coming here it is somewhat difficult to remember just where I left off, however I will say that in accordance with the plan of union the delegates of our Southeastern Jurisdiction got together and considered various phrases of the question of Annual Conference boundaries and in North Carolina we decided to adopt the present boundaries of the two Annual Conferences of the M. E. Church South as the boundaries of the two conferences which we will have in North Carolina in the new Methodist church. This will mean that about two-thirds of our churches and pastors will be in the Western North Carolina Conference. and about one-third will be in the North Carolina conference. Our churches in South Carolina will be in the Upper South Carolina Conference and all of our churches in Virginia will be in the Virginia Annual Conference. While we shall regret the breaking of the lines which have bound us together yet we realize the advantages of having conferences conform to state lines insofar as possible. And while we shall regret to separate one-third of our conference from the other two-thirds yet this was the only thing we could do under the circumstances. While in a sense we are breaking ties yet new friendships will soon be formed.

District Superintendents

In the prospectus which was in our hands before we came here it was slated that the name District Elder had been agreed on as a compromise for the former names of Presiding Elder in the South and District Superintendent in the North. However, this compromise did not appeal even to the people of the South, so the name District Superintendent has been adopted. And less than an hour ago the Conference placed a limit of six years upon the term of office for this official.

More next week.

J. E. PRITCHARD.

OHIO WOMAN "AMERICAN MOTHER" FOR 1939

By J. ELWOOD CARROLL

Mrs. Elias Compton, Wooster, Ohio, who has three Phi Beta Kappa sons listed in "Who's Who In America" and a daughter who is a leader in missionary education, has been declared by the Golden Rule Foundation "The American Mother for 1939." She is the fifth woman to receive this honor.

Widow of a veteran Ohio educator who taught philosophy at Wooster College for 41 years, she was chosen "representative of the best there is in womanhood" and will go to New York City on Mother's Day to receive the award of the Golden Rule Foundation.

All her children—three sons and a daughter—are distinguished leaders today. Dr. Arthur Holly Compton is professor of physics in the University of Chicago and Nobel Prize winner in physics in 1927. He is also a religious power and speaks frequently at colleges and universities on religion, recently appearing at Duke University. Another son, Karl Taylor Compton, is president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. While the third son is an attorney in Washington, D. C., and general manager of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association. The only daughter, Mary, wife of Dr. C. Herbert Rice, principal of Christian College, Allahabad, India, is a Presbyterian missionary.

During the week preceding Mother's Day, Mrs. Compton will be the guest of the Foundation in New York City and represent the nation's mothers on Sunday, May 14, at ceremonies arranged in their honor. She is a worthy successor of those selected for this honor in previous years—Mrs. Fletcher M. Johnson, of New York and Georgia; Mrs. James Richard Smith, of California; Mrs. Carl R. Gray, of Nebraska; and Mrs. Grace Noll Crowell, of Texas.

THE MARKS OF A METHODIST

"A Methodist is one who has the love of God shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Ghost given unto him: one who loves the Lord his God with all his heart, and soul, and mind, and strength. He rejoices evermore, prays without ceasing, and in everything gives thanks. His heart is full of love to all mankind, and is purified from envy, malice, wrath, and every unkind affection. His one desire, and the one desire of his life, is not to do his will, but the will of Him that sent him. He keeps all God's commandments, from the least to the greatest.

"He follows, not the customs of the world, for vice does not lose its nature through its becoming fashionable. He fares not sumptuously every day. He cannot lay up treasures upon earth: nor can he adorn himself with gold and costly apparel. He cannot speak evil of his neighbor any more than he can tell a lie. He cannot utter unkind or evil words. No corrupt communication ever comes out of his mouth. He does good unto all men; unto neighbors, strangers, friends and enemies. These are the principles and practices of our sect. These are the marks of a true Methodist. By these alone do Methodists desire to be distinguished from other men."

—John Wesley.

METHODIST PROTESTANT HERALD

Official Organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church

Established 1894 By Rev. J. F. McCulloch, D.D.

Rev. R. M. Andrews, Editor and Business Manager
Box 2017, Greensboro, N. C.

Printed by McCulloch & Swain
Greensboro, N. C.

VOLUME XLV GREENSBORO, N. C., MAY 11, 1939 NUMBER 26

The Uniting Conference

It always takes time for a large gathering of people to get down to "business." The larger the group, the more time required. It has been an interesting study to observe the processes which have resolved this conference into an organized group doing the things it was formed to do. So after several days of preliminary skirmishes we are adopting reports and beginning to look towards a date for adjournment, and we predict that by the time this is off the press the gavel will have fallen upon this, the greatest gathering of church people in centuries.

The writer has been greatly pleased with the absence of friction and the presence of consideration for the views of others in both the committee meetings and on the conference floor. The sections from which the delegates come do not bulk so large in one way, but quite large in another way. The best interests of the church seem to dominate the motives of the men.

The reports of the larger committees are now revealing what our church shall be. The first General Conference of the Methodist church will meet next year. The District Superintendent is the name selected for that official who will have the supervision of the district. It now looks like there will be just two conferences. That is, the three former churches will agree upon the present boundary lines of the two Southern Methodist Conferences in our state, and further, that these can have until January, 1940, to class up the work of these conferences and write their conference activities into the conference of the Methodist church. The superannuate preachers in the former M. P. churches will fare better than they did before union. The church papers may have until the General Conference meets next April to reach decisions on what they shall do in the future and the Annual Conference organs like the Herald are left to determine what they will do—keep going or close out.

There is not written into the Discipline of the New Church any name of young people's organizations, it is "Youths Organizations." So it may be C. E., Epworth League, or be called by any other name. It does not look today like women will be ordained Elders in the New Church. The order was not recommended by the committee considering that suggestion. New York City is making a strong effort to capture the 1940 Conference. These are a few of the acts determined or being considered by the conference about which our people are more deeply interested.

Let us now report other features of this great gathering. The diversity of the daily program of the Conference reveals great skill in program building by the committee dealing with them. The testimony meeting at 7:30 a. m. is the initial service. This is held in a smaller room. 8:30 the devotion begins in the arena or auditorium. These consist of songs, responses, prayers and an address by one of the bishops. Business session puts its pressure upon us at 9:00 a. m. and from then until 12:30 that body of 900 delegates is considering some report or item, or the reconsideration of a report or listening to the presiding bishop straightening out a parliamentary tangle. Then at 2:30 we go to committee rooms and wrestle with the plans set forth in the Prospectus and memorial and often endure some "hot air" from the speaker. These committees have no set time for adjournment and some times go back to the arena for another meeting which will last until 10:00 p. m. All that looks to be strenuous and hard to endure but the delegates have been faithful in their duties, we believe.

The night programs have all been well planned. Among those of special interest are the pageant put on by the book concerns; by the mission boards; by the Young People's boards; by the committee which directed the singing of the "Messiah"; with "The Prisoner at the Bar," a temperance drama and there are yet to be others before we adjourn. Any one of these night programs, if handed journalistically would take as much space as this entire letter in the Herald.

On one thing, all the delegates with whom I have talked agree, there has been more agreement between the groups from the far north and far south than the most optimistic had expected. This is being written three days before the date set for adjournment, but we think will be true of the delegates when we do adjourn. All the North Carolina delegates of the former M. P. church are staying and working most faithfully on their respective committees.

Wednesday night, May the 10th, has been set for the time when the ceremony consummating the union of the three denomination shall take place. That night, of all nights, will sling in the memories of the delegates and most likely will record the largest attendance of the entire fifteen day conference.

R. M. Andrews.

◆

Prof. I. H. Thiessen, of the Alvan Drew School, Pine Ridge, Ky., has been elected superintendent to succeed Rev. G. W. Andrew, resigned.

◆

"It is in the measure in which the churches have faith in God as the Almighty Father and take seriously the Lordship of Jesus Christ over all life that they become truly relevant to the human situation. . . . For this faith, to employ an expression taken from the mystics, means that the universe has a 'grain.' It is so constructed that no system of human life or form of human action can permanently endure that violates the moral order which the 'Maker of heaven and earth' has written into the constitution of the world."

WITH THE POETS

Elizabeth Vera Idol

COME UP FROM THE FIELDS, FATHER

By WALT WHITMAN

Walt Whitman's own words, "Do I contradict myself? Very well, I contradict myself" were true, not only of his own personality, but of his position in the middle of the nineteenth century, when in the midst of the literary America of scholarliness, dignity, and adherence to tradition, he sent the "barbaric yawp" of his poetry sounding "over the roofs of the world." Little wonder that it took America forty years to learn that what he was writing was largely a reflection of the life that was seething in America and that Longfellow, Lowell, Whittier, and others were completely unable to comprehend from their libraries, editor's rooms, and the seclusion of a New England farm. Perhaps the youthful Walt Whitman may have exulted too lustily in the healthy exuberance of his body and physical living, but when the War was over his youth was gone, there was no middle age, and he emerged from it an old man, his body broken, and his health wrecked. No longer was his consuming interest the body of man; he had seen too much, and his chief concern from this time on was man's soul. He had not served in the ranks, but he gave himself with complete abandonment to the hospitals and the nursing camps behind the lines. It was from his intimate nearness to the wounded and dying that he was able to grasp the awful reality of war, and it was out of such experiences as these that he could write war poetry such as few other poets have been able to write. Stuart P. Sherman said of him: "There is more of the high pity and terror of war, more of the valor and tenderness that come straight from the magnanimous heart, in Walt Whitman's battle chants and dirges than in all our other war poetry put together."

In these days of terrible uncertainty when the world is held in the grip of an awful fear lest at any moment the one fatal incident in the mad lust for power and self-aggrandisement may be the spark that will set off the tragic conflagration and plunge humanity into the unmeasured maelstrom of another war, such a poem as Whitman's Come Up From the Fields, Father sounds with a new and terrible significance one of the chief tragedies that war brings—that of a death message to parents.

There is not here the grand style of the great masters of romantic tragedy, but in the simplicity and homeliness of the words and the quiet movement of the unrimed lines, there is the suggestion of the terrible quiet that reigns supreme in moments of deepest tragedy. The peace, the fruitfulness and fragrance of life that is foreshadowed for the family when they receive a letter from the son at the front. The terrible revelation made by the strange handwriting inside the letter justifies the prophetic dread in the mother's heart as she comes to the door—echo of the ever-present anxiety that dwells in her soul. She breathes the fragrance of ripening grapes and maturing buckwheat and forever after when that odor fills the air she will re-live the agony of this moment. Whitman writes of one of the saddest elements in grief—that Nature takes no notice of our sorrow; the day is just as glorious, the world is just as calm and vital and beautiful as if a human heart were not breaking.

The tragedy of the son's death is gradually revealed; the dramatic suspense heightens the terror; the grieving of the sisters even as they seek, helplessly, to be of comfort to the stricken mother, the final denouement of his death, are all akin to an old Greek tragedy.

A mother's broken heart is revealed by the incidents of the closing stanza. The stark tragedy of her pitiful attemps to carry on the unescapable necessities of living while her whole soul is alive only to her consuming yearning for her only son purges our own souls with something of that katharsis which Aristotle noted as the dominant quality of great tragedies.

The poem begins:

Come up from the fields, father, here's a letter from our Pete,
And come to the front door, mother, here's a letter from thy dear son.
Lo, 'tis autumn,
Lo, where the trees, deeper green, yellower, and redder,
Cool and sweeten Ohio's villages with leaves fluttering in the moderate wind,
Where apples ripe in the orchard hang and grapes on the trellis'd vines, (Smell you the smell of the grapes on the vines?
Smell you the buckwheat where the bees were lately buzzing?)
Above all, lo, the sky so calm, so transparent, after the rain, and with wondrous clouds,
Below, too, all calm, all vital and beautiful, and the farm prospers well.

Then the poem ends:

Grieve not so, dear mother, (the just-grown daughter speaks through her sobs,
The little sisters huddle around speechless and dismay'd).
See, dearest mother, the letter says Pete will soon be better.
Alas, poor boy, he will never be better (nor may-be needs to be better, that brave and simple soul),
While they stand at home at the door he is dead already,
The only son is dead.
But the mother needs to be better,
She with thin form presently drest in black,
By day her meals untouched, then at night fitfully sleeping, often waking,
In the midnight waking, weeping, longing with one deep longing,
O that she might withdraw unnoticed, silent from life escape and withdraw,
To follow, to seek, to be with her dear dead son."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. W. H. YOKELEY

PAUL EVANGELIZES A PROVINCE

International Sunday School Lesson for May 14

By REV. O. L. EASTER

Lesson Text — Acts 19:1, 8-10; 20:17-21; Ephesians 2:19-22.

Golden Text—"But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were far off are made nigh in the blood of Christ." Ephesians 2:13.

Nations today are in a terrifying upheaval of class struggle and threatening war. Deep within the hearts of all the common people of each nation there is an insistent demand for peace—a peace that will protect them from the pending disasters of another world war. With all this powerful sentiment against war there accompanies a greater weakness for a sentiment that will make for peace. As long as these several peoples are taught to hate each other as enemies and as long as they are separated by barriers of race and creeds there shall be wars and rumors of wars. We are all ready to admit that the need of the world today is a chief cornerstone sufficient to fitly form together all nations of men even with their differences of type, race, or color. The voice of the Christian church has been loudly proclaiming the news of such a cornerstone in Christ ever since the Apostle Paul proved it at Ephesus, but nations as nations have rejected this needed cornerston. In spite of the drastic need for that power which will enable those that are far off to be made nigh in brotherhood and understanding there is a definite turning aside from it by world leaders. Mussolini speaks thus in his March 26th speech and says:

"We wish to hear no more about brotherhood . . . because relationships between states are relationships of force and these relations of force are the determining elements of their policy. We must arm. The watchword is this: more cannons, more ships, more airplanes, at whatever cost, with whatever means, even if it should mean wiping out all that is called civil life. When one is strong one is dear to one's friends and feared by one's enemies. Since prehistoric times one shout has come down on the waves of the centuries and the series of generations: 'Woe to the weak!' "

Mussolini is not setting this policy in motion but is merely putting into words the policy of nations and hence preparing his nation to fight fire with fire. Still Jesus Christ stands before all nations offering to them His policies and offering them His program which shall save them from the destruction of the war which is sure to result from their present policies of force. "But now in Christ Jesus ye that were far off are made nigh in the blood of Christ."

Although as nations men have in large measure rejected the overtures of Christian brotherhood and peace, yet within that kingdom of God on earth which reaches into every nation there are thrilling expressions of Christian unity and brotherhood being achieved. Your writer has just returned from a week's stay at the Uniting Conference of the three great Methodist bodies of America in Kansas City, Mo. These met in the name of Christ were men and women of all walks of life, of nearly every nationality. Sitting side by side in perfect harmony and love were Christians from war-torn China and Japan. In Christ there was no war between these peoples. "You are all brothers . . . for one is your Heavenly Father." Being from the South I was ready to rejoice glibly at the sight of Madame Yoshika Saito of Toyko, Japan, and Mr. J. K. Li of Nanking, China, singing a duet before that great audience on Mission night:

"Saviour like a shepherd lead us,
Much we need Thy tender care."

That was a thrilling scene which inspired hope in all of us for a world in need of such a unifying force in face of national strife. But upon the following night of the conference when the Methodist Youth Rally was held with about 10,000 people present I was interested to observe how I along with many other Southerners behaved when Roosevelt Crockett, Negro lad of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was placed forward to preside over that great service. To me it came as a greater thrill to see that spirit of brotherhood on our part than that of the Chinese and Japanese, for it came closer home. God hasten the day when Christ shall be accepted into our social, political and economic life in so much that we can sing at our work bench as well as in our church pew:

"In Christ there is no East or West
In Him no South or North."

Paul in our lesson text is writing back to the Ephesians to call to their minds how he had preached unto them through persecution and hardship so that now they were no more strangers or Gentile dogs in men's sight, but rather were become fellow citizens with the saints of the household of God. Thus this world that is groaning for some power which can bring warring mankind together to avert catastrophe should give ear to the voice of the Eternal spreading through apostles like St. Paul.

"Clear the way for the Eternal!
In the mine and field and mart,
Social justice for the workman,
Comradeship of mind and heart.
Clear the way for the Eternal!
Cleave the brush and till the sod;
Clear the way for the Eternal
Footsteps of Almighty God!"

(A Unification Hymn by Dr. William Stidgen).

Sir Walter Scott wrote on the fly-leaf of his books this gentle reminder: "Please return this book. You may think this request queer, but I find that, while many of my friends are poor mathematicians, they are very good bookkeepers."—Exchange.

High Lights of Appreciation Year Campaign

Liberty.
Siler City.
Piney Grove, Siler City Charge.
Pleasant Grove.
Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland Charge.
Julian, Tabernacle Charge.
Concord Church, Saxapahaw Charge.
Hope Church, Siler City Charge.
Lawndale Church, Cleveland Charge.
Hickory Grove, Guilford Charge.
Friendship, Shiloh Charge.
Shiloh, Shiloh Charge.
Mebane.
Pine Bluff.
Mt. Pleasant Charge.
Burlington First.
Asheboro.
Friendship and Loves Grove.
Pleasant Hill on Cleveland.
First Church, Charlotte.
First Church, Thomasville.
First Church, Concord.
Flat Rock and Spring Valley on Vance.
Reidsville.
Shiloh Church, Randolph Charge.
Fairfiield Church, Guilford Charge.
Maple Springs, Forsyth Charge.
Mt. Carmel, Forsyth Charge.
Graham.
Pleasant Hill, Spring Church Charge.
Haw River, Glen Raven Charge.
Tabernacle, Tabernacle Charge.
Brower's, Richland Charge.
Denton and Canaan, Denton Charge.
Lebanon, High Point.
Grays Chapel, Randolph Charge.
Kistler's and Mt. Moriah, Cleveland Charge.
Fairview, Haw River Charge.
Glen Raven, Glen Raven Charge.
North Davidson Charge.
Saxapahaw, Saxapahaw Charge.
Who will be next?

J. E. PRITCHARD.

◆

Young men with a grip on the essentials of the Methodist tradition so as not to be lost in the incidentals are much needed in the years ahead of us as we come to deal with the nation-wide reunion of American Methodism. The broad view and a grip on the essentials will prove most valuable.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

ON GOING TO CHURCH

From Pastor's Journal

We set off on one of those aimless Sunday evening strolls without objective. The city generally was hurrying to the movies and cafes. And that is why a shadowy brick church on the fringe of things, its bell tolling sadly, appeared a symbol of neglect.

Only an occasional straggler mounted the steps and vanished into the dim-lit quiet. Soft notes from the organ came trembling down the nave in a sort of gentle ballyhoo. And on the impulse of the moment we, too, climbed the steps, the first church going in months.

Like many reluctants, I am continually assailed, once inside a religious edifice, for my neglect in attendance. It requires only an hour out of the week and there is no other place where one may so satisfyingly relax into surprising and almost unbelievable calm.

There was a serene earnestness about the pastor. I should say that he believed what he preached. His text was, as I remember, from Isaiah: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee." And old and familiar theme, of course. Stripped of verbiage, just another version of the aged simplicity, "Trust in the Lord." Yet it had a consoling warmth that sparkled an inner glow.

I was interested in the scattery congregation. Probably 100 in a church that might easily seat 500. About six young folk in their teens. Probably twenty-five middle-aged and the remainder oldish, in their sixties. The complacency was marked in contrast to the usual metropolitan crowd. No fidgeting, coughing, or glancing about.

Not since my courting days had I joined in a hymn. I glanced about and there did not seem to be a person not trying to lift voice in song. My grandmother used to sing hymns when dispirited and often remarked she left happier. "They roll the gloom away," she declared. Indeed, every face did seem brighter, the atmosphere rain washed.

The sermon over, the preacher was at the door to meet members of his slim congregation. He saw my wife and I were strangers, inquired if we lived in the city and introduced us to a couple near by.

So far as he could observe, we were the only strangers in the congregation that evening. His church had a full membership of 700, but his congregation, he said a bit sadly, rarely averaged more than 300 and that at the Sunday morning service. He took our address and hoped some day he might be permitted to call.

Meandering northward into the buzz-fuzz of the evening roar, we could not help but reflect on thousands of churches similarly struggling—veritable vortexes in the gathering storms. Each trying valiantly and often pathetically to establish a meed of hope, peace and comfort in a hungering world of vanishing faith. And how little most of us aid in such worthy endeavor, morally, financially or otherwise. There is no place in a vast city where the lonely are so pleasantly and sincerely welcomed as in the average church. For this reason alone one would think they would be filled.

This, too: I had had a troubling week. Yet I felt markedly reposed leaving the church. There was a tranquility and a fresh clarity of thought and vision about the week to come. Also I slept like the proverbial log that night. Yet like so many laggards it will probably be some time before I go to church again. Too many are that way about matters of the spirit—at a time when as never before have we needed bolstering of cherished beliefs.

O. O. McIntyre.

(This article, printed two days before Mr. McIntyre's death, was probably the account of his last church attendance.)

◆

MONEY MATTERS

By Walter O. Kersey

Christian stewardship concerns personality and possessions. Money-giving is an act of worship. Worship is essential for man. To all Christians, and especially to the young convert who accepts the Lord Jesus Christ, money offers a splendid channel for the expression of personality. The first thing to teach the young Christian is the relation of his possessions as well as his personality to Kingdom enterprise.

Many church members are still pagan with respect to money. Pagan philosophy asserts that man is owner. Christianity claims that he has a title to possession, "The earth is the Lord's; unto you it is given for a possession." Man, then, is a partner with God in possessions. This marks the difference between ownership and possession. Man is a steward and God is owner. The one who does not recognize God's ownership refuses to acknowledge the complete Lordship of Christ.

The Lordship of Christ concerns stewardship of personality and possessions. Personality relates stewardship to time, talents, and strength. Strength represents spirit, mind, and body. Personality in this sense must mean more than the limited psychological use of the term. It must include personality at its maximum. Possession relates stewardship to things and money. Redemption relates all these to Christ in such a way that the Christian is no longer his own. "Or know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which we have from God? and ye are not your own; for ye were bought with a price: glorify God, therefore, in your body," I Cor. 6:19-20. Personality and possessions then become a holy trust. The Christian must be careful not to be a traitor in these matters.

Over against the Christian idea of ownership stand three false theories in relation to money and things. All three recognize human ownership instead of God's ownership. The monarchical theory affirms that ownership should be invested only in the state or government. The social theory places ownership in the hands of society. That the means of production must be assigned to society is a very short definition of socialism. Arrayed against these two theories is the doctrine of private ownership. All three are wrong, because they fail to recognize God. God has three claims to ownership: creation, redemption, and providence.

Full fellowship with the Heavenly Father relates personality and possessions to the Creator. In this we enjoy the fellowship of stewardship. This is a happy relation. The first essential that makes us conscious of this relation is the separated portion. It is not compulsory, but voluntary. The two prerequisites are love and the giving of self. Love is the test of giving. Of course, the separated portion of possession is the tithe. With many it must be more than a tithe.

The fellowship of stewardship answer the question of the new convert, "What must I do now?" The life of stewardship is the plan that God has for every Christian. A better word for stewardship is partnership. The Christian is a partner with God in possessions and personality in every sense of the two words. Blessed is the pastor who teaches the new convert his full relation to his Heavenly Father, for he brings this new born child to a full recognition of God's plan for his or her life.

The partnership life may be represented by a circle. One half of this circle is personality, and the other half is possession. If we owe God a part of our time, talents, and strength; we also owe Him a part of our money. Yes, money matters. "But this I say, He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Let each man do according as he purposed in his heart: not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." II Cor. 9:6-7.—In Biblical Recorder.

◆

NINE OLD MULES

Recently the country was diverted by the story of a reprieve granted to nine old army mules. These veterans of the army's transport service had reached the end of their usefulness, and were to be shot as a quick and merciful conclusion of their years of service. Then a humane society got wind of the sentence that had been pronounced. The wires hummed with pleas to Washington to spare the mules. The President was reported to have been seen on their behalf. The mules are to live on.

Says The Christian Science Monitor, which editorially recounted the foregoing episode, "Thus are mighty forces set in motion when human hearts are touched. Thus do people and government respond when the plight of nine old mules becomes known. There's hope for such a world." Yes, hope—but not much. Not much encouragement in a world that is disturbed about the fate of nine old mules, but curiously careless about the lives and destiny of ten million youth who may soon be offered up on the altar of Mars.

Did you see the recent cartoon in "Everyday Movies," by Denys Wortman, where two stablemen are shown attending some decrepit nags? The men reflect: "The horses are lucky—they're being retired to the country. But we're today thrown out of a job."

Isn't it time to give a little thought to men—young men, the flower of the land, with whom the case of civilization rests in the century ahead? If once again we squander the precious stuff of which our world is built, depleting the nations of their embryo, scientists, musicians, writers, and statesmen second time in a single generation, what then?

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

WHEN IS A HOME CHRISTIAN?

Topic for May 14, 1939

By Rev. Raymond W. White

Daily Bible Readings

Monday, May 8—A godly father. Gen. 18:19.

Tuesday, May 9—Two godly mothers. II Tim. 1:5.

Wednesday, May 10—Love, a primary factor. Gen. 25:61-67.

Thursday, May 11—Grief of an indulgent parent. II Sam. 18:29-33.

Friday, May 12 — Jesus, an exemplary Child. Luke 2:51-52.

Saturday, May 13—A Christ-welcome home. Luke 10:38-42.

The Text: Col. 3:12-21; Eph. 4:31-32. (Mother's Day.)

To the Leader

This discussion should include regular church attendance, the family altar, grace at meals, private devotion of individuals and other means of appropriating the Grace of God for growing souls. Attention should be given to expressions of the Christian spirit in the home. "Individual Christian traits, such as love, forgiveness, kindness, patience, soft speech, forbearance, sacrifice, humility, long-suffering, and the like should be listed and discussed. Beyond this the home should be presented as a place for development of the wider Christian attitudes, involving relationships to other people. It should dispel rather than build up prejudices, should inspire confidence and faith in other people and causes, should inspire its members in worship, in right reading and thinking, and in opposition to wrong wherever found."

Questions for the Open Forum

1. How does a home become Christian?
2. What home-program would you suggest for growing Christians?
3. What attitudes should be cultivated in the home?
4. What are some evidences of Christianity in action in the home.
5. What wholesome amusements would you recommend to the home?
6. What radio programs would you recommend to the Christian home?
7. What reading material should be in a Christian home?
8. What are the values, if any, in the family pew?
9. How many parents become better informed about the Christian faith?
10. What factors contribute to the unity of the home?
11. What things should be considered when people are being engaged?
12. What are some of the causes of divorces? How prevent divorces?

The Poet

I turned an ancient poet's book
And found upon the page,
Stone walls do not a prison make
Nor iron bars a cage.

Yes, that is true, and something more
You'll find where'er you roam,
That marble floors and gilded walls
Can never make a home.

But every home where love abides
And friendship is a guest,
Is surely home, and home sweet home,
For there the soul can rest.

—Van Dyke.

Little Gems

Home: The father's kingdom, the mother's world, the child's paradise.

The sanctity of marriage and the family relation are the foundations of our American life.—Garfield.

Christianity begins at home. We build our characters there, and what we become in after years is largely determined by our training and home environment.—Tillman Hobson.

Eighty per cent of our criminals come from unsympathetic homes. We can help our little folks by making home a delight and inspiration for them. Better home life means much.—Anderson.

Topic Hints

What is the Family: "By the family is ment the collective body of persons who form one household under one head and one domestic government, including parents, children, and servants."—Century Dictionary. By a Christian family we mean one in which husband, wife, children, masters, and servants have submitted their lives to Christ, a Guest. Let it be remembered in this connection that we are dealing with the family, not from a social, or even from a moral viewpoint, but in the light of the Christian ideal, and from the spiritual point of view. Jesus Christ was more than a social reformer, or even a moral reformer; He was a spiritual regenerator. Spiritual regeneration makes a family Christian.

The Making of a Family: "Male and female" God made them: the one incomplete without the other; the man needing the woman, and the woman needing the man, and both necessary to express the divine purpose and intention in the creation of the human race. From this relationship the family springs. Without marriage there can be no family life. Yes, marriage is a divine institution, and for this reason should not be treated nor "entered into lightly, but reverently, discreetly, and in the fear of God." True marriages are made in Heaven and engagements should be made in no other place. The family is a sacred institution. Courtship and engagement is the beginning and the extending of a sacred relationship. A Christian family should be preceded by Christian courtship and Christian engagement.

Unequally Yoked: There can be little agreement between a Christian and an unbeliever. If an agreement is reached, it is an agreement, almost always, to give up prayer, asking the blessing at the table, and going to church. The philosophy that you may marry an unconverted man in order that you may lead him to Christ is a false philosophy. The odds are a thousand to one that you will be led away from Christ. If one cannot lead a sweetheart to Christ before marriage the chances are that the sweetheart will not be converted and the home will not be Christian. For a Christian to be unequally yoked to an unbeliever is almost certain to result in a family that is not Christian. For a church-member to be unequally yoked with a non church-member often results in neither being Christian, a family that is anything but Christian, and children going to church alone or not at all. If man and woman are more equally yoked, the train of life will not break the match so easily.

Means of Grace: We are saved by Grace and by Grace are we kept. The Christian family will not long be Christian if the means of Grace are neglected. There can be no Christian family without Christ. There can be no Christ unless He be sought, found, and accepted. In the Christian home Christ is the Head and the continual Guest, the Word of God is read daily, the voice of prayer is heard as the expression of daily need. If the family is to be a Christian unit, individual devotion daily is not sufficient. There should be a time when members of the family can gather and worship God. The lives in the home must be related to one another as well as related to God. A Christian family must find time for family worship. If it endures modern strain, the family must seek and appropriate God's Grace.

Practical Christianity: God gives Grace that men might have power. God gives Grace and power that men might live the things He reveals. Communion with God results in communication with men if Christianity is real. Family worship should result in family Christian action. Members in the Christian family not only love and trust one another but they serve one another. In the Christian family we expect to find affection, forbearance, patience, kindness, mutual understanding, sacrifice and humility, but we also expect to see Christian traits in action and action beautified by the background of the Christian spirit. In the Christian family there is love in loving service; there is patience in patient service; there is sacrifice in sacrificial service; there is humility in humble service; there is kindness in cheerful service; there is unselfishness in unselfish service. A dogma without doing is dead. Knowledge about Christianity is no substitute for being Christian. We find Christianity working in the Christian family.

CONFERENCE COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

T. J. WHITEHEAD, President
Henderson, N. C.

Children's Division
Mrs. J. Elwood Carroll, Supt.

ROOMS THAT SPEAK OF ACTION

"Mother, isn't it time to change my dress?"

It was Sunday morning and Mrs. Wharton was just finishing the breakfast dishes. Her sister, Mrs. Tilton, who was visiting her, was helping.

"Mother, I don't want to be late. I want to help fix these pussy willows for our room!" And four-year-old Janet began to unfasten her dress as she talked.

Just then John stuck his head in at the kitchen door. "Say, mom, I told Miss Arend I'd bring my shells today. You don't care, do you?" Without waiting for his mother's answer, John hurried up the stairs.

Verne and Vivian, the twins, stopped him as they were coming down, ready to leave for church school. "We're going early," began Verne. "Miss Luth asked us to arrange the reading table," finished Vivian. "We're taking some copies of the Bird Magazine, mother," she added.

"Are the children always so eager to go to church school?" asked Mrs. Tilton, as the twins left. "Why do they want to go so early? Jim wouldn't ever go if he had his own way."

"Our children don't miss church school unless they are sick. They want to go early because there is always something interesting to do when they get there," Mrs. Wharton said as she turned to her sister. "Won't you come with me and visit the children's departments this morning? You will have time to look into all of them before time for church school to begin."

"I'd be glad to," Mrs. Tilton replied. "Mr. Turner has asked me several times to do something with the younger children but I haven't known what to do."

"Perhaps you will get some ideas today," ventured her sister.

By the time Mrs. Wharton and her sister reached the church, children were beginning to come for church school.

"Here is where I work. The beginner department is just across the hall." Mrs. Wharton led the way into the nursery. "You probably won't notice much difference in the equipment of the two rooms except that in here is the furniture is a little smaller. For both groups we have housekeeping toys, large building blocks, and other sturdy toys which are kept on those shelves. Several push-and-pull toys are housed in that corner along with the wagon and doll buggy. Through the long windows, opening onto the lawn, the children can see the bursting buds this morning. In that cupboard we keep such materials as paper and large crayons. There are several picture books which I shall put on the table before the children come."

"How low your pictures are!" remarked Mrs. Tilton.

"That is so that the children look at them easily," replied her sister.

"Good morning, Bobby." And Mrs. Wharton turned to help the newcomer pull off his snow suit and hang it on the low rack in one corner of the room. "You have brought your new truck to share this morning, haven't you?"

Mrs. Tilton went across the hall to the beginner room. Janet ran over to her and whispered, "Those are my pussy willows on Miss Barlow's table."

Children were coming constantly into this department now and Mrs. Tilton watched as they hung up their wraps, and then went to a favorite corner to play. One little girl started to undress a doll while another set a small table with diminutive dishes. Two small boys were building a church with large blocks. Around the tables children were busy with crayon and paper, modeling with clay or looking at pictures.

In one corner near the circle of low chairs children were helping the teacher hang the pictures which had been selected for the day. In front of one of the windows two little girls were looking intently at the bowls where bulbs had been planted.

The pianist was playing softly and a few of the children were singing. The superintendent was moving about quietly, speaking to one group—watching another silently.

Mrs. Tilton was thoughtful, contrasting what she saw with what she knew was happening at her home church.

"No wonder the children love to come here," Mrs. Tilton thought. "These rooms are planned for them. Everything in them seems to say, 'Use me, play with me, look at me.' They seem to compel activity as soon as the children enter."

At the door of the primary department, Mrs. Tilton paused. She wanted to see what was happening without being seen by the children. Here again they were busy at interesting work. At the piano a group was singing with the pianist. Two children were helping the superintendent to arrange the worship center. A large picture of "The Sermon on the Mount" by Wood was placed on the stand and in front of it was laid an open Bible. A small pot of tulips stood at one side of the picture. John was showing some of the boys his collection of shells. A table in one corner of the room held the interest of some of the children with its pictures of spring birds and flowers. At the supply cupboard still others were getting out paste and scissors and magazines from which to cut pictures.

Mrs. Tilton was interested in the durable screens which served as class divisions or as places to post pictures needed for the day. A few permanent pictures were hung low around the room. Even now a child lingered before a picture of Jesus and the children. "I wish that Jim had a room like this where he might go for church school. I believe he would be as happy as these children are," thought Mrs. Tilton as she went up the stairs to the junior department.

Verne was looking for his aunt as Mrs. Tilton entered the junior department. "I want to show you around myself," he said. "Miss Luth said that I might." With a nod of greeting to the department superintendent, Mrs. Tilton followed her nephew.

"This corner is our library," said Verne as he led his aunt to a table where Vivian was working. "Here is our bookcase where we keep all our references books, our hymnals, and Bibles. If the teachers or any of us find books or magazines that would help us in what we are studying, we add them to the reading table from time to time. Just now we are looking up birds." Mrs. Tilton noticed that each book on the table was opened to an interesting bird picture.

While Verne had been talking, Vivian had gone to the picture file next to the bookcase. She was coming back with several folders of bird pictures which she laid on the table.

"My class is trying to see how many birds we can learn to identify," she said. "In that case on the other side of the file we have started a nature collection," she went on. "So far we have only some of last year's nests."

"Come up to the front of the room," said Verne, leading the way.

"Here is where we have our assembly and worship. How do you like our picture?" Mrs. Tilton looked up to see a beautiful hanging of deep blue velvet reaching from ceiling to floor. Against this background was a large picture of the boy Jesus, a detail from the picture, "Christ and the Doctors," by Hoffman. She noticed that this was the only permanent picture in the room.

"Where are your classrooms?" asked Mrs. Tilton.

"The three rooms opening off of this one," Verne answered. "They are all alike. We will visit them next." And Verne stopped at the door of the fourth grade. Boys and girls were busy cutting out pictures. The teacher greeted them. "We are using the early time this morning to make a booklet illustrating 'For the Beauty of the Earth'," she explained. "We are studying the hymn."

In the fifth grade classroom a girl was drawing a map of Palestine on the blackboard. Two boys were making houses for a Nazareth village. This class was using the time to work on material dealing with the life of Jesus.

"Now we'll visit my room," said Verne at the door of the sixth grade. "Each Sunday the ones who come first work on our class scrapbook. That's what Jerry and Jean are doing now." And Verne and his aunt stepped inside the room. Verne went to the supply cupboard to get a pencil.

"Does each class have as nice a cupboard as you do?" asked Mrs. Tilton.

"Yes," answered Verne. "And we have our own supply of scissors and pencils, paste and paper. We can begin to work as soon as we come on Sunday morning without bothering anyone else."

When Verne and Mrs. Tilton returned to the assembly room, they found that many more children had arrived. One girl was arranging flowers. "Her father is a florist and she always brings flowers when there are none growing out of doors," Verne remarked.

Several boys and girls were at the reading table. One boy was placing hymnals on the chairs. "We sing more since we have our new Singing Worship," said Verne.

Mrs. Tilton went over to where Miss Luth was preparing for the opening assembly. "You have no trouble with tardiness, do you?" she said. "No, indeed," replied Miss

(Continued on Page Sixteen)

OUR CHILDREN'S HOME

REV. A. G. DIXON, Superintendent

Harmony Grove S. S., W. Forsyth	$1.02
Greer's Chapel S. S., Shiloh	1.10
New Salem S. S., Why Not	4.70
West End S. S., Greensboro	10.00
Mr. H. S. Horton, Pittsburgh, Pa., personal	5.00
Midway S. S., Haw River	3.58
West End S. S., Thomasville	4.27

We are thankful for these contributions. As usual following a fifth Sunday we haven't much to report. We are hoping that for the Sundays in May the Sunday schools and churches will remember the Home with good offerings.

Children's Home Day

Children's Home Day and Homecoming Day has been set for Thursday, June 22nd. Bishop James H. Straughn has promised to be present and speak for us that day if it is possible for him to come amidst the changes that are taking place. We trust nothing will prevent his coming.

We are asking every local church and Sunday school in the conference to set up a committee of three, or more to help us in securing a good offering for that day. The pastors, Sunday school superintendents and the Children's Home secretary will please cooperate in appointing the committee. Insofar as possible please do this next Sunday, Mother's Day, and write me immediately and give me the name and address of the chairman of your committee. Please do not fail us in this. Just a postal card and a little bit of your time will do the trick. Thank you.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Supt.

Our Dear Friends:

The following letter goes out this week to Pastors, S. S. Superintendents and Children's Home Secretaries, and we are thus asking you to help in preparing for Children's Home Day which is to be held this year on Thursday, June 22nd.

1. Please confer at the earliest date possible and appoint a committee of three or more, according to the size of your membership, in each local Church and Sunday school to help get the best yet offering for the Children's Home.

2. Let us have the name and address of the chairman of your local committee by the earliest possible date, so we may write and suggest plans. These names and addresses we need at once, please. Delay will hamper the work.

3. Then please cooperate with your committee in getting a large representation of your people to visit the Children's Home on June 22. We hope to have a delegation present from each local church in the conference. So please line them up for that day.

We are now a United Methodist Church with all qualifying adjectives eliminated; but our own annual conference will finish up the year's work just as heretofore, and then merge into the Greater Methodism. So let us make this the crowning day of the Children's Home which is a creature of the Methodist Protestant Church. Bishop Straughn, recently elected to that high office, has promised to be with us that day. And we will invite one more speaker. So lets give them a good hearing.

We want your presence whether you bring any money or not; but we need some of your money to help keep us from being in debt when we actually merge into union this fall. We are practically out of debt now, but a summer's slump in offerings will put us in debt again. This we hope to avoid.

Please appoint that committee at once and mail us a card bearing name and address of the chairman. Do it now. A 100 per cent cooperation will help wonderfully. You will not fail us. Thank you and may God bless you and your folks.

Yours in His service,
A. G. DIXON, Superintendent.

THE CHILDREN

"Suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." Jesus was found in the place of worship every Sabbath while the man of God preached the Word. Why will parents so neglect the little ones today, by failing to have them attend preaching services, while their hearts and empressionable.

We wonder why there is so much crime, but I am afraid parents are responsible for much of it for failing to teach the children the Bible, which is a lamp to our feet and a light to our pathway.

Someone has said "We know where our pigs are but not where our children are." We wonder if we love our children.

The parents of Jesus did not cease to search for him until they found him. Jesus was learning from the great teachers the great things of life eternal. I hope we may see a great change in the teaching of the children to honor and respect the man of God. When children do that there will be more reverence in the house of God by parents and children.

Sincerely yours,
MARTHA PARSONS.

BOOK REVIEW

GOD'S PURPOSE: A new devotional booklet of daily sermonettes for home and private worship has just been published by the John C. Winston Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

The book is a companion volume to GOD'S MINUTE and GOD'S MESSAGE, two former devotional booklets which have been very popular among our people for family worship.

The volume contains three hundred and sixty-six sermonettes by as many eminent clergymen of the English-speaking world.

The book is neatly bound in brown cloth engraved with gold letters and is 4 by 5½ inches, just a comfortable size to be used at the breakfast table, or around the family altar. Cloth binding, $0.60.

J. W. B.

Harvard University technicians have developed a Diesel engine that runs on melted butter.

MISSIONARY COLUMN

MRS. J. ELWOOD CARROLL, Editor
222 N. Edgeworth St.
Greensboro, N. C.

A LETTER FROM INDIA

Dear Friends:

This is just an ideal morning. It is cool for this time of the year and to sit on the front porch on the second floor and visit is all one could desire. It will get hot later but right now it is just made to order. How delightful it would be to have you sit here and talk over all the work with you. And I believe that you too would enjoy it for we have good news to tell. So I am rushing this by air mail. For weeks and even months I have written that the work looked promising. I am happy to tell you that it is growing more so as the days go by. Now I am able to make a report which makes my heart rejoice. We have a fine class of inquiriers. My first class met on Monday night and we go back for the second class tonight. We shall have more than fifty in the class. We have managed to have two classes. Miss Miskimen is helping, as I go in the car. A woman goes with her and some masters go with me. She has the women and girls and we take the men and boys. Can you imagine how very happy we are. For seventeen years we have tried and hoped and prayed for this moment and now we are just beginning. We surely are grateful to the Lord and are doing our best to lead the people in an intelligent manner. We have great hopes and if only this great class comes along well with people growing in grace, no telling what God may do with them. To be perfectly frank, I can hardly believe my own eyes. To think, fifty people saying I want to become Christian and am willing to study and learn about God and the Lord Jesus Christ in order to be able to believe on Him. I truly wish that salvation for them were an instantaneous thing. I am sure that they cannot believe on Him until they know who He is and how to believe. It is the most difficult matter I know to direct one to God and tell him how to believe and to pray to him. Closing ones eyes and folding the hands and saying words is not praying. Nor is saying I will become a Christian sufficient to make one a full-fledged child of God. To tell one to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ has absolutely no meaning to these poor blind souls.

Thinking that you would be happy to learn of this very best news I am taking this opportunity to write with it making a very urgent request for prayer. Ask all our people to be much in prayer for us at this season. If we make a mistake it may cost us dearly in souls later, while on the other hand, if we are able to lead them properly they doubtless will be a means of saving hundreds of their own caste people. So we beg you to pray with us and for us in a special manner for these folks.

We are all well and happy and rejoicing in the blessings of our Father. I hope you are enjoying the spring and will have a good year. J. F. MINNIS.

Taken from May issue of "The Missionary Record."

FROM PASTORS and PEOPLE

Friendship Church, Chase City Charge, Rev. D. D. Broome, Pastor.—Our pastor has brought to us four beautiful messages since our last report. Services were attended very well. We now have preaching services every fourth Saturday night. The Sunday school is increasing slowly, but we are hoping that since the weather is getting warmer and the whooping cough epidemic has passed over, it will grow larger.

We were very glad indeed to have some of the good people from Littleton charge with us on the last fourth Sunday.

We didn't have any special Easter program this Easter due to the fact that so many children were sick.

On the evening of May 14 the play, "A Real Mother's Day," will be presented by the young people of the church.

"Memorial Day" will be observed at our church on the fourth Sunday morning in May; services will be conducted by the pastor.

Our church was very grateful to Brother Nathaniel Garland of the M. E. church at Chase City, for conducting prayer services Sunday evening. Prayer meeting is holding up fine and we feel that this has been a great help to our church and community.

We ask the prayers of all other churches that this may be one of the most successful years we have ever had.

PAULINE JARRELL, Reporter.

◆

Roberta Charge, Rev. H. W. Bell, Pastor, May 2.—The Fifteenth District Rally was held at Roberta church, afternoon and evening, and was well attended. Churches represented were Friendship, Love's Grove, Mill's Grove, Porter, Albemarle, Kannapolis, and Concord. The afternoon session began at 3:30. Children from all the different churches gave recitals and songs. The subject was "Thy Kingdom Come Through Growing Youth." Lunch was spread at 6 o'clock; at 7:30 the evening session began. The leader was Mrs. Little. Devotions by Miss Tarleton. Mrs. J. S. Nesbett, Presbyterian missionary recently returned from Korea, gave a very interesting talk which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Peeler gave a report on the meeting of women's work which was very interesting. Also, a report from each auxiliary was given on the work they were doing. A quartet from Albemarle sang several selections, also several solos; all were enjoyed. The benediction was spoken by Rev. Earl Cook.

REPORTER.

◆

Mitchell's Grove Church, Rev. J. B. Trogdon, Pastor.—The Easter program was given on Easter Sunday night and was well attended. The children and young people carried their parts out well. The offering was fairly good also. A prize was offered to the two children raising the highest amount in their envelopes for World Service. This went to little Barbara Anne Mooney as first and to Alvin Cashatt as second. Mrs. Lily Mooney and Mrs. Callie Billings had charge of the program.

Our Sunday school attendance has not been so good. Some of this is due to much sickness throughout the community. We are hoping and praying that it soon will pick up again.

Our prayer services are still being held each week on Tuesday night. We feel that much good is being done through these meetings. I know they mean much to me and to each one that attends. There have been between 15 and 20 conversions this year. We are praying that these will be faithful and that many more will be added to the list. We need your prayers.

The Christian Endeavor meets each Sunday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. Our subject for last Sunday was "Giving." After the program an offering was taken for a needy family in our community. Our president, Mrs. Guy Hill, has been kept away on account of sickness. We are hoping that she may soon be able to be back with us.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. Lee Cashatt is seriously ill. We hope and pray that he soon will be better.

CALLIE BILLINGS (Reporter).

◆

Union Grove, Orange Charge, Rev. C. P. Morris, Pastor.—The work of this church is progressing nicely.

Our pastor has filled his regular appointments, and the weather has been so pretty we have had larger congregations than we had during the winter months.

On the third Sunday afternoon in April we had our Easter program, the service was well attended.

Mr. A. G. Neville, our Sunday school superintendent, is sick, but he has returned from the hospital, and we hope he will be out again soon.

We are planning to have our Children's Day service the first Sunday morning in June. In the afternoon of that day we will have a memorial service at which we hope to have a former pastor of this church to speak to us. We welcome you all who care to come.

MRS. C. L. SMITH, Reporter.

◆

New Hope, Why Not Charge, Rev. C. H. Hill, Pastor.—Our Sunday school is increasing with the coming of spring we are glad to report.

Brother Hill has been very faithful in his services regardless of the rain and mud during the past months. He was present yesterday and preached a very inspiring sermon to a very good congregation. We were so glad to have Mrs. Hill with us for the first time since last fall.

She is very much improved, but seems right feeble yet. We hope she can keep on improving so that she can come to each service with Brother Hill.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. O. J. Sink, one of our faithful members, is right sick with stomach trouble. We hope for him a very speedy recovery.

Several from this community attended the closing exercises at the Seagrove High School last week. Six of the twenty-four members of the senior class were members of our church and Sunday school.

We as a church and community should be proud of these young men and women. May we ever show them the right hand of fellowship, and as they go out to make their way in the world may they be influenced for the right by the training they have received from the services at this church. Pray for our church that we may ever let our light shine.

REPORTER.

◆

Rehobeth, Granville Charge, J. P. Pegg, Pastor— Just a short report to tell you of our fifth Sunday Rally which was held at this church.

We had a beautiful day and the church was filled to overflowing. I think every church in the district was represented.

Our speakers for the morning were, Mr. Elmo Powell of the First Christian Church of Henderson, and Mr. "Pete" Huff of Union Chapel, they both made splendid talks taking for their subject, "Loyalty in the Church."

At the noon hour dinner was served in the Grove. The afternoon program, consisted of special music, recitations and readings from the churches presented, these were well rendered and enjoyed.

Much credit is due Mr. Baskett, of the Spring Valley church, for his untiring efforts in helping make these fifth Sunday Rallys worth while.

Circle No. 1 of our Auxiliary met with Mrs. Rudolph Cheatham April 25th. A goodly number were present. Misses Virginia Rogers and Kittrell gave good reports on the Branch meeting which was held at High Point.

Mrs. Richard Harris conducted the Bible lesson.

In conclusion the hostess served ice cream and cake.

Our church has purchased a hundred new song books, and interest seems to be growing in the singing.

MRS. MAUDE W HIGHT, Reporter.

◆

Efland-Orange, May 1.—Even though a bit late we want to say we had two services during the Easter season in keeping with the occasion. "Christ the Man" was the theme Brother Morris used for his splendid Easter message. Following this we dedicated our new Methodist Hymnals using the dedicatory service from the publishers. This was a very impressive service and we know the addition of these Hymnals will mean better church services.

We were happy to have the combined choirs of Hebron and Mebane M. P. churches bring their Easter cantata to our church, under the direction of Mr. T. O. Pender with Mrs. Clayton Dixon at the piano. They sang "Life Eternal" by Halton for our enjoyment on the Sunday evening after Easter. Our Easter offering was made at this time.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Claude Murray, our Christian Endeavor Society is progressing very nicely with interest and attendance growing.

We are having good attendance in S. S. and are making one attempt to enroll new members. A gift offering was made to a family in which there was sickness on a recent Sunday. The offering was fourteen dollars or more.

The people of our community were fortunate to have Rev. Roland C. Stubbins of Calvary Church, Greensboro, with us Sunday evening. The occasion was the baccalaureate sermon for the Efland high school. As is his custom Brother Stubbins gave us a splendid sermon, using "Life's Interlude" as his theme. He gave the senior class some very helpful information on preparing for the next act. Several members of the class are members of our church and we wish for them continued success.

Work has been begun on the water system for the parsonage. With our industrious pastor as an able assistant it should go rapidly to completion.

Mrs. Morris and Jerome Philip have been at home for some time and are getting on nicely.

We are pleased to read of the progress the Uniting Conference is making and are looking forward to having a part of the great Methodist Church of our Lord.

REPORTER.

◆

Weaver's Chapel, Rev. D. D. Broome, Pastor.—This church seems to be going forward nicely.

Our pastor brought us a very interesting and inspiring sermon last Sunday. There were a good number of people present. Now that spring is here we expect more people to come out to worship.

The Women's Auxiliary held its April meeting with Mrs. L. T. King. Bettie Mae King had charge of the devotionals. Although we are slow in getting on to this society, never having had one before, we are learning and with the help of Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Broome we can go right ahead. Our next meeting will be held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Broome. At this time we will have a group meeting of the three Auxiliaries of this charge. The members of our group are looking forward to this, maybe we can learn some of the ways of other people.

Our Sunday school is very active. Some of the ladies are planning a Children's Day program. We hope this will be a great success.

